Do we really need the communion more than being vegan or later eterni? When people take part in the communion, they often do it to get God's blessing, the mercy, grace they believe comes from that. This is fine and a little selfish. After that short ritual, they return to their old habits, forgetting to be aware of their thoughts, emotions, speech, etc. Asking God to help one become a vegan in order to not take part in inflicting pain on animals is a lot more selfless. Asking God or higher realm lifeforms or Angels for mercy, help, grace via wafers, without having mercy for lower lifeforms (animals who're tortured in factory farms and then killed for food) seems incomplete and contradictory as explained in the ethics of veganism section. We can hypothesize that the most important message in all religions, spiritual paths, etc may be to alleviate suffering of others (due to ignorance, natural disasters, disease, aging, etc), to avoid inflicting pain on other human and even animal beings, especially when today with modern food engineering, etc we can create vegan foods that are healthier than anything humans have eaten last millennia. Unfortunately, believe it or not, even in modern times, when we have science and tend to seek evidence for beliefs, there is still a minority of people (Hindu sects, some Muslims who practice it during Eid festival, Kapparot practitioners in Judaism (Zohar, the Kabalist text, talks of goat sacrifice too in Chapter 46), various tribes in Africa, India, etc) who believe in animal sacrifice, even though there is absolutely no evidence whatsoever that the act of sacrifice itself (which is inflicting pain on the animal) (not the accompanying repentance, feelings of reverence, love or gratitude to God, or effort to use the ritual as a prop or psychological crutch to be good and not do a sin again) does anything other than subtly desensitize people (at least for a period of time after doing it, watching it or even being aware of it being done without watching) to being cruel to other living beings, to inflicting pain and suffering on innocent living beings. We can understand the idea behind these practices, i.e. trying to give of oneself, as when making a nice vegan☺☺☺ dish and giving it to the homeless or giving money to charity, since in old times people valued domestic animals and giving them would be an act of giving of oneself. However, today, as we have evolved to a higher empathy, with animal cruelty laws, etc and with understanding of chemistry showing we don't even need animal protein, the "charitable value" of meat offering is much lower and even perceived as 0 or negative by many vegans.

While we can respect or understand tradition (that emerged out of the difficult hostile environment in which humankind came to be, environment that made us tougher and less empathetic, always facing threats from nature or lions able to eat humans), we can also respect and nurture progress and its process to steer us away from short lives of anxiety towards long lives with eterni diets, long lives of much less anxiety (no lions eat humans often for example thanks to technology) and much higher empathy and tenderness, where animal killing (agriculture) and meat sacrifices don't even exist. Today, with libraries 1 trillion times bigger than the largest library in ancient times (that you had to travel thousands of miles to sometimes) on everyone's phone showing animals feel pain and are far more intelligent than initially thought, unlike eons ago*, it is far easier* to see it as logical that we can't make ammends with God, be charitable, love God or thank God by offering others' pain to God in the form of "sacrificial offering that inflicts pain on God's creatures" because inflicting pain is a sin, so we can't atone one sin by another sin. God would want us to show remorse for an unintentional sin, or any sin, by doing something that alleviates pain of people or animals and improves the lot of others, a selfless charitable activity that diminishes (not increases as in sacrifice) pain and suffering for the whole galaxy of sentient lifeforms, activities such as those selfless "sports" (help the needy, etc) of the future civilization in section 5.5. That is probably a reason why many Jewish branches have removed all references to sacrifice restoration from their services and prayer books as explained in the wikipedia Korban article. In ancient times people were not very empathetic (the Old Testament for example shows how easily people were killed for minor infractions which would never happen today in our far more empathetic society) and there was no printing press, people could read very little and very rarely get exposed to 700 interpretations for anything. As technology advances, we become less threatened by natural events, empathy increases and anxiety diminishes, creating a positive feedback loop that extends human lifespan and speeds up scientific discovery. The ethics of a civilization determines its scientific progress too: a much more empathetic civilization eating no animals is much kinder, less violent and scientists are kinder, less violent in their attempt to express a different interpretation of data, more tolerant of different points of view that might lead to an amazing & beautiful ☺ discovery, more objective and able to see reality fully instead of the 1% seen through the lens of fear, threat and paranoia (which affects how we can make discoveries), where people don't even dare to speak for the fear of being killed (killing which is unheard of in a civilization of kind vegans).

The higher the empathy of a civilization, the higher the technology level it can reach; thus, this* stuff about animal treatment, while minor or nonsense to some, could be far more important than it seems. We can hypothesize (and test it via measuring empathy in various circumstances) that using a little box to catch and release insects that crawl and a wider cup with a harder piece of paper to cover it to catch and release (to avoid killing them) flying insects can help us to develop a higher empathy than killing an animal for food or sacrificing animals. It also helps us to develop perhaps a quadrillionth of the compassion of an Immortal and draw closer to God. An Immortal may live a quadrillion trillion times longer than we live (before translating into another universe without dying), just as we live 500-800 times longer than a fly. While it's true in ancient times people thought that "giving "food to the poor, a livestock for sacrifice (meat was often eaten by priests, but many times it was not, because it was completely burned)" drew them closer to God" since they did some charity to other humans (not to animals), we can also see how today, with available tech for vegan protein creation, there are ways to get closer to God even deeper with a more complete charity (not just towards humans but animals too), by avoiding killing any animal and even insects when possible or going vegan to save the environment, giving vegan food to the poor, giving future generations more land and resources. Often times the "meat or vegan offerings" were burned and could not be eaten, so it would be environmentally unfriendly and uncharitable today, since God needs no such burned organic matter. It's easy to not kill an animal, since slaughterhouses do it for people these days, but insects and other things are our chance to practice infinite compassion and the habit of not inflicting pain or early death on any lifeform when not needed to preserve human life, in a celebration of the Immortality giving ability of Universal Loving Gentle Tender Nurturing Grace who wishes wellbeing to all beings, of all sizes and realms. Likewise, we can argue that God would love us saving (not killing) an insect or little rodent or animal far more than ingesting a wafer, as it shows a real compassion for truly helpless beings, whose "death" is usually not needed for humans to live to 900 (take insect etc outside the house if it bothers us, be tender, affectionate and sweet to it, as we expect God to love us). We can also hypothesize that God wants us far more to "sacrifice" or give up hourly our "selfishness, tonal and action cruelty and lack of empathy for other beings" (not just humans), and far less to ingest blessed bread once a day or month. It's also possible God sees being vegan for a year as far better or better, holier and kinder than taking 365 communions and attending 365 Masses that year, as veganism prevents suffering of living beings and improves the lives of present and future generations. But much better than veganism alone would probably be eterni thinking-feeling-speaking-writing tone all the time in addition to veganism, a truly superhuman feat. Perhaps God wants real substance and inner transformation,☺☺☺ not outer ritual or appearance once a week. Back to the discussion on offerings to wash sins, we can hypothesize that the sins happen because we don't pay attention to the tone, content of our thoughts, feelings, words, actions.

God is infinite kindness and, most likely, God abhores any killing of animals when there is no danger posed to human life by an animal, as explained in the veganism ethics section. There is no evidence "God needs animals to suffer for "washing of sins", protection from "evil spirits" or getting higher crop yields". On the contrary, animal sacrifice most likely increases the sins of the person doing it, requesting it or supporting it, because it inflicts pain on innocent living beings who carry a spark of God's consciousness too (like the human soul does and mice souls do), the sin being proportional to the human's awareness of the suffering inflicted on the animal. The factory farms already kill billions of animals (egg farms alone wipe out billions yearly), it's illogical to believe that a few extra animals would wash more sins or bring fortune, better weather or higher crop yields. Nepal had an organized festival of animal sacrifice to some made up Gadhimai goddess of power, yet with all those record levels of sacrifices they're no powerful at all in the world. Likewise, there seems to be an unproven belief of some to that it's good to emphasize the suffering of Jesus on the cross, as a justification for "suffering is good" and "inflicting pain on others as a tough disciplinarian is God's way", which leads to a shift away from grace and sweetness and more towards cruelty, war and toughness. Skeptics can easily argue that if Jesus was the only Son of God, i.e. creator of many universes and such, Jesus would have the super-capacity to multilocate in 99 quadrillion galaxies and also be able to not feel any pain. Even today with anesthesia, mortals have ways to not feel pain. The theological emphasis on suffering is a tricky one that can lead to creating suffering in the world. We could argue that Jesus did not suffer in order for us to "emulate his suffering and create more suffering by being cruel to ourselves, others or animals", but that Jesus suffered symbolically (since obviously, a Quadrillion year old Immortal is not affected by human action) so that we recall to not inflict suffering on animals and other people (or self), to be kind, gentle, tender, healing. The Gospel story is that Jesus was killed 1 week after he reportedly turned tables on animal traders. WHY? Is it because God thinks that the way we treat animals influences hugely how we treat humans?

Additionally, skeptics will ask for evidence about the whole narrative of every religious story in every scripture, for example: what happened to Jesus, how long was Jesus on the cross if at all (no video exists showing this), did he die or was he rapidly removed from the cross by his friends, was the ascension real or something else? Who created Christianity and other religions and why, what was the agenda of every co-creator of every religion, the complex motives? There is a peculiar and odd preoccupation with suffering (the 14 stations of the cross, the daily Eucharist as reminder of the suffering of Jesus) in some denominations (not just Christianity, but even Buddha's "life is suffering" type of subliminal programming, creating the expectation of suffering, or Islam quotes about being "not so nice" to infidels, etc) or rituals (Ashura for example in Islam), while forgetting the quotes about gentleness, kindness, tenderness, softness, happiness, healing, etc in the New Testament and in the talks at services, as if people who have created the theology based on whatever happened (unknown to us, no video exists) have been hypnotized by some alien or historical inertia force who despises humans being "happy and free to think, to hypothesize, to not believe without evidence, to question stories they're told" a force that doesn't want happiness, tenderness, gentleness, peace, loving tone, harmony between humans and 900 year lives for humans, but just more suffering, cruelty and war. This possible alien programming defines "heroism" as dying for humanity in useless wars, but true heroism can be hypothesized to be doing what it takes so that nobody dies in wars and wars among humans don't exist. Heroism could be defined as doing what it takes to diminish violence and prevent anyone's death in all circumstances, at least in a civilization of would be Immortals. Perhaps it's not possible for us today to know how these focuses emerged and which spirits, aliens, or historical inertia forces were involved, but it seems odd, which makes us want to ask more questions.☺☺☺ It's not just religion, but you can see it in ideologies (communism and nazism torture of those who dared to question any idea put forth), bullfighting, abuse of animals in other contests, Halloween body parts, cruel death and blood satanic imagery, mixed martial arts, violent movies, etc. If Jesus attained Immortality, like people say he rose from the dead, maybe (like those who have an NDE and are brought back to life and given extra years) in the future people will get 500 extra years since they cured a little problem and saved their life and then new inventions enabled living another 500 years. Why can't theologians decide that the most important message to celebrate and focus on is the 14 levels of tenderness (not suffering on the cross, as with the stations of the cross), happiness, compassion for all beings, gentleness, longevity, 100 years old, 200, up to 1400, that people attain as they use different techns to live John 14:12 "What I have done you will also do and much more"? This gives us realistic targets to aim for in terms of lifespan extension technologies and can be upgraded to 20 levels of Immortality, 1000, up to 20,000 when our average lifespan is already 300.

We already can cure with tech more people than Jesus "did" (skeptics won't even believe those few healings of Jesus anyway). Why not make the message all about living 10 times longer and happier, freer to think and innovate, to hypothesize and question, instead of about carrying the cross and suffering in these short lives? With science we can bring people back to life many times and give them another 1,000 years of life in the future. Instead of focusing on that, some churches focus on some 14 stations of the cross, on drinking the wine and eating the bread (Jesus' body, the "lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world" as the priest quotes John 1:29 at Mass), "perhaps" not the most "uplifting" imagery. The Catholic priests during Mass quote Matthew 26:26-8 where Jesus reportedly said "While they were eating, Jesus took bread, spoke a blessing and broke it, and gave it to the disciples, saying, "Take and eat; this is My body." 27 Then He took the cup, gave thanks and gave it to them, saying, "Drink from it, all of you. 28 This is My blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins". In John 6:53 we're told to believe, without any proof, that Jesus told people that "unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man (kids?) and drink his blood, you have no life in you". Indeed, blood sucking vampires may have believed that young humans blood is rejuvenating... Hence, in John 5:24 Jesus says you got to listen to him to "live forever". So Jesus may have been one such blood drinker, who needed more "feeding sources". The last supper is very much like the Passover Seder Jewish holiday of drinking 4 cups of wine and Jews believe the 'last supper' was just that. The first Pope was Jewish and today the Pope wears his cap like Jews, since after all the Catholic Church may have been controlled by Jews for 2000 years. Poor Jesus, son of a Jew, couldn't figure out his praise of alcohol and its use in rituals led to 100 million dead, 2 billion injured in drunk violence, etc. So much for his "psychic ability". Read between words, the "esoteric meaning"☺☺☺. Today, CNN and many news agencies use the very same technique of the ancient Jews: they present the news or some facts in a way that when read literally, means one thing, but when read differently in the context of everything shown in videos etc and the news, it means something far better or far more diabolical*, the exact opposite almost*. Everyone has become an expert at deception and speaking thru metaphoric stories, having learned it from Jesus well. The priests want kids to emulate Jesus, so they want kids, the Son of Man, to become lunch, to give up their body like Jesus does above? So, parents, do you want your kids to go missing and be eaten*? Then, happily go to church, recall Mexican gangs abduct* kids too and US soldiers who pretend to be Christian, drink animal blood, read these 4 pages. Do you want smart kids? Then, stay away from churches. Well, kids may be alive, return home, but the pastor may have used his hands to masturbate them or, play with 100 girls, or drank the blood of young girls during menses so "they have life" as Jesus told them. Most media focuses on boys and gay priests, but some estimate about half of victims are female (20% minors, 80% adults), abused by pastors mostly, but nuns too. Is this some made up sentence added later to make people dependent on wafer blessers (priests)? It may serve 10 purposes for the blood drinkers who made this fake religion, with many interpretations spread by the same group under the guise of "great theologians inspiring the flock to discern the Grandiose Word of God". If we take words allegorically and as potentially altered, we can also hypothesize (and create such a Protestant denomination or Vatican III) that Jesus wanted us to eat no animals (he chased animal traders from the temple, maybe he meant us to go vegan), and when we can do vastly more than Jesus did (John 14:12, we already do some things better, can cure a lot more blind and deaf people and restore sight and hearing via tech), we're to create high tech eterni foods that give us 300-700 year lifespans, not just multiply short life giving bread. How come the Church chose to focus so much on this bread, only available from the Church instead of other verses in John like 14:12 "what I have done you will also do and much more" or the gentleness quotes? Was it because of the desire for control thru guilt? Why so much stress on confession, instead of the actual changing of oneself thru the gentleness quotes of tone of speech chapter? Confessing without changing one's tone of speech and thinking-feeling is very inefficient, to confess a sin takes 0.01% the energy of actually changing our tone of thinking-feeling-speaking. Did they want to know what people did by confessing? The Judaism Passover tradition had people eat bread and wine (like today during Sabbath), and it's possible some people made up the words of Jesus at last such Sabbath like gathering and then it became almost 50% of the short daily 30 minutes Catholic Mass. One can easily understand then how many became suspicious of 'organized religion, Sabbath wine being gentile kid blood sometimes (this is called the blood libel for the curious)' (cup for wine is called KIDdush, day it's drunk is called Sabbath, like stab bath), and how Protestantism emerged, initially due to protesting indulgences fees paid to the Church to reduce afterlife punishment. It's important to realize Italians had some strange cow blood rituals before 200 BC even, so Italians were accused of blood drinking 1200 years before the libel against Jews, recall one emperor crucified 6000 slaves. Some argue Phoenicians were sacrificing babies, due to ultra low IQ, in what is now parts of Italy, Tunisia, etc. The Germans/English knew the Vatican Italians & Jews were faking the Eucharist miracles of "wine in cups turning into blood, hosts becoming flesh." Biblical scholar and professor James Tabor explains there is no evidence Jesus said these words that form the central part of the Eucharist ritual. Even if Jesus "said" that symbolically, it doesn't mean he wanted anyone to do this, besides the 12 disciples.

At least, if they want to practice blessing food and give people wafers, they could say "this bread or eterni wafer (or eterni speech exercise, in churches who want to use speech instead of matter) is the symbol of God's Infinite Gentle Tender Grace and Knowledge of Immortality that sustains our souls when we make the inner effort (symbolized by the fruit juice or eterni wafer or drink*) to emulate God's Grace and Immortality Knowing each minute via eterni gentle healing nurturing compassionate kind thought, feeling or speech, via questioning everything, formulating new hypotheses about lifespan tripling technologies and testing every* hypothesis, so as to discern truth from belief without evidence. Our service today is not a mechanical repetitive ritual, but a living practice of selfless eterni thought, feeling and speaking, an effort to train and motivate ourselves to practice it outside this temple and improve our actions every hour, to selflessly help all beings (even insects) to be happier and free from pain." which removes any cannibal connotations. In Catholic services Eucharist part is often 10-15 minutes of the 30 minute morning service (30-50% of the service), when it could instead provide a 5-10 minute chance for eterni tone practicing for church members, each of whom is given a chance (sign up before service) to lead the group slow musical speech about "May we recall to speak always like we speak now, to employ the same emotional radiation, tonal pattern, hypothesis formulation and testing thinking, to question everything..." [this motivates people to keep their word, their tone commitment spoken in front of the church community, to practice loving kindness always, not in the 1 minute of Eucharist ingestion only], music that radiates most elevating emotions (some speech of the leader and some of the whole congregation, after instructions in proper speech tone given by pastor). We see people start talking in the most unGodly tone 5 minutes after taking the Eucharist, showing real inner transformation requires far more effort than the 20 seconds of ingesting the wafer bread. The focus seems to be on some outer matter, instead of the inner effort to improve oneself, and that's not very "transformative". Isn't something odd with this suffering and sacrifice focus, when it could be (like it is in some churches) the joy of Easter, the joy ☺☺☺ of overcoming death, the joy of Immortality and then any obstacle is seen as a joyous adventure to living to 900 years old or 14,000, not as a cross carrying needing a cannibalism like ritual to stay "spiritual"? This focus on suffering and sacrifice undermines the enthusiasm to bring the Kingdom of Immortals on Earth, of Heaven on Earth. Everything becomes so gloomy and so suffering focused, so focused on our limitations, without focusing at all on our potential to bring Heaven on Earth via science and ethics, to improve everyone's life, to live 100 times longer just as we could with science travel 100 times faster than anything in nature with our space technologies. We recreate what we focus on. There are many places of worship that are very joyous☺☺☺ and even some that focus on living for centuries.

Future humans may create an open-source religion, where 5 quadrillion hypotheses can be searched in a database, discussed, new ones submitted, so as to know better the 9 trillion technologies that may triple human lifespan within the next 100 years and we take action, learn, instead of repeating mechanically the same belief and creed statements, without any flexibility of thought. There is no evidence Jesus (some skeptics even question if he existed even, and to be welcoming to all, one would have to be aware of that, to be able to relate to the skeptics) wanted people to celebrate the Eucharist at all, or that he said the words at last supper as told at Mass; on the contrary, maybe he wanted people to focus on the fact as a bidimensional civilization we attain Immortality in this and Heaven worlds, living in 2 dimensions at once. Why obsess so much about dying (giving up our life manipulated by those aliens who want us to fight for some useless wars or causes?) to attain Immortality, as in the "peace prayer of Saint Francis" talking about "dying to attain Eternal Life"? Some churches focus a lot on Jesus' death and resurrection, but I bet Jesus could have wanted us to focus on Immortal Life and bringing Heaven in this world instead, perhaps on transforming this life into Immortal Life that is bidimensional. The classical Christian theology is that of a New Earth and Heaven that occurs when Jesus comes back, but this can be interpreted as the knowledge of science (Jesus gives some high tech ideas, via telepathy from heaven) bringing the new earth where we live forever as Immortals, as we build it with new tech. Why not interpret it that way? There are always 9 quadrillion interpretations of any Gospel version. If Jesus overcame death, so can we overcome death (John 14:12 "What I have done you will also do and much more") with life extension technologies and talk about the lifespan quadrupling biochemistry and physics in every service for at least 20 minutes, if not 1 hour. Pastors can say the cross refers to: horizontal line, infinity, vertical line, Eternity, God being eternal infinite Immortality, or replace cross with infinity symbol. Then, every church focuses more on hypothesis formulation and testing for tripling human lifespan instead of so much on dogmas for which the proof is weak, becoming a mini-Immortality university of sorts where citizen science flourishes. That would be a true reformation leading to the deepest liberation of the earthling nation. Instead of depressing Halloween holidays with plastic body parts sold in stores, we could have have a Immortality Holiday about the countless lifespan tripling technologies, happy joy, peace and gentleness. Instead of so many guards yelling and using uneterni speech tone during presidential or monarchy protocols, we could have them hug and pet some rescued animals (from factory farms), and say "May the kingdom of eternal grace, tenderness, gentle soft sweetness, of Heaven on Earth become reality soon" in the most angelic choir tone ever. ☺☺☺ It seems humans glorify being tough, not being kind tender soft gentle, thus manifesting a similar world. See how much attention is given to people doing the same movement at a procession, and how little emphasis on eterni speech, kindness, gentleness, nurturing mercy, compassion. God or Immortals are probably quadrillions of times more evolved than humans, when compared to how evolved we're versus animals, yet we want God's mercy without caring about animals. Protestantism was great in the view of many because it exposed the "ritual and formality" focuses of indulgences fees. Unfortunately, Protestantism also removed the idea that real spirituality is not the sacraments or practices of the Catholic or Protestant church (they were against them, against Catholic monastic orders, against the efforts to develop a nicer tone of speech when singing, to heal via singing and voice, hence the tone of Protestant pastors is often times less gentle, less tender etc), but the 10,000 times more difficult task of changing one's inner nature by works and effort, not faith. ☺☺☺

Changing one's inner nature includes improving hourly one's eterni thinking-feeling-speaking tone, ability to diminish suffering for all beings, to be selfless and compassionate. Protestantism ignored the "good works" and focused on Grace as enough for "salvation", but there is no evidence this is any vastly different than the formal focus on the "mechanical or ritual like" sacraments of Catholics. A really deep reformation would have created Protestant pastors whose tone of speech for example is much more healing, gentler, kinder, softer than those of Catholics (it is not, it is less usually, but not always, because Catholics have 2 millennia of vocal tone refining via singing during ceremonies), a much stronger emphasis on hypothesis thinking, a loving eterni diet harming no plants or animals, more open mindedness to afterlife being possibly vastly different than the "heaven and hell" model, a far greater focus on inner change (10,000 times more difficult than sacraments or taking communion daily or attending Mass daily) and compassion for all (animals too), more focus during Mass on the gentleness quotes in the New testament, on extending lifespan by 10 times and 500 when tech allows, on physical Immortality interpretations. But given how difficult life was in the 1500s, without printing press (it just emerged then), etc, we can't expect those people to achieve what we can conceive today after 500 years of science and inventions that totally changed the world. Compared to men of their century, those reformists may have been much smarter, but didn't see the whole picture.

This is why a true Reformist within Catholicism or Protestantism would be able to appreciate the hypotheses in this chapter, add to them, improve them and create the very deep reformation that never occurred or could have never occurred 500 years ago (technology was not there for prerecording, neuroscience not there to realize the importance of speech tone, etc). Many may have had noblest intentions in their reformation attempts as seen in the Quakers (anti-war, no participation in wars, World Peace via nonviolent means focus, no need of Eucharist, baptism, rituals involving matter blessing when we can bless directly) and 7th Day Adventists (vegetarian focus). We can be compassionate, understand the imperfections of the people in the 15th century, when saying some things would make people killed in no time, today we have a lot of freedom of speech, so smart people had to role play they're very silly perhaps to bring a tiny change, a tiny freedom to perceive things differently, thank God, to think in a different way. Progress sometimes only comes when we're given some freedom of thought, to hypothesize differently. Sure, mistakes were made, but we can't dismiss everything in Protestantism as errors or nonsense. These problems exist in all religions, where the ritual (sacrament, prayer) becomes mechanical, without inner change, without compassion for others at deep levels, without becoming gentle tender healing, where appearance replaces substance. "Sola scriptura" (Bible only) focus in Protestantism is outdated, since tons of inventions we use today were not predicted by Jesus or any (for profit?) 'prophet' and it doesn't mean they're from the devil, all pastors use them to promote "sola scriptura". The idea that "the Bible was not changed" is fake, as there is no video evidence of Gospel events; most likely some things were removed, added too. That's why a true reformation can't be based on "the Bible only".

The English, German, etc Protestant thinkers may have used sola scriptura to protect citizens from belief in Eucharistic, etc miracles made up by 'Italian/French/Jewish spies controlled' clergy, but today it helps too, i.e. Catholics removed Bible from the pews, replaced it with the Missal as if to hide all bad quotes, so solar scriptura helps people see what the Bible contains that most have no clue about. For that we can be thankful, there is always a positive to every negative. We got a lot of areas that are either Catholic or Protestant and lifespan and tech level is so low, so the Christian religion doesn't confer the truth of longer lifespan as it is not its focus. If Catholic etc truth was so amazing, why are some countries/areas with those denominations for a long time so backwards? The God of Eternal Life, would immediately bestow longer life, if God can give people on the New Earth or afterlife an infinite year lifespan? So the ritual doesn't get us closer to God whose main quality is Immortality and Long Life, then why have ritual and no science of immortality? Why make ritual so important and immortality, space travel, etc knowledge and discovery absent? Why brainwash and enslave people in ignorance and short lifespan, instead of decent life? How come after all these rituals, violence is among the highest globally in some Central/South America Catholic countries? If the ritual was so important, how come it didn't transform by the Eucharist these societies? Lots of countries are not Catholic, have 30 times lower homicide rate, and live so much longer than some Catholic ones, they never do Eucharist ritual or only 3 times a year at the church. So God doesn't care about it? Why would we care if no proof exists it is important? We don't know all answers, but we aren't naive.☺☺☺

There are 7 sacraments in Catholicism: baptism, confirmation, confession, Eucharist, marriage, holy orders, anointing. In the future, they might add the less ritual like sacraments of Hypothesis Thinking, Telepathy, Eterni Tone, Gentleness, Compassion, World Peace, Living to 7,000, Telekinesis, Materialization, Teleportation, Veganism, Living on Energy, Soul Travel, Invisibility, Ascension as these things become possible due to science, just like today it's possible to talk about Big Bang or traveling at 38,610 mph since 1979, and soon 430,000 mph (not possible centuries ago). We humans can travel at over 161 (38610/240) times the fastest bird dive now with Voyager 1. Why can't human beings also live 161 times longer than whales which live 200 years or at least as long as the tree colony in Utah aged 80,000 years? With swarms of nanobots, materialization may become possible in some far future. ☺☺☺

People who go to Eucharist or church daily and pray, who feel the transforming effects of placebo (believing the wafer or church going makes them kinder, happier, with higher self-control, etc, when they can make their home a holy temple of wondrous vibrations instead), of prayer, of going to a place where people have more positive thoughts, etc are automatically helped via auto-suggestion of placebo to be kinder and have a higher filtering of thought, feeling and speaking after that. We all notice they often use nicer softer tones, since these psychological crutches motivate the person to make effort for being nicer tone wise. What some don't realize is that the self-induced placebo effects (euphoria, gentler tone, nicer behavior) of ingesting a wafer could be just 1% or 0.01% of what can happen if we made the huge effort to change every word (inner or outer) to eterni tone; this tone change could be seen as the equivalent of inviting God's direct blessing, praying unceasingly and asking for 100 or 10,000 communions from God directly daily, one every few seconds of awake time. When a human utters a word, "hypothesis" or "church", that word has an emotional and conceptual average signature for that human, highly influenced by "imitating people around them, the historical inertia". When we do eterni tone of feeling, thinking, speaking we're sort of asking God to bless (not via the wafer) directly our brain so it can change these averages full of negative and random emotions of the historical inertia to the most coherent and enriched thoughts, feelings and tones of universal loving kindness, gentleness, softness, nurturing grace, healing sweetness, etc. We can hypothesize that it could be like taking 100 or 10,000 communions daily with full placebo belief. We're so tired or rushed many times that we can't even make 0.1% of our words truly eterni in speech alone, let alone 20% or inner thinking-feeling. ☺☺☺

The unconscious imitation of others' tones is why probably only 1 in a billion people can be truly eterni 99% of the time, they have to limit what they hear to more elevated and filtered tones. All that is the inner us is reflected in our speech tones, even when people role play and try hide, the subtle averages can still be detected by supercomputer: the whole psychological structure, motives, intents, emotions, of the person, everything. Moving a bread piece inside the mouth even monkeys and squirrels can do, that is not what makes us human. But if we want advanced technology, we can aim for advanced spirituality and ethics and go against the historical inertia, we can stop imitating the average tones and become imitators of the more healing, nurturing, tender, graceful tones of the 900 year old humans which are probably more like these tones. When we live longer, we're not only smarter, but also gentler, more tender, just like 70 year old physics Nobel laureates or scientists have a humbler, gentler, ever doubting tone of thinking-speaking. We realize only 0.1% of the words in a day were somewhat eterni and realize how difficult it is, because it requires using so many different brain areas at once. This is not like a simple mental exercise of moving a bread piece into your mouth or doing some chores, but like a very mentally engaging task, like doing calculus or some hard task that you reserve for the best most rested day of the month, when your brain is at its peak. It completely changes the person, but most avoid it as it takes so much effort first years (requiring much less speaking), decades of uphill climb. It's much easier to imitate everyone around and go with the flow, ruffling no feathers. Imagine if we would surround ourselves with eterni tones/melodies like the ones in the list of youtube healing tones in the music samples section, we would imitate them and get a huge aid to change our inner and verbal speech, thought, feeling tone. Imagine if everything we spoke was like the "Kyrie Eleison" gregorian chants, very filtered and musical... With artificial intelligence, in the future we will be able to change our verbal/inner tones easier, just as today we have youtube tones easy to play in the car, phone. Why does Tao Te Ching say the sage prefers to be alone and avoids socializing (many go to church to catch on gossip and socialize only), meditating instead? Because when you socialize you imitate the tones of the average people, their intent, emotion, thought, motives, everything. You saturate yourself with the historical inertia and have no energy to think and connect with Immortals of the future, you perpetuate the present "mess" on Earth. You can only watch one TV station at a time: channel "present reality" or channel "future 900 year old Immortals". We choose.☺☺☺

14.2.3. ??????????????????? THE BIGGEST LIE ??????????????????

See how Christians committed endless genocides, just like Jews and Muslims did. 'Get rich quick schemes' are attractive to people, hence fake religions (which often are used to create gigantic empires of wealth) can spread like wildfire due to people who don't verify the stories and 'science (faked?) reports verifying miracles' they're told by charlatans, and believe as true or share them with others. We love the easy path, it's comforting, since it's less effort, and similar concepts like 'if we only study the atrocities of the past in history classes we solve the issues of the future' or 'if we take some wafer, wine or blessed baptism or water' and go to church once a week we go to immortal heaven, etc. Reality is more complex, all 'get rich fast' schemes are frauds that make people waste time and money, they're like the history learning illusion: to learn history is easy, just spend a few weeks, etc, but to create a better version of it, takes decades of changing one's tone. To achieve 'immortality' of just 5000 year lifespan, if God exists, also is a trillion billion times harder than following organized rituals. To achieve billion year lifespan, may require improving our tone for 4 billion years, not studying 'scapegoats' for 4 weeks or doing some rituals 4 times a month. If God doesn't exist, we need be immortal for billions of years to verify we really achieved immortality anyway. Focus on rituals obviously makes us less inclined to question, test hypotheses, consider alternate explanations, beliefs, etc.

Perhaps the BIGGEST LIE out there, which is seemingly (in a subtle/very subtle form, depending on the group) handed down to people as infallible belief, that none has the right to doubt, could be this: "it doesn't matter what you do to increase human lifespan length or to manifest a Civilization of Immortals, all it matters is to eat the wafers (if applicable in a religion), worship holy objects, use the holy water, give money to our organized group, perform some ritual prayers this way facing that way, etc, and make the clergy or institution they belong to rich". If afterlife exists, and God would consider offering incipient new souls a chance to co-build a Civilization of Immortals in another dimension as newbie Immortals, one could think, hypothesize or argue that God would want to measure not just "how devoted, kind and gullible we can be", but also if we could build and sustain a Civilization of Immortals. So, contrary to many common beliefs, if that hypothesis is true, God may not grant spiritual Immortality (the right to experience Immortality uninterrupted in a heavenly sphere) in a real sense to any soul who has not helped a lot or actually built a Civilization of Immortals in this virtual universe of ours and other similar ones, after one or many many attempts; that means God cares about substance, not us appearing or being kind only, about the essence of Life, Immortality, which is far harder than gentleness, kindness or any combination of commonly strived for virtues in our spiritual and religious thought systems, way harder because it implies mastering thousands of virtues and much more, while we barely manage to be good at 3 virtues in our short lifespans of 80. Why would God be so strange, some would ask? Because we're like God: we also don't let kids into a control room where pressing a button could blow up a planet. Likewise, why would God allow kid souls in a realm where a "button" blows up a universe? But God, in his infinite love would give kids an Immortal or Immortal like realm (baby souls don't fully understand the sheer complexity of it while there) maybe partially in a very complex way, as explained in the afterlife section on Eternal Heaven and parallel universes incarnations, and/or in a step wise fashion that allows for multiverse progression. The virtue of knowledge is very hard to master.

14.2.4. Circumcision (especially without anesthesia, but even with it, pain can last 8 months) is a genocide done by Jews against Americans (many babies die and others lose 20 years of lifespan due to circumcision, so it adds up to equivalent of a million dead over time), a form of legalized penis stabbing disguised as religion that causes mental illness, immune collapse, a form of hybrid warfare against a nation to lower IQ, lower fertility, depopulate and increase psychopathy, cruelty, violent crime and chaos that facilitates taking over a nation

If you have little time today to read this 7 page section, to see why circumcision is wrong, please scroll next 3 pages and go to see 12 videos of babies crying during circumcision. Naive Christians believe that circumcision is a "God approved act", since 80% of US males are circumcised due to the "bad type of Jew" gangsters who took over USA. Catholics believe "1000s of Eucharistic miracles happened, where wafer (bread) or wine turned into flesh or blood". If circumcision was so important to God, why didn't the penis skin turn into wafer or thin air without pain, without blood, in some people who gave a press conference at the White House, or school or some place where you didn't go to the bath at all to secretly do it? God could have easily created 900 such miracles if circumcision was his preference. The lack of such miracles, and the alleged abundance of 90 million healing miracles, indicate circumcision is evil not a healing miracle of knowledge of "god". God does endless big changes in people, in alleged miracles, way bigger than removing some skin miraculously, yet never circumcision. This shows circumcision is not of God, but of 'Satan' or, more correctly, human ignorance. On top of that, with billions circumcised, we get the lifespan loss of 80 million years when we consider all the damage done, and that is about 1 million dead babies on Earth equivalent last 2 centuries alone. This Jewish Holocaust of gentile babies is a travesty. This damage includes immune system collapse, trauma, brain damage (2022 example in Canada) explained below etc. A nurse was charged with manslaughter for doing a circumcision wrong. Circumcision is a PURE GENOCIDE that has no place in modern civilization. 100s of media articles report how babies die after circumcision. 3 examples: UK, NYC, India, Australia. Circumcision leads to more sudden infant death syndrome or SIDS per JCTR 2019;4(2):136-151, since baby is too much in pain to shift to breathe easier. Circumcise only if you want a dead baby suddenly during sleep. Generally speaking, in life, when a procedure causes 1 death (or 120 deaths in USA a year), it also causes injuries that shorten lifespan by 1-50 years in 100 times more people, so the net effect of lifespan loss is FAR greater (say 10000 instant deaths in USA alone since 1900) than what seems to be the case when looking at the "instant physical death" data. For example, not everyone dies of peanut ingestion, but 5 million have lifespan shorter due to it by 8 years on average, which becomes the equivalent of killing 500000 infants who lose 80 years of potential lifespan. People who don't read the 11th chapter on how deadly peanuts are don't understand this statistical fact. 1 death shows 100 other equivalent deaths at least occurred in the population via lifespan shrinking, so we may be talking about 12000 deaths in USA EACH YEAR, A HOLOCAUST of 1.2 million in 100 years. That's why we live to 80 and not 110 as we should: ☺abysmal IQ☺ rules supreme. This 14.2.4. section will help all understand that the Christianity in the USA, with 80% circumcision is nothing but Pure Judaism. The clever ultra orthodox Jew, pretending to be a gentile, Christian or atheist, has infiltrated science policy and imposed his religion on all thru deceit and fake science papers. While we reach World Peace, we would move naturally towards removing all violent crime and pain inflicting. This would take 2-3 decades perhaps. Let us kindly ask ourselves, how would trimming the penis skin bring World Peace in 3 months? Why would a painful penis ritual be our priority these days? Why would our taxpayer dollars go towards making this free for many insurance companies? Why would the poor pay tax to sponsor aristocratic terrorist clergy who commit the violent crime of stabbing infant penises and causing pain for 5 months in babies, immune system collapse, mental illness in babies? Why worship suffering and masochism, sadism? Is this what religion is all about? More rituals?

Inflicting pain on any human will be illegal globally eventually (well, unless someone has a real medical issue to take care of and procedure may require a slight pain, if no anesthetic used to prevent side effects). Illegal would also be any pain causing mutilation of male or female genitals, of vagina (200 million females got it) or penis (doctorsopposingcircumcision.org), especially the one without anesthesia (the typical US one is done while baby is sleeping and feels nothing, recalls nothing) as done in some religions, which subjects the baby to 50,000+ times more pain than a vaccine and damages his brain and the human quantum field. The anesthesia can damage the body too, as can complications, while the benefits are unproven, since we need 2 million people, half doing it and half not doing it and measuring immunity, lifespan and all health, cognition, relationships, autism, etc parameters over 100 years and see if healthy lifespan, IQ, and everything else is intact. In 1920s such advanced logging of data was not possible, so in 2020s it's hard to know if lifespan is shorter or longer, healthy and total lifespan. We need to monitor 2 million people over 100 years and compare, adjust for all confounding factors. Only today can we via videos and tests, really precise IQ, behavioral, blood, immunity, aging tests start a 100 year study of this nature. So, forcing everyone to do it, because of some so called "amazing benefits" is unscientific☺☺☺, since total mortality is affected by a lot more than prostate cancer than they say is somewhat prevented by this procedure (though CUAJ 2020;14(7):E334-40 thinks evidence is weak for prostate cancer lowering and financial interests may be behind those studies). Stealing a part of one's body, removing it, without consent, is nothing but a violent crime. What can a 3 month old baby consent to? Only an 18 year old can consent. But we see how they think it's like a simple vaccine, without showing any unfakable studies on healthy lifespan, IQ, autism, relationships, cruelty and total mortality.

boys (or girls), incapable to communicate or express, create or even feel emotion well, who don't want to speak until age 2-3, who hate their mother for allowing doctors/rabbis to do it (and father for allowing mom to circumcise), and by extension leading to the boy hating all females subconsciously, and leads to violence against women seen in all ultra patriarchal societies where circumcision is practiced. Circumcised boys then become more likely to move into full psychopathy and become unhappy adults who then find joy only in inflicting pain on others, in violent crime, war and power over others. This causes the nation to spend trillions to cure autism caused by the 5-35 month penis pain about which mother never cared about, due to her not knowing about it. Mothers are too brainwashed by the grotesque pastor, rabbi or imam who dishonestly claims that babies (who have twice the neurons and pain sensitivity of adults) don't ever feel any pain except for 2 minutes. This is a big lie: first of all, the tip of of the penis is the most sensitive area of the penis and has more nerves than almost any other body areas, and you know even if you bump a toe, fracture a bone, etc or something your toe and nearby foot area can swell and feel painful when walking for 1 year even, in a body area with 50 times fewer nerve endings than penis tip, now imagine not just busting toe, but cutting it and not placing any bandage over it and going about walking with a cut toe and no protection from the harsh diaper, etc – the baby suffers and becomes the most hateful depressed person around, for that starting DNA. The baby can't learn how to meditate, to achieve bliss, as he's too busy with the penis pain. Then, the baby is enraged that the mother is not doing anything about it, that she's a cruel indifferent mom, and her baby will never trust females again, creating a misogynist culture as an adult. We see that in Islam and Judaism who circumcise 99% of people. The baby will also hate any circumcising religion forever once he finds out who caused his pain and will do anything to demolish every church, synagogue and mosque on Earth, like Stalin did, because he doesn't want any other baby to suffer like him for 3 years. Stalin was baptised (see how) at 11 days old on 12-29-1878, by drowning too, causing him deep pain, by the same Jewish custom of the unholy apostles of rabbi Jesus. Stalin's subconscious rage led to the demolition of 29000 churches, even if he initially studied to become a priest. Pure physics: action force = reaction force, Newton's 3rd law of classical mechanics. He will simply ensure no baby can be destroyed, no brain can be destroyed again by the demonic doctor brainwashed by the CDC official (a pervert Jew, Orthodox Jew fanatic claiming to be atheist who faked the science papers about circumcision benefits) who approves and legalizes circumcision, due to the Jewish takeover of the USA which made circumcision go from 1% to 80%. Most US males don't recall their infancy, age 0 to 1-3, and it's obvious why: brains hide and block any painful memory, such as circumcision pain. But the subconscious knows it fully. Mothers, please read the Bible quotes, to understand what demonic possession ("demon" is a name for info fields from angry violent dead people that hang in places for a while) is, and why Jews circumcise and realize how much pain your baby boy goes thru before allowing imams to 'kill' your baby's soul by facilitating demonic possession of the baby in this painful period. Unable to learn bliss early on, during brain development when brain doubles its size in the first year of life, the baby will only find bliss in sex or other animal activities, removing itself from the cosmic nirvana states of immersion into the cosmic consciousness field of all Immortals. These males will be easy to dupe, manipulate and to become obese, as they don't know happiness, and only a sugar meal or anything gives them bliss. Circumcision makes obese adults, who live shorter than otherwise, when all conditions are identical, due to higher neurotic stress. Circumcision is the lowest IQ violent and "demonic" ritual to enable "demonic" possession of babies easier, and genocidal act, a lethal threat to the national security of the state, bankrupted by high autism/violent crime rates. Circumcision is related to the pathological Christianity, Islam and Judaism, as these are not concerned with the people's happiness, meditative bliss, etc, but with torture (14 stations of the cross in every catholic church, Jesus torture), beatings of kids, mass rape, genocide, etc. They can't be concerned with inner bliss, since they didn't know happiness exists in the brain, that God knows trillions of peaceful ways to World Peace and 0 war-violence (since the God they channeled was their own chimp level cannibal violence), not raping and burning entire cities to the ground. Circumcision is a crime against humanity, for it prevents our kids from experiencing meditative bliss daily, spending their infancy crying daily in the hopes moms do something about their pain. Jesus was too low IQ to realize you can achieve nirvana bliss and then not seek sexual arousal or having affairs with ladies, so Jesus told people to cut hands and pull eyes out, in typical Yahweh/Quran style, instead of giving them a simple meditative technique to make sex desire vanish. The God of Fraud could not even discover what Indians did centuries before. ☺0 IQ☺ clowns who wrote the Torah were too low in IQ to realize that you don't need to cut penis to reduce arousal, sex outside procreation, but simply to meditate, stop shouting like the violent "demonic" rabbis who wrote the Torah, so that baby enters nirvana daily as a fetus, in a culture of nurturing graceful gentle tender soft healing loving kindness. Jews need to increase their IQ and realize spies disguised as Jews could have written most Torah. Don't get offended, because most scriptures are ultra low filif IQ by today's knowledge, just as chemistry texts of the 3rd century BC are comical☺ vs today's textbook of college chemistry.

Circumcised boys will hate their mom (or dad if dad held him) forever subconsciously more than non-circumcised, in similar family events conditions, for moving the baby from mom's arms to the table where the demonic psychopathic rabbi enjoys the mechanical inflicting of endless pain on the baby. Babies can't articulate a full sentence to explain it's been 4 months since circumcision and that the baby still feels a lot of pain, that the baby was dealing with his penis pain 24-7 for 4 months, unable to relate to parents or humans nearby, processing his pain, so unable to communicate with them, unwilling to talk, and being misdiagnosed with autism later and being medicated for no reason other than criminal pastors, rabbis and imams who terrorize billions of people with circumcision approval. These autism drugs cause side effects, destroy the human quantum field and commit Jewish doctor genocide against humanity via circumcision and violent psychopathic outdated "religion". When a baby is in pain, he can't relate normally with others, he may seem an introvert, unable to communicate and respond, crying a lot, while the abysmal IQ☺ mother thinks he needs milk, but he needs the mother to trash the Demonic Bible instead and shut down all Christian, Judaic, Muslim worship places because they Deify Infinite Violence, because they create the risk of all humans dying in a 10 second blast via the all out war in a few years. These men, as they grow up will hate women forever, for the mother usually gave the child from her safe arms into the demonic hands of the Orthodox Christian priest or Catholic One before 1200 AD (when all Christians almost did full drowning baptism as Jews told gentiles to do to take over the continent), to drown him or circumcise him and cause him difficult breathing for 12-1200 months, brain damage from drowning and also the complete destruction of sanity and happiness, by feeling only penis pain and causing hypothalamus amygdala abnormal function and inability to have empathy for others, as he's consumed by a hate for his parents and females especially. So, here we go, the baby boy won't be trusting anyone, because, even mom and dad, closest to him, betrayed him and gave my body to be moved into a 4-40 months of pain to please a psychopathic society that worships a genocide mass rape cult of death, torture and painful mutilation as if it's some word of God of sadists. Moms forget that babies can't verbalize the pain the full immersion baptism caused at age 1 month, when the baby (who is always afraid of water after that) drowned and the lung water damaged baby lungs per the Jewish psychopathic habit present in Christian churches for 1200 years, today still used in Orthodox Churches and some Eastern rites, where Jewish violence against babies reigns supreme. This pain, from circumcision and baby infant immersion, ought to be made illegal worldwide, as people realize the Quran/Bible are outdated made up junk. Your baby is not autistic, but a victim of your violent giving up of your baby, to a psycho priest, imam or rabbi to circumcise or drown him in baptism, read the baptism section again if needed. He doesn't talk until later, due to not trusting his psychotic mom whom he may perceive as evil. Mothers, please don't ever let any clergy touch your baby until he's 18. Let pedophiles masturbate if they want to puke their brains out, don't let them kill a baby's potential. Think. God needs no wafers or touches around penis or penis sucking by rabbis, to connect to God. Russia has engaged in endless genocides last 800 years, perhaps due to infant baptism drowning. Babies become a lot more psychopathic/ violent and today, violent crime in Russia is 15 times higher than many European nations. Coincidence or the Ritual of Baby Drowning? Russians live 10 years shorter than EU, could that brain/lung damage at baptism be the cause?

100s of studies show the issues with circumcision (more HIV and diseases transmitted, plus if people are immortalist meditating, they know meditation is happier than sex by 10000 fold), the poor bonding between mom and child who feels his psychopathic mother, who allowed it without anesthesia, has caused him pain and withdraws from her, being less likely to be well fed with milk and to have higher IQ and live longer. That foreskin prevents infections and oxidative stress, prevents rubbing the harsh underwear against the glans, friction which is very toxic and against nature, because it generates endless free radicals, that skin is there as a gentle soft perfect protective cover and buffer. The bacteria in there that the Jewish MDs claim "causes infections" have a specific purpose and they prime the sperm, stimulate the immune system, (women who use a lot of cleaning of vagina get huge bacterial infections due to destroying immunity), influence the sperm producing cells to be far more resilient when it goes into the female tract and survive, so circumcision lowers fertility, that's why WHO pushes it to Africa (they got huge birth rate vs other nations). Circumcision may even lower immunity of offspring thus lowering life expectancy. It would affect immunity and mental health of the person doing it before 7 months of age, since the immune system is barely developed first months of life and what happens when we have an injury, is all the immune system resources go to the injury site, so instead of taking care of the brain who doubles in size in the first year, his immune system goes to the penis, what a loveless and (as some would say) genocidal idea to lower people's IQ and destroy the entire human quantum field. The bloodsucker rabbis, glad to shout like Hitler or demons to scare the hell out of babies who cry of course, have many bacteria in their mouth, due to being old, and they suck the blood out of the bleeding baby penis (see video) after they cut it, infecting the poor baby with deadly bacteria that do permanent damage to the baby, even blindness from herpes. This genocidal attack of undeveloped immune system is an atrocity that now requires written parental consent in NYC, worse than over vaccinating that said rabbis are so against: do you see the hypocrisy? The ☺abysmal IQ☺ of this religion is evident: only the child's mother who gave him his antibodies to her bacteria etc has the bacteria he can defend against, so if anyone were to suck his penis, it should be the mother out of all humans, not an old stranger whose bacteria count is way higher than a young mother. One Jewish baby had his penis cut off by accident by a nematode worm IQ rabbi. None of these people are licensed doctors usually, so imagine if a random guy would do surgery on you. Odd right? Secular youtube says pedophilia is Jewish rabbi penis sucking that needs to be made illegal. A 25 min youtube explains using science papers why circumcision needs to be illegal.

13 required vaccinations by 6 months age is also quite a lot of immunity stress, needle pain (some may even cause longer pain or weakness), they need to space them over a wider period, maybe 2 years? Hey, 75% of doctors agree to space out doses, if asked, due to "severe crying mentioned by parent" etc, so you could do that too, since the brain damage and lower IQ issue is not studied and most brain doubling in size clinical studies are for 1 vaccine for a static brain that doesn't double volume in 12 months, not 15 vaccines in 6 months when brain grows ultra fast. In some nations they only require 6 vaccinations by age 6 months by combining more and nobody is circumcised, unless a grown up Muslim kid or uneducated parents of a Jewish baby. We have here 15 needle wounds that distract immune system, plus all that stuff that the body deals with… lowering IQ. Educated parents who're immortalist can try to raise baby IQ, so immortalists win and bring the end of war and violent crime, so wait a little, it's not like when all mortalists vaccinate the immortalist is at huge risk of dying. Circumcision is similar to the 900 year period of foot binding in China between ages 4 and 9, except the penis stuff at age 10 days is far worse for the brain. The first 3 months of life, eyes go thru a super fast development of color vision, babies see black and white initially, so imagine, all immune resources go to penis, not eyes. Here is a new baby, adjusting to the stress of air life and etc and they subject him to a pain for 3 months until it heals (skin is attached to the glans, so the pain is far higher than at age 12), and he can't speak to let you know diaper is tight and his penis hurts, what a pure cruelty – he may give up crying since he notices mom doesn't loosen his diapers (she thinks he wants milk or whatever), so what is the point, just silent pain until he dies in sleep as in some cases. Also, just like babies not exposed to vagina bacteria via vagina birth are more likely to be born autistic, kids born to 0 anesthesia circumcised fathers may be more likely to be a little crueler (less capable to bring World Peace in 3 months), due to the desensitization to pain and cruelty that is inherited as an epigenetic shift. Kids who undergo infancy circumcision without anesthesia become less empathetic and crueler in life, making World Peace harder, since the angry kid won't bond to mommy and project his anger unto her, this will lead to low IQ as he breastfeeds less. As an adult, he will be more likely to support wars and to view the ritual blood human sacrifice of a part of his body that this circumcision is as natural, while people infused with the nurturing graceful gentle tender soft healing loving kindness of God may perceive it as "horrific pure worship" of "Satan, Lucifer", Pain, Suffering, Cruelty, War, Torture. ☺☺☺ Immortalists deify happy bliss for all, not pain. 50+% of humans don't believe in the religious made up concepts of "Satan", it's a scare tactic to take over continents using fake miracles and boogie entities to enrich empires, even God is ultra complex. We don't need religion to be kind and empathetic, to know when something is painful & useless. Democrats spent $10 million to circumcise Mozambique males, when Americans are homeless. This is Judaism in the Democratic Party. They care more about the evil Torah/Bible than about the American people. Jews took over USA, just look at the homeless in Oakland alone. None of them are Jews. Jews are the doctors and politicians who took over our government, churches and imposed circumcision on all, while also awarding Jews 220000 salary to monitor Jewish Banks looting of every American. The Jewish billionaire Adelson made huge profits by destroying endless gentiles with casinos. They're after all, a superior chosen gambling race. Let us all bow down to them, for we're their slaves? If we don't wake up, USA will become a Jewish Taliban, a true Israelistan of Rifle worship. Any city not bowing to the Torah rabbinical law will be wiped out within USA by the Jewish Army like Gaza. Don't believe me? Kaganovich, the USSR Jew, happily co-killed 5 million Ukrainians and lived to 97 in USSR as a hero of genocidal communism.

Some Orthodox Jewish rabbis suck the penis of the baby after this ritual, to soothe the crying baby and suck the blood out of the penis, so it's even more gross than that in the ancient ritual of inadvertently drinking (can't spit all blood out anyway, so the rabbi ends up swallowing some trace amounts) baby blood from the baby's trimmed penis. It's an image of more sinister dimensions, regarding the "holy" Bible that will fuel the creative imagination of conspiracy theorists for eons to come: see how babies got infected with herpes from the rabbi. These rituals were there before Judaism, allegedly, per some odd website (made by Jews? To make Arabs, Iranians look odd?): "Ancient Mesopotamian had festivals where the actual sex organ of a young boy was cut off and dedicated to the fertility goddess. The action was later reduced to inducing an incision instead. The blood was offered to the goddess and the occasion was celebrated publicly." Pre-Islam Arab tribes did female and male circumcision, as Wikipedia explains, though it's not clear who pretended to be a (for profit?) 'prophet' before Mohamed and brainwashed them to do so, we see how naive religious Arabs, Europeans, Americans, Iranians are these days. A UK paper from 1949 says circumcision is at least 15000 years old and may have emerged in more than one place at once, it's all a mystery. Even in the so called "modern" countries that do this 'barbaric' act, they accidentally amputate 1 inch of the penis too when not careful "complications specific to this techniques include injury to the glans (glans is the penis under the skin they try to remove)... Amputation of the glans... is a devastating complication". Poor 4 year old boy had his penis cut by mistake by "cruel 0 IQ MDs" : CRIU 2020:5806987. Not just the skin. WOW. 3 South African adolescents had their penis cut too (BMC Urology 2019:19(65), by mistake, due to mass circumcision forcing MDs to rush (easy to make mistakes with that clumsy clamp) following some fake paper that "circumcision prevents HIV spread". HIV? Have sex for procreation only, and the issue is solved, no HIV spreading, circumcision is nothing but madness to people abhorring useless torture of babies. Once you meditate and are not tortured by the spy or military agencies that may interfere with learning how to meditate, you won't need any sex, and to have 1-3 kids, you only need to have sex about 10-25 in your life, just like most many mammals. These are only 2 of 100s of similar incidents and amputation papers, so before you get excited about circumcision of your boys, recall the huge risk: lifelong disability making having babies very painful and hard. They created gay culture to have a reason to put circumcision now as a benefit? Youtube got 100s of these rituals. The baby is in horrific pain, crying so loud, that anyone kind would be appalled and want such an act of trauma and genocidal torture of the human quantum field (that breeds wars) to be illegal globally with or without anesthesia. For the uninformed, below are 12 horrifying circumcision videos and some science papers:

1. circumcision pain causes baby to cry a lot, poor baby, 2. baby crying like crazy,

3. video 3 shows that even with anesthesia, the baby is in pain, due to the needle injection as with vaccines but at least it's only for 5 seconds not 2 days (why add more pain if not needed? At least vaccines have a real reason backed by science, this is pseudoscience)

4. video 4 the pain continues for days or weeks at every diaper change, that wound doesn't heal right away, the insanity is much longer as parents can't use anesthetic every diaper change for 2 months, it is this video that shows that even anesthesia procedure has a lot of pain for weeks in many cases thereby destroying the human quantum field and making war more likely. This is grounds for banning it globally if no benefits to total lifespan, health etc exist that outweigh the complications, infections, extra medical procedures, brain damage and immune system destruction from anesthesia chemicals, diaper cries that damage the quantum field of all humans in all solar systems and increase violence and thus lower total species lifespan etc.

Researchers hypothesize the pain of the baby causes autism, due to autism "prevalence of 6.3% in circumcised and 1.5% in uncircumcised", 4 times more autism than the whole boys not tortured in infancy ► GHSP 2017;5(1):15-27. "parents reported pain during the six postcircumcision weeks in 71% of newborn boys, with levels ranging from 'minimal pain' (14%) over 'acceptable pain' (53%) to 'more than acceptable pain' (2%) and 'much more pain' (2%)... pain associated with neonatal circumcision is plausibly more severe and the postoperative pain of longer duration than in older children and adults (with separated foreskin), because the foreskin of most neonates must be forcefully separated from the glans to which it is fused before it can be cut off. This leaves the circumcised infant not only with a painful incision of the foreskin but also with a raw, wounded surface of the glans that is exposed to friction and chemical irritation from urine and feces until healing... boys will suffer from pain due to anesthetic failure... disturbed adaptation to the postnatal environment, interference with normal mother–child bonding and disruption of breastfeeding patterns... more signs of discomfort during routine vaccinations 4–6 months later (which by associations, bring in the baby's mind the fear of that same 3 month pain starting all over as needle from anesthesia is the Pavlov cue to torture the baby with 50 vaccines)" ► JRSM 2015;108(7):266-79. Who cares? Insurance pays for it, paid to torture. Going to breed the strongest soldiers to fight Satan's Eternal War? Why Peace? JCTR 2019;4(2):136-51 explains that kids suffer a lot from anesthesia needle days after birth, from anesthesia failure and the pain and this can cause heavy breathing for months. They found that the more insurance covers circumcision chemical poisoning, the more kids die in infancy suddenly during sleep, possibly due to irregular breathing due to pain, being so exhausted, one can't turn to breathe better. Mothers, following the vibe of rabbis shove their kids to bed in tight clothing and the poor kid can't verbalize his suffering, so he endures silently, feeling abandoned and dies. No women can be rabbis, so the male shoving energy dominates Judaism, Protestantism, Islam, Catholicism (believe without proof, forceful energy: though they got some Mother Mary feminine energy), most TV, officials swear on the Bible quotes. All ☺☺ gentle tender soft healing nurturing universal loving kindness☺☺ is exterminated, eliminated, eradicated, we're asked to "believe unprovables, nobody gently hypothesizes that these may be true or that they don't know for sure if miracles were faked":

5. baby cries again (gentile baby, victim of Jewish terrorism of the USA and the whole planet) 6. Jewish baby (1 min) cries in pain as rabbi handles him without gentleness, typical child abuse (see how many Jews rape one child) by Jews simply search youtube for "Jewish circumcision rabbi sucks blood" etc to find new videos if any of the videos get deleted as people report the child bleeding penis sucking (5 min) abuse by the Bible Religion of 'Demonic' Low IQ Terror 7. Jewish baby cries, note how lacking in grace, gentleness, care and nurturing compassion the procedure is; the infernal rabbis, like demons of global pain/suffering, torture babies as in this video showing their sadistic violence and lack of empathy legalized child abuse... 8. note how many rabbis talk, distract their ant IQ brains from gentleness in motor functions: blood sucking rabbis tortures baby in "religion" ritual (5 min clip) that needs worldwide ban. 82% of Israelis support the Gaza attacks: many Jews, made psychos by the Bible Torah section and circumcision, call for killing all gentile babies in Gaza as in the evil Bible itself. Insane people don't realize they're crazy... circumcision is hypothesized to have made Jesus crazy thru 5 month pain right after birth, so he thought he's God and he acted out his rage at being circumcised and made to suffer by attacking rabbis all the time, calling them devils, then throwing them out of the temple, making up miracles, etc. If the rabbi was silent and meditative music was in the background, it would be more comfortable (with anesthesia especially), since in 100s of videos babies cry often before they're even touched with the instrument, due to the extremely fast, unprofessional and unloving handling by these "clergy" who're strangers and make baby uncomfortable. The 20 pages on the full immersion baptism or water sprinkling baptism show how important it is to make baby comfortable, to leave him held by his mom at all times, her hands around him, as he knows her smell and is uncomfortable around a crowd of church strangers. If people are 'insane' enough to circumcise, it needs anesthesia and also eterni serene lullaby music, not this kind of rushed voice unlike the mommy or daddy lullaby comforting sound. Gently record something softer, more like this. It needs the most loving eterni tone prerecorded, before any vaccine, by law, globally, the most relaxing music (that the parent brings, as baby knows that lullaby song from parents playing it before and he's soothed by it) to diminish quantum field damage during anesthesia needle injection in any procedure, be it vaccine or useless insane circumcision. Love the babies. The handling babies with care during vaccines or etc section has videos/ideas for all MDs. Circumcision is RAPE like the rape of infants by Jewish rabbis, imams, EU/USA priests, more details here to support global ban of Torah, Bible, Quran the 3 "scriptures" invented by the Diabolical Jewish rapists of 3 year olds who needed 900 'marriages'/900 travels in Quran for rape practice. Humans need sue these clergy for 888 trillion.

We also need to discover oral versions of all vaccines that babies drink in a milk bottle they mix it with, since we can't destroy the brains of babies by needle pain, it makes babies autistic, cruel, as studies suggest: pain during infancy that the child doesn't understand the reason for, leads to psychopathy, autism, cruelty, etc up to 90 (due to it being irreversible) times more than it does for grown kids or adults, due to a different brain response, brain that doubles in size after the 8th day of Jewish circumcision or 10th day for some Arabs. If you have a computer and the fundamental architecture is wrong, the core of it, you need replace the whole thing, but if a periphery is defective, replacing that part can fix it. So, when the core is damaged, the core of the brain in the first year of life, then it's different. Thus, with full immersion all crying early baptism and early circumcision, people are deifying torture and creating a less peaceful world. Notice the lack of eterni nurturing empathetic gentle healing tone, which would be appropriate when doing anything painful, even with anesthesia, because the needle is painful. This is odd, to say the least, how can this be perceived as kind? Live and let live, but inform.☺☺

9. Philippines circumcise kids at age 10 without anesthesia: 2 min video. Oddly, they're not even Jewish or Muslim, but at least their immune systems are not destroyed by the wound when the immune system is developing and brain doubles in size, and body not damaged by anesthesia and only the human quantum field is damaged for the first 3 months until it heals. Mohamed was followed by Jewish spies who edited the Hadith, and circumcision is not in the Quran. After Islam became popular, clever Jews may have claimed Mohamed said that you're to circumcise, adding fictional words of Mohamed to made up texts, though Arabs were allegedly already doing it for 1000 years before Islam. My dear Muslims, don't be fooled, the Jews or traditions have tricked you all? At least, Indonesia, Malaysia, etc Muslims do it when they're older kids, which is a lot less pain, brain, body damage. Wait till 12 at least? The Bible is made up, and so was the Quran, wake up gently, this is the age of science, hypothesis formulation and testing. Some nations do it in the 1st month of life, per some online sites. Question & be free, gentle, soft, nurturing, kind, sweet. Research.

10. mass circumcision in Arab country, 1 min of crying sounds 11. shocking video shows how much damage is done, how much skin is taken off, 2 cm for older kids, which leads, as many videos show, tho the aging of the glans as its cover is not there to protect the glans to perform well during procreation (sliding easily is not possible as it became more rough?, liquids, chemicals, etc). 12. video of teens who die after circumcision via infection. Search youtube for more. This is a waste of money and MD resources, the damage done way exceeds the 'benefits'.

☺☺ Science will prove it☺ when USA becomes a democracy with fewer fake science papers.

These pain vibrations contaminate the human quantum field needlessly and make the baby wonder where his mom and dad are to protect him from the rabbi (who may be perceived by some like some ?"blood thirsty"? guy, if they don't understand what goes on), who may practice a ritual invented by a guy 9 millennia ago (who may have not been even Jewish) who craved baby blood and came up with some clever "reason" for it. The mouth bacteria of the decaying old rabbi will attack the immune system of the baby, who has no strong immune system before 7 months, especially first 3 months. This can cause infections, since saliva of a stranger is not as antimicrobial as one's own. Stone Age people saw that when people died blood came out during war, so they thought blood is life and that drinking blood gives them immortal lifespans, but that was a correlation, not a causation. So, today, in the age of science, we know that blood is toxic and drinking it won't allow anyone to live to even 100, let alone to 200 or 1 trillion. Thus, we see here the blood obsession of Jews who (allegedly, per official Roman empire story, if Jesus and disciples were not paid spies, maybe not even Jewish, to role play or the whole story invented) made up Christianity, the blood of Jesus drinking at every Catholic Mass, which is useless. The fake miracles section explains Rome was obsessed with blood sacrifices, due to unknown influences. How odd, lacking in humility, to assume that they know which part of the body is to be discarded upon birth. The penis is not the umbilical cord. The penis has 500 times more nerve endings at the top than the umbilical cord they cut, the cord causes no pain past the cut, while circumcision pain can last 3 years. Not to mention, circumcision makes having children more painful and also, less effective due to premature ejaculation. Circumcision is, in the opinion of billions, a violent crime that mutilates babies while causing so much brain damage (emotional center) via the pain, via neutrophils rushing to the penis not the brain, during the fastest brain growth of our life (brain doubles in size in the first 12 months), using the pretext of genocidal texts that condone genocide of entire nations, violence 100s of times. If God created the body, why trim it? It's mind blowing how many nations legalize such unscientific cruel acts.

The map shows circumcision rate, hover above your nation to see it. If a (for profit?) 'prophet' comes and says "amputate the right leg toe" or finger, to be closer to God, people will believe it, because it is in the "holy scripture". How is circumcision any different? "0 IQ" folks from the stone age made up those "holy" texts and they had no understanding that you can via neuroscience, meditation, etc achieve infinite bliss without sex and there is no need to amputate your penis, as a way to "tempt yourself less". But nobody teaches meditation, only amputation & fake miracles. No clearer suggestive evidence of Jewish control of USA, UK science policy, papers is seen in the 2022 % of circumcision of US 80% (7 mil Jews), Australia 17% (120-250K Jews), Canada 32% (400K Jews), UK 20% (300K Jews), Israel 92% versus <5% in 85+ nations, some living longer than UK on average. Only the EU countries that have high number of Jews and/or Muslims have higher rates (many Christian immigrants from some old outdated churches also circumcise). The so called "evidence" seems caused by the "beliefs of national opinion forming doctors which often happen to be Jewish in USA, etc". No wonder they claimed (fake?) the UK Royals are Jewish, since Queen Victoria (1819-1901) claimed (to be more popular perhaps, since then many believed in the Bible myths, but nobody can prove by DNA that you descend from David) she descends from King David of the "holy" Bible (anyone can claim they descend from world's more famous people, fictional or real Bible Kings). A 2011 paper claims circumcision popularity increased, in part, due to Lewis Sayre (his knee surgery that killed half the patients first few decades, an MD who graduated from a pseudouniversity started by Christian zealots who even today admits 92% of applicants with low SAT scores) promoting it in 1880s. Was Lewis paid by Jews? As Jews came to USA from Russia and Eastern EU in the 1820-1920s so did circumcision increase. Odd. Before 1850 nobody did it, except a few Jews, then it started going up, to about 5% by 1870. "there was an almost 100-fold increase in America's Jewish population from some 3,000 in 1820 to as many as 300,000 in 1880. Between 1881 and 1924... two-and-one-half million East European Jews". This is a 1000 fold increase almost in 100 years: 3000 to 2.8 million. With the Queen embracing it too and others (Jewish MDs?) promoting it in 1860s, 1870s, the US and Canada, UK soon circumcised 10% of newborns in 1880, reaching 85% in USA in 1975. Many Jews live in Western nations with highest circumcision %, though UK, Canada, Australia also reflect the huge # of 1st, 2nd & 3rd generation Muslims, African Catholics and other African Christians who do it due to "tradition".☺☺ Canada total circumcision rate went from 90% in 1950 to 32% today. Australia & New Zealand newborn circumcision rate went from 80% in 1950 to 17% today. The total circumcision rate is > newborn circumcision rate, since older generations did it often as kids. US newborn circumcision % was 58% in 2010 CDC report. The total circumcision rate is lowest in Arizona 16%, Oregon 17%, Nevada-Washington 10% and California 23%. UK medical reason circumcision rate dropped from 35% in 1930 to 7% in 1980. So even US, UK progressed since 1950 because doing it at 10+ is 500 times better for the brain. This drop was due to an MD explaining (BMJ 1949;2(4642):1433-7) how many kids died in the UK after this sadistic procedure, paper which caused NHS to remove free insurance coverage for this act of torture in 1949, with Canada doing removing free coverage in 1980s. UK total circumcision rate declines each year, so lower % are circumcised at any time after birth, 12% for 1980 generation, so in 50 years when many adults die, the UK % may be 9%. Internet brings free ebooks, etc, so all can read and become smarter than the most learned men of former centuries.

Only Muslims (Arabs, etc), Jews, Egyptian Coptics & a few African Christians circumcise in EU nations. Thus, the % of EU nation (except UK) circumcision (scroll down to see list in order of %, data taken from this 2016 paper) reflects roughly how many Muslims (1st, 2nd or 3rd generation immigrants) exist in the EU country usually, since most EU nations have tiny levels of Jews except France 450K. Poland got 0.1% Muslims, so 0.1% circumcision. Any 100% European has intact penis, unless they were adopted and circumcised by Muslim or Jewish "cabbage IQ" parents. I didn't get circumcision, being European. South America is free from this too, thank God. North Korea 0.1%, South 77% (at least they do it at 10-14, instead of during infancy, so it's 500 times less damaging to the brain) due to USA doing it at high rate and South contact with the US Army (run by Jews?). The Army wants soldiers who experience no pain and will be brutal, insensitive, mean and resilient as satan himself, so they don't care about pain, the more the better, hence they torture the hell out of all cops and spies, soldiers to create the DNA of Lucifer himself, and destroy all kindness. The smell of the underwear is 3% lower after 2 days of combat possibly with semi-castration of the circumcision, so it saves 30$ out of the 4 trillion budget too, less laundry done, wait maybe 40 days now to take a shower. USA brought to Korea Protestant fake miracles clergy (they are role playing, the clergy don't even believe in the mythology), though Gospel says no circumcision is needed. Protestantism was also a new way for Jews, disguised as Protestant pastors, to Judaize new denominations, to remove European Christianity influence, incite fights among Europeans for easy domination, and preach Judaism disguised as the Jesus myth. South Korea is increasing its IQ, so circumcision rate went down from 92% in 2002 to 77% today. 58% US new borns and 80% of those 14-59 were circumcised in 2021, so US is decreasing its IQ, the rate having gone up from 48% in 1990 to 80% in 2021. Kudos to USSR, one thing they got right is religion has no place in science papers. USSR got nicer more eterni music than these mass or individual Jewish circumcision noisy religious videos where tons of strangers intrude on the space of the baby, raising his anxiety as he's away from mom, with little respect for the trillion year old Immortal Soul, they handle the baby like a cattle sometimes, no reverence and grace, just shoving and insensitive handling, reflective of the Old Testament quotes, bad tone of speech, not the one in the presence of God, recall kids are meant to be from God and how do they talk? The gentle grace is gone. We got lots of nations living longer than circumcised nations and centenarians too who never did it.☺☺ People didn't know, that pleasure is in the brain, so they promoted it, not knowing meditation can achieve bliss without nutrient drainage. Circumcision is an important topic, since everything affects World Peace, sports too. Let gentle loving kindness rule, not pain. Instead of having MDs spend time with arterial plaque monitoring since age 1, as that kills most people worldwide, we waste copious amounts of resources on this without any real evidence long-term it does more good than the "drop in transmission of herpes for gay sex, so Jewish US military gays can have more sex?" It's now possibly more of an extermination strategy,☺☺ it's facilitating population control by making being gay (fewer kids) easier than ever, fertility lower. BMJ reports "Country prohibition of corporal punishment is associated with less youth violence (69% less for males, 42% females)". 65 nations physical punishment, due to brain damage, as Harvard reports. Isn't it time that we ban circumcision, a form of corporal punishment for not being able to make a choice as an infant, which leads to so much pain after the fact, diapers, etc? It's the same violence that leads to violence later in life. Neuroscience proves it. Can we be kind? It doesn't matter where it is illegal so much, but where the law is applied and enforced, where the anger is prevented by peaceful mp3 playing 24-7 in living room, etc to prevent spanking.

14.3. The miracle of knowledge to simulate or perform telepathy, etc 'miracles'

The paragraph above is worth reading, as it explains the virtue of knowledge. Just as we got all sorts of miracles in many religions, ultimately, we have a lot of small individual miracles happening daily in people's lives when spirits give someone precognitive information and they avert a negative outcome seen in the dream by changing course at the exact moment when the dream goes bad, they take left lane, not right as in the dream for example, etc. We also have telepathy (the transmission of UNDERSTANDING & knowledge) of spirits going on for generations among scientists enabling us to make the discoveries that enable us to extend the lifespan of worms 10 times, or to cure diseases (Jesus said to cure the sick, and that people will do what he did and much more (John 14:12); that blind will see, deaf will hear, lame will walk, and today thru gene therapy and stem cells and other ways we see how paralyzed people can walk, how blind can see, semi-deaf can hear thru cochlear implants and mice thru stem cells (human clinical trials going on too showing hearing improvement), all thru the miracle of telepathy applied over and over, leading to the discovery of universal laws, the discovery of true knowledge that enables us then to repeat a miracle 1 billion times and give 1 billion people a longer lifespan, or 8 billion people a 500 year lifespan. Every day, thousands of small discoveries happen that expand human knowledge and they're true miracles, as they enable us to do what former centuries would view as a real miracle. We will probably travel to many planets in the next centuries, terraform some planets or colonize them if inhabitable, one far century even live 8,000 years maybe, do things not written in any scripture. These big miracles are compounded thru the small daily miracles of discovery in sciences, be them sciences of this dimension or others in the future. It's funny how we sometimes spend time thinking about past miracles (a miracle is something for which there is no known explanation, just as the miracles of science curing the paralyzed, deaf, blind, etc today would be thought of as miracles in former centuries as there would be no explanation for them), yet forget the amazing miracles happening daily thru these scientific discoveries, enabling instant communication by video, etc, that was not even described in any scripture. Perhaps we could say that one of the greatest miracles is the eternal expansion of knowledge and understanding which enables us to do more miracles, "What I have done you will also do and much more" John 14:12, all the miracles Jesus did we will also do, and science does some today and many more will be done in the future, like ascending to other Universes thru wormholes, living without aging for many millennia, etc. If God wants us to bring Heaven on Earth, one way that might happen is thru the eternal expansion of knowledge about such transformation of our condition, from today to a future world of peace, harmony and perhaps 90,000 year lifespan in multiple dimensions and star systems (even trees live to 80,000 in Utah, are humans the pinnacle of creation? as we're now?). So, it's possible in the future religions will give sainthood or call sages (if they don't have formal canonization) people who have given us the miracle of knowledge, of scientific discovery, thru selfless research, so as to enable all to live to 90,000 and to understand the nearby first 50 dimensions, which may not be part of what is termed as "heaven" even. Extending the lifespan of worms 10 times and curing diseases are true marvels of knowledge applied, knowledge about the universe God created. Some think of water into wine trick as a miracle, but when we have chemical demonstrations where colorless acidic or basic solutions become yellow, blue, red or purple when a drop of colorless acidity indicator is mixed in, we don't see it as a miracle. ☺☺

It's funny how some think a 'saint reading one's mind at confession' is a miracle (lots of such stories exist that people never question as being made up or having a science of synthetic telepathy explanation), when it could be just the 'saint' priest being remotely controlled to say that the spy friend of the priest inserted as a 'sinful thought' into the brain of the person going to Catholic confession; so you see, spies who know everything about a person (can thus inform a priest who fakes his mind reading) and spies know what thoughts they insert into a victim's brain, can do the same with the priest (without priest even knowing) to appear as if a miracle is taking place and manipulate the church goer, priest or both into believing fake stuff or join a spy agency that controls that church. So it's good to watch thought formation and develop eterni tone of speech, singing and alertness, so as to not be so easily manipulated by gadgets of military and spy agencies who write your emotions, thoughts, images, inner sounds, even easier while sleep deprived or hungry, etc – so you know which sensations, body or brain, thoughts, emotions are yours and which are from gadgets, which are from who, perhaps trace to origin the user of the gadget, his bosses and read his mind and intent that is not explicitely stated or intentionally hidden in the crap they write into your brain via silent sound. So, it's not a miracle, just less known neuroscience. We can say that the two miracles are very similar: knowledge applied, one knowledge is known, another is unknown (as of today), but it's sort of mind-blowing miracle too, striking to our senses. The miracle of ever-expanding hypothesis thinking, of understanding and knowledge seems so transforming, as it enables us to grant its applications to all people (if you think of all technology today and its ability to help humans live better, cure diseases, etc, they're applications of the miracle of hypothesis thinking, hypothesis testing, inquiry, understanding) and perform this miracle at will (every time we use a phone or any tech we apply the miracle of knowledge, we perform a miracle so to speak). The same understanding miracles will probably enable us to live 5,000 years, teleport, visit other planets, shapeshift, materialize things, thru mind controlled picobots or some other unknown method. ☺☺☺ One of the greatest recent miracles to a molecular biologist perhaps is how diseases disappear by CRISPR-Cas9 gene turning on and off (even without changing the inherited genome at all). For example people with hemophilia have to inject themselves with some chemical every other day to prevent dying, but with this gene therapy they might only need one lifetime treatment, and remove the stress of injections and of the anxiety that comes if something goes wrong. The amount of suffering of parents having say 7 kids out of which 5 died of infectious disease in the past was great, but today thru science we got infant mortality decrease 50 times in some areas. There are so many examples of how science has performed healing miracles, saving millions of lives. Miracles and their stories have a way of bringing hope and joy☺☺☺ and a desire to continue discoveries, the science miracles of healing. The ancient stories of some bigger miracles are inspiring science fiction, scientific discoveries of the future related to wormholes and dimensions and translating from one universe into another as it would be in an ascension.

It's a miracle we can now fly to other countries in hours, talk to them in real time via video, to ancient men at least it would be a miracle. It makes sense to canonize the people who further human knowledge too, the human suffering diminishing, not just people who were selfless in action (like say helping the homeless, etc), but helping the homeless humankind, who're all homeless and without shelter, unable to live in an environment, or shelter enabling them to make it to 200, 900 or 9,000, it's a different form of "taking care of the homeless". Without knowledge we're all homeless so to speak, and we die at 80 or so, having not found our place in the universe, our home, the Home of Eternal Knowledge and Wisdom, the Home of True Knowledge and Grace, the Home of Understanding, Hypothesis Thinking, the Home of Infinite intelligence and Information. Wandering without a home, without a body that we can call home for 9,000 years, seeking knowledge, we will perhaps one day return home in the Realm of True Insight and Knowledge, replacing our less aware state today. Subatomically, we have these very mind-blowing miracle like things going on, like the mind-blowing chemical experiments they do in school, but slightly different; these things hold up the atoms, nuclei together, the dimensions nearby and it's a miracle that happens every trillionth of a second in any location, quite cute to watch, it's like chemical experiments “on steroids”, 24-7 everywhere universal miracles. ☺☺☺

In the past, humans did not have knowledge of science to enable them to do miraculous healings via science, so it makes sense for spirits to perhaps create more of these miracles in certain circumstances when understanding and knowledge are not very developed in a civilization. Today there is an abundance of scientific miracles, so spirits may not need as many miracles. Many miracles happen, daily, probably, but it is impossible for a person to know what happens around 8 billion people, so it might seem like it doesn't happen much in the old traditional sense. Some skeptics (who don't believe in spirits or God) will say spirits were not involved in all or any scientific discoveries and the scientists discovered the laws of the universe by tuning into the universe, and that's fine, everyone is free to believe in any hypothesis they want. It's still a miraculous healing that thru science some amazing things can happen, healings, etc. Vitamin C cures scurvy, D cures rickets and high mortality, B_3 prevents pellagra. The vitamin discoverers performed true miracles for humanity, alleviating the suffering of millions. So amazing is the miracle of UNDERSTANDING and Knowledge.☺☺☺

Fred Kummerow worked for 50 years to ban transfats and in 2015 FDA (food regulatory agency in the USA) finally banned them. By his tireless saintly work, working in his university lab at age 100 (he died at 102), he has added lifespan weeks, months or years (depending on how much trans fat is eaten) to millions of Americans of the future, equivalent perhaps to saving the lives of 500 teenagers (500 times 70 years of life). If a saint had the miraculous ability to save the lives of 500 people by healing or resurrect 500 people if they're young or thousands of older (we hear some saints resurrected many people as today medicine does thru resuscitation sort of), he would be canonized and his autobiography studied as people study in temples, churches, etc the biographies of saints. The discoverers of vitamins have saved millions from scurvy, pellagra, rickets and many vitamin deficiency diseases, these were humble people who fought to free humanity from suffering and gave humanity healing. The "saints" who extended worm lifespan are the scientists whose amazing work could be known and studied in many religions in the future. Tesla's 700 inventions, some of which are present in all buildings, have sped up progress in medicine enabling others to cure diseases, to cure hundreds of millions of people who would have otherwise died young due to infectious diseases or whatever. If you add their contribution to healing miracles (i.e. miracle by previous centuries, but normal today), it equals that of many saints. Ironically, it seems (we can't know if all thousands of saints were having these and not saying it with 100% certainty of course) like Nikola Tesla (a Christian) had more paranormal things happen to him, and far more telepathy visually than many Christian saints. Nikola Tesla, one of the greatest telepaths in history, was said (true or fake?) to have gone on imaginary trips (or what some would call astral travels) to new cities, countries, places as a teenager, and meet real people, as real as those in the physical world and these people became very close to him. Later on, he would see perfectly in his mind his inventions (true psi or ESP), which power the whole planet now, and also flashes of light of different types when a promising idea or invention would come into his awareness, which happens to many people today who get feedback from spirit guides when they think of something.☺☺☺ He also became vegetarian and preached it to others, saying it is damaging to our morals to mistreat animals, kill them and eat meat. He was probably one of the most psychic of all inventors, if the stories about him are true. He got 700 patents and believed that one day science will enable humanity to live on cosmic energy without eating. The flashing of lights was very colorful, greens, gold, silver, etc. His stuff was similar to the vegetarian Ramanuja math genius, whose subconcious mind presented math formulas in the dream with a Goddess imagery he could accept. Like Von Neumann got instant answers to math.

Tesla reportedly saw remote people and things before going to bed (kind of remote viewing). He was very sensitive to sound too, reportedly hearing flames from a neighbor and saving them from the fire. He was said to have heard the sound of thunder a distance almost 4 times larger than his buddy did and the tick tack of a clock from 3 rooms away, a fly landing on a table would sound like an explosion in his ears, possible due to not only visual constant seeing in the astral world, but also constant hearing in the astral world or some near-by copy etheric one too ("real time zone", which is often thought of as not proper astral). If a train passed many miles away, it would cause his whole body to shake. A train whistle 20 miles away would allegedly make him feel as if shaking on his chair and would hurt so badly he could not stand it. If other people harmed his relatives or friends, he would feel pain. One time he got a premonition of something bad and asked some friends to stay the night and not use a train, which later flipped and killed several people, in a true telepathy precognition, actually more of these types of accounts exist in the Tesla literature. His telepathy was very advanced even if he may not have realized it as much as the parapsychologists who today hypothesize on these phenomena and write books about it. ☺☺ Interestingly, he was very sensitive to bright lights and to changes in light amount, like when going under a bridge (the shadow creates a sudden 3 second time span where the amount of light drops suddenly) he would feel strange or sick. He was sleeping an hour or two only usually, but once a few months he would sleep 4-5 hours. He also invented what became known as the Tesla Violet Ray, the one Edgar Cayce recommended in 900 of his readings. He knew 8 other languages (Serb, Croatian, Czech, English, French, German, Hungarian, Italian, Latin) speaking 6 of them fluently, like a hyperpolyglot. That is why it would make perfect sense in the future, as "Immortality quality emulation" or Longevity catch on, for the religions to canonize scientists who selflessly propelled humanity forward, so that the discovery of the electron, atom model, proton, neutron are studied in the biography of Rutherford (electron, neutron discovering) and others and the scientists become more eager to study the paranormal miracles and there is a faster unification of science and spirituality, enabling a faster discovery of truth and inter-dimensional physics laws, and teleportation, wormholes, ascension, translation between universes, etc. It would also make every believer in different religions more willing to embrace hypothesis thinking and acceptance of the infinite complexity of life and afterlife, leading to an easier time to reach World Peace and (scientific and spiritual) ability to bring Heaven on Earth, ☺☺☺ to build a New Earth, a new planet from asteroids, a new Earth in another dimension, to do different things that people often believe in, but could be done without a sudden intervention, rather be done slowly thru understanding and science. Tesla died broke, he had no affairs, celibate all his life, contributed so much, yet he's no saint.

Discovering knowledge about miracle creation is arguably even more valuable than doing a miracle, so thru this shift it would be possible to make hypothesis thinking, invoke Richard Feynman to telepathize and pray for us, Albert Einstein and Ernst Rutherford pray for us and give us quantum electrodynamics ideas via telepathy so we can discover how to eradicate diseases and war and live to 900, we listen via telepathy and conscious breathing, etc. The temperament, personality, values of many scientists are exactly like those of many former saints who did many miracles. They're the gentle soft-spoken intellectual people who take humanity forward towards the Eternal Sunshine of Iridescent Knowledge and Magnificent Understanding, Splendid Hypothesis Thinking and Perennial Questioning of everything. Galileo Galilei himself might become a saint, and be formally canonized for taking humankind towards Hypothesis Thinking and Testing Hypotheses, not just believing in them.☺☺☺ Exactly as some people can't understand some advanced differential equations calculus or physics, some people can't understand how God can exist or something else (insert belief here), and naturally, that doesn't mean they can't be saints in every other way, except for the belief in God being more agnostic maybe. Every saint had faults, and yet the faults were overlooked. So, this brings the possibility of canonizing people who were scientists but were agnostic or even atheist, since the gist of saintly behavior may be related to behavior, contribution to healing miracles thru science (a physics invention speeds up progress in medicine and biochemistry often, leading to more diseases cured, miracles of healing) more than to professed or actual beliefs. It's often hard to know if some scientists said they were agnostic or atheist to appear scientific and not be ridiculed by the more agnostic or atheist peers. The divine ecstasy experiences ☺☺☺ might become common as TV teaches them, and we shift focus from without to within, from talking to God/spirits to Listening to God/spirits, from open eyes/mouth to closed/mouth eyes, from noisy ultra loud music to soft very soothing calming music, from traffic noise filled services to soundproof silence filled services. To us, a supernova explosion seems very random, but if we were to see the big picture of 400 dimensions causing it, it might seem like super-orderly.

14.4. Immortalists test hypotheses to find truths, they got no creed, beliefs: their 'churches' are online and have no donations, unlike the wolves today

(preying on gullible sheep and using 'clergy cover' to loot, lower IQ of nations, enslave nations)?

Immortalists believe in eternal (via Eterni Food Inc, see 5 pages on immortalist food & God) happiness, in creating happiness via altruism and science. Immortalists reject the doom and gloom, "maya, illusion, suffering, world is Satan's creation" of Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism used by aristocratic religion inventors to get the slaves' guilt, shame and belief rise to such high levels, that the slaves consider it normal to suffer, to be abused, tortured, sleep deprived, malnourished and subjugated. On the contrary, in stark opposition to the aristocrat started religions, the immortalists hypothesize that the world is a place of happiness when we use the brain to think, instead of repetitively engage in brain numbing mechanical prayers and rituals that make us gullible slaves easy to slaughter by fruit fly filif IQ conmen aristocrats. The world is a world of happiness when we discover the Knowledge of Immortality, of deactivating the aging that causes pain, the knowledge of the pain receptors that cause abnormal signaling in some brains or nerves, the knowledge of slowing aging (and all the suffering that comes with chronic diseases born of molecular cellular damage accumulation), the knowledge of happiness via simple breathing, serene music, etc. Pain and suffering are born of ideology or molecular dynamics ignorance, not eternal absolute realities as in Maya Illusion view of Hinduism or suffering in Buddhism, or "evil" in Christian nonsense about "Satan created this universe, Satan rules the Earth, God rules the heavens". The Bliss of Immortalists (the 2nd most important quality of God, after Immortality, the central quality of God) is fueling science progress, so much so that immortalists living in noisier cities may even love to create 3 very soft barely audible (only audible without earphones, so nobody's meditative mp3s are disturbed) calls/hour, in eterni tone, in the nosier public places (trains, public transport, streets, etc) of rather noisy cities, to help them counter the biological entropy of the chaotic sound, to remind them of connecting with the Bliss of Eternal Immortality (God) via conscious breathing, to listen to their mp3 to immortalist songs and tones. Immortalists believe in Bliss, Joy, Happiness, Ecstasy as some of the top central qualities (besides gentle tender soft nurturing graceful healing universal loving kindness) that sustain Eternal Immortality for All, via facilitating 0 anger, thus 0 crime, 0 war forever. Happy people don't get angry, don't commit any crime. Crime starts with anger. The 2nd most central quality of God, after Immortality, is Bliss, and we see Bliss is what humans struggle with the most, since, after Immortality (no aging), it is the hardest to attain every second. God is the impossible, so whatever is hardest to achieve, is God's most central quality that sets God apart from humans. God is the Ever Existing Bliss of Eternal Immortality that you recall, connect to instantly without words and become the Ocean of Bliss that brings Eternal Universal Peace.

In many scriptures no mention exists on hypothesis formulation and testing to discover how to live to a trillion, a nice guided meditation "Breathe in the Light of The Most Magnificent Ecstatic Iridescent Light of Eternally Blissful Immortality, God, and breathe it out to envelop all humans, so as to enter the cosmic bliss state as one Family of Immortals☺☺☺, the human family". In the immortalist society, all become so happy, nobody wants to steal, be cruel, punish anyone, yell, shout or do anything wrong, since they enjoy God's Infinite Bliss, since all greed is gone, since all have equal pay. God is everywhere, in the air, we can breathe God's Infinite Ecstatic Love any time, a love infinitely greater than that of all humans combined. God or Eternal Immortality Knowledge is Electrifying Grace, electrifying Bliss☺☺☺ that transforms all fear and everyone around us, by brain to brain entrainment, so there is no need of all these paranoid protection words that people said in the 100s of prayers (the said entities are hallucinations of old models of reality anyway). Immortalism is about evolving past fear, past language, this 'breathing prayer' is very translinguistic, you become one with the collective intelligence of the entire species and much more, which is 8 billion times more intelligent, amazing & beautiful ☺☺☺, powerful than any human invented entity or threat. When one with God, nothing can oppose you, you're Infinite Bliss, being One with God's Love is the Protection: experience God, don't talk such long prayers in your head, breathe God more often, experience nirvana often, become one with God's Bliss and Knowledge of Immortality for All, which is non-verbal, subatomic, all transforming. We can evolve, teach everyone from age 1 day the Eternal Bliss of God via breathing the Light and Knowledge of Eternal Immortality our descendants have attained. As mentioned above, many immortalists can even choose, in their own city or whatever, to happily have the thrice hourly call of 10 seconds (super soft, barely audible, part of a soothing background music that is used to hide the noise of the city) to happy breathing communion with the Ever Existing Bliss of Eternally Immortal God or Infinite Immortality (for atheists) and the Eternal Ecstasy of loving all humans, giving Immortality to All and surrounding them in God's (Infinite Immortality's) Ever Happy Immortality giving Light in the train intercom, streets, shops, etc, so people can practice it, then voice stops and meditative instrumental music plays for 20 minutes, so people reach ever higher nirvana states: all addiction to alcohol, smoking, erotica, etc disappears, as they develop a happy brain, never violent. 0 crime means no wars. All crime comes from anger: happy people never engage in violence or crime. To achieve the Grace of Eternal Universal Peace, we need to recall God's Central Quality: Eternal Immortality and God's Bliss, Eternal Infinite Bliss.☺☺☺ This creates a new collective brain field of all humans united in one ecstatic dance of breathing, having a billion times kinder intentions of Immortality for All.

Who needs churches when a million are homeless and we already have endless spaces (Univ lecture halls) where people can gather for "service", including the 1 million Immortality labs or the future Immortality free biomarker monitoring and meditative bliss "weed-alcohol-smoking-violent music" deaddiction centers? Isn't it more ethical to use the City Immortality Centers (that besides free gathering halls, also provide free universal healthcare biomarker monitoring to prevent disease 30 years before it emerges, instead of this fake healthcare today that only treats after catastrophe happened) for 150 services than to have 50 buildings (sitting empty most of the time) with 3 services each? All those who want to gather get free rent, no donations allowed for ethics, religion, anything as none can be proven by physics anyway☺☺☺, and because there is one universal pay, none can make money outside that as no cash exists, life is about living to a million not making money. Today, all insane frauds produce ultimate garbage (1 million religions (scripture that incite folks to violence)/movies (instigation to murder)/music (incitation to mass rape and genocide) clips/year) to make money by deceiving, robbing others and spiking violent crime rates covertly 1 billion fold. Look at these bandits becoming m(b)illionaires using religion when Jesus said all rich go to hell in Mk 10:25, since gigatheft causes genocide. Look at the bandits becoming m(b)illionaires by creating the most violent music/movies. By immortalist standards 99.9% of music worldwide is violent and needs be replaced by civil one. To achieve a trillion times lower violent crime, which the "cow IQ" religions failed last 50 millennia, we need a music a trillion times less violent, menaing 99.9% at least needs to be banned. ☺☺☺☺☺☺☺

There is 1 physics not 8,000, 1 chemistry not 8,000. ☺ Likewise, there is only 1 interdimensional physics of the soul, not 8,000 religions? As humans grow up, a world 'religion' or ethics will probably emerge, besides one world eterni (see advantages) language. Immortalism is slightly similar to 100s of religions that existed, well before Chrsitianity, who also believed in reaching Immortality (Egypt has similar resurrection cults), but with one big difference: this Immortality won't be attained instantly at death, but over billions of years via scientific innovation, in a verifiable way, meaning we will live to a billion years and thus have real proof of "billion year lifespan" type of Immortality instead of a wishful thinking. So immortalism is sort of like a religion, but actually more like science. It's a philosphy that shuns the begging ideals of Buddhism and the desire to "not reincarnate in this world of suffering", because it recognizes suffering exists only due to the low IQ people, and due to fast aging causing physical suffering of aging. It also recognized reincarnation may not be a fact, as many believe or wish to believe, but doesn't argue about it, since it can't prove. Immortalism only asserts that which is clearly proven and you can't prove the existence of soul or reincarnation as of today: all those fake stories of reincarnation cases have very simple alternate explanations, fraud, etc. If we're trained to be happy and live 50 times longer like a honey bee is via a different diet, all diseases of aging get postponed by 3 millennia and we're happy ever after and the world isn't "suffering" as Buddha brainwashed us to believe: Buddha was too "low in IQ" like all in those times, to realize that with tech, you can postpone all aging suffering by billions of years. ☺☺☺

The world is wonderful when aristocrats (like Buddha was) don't create endless wars and epidemics to kill endless people and steal their money and subjugate them. There is no suffering, nor rituals needed to appease the Tibetan Wrathful Deities of the Cave Men mentality. We simply work forever to expand human lifespan and prove the Fraudulent military spies of Rome who invented Christianity by staged miracles, the fraudulent Buddha Aristocrat who invented Buddhism wrong: you know chemistry was all abracadabra in the 1st century and so was "ethics and religion", everything changes and evolves as humans become more educated and more intelligent. The human progress depends on longer lifespan, so people can expand to other galaxies, travel there in one lifespan, so we simply aim for that world of longer lifespan, which even at 1 trillion years old, is still mortal. Immortality is harder to attain, as explained below, as you need to outlast universes which are temporary too, so you need to be able to shapeshift and be able to live in impossible environments that connect dying to new universes.

For more nuance regarding the existing clergy, please read the 5 page fake protests section.

Fraudsters☺☺☺ sell "spiritual invisible" unverifiable Immortality of religions, such as Christian  C 15:44;51-4  talk of the physical bodies being raised instantly at rapture, "when Jesus comes back" into "spiritual immortal bodies": "For our dying bodies must be transformed into bodies that will never die; our mortal bodies must be transformed into Immortal bodies". This removes any incentive to develop technology, to live longer, to develop science and reach physical immortality, it's a perfect religion to keep people incredibly stupid, complacent and easy to dupe by aristocrats or even aliens. Don't do anything, don't discover anything, Jesus will give it to you, die at 80 please. What a satanic deception. For 2 millennia frauds claimed rapture is coming, sell all your belongings, get ready and then nothing happened, no rapture and the cult still continues today, with more of this every year, these words of Paul are not even from Jesus. This religion is a fraud based on the Biggest Lie, they even make people believe, via John 14:6, only with Jesus they can attain Immortality, only with the Imperial Fraud Religion you can attain it, so give all cash to the Vatican vipers. You see, the aim is not to help anyone live longer better life, but to annex more territories by having "low IQ" naive folks change religion and allegiance and pay cash to your empire, instead of another empire. Honest people, with scientific integrity and actually the most basic form of human character, are very different than the charlatans of today we normally call clergy. Honest people, with an infinitesimally small amount of ethics, virtue or character, humbly hypothesize that we can't LIE to the masses and tell them "when you die you attain instant Immortality for which we have zero proof", for to lie is to be a scumbag, a low life pervert who wants to take 10% of others income by selling snake oil, false promises, so you live like a parasitic leech, doing nothing, keeping humanity backward, stopping centralization of the 11 companies that brings 100 times more innovation, 100 times less suffering due to biochemical aging and gene expression (not due to Buddha's "noble truth: the world is full of suffering", which is a lie and a pervert way to brainwash slaves to accept being abused by aristocratic families, like Buddha royal one, which can be "suffering" when slaves work 78 hours/week and then are sent as cannon fodder in wars: get used to it, just submit to the New Kings/Spies using the Buddhism religion, to take over your nations, for all will be good, suffering will stop when you die, so die for us, only Nirvana is the way, don't ever try develop your science, do the ritual, "you stupid" Buddhists, Christians, Muslims, Hindus, for science will make you think and then we can't fool and extort you anymore). The world can become a happy place, where all are happy on their own, via conscious breathing or serene music, without the need to pay 10% of your income to Jesus, Mohamed, Buddha, Krishna, gurus or to donate to fraudulent thieves, conmen posing as imams who spread the religion of genocide, rape, war. The world will be such a happy place where people fix issues instead of "accepting the world as it is because God, Buddha or Satan designed it that way". The clergy want us to say "the world is suffering, Buddha was right, the world is ruled by Satan per the Bible, the Jesus cult scribes inventing this "fruit fly IQ level" concept were right, just live with it, accept it, don't do anything to reduce aging speed, to cure diseases, stop natural disasters, wars, dishonesty, fraud by clergy selling snake oil to enrich themselves*, just give us donations and obey us, we know it all,* don't think for yourself, just do the ritual, obey" and we'll build mansions and be the wealthiest church in the world (they all compete for who can steal more money from the gullible masses, Catholics are # 1 for Christian cultists). Don't try to live to 400 or 1 trillion, because Jesus, Buddha, Mohamed, Krishna frauds will give you instant Immortality when you die, just eat, do some nematode worm IQ rituals and be merry, for the clergy will steal your intelligent people to run admin of church jobs, and turn your nation into one of low IQ bipedal chimps via the kind glory of scorpion IQ religion. Don't do anything, especially, don't try to end of religious brainwashing in religious schools, universities of turning humans into bipedal sloths and pigs, feeding like pigs from troughs in restaurants with chicken IQ music, about Christmas and Jesus, instead of intelligent free citizens who know that to discover the truth you actually need to live long and to design a custom diet where each of the 50000 chemicals in it is in a precise mcg amount for each person's DNA, health issues, blood, type, not eat toxic gluten in bread like Jesus the chimp said in his "prayer", poor fictional Jesus, with all scriptures backdated and evidence forged to make it appear as real events, like FBI creates 1 million fakes books today on any topic.

My friends, hold on to your seats☺☺☺, the rocket is about to lift off humanity from the Age of Eternal War and Stupidity, for before you run an airplane or a rocket, you undergo extensive training in a module that is on the ground, on Earth and simulates the rocket and what you will do in there, etc. Before you go in wars to actually kill enemies, etc or even to kill carnivore wildlife or whatever, you train. Wouldn't it be logical that before you're left alone to your own devices to be an Immortal in some "heaven" to maintain Immortality in a super complex world using a physics far more complex, to run your own civilization of Immortals in another form or universe, you would get to practice it in a simulated environment such as our universe? For example, soldiers create copies of an area, urban or rural, and practice combat before the real world attack. The world we live in could be the a place to learn to be Immortal by practicing building Immortality by a long trillion year process of learning to live to a trillion years old that proves to all this was attained for all, to prevent cheating, meaning Immortality for All. Let's say this is the only world out there, and we simply become Immortal by upgrading our bodies to live on various particles and systems of subatomic machinery (we are not molecular machines, but subatomic machines, molecules are simply things we see well today, but science will see smaller stuff) that enables us to translate from dying to new universes via black holes or other wormholes, etc. Just like today, we go from one city to another, via a road, we move from a dying collapsing city due to a flood to another city on higher ground, so we move from this dying universe to another. It's still the same world, so don't make it too complex, because even with a trillion "parallel universes", it's still one world, some hide within it or our senses can't see them.

You have the human right to kindly ask a question: did the rich simply invent religions to steal everyone's money? I don't give you a premade answer, just think for yourself. In my view, the Mormon church is nothing by a fraud to steal 10% of everyone's income and turn everyone into their mind controlled slave, whom they control like sheep led to the slaughter at 80-90 years old. So are all other religious establishments, though few are as greedy as the Mormons with 10% requirement. To think our taxes go to support these thieves is beyond comprehension, for all they promote is the Bible, the rape, slavery quotes, the cannibalism quotes of their Book of Mormon. These churches are like fraudulent parasitic states within states whose main outcome is creating a population of ultra low IQ slaves, easy to dupe by any foreign intelligence agency, easy targets for cunning predators. They destroy any nation where they take root, because a nation of naive low IQ fools is 1000 times easier to conquer. That's why Buddha and others created religions, to subdue other kingdoms with nice sounding stuff. Mormons are like the Old Italian Mafia, they continue promoting the Genocide, Rape, Slavery Quotes of the Bible as if they're the Word of God and the Supreme Ethical Way of Living, with an infernal audacity and subterfuge, hiding in plain sight, their diabolical nature, behind the more benign 0.01% of quotes out there to dupe the masses that this is "not another scam of genocide and mass looting and subjugation of nations as all prior religions bored aristocrats invented to justify mega theft".

Why do we need this difference between instant unproven Immortality (blind belief) and gradual provable increasing longevity that becomes Immortality (when we get to live to a billion) from our point of view of 80 year old folks? Because the instant Immortality is a FRAUD created by aristocrats in order to demand 10% of your income to the Clergy Aristocratic Class that Ran Civilizations and Posed themselves as the Phony Leaders of a Church, keeping people ignorant via useless rituals and stealing the fruits of their labor, enslaving continents. The way this religion is designed is extremely clever: you must always follow the rules, or you go to hell, be ready, one day you will be shapeshifted into an invisible to humans spirit, and get your ticket to eternal partying with Jesus in heaven. Maximum anxiety, follow diligently the way of Jesus of blowing yourself up, giving your life up like Jesus faked it, in order to expand the wealth, riches and comforts of the Ruling Religion Creating Class, who invents ever fresh cults to keep people oebedient and efficient in their slavery to the royal family of Buddha, or Roman Empire or the Mohamed Line. It's not hard to figure out these bastards never aimed for peace, since their religion was adopted widely and promoted poverty, so that all money is kept by the Vatican Ruling Class and everyone else is a serf, a slave of the Roman Aristocracy. Their religions never preached the end of aristocrats, the end of war, or violent crime within years. It was all a fraud to enable them to get rich and con everyone else. They still kept killing millions after the Romans adopted the 'religion' of "genocide, mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, alcohol, kid beating, slave beating" in 325. It's comical how they brainwash the whole planet these these quotes are God.

Unlike the fraudulent religions of today, the immortalists' or eternians' creed or philosophy would be something more down to Earth, more physical (aware "spirit worlds" are as "physical as ours") like, "We believe in having no beliefs, but in testing every hypothesis to find out which one is true and which one is false. Thus, one hypothesis we will test in the next billion trillion years is that science can enable all workers of the world to live to a trillion years old, by ending the Reign of Million Year Subjugation of the Workers via Religion and Fraudulent "capitalism" of mass extortion via genocide. We hypothesize that centralization via efficiency that brings 100 times more innovation, will enable the gradual, over billions of years, science based transformation of the present physical body into an energy-physical hybrid body that others see as beautiful☺☺ telepathic radiant teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals, body able to morph into trillions of lifeforms living on various planets, inside stars, blackholes and universes, via the shapeshifting of the essential universal energy body into the appearance body or what we call "visible lifeform", so as to physically outlive trillions of universes and live forever, not in this world only, but in many worlds. Immortalists don't believe in anything without proof, we test hypothesses to find out what works, what is truth, so the science of 10^{500} year shapeshifter lifespan advances.☺☺☺ We don't believe in nonsense like "Jesus comes back and in 1 second, the mortal physical body vanishes and becomes some invisible spiritual body". We don't believe in Jesus being anything else except a fiction, regular rabbi or Italian spy (pretending to be Jewish) bribed by Roman Empire soldiers. Science progress is slow and no God wants "fruit fly IQ folks" to join God in heaven, God wants to teach us how to fish, not give them fish, how to become Immortal via science developed over eons, not to give us Immortality. Why, religionists would ask*? Simple, for the same reason you* wouldn't enjoy the companion of grains of sand in heaven: present humans are of a stupidity so infinite, that to God, they're like inert rocks. OK, let's say you're God sitting on a throne, as "bacteria IQ" religionists say, and you try to talk to people, who're living 1 quadrillionth of a second. By the time you say 1 word, quandrillions of generations of people died. How can they understand your commandments, if it takes them quadrillions of generations to even hear 1 of God's Words? Do these femtosecond lived humans comprehend that they can't even begin to understand 1 quadrillionth of a word of God? So, how can God in heaven give a command to his "disciples", whose intellect is that of a femtosecond being? They can't understand it, they're overwhelmed by any of God's teachings and explanations about the Universe. When Moses claims he gave 10 commandments, he's hallucinating, because God's simplest word takes 10 to the power of a trillion a trillion times books to write. If you're in the divine throne room, would you love to hang out with fruit flies, trillions of them, or bacteria and talk to them all day?

Would you date a grain of sand or enjoy their friendship? Grains can't talk to you, would you enjoy living in a cell with grains of sand as the only companion? Would you enjoy being the father (God) of 1 million fleas biting you all day? When was the last time you tried to hang out with fruit flies to do cool things together? I'm not talking about dating opposite sex, but just regular friends, like fellow guys or gals. For the same reason hanging out with fruit flies or bacteria that kill people is not cool for you O Kind Spiritual Being☺☺☺, God doesn't really give us Immortality, as we don't know how to maintain it. You wouldn't give a super expensive and very hard to maintain space rocket to a tribe of baboons or spiders, they can't even understand its purpose, can't use it to travel to other worlds, let alone maintain it: you would have to maintain it yourself and spend Eternity to teach spiders basic algebra. Gnat IQ religionists ☺☺☺ don't comprehend a simple 1st grade concept: to be granted Immortality you need to know how to maintain, take care of that Immortality. We don't give a nuclear power plant to gnats, fleas, bed bugs, nematode worms, fruit flies, or Amazon cannibal tribes with no knowledge of 2nd grade math. You don't give a nuclear or quantum device (used to maintain immortality) to anyone you love. They need to know how to take care of it, so they don't blow up the galaxy by accident, and running it requires a lot more knowledge than nukes. To help God run subuniverses, you need to understand the science, which is 10^{900} times more complex than human science, because you outlive universes. In short, to become Godly is to get maximum score at science SAT and to be a science Nerd who helps develop 80 trillion year lifespans for all humans one day and ends all violent crime and wars in 3 years, to help 'mentally retarded' religionists realize their rat filif IQ scriptures are just a phase of their fruit fly journey.☺☺☺ It takes some thinking for clergy to realize they wasted 1 to 60 years of their life preaching lies. It's better to wake up late than never, at least clergy makes good use of the years left on this Earth.

Above we refer to physical Immortality tech of a human on Earth, not to a hypothetical soul immortality, of a soul having a trillion incarnations in billions of worlds to learn science and such, which could in theory exist, but impossible to prove today. Because the individual hypothetical soul unit incarnating a trillionth of itself is gnat IQ like, like a grain of sand vs God, it can't receive yet Immortality. The future Immortal descendants of humanity obviously live in that world of Immortality, but it already happened from the vantage point of another time, and we were already Immortal, we're already Immortal in a way, we can travel to that world. So, while we're aware this soul Immortality can exist, that doesn't mean we immortalists will spend Eternity trying to find it, since we can't even travel to these galaxies, see this soul's incarnations. Thus, the more logical approach to truth finding is just living a nanosecond first, meaning a trillion years, so we can just have a brief look at the universe and formulate a better hypothesis of what goes on with the God of Eternal Immortality for All of the collective human quantum mind.☺☺☺ For too long, greedy bastards have used the promise of spiritual immortality to loot continents, so to avoid being fooled again, we aim for verifiable "Immortality", which isn't even more than a nanosecond lifespan for a real Immortal, or living to a trillion years. This way, all aristocratic vampires, liars, conmen, frauds and parasites can do their rituals, while we get trillion year tech. Let them do the 'bullshit' and we get the real stuff, not the other way around. Workers wake up.

The Immortalists' ethos is thus: we love all humans with the nurturing healing grace, gentleness, tenderness, serenity, bliss, softness, eterni tone, universal altruistic loving kindness, that are a trillion times greater than those of the happiest mother of the last decade who loved her infant baby deepest, most perfectly, as the Immortalist Anthem explains. Some Immortals live 3 trillion times longer than humans, so any human lifespan, knowledge are like that of a 1 second old baby; mothers love their infants unconditionally, most gently of anyone, as the kid is clueless about the new world; likewise, Immortals and we who want to bring Immortality for All, are infinitely tender with all humans, as if they were a newborn breastfeeding upon birth from our eterni thinking, emoting tone. We believe in eternal ethics education from pre-birth, educating moms hours daily, discernment, compassion, testing hypotheses to find which ones are true, if we have a soul, if God exists, allowing all to formulate any theory (which is a theory, since we can't prove anything, due to lacking interdimensional devices to measure any soul) about the afterlife or the universe, artificial soul creation to explore and help billions of universes with. We honestly humbly don't know, but can discover, the ideal science, ethics ways to ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ achieve trillion year or eternal lifespans, so we can give eternal Immortality to All, perhaps bidimensional shimmering shapeshifting Immortality in this and/or other realms, so we can materialize a lifeform at will, if needed to magnify Eternal Universal Peace, World Peace in 3 months (0 'torture, slavery, violence' in 10 years, healing centers replace all jails in 30 years) if possible, on infinite planets we discover." as the Immortalist Anthem explains the 'hypotheses' (not beliefs) in more detail; education starts before birth with the music and ethics.gov tones mom listens to while the fetus grows, to enable the fetus to intone is an eterni way easier once he hears the lectures on the big TV daily, as parents speak less, due to not being able in the daily stress of life to produce the tones of these videos that were created after decades of effort by the most perfect healing voices (much better than these samples of gentler voices). Immortals can be also called Eternals if you prefer, our descendants who live to a trillion, or others like them, whom we enter into resonance when we're gentle. The Kingdom of Heaven on Earth is the Kingdom of Immortality for All on Earth. ☺☺☺

We don't know, but will discover, what it takes to become an Immortal in this or afterlife world, and we're honest to admit it, i.e. a bidimensional body, physical at will, not just spiritual. It's a big difference between most religions (spiritual Immortality) and the democratic provable physical & spiritual Immortality for All, i.e. verifiable longevity for all people, not just rich conmen creating religions to subjugate the masses. The immortalists are aware that for eons, crafty fake miracles men have used promises of afterlife paradise to get people to do what they wanted, or to simply enslave people in ignorance, rituals and brainwashing: so, to ensure a truly democratic healthcare for all, equal divine love for all, long lifespan for all (not just the rich), the immortalists aim for all live to a trillion at least first, since God is so great, maybe the greatest, that's a small miracle for him. For all "wanting to be Immortals", this obviously implies we first evolve to peaceful mammal☺ stage, (since death at 25 in wars prevents living to 900), like 500+ mammal species who don't kill their own, so in every service we talk about how to bring World Peace in a few months. ☺ Spirituality is much higher than nonviolence, so we want to achieve 0 global violence first, before we talk about more spiritual topics such as fake miracles and qualities of higher grace. If there is killing, war, violence on Earth, spirituality is nonexistent, so we want to be real, honest mammal species first that doesn't kill its own. We don't require pins, decorations, medals, heavy lifespan shortening metallic headgear (damages blood vessels, lowers IQ, too heavy) for 'freemasons like fraternities', military or clergy, though colorful clothing with "Immortality for All" words, etc increase longevity focus and fluid perception; we focus on the qualities that bring lasting peace, not titles. Immortalists of present and future are compatible in their 'beliefs' with any religion, since they're not a religion, but lovers of simple humility that says that it's OK to study God and understand afterlife for a trillion years, instead of just 80, especially if we can become good enough to avoid lower 'realms'.

We might achieve the most basic spiritual level as a planet, that is 0 violence/killings on Earth, by developing Forgiveness, Altruistic Kindness, Gentle Healing Soft Nurturing Compassion, Friendliness, Wisdom, Goodwill, Benevolence, Honesty, Empathy, Humility, Facts (questions better than assumptions, when facts are not available), Fellowship, Eterni Tone since kindergarten, Sympathy, Discernment, Amity, Sweetness, Concord, Inoffensiveness, Nonviolence, Boundless Selflessness, Accomodativeness. ☺☺☺ We hypothesize it is OK, or perhaps useful, healing, gentle, to have some patience and humility and not jump to conclusions about what happens in the afterlife. We hypothesize that to be kind is to help the real people, not stones. Thus, religious, spiritual, agnostic or atheist people can all be immortalists and bring World Peace. We need no rituals or repeating unproven beliefs about supposedly true past events. We have no beliefs, only hypotheses that we love to test, we love to think and question, to healingly present hypotheses to be tested (not debate, as the word has an aggressive tone association in human history), research and discover in the most polite respectful healing kind angelic tone the ways, culture, foreign policy, World Peace methods (essential to attain Immortality, since wars kill people), what tone of emoting, thinking, speaking that would bring a world of Immortals on Earth where all live to a trillion in peace and bliss. They can lovingly exchange perceptions about the 100s of character traits that bring a civilization free from any violence and with 9 million year lifespans, such as gentleness, eterni tone, etc; these qualities can even be in street, city, company designed on solar generating facades that have colorful letters on them (Gentle & Kind instead of Procter & Gamble, or Immortality for All or Immortality & Bliss, instead of Bausch & Lomb, etc – names that are less egotistical and more humanitarian, names that heal humans, help them to evolve, to become kinder, so peace becomes real on every street globally) names and as year round decorations thruout the city, to remind us to be Gentle, Healing, Nurturing, eterni in tone always (especially, if a beginner in the path, when public speaking or on radio-TV, internet areas where more than 3 people hear it), not 5 minutes a month☺ at church only when speaking with the pastor; imagine "Gentleness" "Immortality for All", "Tenderness" "Nurturing Grace" words as neon lights in every bus station, metro station, in every store, search engine, margin of TV screen (they have these rectangles on the bottom with other news updates, on the sides, they can say 'Immortality for All, Gentle Tender Calm Kind ☺☺"), same for youtube videos to remind all of the goal of our existence Immortality for All, or major health website on the sides (Immortality for All), to help us recall to speak nicely (against our genes to use eterni tone, it's a super brain effort, but even 5 minutes a day is better than none at all, so that 5 min can be due to such a sign with music) cultivate the essential qualities that sustain a civilization of Immortals, of Eternal Peace and Compassion – we have tech to do it – solar panels that power speakers, allow lights to turn on at night so people are reminded day/night by eterni neon signs, music at the bus station (or any area that has high people traffic and also high noise from car traffic, to prevent lifespan shortening from car noise, it's called acoustic vitamin), etc (healthier, nicer than traffic noise) about Gentleness, Hypothesis Thinking, Free Thought, and Immortality and reminded by these neon light decorations (nicer than even Christmas lights) the qualities to live, the bliss of Immortality via Gentleness, etc. Anyone can listen to headphones to their own music, but this eterni (extremely peaceful) music (20-30 seconds instrumental, then healing words, 10-30 seconds, etc), is to prevent irritation of people and lower lifespan for those who jog, shop, use public transport in noisy areas and forgot to wear headphones that don't entirely prevent traffic noise from damaging whole body cells thru sound vibes; our cells are musical, everything has a tune, that extends or shortens life; in Heaven, we say the most healing music exists because it enables Immortality, so to bring Heaven on Earth we bring in orderly music, not chaos of traffic sound of this primitive century. This can be done by any city to promote good civic virtues and lower crime 100 fold – could even use in some century special sounds or melodies known to eliminate angry states, if negative emotions are detected from the tone of speech of nearby people (AI based, not internet connected, since it would shorten lifespan via WiFi beams, just have a small selection of 300 songs of healing on the built in flash memory, detects emotions via mind reading and/or vocal tone reading of people and plays the most effective healing clip on speaker to heal). It's independent of religion anyway, and can be more effective than going to church 25 minutes a week, it's a 24-7 pastor that reminds you to be nice, since all hear and see it more often and tone is highest quality prerecorded one, not 'bad day of pastor' tone – so a city can become nicer than millions of certain types of 2022 places of worship – like a living monastery, the abode of sages, prevent crime 100 days before it may happen, by healing negative emotions everywhere.

Music in all stores could become more inspiring and immortalism virtues focused, to build the sages of the Immortals world of year 2200 where everyone is like a saint today. Such civilized angelic discussions on virtues to develop would then lead to the development of Immortality technologies that enable us to live longer, so the practice of universal loving kindness is the happy research into health and longevity, as well as maintaining and creating a world of 0 violence, torture, etc. We want a fully alive☺☺☺real spirituality that is 24-7, not 5 minutes at church twice a year, a universal (free for all, welcoming all, of any or no religion) spirituality that no military or government can hijack (like they did for centuries) to create war, since the very core of it is nonkilling, nonviolence and feminine qualities (mostly absent in our world) that sustain any world of Immortals (yang without yin is unbalanced and can't last, so societies that are too cruel collapse, due to war): not knowing, the 20 telepathy habits, gentleness, tenderness, universal loving kindness, nurturing grace, eterni tone, and positive methods only. We want a spirituality where practice is much more real and substantial, where generosity is deeper or almost infinite, we don't just wish people a happy healthy day or life, but infinite lifespan and health, not to live to 80, but "May you live to a million trillion in perfect health". There is a difference between immortalists saying "Happy trillion year life" and "Have a nice/good day". It's a difference of 365 trillion times. What generosity of intent do we want to practice, one that is 370 trillion times greater?☺☺☺ If we want to prepare for a life immortal in another dimension, we believe we don't know if we will need to live a trillion years in this world to get a basic idea of what it takes to live like an Immortal being in heaven; we hypothesize God may want 1 trillion years of learning in this world or several, before we know the basics, without which we can't live in that world, just like you can't live on the ISS (international space station) or Mars without special learning. ☺☺☺ We love humility, instead of knowing, so we honestly admit that we don't know, instead of demanding so much, asking so much of people, forcing people to believe in fantastical miracles that may have been faked or made up, or ideas that sow division (like "only people of our religion go to Heaven, the rest don't") and fuel wars, we want to be gentle, kind, healing, nurturing, to make all feel infinitely loved, infinitely welcome, regardless of anything, without forcing them to believe and repeat irrational beliefs at service in order to be part of our global family of humans who just want to help each other live in peace with a longer healthier lifespan, free from the wars and violence of the past.

Since 1 trillion years is still a second in Eternity, there is no reason why we can't wish that all beings interested live to a trillion, since it gives us more time to develop the angelic nature and good nature to co-exist in heaven as Immortals. On the contrary, it makes sense that God may only grant permanent Immortality to us after we have proven we can build a civilization of 'Immortals' with no violence and war in this little universe of ours – in one of our journeys as a lifeform, since this requires building some deeper mastery of the 100s of qualities, character traits of real Immortals. For millions of years, human primates have engaged in conflict over little things, due to not realizing the universe is infinitely abundant; today we know there is infinite space to go to and terraform or discover infinite planets so war over land and resources makes no sense. Ancient people were simpler and didn't realize that when something bad happened, it was not the creation of 1 individual, but of the entire civilization, so they have created a world of killings, punishment and violence to address the symptoms of the cause: the lack of universal gentle tender soft loving kindness in everyone. Today, we know we create everything that happens collectively, and we try to address the cause and slowly move away from the Neolithic thinking of "war, violence, killing" – to the peaceful methods to address the cause so peace obtained is permanent and not a patch that holds symptoms invisible for a short period. Likewise, the little kindness of yore is today replaced by the infinite kindness of wishing and working towards Immortality for All, not just some people, but even the worst, because in our infinite kindness, we realize the worst is created by all the rest and that a trillion years will give all time to become angelic. In Heaven there is Infinite Love from God for all, so like the Heavenly mother of all, we try to emote ☺☺☺ infinite universal gentle tender soft loving kindness for all and move from punish and etc to heal and teach, for we created that 'bad behavior' as a planet. We have a chance to make all feel they belong to the World Alliance of Peace and Immortality for All, they're loved, regardless of religion, beliefs, etc, so Immortality for All is the expression of humanity's highest loving kindness to love infinitely all human beings since all done by each human is done by all. So we wish that to all and create healing and learning when mistakes occur, not killings, wars and punishing – for we're all creating anything bad and we need treat the cause not the symptom in a bad guy or country.

We want to live long, so we want to act like Immortals, who view anything any human ever did as a mom views what a 2 day old does – something that would not invite any punishment (healing and teaching instead), because he's a helpless baby – but we in our narrow 80 year view can't see how Immortals view us like babies without a clue... we're baby souls learning. So, to be Godly is to be like an Immortal, see again their ethics, their infinite love and to create that Godly world we can move towards kindness, not tit for tat, wars, punishing, revenge, etc. We have no way of understanding what made people the monsters they became, but it was the collective of humanity that did it too, not just them. Realizing and admitting that is the beginning of World Peace and longer, "immortal" lifespans. We can transcend the old way of scapegoating, punishing, treating symptoms, and replace it with love and kindness, for all beings, so we can focus on health and longevity☺☺☺ instead of wars – via cultivating the loving kindness in our tone of speech, emotion and thought. War is never the solution, it only hides the real cause – same for punishing individuals, it hides the lack of universal gentle tender soft loving kindness in all billions on Earth, we need healing and teaching, education, create healing centers, not prisons, create peace and longevity not wars – no need to repeat eons of symptom addressing that make peace last such a short time. If the cause is not addressed, a new guy or regime pops up and war never ends, and Immortality is not happening, nor long lives, as wars end lives. To wish all live to a trillion is to have the highest hope in the Infinite Grace of science discoveries and human kindness, in God's grace if a theist, and manifest that heavenly earth by being that gentle tender soft loving kind nurturing compassionate mother for all babies on Earth, 3 day old babies versus an Immortal. Hence you see this | Immortality for All | in the book a lot, since it has a very important purpose – it is to elevate the intention quality and bless all, even the 'worst', who did what our souls would (most of the time) do if we would have been born in same body and situation. It's easy to say 'bad people ruin the world', when in reality it would only improve if all improved their tone of emotion, speech, thought. So, the future people are aware of these things and will have a very free and open spirituality, free of rituals and formality, rich in the essence of universal gentle tender soft loving kindness. Immortality for All means wishing all something that even the most blessed people today can't get: a lifespan not of 200 years but way longer – so it's like wishing all perfect health, no enemies, no wars nearby, no disease, no aging for a long time, etc infinite wealth to discover those technologies, it's wishing the best of the best of anything we could wish and even that is not enough to reach the blessing of | Immortality for All, to live to a trillion, what a level of blessing, not for one but all 8 billion, this is truly the blessing or prayer that we need, Physical Immortality for All interested is like, wow, wishing each had the equivalent of quadrillions in wealth too and wisdom to discover the ways and techs. So, instead of 'have a nice day', they would say 'May you/all live to a trillion" or "Immortality for All", see more in the Immortality greeting section.

Everything is hypothesis confirmed from 30-80 independent sources or scientific unfakable methods for higher accuracy, Immortality for All makes sense as it gives eons to all to transform themselves into embodiments gentle tender soft loving kindness unimaginable today (thus, they would never go to a hell like afterlife) and we believe in or hypothesize in always Questioning and Doubting the precision/veracity of our afterlife, science (doubt every video, scripture, history book, science textbook, since all can be faked, or many errors exist or can exist due to nobody realizing it) and other hypotheses, in Gentleness kindness, Tenderness, sweetness, honesty, World Peace is Possible Soon if enough people want it, nonviolence, softness, healing, ☺nurturing☺, altruism, worship of ☺☺☺ hypothesis testing and formulation of Immortality science not of mythical figures/events anyone can fabricate, compassion, mercy, forgiveness, Telepathy, Soul Travel (at least as tech to extend physical and interdimensional immortality), Teleportation (natural extension of Immortality), Ascending Immortality (Living Longer each century), Telekinesis (we already sort of do it via computers we mind control), Translation (natural aspect of bidimensional Immortality), Personal experience, Research as perfectly valid if not ideal Form of Adoration (For How can we Truly Love God if we don't Know God and don't research God's Worlds?), no donations or monetary transactions in our online virtual church, (like Amazon replaced physical shops, so we have building materials for Immortality science labs and companies), also to prevent opportunists from exploiting 100s or even millions while lowering IQ, shortening lifespan *via anti-*Immortality teachings or even fraud. We love having no temples or chapels built since the temple is our healthy body, the living temple of God (kingdom of God is within, per Jesus anyway) that would not be pushed, shoved in sports*, or basketball, a healthy body is a healthy mind that can produce a* beautiful youtube content, 500 year lifespan which is more valuable than tall buildings which can sink (NYC is sinking, like many skyscraper cities sink too, due to heavy tall buildings, people need some spreading out, single family homes for all) kill people due to earthquake (so basically due to solar, wind, renewables, electric cars, etc we can make cities 10 times shorter and 10 times wider, since everyone can be off-grid, water from air, recycled water, hyperloop for travel more, drones for delivery of stuff, less roads, smaller roads, 50x less car use and traffic, not 10 cars going to buy food, one car (robotaxi, Tesla released in 2024, driver relaxes, meditates in ☺☺☺bliss☺☺☺) or drone delivers 10-100 meals like Walmart delivers via drone packages 10 lb or less, like Amazon delivers 500 packages and uses 100 times less fuel or electricity than 500 people driving to physical shop (what a time saver, so one can research Immortality, maintain Immortality labs, turn houses to green energy) or driving to church or university (take online classes, research at the local Immortality lab, since there can be 1 million of them in US *(*US got millions of basketball, tennis, football, courts, liquor stores, churches sitting empty most of the time, half a million homeless, empty spirituality?

Why not create half a million 'Universal Peace and Immortality for All' domes, small domes, to house homeless who listen to peaceful music and help build more domes for those living in bad conditions, which are at least 20 million? Domes last centuries if built of concrete and can have 'Universal (All planets, not just Earth) Peace and Immortality for All inscribed on them for all to see, even centuries from now, stone inscriptions, each letter almost a different color. These tiny domes then become half a million living chapels of true spirituality, where people residing there can create peaceful vibrations, listen to peaceful eterni music, filing the quantum entanglement field of human species with peace, Immortality vibes. Once homeless disappear and move to normal housing, then the tiny domes can be labs to make various Immortality for All products or places to use as mini-factories using bioreactors, etc for various goods or even eterni foods, etc. Immortalists are about building the inner temple of perfect health and virtue, of the understanding of God and the Universe, which is only possible by living to 13 billion years old at least, the age of the universe, so that we can get a fuller more accurate idea on what God is, what God wants, what God creates and what God's lifespan is. To do this, it means we need to ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ demolish all mosques, churches, temples, synagogues and in their place create Immortality Centers where all citizens monitor for free 1000 biomarkers so they can live to 1 trillion years old some day to discover God's nature, instead of memorizing "deer tick IQ" miracles/concepts fraudulent clergy brainwash us with. It also means, we live the virtue of immortalism, demolish unethical businesses and give everyone a single family home that people will turn into their temple to God via personal experience and even using inspiration from the most eterni clips spiritual people send to ethics.gov☺. It also means democracy emerges, as everyone can be a pastor online and a few charlatans☺☺ (who call themselves Pope, Bishop, Priest, Imam, Rabbi, Ayatollah, etc) no longer have a monopoly on ethics and connection to God, as everyone is connected to God directly. Finally, immortalists break the hypnotic trance about "imaginary God's wisdom" which preaches beatings deified in the Bible/Torah (kids, workers, sex slaves) or Quran (sex slaves, mutilated infidels, kids, wives). By the time you finish this book, your IQ is higher☺☺☺, you understand God can be 100 trillion times more different and complex than the nursery concepts sold by Judaism, Islam, Christianity. Orthodox patriarchs in Moscow praise Putin invasion: see a week of 1000 bombs/missiles. Popes have been engaged in endless wars for centuries, not just mass torture via the Inquisition. Muslim patriarchs have called for endless invasion too, to spread Islam, etc. Truth is self-evident, it doesn't need millions of people killed in order to accept a fake religion at gunpoint. For example, NaOH + HCl = NaCl + H_2O always, whether you're peaceful or killing people, it doesn't depend on wars waged to steal lands using religion as a cover for theft. Truth exists as an eternal independent reality from any human action, we're like tiny nanosecond particles.

They say there is no space for all these domes, but half churches have so much space, gigantic sports areas, they can designate a tiny place for 1-4 domes dedicated to a world of no war, homeless, violence, jails – only healing centers. The apartment complexes, hotels, etc all have huge areas for billboard games, gyms, etc – when people can exercise by building Immortality for All labs, domes, etc to bring a world of paradise by compassionate gentle exercise, not selfish exercise benefiting only 1 person. Domes last for millennia. Think about the huge waste of building materials while even MIT students have no decent housing, only noisy crap sometimes for freshmen, etc; hey, got 150 million cats and dogs, but not compassion for homeless*), to democratize research, offer all same harvard quality classes online (equal access to best classes, can even centralize the 9000 majors and areas of focus within a major one majors in, so all students take same classes in 100 times better tone, in any town, any university, do experiments in Immortality lab areas within 4 miles of house) and take monopoly from a few universities who make profits and keep students tortured in their dorms, 2-8 people per room in many nations,* etc – let every house be a temple with a ☺nice☺ Immortality lab, quiet, no traffic, clean air, instead of physically going to church/mosque to hear 1st or 7th century tone and ideas), no temple discourages hypocrisy of behaving one way in chapels and the other way outside, no temple encourages donating materials for schools and proper college housing and Immortality research centers, better housing (less crowded, less noisy, etc), medical research facilities, no temple enourages less pollution, emissions, and soul travel like interaction online (21st century, a deeper reformation of substance not form, why would soul travelers need buildings to meet?), no chapel brings coherence with beautiful 24-7 (not 1 hour a week/month at the church) outer and inner tone of speech, thought, emotion that builds the infinite Beauty all around, the tone is our temple, the tone is our soul, the tone creates the colorful houses, streets, neighborhoods, Immortality parks, shimmering Immortality labs, research centers, gardens more beautiful than any temple in existence today, no temples, no rituals because dematerialization tech of tomorrow will be able to create stuff 1 trillion times more beautiful than anything built today that will be forgotten by history anyway and holograms will enable us to turn any house into a beauty far beyond any temple today, Seeking Proof always for every belief/hypothesis, Reason, World Peace, Eternal Exploration/Refinement of our Hypotheses, Never Believing Blindly without proof but Seeking to Refine Our Hypotheses thru Data, Personal Experience & Research, since Truth is infinite, unknowable, and we will always get Closer to Truth, but never Reach it.

We won't sing in church, since the church is virtual, but we can sing together online, upload it to youtube, via teleconference or in the Immortality tech companies, universities lecture halls, immortality city center parks conference area, lunch break rooms, where we can practice musical speech and eterni singing of the eterni ☺Qualities☺ or World if we feel like it would be nice – so as to enable us to bring Heaven (Immortality for All) on earth, instead of dreaming/talking about it in songs/preaching only – learning by doing, instead of by talking only. If bread into flesh, wine into blood, etc miracles (Marian apparitions by the 1000s) and Nicea 325 AD creed, and these theories about mother of God, Father God, Son of God, Holy Spirit, Cousin of God, Sister of God (to be announced soon, perhaps? In Nov 1950 the Vatican claimed Mother Mary physically ascended into Heaven and made it a dogma or required belief), etc are all so useful, how come God, in His/Her Infinite universal loving kindness, didn't do 0.001% of these miracles in front of some of the bad leaders who started World War II that left the equivalent in 2022 of 400 million dead and 2 billion injured, so they don't start the war? Conveniently, God does 'miracles' away from where it's needed the most, how ODD. Plus, no scientific peer reviewed papers exist to prove any of the miracles and 'dogmas of various religions', and you need at lest 50 studies done by 50 institutes, all independent of churches, to prove it. Do you sincerely think that the essence of spirituality and a peaceful society is the mechanical repetition of unproven creeds that don't develop a deep sense and feeling, thought and emotional tone of empathetic compassion for all human beings? How do words 'He rose from the dead, sits at the right hand of the father, (God is infinite, no right or left), etc' help people to avoid killing others, wars and violence? How does the 10-50 times less nurturing and healing than eterni tone while repeating a creed (like a parrot almost, to an outsider who doesn't believe any of it?) help? It doesn't help us become loving and we need that URGENTLY – I never heard some ?"priests"? from 325 AD and endless other 'faith councils of religions' make a creed that "We Believe in the most ☺☺☺healing☺☺☺ gentle tender soft nurturing compassionate graceful tone of speech, action, thinking so we may have finally peace on Earth, the 1st grade stage of spirituality."

Spirituality, World Peace are built on the foundation, the basis of all spiritual life, i.e. nonviolence (not just nonkilling, but nonviolence too) and yet people get so caught up with the trees and miss the forest – the living tender gentle healing nurturing infinite compassionate grace tone that is wholly absent in many services and thus contributes to endless wars – if the tone of 1940s places of worship and the spirituality was so good, how come they didn't prevent the World War II catastrophes? Listen to the average sermon tone in the average place of worship on Earth, what do you hear? A tone that is not even close to the better stuff of youtube, the most angelic choir and music recorded by talented singers sharing some spiritual song. Why is that? Why do we focus on ritual and formalities and unproven concepts instead of compassion for ALL humans and peace and Immortality for All*, longevity and nonviolence for all, all coming forth from a nonviolent tone of speech and thought*? The Concept of a "Son", "Daughter" or "gender 4 for planets with 5 genders" of God saving or helping human souls is one hypothesis and in as much as this Universal or Inter-Universal Consciousness may pertain to many universes, galaxy systems and take infinite forms and use infinite symbols in local dimensions and galactic systems, we realize that such being doesn't even need to be called by any name, but only by our embodying such qualities as described above, behaviors which call its hidden name thru the astral tones of our souls (no need of vocal or linguistic calling, can listen to your mp3 you make too to refine inner tone, see angel of light*)*, since the name of such an inter-universal being, if existing, might anyway be impossible to utter by any human, since the name itself might take a trillion to the power of a trillion times the length of a 7,000 page book to be verbalized. ☺☺☺Nobody stops a human being from inventing endless systems of thought, languages and calling systems, yet we can hypothesize that the more effective real calling of God or any Divine Being that is more Universal in Nature might stem from the quantum subatomic astral tones of the soul created at a higher gimensional level (since soul anatomy is likely trillions of times more complex than body anatomy) that are only rendered harmoniously only when we live these qualities, especially nonviolence, not when we engage in endless rituals or repetitive linguistic prayers to "save our souls without regard to others we're not nice to (lies, violence, etc)". It may be the case that small spirits can be called by human language names, but big spirits can be effectively called only when the astral tones of our souls have sung the Melody of Resplendent Elysian Harmony, of the Noble Divine Qualities that Sweeten all souls and Bring the Effulgent Iridescent Magnificent Brilliant Ascending Immortality Heavenly Civilization here and now. We're thus aware that those who never heard of our "religion" might be much better followers of this "religion or science or hypothesis mode of Eternal Reaching for the truth" than us, if they have lived its Inner Gnostic essential nature at the Subatomic and Subastral Causal levels in their Souls much better than us. With this awareness we embrace all humans as the Temples of the ☺☺☺Universal☺☺☺ Divine Consciousness, and we see it as the most effective "proselytizing" not to speak, but to Live the Qualities, not to try to convert others (they will naturally hover around us being attracted to the Light and Tones of our soul, without us trying to reach them), but to Live the Qualities and research, Think, Experience, Bless and Evolve towards higher and higher Levels of Gentleness, Sweetness, Tenderness, Softness, Compassion, Humility, Serenity, Telepathy, Translinguistic Telepathy, Multilocation, Soul Travel, Empathy, Telekinesis, Teleportation, Divine Awareness of the Infinite Mind, Its Holy Desires so to speak, thus starting a evolution impulse that takes us towards an intergalactic civilization of peace and grace.☺

Hence in the awareness of substance instead of "appearance and rituals", we dive into the inner personal experience as the catalyst for gnosis of the divine infinite mind and its bounteous sublime desires, without the need for fixed beliefs, language based formulas, but being aware that 10^{-12} of language expressed models/hypotheses of the Immortal Soul Journey thru Infinite Worlds may be touched upon barely in 10^{12} pages book about afterlife." They might say jokingly "In the name of the Father-Mother of hypothesis thinking, of the Son-Daughter of Questioning Everything, and of the Holy Immortality for All Spirit of Seeking Solid Proof Unfakable Evidence, we seek truth, so God of Eternal Gentle Tender Soft Grace, help us all".

Some people may see one or many bad, rude or less graceful quotes from a scripture or text or conversation and believe the rumor that led to that quote or story being written by a scribe (who may have changed things to make people "understand that person better", leading to inaccurate representation) or told by someone to be factual, when it could be false or distorted, and this has often led to 100s of millions dying in wars. We can't use hear say from what people heard and then others wrote to conclude that "this or that" is how a historical person was. The truth is that we have no idea if many of the scriptural sayings or actions of people are their actual words or actions, and the people of the future, who live to be 900, know this well. It's very likely, or perhaps inevitable in the evolution of humanity, that time travel (seeing past without changing it) will enable us thru physics one day to solve these mysteries and see exactly what happened and what was said, enabling the science of living to 900 to progress much faster, as people today can see what happened to the body decades or centuries ago. As the tech improves, they will be able to see how the Universe came about and go further in time, discover the mysteries of white/black holes, if they link universes and transfer their civilization to another universe before this one collapses. This is the beauty of hypothesis formulation and testing and science, we find out the truth, we don't try to guess it and estimate it, without enough evidence. Just as we were not the center of the universe, a lot of our beliefs about "person X in scripture Z did whatever (good or bad)" are probably false. The amazing & beautiful ☺☺☺ thing is that in a world where everyone can see video of any historical person or any present person, there is no possibility to lie anymore, to have harmful intent, the only possibility is to help one another and love one another, so we may live longer, become wiser as Immortals of gentleness, tenderness, softness. One can pick any spiritual, religion or historical leader (real or made up) and watch their life in detail, with subtitles when they speak in Aramaic, Arabic, Pali, Sanskrit, etc. One no longer needs to guess or read Wikipedia or the Internet to find out the truth. One will know how each person really was in real life. Scanning events around year 0 and seeing a crucifixion will enable physicists to find Jesus or anyone around him and then follow where he goes and record what he speaks in Aramaic. For people whose times we don't know exactly, it will take more scanning of video streams, but it will be found based on a few things we know. This will also allow us to see the video of Tesla, or any scientist and learn more from them, and speed science progress more. As this tech advances, people may be able to infer via biophoton, IR, UV spectra and other data about anomalous events during miracles of certain mystics and what it might mean for subuniverse and hyper-universe theories. ☺☺☺

One will be able to know which people were truly experiencing certain miracles that history says occurred. This is why physics and science are so essential to spiritual development, and why churches without Immortality physics and Immortality chemistry labs and research facilities are illogical: wait, they got basketball courts, the stuff that really will triple human lifespan? We can't develop if we have so much false data as input, since our conclusions will be erroneous. Many people today think it will be a loss of privacy, but people will only be able to see what we do physically, not our thoughts, astral travels, etc. Today people share more on social media or youtube than 200 years ago. For every invention that helped reduce child mortality 20 times, there were these "this is the end of the world tech" people who were against it, the same will be with this one, many will be frightened by it, but it will all be fine in the end and it will help us to live much longer and without violence. If we told someone 200 years ago what a cell phone will enable you to see live feeds and videos of people from the present in another Earth location, they will say you're a science fiction writer. If we tell someone that 200 years from now or 500, a cell phone will enable you to see live feeds and videos of people from the past in another Earth location (at a past time you set, at a latitude, altitude, longitude you set, as on Google Earth, enabling the most amazing & beautiful ☺☺☺ history of Earth to be discovered), they will say we're science fiction writers. But it will still happen, even if those trying to keep people clueless may not want it to happen, perhaps because spirits know that True Knowledge will free humankind from the violence of the historical inertia and enable humanity to develop spiritually deeper, enable us to stop hating and harming based on rumors of non-existent evil past or present action or intent. This will be the end of hatred, the beginning of universal compassion and understanding. This will remove duplication and people will speed up longevity progress tremendously. The investigation at a research facility or on any highway as to why a levitating craft crashed will take 40 times less when real video of what occurred exists, since we don't rely on stories of people and lies they say to avoid making friends look bad. Crime will disappear, as well as prisons (replaced by Healing and Education centers), and the goals of World Peace will become true, ultra easy to manifest.☺☺☺ While initially only some people will have this, it will be like with cell phones, everyone will have it. Initially only the good guys will get it, helping all crime and violence to vanish from the Earth and then everyone will have it of course, as it will already be a world with no crime or prisons by then.

Today we have someone, using some hear say stories text to read from at a service or spiritual gathering, but in the future, they can play video of miracles or sayings of mystics or scientists with subtitles and learn from video of these people what they said, for real, in Aramaic or whatever language, if they want to, and not rely on hear say, rumors, distortions, lies. The eternal fight over which quotes are true from which scripture will be over with. Knowledge will replace misinformation and lack of information, people will be able to see biophoton and IR emissions during miracles (found in healings today), etc. It will be the victory of truth, of the kindest, most tranquil, noblest gentlest most spiritual and intellectual role models. Later on, the tech will be able to tell people's verbal thoughts in the past, if different from what they say in a video of them 1,000 years ago. This will enable us to see who was the most honest person, amazing stuff due to particle physics and neurochemistry, etc. The Eternal Search for truth will continue, as we won't know everything about all subuniverses, dimensions and what the soul did in other realms while the brain was thinking some verbal thoughts, since the soul is different than the brain and actions to some extent at least as hypothesized in Chapter 2 (telepathy diffusion, environment, etc can cause people to do things they didn't really originate or want to do as souls). But we will definitely know the expression of souls 1,000 times better than today when we rely on hear say and scribes. We may even discover how to re-create a good soul copy without ashes or remains or call original soul back into a new body that lives much longer. ☺

God knows a quadrillion ways to achieve peace or any end without any violence. Of what use is devotion to unproven beliefs, rituals and theories, if we slaughter each other? Perhaps God is not interested in us worshiping God, but more interested in understanding God and becoming smart enough, after learning in many virtual universes, time shifted subuniverses, etc to co-create some things, or co-manage a solar system, galaxy or universe, etc. Do we want our child to always say "Daddy, Mommy I worship you, you're so great" like a retarded one of IQ 70, every day, every hour, or would we want our child to help us with some of our projects and get IQ of 150, to understand us instead? God, our parent so to speak, may also want us to understand. If humans one day evolve to shapeshifting and teleporting thru wormholes, creating solar systems, living billions of years, what will our spiritual beliefs be?☺☺☺

God seems Infinitely Complex Mystery, the First Immortal Being, the Impossible to Describe and Comprehend by any human being, Independent of any human beliefs, the Enigma we Eternally Explore thru Hypothesis Formulation and Testing, Personal Experiences. Future humans may believe "We hypothesize that God will help us to become Telepathic Physical "Immortals" without disease, aging, violence, crime, in shimmering shapeshifting teleporting bodies that live on energy without eating, in a world of infinite happiness, compassion, gentleness, tenderness and grace. Ascending "Immortality" is possible, in the sense of ever increasing Lifespan until reaching Real Physical Immortality, that Physical Immortality can continue from this Universe to the next when this Universe is ready to disappear or our civilization is ready to ascend. We hypothesize that reality is infinitely more complex than we imagine now, and realize that as we were not the center of the Universe, many of our beliefs might be off, so we test, question, research our beliefs (theories, assumptions) all the time, to refine our understanding of the Truth, since we know how easy it is for words to be changed even unintentionally during oral or written transmissions. Our true Devotion is to the Expression of the Cosmic Communions with the Cosmic Light of God through 1. Gentleness 2. Tenderness 3. Sweetness 4. Honesty (no deception, lies and backstabbing) 5. Nurturing 6. Healing 7. Ever Giving (receiving when others do that to us from their heart, without us asking or with us asking when in dire need), never taking or "stealing" 8. NonKilling and non-violence (physical, emotional, verbal, mental, etc) 9. Compassion for others 10. Mercy 11 Forgiveness 12 Softness 13. Only Blessing never cursing/swearing 14. Only helping, never trying to harm 15. Only uplifting, never fill others with negativity 16. T.H.I.N.K. as positively and inspirationally as possible, improving slightly every day 17. loving kindness towards all beings 18. Grace 19. Tact 20. Diplomacy 21. Ever Praising, never criticizing, even when a big mistake was done by someone, it can be communicated in such a way that the person is praised for their past good efforts and explained that this time it was a failure, etc, without the negative emotions that accompany angry criticism, etc. This is hard to practice, of course, but fear and threats can't be the motivation for human behavior if we want the Kingdom of Heavenly Peace and☺☺☺ Bliss to arise in the nearby star systems. The real motivation for human behavior could be the Holy Desire to Love others and Only Help them, never hurt them 22. Ever magnifying the Good in others, never the bad (these are ideals, of course, it's impossible to be perfect in practicing any of these) 23. Gentle tone of speech and many of the 20 Telepathy habits ideas 24. Gentle peaceful music 25. Smiling more often 26.

Minimize talk of negative things, don't recreate images of evil, negative emotions, negative behaviors, via any media or words or means, be it radio, tv, songs, albums, internet, scripture publishing 27. Practice the Gentle Tender Walking as if Gliding on an Ocean of Everlasting Light and Mercy, filled with the shimmering crystals of the most otherworldly beauty, which when touched, sing in their own ways and give off millions of colors, and see how this light goes on to bless all shimmering Lightbeing Immortal Souls of all on Earth, filling them with the sweet desires to practice the qualities and bring about the Heavenly Earth and other planets we will terraform 28. Patience 29. Self-control 30. Meditation to experience God's happiness via cosmic consciousness (see Chapter 10.1) so as to diminish the obsession with erotica and the pleasures of this mortal body and also to help one stay monogamous and etc... (those ideas of "don't lust for someone else's woman" I suppose, but reworded in a gentler form that pertains to the Universal Divine Mind Gnosis born of personal Experience, not of a threat, interdiction, yelling or commanding. We can hypothesize that Divine Grace doesn't command yell or talk down to its sweet children, it only Loves, Thanks, Praises, Sings the Sweetest Music calling our Souls to entrain by Quantum Entanglement, to enter the Harmonic Astral Tone Frequencies that Liberate the 0 point Energy within, since in the Libraries of the Universal Consciousness one can easily ascertain the levels of happiness of any potential mortal world action.☺☺☺

The future humans may seek to entrain with the harmonic Musical Universal Consciousness of God or G.reatest O.ceanic D.elight, the Most Sublime Perfect Eternal Infinite Unconditional Compassion Love Mercy Forgiveness Sweetness Gentleness Praise Gratitude happiness. It may be that some forms of talking, preaching, ritualizing and things like that don't change the tone of our souls much and don't call on God much (or even only a tiny bit), since God is not a person or humanoid spirit, but a Super-Intelligent Universal Consciousness and Music whose calling is hypothesized to depend on the physics and harmonics and how much our souls' fields fractals sync with the higher dimensional fields-fractals of the Mechanism of Calling the Higher Aspects of the Universal Light of God for the transformation of the material Universe. This Light is so Infinitely vast and infinitely intelligent that calling it may not be not as simple as "1,2,3". Not everyone can call the president of a nation and talk to him. It requires special knowledge. What about a "spiritual" President of a Star Systems Area, Galaxy, Intergalactic Zone or Universe? How much more complex is to really CALL A UNIVERSAL BEING? It may be that out of 8 billion people thinking they met Being X, only 0-2 have really met being X.☺☺☺ People have NDEs, meet a guide and assume it's Jesus, Buddha, God or their concept of Divinity, but reality might be infinitely more complex than that. Say for example one repeats some mechanical prayer calling on Deity X, probably a more effective calling on God would be to use a spontaneous song or prayer that invokes those qualities of gentleness, tenderness, even as the linguistic words themselves describing the qualities, things as simple as thinking of "gentle tender soft sweet

Peace" or other deeply thought-felt phrases. The mechanized repetition of the same exact thing as people did maybe centuries ago is not necessarily better, it can be worse than thoughts whose harmonics more correctly align with God's fractals of sweet tender gentle grace. I.e. in a way every word has its own music and vibe it creates by resonance when one utters it mentally or verbally, a vibe that is specific to that person and what that word means to that person, and each tone has a cumulative effect on the music and sound of that soul. Few popular prayers on Earth have a high density of soul tone shifting words as in a stream of thought that deeply conceptualizes words like "gentle tender soft Sweet Nurturing Healing Compassionate Merciful Forgiving Graceful Peace, Bless the Planet with World Peace". Notice how packed this sequence of words is with meaning, especially the part before Bless, it's all words that shift the soul tones, no prepositions. It's actions too that change the soul music, besides sweet invocations and songs, enabling it to entrain the higher dimensional aspects of the Light of God☺☺☺, enabling miracles to take place when spirits to give tech ideas. God can't be called by a simple word such as 'God or Immortal One, etc' yet God will probably send His Grace depending on our vibe, so it doesn't matter if one sings "Angel of Light" or "God Immortal one," etc - it's the inner intent to bring World Peace, Immortality for All that calls God, not the words, the tone of our intent, emotion and thought, not the language sounds. God's names sound different in all languages, and in some language God's name could be "Angel of Light" and God is like an angel of light. The language of eterni tone is the same, across all brains, same MRI and soul patterns, in all spoken language names of God, it's the language of infinite compassion, present in 1000s of calls like this angel of light one. However, you can record your own song, "Godly Light or Immortal One, etc" if that makes you feel better in using it as a learning tool to improve tone of emotion or intent, speech, etc and maybe get help from Immortals. It's far more likely a very young Immortal would come to help us each time we ask for God's help, not God, as God is busy with bigger stuff than happenings on Earth or our universe. Can anyone call the President of USA? Not really:). Likewise, even the oldest Immortal in our universe that is answering human beings prayers, if such beings exist, who is not God, most likely only answers souls most like that being (Godliest people inside) and we know nothing in our brains about our souls by design, usually.

Half of world population is Christian or Muslim, being very familiar with Jesus. How would 500 year human "Immortals" of the future interpret Jesus words and teachings? Perhaps, they will interpret Jesus resurrection of people, healings as the attempt to communicate to us that life is important and we're meant to worship life and perfect health, not death and aging. Aging brings hundreds of diseases, so since Jesus was telling disciples to heal (which we do thru stem cells and other things today, for blind, etc) and "raise the dead" (as we do via medical tech when people have NDE), Jesus was for living to 800 or 90,000. ☺☺☺ Jesus' message could be that the wonderful persistent application of mercy and compassion, of empathy for others who suffer because of diseases and death from all causes, brings Heaven on Earth where turning into pure energy becomes possible, in reality, not fiction movies like star trek. Perhaps in that future all seminaries teach that the essence of Christianity (all other religions) is to selflessly help other humans to suffer less (even today that's the whole message, we help the hungry and homeless because that's a risk to their life expectancy) by postponing aging a few more centuries, by discovering new knowledge that diminishes suffering. The cross might then be a symbol of infinite time (horizonal lime) and infinite knowledge (vertical line), the knowledge of Immortality. In that time, which could occur soon, they probably got a new synergy between churches and universities, working as one to further the liberation of humanity from short lives and diseases, towards the triumph of life over death. Why? Because God is the Eternal Giver of Knowledge of nicer physics, chemistry, biology enabling us to live to 1 million years old if that long it is that it takes for us to figure out how to translate to another world without dying and live John 14:12 "What I have done you will also do and much more", i.e. everyone conquering death forever fully; they teach that Jesus turned body into pure energy today. The essence of all religions, is to help other people live nicer lives, free from death, sickness and diseases of aging, so then a central purpose of all spiritual paths becomes to help everyone live longer, so Immortality focus and departments could be in all schools/seminaries. Theological seminaries would talk about physical Immortality and living to 9,000 or more, about ascension as a possible way to "die" in this world in the future. Clergy of all religions would ask during services "what scientific discovery to live to 900 can we pray for today?", or "can you share now some testimonials about how you helped others live to 500 in perfect health?"☺☺☺

We don't realize how negative our thoughts are, we think God's Love manifest is living these short lives of aging and disease. But if God's Love is Infinite, God wants us to be in perfect health for an infinite amount of time in this world, if that long it takes to master ascension and defeat death forever like Jesus reportedly said we will also doin John 14:12. We have no movies, songs, poems, university professors of mitochondrial Immortality, or of living to 40,000 that are really popular, where living long is the central theme as in Chapter 5.2 movie about Immortalli Ascendi. When is that last time you heard lyrics about 5,000 year lifespans in a really popular hit song, or about some concepts in chemistry or physics essential to living to 40,000, or about the biophysics of new particles that give us particle maps leading to 30 times lower aging speed enabling us all to live 30 times longer? We teach via expectations (and implicit silence in our education about living to 900) that we only live to 100 and purpose of life is to be successful and increase company profits while helping the needy and being a good church/temple goer, doing specific rituals. But the thing is we can use same energy to teach that living to 5,000 is possible and all science efforts become more focused on that instead of on making nicest flavors or useless products to save 3% on a catalyst cost. We can bring a true renaissance in culture, science, tech, spirituality, religion and bring Life and 500 year lifespans. This is our opportunity and we can make the best out of it. Maybe we would benefit from more movies like Immortalli Ascendi who lived to 1 trillion years and moved to another universe. ☺☺☺

What would Immortalists believe with regards to the ethics of abortion, would it always be unethical as the most conservative believe? Everything is infinitely complex and I don't know what is the correct answer, but obviously, as explained many times in the Peace Chapter, where the World Peace speech exists, any act of killing (as abortion is) has effects on all humans, but it's one thing to wipe out an embryo (happens often in miscarriage due to foods people eat etc), and another something 50,000 times bigger, an insect we can hardly see or an animal the size of a baby. Moms can die during pregnancies due to complications, so to save mom's life, abortion may be needed sometimes and since there is often a choice between something that is not even a fully formed human and a real human, impact on human species field would be less if fetus goes, due to primitive medical science. Likewise, any act of subtle torture (the torture of being unwanted and hated, etc) and stress on an unwanted child has quantum effects on all humans, so we're in a great dillemma, if we want to create a world of no violence, no torture in the name of an unproven hypothesis that 'abortion is evil always'. Gasoline, diesel, biofuel cars generate smog that kills early billions of people, equivalent to millions of abortions; smog kills the unborn, deforms the born, maims the teens and adults slowly; 5 people with 10 year shorter lifespan is like abortion of a baby who would have lived to 50. Why be so passionate about abortion and not about smog and war that kills, indirectly, via lifespan shortening, way more than abortion does? Often times, we hear clergy talks on the beauty of banning abortion always, without addressing the root caue of why abortion happens in the first place. Why does it happen? One reason is, perhaps, in the neuroscience truths of aggressive behavior, and happiness (bliss doesn't depend on sex) that clergy ignore. The tone of speech and singing, the music rhythm affect our ability to listen to a different hypothesis emerging in our brains, be fluid and realize there are always trillions of ways to peace without war and trillions of ways to heaven and good spirituality; it prevents us from developing eterni tone in the content of speech and thought, from observing thought formation and how brain gadgets are used to manipulate our brains, to distinguish self-thought from brain writing by spy agencies, etc. One hypothesis is that abortion and rape (which leads to abortion too) happen also because of a global culture that has exterminated the feminine gentle tender soft tone, in content and tone of speech, thought, action – as reflected in the extremely bad music that is legal today, like rap, metal, etc, much of it about violence, lust, sex, or 0 filtration to radiate ☺☺☺universal☺☺☺ healing nurturing loving kindness. Extreme zeal about making abortion illegal in all cases seems extreme, hypocritical, antiscience, trying to treat symptoms not the cause, like a bad doctor does, since abortion happens also because of lack of awareness of natural bliss of meditation, a million times higher than sex, and abortion also happens due to rape and rape happens because the same Christian zealous folks do everything to promote aggressive (some Protestant services where they yell during sermon and music) tone music in church (not this tone) and to extinguish meditative silence, introspective spirituality, as if life is about militaristic rock and roll.

Why not be zealous about banning aggressive tone music in church☺☺☺, bad tone music TV-radio, and sometimes even violent rhythm in TV-radio music (or even in a few Protestant churches, like a rock concert that makes people restless, more impulsive and subtly more violent) that leads to violence in the world? Why not be zealous about improving the nurturing feminine healing tender grace of the tone and prerecording (MRI proven) in Catholic and Orthodox liturgy (which has traces of overly masculine aggressiveness, in some cases, though way better tone than the ultra aggressive tone in the worst Protestant services)? Why not be zealous to ban the church group singing that is sometimes so far from eterni, so far from listening (when we listen to God, we emulate God and filter 20 times more our tone and emotion, to make it more 'infinitely' gentle, tender, nurturing, soft, etc) relaxed (not so aggressive and rushed, incapable to involve brain areas of filtering and healing radiation) meditative tone that brings a much higher self-control and brain activation of higher cognition areas? All action comes from the tone of speech, singing, etc. An embryo is not a human being, and many times abortion can save a living human, the mother; abortion can ensure the child is wanted and lives a happy life; an unwanted child can become a societal burden, get weak health due to mother negative emotions towards the kid she doesn't want, or even violent person if a bad environment at school or home or etc emerges and could affect the human species quantum entanglement field more negatively than abortion happens when embryo is 1 day old or not even formed (drink something to prevent fertilization of egg in extreme cases); the negative emotions mom feels may bring down the human species. So, in implementing any idea, like promoting less abortions via sex away from ovulation period or via meditation bliss, eterni tone, universal gentle tender kindness, the government can realize the benefits of Immortality capitalism that emails a person each time they buy any product, including when buying condoms and pregnancy test kits. For example, a huge 500 page PDF can explain how to meditate and achieve "100 times better than orgasm" bliss in a relationship without having sex (animals have sex for procreation only, why would we be so different?), so as to enable the human quantum entaglement field to evolve towards the living on energy blueprint of the future, when we conserve energy and eat less - being no longer in need to do anything too physical (robots can do it) and of eating so much, since they figured out how brain works and how to achieve orgasm bliss without the damage orgasm does to nutrient status in the body. Abortion is depleting female body of resources, causes huge drain of how many cell divisions are left before cells die, in some organs that build the fetus and then miscarry it, so the immortalist government duty is to protect human species field by emailing people these PDFs and videos to avoid miscariage/abortion by proper nutrition, sleep, gentle music; the PDF can explain the tech to live on energy will materialize, taking matter into another state, turning it into nutrients in organs that deliver it now and then taking byproducts and converting them into invisible matter and then transporting them to organs via the gateway between our world and that of the new ☺☺☺ matter, enabling us to become teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals, who live eons and no longer need rockets, since they can teleport off planet via dissolving body into new energy that teleports a lot faster and can materialize what is needed for survival for the newly materialized body on the new planet. ☺☺☺

In such a world, there are no gyms and their not so peaceful music vibes, as people prioritize living 100,000 years extra via immortality for all culture and civilization, not 5 years by going to gym and eating so much; gorillas eat and build muscles, Immortals don't eat, chew, defecate, etc and live a million times longer, are we lifting up humankind by our hobbies or stagnating it?☺☺☺ Anyone knows sometimes moms don't have a decent eterni government that emails PDFs when people buy condoms and pregnancy tests, sex toys, etc - about the diet, sleep habits, etc required to attain much higher bliss than orgasm, to attain miscarriage free pregnancy, defect free pregnancy, pregnancy free sex (use condom and/or have sex outside of ovulation 10-15 day window (plus minus a few days), why make such a big fuss about abortion, avoid it by better planning of sex times, they can have sex once a month, more than enough and no study ever proved sex outside procreation will extend human lifespan more than happy meditation*) if some* absolutely want sex outside of procreation. So it is the duty of these dysfunctional governments, like that of the "Dysfunctional Ever Redundant Divided States of America" with 10 million laws about abortion and every topic and no centralization, to give moms the right to abort when they made a nutrition mistake that would cause a huge birth defect shortening the lifespan of the baby and causing harm to human entanglement field for 40 years maybe. Why do we have 50 countries (states) in USA? Why do we need 50 laws for everything? Where is the equal treatment, opportunity for all? See immortality capitalism, where people live 50 times longer, instead of having 50 times the amount of laws, for every state to be free to be enslaved in short lifespan bickering about every topic, while everyone is in the stone age due to inefficiency and redundancy. Why can't all US states and countries agree to compromise to one national policy: allow it for serious defects, rape, incest, danger to mom's life. It would also allow it, with a course requirement, for cases of not ready or bad family environment, when abortion is due to poor planning or unwanted pregnancy that would lead to unhappy unhealthy kid and stress for parents that could damage human species more than abortion may: both parents would take a free 56 to 392 hour/year course (1 to 7 hours/week, online learning really, verifiable in some way or done relaxing in a bed in a healing center once a week and listening mostly, maybe viewing a video too, meditation, free headset to measure bliss brainwaves, etc for 1 year to learn how to achieve peace and bliss higher than orgasm thru eterni tone of speech, eterni music, and bliss meditation*)* to heal the damage done to human species quantum field via abortion, longer course (7 hour max, if fetus really big) if fetus aborted when bigger, which creates damage and aging of female body too, so disturbs human quantum field more than via fetus damage (aborting is killing, yet even 4 hours a week course seems so intrusive for some, but all are free to meditate longer in these facilities away from the 'madness' at home). Of course, nature kills billions of fetuses, during miscarriage due to foods people eat, and it's obviously unintended, but the bigger a fetus is, the closer to killing a live human it gets ethically.

Immortalists support efforts to demolish all useless buildings (read here all 100 types of such businesses) so that every single family home that becomes a meditative temple of rest and rejuvenation, to build a world of kindness and tranquility*)*. Since guys want sex sometimes 5-10 times more than the lady, and it leads to abortion or contraceptive use that damages body too, the way most societies 'punish' or educate only women is completely unjust and ineffective; punishment doesn't solve anything, only education, so these courses, can be longer the older the fetus aborted is, to provide more healing and they can measure the brainwaves, alertness when coming to the course monthly checkup to prove their online course is done in a rested state and not as a formality, they can get even time off work to rest more and understand the most important topic of education, being happy, tone of speech, etc. Even when people buy contraception, they can get a PDF and also a free link to an optional course on how not to disturb the human quantum field by not aborting tiny embryods so often. People can debate and decide on a fair system that doesn't scapegoat/blame misinformed women for what 8 billion people co-created. Then, that national federal or planetary law becomes the one way, updated as more data comes on the best educational system changes, instead of having 5000 laws in 5000 provinces, states, etc and wsting so much time reinventing the wheel. It's a lot better to educate, so it doesn't happen, via civic education or whatever classes.

Instead of ending all violent content that leads to violent crime, they distract the enslaved masses with debates about abortion and gun laws - to not allow them to realize how enslaved they're and believe they're free☺☺☺. Abortion is not an issue when people know meditation is 1000+ times higher bliss than sex, so then they don't ever have sex except for procreation or ultra rarely way outside ovulation window, and that living to 900 in bliss meditating and smiling always is much more freedom than fighting and protesting all day pro and con endless created 'issues' to distract or create the illusion of 'free choice'. Gun violence is not an issue in eterni societies, as there would be no violent crime if we had better tone, filtering of media, movies, music, etc like in eterni societies. Instead of focusing on the substance, they focus on the flowery surface stuff, like rituals, to create division via different rituals, belief systems, denominations, divide and conquer, etc. It's like 1984 Orwell novel, the slaves, of all races, think they're free. They sing in "Proud to be an American" at rallies, empty slogans about death and dying as a mind controlled slave of the 'seemingly anti-eterni or surprisingly seemingly low in IQ' military industrial complex who can't or doesn't strongly want to figure out how to use only some of the trillion ways to peace without war and violence and instill a true ethics of a civilized military; so what about the terrible living conditions of the black people (sometimes other races too) who think that this black guy singing is freedom?

What about golf courses and empty churches, while many are homeless and cities say there is no space?☺☺☺ Empty buildings, gyms, sports facilities, huge courtyards for sports, etc liquor stores etc? What kind of freedom to live to 80 is this? Many die at 60, due to pollution, is this freedom? This happens to whites and hispanics too, etc, drive thru Los Angeles, in many 'good neighborhoods' and you suffocate breathing the most toxic smog, Big Oil legacy; what kind of freedom is this? Abortion, arguably, in some cases, can lead to a happy child born in a happy family, not one brought by force of a law or rape; when a violent person rapes, the music he listened to, etc that led to that behavior also caused DNA epigenetic changes in sperm that will bring a violent off-spring (just the interaction of such a father with the kid will make the kid subtly more violent, even without much DNA sperm change) and more conflict in the world, i.e. more death, so it is ethical to abort to prevent the perpetuation of violent DNA coming from rapists: we need to look at total lifespan years lost by humanity in the long run, not just one embryo. If we had laws to ban most (85+%) music today, which is so far from eterni, far from creating a sage in every person, far from serenity inducing, far from universal loving kindness in content and the vibe of Immortality for All in lyrics, then, rape, abortion and violent crime would be unheard of, as all would be 100 times gentler, happier and more saintly, focus on meditation bliss, and the natural happiness of granting all trillion year lifespans. Perhaps, some agree with me that it is the literature, TV-radio tone, movies and music that create most human behavior and ethical learning (and the mass rape, mass murder quotes in some 'holy word of God' scriptures too*, that oddly, clergy never want to ban or edit out, but want to ban abortion in all cases, showing a double standard),* we hear them all day on radio and TV and they determine our aggressiveness. Obviously, quantum entanglement between all humans means that the bigger (older) the baby is in the womb,☺☺☺ the more an abortion affects the field of all human beings, much like killing a human does in war, so it makes sense for some who want Immortal lifespans (which also means World Peace) to support abortion more in the extreme cases and when embryo is small, via informing about meditative bliss, not by imposition of law. The ideal way for a change in society is for people to choose it, not for the state to impose it by fear, force and punishment. Clergy tell us to be honest and not hypocritical, but what kind of honest person tells folks that the Bible, Torah, Quran, etc is the Word of God? It's the meditative mystical Christianity (that Martin Luther helped diminish, by being so against meditation, contemplative life, monks, nuns, etc) that is exterminated in our world and with it natural happiness that doesn't depend on sexual affection or kisses and hugs. While I agree 100% with the Protestants on with the need to reform Catholicism (wrote a lot about it), some Luther ideas seem regressive and in his genuine zeal for more ethics (money doesn't avoid 'purgatory', etc), he led many Protestants (not all) away from the inner life of being relaxed, meditative, contemplative, discovering the way the brain works. But he gave people freedom from odd rituals, etc.

14.5. What would 900 year old humans believe about the Messiah(s)?

14.5.1. Intro: The Messiah Obsession

This is a long section that deals with the Messiahs in various religions, for the education and discernment of those who're intentionally not presented with the evil quotes by clergy, so as to not realize how much 'Messi-ng up' of the World Peace the 'Messiahs', prophets did at times. Super Bowl, the US football series, sounds like Baal (see how many Jews, Syrians worshipped Baal for eons) a little, a Bible name of Satan that refers to a deity they sacrificed kids to, just like football, baseball, softball, etc, why this name, is USA run by Satanists who do human sacrifice via eternal wars like in this California mock sacrifice where infernal voice males lead the burning of a real or fake girl or Jer 19:5*? If so, how can we liberate USA without any violence, using God's* nonviolent methods*?, since God knows* a trillion ways to peace without any negativity. Simple: education, realize the Bible is super cruel, violent and those Baal/Yahweh guys were often just like any religion today, going to temple once a year, knowing nothing about the sacrifice of humans, so the Bible (for profit?) 'prophet' killed all indiscriminately, without even giving those who didn't kill anyone freedom after educating them. Just because they had some clergy or subgroup who killed children like Aztecs did didn't mean all were aware of it, just as today, few are aware of what goes on behind the scenes, in all religious places or Catholic churches that spend 40% of weekday liturgy on simulating the sacrifice of Jesus and the cannibalistic eating of Jesus blood, as wine, and body, as wafer, during Eucharist. Allegedly even the Chinese Shang dynasty in 1200-1000 BC*,* allegedly Korea too, Tibet*, and possibly 70 other nations on virtually every continent* Wikipedia lists of alleged ancient and present *sacrifices: this means Jews probably simply copied their ideas from others, so imagined 'God' would 'ask a guy to sacrifice his son' and that garbage became the "holy Bible". Others sealed people alive inside temples, so*

"buildings last longer", we find such stories in many cultures, due to the low IQ of those folks.

Another name for Baal was Molech, as in mole, spy, or chemical mole ($6.022*10^{23}$ molecules or atoms, or 22.4 liters of gas at room temp and pressure for 16 grams of oxygen, since that is a common unit of measurement on Earth, but on other planets a weight basic unit (gram) is different and a mole is 16 units of that unit (their 'gram', which may be 30.2 g: 1 gram is 1 cubic centimeter of water, the all common solvent on Earth), as with Ukraine invasion on 2-24), *molec*ule. Isn't it odd, how this *Molec*h mauls humans sacrificed to him, as if the satanists were or are a lot more embedded in science, and aristocracy-royal families, church leadership than people ever knew? Mole is mass in Latin, ulus or culus is used for diminutive, so a unit of a mole became molecula, then molecule. The odd thing is why they chose molecule, when they could have chosen another word for mole and its diminutive molecula. While it may be an accident, it is a little suspect, to say the least, to call a building block of the physical universe after Satan, since in Christianity, they have the folks who believe the physical universe was built by 'satan', the made up guy, and the heavens by others and God, so it's as if the scientists were fanatical Christians. No worries, nobody with any IQ cares that ants on Earth believe in fairy tales and that the 'physical' universe was made up by one 'archangel' and the other trillion universes by 'other archangels'. Anyone with any brains thinks this is a story for 2nd graders, but personally, I could care less, given the ☺abysmal IQ☺ of earthlings. They love to maul chicken males in egg factory farms by the billions. Love God? Go vegan. Why would the Italian Jews who made up Christianity (the Catholics) use satanic cannibalistic ritual of eating blood and body at Mass and claim Jesus said that? Did the Baal loving Jews infiltrate and control a LOT more than Italy, by posing as Christians? Was Jesus a Satanist? It makes us suspect, some European Ashkenazi Jews, disguised as gentile Christian royals, scientists, aristocrats, clergy, in love with Molech, have invented these names. Some use the cover of a pastor for other purposes, for draining the US government (the tax paying poor starving or homeless) of money via tax exempt status, but it is logical God can connect to everyone and it's better to be safe, than to go where your kids may be lunch (missing) or take part in Baal rituals as 'altar boys' satisfying the sexual needs of 'celibate' Catholic or etc pastors, since these same 'pastors' tell our kids that these 5 quotes from the 'holy' Bible are the 'Word of the Lord': Ju 21:10-24 mass rape, + Nu 31:7-18: mass rape Moses says to kill every boy + nonvirgin, De 20:10-14, De 21:10-14, Ju 5:30. See the baptism in the Orthodox church in Russia, and question if this is from God or Baal. Christianity was made by Jews, like Paul, etc, the disciples, so imagine what the real agenda was, given the way Jewish Law treats non-Jews (see Arab casualties) as explained in Schulchan Aruch, see examples of doctors told to not heal gentiles even while taking payment here. You're ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ invited to read the quotes of the Pastor promoted Bible that further clarify the 'bad type of Jew' attitude towards non-Jews: Ex 21:7-11 (sex slaves), Lev 25:44-6 (slaves), De 23:20 (business), genocide: De 7:1-16, De 20:10-17, De 13:13-18, Ju 20:48, Ex 32:26-9. Would you feel safe having kids sent to such a place, where endless quotes such as these are promoted as the 'Word of God'? Why are they hiding these quotes from your kids? Read more kids quotes here.

Perhaps, just town, village Immortality centers with nice meditative places, singing places and remote online learning of ethics, on ethics.gov, etc would be great, let us deal with the enormous threats to human life, teach kids science, chemistry of eterni food since if Yellowstone erupts, 7 billion people may die due to famine. We have gigantic temples, Mormon, and others, churches, etc, yet endless homeless or starving people, punished in jails unjustly by an irresponsible society and government, (educate all, give all education, heal all, resources exist to replace all jails with amazing & beautiful healing education centers more beautiful than Mormon temples even, we got endless gyms, stadiums, vape stores, weed stores, liquor stores, redundancy, 1 million companies, instead of 100, in some industries, so tons of HR, admin, duplication, etc) Mormons, Christians, etc of all races in jail, while Mormons for example torture pigs during pig wrestling sports. If Christ was so transforming, then how can it be so? Immortality for Mormons, Christians who're not scapegoated by the government only? Jesus even scared people that they will go to prison if they don't settle fast with a Mafia member trying to extort them, in Mat 5:25, because his IQ was so low, Jesus could not imagine a world without prisons even. ☺☺☺ He talks much about judges, courts and prisons and never tells people the jails, courts, etc can obviously disappear and that his followers can do that in 30+ years if they're super serious about it, and be replaced with courses, healing centers and fines, that even healing oases can disappear and all correction can be done at home or a special vacation to watch nice educational courses; Jesus advises people to act out of fear, to be doormats, to be manipulated, intimidated so evil can rule and the planet can be run by mafia gangsters, with no justice or kindness, but with adversaries and fights; wecan't settle for anything less than World Peace in 3 months and 0 violent crime and jails within a few decades; his advice of settling with an adversary may seem good and nice, to save court's costs, but it's distracting from the big picture; to have true justice is to prevent evil before it happens via immortalist culture and education; then, as Tao Te Ching subtly hints at, though not stating it explicitely, there is no need of courts or jails, since everyone follows the Tao, i.e. the eternitone from gentle breathing, like the immortalist greeting, meditating (turning off all distractions to rest daily), has so much transformed us, we always speak and act so ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺; (well, initially in public or youtube, then more in private life); Jesus can't even imagine a future with no courts, since his IQ is low, not that of a God man: in the future, everyone is so kind, courts and jails don't even exist, because there is no need for that, people figure out what happened and fix the system, not punish one scapegoat and waste eons to find which person to scapegoat in the court system; the fix the cause, not the symptom, let all figure it out, how to fix it, collectively, thru the Immortality Nurturing Agency, kind helping each other, the whole town, country, not the courts, not the punishing of any sort, not the punishing tone of genocide of Bible, but the tone of healing. The Jesus energy/quotes are in the Bible section.

For 2000 years of Christ energy in Europe we have experienced a system of cruelty, unforgiveness and torture that defies description, as the fake miracles section explains, not just Inquisition torture to death, but jailing and torturing of millions, wrongly scapegoated to hide the government mistakes in education: now it's free, email 3000 pdfs to people, 3000 videos, etc, uplift the vibe, create the tone of eternal gentleness from prebirth to 25. Ugarit is northern Syria, where Baal was strong, and where God☺☺☺, the real God, not Baal or Yahweh, seems to have given a (man made?) Feb 6th 2023 Turkey earthq*uake (48K dead, Feb 20th aftershock too, see 900K dead possible in the next Cascadia earthquake that floods the West Coast of Canada, USA - California too, Mexico; areas with landslide from mountains and lakes can cause waves of 400-1700 feet, please don't live near lakes near tall mountains, since death is 98% certain if tsunami by rock fall happens. Live simply for humanity, like immortalists, anything heavy, shelves with books, etc will kill people,* 99% of deaths in Northridge earthquake were from furniture, not buildings*; have online PDFs),* where the Syria war happened, the big battle, between the more open minded Alawites and the Turkey supported rebels who still occupy North Syria after demolishing much of it; Turkey may still have Baal worshippers as this video shows animal or human sacrifice. See fake miracles long discussion to understand why many are not sure if Jesus claimed to fight or fought Baal/Satan: the scribe made up Gospel claims in Luke 22:19-20 that Jesus was such an egomaniac, that people had to recall him or his teachings by simulating cannibalism, i.e. by saying in every church, Catholics at least, in 40% of the daily weekday service, the Eucharist ritual of eating Jesus blood and body, as wafer and wine, that removes all sins via that prayer, no good action required... is that from God or who, bored people, vampires, cannibals, people who tried to prevent animal or human sacrifice by saying Jesus did it, so don't do it... but why do we have to simulate human sacrifice for Eternity and never evolve past that slavery to the pastor with the wafer? So, per Jesus the "Only Son of God", by the ritual of eating someone's (Jesus in this case) blood and body, we become holy and close to God??? Nothing else can work? Does anyone think there is something wrong with this picture and imagery from the "special son of God"? sola scriptura? "in memory of me, do this.." Jesus says that all have to recall Jesus, not God, isn't that odd? That is why Protestants do it 0 to 15 a year, instead of 365 times a year, they have more freedom to think and design, Catholics follow the Vatican dictates.

It's interesting how many believe Jesus was the Messiah or that the words in the Gospel are his words, unchanged by kings, scribes, emperors, liars, spies, hear say errors. Jesus did not make one single prediction, of an event, specific one that came true (we went circling the Earth in a spacecraft etc), not general stuff like "you will do greater things than I did", since that's true of any future generation: Jesus had no ESP, let alone superpowers to modify matter. All his miracles were faked, staged, though in general primitive people unaware of how spontaneous emissions can happen for some things, ignoring all cases when prayer doesn't work or mere auto suggestion doesn't work as condition is less able to be brain influenced. By his fruits, we shall know him, if he was so psychic, how come he didn't write or speak in a nicer way like we find in 10000 poems online today, all the time, to help Gentiles to move beyond cruelty? How come, in his genius, beyond all time, he could not give us a peaceful song of romance or something like that to manifest a wholly different vibe than the New Testament, instead of so many swear words, insults and violence against unaware merchants? Read his evil Mat 5:29-30 words of a sick mind about cutting one's hand and taking one's eye out for just looking with curiosity at a woman, due to the woman's tone of speech being 100 times more eterni than that the TV music video 'rabbi' assigned to you by forced marriage or subliminal message to like (he created your values, hypnotized entire continents, he told you what to like, what to think, what to pray, whom to deify, how to intone, how to yell and shout while singing and praying with no gentle tender soft nurturing grace, how to speak and yell in parliament,☺☺☺ (instead of doing it more like Eternia, with the one kind language*))*, etc; instead of listening to Jesus, Moses, Bible, it's possibly smarter, if you sin or make a mistake, simply, get some healing from meditation, walking in nature, forgive self, listen to some serene eterni healing music and lyrics and such as we got today and stop reading the Bible cruel quotes calling for genocide of entire nationalities and exert your free will to deify inner beauty, tone of speech, and to see the soul, not what is left after the 'evil type of' Jew or others destroyed a gentile woman tone of speech via state sponsored destruction of throat with microwaves, brain and eyes with infrasound, sleep deprivation, malnutrition terror. Because, it's the spirit, that overcomes the terror, the spirit that overrides DNA, thru immortalist culture and hope springs eternal. What's wrong with questioning your decision? *If no peace and love of immortalism exists from both, a marriage makes little sense (today, due to the nature of many, marriage makes less sense) since it delays marrying the soul of all as in* World Peace in 3 months and 0 violent crime in 1-3 decades, for to love God is to love all and to place human family above all else, to place happy | Immortality for All | above all else, to finally break from the cage of selfishness and to "marry All", as a World Peace in 3 months bringer does, for he loves the God in all, he "weds them all", so to speak: his love is universal, he's not truly super happy without World peace in 3 months, for he knows our time is short and humanity can soon disappear in 10 seconds, unless we part with our cruel ways the bible quotes have programmed us with for so long, and other scriptures too. If there are arguments, or partner doesn't want to talk the eterni way, to live the way of peace, it's not a sin to look elsewhere, divorce, because you're not looking for lust, but for experiencing eternal bliss and having a true focus on spirit, a true greeting of spirit when meeting, doing what raises the human quantum field to the soft gentle serene nurturing vibe of happy Immortality for All, not just some spouse. Pastors don't always tell us when something is metaphor and when it is not.

God and any advanced being like Immortals, by his presence, transforms all, and has real ESP, has no temper. If someone or his fans would claim today that he's the Only Begotten Son of God (Jesus), The Incarnation of the Supreme God (Krishna, inciter to genocide), the Ultimate or Final (for profit?) prophet (Mohamed) or the Supreme Buddha of all Lands, a special soul unlike any other, many people would naturally want some proof, that demonstrates His mastery over many galaxies, universes, dimensions. Thus, at least He could verifiably move the moon, make the sun cooler at will, create tornadoes and stop hurricanes at will, cause volcanic eruptions at will, predict people have video phones this century and travel to Venus, Jupiter, etc, make stars appear in different colors, teleport a million people spiritually to many galaxies and universes to see what goes on, some physically, show millions of people how he can cool other suns and move other planets and moons, lift local mountains 3 miles and put them back without causing any damage, cure all people with diabetes and heart disease on the planet, remove arterial plaque in all 8 billion inhabitants, multiply organs for those in need of a transplant, regrow limbs for all those who lost limbs, cure blindness for everyone, cure deafness, etc like a true God, exactly like we today, mere mortals, using various techs can give sight to blind, hearing to deaf, to thousands of people. But what did Jesus, Buddha, Mohamed, Krishna, etc do for which we have absolute video and physical proof that no skeptic can deny??? It's not known if the words and actions attributed to these people are even factual or theirs and not changed by scribes, who wanted a religion to be created; either way, many argue that a decent government can't accept the promotion of such violent quotes under the cover of "religion", if it wants 0 violent crime, texts need some editing, etc. Buddha never claimed to be some supreme Buddha, but Buddhism over time created denominations stating that and many other "unbelievable almost" miracles stories (this is true in Hinduism, Islam, Christianity too), which raises questions about motives and political struggles for control of religion by new denomination creation or vast changes to existing denomination. Religions are a human creation (sometimes not intended by the "founder") influenced by many factors, including politics. ☺☺☺

In ancient Tibet, the political power was in the hands of the clergy, so was in other areas of ancient times, so religion and the drive to control other people are intersecting a lot, as in "control religion, control a nation". Thus it becomes difficult to understand which events were genuine and which were made up in the desire for political power (made up not by the main (for profit?) 'prophet', but by those creating the religion or new miracles within various denominations), or which became facts due to mistranslation, hear say, rumors, unintentional events. One of England's kings (Henry the 8th) created the Anglican church to avoid interference of the Catholic Church into Britain's affairs. Sun Tzu (born 544 BC) said in the "Art of War" that "The best warrior takes over a whole country without waging war". This shows that even when

Buddhism emerged, people were pretty good at making stuff up and people could have thought of peaceful religions as an alternative (way to conquer areas) to war. Buddha (born 563 BC) was the son of a king, was it all natural or was there some political goal there, achieved by installing Buddhist kings all over Asia? If it was a faked enlightenment experience for expanding his father's influence, then Buddha achieved incredible things without any violence, earning for himself the "best warrior" title. Mohamed was not so subtle, as he waged many wars. Jesus killed nobody, unlike Mohamed. Albert Einstein said to "Question everything", ☺☺☺ Euripides said to "Question everything. Learn something. Answer nothing". What about other religions? If we have a hypothesis, how do we test or prove it? If an alien group controls a galactic sector, they can even create via advanced tech endless "miracles" (no need to make stories up as tech is so advanced), and then pretend they're the masters of the whole universe. However, if Jesus (or anyone's favorite religious leader) is a special soul only in subuniverses or hyperuniverse, that can be impossible to prove physically. The 'Infinite intelligence of the Only Son of God' doesn't seem in my view to be compatible with a lot of the phrases and words in the Gospel like "Nobody goes to the Father except thru me" John 14:6 and others in section 14.2, which can mean if people have not heard of the Jesus story, or don't agree with the hypotheses provided without any strong evidence, they burn in hell forever; apparently, the religion creators wanted to condition all to worship and deify Jesus unconditionally, without any questioning, and thus to worship his violence too, to make people think "if you don't get violent like Jesus did in Mat 21:12 in the temple, you won't join Heaven" and "believe "only violence will get you to Heaven" like in other religions, which fits into the militaristic Roman, etc empire needs, they want efficient soldiers, low IQ puppet cannon fodder to do the dirty job for the mastery of new lands: "for Jesus you fight, because the general, doesn't even believe in it, but he doesn't care much". A loving intelligent being has patience and understanding, doesn't punish souls for Eternity or even 10^{18} years for failing to understand (how "nonviolent", Godly Jesus was) in 10^{2} years or "one nanosecond of a femtosecond" of their next 10^{27} years of their life as a soul. "Jesus" said it, so it's true? If Jesus existed, nobody knows what he said anyway, no reliable record exists.☺☺☺

What is the proof afterlife is so simple as described in all present religions on Earth, when it could be a quadrillion to the power of a trillion more complex or infinitely complex? Taoism lacks a Messiah figure and is correctly admitting we don't know, but it has some issues too: in the Taoist temples people invented practices, beliefs without evidence and ritual-like thinking that contradict Tao Te Ching; there is also a focus in Tao Te Ching on going with the flow, doing nothing and valuing neither life or death, i.e. remaining a stone age civilization without any aim to live longer and cure diseases, since that text was written 2,500 years ago before the age of modern science. Most Tao Te Ching refers to many patterns Lao Tze observed that are true eternally. In Bhagavad Gita we're to believe that God wants war and that the author is "God", not a human. God is infinite intelligence and unlike "Krishna", who advises Arjuna to wage war, God knows a quadrillion ways to achieve an end without war. In the Quran and the Torah part of the Bible, if read literally, it seems that "God" wants a lot of war. Who inspires these ideas? If bad aliens exist (who battle the 0.001% of human soul incarnated in a body, via limited resources they have to control this area of the universe in an attempt to control other dimensions), could they try to contaminate religions to instigate human-human war to ensure short-lives and ignorance for humans? Is it just the historical inertia, people fighting a lot? Because of these contradictions, in the age of peer reviewed studies, when we need strong evidence beyond faked studies, it is hard to be sure which religious events are factual and which are fiction. If we want to prepare to live kindly and lovingly in Heaven, we need to live kindly and lovingly on Earth, but such living is not possible when the world is full of war, diseases, natural disasters that bring endless suffering and pain. People can't be very kind when they're in pain, nor can they be a healing presence, just as person with the flu can't heal a person without the flu. To be kinder and try to learn infinite kindness*, it seems that we benefit from* science discoveries to eliminate "war, diseases, rapid aging, natural disasters, all things that bring pain to humans". We can see thus how to be spiritual can mean to help to bring the Civilization of "Immortals"☺☺☺ that minimizes pain, suffering, maximizes kindness, universal compassionate helpfulness. Therefore, we can hypothesize that we don't necessarily need to repeat prayers or rituals filled with unproven assumptions and hypotheses, but to bring wellbeing, health, inner peace and 4000 year lifespan to the maximum number of people. Another valid argument against "blind believing" some text is the "holy word" (each group claims theirs is the holy or best word of God) is using a text search for various terms like "death", "kill" etc and counting how many times in a text we encounter phrases that call for violence. In some scriptures, the density of such calls is so high that it makes many doubt everything in the text. They even counted such calls, many scholars did this for comparison and better analysis. That's probably how people were back then around Israel, not God who people claim inspired those ideas. Very few people know even what their scripture contains, as they make all efforts in religious education to not talk about those paragraphs and sentences, in efforts to whitewash religion.☺☺☺

In the Gospel it says to help the poor, the needy, the less fortunate, etc, to heal the sick, give them thus longer life because "What I have done you will also do and much more" John 14:12. Would "Immortals" of the future then become little "mini-Messiahs" if they do all Jesus did? Does being a disciple of the Messiah mean being like the humans in the future world of 500 year old "Immortals"? What is the real meaning of being a disciple of Truth or Godliness in whatever religion? In US alone we got 2 million people in prison and about 0.4 million places of worship, each with at least one pastor.☺☺☺ Some churches, bigger ones, have several people full time engaged in the church/temple activities, etc, but tiny churches have only a 10 hour a week

pastor doing it as a hobby almost besides his job, but overall, we got half a million people engaged in almost full time religious work for 2 million prisoners. Imagine if a greater fraction of the time (just 1-3 hours extra a week instead of talking so much about concepts that can't be proven like "Mary (and many others in many religions) ascended into Heaven physically or you're saved by Grace not by action or we know what happens in the afterlife" when we don't know exactly as Chapter 2 explains) of these 0.5 million would be spent building healing centers and better housing in all prisons to transform them into healing educational centers that eliminate all crime almost on Earth, taking part in painting, drywall setup, things like Habitat for Humanity or lihi volunteers do, and inspiring church members to volunteer 1-3 hours weekly to join the clergy to build these healing centers and better "prison" (would be a healing center) housing with the help of the "prisoners", since 90% of habitat for humanity houses are built by volunteers. Lots of places of worship sit closed and empty most of the 168 hours a week, actually hundreds of thousands, yet many people are homeless. We got almost half a million churches in US, half a million homeless and 16 million empty homes, the living kindness of Universal Immortality for All in action? They lie there is no space or building material, but facts don't lie. Likewise, the 5,300 US colleges can get a new building for Immortality Department (like Math, Physics Departments) built by college student volunteers who bring Heaven on Earth, the world of no disease and no rapid aging. Why can't physical education classes alternate (1 week gentle soft stretching, etc, 1 week building) to include going to build these things for older people, to get familiar with physical activity in service to "Heaven on Earth"? US would become the first country with no violent crime fast, later no crime and 200, later 4000 year lifespans. ☺☺

Probably God doesn't care so much about discussing a lot about some verses in scripture as about taking some of millions of uninhabitable units among the 16 million empty homes (in US) and making them livable so a homeless (sometimes veterans who defended the pastors from some attacks) person can live there (half a million homeless in US) with lower rent (maybe some special deal between government and private owners, etc) and receive more assistance from clergy to remove addiction to drugs, alcohol, gambling, etc. Same thing with longevity outreach via physical/mental activity (the building of research centers to double human lifespan) or like volunteer doctors, nurses who help others live longer via free clinics. People imitate those around them. If they see amazing & beautiful ☺☺☺ videos of peaceful people helping others cure disease and live longer, this becomes their role model. If they see this 24-7 decorated colorful cheerful (festive like, intellectually stimulating) healing center with angelic peaceful music and tone of speech, they imitate that and start talking/acting like angels. How can crime disappear if people's minds are flooded with ideas (music or movies, ads telling people to drink, smoke, gamble) that lead to use of alcohol, drugs, tobacco, violence, casinos? Maybe the future 400 year old "Immortals" would believe evolved☺☺☺ beings or God sends projections of their hyper-universe or subuniverse self to trillions of planets, galaxies, dimensions. Or maybe not, or maybe both yes and no, since language doesn't have to be binary. As Chapter 2 on Not Knowing explains, we may not be able to really know with 100% certainty. It could also be that they believe via telepathy, God, angelic spirits give millions of inhabitants, scientists, ideas, inventions, scientific discoveries so they can evolve their science and culture, and achieve a Civilization of Immortals thru hypothesis formulation and testing, without the need for worship of any person, to avoid the trap of guru worship and charlatans taking advantage of gullible masses. Guru worship worship cancels all questioning and thinking. Aware of this human tendency to deceive, it would make sense for spirits to release grace, inventions, ideas, paranormal "miracles" (precognition, small miracles) and advancements of the humankind thru millions of people, to avoid a small group or one individual from abusing power and trying to manipulate millions into worshiping him and doing evil things for him. However, if one's definition of "Messiah" is the equivalent of a very noble person, like some saints in some religions or some amazing saintly inventors (Tesla like), etc, then obviously, there can be many "Messiahs" just like they got them in all religions where they call those people "saints". In Judaism for example, there can be many Messiahs (for each generation, etc) as explained below. A problem with the savior concept is that people look for "someone" to save them and have less incentive to bring about change (World Peace for example) themselves or to try to improve themselves slightly every day, little by little, to become more perfect. This "savior idea" has also been abused by unethical people over the ages to manipulate naive people into doing unethical or even hurtful things, as they were the only ones to "communicate or interface with the Savior figure", when God or angelic spirits assigned to our galaxy obviously don't need intermediates.

Even this day, there are people in many religions who use "stage magic tricks" or deception to claim they got supernatural powers or that mind blowing miracles happen around them in order to get money or favors from people. As mentioned above, God, Pure intelligence, possibly or most likely doesn't want any worship, but true understanding. It's very interesting if you study all religions, we have a lot of science fiction like stories, of people physically disappearing into another dimension for example: Judaism (in the Bible/Torah ► Enoch, Elijah and in the Talmud ► Serach, Eliezer, Hiram (familiar to those who googled freemasonry perhaps), Bithiah, Ebed-Melech), Christianity (Jesus, Mary, and 5 saints of the Mormons who're Immortal, but didn't really ascend), Shamanism (some shamans), Taoism (the 8 Immortals and some others), Hinduism (Vallalar in 1874 and many other Siddhas before) and of course Bon Religion of Tibet + Tibetan Buddhism (many thousands have attained the rainbow body). Now, the question arises, how many Messiahs or mini-Messiahs do people have on Earth? If we study all religions carefully, it seems like a lot of them. Is that good or bad? It's hard to tell. ☺☺☺ People create Messiahs, Nobel Laureates, saints also due to a need for role models; we could argue that these role models, concepts are useful for the development of ethics within a society, while at the same time seeing some problems that can arise from this in certain cases. The study of spiritual beliefs and many religions, shows that many religions or spiritual belief systems have similar accounts of miracles, even if some people who read less are not aware of it: virgin births or (for profit?) 'prophets' being born out of thin air on a lotus, multiplication of food. Healings always can happen due to many diseases being psychosomatic and the brain healing the body. wiki...on explains that "Admirers pointed to traditional Jewish theology which teaches that in every generation there is one person who is worthy of being the Messiah, and if God deems the times right, he will be revealed by God as such. Chabad followers also pointed to a tradition that in every generation there is one person who is considered the Messiah of the generation". Many of Menachem admirers thought Menachem was the Messiah, due to his uniqueness, but he said he's not. This can explain why if someone unique appears, people think he's the Messiah and may even edit the words of that person to say he claimed to be the Messiah, even if that person didn't say so. In Judaism apparently, others have claimed to be mini-Messiahs (for a time and place only perhaps), like Sabbatai Zevi who said that he's some Messiah (or someone said it first) and then converted to Islam. Wikipedia says originally Messiah was a very broad definition that included prophets, priests, kings, see a purported list of other Jewish Messiahs claimants, Jesus being the most famous. Many Jews think Jesus is the Messiah since Christians helped restore Israel. Assuming Jesus said he's some Messiah (no proof exists Jesus did), what kind of Messiah did Jesus believe he is? What happened with Jesus? Did people believe Jesus was the Messiah? Wikipedia has a list of people who said they're the reincarnation of Jesus. Things get very complicated when we start talking about defining what the Messiah is, Messiah for who? For all galaxies and universes, for a generation? John 1:29 says "Behold the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world" (i.e no need to kill lambs or animals, Jesus sacrificed himself to take away sins, which was very kind towards animals and all humans who became kinder for that) in the Catholic Mass, etc. But what if the suffering of the world, the sin of the world (not talking about concepts like "original sin" here, just the daily mistakes etc), is mainly due to ignorance or lack of Scientific Immortality Knowledge and a lack of a Strong☺ " Civilization of Immortals like" Education and Culture of loving kindness for All Beings (animals too), as when B_3 cured pellagra and C cured scurvy, vaccines cured infectious diseases, sanitation halted their spread, all due to the hard work of World's Less Sung Heroes, the scientists and engineers who tirelessly formulate and test new hypotheses to improve the wellbeing of all thru Knowledge (not ritual), Eternal Questioning of every story and theory? It becomes very challenging to adopt the growth mindset "we can fix the world, we can bring World Peace and Heaven on Earth", if all we do is "wait for someone to take away sins and save the world and bring World Peace or come a second time".☺ The fixed mindset is we can't bring World Peace "until Messiah or Jesus comes" or something happens. If the world can be fixed, as Jesus said in John 14:12 thru works greater than those done by him, why are some people waiting so much? ☺☺☺

Wikipedia is edited by anyone, so it's not always a reliable source of information, especially on historical events from many centuries ago. So, then, what is a Messiah? A mini-Messiah of a generation can reincarnate in some religions (not just Lamas in Tibetan Buddhism). There could be one big Messiah in the Universe, taking human form too, but that's of course hard to prove, as we can't go to trillions of planets. In Matthew 24:34 Jesus says "this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things (end times, second coming) have happened.", does his second coming (and "end times") refer to the apparitions of his spirit form in the 1st century, like astral travel second coming from clouds from a Mars astral travel trip? We don't know, as Chapter 2 explains. Even if Jesus would come again, as many Christians and Muslims believe, we still need Hypothesis Formulation, Testing, to cure diseases and abide by Jesus' call to "cure the sick", as we did via stem cells curing the blind, cochlear implants "curing" the deaf (they are working on stem cell cure for deafness) and paralyzed. Why not cure all age-related diseases by postponing all of them by 500 years via longevity science? Perhaps, we can just speculate what future humans (or aliens) (who live for thousands of years or millions and create planets and are on 9,000 planets) think about these Messiah concepts? They might think these are useful concepts for primitive folks, even if sometimes not very accurate from their point of view, concepts that help people get to the level of understanding that their soul longs for. ☺☺☺

If Jesus talked figuratively of a renewal of spirits or evolution, some may claim he said "the dead will rise and resurrect" because this is what they, the scribes (may not be the disciples) believe he meant and attribute it to him, to make people accept him, to make people resonate with him via their local beliefs, since if the scribe told the strangers Jesus' real beliefs, they may be turned away, and they themselves the disciples could not even understand him. If Jesus traveled a lot (in the missing years) and learned a lot from others from Tibet, etc, when talking to local average people he may have come across as a strange man, and if he did some 'miracles' too, the oddity of his language and behavior makes him an easy target for misunderstanding, so the contradictions in the 50 Gospels are there. He may say we're children of God and then people might think he meant he's the "only" son of God, etc. ☺☺☺ If people were looking for a Messiah, and he did miracles, many assumed he's the one, and he may have said nothing to be polite, which others assumed meant that "Jesus told them he's the Messiah". Some claim he taught reincarnation can occur, etc. Many groups claim Jesus taught their beliefs. Another example of distortion of Jesus events would be if the "Essene no animal sacrifice faction" Jews accompanied Jesus when he went to the temple one time and an argument arose after one of the other group (animal sacrifice) made a remark that could be interpreted as slightly insulting for the Essenes, even if it was not meant that way. An Essene guy near Jesus could have replied back in a possibly insulting way, even if not intended that way, and soon a little physical thing developed and in the exchange one accidentally pushed Jesus (who was watching and asking them to stop) and he fell over the sacrifice animal trader's table causing it to come down, and then story became that "Jesus came and turned over our table", which was eagerly believed by the animal sacrifice faction. So, one can see how events that didn't happen became "events". ☺ When Jesus or anyone is supposedly using less than kind speech in any scripture, the scribes could have intentionally made it to be that way, to make Jesus image more "leader" like in their definition of "leader" which could be wrong, as a trillion year old Immortal has infinite love for all beings, possibly practicing healing uplifting gentle nurturing Chapter 8 speech at all times, especially if the "Only" Son, older than all Immortals, except God. ☺☺☺

We can analyze a little the Tibetan "reincarnation verification" process, which includes selecting some children and treating them like "emperors" (lamas were kings), very nicely, with loving vibrations and doing some tests to see if kids matched the personality, preferences of the past lama and maybe recognize which objects belong to the lama. ☺ Kids are the most psychic individuals, they can be the most objective mind readers, as they know the least and have weakest brain filters. When a kid is treated very nicely, he establishes a very good rapport with those lamas who test him and the kid loves the game, attention, love. This dramatically increases his ESP, as good moods increase ESP and the kid wants to succeed, because he knows this will ensure continued love and attention, this further increases ESP, as shown in studies where desire to succeed increases ESP. By telepathy diffusion, as lamas already know the right object, he hears their thought and picks the object, without being aware he read their minds. This mind reading the kid can do even if he's NOT the reincarnation of the lama. If you test enough kids, you find one who has a similar personality, some of the same likes and identifies objects correctly. Then the living lamas assume he's the reincarnation and he's raised as lama. These lamas are like hundreds of Messiahs, boddhisatvas, who teach the dharma forever. In scientific evidence, we look for irrefutable proof and these "tests" fail to protect against errors. To really prove that someone is reincarnation of another, if this is even possible (see Chapter 2 explains "reincarnation" is far more complex and may happen very differently, across different subuniverse projections into virtual reality systems), the tests would have to be far more rigorous and complex. We're talking about projections of souls from other dimensions and we know nothing about those other dimensions almost. Our physics is simply not there. ☺☺☺

Chapter 2 explains in detail why reincarnation is very hard to verify. By getting too preoccupied with who is the reincarnation of who, we miss the opportunity to heal people by scientific discoveries and discover how to cure diseases (aging too) and live to 500 or 900 to get a much more advanced physics, ability to see video of past events via time travel, and to understand the universe far more than today. However, this is an interesting area of research and some cases exist, where one can easily hypothesize that, if people are honest in their claims it may be a genuine case of reincarnation. The way we cured so many diseases is through the enormous skepticism specific to hypothesis formulation and testing. Galileo was skeptical so he researched and discovered we're not the center of the universe. Rapidly believing things without real proof is not helping find the Truth. An essential part of being spiritual is to always Question every theory, story (is it true, did the scribe or someone invent it, did a false rumor spread) or belief system we're presented, so we arrive at the Truth. It's OK to not know the answer to every question, and perhaps more useful to finding the Truth, than pretending to know how the universe operates, when we can barely get out of our tiny planet. Living with not knowing is fine, it's natural, we will never know everything. Now, how did the Tibetans verify 800 Tibetans ascended, vanished into pure energy? There is no video of that ever happening, even if there are claims it happened in recent times (Khenpo A-chos, a Gelugpa monk of Khams, 1998, and others even more recently) when video technology existed. ☺ If the spirits who supervise this ascension are so merciful, why don't they arrange for a public ascension where this process can be recorded and can enlighten our physicists? After all, it would make Tibetan Buddhism many times more popular, helping to spread their religion. Everyone would be amazed, benefited, we could cure more diseases with interdimensional science, live to 200,000 perhaps.☺☺☺

In Buddhism and almost all religions we have a lot of scholarly debate as to what Buddha or the founder said and who wrote what texts. By analyzing historical context, one can get a much better understanding of the nuances of spirit telepathy. Many scholars believe Tao Te Ching was written by many authors and the legend created a Lao Tze as author, which then became the Godly (for profit?) 'prophet' of Taoists and their temples and many people worshiped Lao Tze. Who wrote Tao Te Ching doesn't matter, but the beautiful message of the text,☺ which is to choose peace and serve humanity, be selfless, center oneself, be kind and avoid conflict.☺☺☺ Wikipedia hypothesizes that "Modern scholarship has found likely influences in Hittite and Mesopotamian laws and treaties, but is divided over exactly when the Ten Commandments were written and who wrote them." ► wiki...Commandments. ☺ It's possible when Moses, if he wasn't a fictional hero, "met God/spirits on the mountain", his brain recycled the Slavery Cruelty Ideals of 3300 BC codes (which are the 5300 year old written codes, not the 30,000+ year old oral codes, from the slavery's start) giving them a unique Jewish spin detailed in the next 100 pages. ☺☺☺ Thus, Moses killed 3000 Jews Exodus 32:26-9, since "Don't kill, 10 commandments" were merely a cover for his genocidal nature, and Jewish Bible deifies slavery in Lev 25:44-6 and genocide, mass rape, slave beating like the Arab Iraq Codes of 3300 BC, the "Holy" demonic Bible was merely copying the demonic Arab Codes of Millennia, Bible being an Arab culture of genocide against slaves text). The Jewish Bible (Old Testament) is a charlatan copy of prevailing customs in the 'culture' of eternal subjugation among the ever fighting kingdoms of the 5000-1000 BC in the area.☺☺☺ It's not a revelation of God, but of human cruel psychopathy, as the next 100 pages detail. The New Testament is a garbage violent collection of Egyptian myths of resurrection on 3rd day, immortality mixed with Greek cruelty/kindness, Roman sadomasochism, in the background of existing Sumerian "culture" of the Old Testament.☺☺☺ Zoroastrian eschatology (end times hysteria) predates Christianity by 5-15 centuries, possibly 10-15, being based on Avesta scripture (written in Avestan language similar to Sanskrit) preaching 4 castes, ritual animal sacrifice (though they moved away from it later), fire worship in its theology, like Hindus sacrificing animals in the Vedas and today in Nepal. Islam cuts cows in a pool of blood on streets during Eid, causing red water flooding due to 100,000 sacrifices they do in Dhaka alone to celebrate how Abraham (Ibrahim) didn't kill his son (Ishmael) because God told Abraham to not kill him after asking him to kill his son to test his faith, per Jewish Bible who gave Islamic World endless blood on Streets, reminiscent of final bull sacrifice in Zoroaster eschatology. Thank to rabbis and pedophile rapist millionaire, etc Christian pastors spreading the Bible for all Islam and blood on streets, as Islam recycled the Bible.☺☺☺ This religion (Zoroaster was vegetarian supposedly, like many Hindus, hence some Jews became so too and preach veganism today, some Bible quotes too "He who kills an ox is as if he kills a man" (cow is holy in Hinduism, Hindus kill Muslims for attacking/eating cows, etc, and bull worship Iranian cults)) talked of a cosmic battle between good and evil, final judgment, cataclysms, resurrection, Messiah (Saoshyant), causing Jews during the Persian period (539-332 BCE) to add it to their religion, and Christians later too. Zoroastrians dance around a fire for millennia (see dance), like Jews do in their holidays (see dance), since Jews copied Zoroaster in the Bible and fire "vocal tone", see Jewish originality, 100% copying of Zoroaster, in religion, fire rituals and tones. Worship the inhalation of polyaromatic hydrocarbons, toxic carcinogens for the "Glory of Health". Notice the vocal "gentleness", the 'tender grace and healing nurturing compassion they exude'.☺☺☺

So much for "original Bible", but illiterate people claim Bible is unique: it's all garbage collected from Egyptian, Arab, Iranian, Hindu cults of 9000-1000 BC. Everyone copies everyone else's stuff, Hindus too from older religions we have no texts of. Nothing original, nothing "special telepathy from God". The 10 commandments are taken from ☺similar codes that existed, a phony set of rules for Jewish behavior among themselves, that doesn't apply when Jews deal with non-Jews, as the careful study of the Bible shows, such as wiki...Code of Hammurabi that the Israel puppet government of Syria removed from textbooks together with Ottoman genocides, the Islamist Syrian government that was OK with Israel bombing Syria's military (480 strikes) in Dec 2024 after Assad left for Moscow. The Jewish policy is to keep non-Jews (Arabs, etc) religious and low IQ, just like in the US/Europe: worship Jesus low IQ folks, "Jews invented all codes of conduct", hence ISIS (Mossad) destroys all traces of other civilizations and codes of conduct, since ISIS was made by Mossad and the Brit, Jew controlled CIA, Islamists and royals are often Jews keeping Arab states as ignorant slaves. Other codes Moses copied are wiki..Code_of_Ur-

Nammu (old law code from Iraq, Mesopotamia, written on tablets, in the Sumerian language), king of Ur (c. 2050 BC), the Laws of Eshnunna (c. 1930 BC)☺☺☺, Codex of Lipit-Ishtar of Isin (c. 1870 BC) wiki..Lipit-Ishtar. Ideas or telepathy from 'God' or "Moses' own brain" comes always thru the human filter, beliefs, knowledge, changing a little or totally via the scribe who writes what he believes, assumes or pretends Moses (or any scriptural hero) said. Wait, God doesn't know who is Moses' father in law either. He's confused. God, by definition, the First Immortal, is one without second, meaning omniscient, omnipresent, in charge of all universes, without fear or competition, and nobody else can be called God. However, because in those times there were many polytheistic beliefs in imagined or real "deities" telling people to do horrific things (like to kill people, etc) or God of crops and God of rain, peace, war, etc, Moses mentions "Have no other Gods"☺☺☺; this makes sense in that historical context, as Moses was perhaps trying to protect people from odd beliefs in "gods" who asked for atrocities, since other monotheistic religions already existed millennia before Judaism. Perhaps Moses didn't say that because God would fear or be jealous on other "gods", it was maybe just a way to express the right action to worship or praise good "spirits" or the real deal, due to his infinitely low IQ and fear that "if you say some human sounds allegedly calling some being" somehow you will give power of a trillion galaxies to some "fictional being", which is not possible, as we're a nanosecond infinitely small particle vs any big Immortal being. A human nanobacteria sound in a limited range won't call any nonexistent human invented 'deity' being. Any being out there would require at least a trillion to the power of a trillion words to be called (sophisticated info that no random sound can imitate), very encrypted and secret. Human bacteria can't do it with 1 word. It's just not smart to engage in violence or human sacrifice, so then Moses came up with that "don't worship those silly deities", listen to Yahweh invention Moses made up instead, Yahweh who kills 3000 Jews in a flash on Moses' whim☺☺☺. Infinite Love can't "command" or give commands (Love makes suggestions to help one live a longer happier life), psychotic Moses types who kill 3000 Jews in a flash do yell and command, some speculating it's mistranslation, misunderstanding of a historical context, God (or the spirit) may have meant "communion with God's Grace", but scribes or Moses didn't get that nuance perhaps. It's always good to think and question the alleged "Divine Word of the sewer Bible and most scriptures full of violence". Publishing of the Bible, Jewish scriptures, Quran with all bad quotes is a waste of time. The Catholics have no Bibles in the pews, only Vatican approved filtered texts called Missal, sort of like eterni filtered speech. The bad stuff was removed, because otherwise all will quit Christianity/Judaism/Islam (3 Arab cults) the next day:☺☺☺

14.5.2. The "Genocide, Cannibalism, Slavery, Theft, Rape of Billions" Quotes of "Prophets" & "god": the so called "religions" (scams to get tax free status) of genocide, mass rape, beating kids with rods, smashing kids against rocks, boiling of kids to eat them, beating slaves until they die in 2 weeks, months or years, as long as it's not within days and obvious Jew caused it, etc…:

Please read the origin of the Bible in the previous 2 pages and the 3 Bible quote supported plan to make Jews the majority religion in USA, as in the New York town where average age is 11, Jews have 10 kids, while they tell us to be gay and have 1 kid max, both parties are in Jewish hands. Below are 108+ pages on 3000+ Violent Quotes in the:

1). Mormon Book (254 total violent quotes: Mormons shot 120 innocent nonMormons dead),
2). Bible (1445, Torah & Tanakh (Old Testament, non-Christian scripture) part of Bible 1278, 100% of the ultra evil quotes are in the Tanakh, not in the Christian New Testament,
3). Talmud (Jewish ethics ►► 3 SHOCKING pages of Quotes: ►► "intercourse with 3 yr olds is OK","it is forbidden to heal a gentile" (Jew MD?), "gentiles are suspected of bloodshed", "death for gentiles who study Jew scriptures" (which detail how to enslave gentiles), "death for gentiles reporting Jewish misdeeds, for Jews quitting Judaism", "death for gentiles who plan to inform gov that a Jew owes 20$ he borrowed", "evade justice so Jews pay no fines and retain items they found that gentiles lost, if gentiles err and give more, keep it","if a gentile murders a Jew, he's liable. If a Jew murders a gentile, he's exempt… it is permitted for a Jew to rob a gentile", "kill the best of gentiles (in war)" (instead of capturing for creating high IQ offspring to raise IQ)
4). Confucius Analects and Tao Te Ching (6 violent quotes, see all 6, plus a 2 page analysis), 5). The Holy Quran (see 100+ videos, 30 pages) (545 violent quotes, see Quran topic index too), 6). Bhagavad Gita (17 violent quotes, a tiny part of the famous Mahabharata epic), 7). Mahabharata (800+ described in the 5 page Hindu section), 8). Dasam Granth (Sikhism, 400, one page of details is right before the Buddhist Dhammapada) that prove none of these are scriptures, but violent rantings that are anti-civilization, though Tao Te Ching and Analects are far more peaceful than the Bible-Quran. # 9). Dhammapada (Buddha) is the least violent, having only 5 semi violent quotes (see 6 pages of details), though their violence is lowest and subject to debate. Jesus created 3 billion severely beaten by alcoholics or dead who followed his Lk 22:19-20 advice to drink alcohol "in memory of me", not of God. Jesus says in Mt 5:17-9 that the genocide, rape, slavery quotes below are forever valid, so Jesus is an evil "demonic" liar who condones the genocide of "all God gave to you", mass rape, human sacrifice, arson quotes of the Old Testament or Tanakh. Jesus is a pathological liar, like fellow rabbi Moses who says to not kill, but then orders killing 3000. In Mt 21:12, 10:34-8 Jesus diabolically teaches humanity by living example to be violent by throwing people, tables, when a fraud who "levitates himself" could have gently levitated away the merchants' tables. A decent person, let alone "son of God" doesn't shove anyone. Jesus fraud chose to "materialize" 5000 loaves of bread, instead of 1 mg neurochemicals in 5 million dictators' brains to prevent all wars, violent crimes since 33 AD. Jesus chose instead to kill 1 billion, just to show off his nonexistent fraudulent powers given by scribes. If Jesus can grant 10^{90000} year lifespan in Heaven, why didn't he prove his "Immortality Bestowing powers" by giving 90000 Jews a 5000 year lifespan, which is a miracle 10^{80000} times easier to do? Jesus has diabolically caused 1 billion kids to suffer trauma, lung(water inhalation)/brain damage via the infant baptism ritual that his evil disciples have mandated till 1200 worldwide, as infernal 1 min clip shows. How? He chose baptism by "chicken IQ cavemen", as if matter blesses nonmatter. God is $10^{infinity}$x more intelligent than Jesus, so God doesn't need 'H_2O/wafer' matter to bless souls nonmatter. God doesn't need matter to even bless the material body, God can heal directly, no water/wafer.

Alcoholics (running Western civilization for millenia) swear on these Bible quotes: genocide of "all God gave to you", mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, alcohol, kid beating, slave beating (OK as long as slave doesn't die today, but could die weeks later of 'unknown causes' succumbing to the damage done). Their Oath, with raised hand, like true Nazis adoring Slavery, is Their Ethics. Humans committed 9,000+ genocides over religion, 9,000+ over language, 9,000+ over objects. To stop the useless wars, it's better to have one language, one 'religion': help all live to a trillion.

Chapter 4.5. talks about Immortality Capitalism or Immortalism, the importance of honesty in the updated Declaration of Independence of USA, and here we're 14.5.2., adding to 14.5.1. Messiahs messing around ideas, with 1445 bad quotes in the Bible and 545 in the Quran. Not a coincidence perhaps, as in 1945 humans used nuclear weapons that can kill all humans, like the violent quotes below can one day kill all humans in 10 seconds if we continue worshiping such 'scriptures'. Deut 7:1-16 explains Jews (or believers in Old Testament, such as Christians who claim it's the Word of God) can exterminate all non-Jews if they feel like killing 8 billion (if "God of Israel gives 8 billion over to Jews/believers" as with the capsule kills 99.9% of humanity scenario). See West Bank. In Genesis 22:2 'God' tells a guy to kill his own son as a sacrifice to this 'god'. In 2 Kings 6:28-29 a Jew lady boils and eats her son, to please the 'god' (demon?) of Israel, who, in his omnipotence, allows Baal disciples to boil kids too in Jer 19:5. Jephthah burned to death his daughter in Judges 11:30-40 as sacrifice to 'god', in 1 Kings 13:2 god calls for human sacrifice and in 2 Kings 23:20-5 Josiah sacrifices people and is praised by Jesus' father praised by Jesus, the Yahweh "god", 1 Kings 16:34 Hiel killed his kids to rebuild Jericho, as instructed by the demonic god of Israel. This is taught as the Word of God non-Jews are to believe in (read in 2 pages the quotes of Jesus praising the Torah or Old Testament), USA gov offers tax exempt status to all who teach this, trims the penis of most males per Jewish demonic masochist custom. Jews who pose as Christian clergy hide (like Catholics who removed Bible from pews to hide cannibalism and all bad quotes, while having a very suspect 15 minute cannibalism simulation ritual, where they eat the blood and flesh of Jesus) the genocide (some of the recent genocides are on the next page) Torah quotes of this paragraph, as they reveal the true nature of Jesus' "God of Is-rael". Is-real? Unreal. Not a God, just angry rapists ("Jews need to mass rape child/adult non-Jew virgins": Deut 20:10-14, Deut 21:10-14, Judge 5:30, Judge 21:10-24, Num 31:7-18) and serial killers writing 'scripture' (genocide after genocide of non-Jews: Deu 7:1-16, Deu 20:10-17, Deu 13:13-18, Judg 20:48, Ex 32:26-9, Jer 50:21-2, Judg 18:27-9, Jos 8:24-8, 5 of these 8 genocide quotes demand burning entire cities to the ground, sometimes after killing every human and animal, as an offering to "God"). Thus, rabbis and pastors call ARSON an act of God, no wonder Canada skeptics burned 33 churches, Ukraine 600 churches (coordinated Russia-Ukraine joint strikes) disguised as fake war, see a 2025 Russia example, USA arsonists 15 LA churches, plus 5+ clergy homes, plus many more similar fires. Perhaps, the real God took action against the fake 'god' demon who says, via Christian clergy, that "genocide, arson, rape, slavery are the word of God". Odd how clergy are not arrested for saying ARSON & all above are Acts or Words of God, allowed to preach such obvious fraud as the demonic Bible. It shows how corrupt all governments are. Reading the Bible, we realize it is the Word of Rape, Slavery, Terrorism, Cannibalism, Theft, Arson, Genocide, not of God. The above quotes clarify their second main job (after rape and genocide), their "higher divine" calling in life is THEFT, LOOTING GENTILES as the 4500 US banks also show. The Israeli "god" gives death sentence to rape victim Deut 22:23-24, deifies sex slavery Exodus 21:7-11, condones infanticide, cutting pregnant women, killing their born/unborn kids, in Hosea 13:16, condones in 2 Kings 15:16 ripping out of wombs unborn 8 month old fetuses, praises infanticide and rape combo in Numbers 31:17-18 Moses says kill any boy, nonvirgin, potential pregnant plus fetuses, kill all animals, people, suckling infants in 1 Samuel 15:3, 'god' kills millions of Egyptian first kids in Ps136:10;105:36;135:8;78:51,He11:28, Ex12:29, 12:12,11:5-6, in Isaiah 13:15-18 God tells Jews to slaughter all kids, cutting them into pieces, in Lev 26:29-30 "god" will make Jews cannibals who eat their kids, while in Jeremiah 19:9 'god' causes cannibalism of kids again, as the Book of Mormon 20+ cannibalism quotes show, "god" uses bears to tear apart 42 kids after some boys call someone 'bald head' in 2 Kings 2:23-4, "'god' loves rods hitting kids" in Proverbs 13:24; 22:15; 23:13-14; 29:15, while in Psalm 137:8-9 'god' deifies killing kids by dashing them against the rocks, 'god' tells Jews to enslave non-Jews Lev 25:44-6 (white slaves of 1700s normal for Bible praising royals of 1700s), to beat these slaves in Exodus 21:20-21, in Kings 11:4-5 Solomon Jew king (the so called 'symbol of infinite wisdom' in freemasonry) worships Molek, a deity Jews sacrificed babies to, 1 Kings 9:21-2 explains Solomon had slaves, Solomon also had 1000 'wives' (sex slaves) in Kings 11:3, showing the Jewish origin of Freemasons & Islamic harem trends (20 wives per prince, endless slaves). The quotes just introduced you to the father of Jesus clergy get tax free status to promote, Jehovah, YAHWEH the one who tells readers to commit eternal genocides forever against those 'God gives over to Jews', the Demon of Eternal Killing and Genocide: a god or a demonic dog who drowns during baptism & stabs during circumcision babies? ☺☺☺ Do you trust clergy who brainwash kids that these quotes are from God and not from a demon? Can Jesus be the son of the real God or of a devil, if Jesus praises the QUOTES ABOVE as shown below? Is Jesus worship just demon, rape, genocide, violence worship? How can the Bible, Quran, churches, synagogues, mosques be legal? Jews/Christians, guided by what Genocidal Churches, Synagogues call "The Word of God", became unspeakable monsters from Hell engaging in 500+ genocides: Italy (300 BC to 1940s genocides + 100+ others in Europe/etc, changed every EU language to be more like Italian via war), Portugal (Brazil, Africa), Spain (40+), France (Arabs, Blacks), Belgium (Congo), Germany (Jews, Namibia, 45 WWII scary pics), USA (Brits-Irish-Jew-German Christians run the show, bomb for Jesus/Moses or theft?), Russians (75+ ethnicities, 1.5 million Circassians in 1 of 90 genocides to increased territory 100 fold in 9 centuries), Jews (Gaza (see ruins), 50 Arab (see ruins) wars Jews caused by control of US/USSR, 5 million Ukrainians in 1933 with Russian help + Gulag had many Jews as torturers/abusers/killers, as do US military/spies) Dutch (Indonesia 300+K, So. Africa), Brits (Irish, Kenya + 50 others), Ashkenazi/Sephardi banker, army Jews promoting the Bible at the royal palaces of the infernal monarchies or USA, ready to kill all who disbelieve in the Jewish Jesus conman. Quran (Bible rewritten + extras) was spread by 500+ genocides (Pakistani genocide of all smart Bengalis (same method used by Jews and others to take over nations), Turkish horrors: 50+ genocides (Armenia) in 500 wars, millions of whites as slaves: white boys taken to become cannon fodder), Islam killed up to 270 million total, 90 million Hindus via 200+ genocides of infidels. Vatican genocides include 300 wars, Inquisition & 20 million Europeans dead via Reformation wars. Genocides done by Christian missionaries aided by Bible brainwashed armies = Bible spread via murder. We can talk about it due to the 1776 revolution that ended the Inquisition which killed any Bible or Jesus critic. To add to the offense, in 200 nations, we see huge crosses☺☺☺, symbols of torture, crucifixion, of workers being tortured and worked to death to make the aristocrats rich. The rich made a fake religion where Jesus dies, as workers are to die while making aristocrats wealthy. Mohamed aristocrat made up the Quran to justify endless wars, mutilation, looting of centuries. Cities are reminded of fingers, hands, heads chopped via minarets (41 dead when it fell)/calls, which ought to be illegal, like crosses which symbolize human quantum field destruction, via the torture of crucifixion. A cross is a mockery☺☺☺ of the crucified worker class by the aristocrats, who don't believe. Crucifixion, torture images/crosses, Torah/Talmud/Quran/Bible must become illegal, if we also ban any depiction of violence in movies, songs, lyrics, literature, etc. We can ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ ask ourselves a simple question: if a cult emerged in USA whose belief was that you can kill 8 billion people even if you feel like "God gave them to you" as the Bible says in Deut 7:1-16 (16 says destroy all 'God gives to you'), or as Quran says "behead all infidels", would it be considered a cult of death and terrorist organization? It would and everyone would think you're crazy. But what the "well meaning" pastors, rabbis and imams hide from 99% of Christians, Judaists and Muslims (see real Islam) is that these 3 religions have texts and incitements to do that very genocide of 8 billion. So, having discovered the real nature of the Bible, Torah, Quran, Talmud, can we as a civilized society accept them as religions or as terrorist organizations setup by insane people of cannibal chimp vibration? Politicians can't say in public Islam, Judaism, Christianity are terror cults of death, but immortalists are not in politics, they're beyond politics, they simply are for Eternal Universal Peace and kindness for ALL. ☺☺☺Nazis and Hitler's Mein Kampf were pure evil, but the Bible and Quran quotes are far worse. Actually, an honest analysis of the above quotes reveals that being a Christian, Judaist or Muslim means being a gangster, since all the advice is about murder, genocide, rape, robbery, slavery. When sane people realize what they scripture says, they will immediately quit the 3 religions. The Quran condones the rape of infidels and even Muslims, and the Bible Old Testament, whom Jesus praises, condones the rape of foreigners after a war. When a cult makes rape, genocide, arson a religious duty it is no longer a religion, but a genocidal terror group as the quotes above explain and its tax exempt status needs to be removed (for all 3 religions: Judaism, Christianity and Islam), and its clergy charged with $1 billion fine for incitation to rape, genocide, arson, though honestly, when it is forbidden it can't be fined unless underground. Freedom of Religion is below Freedom to Not be Killed by Genocide. Without Life no right has any meaning, so Religion only is Religion if it has 0 calls to Violence. The Bible God wants people to be cannibals, genocidal killers, mass rapists. No decent nation can agree to have this filth be published and brainwash us to beat our kids with rods and to eat kids, bury them alive to make "a building last due to human sacrifice". By what trick did Jews manage to conquer the planet with this Bible and make everyone in USA, court, politicians, etc swear on such a deranged insane psychopathic text? By not exposing the above quotes. Israel & all Bible printing nations need to take responsibility for creating Islam/Christianity, which are based on Torah rewritten, and become immortalist states, because otherwise all humans may die in 10 seconds. The World is under the Dictatorship of the Bloody Torah, the Torah macho patriarchal violent energy rules every TV anchor, politician, singer, tone of speech, with a few exceptions. It's time for all good people to unite against the Dictatorship and Liberate earth from Its Cancer. ☺☺☺

The Vatican, Constantinople, and all Christian clergy are telling the planet endless lies (fake miracles, the big lie), being engaged in a total holy war on human intelligence, critical thinking, scientific integrity (required to take care of the poor, of our needs as a society), and intellectual honesty.☺☺☺ One of the greatest lies is that "Jesus was different, special", so unlike Moses and the other "prophets of murder and genocide", but using the "Infallible Word of God", we find thru the quotes of Jesus himself in this paragraph, that Jesus says he came to fulfill the Horrific Bible quotes above, that the quotes above are scripture and everyone needs to follow them, so Maybe he's a Son of a Demon, not of god, who came to fulfill the Torah or Old Testament that Jesus calls the Moses law (kill 3000 on a whim). Jesus, instigated millions to publish the Bible, the Demonic Word of Chimps above. This then reached Mecca, taught Mohamed what 'being a prophet means' and Mohamed changed the Bible slightly and created the demonic Quran, which is the source of new genocides, as the Old Testament advises and teaches by living example. So, Jesus is the creator of all Islamic terror acts too, of all genocides done by Muslims and Christians. Indeed, Jesus fulfilled the quotes in the Old Testament, the Moses Law (see 22 examples of it), as his religion caused 2 billion deaths probably. Don't be fooled, the Catholic churches have 14 cross images depicting the psychopathic torture of Jesus by his demonic father, Yahweh, the god of genocide of billions of people, the demon-god who relishes in Pain, in Suffering of Jesus and all, in pain inflicted on billions of humans, reenacting it every day when you go to church, or Philippines where they crucify themselves, etc: the essence of Christianity/Judaism/Islam is torture, so 150+ militaries torture people. Attending human sacrifice rituals, these "Christian" leaders are nothing but demons in disguise. Jesus name is not holy, has no special effects as clergy claims, but is a simple call to Genocide, Rape and Theft, a call to be "demon possessed" if demons exist, which science has yet to prove. Jesus, thru the following quotes of his "Infallible Gospel", brought a similar energy as Moses and Old Testament: Mat 5:17-9 (He didn't come to abolish the demonic quotes of the Old Testament, the "demonic Jewish law", but to deify it more, to fulfill it, make it stronger), John 7:19 (all humans are expected to obey Old Testament quotes above), John 10:34-5 (Jesus says the Demonic Old Testament is infallible, it can't be broken, because the scripture writers calling for extermination of nations, mass rape of child virgins are 'Gods' if you didn't know it yet, and Jesus generously clarifies that), John 1:17 (Gospel says the Word of Demons, Old Testament, is Divine: Law was Old Testament, "obey it, ultra low IQ folks, go exterminate" any nation 'God gives over to Jews' Deut 7:1-16,☺☺☺ per Jesus who, like Leviticus "prophets" perhaps, meant "*love your (Jewish) neighbor, as yourself, but read Moses on what to do to the gentile*: take as slaves or turn into slaves covertly (if you can brainwash them they're free), beat slaves or exterminate", yeah, the Pope wears a Kippah like a true Jew, were all Popes Jewish? The first Pope was an overt Jew, the rest covert ones?), Luke 16:17 (Jesus proudly praises Genocide, Arson and Rape of Billions: "not even a letter from the violent chimp 'scripture' can become void, it is easier for heaven and earth to vanish, than the Bible to be untrue" or ignored by educated people and never published again as USA law reflects human kindness and bans Quran, Torah and Bible forever), 2 Tim 3:16 (all scripture is inspired by 'god', yes the paragraph above: how to deal with non-Jews), 2 Peter 1:20-21 (the garbage scripture is not interpretation of a chimp mind using violence, genocide cannibalism when not needed, but pure 'Godly wisdom'), Mark 7:9-13 & Mat 15:4-7 (death penalty for saying a bad word is OK per Jesus the 'kind gentle forgiving one', whom all nations invaded by Italians, Jews have to worship at gunpoint, perhaps the Inquisition mutilation burning at stake type of 'kindness' 'prophet' Jesus), Mat 5:27-32 (Jesus takes Moses' commandments and creates harsh punishments, eyes taken out, hands cut off for anyone divorcing his wife or marrying a divorced woman, or anyone having a natural curious look at a nice lady), 1 Peter 2:18 (submit to evil slave owners, obey pure evil, Gospel 'amazing' advice☺☺☺). So whom can people trust among pastors of Jesus? Is this what Godliness is? Jesus the fraud drinks at weddings in Luke 7:34, then tells his disciples in Matthew 26:26-8 to drink daily (because the wine is his blood, if you didn't know it yet, so Catholics drink it daily at Mass) to remember Jesus violence in Mat 21:12 forever. Jesus the Ultimate Conman incited people to drink causing 2 billion dead in the last 2 millennia. Should the Bible be legal to be published or banned for inciting people to atrocities, violence, rape, genocide (see human sacrifice quotes)? Pastors tell us the most criminal actions are God's will. Why are some arrested for making threats, while pastors/imams/rabbis are free to incite billions to genocide? Isn't this a double standard? Vatican/pastors even lie to us and claim Jesus canceled the Moses law. He did not. Jesus clarified gentiles are to work themselves to death (like Jesus faked his death), in service to the Jewish or Italian business owner, banker, realtor, etc, and die maybe 40 years sooner. Jesus says rich don't go to heaven: gentiles don't seek $, accept your slave status, work all day, give all $ to Jewish 'Christian' clergy. Money is for Jews and aristocrats. That's why Jews lent $ to gentiles to finance gentile-gentile wars, why US has 4500 banks. Jesus clarified gentiles are to be obedient, submissive, love Jews, while Jews need to follow the Old Testament (previous paragraph) to know how to 'love' non-Jews. Jesus was like this shouting rabbi (listen) and all rabbis: 1. cocky (Jesus claims he's the only Son of God, Jews claim they're chosen), 2. violent (read Mat 21:12 how Jesus throws people out) while rabbis promote violent quotes and 3. fraudulent (Jesus faked all miracles) while rabbis promote fake miracles too (red sea parting etc). Jesus was like this pastor too, raising his voice and shouting like a psycho. No humble honest being would ever become a rabbi/pastor to promote the quotes of the previous paragraph or the New Testament. Only a violent thug promotes Torah, Quran or the Bible. In our hyper violent society, where fraud reigns supreme, the Bible-Quran-Torah violence is 'normal'. Our standards are so animalistic, abysmal, minimal, that nobody asks for a decent scripture. The Old Testament explains there is a secret teaching, and some rules are for gentiles only. Wake up, Jesus faked it. Jesus could have been a fictional being spies made or a Greek/Italian or Jewish spy making up a religion to build a big Jewish/Greek/Roman empire, to conquer the planet using a fake religion & endless wars. Quran, Mohamed was made up the same way, by military spies, just like terror groups are made up by CIA today, like leaders are handled by spies who puppeteer a nation. Both cults of death were made up by military thugs for empire growth, who ruled as they do today. Wake up. Jesus, the "kind one", wanted a stone to be placed around people's neck so they drown. Jesus encouraged amputation of all 4 limbs and eyes, sounding like Quran too. The Bible and Quran are satanic, if we use their "satan" terms: churches, synagogues, mosques are terrorist organizations promoting genocide, human sacrifice, rape, theft, arson, etc.

Isn't it odd how the fraudulent 'Christian' (Jews quite often) pastors tell us how bad gangster rap and negative lyrics are, from the devil, diabolical, yet we have the Bible quotes above far worse than that, about genocide of 8 billion people, entire nations, mass rape of virgins in a town, mass looting of everything in a town and this is sold as the Republican Party defended religion? The ☺abysmal IQ☺ of religious Jews, who worship the Word of Clowns, the Torah,☺☺☺ in their synagogues, instead of a decent scripture any Jew with IQ can create, is evident in 50 quotes in the Torah where this Psychotic Imaginary God programs in Z14:1, etc the Jewish Readers into creating a Reality in which even Jews undergo mass rape or other atrocities (self-fulfilling prophecy, negative programming of subconscious by the spies (some not Jewish perhaps) who invented this horror "scripture" to fulfill their greed instinct and unconsciously destroy the planet), or they become cannibals etc if they don't listen to this demonic fiction called Yahweh disguised as a God, a hallucination in the minds of aggressive cannibal chimps descendants. Dear Jews, ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ wake up and find God within not in synagogues, churches, mosques which are all made/run by spies, because the Bible and Torah, Talmud and other texts defile you, make you look like Devils, Gangsters and Illiterate Mass Rapist (see quotes) Mass Murderers. Wake up, teach something else in Synagogues or avoid them, same for Christians, avoid the Gospel fraud, choose the Immortalist Anthem if you need a draft "semi-scripture". Kindly join the effort to heal, reeducate by silent living example (boycott the service, don't go) and transform the wild beast within psycho macho rabbis who shout like Hitler and destroy the human quantum field of serenity and healing. Avoid violent gatherings where the wild demon dances (aggressive voice, dance while others are being killed by storms, floods daily, true empathy or subtle demon possession?) and the serene kind empathetic person fixing the houses of the homeless is absent. Help Jews whose houses are destroyed by tornadoes, via monolithic domes, let personal spirituality dwell in every dome house in USA (let us built 200 million of them, end homeless, end jails, walk spirituality instead of being devils), let God be with you, in a form 1 trillion times more Godly than these fallen rabbis Jesus criticized. Isn't it odd how the kill to steal Party of Republicans never passed one draft law to edit the genocides of the Bible that violate human rights these thieves and liars pretend to defend worldwide, or one draft law to ban all violent lyrics in USA, the violent rap, pop, metal etc music, instead focused on the theft of trillions from the state and the 99%, by tax cuts for billionaires? What kind of person wants to vote for such brutes like Demon-crats and Re-pub-licans who swear on the demonic Bible and then go in a grove in California to do satanic simulation of human sacrifice as Wikipedia explains. Aren't you fed up of the demonic type of Jews, Brits, etc creating 29000 banks in USA in 1920s and now 4500 and shoving their demonic (see human sacrifice quotes) Bible on us, as if we're their dogs to be destroyed with the rap, pop, metal music culture they create to destroy every gentile on this planet? The bandits never passed a law to fine $90000 those who blast music loud to maintain peacefulness in cities, because these pompous frauds from hell live in estates and aristocratic enslaves where it's quiet. Dancing to restless music is a mortal sin, when any violent crime happens on Earth, because any violent crime wave can turn into war and any war can turn into the 10 second end of humans. It's also because each year, millions of car/workplace accidents happen due to the extreme rushing happening due to people listening to aggressive restless music that prevents focus. When peaceful music is your thing, you're far less likely to get into accidents if you also sleep well. All ethical religious, atheist or agnostic persons know that empathy requires us to play only serene music, to create a more peaceful vibe in all people that prevents accidents, quarrels, etc. Many don't believe in 'demons', but what if quantum information can linger for centuries?

To be fair and objective and not pick on Jews☺☺☺ only, the Quran also tells 'believers' to loot, subjugate, tax, fight, mutilate, terrorize, commit genocide against the infidels as the Quran section explains (kill them all that is if they don't pay religious tax or don't convert to Islam), so Jews are not alone, Arabs follow Judaism too. To be kind and all merciful with all Jews☺☺☺, we inform Jews that their Torah (old part of Bible) was possibly written by Greek/Italian spies (big powers of 300-20 BC = Greek/Roman Empires), using the cover of being Rabbis or scribes, in order to inflame Middle East tensions and set one Arab tribe (Jews) against the rest (Arabs), so as to dominate the area like Brits did for eons. So, please don't identify with any nationality, you're a human, a soul, and all these vile scriptures are products of sick military minds from hell, less useful than even toilet paper. The primate cannibal chimp military mind doesn't know anything but murder and torture, until the immortalist reform of all militaries. The 95% of all nations are slaves of the 5% aristocratic class, and the low IQ 95% worship the Bible, Torah and Jewish Quran which deify genocide, mass rape, terror, slavery and abuse of workers as explained in the next 70 pages. Walking into a synagogue, church and mosque and reading or even possessing those "scriptures" is going to quantum entangle you with the genocides that killed up to 2 billion people via these scriptures: Torah-Bible-Quran and naturally shorten your lifespan. Once old and young people boycott these religions, inform all their friends about this book, hold protests to petition cities to remove permits for these places of EVIL worship, as they condone slavery, genocide and rape, once states remove the status of tax exempt for these cults of war and slavery, suffering and genocide, after understanding why via this chapter, these terrorist organizations will have to close their bases of death-destruction spreading and the immortalist city centers and labs (millions of them) will provide alternate ways to socialize, while spirituality will flourish and authentic cultures will flourish, since eterni music will spread globally, and all will be able to be a pastor if they wish, online, as nobody asks for donations, nobody commercializes religion, as the 'Jewish' "Jesus-Moses-Mohamed" fraud is replaced with ethics in every nation. If you go to biblegateway.com or other 'bible' search engines and type "kill", you will find, in the King James version, 468 uses of "kill", many uses as "advice from God", showing how people were hallucinating that "God" or Lord told them to kill or enslave, mass rape, loot nations, (cheat via fake miracles too), kill towns, villages, or guys for sharing one's opinion or hypothesis. If you're short on time, simply scroll thru this chapter and read the in depth analysis of every quote, the ultra colorful sentences, to discover the real Bible, Quran, Gita, that the dishonest fraudulent phony clergy hide from all, since these parasites live off human gullibility. The Immortalist Anthem has 0 negative, violent or killing words, being a much better candidate (not 468 kill words) for 'scripture' or 'ethics guide' than the Bible, Torah, Quran. Tao Te Ching doesn't tell anyone to kill, nor does the Buddha scripture. ☺☺☺

Kindly read the Lev 25:44-6 command to enslave workers and other humans (what 200 nations experienced thru history at the hands of a temporarily strong country, empire or aristocracy), to beat enslaved humans, like workers (slaves) Exodus 21:20-21. In the next 5 pages it is explained that, unlike what pastors claim, Jesus approved of all genocidal quotes in the Old Testament. The Bible (like Quran too) is the greatest promoter of slavery, rape, war, genocide when Torah is included, and no Christian can ethically agree the Torah/Old testament (where 98% of the bad quotes are) to be considered Christian scripture. Clever Jews though brainwashed Christians to include the Torah trash in the Christian "Bible". We see today, 100 nations protesting against slavery, exploitation of workers, etc not realizing the entire civilization was built on the Slavery Promoting Texts. If you love human rights, World Peace, etc you can't love the Old Testament. True Reformation can start in the 21st century with the removal of Old Testament as scripture. If you empathize with the victims of 1 million wars, 9000 groups enslaved by foreign troops, etc, you abhor the Old Testament/Torah and can't conceive of it as Christian scripture, as a text to be published or be present in a holy temple of God or church. Belief in Jesus has nothing to do with the Old Testament, you simply are naive enough to believe in the faked miracles and some nice quotes. The next 87 pages go into detail to reveal the intentionally hidden quotes of 5 popular "scriptures" (though the focus is on the Old Testament Bible). Beyond the GENOCIDAL quotes at evilbible.com, the obviously fake miracles (30 pages here on other quotes), we got many violent unacceptable quotes in 8 so called 'scriptures' of a civilized planet: ☺☺☺

1). BIBLE (1444 violent quotes, 1280 in Old Testament, 100s of others injust, illogical, etc, pirates became Popes via Bribes, so did 2 Serial Killer Bankers Giovanni Medici on 1513-1521 (died of obesity, gluttony) & in 1523 (Julio Medici) after a possible killing of a 1521-3 pope by the Medici, Giovanni banker broke the Vatican finances, supported the 400 year old indulgences which aided the Protestants, causing 20 million dead when Vatican fought the Protestant Reformation), 2). TORAH (1280 violent quotes that overlap with Bible, as Torah is the Bible "Old Testament"),

3). QURAN (545 violent quotes, 90+ calls to terrorize infidels in contrast with the 0 calls to terror in the Bible Gospel, see the key quotes at the thereligionofpeace.com (old site), cspii.org or islamisdifferent.com, and read the Quran section to see why the Quran is a Jewish creation), 4). BOOK of MORMON (254 violent quotes, some cannibalistic ones, plus more bad quotes, huge temples sitting empty while others sleep in cars, wealthiest Jesus cult started in new York, the Jewish stronghold, shot dead 120 Americans passing thru Utah, see Wikipedia, launched Zion's Cooperative using the mandatory 10% of church member income, US gov seized all Mormon church property, Mormons invented docs like Vatican/Israel do/did, wasted billions to support demonic sports via 2002 Olympic bid in Mormon Utah), Mormon Book is Pure Fiction, See Proof that convinces even the lowest IQ people, plus see the Racist quotes of the Book.

5). DASAM GRANTH is the second scripture of Sikhism, Dasam Granth (Satan) with 100s of violent quotes. You can see wiki, this scripture contains the word "sword" hundreds of times. Sikhism requires wearing a huge knife, used by some to stab teens, because "He, who wields the sword in his hand, he's the remover of millions of sins" in verse 46 Bac. Natak, Satan, NATO (why not Atlantic Alliance, AA or EA, Eternity Alliance?), NafTA).... It says on first line "I salute the Glorious SWORD with all my heart's affection" and later "the sword chops well, chops the forces of fools"", i.e. Sikh "vegetable IQ"☺☺☺ folks worship satan, demons, because God knows a trillion ways to any outcome without the sword, or violence. Later, the SAD MAD SADAM says "the sword is God, and God is the sword" in Shastar Nam... (contains Satan). Satyanam is the main word in Sikh scripture and Satnam the main name of God, Sa ta na ma is a main mantra. Odd one indeed. Sikhs have the most demonic rituals out there involving the sword. It's a sick religion, the name says it even. The goal of life is to chop heads, bodies and fight a lot, for freedom to believe in Satnam, living to 80 to reincarnate until you attain nirvana, in other words "in death at 80 we believe, science is crap". Very "progressive" religion indeed, designed by 'Satan' himself to keep everyone short lived. Only folks entangled with the violent thought forms, quantum info systems (what religionists call demons, satan) write a scripture of Sword Adoration, it's like you would write "Hymn to Guns, Nuclear Bombs, Javelin Missiles, B2 Bombers and Grenades" and call it a Scripture... Don't you see something wrong with this??? Yes: Sikhs were fighting the Quran, Bible rewritten, so they became insane by contagion, having seen the demonic ferocity of the Jew of the Old Testament who commits genocides based on random whims of their prophets, like Moses killing 3000 for trivial reasons, fully replicated with precision by the Muslim, Sikhs got possessed too by the same demons of Yahweh. Blame the Jews? ☺☺☺ Perhaps, though Jews appropriated Assyrian and other cultures around them and wrote it as Bible, so Bible is Arab origin actually... real Jews are Arabs. The Sikh wrongly thought the only way to survive is to make people take arms and kill the Muslims, so the Sikh leader thought a good idea is to claim sword is God so people don't resent killing, wielding swords and fighting the Muslim "thugs" who were attacking Sikhs. The Sikh leader didn't realize there were alternatives to violent resistance, such as a few of the trillions of nonviolent ways God knows, in the nonkilling section. Due to Muslim stabbings, he probably suggested wearing a hidden sword is “divine” self-defense, but that applied to 1688, today, wearing a Sikh knife needs to be illegal worldwide. The Immortalists will ban all knives eventually, except 1 in a secure box in the kitchen with video camera, if knife crime doesn't stop fast. Same for guns, etc. Any violent crime = death if serious. Sikhs were too simple minded to come up with a more complex and far smarter way to win over the Muslim, Christian, Jewish “rat IQ” folks whose main tool is genocide per their “scripture”: surrender, claim to become a convert, infiltrate Muslims at the highest levels, change Islam to become like the Immortalist Anthem… etc, one of 10^{900} methods… that harms fewest humans. In a primitive century of ultra low IQ and zero science, it’s hard for people to realize the truth.☺☺

6). Dhammapada is a trillion times nicer than the evil Dasam Granth Sikh scripture of the previous page at # 5). Dhammapada has the following anti-life quotes, seen easily in the Project Gutenberg (Ctrl+F 103, 105, 320, 321, 322), it’s a text of 423 sayings using Hindu terms the audience was familiar with: 103: “If one man conquer in battle a million men, and if another conquer himself, he's the greatest of conquerors.” So, killing 0.1 million to conquer of a million is sounding very acceptable, the 2nd of conquerors. Buddha is not condemning war here, just says “don’t kill” in other verses. 104, 105: “not even a god can defeat a man who conquered self” continue the lie that nobody can conquer you, but we know today with high tech any brain can be manipulated to do unholy things that Buddha would despise. It’s a waste of life to conquer self so much for 50 years, then in 1 minute a guy comes with a dream to brain gadget and makes you do something unBuddhist. It’s more useful to spend your life learning neuroscience, physics and chemistry of human longevity and brain, how to protect yourself against brain weapons, than to be a foolish naive guy, falling for such childish nonsense, believing the lies of Buddhist temples with hidden computer to brain or satellite to brain mind altering technologies. Back then, Buddha could say that, to appear ethical, but it’s not true today. Think again, read the Confucian section, to understand how clever guys use the cover of Buddhism to take over other nations with Confucius Institutes and Buddhist temples. They’re not into Immortality for All, nor was Buddha, Buddhism was only a cover for expanding his kingdom’s power via fake religion. 320: “Silently shall I endure abuse as the elephant in battle endures the arrow sent from the bow: for the world is ill-natured” this is a sinister quote encouraging outside violence against oneself, Buddha tells people to just ensure all abuse, instead of to end all abuse by creating a world of zero violent crime: easy to say that, Buddha was an aristocrat king abusing the 99% and now becomes the monk who says “take the abuse of the rich, I'm the agent of the aristocrats disguised as monk to tell you how to be a better behaved slave, gladly taking the aristocrats’ blows”.☺☺ Enduring abuse only perpetuates abuse, people need to use their IQ to figure out peaceful ways to end the abuse, not just sit and take the abuse. A real king wants all abuse to stop, which is easy today, trillions of cameras, mics, etc and death penalty for any violent crime.

This is a very suicidal quote that enabled Islam to take over endless Buddhist lands and even Hindu ones, without these people having a plan on how to change Islam if they pretend to convert and thus avoid killings of 90 million Hindus, etc. 321: "They lead a tamed elephant to battle, the king mounts a tamed elephant... the tamed is the best among men, he who silently endures abuse." So the king using an elephant to kill others is something fine, Buddha has no issue with this cruel act of killing, he doesn't tell kings to not do it. Odd? In other words, guys, work yourselves silently to death, so my rich friends and kings can live the good life. Don't complain, Be silent, Die 30 years sooner than the rich. Smile and go to Nirvana... there you'll find treasures larger than the trillions we stole from you, with Jesus, Allah, Buddha and other fictional deities. It's odd that this Celestial IQ Being of such Profound Wisdom couldn't realize that all humans will one day, via 11 companies, 1 country, language, currency, be shapeshifting Immortals in this world living the Equivalent of 1 billion reincarnations into one Super Buddhist Life as they rebelled peacefully against the fictional Hindu Lord Yama of reincarnation relocation, all these Immortals worthy of a Holographic Garment of thousands of colors, All Sages, instead of a yellow robe Buddha always invokes in his pontifical style that reminds us of the Gospel of John made up by some scribe. Why would they choose yellow, when there are trillions of colors we don't even see, not of this physical light even. Sadly, Buddha could not imagine such a future, only in death could Paradise be conceived, showing a very low IQ and narrow minded view of reality. Why can't we have bidimensional Immortality and be here Immortal and visit Heaven too and dissolve form into energy when bored? Again, a spoiled king could only recycle Hindu thought and try a cheap trick on naive masses. It worked. 322: "Mules are good, if tamed, and noble Sindhu horses, and elephants with large tusks; but he who tames himself is better still." So using animals to kill others (321) is good, while not killing is better. Highly uplifting advice from Buddha? Not to mention many other verses where he makes use of Pali idioms that sound violent in other languages like Indra's bolt, etc. The advice to beg is bad, since it leads to societal collapse if all did it. Notice the peculiar difference between this central Buddhist scripture and the Immortalist Anthem with 0 negative words such as battle, fighting 1 million men, bolts, etc.

Buddhism is focused on inner peace, renouncing desire, happy breathing and work towards Nirvana, Eternal bliss in heaven, be it a state of consciousness after death or realm. However, when the Muslims come and chop all heads of those who haven't attained enlightenment, they send those souls to reincarnation, they also rape locals and "prevent locals" from attaining "nirvana", so how did Buddha teach his followers defending self against such cannibals ready to exterminate all infidels who don't pay the Muslim "keep your religion" tax? There is no mention of it, Buddha was only interested in making people behave in a more civil way, so endless monks were killed in the Muslim invasions, 1000s of Buddhist temples were wiped out. He was playing the stupid and naive guy, in order to hide his agenda of world conquest via a modified Hindu thought system, that appears to be different but it's just recycled Hindu theory of mind of the times. All the focus on good thoughts and such is noble, but today with synthetic telepathy and computer to brain wireless download of dreams and thoughts, all that goes out of the window, as people are no longer that "free to create thought", especially with 100% fake media. So, in the modern world, Buddhism is of limited use, though we agree it's noble to speak, act kindly, and do the "8 fold path", so for creating a peaceful world, the ideas make sense, but they're Hindu. Buddha was essentially worshiping 'satan, low IQ or demons', because he was encouraging death at 80, to reincarnate in heaven or end reincarnation, breathe this and that, renounce desire and you'll be all set, just beg as millions are killed left and right and stress to work to feed you, be a parasite… Ridiculous? But that's a lie, because Buddha offered no proof you end up in a good place (no reincarnation), as an Arhat or Buddha if you just renounce desire, for exactly as in this dimension you can be tempted to do evil things and can be caused to feel pain etc by gadgets of torturers, so can it happen in an "afterlife dimension" for which Buddha offers zero evidence of his "cosmic protection of your soul". Why believe Buddha's claim of eternal life in Buddha land or with Jesus or Allah for other naive people believing lies without proof? Do you think this is how the Universe works? You work 1 minute and then take a vacation of a billion trillion years in heaven forever? 80 years of following some stupid rituals is a nanosecond in eternity and for that little effort you go to a forever vacation? Do you still have a logical brain or do you fall for the "Heaven guaranteed lie"? If you live as an Arhat or Buddha after doing rituals, why not in this world for a trillion years which is a nanosecond of a nanosecond in the life of an Immortal? Something is fishy: he offers no proof for his claims, why believe Buddha, Jesus, Moses, Mohamed, Lao Tze? A reasonable proof is making a human live to 1000 by following Buddhism or other religions. Nobody did it. No religion did it, since they're all PURE FRAUD. Think, don't be duped. Buddha simply recycled Hindu thought (ritual bath, urine, feces ingestion from Ganges or special breathing ends reincarnation), used Hindu terms even in his scripture: Mela fecal bacteria is 49000/100ml, 20x the India safe limit (US shower water limit is 0), ingesting feces grants no immortality. The famous Confucius adores war covertly, so does Lao Tze, they see no way without it, both "philosophers" of cave ant colonies, being examples of fake false religions coming from the minds of insect humans, of filif IQ lifeforms without any trace of intelligence of the etlif IQ lifeforms. The Tao Te Ching, The Analects, are stained by bloodshed imagery (unlike the pacifist Immortalist Anthem☺), even if they're 10^{50} times more peaceful than Bible-Quran. The Buddha scripture, one without any overt violent suggestion (aside from the stuff above), is encouraging begging, which is a violent burden on others to feed you and take care of you, while you don't contribute to the end of war, being too busy with breathing the right way to attain "spiritual" immortality for you while everyone else dies in war. War and the suffering Buddha wrongly calls "inevitable" is easy to end with the 11 companies, 3 agencies, we just end aristocratic subjugation, parasitism by the rich Buddha like nobles, who violently make war to loot others, create religions to use soft power to take over lands. Buddha, a spoiled king, was too "low in IQ" to realize that if all humans spoke one language, all kingdoms dissolved to create a Family of Immortals, with True Equality, all war, theft, suffering ends, as we cure all diseases and learn to treat all cellular decay that causes pain. No more clergy asking us to worship death at 80, we live to the age of 80^{90000}. Enough bullshit. ☺☺☺

Buddha was perhaps a spy, who wanted to take over kingdoms with Buddhist clergy, not the monk we're led to believe, who reached nirvana, who made up the stories of his asceticism and starvation too, denounced fasting later, in order to appear good, reasonable, but covertly deified asceticism to weaken kingdoms of brain fuel (by ascetic practices) and overtake them with Buddhist clergy slowly, covertly, like a true snake of masterful strategy. A real lover☺☺☺ of the masses teaches true liberation from the evils of many languages, states, aristocracy, etc, not desirelessness and social chaos by begging. Sure, all can renounce desire, but then nobody desires to work and do anything, we all die, as all beg and demand 1 hour work week. Buddhism has many instances of monks who starved themselves to death, "no desire to eat". Historic, religious texts claim that Buddha skin darkened (solar tan), veins became visibly prominent, his abdomen "touched his spine" like a Jew in WW2, if these were not fabricated texts to create an aura of holiness. Refeeding after a long fast causes bliss, as explained in 10000 Hindu texts and modern biochemistry, his "nirvana" may have been the joy of carbs after 4 weeks of headache by starvation. It's a bad idea to encourage extreme fasting via Buddhism glorification, due to its dangers to health. Buddha wasn't just eating no food, but, if stories were not fictional, simply going on water for months like Jains. This is deadly for any human, and will shorten everyone's lifespan, being a violent crime.☺☺☺ Jains, Buddhists need to read the NIH papers on fasting and avoid long fasts or painful Jain rituals. Surely, a Bodhisattva is so compassionate, that he won't only end reincarnation for self, but be a living example of Immortality, of living to a trillion for others, so they might follow the Dharma to achieve the same trillion year lifespan, a semblance of the Immortal Lifespan as a Buddha☺☺☺. A trillion years is a nanosecond for a Buddha, and man, those Compassionate Buddhas would surely extend an infinitely small amount of their fictional Limitless Energy and compassion to us to help us live to a trillion, so we get a better sense of the True Meaning of Nirvana or Forever Bliss, by being Smiley for a trillion years at a time☺☺☺. Give me a break, I would rather stick to my down to Earth Humans of the Future Living to a Trillion are the God who help us live to a trillion theory, more plausible, our grandkids simply travel back in time to help us grow beyond Buddhist and all religion bullshit.☺☺☺

An honest person only talks of immortality in some realm if he has clear proof of the existence of that realm, outside of his lucid dreaming mind creating fantastical realms that appear as real as daily life. Buddha was a king, fully in contact with the merchant trade routes between his Nepal kingdom and the Middle East in 500 BC, where Jews, Egyptian, other frauds were creating endless cults about after life, Osiris, resurrection, eternal life, so a bunch of entrepreneurial guys decided to create a new religion to conquer lands without war: promise them something incredibly beautiful, pleasant, desirable and then everyone will do your bidding, offer them some intangible, yet infinitely valuable thing, an infinitely priced eternal vacation in a fictional realm, and all will obey you, same way Jesus and Mohamed made up their extortion networks, Christianity and Islam. Unlike heavenly Immortality, Earth longevity can be proven, all reach 900 year or trillion lifespan if they follow a set of rules of science, society, etc. Buddha could only offer unprovable vacations/rewards, because he was a FRAUD, like most aristocrats and many "psychic advisor" gypsies who're charlatans, like Sai Baba (fake miracles), charging 500$ for a spell of good luck or whatever, typical fraudsters, fakirs, stage magicians India produced who trained Jesus when he allegedly visited India in the 18 missing years, into how to dupe people, organize witnesses to claim they were sick before, sleight of hand, etc. In science we don't make statements, unless we have ample evidence for it. All conmen ask for your money in exchange for an "afterlife product" that doesn't exist, it's a FRAUD, the biggest fraud actually, because for a year of work or etc you get an "infinite years" vacation in some realm, so immortalists forbid donations for any "religious or ethical teaching". It's like "give me $100 (or 100 years of your life as volunteer at the cult) and after you die I give you $100 trillion billion (or 10^{29} years in a fake realm that doesn't exist) back. Believe me, I'm the Chosen One of that Realm, King of All worlds who can't even make a human live to 200 years, but you give my "church" all your toil, wealth and I'm the parasite free rider "clergy aristocrat, king, two in one". Are we that stupid to believe Jesus, Buddha, Krishna, Mohamed, etc?". Organized religions are a mass hypnosis of naive folks by aristocrats, designed to steal all the worker's labor, wealth legally. This, O So Holy, Buddha, never talks about "equal universal pay for all", as in love all beings like a mom loves her kids, equally kindly. Notice how clever this leech, Buddha is: "let kings be rich, fight wars, plunder the poor, just meditate/work hard, my aristocrat pals will only grow richer as worker productivity now can increase, with new promise of afterlife bliss". He's a crafty prophet for profit. Why not first live to a trillion so we can more scientifically and truly figure out what afterlife is like? With such a long life, or 1 billion reincarnations into one, all can go directly to Buddha Realms and no longer have to go thru so much reincarnation and suffering of old age and birth. Christians too, can become good holy sages, and go to the highest heavens, instead of to hell. All go to heaven, a win for Jesus and God right? Then, Abrahamic religions need support trillion lifespan. Poor Hindus are spared of such cruel rebirth as an 80 year old lived ant and thank the Immortalist Party for making them think logically and no longer be duped by frauds.☺

Right Speech in Buddhism means Buddha can't claim his method ends reincarnation (a lie?), unless Buddha can scientifically prove you got a soul via physics experiments and that he traveled to said realms (which physics needs to see via new equipment) and proved souls stop

incarnating. Buddha was the typical merchant Jew, trying to repackage Hinduism and sell it to you as a new product to take ownership of vast lands via the religious political class.☺☺☺ We're no 2500 BC peasants fooled by the spoiled aristocrat called Buddha. Humans are no longer bipedal monkeys, they're smarter today than in Buddha, Lao Tze, Confucius, Moses, Jesus, Mohamed times. ☺☺☺ Buddhists, religionists, taoists have free will to take an honest look at reality: tigers are animals of low IQ who chase animals to eat them, not realizing tigers could evolve and eat eterni powders and need no teeth, claws, strong acid for digestion, rats are pretty stupid too.☺☺☺ Bacteria are even lower in IQ; humans today are vs Immortals like bacteria are vs us, 1 million times smaller, 1 million times shorter lived.☺☺☺ The idiocy of gnats, bacteria, rats is high, they don't understand complex physics, how complex reality is, how complex is the inner structure of a grain of rice they eat, etc.☺☺☺ Likewise, some people don't realize how incredibly simplistic and stupid all current religions are, because they never had time to ponder on what living to a trillion years old might mean (time to discover a trillion methods to peace without violence, for example, etc), as in etlif IQ.☺☺☺ Imagine a person who is a trillion times higher in IQ than you.☺☺☺ That's the dumbest person of the future, and a sentence or speculative "religion" of theirs would take a trillion billion pages to write down that you would not be able to read even in a million years.☺☺☺ Humans are mere bacteria of an infinite stupidity, and the sad part is some don't realize it.☺☺☺ THINK about it, before you THINK you understand what happens in this or another dimension or believe any of these so called "religions", which are nursery school comforting lies for toddlers.☺☺☺ Religion = re-ligare, liga-ment connects, binds, re-binding, re-bondage, binding to the leash the aristocrat created for you to chain you, loot you, enslave you, beat you, genocide you.☺☺☺ Kindly THINK again, BEFORE you give money to these clergy frauds, who're amassing millions off you.☺☺☺ You can simply connect to God directly for free, breathing naturally, listening to peaceful music. ☺☺☺

7). Tao Te Ching of Lao Tze & Analects of Confucius are the least violent main scriptures after the Buddha's Dhammapada, but don't meet the 21st century standards for a trillion times lower violence in scripture needed to lower violent crime a trillion fold, for reasons the link explains. However, immortalists acknowledge that if everyone truly practiced the spirit of Tao Te Ching, meditated, avoided gluttony and over stimulation, practiced breathing to center themselves, detachment from material or "intellectual property" possessions (all ideas belong to all), etc, the world would be far more peaceful and Tao Te Ching overall is a trillion times more peaceful and civilized than the Bible-Quran-Mahabharata filth. With that being said, sadly, Tao Te Ching does a subtle brainwashing of the reader that war is normal or part of life, and that one easily goes to war when "forced to by circumstances and "there is no choice" (an illusion ☺☺, there are always a trillion other choices other than war unknown to low IQ aristocrats whose IQ is like Lao Tze, limited to their cultural brainwashing instead of the etlif quadrillion IQ of shapeshifters, as nonkilling section details)", without first creating 2000 books on how to avoid war and a culture on avoiding war for centuries. This is the grand failture of all Chinese philosophy, statism, and imperial tradition and all former empires ☺☺☺. Everything in a real civization of people with FUNCTIONAL BRAINS (not "cabbage IQ") is about preventing war/violent crime, i.e. 3 billion lines about peace thru peace, not 3 lines in a scripture about war is inevitable. The first culture of humans hasn't arrived yet, we're still chimps killing each other. Culture means zero violent crime/war for centuries. We don't yet have culture, only violent trash. This was OK in the savage 500 BC times of eternal warring states of China, but not now when all can die in seconds. The very basis of 21st century ethics, as World's First Modern Scripture details in the Immortalist Anthem, is the Truth that there are a TRILLION WAYS TO PEACE, without any use of violence, pain, injury, war, hybrid war. As responsible☺☺ world citizens, we move beyond the eras of war, when the smartest guy like Lao Tze aristocrat court librarian was incapable to envision no war. Today, the average IQ is far higher, the average person reads 100,000 times more stuff than in the times the "salamander IQ" philosophers wrote their "scriptures" for illiterate masses, so we can easily comprehend the existence of people who never war (infinite mindset, there are a trillion planets for each human, so wars make no sense) + ways to get there. Today, seeing cannibal chimps (our ancestors) eat neighbor's kids in the jungle, we realize via scientific honesty that when aliens or our descendants of far future look at us singing, praying, doing rituals, we appear to them like those jungle chimps doing the most horrrific acts of cruelty. To evolve past our inherently cannibalistic society of eternal violence, we need an eterni Anthem... that revolves around a rather simple idea: love the worst human a trillion times more than the most loving mom last decade loved her suckling infant she loved more than anything. We can't remain stuck to the level of Confucian-Taoist ethics, we can evolve past that. Thank You. ☺☺☺

8). MAHABHARATA (800+ violent quotes), from which the genocidal Bhagavad Gita calling for Genocide came (compare this garbage with the Immortalist Anthem), is 1 out of 3000 Hindu scriptures, and the main violent one that British promoted as the "culture of India" to destroy and enslave Indians and make everyone hate India, due to a series of bad traditions (some exist in every culture) in some of the 50 kingdoms (see violence of Gita in action) that joined to make up India, which explain why Gita was so bad too, as you understand the context of the fighting kingdoms. Modi loves to stir the violence with Ram temples, a hero of genocidal Mahabharata, see the ahimsa or nonviolence of right wing fascists in action: a feudal dictatorship of pellet guns (see wounds) (video of pellet victims) and beatings modeled after Krishna's call to Genocide. What many don't understand is that the vast majority of Hindu denominations are based on Gita and the majority of the rest on the Vedas that advocated for animal sacrifice, the bloodshed of animals that is a violent crime incompatible with immortalist law, anthem, ethics, civilization and thus these denominations can't get the tax exempt status of religion in an immortalist state, just as Judaism, Christianity, Quran, etc can't either being based on ultra violent scriptures. Peaceful Hindu scriptures include many of the canonical 108 Upanishads: Mundaka Upanishad explains rituals, sacrifices, offerings, etc are useless junk for ultra low IQ folks, while knowledge is useful and God is within everyone (like Jesus says Kingdom of God is within, as Indians taught Jesus in the 18 missing years in India), there being only 1 God. 1000 years before Jesus conman religion, Mundaka explained about meditation, 500 years before Buddha, who repackaged all Hindu teachings to create his own denomination. The 4 Noble Truths (suffering is the world of illusion, maya, the sensory overload, the desires, Indian sages explained as such in many texts, not Buddha invention) and 8 Fold Noble Path of Buddha are all Hindu teachings of the Upanishads, rewritten, simplified for the average people. Those who didn't study Hinduism don't even know that. Buddha was taught by Indian sages in his wandering years. Another pre-Buddhist scripture is the Brihadaranyaka Upanishad. Jainism, world's least violent to insects, etc religion, not just animals, emerged in North India (where most esoteric intelligent Upanishads were written too) too, as of offshoot of Hindu nonviolence ahimsa ideas explained in many texts, like Chandogya Upanishad. World's first truly advanced civilization may have emerged in India actually, if we refer to a nonviolent civilization, not animals who fight, rape, kill all day like the Bible/Sumer/Assyrian 'gorillas' (lords of torture, rape, cannibalism, genocide as Bible quotes explain the Middle East "culture"). There is a pathological psychotic genocidal cult of superiority in some Bible ☺abysmal IQ☺ fanatics, who imagine all civilization came from Jews or Europeans, but watch the video about the civilization of Tao Te Ching, Buddhism, Confucius, how they invented many things centuries before Europe or Jewish Killers. The filif snail IQ☺☺☺ primitive religious fanatics in Texas, Oklahoma, Republican controlled Red States (aristocrats want ☺ abysmal IQ☺ masses to subjugate) etc want to teach Bible Genocides, Mass Rape, Slavery as the Epic, Apex and Height of Morality, while making people ignorant of other religions and science, that prove that Bible has nothing original in it, in fact they want to mandate Bible Genocides to be required in all schools: study cannibal quotes, the Bible, to evolve towards what? Jews are clever, they know how to lower the IQ of gentiles with the Bible and loot them with useless 1.4 trillion/year products. One of 20+ peaceful Hindu scriptures is the more recent South India vallalar.org Arut Perun Joti (Vast Grace Light) 1600 lines poem, plus writings that promote physical immortality without dying, with devotees believing Vallalar became Immortal without dying, so they're all vegetarian, the saint didn't accept meat eaters to build their temple as bloodshed made their soul dark and able to contaminate physical objects their touched, like Jesus' dark soul who pro*moted* alcohol (which killed a billion early) and meat eating (bloodshed of animals makes it easy for bloodshed of humans to occur, it's preparation for that), all Vallalar poems focus on kindness for all beings, avoiding killing any animal or human, in sharp contrast with the evil Krishna telling Arjuna to kill. Mahabharata is the only major violent Hindu 'scripture' where BHAGAVAD GITA (17 violent quote + 130 odd ones) is from. Hindus need to understand that Empires, like the Brits, always pick the worst religion, ideas, philosophy within a land they want to conquer and promote it, in order to use that nation as cannon fodder who joyously fights another group, in this case, Pakistan and the Muslim world, fighting at the slightest cue, like robots: trauma based mind control, enacted in the Indian anthem even. Indians ought to not be deceived by brown eye slightly darker skin tone Europeans (Italians, Brits, etc), who look like North Indians, who claim to be Indians, and whose aim is to drastically lower average IQ of Indians by encouraging the worst aspect of their history or 100 religions (what West calls 'Hinduism'). Spies exist and they often use "Divide and Conquer via spies, drastically lower the average IQ and enslave". Brits needed to create a different identity than Muslims, strong reincarnation, etc, but a fighty one, so the evil Brits picked the most violent out of 20 scriptures, or texts, etc, to create a fake national identity. Once you study Indian literature, you will understand that a lot better scriptures, poems, or passages could have become the central identity (not Gita part of Mahabharata), religious or ethical, of India inside and by the outside world, but the Brits were not there to help, only to destroy and enslave. The British American officials often called for extermination of American indians, and even Churchill said "I hate Indians. They're a beastly people with a beastly religion", well, theultra low IQ Churchill revealed how illiterate and unread he was. India got very nice quotes and texts, parts of some scripture sets which have been like separate religions or denominations, etc (Yoga Sutras being one of 30 well known to Indologists texts, pluys many Advaita Vedanta texts, etc). Hinduism is actually a name for 100 religions in India that are as different as Buddhism is from Islam, a name the West came up with to name what they didn't understand, not everyone believed in many Gods, many were monotheistic, vegan and 100 times kinder in philosophy than Christians. However, to justify India's exploitation and subjugation, the Brits focused on the worst text they could find, Mahabharata, to further seal India's eternal enslavement. This is a typical Empire technique used by 100+ empires before, it's historical revisionism, you emphasize the worst and equate the whole 'nation' or 'race' with that. If Churchill read India's literature, he would have realized a few of India's scriptures were superior to the Bible, that's why the Muslims destroyed so many 'Hindu' and Buddhist temples and libraries, they could not accept, or let the world know, that more evolved thoughts and ideas exist than the religion of "Theft, Rape and Genocide copied from the similar Bible religions of Judaism and Christianity". How dare British soldiers make the evil British Empire look evil with an evil Bible scripture and British King as head of a Fake Anglican Church of "Genocide, Rape, Theft deified in the Bible"? They would have been dead. The Brits could have picked up the 2000 year old Tamil scriptures, poems that had 0 violence in them... instead the British blew Indians by artillery guns in public squares to terrorize everyone into submission to the evil Word of Yahweh, the demonic Bible. The genocidal Brits did this to Blacks too in USA, etc: pick up the worst tones, people, etc and make them celebrities to destroy all black DNA, brain by them listening to that crap, that lands them into jail, etc. Since Gita is a tiny part of the Mahabharata, it has fewer bad quotes than the longer Bible: Krishna (God's incarnation) tells Arjuna to commit genocide (100000 people of the other camp, tells him to not be disturbed while killing others) because "God kills thru him and Arjuna is not the doer". This "scripture" offers a justification for any murder and genocide, since "God is the doer and we humans are mere puppets". Krishna "God" is a malnourished starving soldier's fantasy, and thus, too abysmal in IQ to find a trillion ways to peace without war, because Krishna, like Jesus, was actually a made up fictional character and 'God', for a scribe of an army, looking to recruit low IQ cannon fodder to join fights of the state ruled by aristocratic parasites. A real God simply convinces the other army to not attack the Arjuna camp, by materializing out of thin air, like Indian sages or Jesus charlatan claimed to do, 2 mg of neurochemicals in the minds of Arjuna leaders (or any war fighters in the times of Jesus or 2000 years after him) to seek peace in the name of compassion for the soldiers dying. But Krishna, Jesus, etc was not a God, just an ☺ abysmal IQ☺ scribe and spy's hallucination or a low IQ human who inspired the scribe to embellish the story. India's national anthem poem (full 5 stanzas, not the first sanitized one that foreigners know well, the anthem has "Victory" word 43 times, words like tenderness, healing grace, nurturing compassion, softness 0 times – winning is more important than ethics, fight, baby, fight) praises this violent thug, who pretends to be "God", that the poet of Gita refers to as "Krishna", "Oh! Eternal Charioteer (poor Krishna, he needs horses to travel, the ultra low IQ Hindu 'God'☺☺☺ can't teleport or use saucers traveling at 10000 times the speed of chariots or saucers made of invisible light), the wheels of your chariot echo day and night (lots of noise to harass people, day and night like on India's streets full of 90000 honks/day, listen to another one, the joy of Mumbai honks) in the path, In the midst of the fierce revolution... you save us from fear (to commit genocide at Krishna's command) and misery (very negative words in this anthem poem like many other anthems, to destroy the human quantum field, the opposite of the Immortalist Anthem), … somber... Oh! You who guide the people through the tortuous path, During the bleakest of nights, when the whole country was sick and in swoon, … thru nightmares and fears… misery of the people". Notice the !, the typical writing shouting tone of Bhagavad Gita, Mahabharata and many Indian speakers, vs the calm immortalist speech and calm immortalist anthem. The idea is "God loves to torture people, expect torture" (like in Catholic 14 stations of the cross, program the masses to expect torture, so they welcome being abused, subjugated and destroyed), the aristocrat will beat slaves, use the poor slaves as cannon fodder in Krishna's Eternal Charioteer Wars of Hell, like the "god" Yahweh who tortures his own Son and wants everyone to torture oneself, sacrifice oneself to make aristocrats *(who made up Krishna Gita and Jesus/*Moses religions) richer than ever. Work yourself to death, die 40 years earlier, for your reward is in another world, here, the rich steal everything from you, so said the aristocrat bandit posing as "God of Israel and all ultra low IQ gullible humans". This "anthem" has more negative words and useless names about parts of India that nobody can relate to (except Indians), than the words for qualities people need to have: "gentle" and "love" appear only once, vastly outnumbered by 43 instances of "victory" in many online song versions and 10 very negative programming words above. The Anthem is based on a poem about the Krishna God who leads his people to death, as the fake God of "death is needed for any outcome", in Gita style, a poem written by Nobel laureate for literature Tagore, a proud Hindu (or spy perhaps, hiding his agenda, since Nobel laureates are spies) who believed in the Krishna Nonsense Myth religion created by military aristocrats. Some Indians, too low IQ to realize that they don't need 22 languages, but one, worship their anthem like ants, like all ant-like robotic folks worship equally abysmal IQ anthems of 90+ nations, without realizing the catastrophic consequences. China anthem creates a very negative vibe, the "danger" of Japanese invasion is recreated, as in 1930s when they fought Japan and they wrote it as a call to arms: these anthems make a mockery of the best of humanity, as if all we know is fighting and dying like ants in useless wars. No long term plan for World Peace, Eternal World Peace is discussed in any nation's anthem, the current anthems have the IQ of 2nd or 3rd graders, the only IQ levels military recruits need for people to "shoot to kill". It's pathetic. Smart educated Indians will embrace the Immortalist Anthem's style and adopt it or create a similar anthem to increase IQ and ethics. In fact, anyone who studied India's literature will find the Immortalist Anthem much like India's best literature into one poem and much better than Gita/Mahabharata junk. To bring Peace we need 0 violent quotes in a scripture or anthem. "Kill them all, because victory is assured and you will enjoy prosperity" is a typical scam Russia, Ukraine and military recruiters tell people, in order to have them join the military as cannon fodder for the infernal imperial elites. This is a trick aristocratic Krishna used to dupe the working class into fighting other workers, by claiming the workers won't die fighting the other nation's workers, but live forever with Krishna in paradise, free from reincarnation. This is how they use "take Jesus cross" scam to destroy working class today, sacrifice life for the rich profits, postpone joy, work till you collapse, Jesus loves your sacrifice, work till you die for their profits and fake elections. Same scam is used by evil Mohamed: "fight guys, so my empire expands, fight and loot everyone fast, all women are yours". Internet literature shows millions realize Yahweh-Molek-Moses-Baal-Satan, Jesus, Krishna, Rama, Mohamed, Masonic God are all one and the same, projections of the cannibal chimp aggression archetype who has a dire need☺☺ to be violent and all 5 religions (Bible, Torah, Quran, Mormon, Mahabharata based) are made up, violent, ought to be illegal, not tax exempt, as they incite humans to endless genocidal violence, other criminal acts.

However, there are a few good quotes (10 out of 10000 in the Bible) like the idea of biological parents trying to stay together to raise the kids for the rest of their short life. This helps because quantum entanglement of the parents with kids enhances better understanding and support, due to same DNA. But other than that, it's pretty much garbage or clever mind control to help

aristocrats loot the working class. Social order is important, so we love in the Gospel they try to advice people to keep one wife, vs the Quran that says to have endless sex slaves and wives, which brings terrible chaos and destruction of the human quantum field, via lust, which prevents evolving towards materializing offspring abilities of the teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals in the happy kind Immortalist Anthem. Today, staying together to have babies doesn't necessarily mean in a formal marriage, since paper is not love or commitment to stay for a while until kids are 18-25, and going thru divorce (to make parasitic aristocrats rich, those lawyers) makes no sense, since we're all one family of shimmering shapeshifting Immortals, all humanity. Our current capitalism of "everyone a thug for themselves, stealing from everyone" is not really the world of infinite gentle tender soft compassionate nurturing healing graceful loving kindness for all, where you might live the some or the rest of your 9000 year life in other setups or alone, since you evolve in different directions that benefit the human species the most, have different interests sometimes related to one's contribution to humanity, and a divergence can form fast after 80 years or even 30 and nobody stays in a relationship unless super happy; humanity is more important than any person. The only way perhaps to make it last millennia would be to work together on a project that takes millennia: 2 physicists trying to split electrons, etc. Once a nation creates a central ethics.gov or something similar with local designed ethics anthem or scripture, these Torah, Talmud, Bible, Quran, Mormon Book, Mahabharata ought to be banned, because they incite humans to genocide. Spies had a need to invent stuff to subjugate the masses, expand empires, so religions were born. The more we study scriptures, the more we realize Jesus, Krishna, Moses, Masons are a lot like Mohamed, and that each time you invoke or read these "prophets", you connect to violence. Spirituality is the eternal scientific method: you test a hypothesis, a theory, and you have personal experience of the universe, God in your own way, not as a serial killer God of Bible-Quran, but more like the Immortalist Anthem of 0 violence, a draft to inspire You to write your 9 page peom 'scripture' version, since all today can write 8 pages 1 billion times truer than all 6 evil books above. Why? Simple: today, all with high school can write a small chemistry booklet a billion times truer than any alchemy book of Krishna or Jesus eras. Don't worship or bow down to serial killers and psychos from the 1st century, just as you don't worship physics/chemistry books from Jesus era. Be still, breathe, become free, see thru the masks and enjoy a personal connection to God.☺☺

To those credulous naive missionaries, who're not CIA spies on a mission to enslave, subjugate locals, God will ask you when you die: "why did you support Islam and the atrocities explained on www.thereligionofpeace.com? Didn't millions of people and you reading the Quran-Bible explain to you the Quran is the Bible rewritten and supporting the Jesus-Moses-Bible fraud supports Islam and its terror indirectly? Were 90 million Hindus killed by Mughal Muslim invasions of 500 years or the 270 million infidels politicalislam.com, killed by Islam not enough?

Spreading Christianity is spreading genocidal thought-forms as shown above, as they brainwash billions Bible is Word of God. Why are you a terrorist in disguise, making this killing wave stronger by the support of Jesus the conman who staged all miracles? Jesus was a fraud, not a prophet. Why are you pretending you do anything different than Islam, when from the ethics standard of Immortals and God you're as evil as the terror imams?" These quotes would not be called holy or even acceptable for publishing in a true democracy of Immortality for All, and "violence, slavery for NONE", much less part of a scripture or ethical text, nor can a truly ethical religion or cultural basis of civilization be based on such texts with endless horrific quotes, if you're a true immortalist and really want World Peace in 3 months and the end of all torture, violent crime, war. Any nation that allows gangster clergy to publish such filth as the Torah, Bible, Quran, Gita, Mahabharata will inevitably self-destroy, because the energy of these texts is so genocidal, that when applied by other nations who had this "religion" forced on them, as in Deut 7:16, it will be applied against the very nation publishing this Call to Genocide of Billions "given to them by God". It's thus national suicide for USA to allow the publishing of this filth, unless it's electronic and part of a history class in psychopathy studies. The US needs a 28th Constitution amendment to redefine what religion means, so that the existing laws refer to religion, i.e. an activity based on a nonviolent scripture (e.g. Immortalist Anthem) that protects every human life and aims to extend the life of all. It's easier than changing existing laws to remove the word religion, and it forms the legal basis to remove tax exempt status from criminal "religions" that now become death cults. Sadly, most major religions don't meet this definition as they're Cults of Genocide, Mass Rape, Arson (Abrahamic Religions), War (Mahabharata, Confucius, Tao, Sikhism), Mutilation (Jainism hair pulling, Native sadistic rituals). If we allow the Law to Define Religion as these Cults, it means the US encourages the Genocide, Mass Rape, Mutilation of citizens and it equates the nonviolent call to Immortality for all with the genocide calls of other "religions",☺☺ the law equates the act of charity with the act of genocide, the ultimate selfishness. The US law is unjust, it removes the ability of the people to take a stand against criminal religions of genocide, rape, slavery, dishonesty, beating slaves to death. We can't have laws banning discrimination against religion, if religion definition remains the same broad meaning, because it means we can't take a stand against genocide, slavery, beating slaves to death, mass rape deified by Quran-Bible, and we're forced to give the same fine of 1$ to people who steal 2 cents or who murder 2 million people, because to call for the murder of 2 million people is the first step in doing it. If we can't discriminate against "religion", then we can't discriminate against those murdering millions or steal 3 cents. Why discriminate? The guy who murders 3 million can claim "genocide is his religion" by the 'Grace' of the Bible Quotes above or Quran, or Tao or Confucius OK of war, or Krishna's genocidal words in Gita". Our laws punish people based on the violence of their actions. How can the law treat the call to Love All as the Same as the Call to Kill Billions? It can't, if just. All US laws that call for end of discrimination based on religion are invalid, if religion remains defined the same. We need to give all the right to choose evil vs good. If all religions are OK, then the religion of killing, raping all, eating people will become Legal. It already is, it's called Judaism, Christianity, Islam. Since changing 90,000 laws is impractical, we need redefine religion as nonviolent, remove religions status for all terrorist organizations that have milked dry the US taxpayer for centuries. Based on present religion "laws" of "we can't discriminate against the most evil terrorist gangs of genocide, rape and theft", all crimes need receive the same sentence: show finger to the judge. All crime starts with a thought, with the "religious call" to war, genocide, rape, looting, fraud.☺

All those Krishna cults in USA and worldwide deserve a gentle tender soft quick shutdown, as "God wanna be impostor" Krishna incited people to genocide (he told Arjuna in 11:33-4 to kill without any concern or feeling, to slaughter about 100000 people (to win the battle), when the real☺☺ God knows a trillion ways to Peace without violence) and genocide is against the Immortality for All ethos of all decent sane people. Don't be fooled, in BG 11:32 Krishna claims he's the destroyer of all worlds, and that the people opposite to Arjuna will die anyway (what a revelation. Lol, aging kills savages), so might as well kill them for Krishna's cruel entertainment, lack of empathy and cosmic grand standing. So, how come this low IQ Krishna doesn't know a trillion nonkilling ways, to make the army (who aims to attack Arjuna) want peace & Immortality for All, since infinite resources exist for all folks in that battle area, and to want being an embodiment of happy gentle tender soft compassionate nurturing healing graceful loving kindness? Because Krishna was a made up God of ants, some guy invented it or Gita, Bible, Quran, Mahabharata is alien brainwashing to destroy the human quantum field by human-human war. Don't fall for it. THINK. So, it's not just the Bible and Quran, we got more violent texts out there. People, wake up, religions are made up. Relax. God is infinitely more complex than anyone can even imagine. Religions are often creations of cunning aristocrats needing abysmal IQ cannon fodder to die for their wealth building, wars of conquest and subjugation of various groups. Immortalism is not a religion, but a philosophy of universal nonviolence, kindness. Our taxpayers finance these cults of genocide in the name of Krishna...

You can't lower violent crime a trillion fold in a state of emergency and ban 99% of music (which is too aggressive for 0 violent crime), without also taking strong action against these terrorist organizations using the cover of "places of worship" to spread their genocidal psychopathy and culture of rape, slavery and theft. To an objective unbrainwashed individual, it is evident that the strongest message in the Old Testament (most the Bible that is, the unHoly Torah) is 1. rape, 2. beat [Bible the Torah section (beat kids, workers, sex slaves) or Quran (sex slaves, mutilated infidels, kids, wives) or torture in modern era, see pages of modern torture], 3. kill and 4. steal. It's counterintuitive that a scripture's main message, for the soldier of 'God' is to do such horrible 4 things, but you need to understand 1 simple idea of aristocracy: they knew that only immense violence can impose a system of aristocrats earning 50000 times more per hour than others and maintain it. The infinite depravity of the Bible, Quran will only become obvious to you after reading the next 70 pages of rape, theft and killing, genocide quotes, and realizing that Jesus in the New Testament doesn't say "please don't kill", only "use violence against traders in temples" as he did and "He came to bring a sword, not peace", go figure. The Gospel is not revolving against nonviolence, as Jesus is violent himself, and not around nonkilling and comfort for all, but about happily enduring the blows of aristocratic bloodsuckers, not complaining when aristocrats commit silent genocide, as they do today, and never doing anything to improve the condition of the 99% enslaved masses, until you collapse as a spent slave. The church services don't focus on ~~Eternal Universal Peace~~ in 3 months, the need to stop all spanking and beatings that many pastors are OK with in accordance with the 'demonic' Bible. The churches created by the aristocrats to drastically lower average IQ of the enslaved masses don't focus on peace, as only thru infinite violence can slavery be enforced, so some get paid 50000 times more for the same work week, as stated 12 lines above. There is no sense in these religions that every human is a teleporting telepathic shimmering shapeshifting Immortal ☺☺☺ who can (or does, since the soul is Immortal per these fake religions) live to a trillion quandrillion years at least, shining with thousands of colors and being of a Radiant Beauty beyond comprehension, only a sense of bomb and steal, whatever it is to steal to run our depraved economy. All services are fine and happy, but when short of a resource, all ethics is thrown out of the window and bombing starts, genocide starts. While other similar crises, invite no military answer, since there is nothing to steal. This depravity stems from the imperial idea that one can rely on slaves or colonies instead of self-sufficiency via innovation that makes resources wanted today useless, centralization and 11 companies that make 200 times more research jobs possible. Aristocrats don't fight wars, only slaves do, so for them peace and a religion focused on eternal World Peace in 3 months and 0 violent crime in 10 years is not important at all, in fact, it is the end of their million year reign on Earth.

The violent "kill to steal" undercurrent running to different ultra subtle or evident degrees worldwide, in all governments, not just Christian hypocrites, stems from a fake religion and/or culture of subtle violence, machoness and theft, just like the Bible deifies theft endless times in its Torah part, the Jewish 'Bible' part of the so called 'Christian' scripture, given to gullible low IQ folks by the clever Jews posing as messengers of God, the fake conman Jesus. The essence of Christendom, Judaism and Islam has been kill and steal, take over the land by force, military force to spread the cult of lies and fake miracles, and use churches as military bases to enslave the locals. It's not just theft of life via killing, torture, mutilation, so much adored in Quran and Bible, but theft of material goods too. Check every major quote about killing in this chapter, and they all almost condone massive theft of land, goods, people, life, etc – is it any wonder Jews were hated all over the world? The Torah-Bible is like a manual of robbery, theft, hooliganism, mass rape, genocide and pure banditry, same for parts of Quran with the "prophet" lethal attacks on caravans, etc. It's incitation to genocide and can't be published in civilized societies, except in a museum of human evolution for history fans wanting to read that filth. And later on Christians and Muslims were hated, as they adopted these quotes as a part of their scripture in original Torah form or the Quran altered form, with tax on infidels and mutilation, killing, terror of infidels. 4 billion people are the victims of their militant brainwashing, lies and fraud. Christianity, Islam, Judaism and other sects of other religions don't focus on how to achieve that level of kindness where everyone is a trillion times kinder gentler more nurturing healing compassionate towards the worst human than the gentlest mom with her only infant baby suckling from her breast. Be obedient to authorities, the palace dwelling aristocrats who're the "authorities", says the Gospel, and suffer all torture the aristocrats inflict on you without fighting back, for this will ensure you will go to heaven at 50, while aristocrats to hell at 100. Clever plot. The whole Gospel was a creative rewriting of garbage by Greek, Roman, Jewish spies who created a perfect manual for a self-sacrificing slave at the altar of wealthy genocidal psychopathic aristocrats desiring nothing but more land, while destroying the human quantum field. Today, the same grotesque cannibals, using Machiavellian cliches and phony adherence to this filthy Bible, rouse up patriotism to get slaves killed for aristocratic profits. The same technique is used by other Machiavellian pigs, who use other texts for the same purposes: eternal slaughter and power maintenance. The political class (puppet regimes in 150 nations invaded by violent scriptures) installed by these military gangsters posing as clergy, agents of divinity, dutifully lived the evil Bible (and the evil Quran that came out of the Bible) for 2 millennia as we have seen from the 2 billion alcohol victims, wars. You may wonder how can the Bible be so evil, demonic or satanic? This is so because:

1. One time Moses says to not kill, but 100*+ times* Moses and others say to kill, too many times the fictional hateful God of hell imagined by malnourished folks, called for genocide of entire nations, which is millions of killings. Only 1 time this ☺abysmal IQ☺ violent infernal God, says "do not kill" in his beloved text of hell. Want evil Bible wisdom? Read Deu 7:1-16, Deut 20:10-17, Deut 13:13-18, Judges 20:48, Exod 32:26-9, Jeremiah 50:21-22, Judges 18:27-9, Josh 8:24-8. Compare this trash with the immortalist military and the movies Jews never make for gentiles, as our news/movies are meant to see only bloodshed for max fear. Fraudulent pastors claim "in the context, it was ethical". It wasn't. In any context, there are a trillion ways to peace without killing, violence that Jewish psychopath scribes could not imagine. Moses, Torah, Talmud Jews, Christians claim they're not satanists. They proudly yell God inspired the "Old testament advice" praised in the 4 Gospels by the by Jesus mutilating satanist (his advice would cause all humans to lose eyes fast for every look to a nice person) who loved violent combat more than compassion, liked satanic ritual blood (wine) and human flesh eating symbolism more than loving gentiles, loved to make billions die due to alcohol next 2 millennia by promoting wine drinking in memory of satanic rituals more than abstinence from alcohol. What are they who mutilate teens, rape virgin kids, cause 1 billion dead via alcohol, burn cities with people in them as if burning babies for Baal? They're demon possessed satanists. So the lobster IQ☺☺☺ Christians are not only hypocritical, but Cold Blooded Satanists, supporters of the State of Satan, Israel. The cat IQ Muslims also satanists, as their Quran is the same evil genocidal Bible recycled. It's funny how they believe in these mouse IQ☺☺☺ "satan" myths, without realizing they're Satan's angels by the very definition they came up with. Read the Quran and the Bible religious zealots, before believing. Jesus, Moses, Mohamed act like deceptive demons, sell evil as good, genocidal violence as love. Bull dog☺ IQ people tried to explain chimp level violence and nature's cruelty with some "evil Satan", that you can only escape from if you pay rabbis, imams, pastors lots of cash. It was another aristocratic trick to make easy money, while claiming all viruses, bacteria, insects, beasts attacking us, disasters, storms, droughts, are done by "the evil satan"… When human IQ was 50 on average, we lived to 41 on average. Today, with IQ 100, we live to 82. The less educated and naive, gullible, illiterate in "scriptures" we are, the shorter we live. It's funny how we refuse to look in the mirror and realize how abysmal human IQ is. Any good guy would ban the Quran, Talmud, Bible as some mentally retarded junk written by chimps.

2. One time Moses says (10 commandments he plagiarized from existing codes of ethics in nearby civilizations), "don't steal" and then in 50+ times Moses and others say to steal and take people, livestock and anything you want, then burn the city sometimes. Israeli Orthodox Jewish parents house raised Jew ended up being a great thief, proof the Bible is not that transforming?

3. One time Moses says to not desire someone else's wife, but 50*+ times Moses and others say* to rape (virgins of cities who were genocidally exterminated) by the disciples of Moses and other genocidal "prophets", read Deu 20:10-14, Deu 21:10-14, Judg 5:30, Judg 21:10-24, Num 31:7-18.

4. Jesus*, in the Gospels,* says 10+ times he supports the Old Testament, see 15 pages above.

Thus, to an objective alien who reads like an AI the texts, without any prior brainwashing and knowledge (from clergy who consider that trash a scripture), it is evident that the scam of the Bible doesn't qualify as anything but toilet paper. More on that later, you need some patience and this sentence is to arouse your interest, as you will be shocked at the actions and traits of the so called "clergy" worldwide who lie to their parishioners that the filthy ultra violent Bible evil text is the Word of God (which led to these Inquisition tortures), and the ultra violent Quran the "Word of God". As you read this chapter's quotes, you will have the most shocking realization of your lifetime, revealing to you the traits/actions of mindless clergy, rabbi, pastor, imam and the like, unaware of what they're doing, or simply being too evil, dishonest and corrupt to even care: gullibility, low IQ, or sheer depravity, deceit, aid to terrorist organizations, turning tax exempt churches, mosques, synagogues into terrorist organizations that believe in and promote war, beatings, genocide, rape, complicity to trillions of beatings and violent crimes last 2 millennia, inspired by the Bible, pure terrorism and stealing taxpayer funds to wage terror globally thru terrorist scripture, complicity to all acts of torture last 2 millennia by spies and soldiers, cops, etc, complicity to all domestic violence, instigation to Holocaust or genocide of all nations, complicity to genocide by passive omission and removal of bad quotes from all Catholic churches TO DECEIVE PEOPLE AND HIDE THE DIABOLICAL AND NONSENSICAL NATURE OF THE "SCRIPTURE", Catholic churches who no longer have the Bible in the pews but only the Missal with brainwashing and selective "Bible looks good quotes", complicity to genocide by all other Churches who allow the bad quotes "within context" to be present in the churches, synagogues and mosques for Quran calls to killing infidels (Quran is Bible rewritten pretty much, thanks to Christians, Jews for Islam), complicity to all rape and theft, arson crimes, which are ultra encouraged in the Bible as shown in the next 5 pages, complicity to genocide of endless people killed by followers of Torah and Bible, such as the victims of the Inquisition, such as Torah quotes lover Jewish Kaganovich who, like Kissinger Jew killed Cambodia and lived to 100, co-killed 5 million Ukrainians and got to live to 97 in total freedom in the Jew loving USSR, complicity to genocide created by the boxing, etc sports hailed by "so called Christian" gorillas.

The quotes in the next 5 pages (also shown here) explain why some USA schools banned the Bible for primary and middle schools. All a parent has to do is to give to the Utah government quotes (see 100s of examples above) from a text, such as Bible, Quran and Book of Mormon, that are supportive of human sacrifice (Bible/Torah) or that are genocidal, murderous or violent or erotic (images, or description of sexual acts) and the book may be banned. Evilbible.com explains the fake 'god' of the Bible encourages the burning of people and animals, likes the smell of burning flesh, be it from burned animals or people, so maybe that's why he uses Christians and Jews to promote barbecue, fried foods and grills, all the most toxic cooking methods, to further kill his 'beloved' people, 'misinformed (by clever clergy hiding these quotes) and scientifically illiterate' enough to believe in this God of arterial plaque, mass infanticide, ripping babies out of mothers' wombs, mass murder and mass rape. Yahweh Bible God has such ☺abysmal IQ☺ he has no clue there are 1 trillion ways to any outcome without any violence, war and terror. Mohamed didn't get it either, being of IQ 80: Quran is full of terror and odd quotes. The Bible 'god' idea is too primitive to imagine nonkilling nontorture soft loving kindness healing grace gentle nurturing methods. The god loved burning people, so we see it in this ritual and in instances of arson, fake 'natural wildfires', which may be inspired by the Bible Torah part.

To call these Bible, Quran, etc texts "words of God" or "The Word of the Lord" as they say at Catholic Mass after each reading, to brainwash billions of kids at Protestant Sunday school that God is like that, is viewed as a huge lie by many, an insanity by others, a fraud by many who're shocked government officials swear on such texts. Politicians, a class we don't need anymore, will say anything, swear on anything, to get votes and get elected. ☺☺☺ The 'Holy' Torah is the 5 books of the Old Testament of the 'Holy' Bible where basically all the horrific Bible quotes are, which are hidden from Protestants, as pastors don't cover them to avoid doubts over the fake miracles and the unproven claims of the only 'Son of God'; they also hide the bad quotes from all Catholics, as pews have Missals (instead of Bibles), a collection of more decent quotes with daily songs, some of which suggest to people they're next to be sacrificed as Jesus was (hence his quote, "no greater love than giving your life for your friends", what if you can get God's wisdom instead of Jesus' and simply achieve World Peace without any terror, violence (Jesus in temple throwing tables), killing, anyone giving up their life in useless wars or rituals*?, besides the* daily 10-15 min Eucharist 'cannibalism simulation' because Jesus said to simulate drinking his blood and eating his body daily to remit sins of 'believing without 50 sources of unfakable proof'? New Testament (29% the length of Old Testament, though it repeats same Gospel by 4 authors) or the Gospel, the main scripture of Christians, has no calls to killings, genocide at all, though pastors do brainwash the people the Old Testament is part of the 'Word of God'. Gently read the "Holy" Torah quotes below: calls to destruction of 7 entire nations and any nation 'God gives over to Jews': Deut 7:1-16 (57th of the 613 commandments? Click on show to see all of them, ►►►►instigation to HOLOCAUST AGAINST ALL NATIONS, I.E.►►►► 8 BILLION DEAD if ►►►► God 'gives' the 8 billion to Jews) & Deut 20:10-17, (killing everything that lives in cities of 7 nations (the end: 17), 596th of the 613 commandments? that led to antisemitism??), burning cities (killing people, animals in other translations, you can read all 50 translations) as offering to God Deut 13:13-18 (like the Dresden fire bombing? Or the church burning in Canada to stop the brainwashing billions that these quotes are the 'word of God'), Judges 20:48, Moses calls to kill 3000 Jews Exodus 32:26-9 (after he said 'do not kill' in the 10 commandments), destruction of the whole Babylon town Jeremiah 50:21-22, destruction of the whole Micah town Judges 18:27-9, 'god' orders to Joshua to kill every human in a city of 12000 and then burn the entire city Joshua 8:24-8, Israel air force got more airplanes/capita than any other country, and MANY MORE KILLING QUOTES, enslavement of non-Jews ("inferior races" of gentiles, no different than Nazism) Lev 25:44-6, 'love all & Immortality for All' Torah version Deut 23:20 non-Jews get interest, Jews no interest, Deu 14:21 non-Jews get rotten dead meat, Jews only fresh, so oddly, Bishops (Jewish Bishop started the trend? Were most/many Cardinals Italian Jews at one time?) taught Christians to be poor and not lend money, so Jews can lend at interest to Christians? Of course, because the Bible clarifies Jews are born special and holier than the rest and this is what churches teach kids by brainwashing kids that the Bible is the Word of God, in order to destroy Christian self-esteem: Deu7:6,14:2,26:19,14:21,Ex19:5-6,Lev20:26. Parents pay Christian schools to have their kids be taught they're to be enslaved by the Superior Jew: Lev 25:44-6 who may beat the Christian and the Christian should turn the other cheek Mt5:39, per Jesus the fraud, and simply let himself be abused by the Jew until "he dies from the beatings, which is fine, if weeks, months, years later, not right away" per Ex21:21. What has Old Testament anything to do with Jesus? Well, in Mt 5:17-9 & Mk 7:9-13. Jesus says the Old Testament evil quotes are forever valid. So, in both the New and Old, Jesus explains how a gentile or Christian should behave: an obedient slave who takes infinite abuse from the Superior "Holy" Jew. Christian parents better understand this and the JEWISH PLAN FOR USA. The stuff Christian clergy never told you: Jesus was a rabbi deceiving the entire humanity. No effort to be good is needed, only to be born a Jew, because gentile souls are like animals, die like animal souls upon death per Zohar and, according to famous "Jewish rabbis" (sort of saints in other religions), all human souls (Except Jews) are made of demonic energy that defiles everything. (Bishops were often Jews, since initially the Pope (1st one) & clergy were supposedly Jews per the Bible, some still are (like centuries before, which raises questions about historical events and real vs public agenda, due to the alleged Rome-Israel conflict), even though on paper they're Gentiles)). Makes you wonder if some (Jewish?) Popes, etc made the yellow badge for Jews rule not to persecute them, but to grant them the wish to not be approached by "subhuman or inferior gentiles" as the Pope told the Christians to avoid marriage to Jews like several Bible quotes for Jews to not intermarry, Deut 7:2-5. The Jewish strategy seems to be to weaken their enemies by 0 IQ intermarriage, depopulate by LGBTQ and abortion, while they have big families and rarely intermarry, unless they wanna create a hybrid puppet to rule over a gentile nation while pretending to be a local.

Moses and the 'god' of Israel (is real?) love the mass rape of child or adult virgins (after mass killing of males and non-virgins, often at the instruction of Moses, the '(for profit?) prophet of god', see also nonkilling section) as 5 quotes explain: Judges 21:10-24, Numbers 31:7-18 (Moses, a 'prophet' per Islam, Christianity, Judaism, tells them to kill every boy and nonvirgin), Deut 20:10-14, Deut 21:10-14, Judges 5:30 has 'god' telling Jews to rape girls, the quote US Presidents swear on when taking oath, the BIBLE). The pedophile priest never talked about 5:30 quote. How could the Vatican then brainwash billions of kids that the Old Testament is the 'Word of God' each time they quote it at Mass? This explains perhaps why USA has such a high rate of crime in general, 1400 quotes are about violence, cruelty and rape. After you read this chapter the Bible quotes presented (the worst of the 1500) will sound more like The unholy "Word of the wild dog" (watch cannibal chimp energy, and wild dog energy so similar to the quotes), God inverted, of 'Satan', of some wild baboon unaware of the principle of infinity. It's not by accident that many Americans love dogs so much and the Bible at the same time. The more you read the unholy "Word of the wild dog" the sicker it gets and the more like terrorist organizations all churches seem. The terror touched all continents for 2 millennia and the struggle of humankind to be free from it is far from over. What you have read so far in this chapter is only the introduction to the Word of 'Satan' presented as God by some of world's most naive, brainwashed or deceptive people on Earth: Christian clergy, especially Catholic who hide the Bible (not in the pews) and only use good quotes in the pews. They intentionally present the good quotes only, to lower the guard of the people, increase naivety, increase trust, so then they can plunder, rape and enslave the nation they invade. The Catholic Church is still the biggest landowner in Europe, and in Germany, the fraudulent miracles based churches, Catholic and Protestant, are the biggest landowners, they're mainly concerned with money making as this article explains, as the expense of Germany's backwardness. The Church says nothing about the depraved bullfighting and other sports in minority or majority Catholic nations. The wolf lures its prey with sweet talk of eternal life in some unproven heaven, if only the prey become its slave. If God can give people eternal life thru wafers, wine and Jesus, surely he can give them a nano nano second life in this world, meaning a lifespan of 4 billion years to better understand Jesus' great wisdom and God's nature. So, let us first give everyone a billion year lifespan and then we can be better informed about Jesus, God and the universe, via more precise research and findings about the way everything was faked or done. They never care about the PROVABLE physical Immortality or longevity of people, only about making profits by promising invisible unprovable Immortality. These business owning "churches" own banks (to enslave people), insurance companies, media, breweries (to cause endless domestic violence and car accidents via alcohol, 3 million dead a year, truly "godly"), etc, to keep people as low IQ as possible and prevent emancipation from mental slavery and parasitic capitalism where dealers mark up prices a lot. The vampire knows how to deceive its feeding sources. Iceland banned strip clubs in 2010, being the only European nation to do so: the rest are monster pigs who view females as mere objects to satisfy the ☺abysmal IQ☺ needs of 'depraved rats' who don't know they can meditate, breathe, exteriorize kind vibes to be happy. Immortalists would give lifetime labor to anyone engaging in selling or buying prostitution. Did you know Israel rabbis (or even regular ultra orthodox Jews since 1990s) sometimes use prostitutes (well before Ukraine invasion, from Ukraine) and Israel got covert prostitution using Eastern European girls? The Bible encourages sex slavery (hence priests who know the Bible often abuse 100s of children and church goers, to comply with 'god') in Ex 21:7-11, read an article on modern slavery in Israel. Perhaps, Christians ought to read their Bible and prevent their kids from going to church alone…, if they still believe in the Jesus mythology Jewish Italian military spies made up to conquer all continents.

Why are Europe, Americas, Philippines, Africa etc so backwards? Part of the reason is Christianity with its blood drinking, flesh eating simulation rituals of course: making people lower in IQ daily for the profits of pastors and church enterprises (Mormon church is super wealthy as members are asked to donate 10% of income, so they build temples sitting empty while others are homeless). Please gently and compassionately read more about the death sentence for a rape victim Deut 22:23-24, and how 'God' encourages sex slaves Exodus 21:7-11. Are all Popes, Bishops following the Word of this 'God'? Would you confess your sins to people who claim this is the word of 'God'? Not only does 'god of Israel, so much praised by the Jewish Vatican liturgy in all Catholic and Christian churches' promote 'true family values' of having 900 prostitutes if you got enough cash, but 'The God of Israel', that endless pastors praise as if they're Mossad agents, condones infanticide, cutting pregnant women, killing their born and unborn kids, in Hosea 13:16. Nothing to worry, Israel is the only nation worldwide where you see everyday people wearing rifles among the public. If you need confirmation, in 2 Kings 15:16 ripping out of wombs unborn 8 month old fetuses is done per tradition. Infanticide and rape combo in Numbers 31:17-18 has Moses saying to kill any potential pregnant plus fetuses. In 1 Samuel 15:3 Israel's amazing 'god' (dog?), the 'Jehovah, Our Father, Jesus prayed to', says to kill all animals, people, suckling infants. Jehovah witnesses anyone? The 'holy' Psalms are full of deifying of 'god's murder of millions of first kids of Egyptians: Ps136:10;105:36;135:8;78:51, He11:28,Ex12:29,12:12,11:5-6. Read Isaiah 13:15-18 to see "god"'s obsession with murdering kids. Israel's 1st prime minister told us, like a true Christian bishop, pastor (often Caucasian, Black, Asian Jews), that the Bible is the "book of books"; what will teenagers think of politicians praising the Bible and swearing on it: "sadistic torturers, lovers of genocide, mass rape, cannibalism"? It just looks so bad to educated people who have actually dared to read the Bible and not believe the lies pastors tell them. *This is the 'god' that kids are brainwashed that "predicted" Jesus will arrive and the proof for this prediction is as fuzzy as "Earth is flat". Reading the next few pages will confirm it well. The argument for keeping the Old Testament as part of Christian scripture is void, unless pastors really want people to know the 'advice' from this "god" whose "*genocide, mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, alcohol, kid beating, slave beating" laws Jesus came to reaffirm: Mat 5:17-9 & Mark 7:9-13. It just reveals the nature of Christian pastors' ethics, or lack of: they could be charged $50 million fine for fraud, for inciting people to genocide and rape, since they tell people the calls to genocide, rape and theft are the word of God. First they say Jesus says to love all, then they say the calls to endless atrocities come from the same God. So, what are kids going to think is ethical? To kill entire nations or love all? Hiding the bad quotes, telling endless lies to kids about 'miracles' destroys IQ, nation, requiring steep fines. If a cult called for the genocide of entire nations, as the Bible calls for, because those nations promote genocidal Bible content, beatings in the evil Bible/Torah (kids, workers, sex slaves) or the evil Quran (sex slaves, mutilated infidels, kids, wives), slavery, everyone would think it is crazy or even 'satanic', yet this is the Bible itself, or "Satan"'s word.

The Bible 'god' is a pathologically vengeful rapist thievery incarnate entity, or Hate/Violence Incarnate, who threatens his 'beloved people' with dozens of punishments in Lev 26 including Lev 26:29-30 (he will make them cannibals who eat their kids and thus kill them), while Jeremiah

19:9 has 'god' causing cannibalism of kids again, 'god' loves it, as the Book of Mormon many cannibalism quotes show. Kids who call someone 'bald head' are mauled by bears '$_{g}$od' brings 2 Kings 2:23-4. Any decent 'god' would lovingly infuse kids in infinite bliss and compassion for the poor aging man and lovingly ask them to not call old people bald again, only a psychopath would maul kids via bears. The Bible "God" is a violent sociopath who loves beating kids with rods, which would cause a 10 million dollar fine in Eternia at least, if not lifetime labor in a healing city, or execution in a state of emergency, and removal of parental rights (of course, the kids also would be subject to a mandatory educational course and possible restrictions at school, depending on the severity of any physical misbehavior), 'god' has no concept of kindness, education, teaching by living example, peaceful music, read "god"'s sadism that has led to billions of kids being beaten by psychopathic parents, made so by the Word of 'Satan': "'god' loves rods hitting kids" in Proverbs 13:24; 22:15; 23:13-14; 29:15. The God of Israel is the epitome of evil, violence and depravity, of destroying the human quantum field. If you need a definition of 'holy' happiness per the 'Word of God' & Torah, Psalm 137:8-9 explains it, the poem deifies killing kids by dashing them against the rocks, this is the "inspired Word of God" pastors often quote at church services, Psalms and Proverbs are so praised by EVERYONE affiliated with the church. How can we not call churches, synagogues, mosques terrorist organizations? Pastors avoid this Psalm of course to not look like the satanists or parasitic predators of 'locals' they might be in secret, since that would no longer make parents willing to allow kids to visit the "church", so pastors may be short on food per Lev 26:29-30 that describes 'god of Israel's habit of instantly making people kid eating cannibals. Or they may love to mess with kids, in US schools, a 75 page report explains, teachers abuse 10% of kids (3% lewd comments, 7% touching) and other reports say the bad teachers abuse 70+ kids before anything is done other than being moved 3 times to other schools, no 50K fine per comment, etc). Why would the churches linked to religious schools, be vastly different? They're religious schools and we had 100s of church abuse cases in the media. This is a result of the empty spirituality of Christianity and religions, the shallow religious service structure: if students and teachers would be spiritual, they would practice conscious breathing, watch their tone and attain bliss that way, not wasting time trying to chat with others about their looks. When you're happy inside, you commune with that, don't really seek it in others, but psychopathic religions with sociopath scriptures don't teach that. We need centralization of education, so such behavior doesn't happen. ☺☺☺

It is interesting how the UK wants to arrest people who incite others to violence via posts, but what do pastors do, by posting endless quotes from the Bible and by saying Bible is the Word of God? The Bible is pure hate speech, inciting people to genocide, mass rape, etc. What do rabbis and imams do by saying Torah and Quran are the Word of God? Inciting all to violence. Why do we have a double standard? Isn't it time that we're fair? Are we a Jewish slave colony, why can't anyone criticize the Quran, the Bible and Torah part of the Bible? Quran is Bible recycled. Isn't it funny, the UK King is head of the Anglican Church promoting these genocides, mass rapes, beatings of kids. Are we surprised that UK was blowing people by gun? Look at the Spanish Inquisition tool of the Spanish Royals, used to encourage low IQ and cruelty. The Bible has many examples of dowry, which is common in many nations still and leads to human trafficking and girl families setting up their daughter to marry someone only to get the money from the guy's family and use it to buy house for the bride's brother or for themselves, with real fights happening over the price of the bride on wedding day, leading to millions of marriages being canceled. In fact, the issue is so serious, the fraud so widespread, on Feb 1st 2025, China passed a new law that at divorce, who owns is who paid for it, to prevent women from marrying for 3 months only to make money for her parents. The so called spiritual Bible objectifies women and leads to the suffering of millions of women worldwide who adopt these cruel customs of dowry that put a cheap price on a human and lead to endless fights before, on and after the wedding day, seen in millions of online videos. This shows the Bible is nothing original, but merely a copying of other traditions worldwide, a collection of 20000 low IQ ideas and 20 nice quotes. Dowry is a form of human traffic, organized crime racketeering and extortion by the parents against their son in law, a form of violence, slavery and ought to be abolished with the same urgency as slavery itself. Women are not objects worth 1000-10000 dollars.☺☺☺ The complete objectification of women, as mere robots to produce babies via dowry leads to these violent aggressive pranks at weddings that are not punished with lifetime labor, to Hitler like tone of the hooligan bride parents Chinese bride family asking the groom to drink the foot wash water or give the bride family 600K and sick habits of brides tied to telephone poles.

Would anyone want to pray to a 'god' who makes people, pastors cannibals craving for kids as lunch? Look at the cremation of Care effigy on Wikipedia and also video of it. What has this to do with World Peace in 3 months or ethics? How can such a grotesque simulation of Baal/Moloch sacrifice (owl being Moloch), by the Russian river in California be legal? Russians also burn effigies of people in front of churches and in many cities, satanism runs deep: these brainwashed masses don't have any respect for the human quantum field, nor care about the vibe that brings World Peace, it's the energy that invaded Ukraine. Inhaling smoke that shortens lifespan and cheering like gorillas as a human looking thing is burned is a crime against humanity, an instigation to human sacrifice as quotes show. They don't have a World Peace in 3 months gathering, but this 'Bohemian Grove' gathering like the Russian misinformed masses. The Torah/Bible says on one page "don't kill", then the same guy Moses says kill 3000. In one place don't steal, then loot everything in the cities of gentiles. In one place don't long for a fellow Jew wife, but rape and take as sex slaves as many of non-Jews as you want. All these quotes are in this chapter. So, the natural question arises, if Jews go outside of Israel, which parts of Torah apply and which don't? Lev 20:2 claims any Jew who is caught sacrificing people is to be killed in Israel, but outside it's not clear, since we saw for many commandments they're invalidated in "certain circumstances", so even in Israel they may be invalidated. Are gentiles to be raped, killed, and looted as the '(for profit?) prophets' told Jews they can do, especially for any nation 'God gives over to Jews' in De 7:1-16? In Kings 11:4-5 we have Solomon worshiping Molek, a name for Moloch, the fictional deity 0 IQ people sacrificed babies to. Freemasons worship the Solomon temple in Kings 7-11, built in the forest, like Bohemian Grove, with stuff from Hiram's ships (Hiram is a popular guy in the Freemason cult full of Jewish memes). 1 Kings 9:21-2 explains how Solomon lived the Torah ethics: gentiles as slaves. Solomon had reportedly 1000 'wives' Kings 11:3, while everyone was told to have one. Again, 2 sets of ethics. A little like a Saudi King with 22 wives or a Chinese emperor with 1000 concubines killed when the emperor died. A Professor logically explains the Bible is based on fictional beings who do reflect typical events, people, mindsets of the times, including "Jesus, the savior of the Vatican Bank". So, how can this Bible be sold to gentiles as the Word of God and the Vatican and all Christian churches say so? Moses tells his folks there is a secret meaning to some of what he says, meaning "exceptions and not as it sounds". Add to that Zohar calls to create war by "black" magic, and we got a recipe for "peace in 4 trillion years" with these texts. How can a Bible based religion be considered a religion, if it encourages the breaking of 100s of laws? The pastors, oddly and suspiciously, avoid these quotes, as they make a mockery of the 10 commandments, showing one ethics for Jews *and one for "subhuman" gentiles*: De 23:20. WHY? We gently want the truth and nothing but the TRUTH.☺☺☺ To bring World Peace if we have a deal on no killings, no torture, it applies in all nations/ethnicities; otherwise, Peace is impossible. How long before everyone realizes World Peace happens when nations want?

When you read the 1450 evil quotes of Torah (Old Testament), you realize how Cathars (Catharos = pure in Greek, they were more puritans) emerged: they made up a denomination that New Testament was God inspired and Old one Satan inspired, i.e. 'god' of Israel is the god of the physical world, Satan, and the Jesus Father some different God of the spiritual worlds (trillions), the 'good god' of soul evolution and reincarnation, The Jews and their Old Testament ultra genocidal quotes = Satan, and the Gospel = God (having far fewer really violent quotes), so the Jews or Italians in Rome who controlled the Vatican/Italy may have dispatched Jewish or Italian terrorists (disguised as Bishops and Vatican police of the Inquisition) in 1184 in France to exterminate the Cathar gentiles who dared insult the Jewish Torah and the infinite wisdom of the Italian prophets of genocide, who happily preached endless genocide quotes were the word of God. Inquisition was simply a way for Italians/Jews to exterminate people in any Italian/Jew colonized entity that dared to challenge anything Italian/Jewish, such as the ultra low IQ fraud based Christian/Judaism religion for which no evidence exists (ignore the made up science studies paid by the Vatican or Mossad) in any real scientific sense. Cathar belief was similar to traditional ideas that one trillionth of the universe, our physical universe, was created by the fallen angel 'Lucifer' who created endless insects, viruses, bacteria, tornadoes, etc to kill us, since we didn't rebel against God, so Satan wanted to shorten our lives. Immortalism basically can be perceived by religious fanatics who love fights as a holy war against deathism and "satanic evil aliens (Lucifer and fallen angels) who may (in true/false theories) have setup this universe as a prison for our souls". Hence our drive for a sterile planet via advanced quantum devices, free from any animal who kills any human ever, is similar to the drive to purify the universe from Satan's creations (all lifeforms of our world), including our decaying body of death. By communicating with our soul, we bring in the Divine Blueprint into Reality to shatter death forever. Catholics (like most Christians, Jews, Muslims) worship satan in reality, as they worship the ultra evil Old Testament as Word of God, this world and its DNA, etc as divine. Hence the pedophile priests and Popes, who order wars, love to say "have sex outside procreation", because they worship the fallen DNA of procreation by sex, an ape DNA of living to 80-150 only, not 5 trillion. ☺☺☺ To the simple minds of peasants, this dualism worked to explain the drastic difference in violence and cruelty between the two Testaments, even if neither Catholicism, nor Catharism are true. Catholics didn't like that, so they exterminated the antiwar anti Eucharist anti killing anti torture (on the cross) Cathars (anti everything that the Catholics were for then) in the name of "God's love" or "freedom of religion": love thy neighbor as thyself, only if he's a secret Jew or Catholic? Want to visit Italy or Israel? Cathars were vegetarian, pescatarian in old age (like Einstein, he was vegetarian for a few months and then everyone claims he was so all his life ☺☺☺), when they also remained celibate after the baptism at age 50-90 and had fewer kids after age 30-80 due to focusing on spiritual bliss, not hedonism as the Catholics who had sex outside of procreation. Thus, Cathars were some sort of Protestants who dared to question the illogical brainwashing forced on millions by the sword: they were one of 100s of groups from 1st to 12th century, who have fought for freedom of thought, and brought the science revolution that ended the Catholic terror and eons of ignorance about stars, planets, health, etc. Catholics burned Cathars alive sometimes, as if the Catholic Bishops were often actually Jewish Baal (the guys who burn folks) worshipers in disguise, for exposing some issues with the Catholic Church: the present/ancient claim that the diabolical quotes of Old Testament are the Word of God. Any sane parent would be worried to allow her kids to any church, synagogue (or mosque) after reading these Bible and Quran sex quotes, for the media has 100s of incidents of pastors raping kids, 1000s of reports of missing kids (are pastors part of the mafia sometimes?). Moreover, if a 9 pastors are blood drinkers (they tell kids at every Mass to drink the blood of Jesus) or blood collectors who prick kids or suck/collect kid blood, kids won't tell it, due to being so terrorized and threatened or naive enough to believe it's a 'godly' thing to keep it secret from parents because 'the holy pastor, representative of 'god of Israel the Almighty conman' said so'.

If pastors lie about this being Word of God so much, they could also use kids (especially gentiles if secretly Jewish?) for their own experiments: give them a drink poison, make them unconscious, then remove an organ, kidney, etc and traffic organs like in the news about a church doing that to starving people, 600 people missing. Skeptics will say the satanists get blood from the regular donations so they don't need do it, but not everyone donates blood, using hospital supplies is harder too, not as fresh perhaps. The stuff can be done to mind control and terrorize more than to get blood. Parents need to wake up and take America back from these 'pastors' deceiving billions of kids, since the government doesn't care, they say "freedom of religion" is more important than the right to be alive and not be maimed, deceived. UK data: in 2001, 72% were Christians, in 2021, 46%. UK 'No religion' % moved from 15% to 37%, as people realize ethics can exist without religion. USA Christians were 90% in 1990, 63% in 2022, unaffiliated 5% vs 29% in 2022, Protestants 69% in 1948, 34% in 2022, Catholics 22% in 1948, 23% in 2022 due to 40 million Hispanic less educated (60-78% Internet access in 2023 in those nations, far less decades ago) Catholic immigrants (12%) and offspring, otherwise native Catholics are half the 1948 % too, like Protestants. US church membership was 70% in 1992, 46% in 2022. Ebook can be read offline, so it helps those who can only travel 10 miles by foot to get Internet once a year. Information needs to be easily accessible, if we want World Peace.

Jephthah burned to death his daughter in Judges 11:30-40 as 'sacrifice to 'god' of Israel' due the tradition of human sacrifice from mentally insane (for profit?) 'prophets'. 1 Kings 16:34 explains how Hiel (from hell?) killed his kids to rebuild Jericho: insane people. In 2 Kings 6:28-29 a lady boils and eats her son. The 'god' of Israel allows that lady to boil her son and the Jehovah 'god' of Israel allows Baal disciples to boil kids too in Jer 19:5, 'god' can stop it, but chooses not to, a very odd 'god' (demon?) given at what length he goes to punish his 'beloved people' if they disobey his commands (read again in Lev 26:29-30 how the 'god' of Israel he will make parents cannibals eating their kids for not obeying to his commands. So 'god' commands 'do not boil babies' (and even says to kill anyone who does in Lev 20:2), but then punishes people by making them baby eaters and killers, what kind of coherence of ethics is that? We saw above how every "do not" is contradicted with instances where "God approves the opposite on a gigantic scale". So, this 'god' stands for nothing. "Do what you will pretty much". How can they call it inspirational? If 'god' can make parents cannibals, then he can also reverse it and stop Baal worshipers and others from boiling kids, etc, but he doesn't. How did the kid err to be eaten by his parents for no mistake of his own? Dear clergy or gullible people, please ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ don't start the lie with 'it's context', anyone with a functional brain realizes the insanity, cruelty and evilness of this 'god' and any decent pastor, after reading chapter 14 of this book would quit his church, mosque, synagogue, since it's based on a total fraud perpetrated by the top clergy. Those who need to fill the vacuum of not going to churches can setup a youtube and record eterni tone songs or speech tone that calms everyone, sentences of 1-3 minutes to enrich the quantum field and create their 0 donations online 'immortality for all' 'church'. People need living spirituality, we had enough 'normal tone talk' that led to 500 million dead last 2 millennia based on the 'unholy' Word of 'god'. Last 100 years alone, about 230 million were killed, by WW1, 2, communism, etc so powerful was this 'word' of the "dog" (god?) of Israel, that it didn't transform anyone much, no wonder, with the tone and content… of the scriptures, anthems (unlike Anthem Eternal) and services. Walk in 99% of churches, the tone is so bad, the content even worse: never do they even mention (let alone intone) the need to embody universal gentle tender soft compassionate nurturing healing graceful loving kindness; it is too brain intensive to design a combo quality totally absent in our world. Many churches are like stuck ghosts, zombies from the 1st century, frozen in time and ideas, spiritually dead. It's like going to study chemistry using 1st century texts, imagine how exciting that would be, how much knowledge you get in physics from 1st century texts, the "holy" Bible of physics.☺☺ If you remain a pastor, at least you could lovingly gently consider focusing on the top 3 better quotes, only about 3 sentences in the Bible are more 21st century in vibe, eterni. The alleged 'god' is almighty, he can stop anything we're told so when Abraham put the knife near his son's throat to kill him, 'god' stopped it in Genesis 22:9-12 where 'god' of Israel subjects a poor kid to horrific psychological torture, though 'god' stops dad from killing his kid. But when babies are boiled, burned by Baal lovers, 'god' doesn't stop it, the 'god' of Israel even kills the first kid of millions of Egyptians, so he's obviously used to the mass murder of kids. All in the name of an imaginary psycho 'god', who just loves to terrorize kids, beat, maul, boil, kill them. In Acts 7:8 etc this 'god' & Moses in Lev 12:3 want to subject 8 day old babies to untold suffering for months, by cutting parts of their penises, as the circumcision section explains. Please ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ watch out missing kids, baby eaters may still exist thanks to a 'satanist' government swearing on the Bible and allowing the publishing of the evil Bible. Clergy deceptively avoid the quotes above: Lev 20:9 parents killing kids for saying a bad word. Why avoid it, if it's the "Word of God", we want to hear it all, even if 100% fiction.

It's suspect that for 1500 years the church kept the services and Bibles in Latin, a language most didn't know, keeping ALL totally ignorant of the quotes above and spreading only the rosy lies the Jewish etc pastortells them: the Jewish Jesus will save you if you give our church all wealth, and Catholic Church became the richest landowner in Europe. Once the Reformation and printing press got moving in 1500, everyone could read the quotes if they had the time and COULD see the SCAM. That's why Catholic-Protestant wars broke out and killed 20 million, since Protestants had the audacity to encourage people to think for themselves and not believe, without unfakable evidence, in all fake wine into blood, bread into flesh Eucharistic miracles the church invented to increase donations, in praying to "saints whose miracles were made up", etc. Do we need more Bibles, Torahs, Qurans printed, more churches, mosques, synagogues? What do YOU think? Do you still believe in wafers now? Are they compatible with human rights? They're 9 billion fold incompatible with universal gentle tender soft nurturing graceful loving kindness. This is evident if you read the first page of Anthem Eternal immortalist's "creed" and the Declaration of Immortality for All, the declaration of US independence from the Bible, Torah, Quran terror quotes. We definitely need a revival, of critical thinking and hypothesis testing, not of fake miracles. The FDA, FBI protect the public from scam companies, etc, but they do nothing to stop the scam professionals called 'pastors, bishops, etc who lie to all, amass millions of dollars while promoting the most violent texts the world has never known, since all bad quotes have been kept secret': the Catholics hide the Bibles and only have in pews the Missal with nicer quotes, they got really good at deception, they lie to our kids Jehovah loves them, when he's a sociopath bent on killing them, beating them using the parents as his tool of torture. The Christian clergy lie to all that the Bible is the Holy Word of God, including Old Testament. Additionally, they terrorize millions of kids and people, with a concept that focuses on torture, of Jesus and his disciples, the 14 stations of the cross in every Catholic Church, etc.

Why do you think there is so much domestic violence in the w*orld? One reason is the* beatings deified in the Bible/Torah (kids, workers, sex slaves) or Quran (sex slaves, mutilated infidels, kids, wives). Jews, or spies who wrote the Bible, being very much like these chimps, back then at least, thought that physical violence against kids is the way forward and how civilization works: sadly, billions of parents, brainwashed by the Bible, choose 'satanism', which violence against kids is. Educate, prevent via centralized education for all children from age 0 with nicest tones (free videos for all parents to share with kids), be a role model of gentle tender soft healing nurturing universal kindness☺☺☺, don't beat kids for any reason, don't spank, don't slap. No child is violent if he receives proper education. Violence is learned from the violent unregulated media*. This Bible violence is what inspired* the Inquisition violence that European, possibly secretly Jewish or Italian royal families, (who pretended to be locals, Europeans) supported. All the Christian Churches and Synagogues, Mosques do is similar to a very sophisticated terrorist organization, since they praise texts calling for torture, beatings, wars, genocide, mass rape, etc except it's done so subtly and invisibly, so cunningly, that most are not aware of how they incite people indirectly to violence, Catholics even remove Bibles, as stated before, keep only a Missal of nice quotes for maximum deception. The basis of peace, progress and spirituality is honesty, totally lacking at the Vatican and in most pastors who claim the violent quotes are "Word of God" or "ethical in that context". They were not ethical in that context, even back then peaceful methods to prevent wars existed very simple, like today, but nobody was interested: aristocrats need be less willing to start wars to expand wealth, dialog with the other camps, these 5 trillion methods, infiltrating the other camps to propose universal peace in 3 months… or simply proposing it without infiltration. Anyone who swears or praises the Bible with Deut 20:10-17 call for genocide and extermination of all humans 'God gives to Jews', is no different than Hitler. This is not obvious to many, but the pastors are ultra careful to hide the 1400 bad quotes and their "Hitler tones", just as rabbis often are. If we had a kind civilization that fines celebrities 300 million when singing violent music heard by millions, we also need smaller fines for those giving speeches in churches to 3000 saying the Word of Ethics is that which is calling for mass rape and genocide, killing/torturing, mutilating infidels, etc, which is most pastors, imams and rabbis. Clergy are unaware of the level of gentleness needed to bring violent crime down 1 billion fold. If someone posts online a call to kill a person, torture or terrorize others, police visits, but if people promote a Bible, Torah calling for entire nations to be wiped out, for under 18 girls to be raped, for kids to be killed, a Quran calling for infidels to be tortured and killed, etc, FBI does nothing, what kind of law enforcement is this? The Quran, like the Jewish Talmud, etc is OK with sex with minors and Jewish texts are very detailed on how to marry a 3 year old and how Jews need to marry a 3 year old if Jews have 'intercourse with a 3 year old', apparently, a normal thing in their world of the 'chosen people of God of Pedophilia'). ☺☺☺

The Bible condones, via Moses, etc, the mass looting of non-Jews, beating kids with rods, etc. In the USA, we still are decentralized and in the 1st century, sort of Israelistan, with thousands of kids under 15 getting married thanks to ACLU, Planned Parenthood and other "liberal" organizations, who may just promote an old Jewish Law from some old text that says "marriage at age 3-12 is fine"… This is a form of child abuse, like the rape of infants in Israel in recent times. The latest (1983) Catholic Canon Law says minimum is 14 for girls, 16 for boys, still backwards and reflective of the Talmud*istan* the Vatican is, the pope even wears the Jewish Kippah and does everything with Vatican to promote Israel via Mass quotes (the liturgy on Missal that hides all very bad quotes) and etc, being more of a Mossad agent. The highest number of child marriage by nation is @ statista and a UN pdf. Between 2000 and 2018, in USA, five 10 year olds, 14 12 yr, 78 13 yr, 1200 14 yr, 8200 15 yr, 64000 16 yr, 149000 17 yr olds got married thanks to 50 countries in one nation, no centralization, 86% are girls. Parents, please ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ keep kids safe, away from pseudo scriptures. How can this be in a truly "rule of law" society where the same standard applies to all? Wikipedia explains in the USA some states have legal marriage 19 or 21, others allow even at 13. Equal opportunity and rights for all? This is a double standard that shows how far the scam of 'freedom of religion' has gone in interfering on the right to a life of peace, with no torture and terror people get from fanatics who go and follow these violent "scriptures". Perhaps, we can have nonprofits run ads on TV to explain the wafer/baptism scams, the quotes. The hypocritical Jew controlled West banned Mein Kampf, deifies 'The Satanic Verses' about the Quran, "not realizing" almost all the bad in the 2 books is in the "holy" Bible, and much more evil stuff. Watch the Nazi lady who killed half a million people, almost as if following the Bible. How can any government ban Mein Kampf (copyright expired now, so all have it online), and not the Bible or at least Old Testament/Torah? We the People have been conned for 2 millennia. We can promote peace and free our kids, adults from deceptive brainwashing by con artists. The game is simple, they promote some nice quotes and then they hook everyone to believe the rest of the scam.

Have money or free time? Share happyimmortals.com or gently use $ for a good cause, since our 'stone age' government (they want to buy cheap oil, since not all have electrics*, so they* pretend they don't know*)* does nothing: create a nonprofit "Gentle Seekers" who pays for 30 seconds ads on all radio-TV about the worst quotes saying "Why didn't your pastor tell you about these quotes in the Bible? While wanting to take care of your kids? And include the worst ones above. Or why didn't your pastor talk about all slavery quotes in Old and New Testament, believe in Jesus now? See below. Why didn't pastor talk about God's ability to bless without intermediate wafer and water? Are you a parent, kid or teen, do you know these quotes? The 'god' of Israel has odd preferences for kids: he wants to kill you at all ages (even as a suckling baby) (quotes will appear in ads under each of the blue white words), rape you, boil you (he sets cities on fire, if you take bath, you will be boiled), burn you (and all people, animals in entire cities), trim your penis skin as an infant or kid and subject you to huge suffering for weeks, eat you (he loves to make parents cannibals), maul you with bears, beat you with rods, dash you to pieces, smash you against rocks, rip you to kill you from mothers' womb before you're born, it's in the "holy" Bible (religious Jews wear black/with some white always; see the quotes in the 7 pages above for each of these sociopath actions of 'god'), the conman pastor hid from you to deceive your soul. Government approved scripture they swear on. Wake up my dear soul friend. See happyimmortals.com for more." Let not the pastor, bishop, 'scholar' deceive you with the lie that "God only said that in certain circumstances referring to the fight of Jews with some 7 nations or etc", because that is simply not true. This same 'god' said in De 7:1-16 that ANY nation, 'god' gives over to Jews, can be destroyed, via the 'methods of god', this 'god' has given to Jews in dealing with other 'folks is mad at'. Look at all 1000 violent quotes to establish the evilness of it, the ignorance of it, the human 100% content of it (not God even 1%), versus the way of peace. Look at the whole picture, at the context of the Torah (Old Testament of the Bible) genocidal horror text, as the pastors say, and discern, tell any pastor what is kinder, Anthem Eternal or the 1000 horror quotes? After 2000 years of terror at sword point or gunpoint, of shoving this on every kid, we're still having 0 freedom from such filth and violence imposed in many ways in every aspect of culture and civilization in US, EU, worldwide, on 5 billion people at least. A kid reads these quotes and wonders if whoever brought him to church (parents, teachers, siblings, relatives), is insane, cruel, a murderer or worse. At 12, my mom took us to the church, where they gave us a little deceptive pamphlet with some positive prayers and such, hiding all the 1500 horrific quotes. At home, I ignored the Bible, since after opening the only Bible mom had randomly 8 times all I found was killings and trash, nothing more uplifting like Anthem Eternal, that has a vibe never found anywhere in the Bible. Kids' brains are a lot simpler than a 40 year old and they may not understand the historical context and simply begin to hate, distrust whoever gave their Bible or told them to go to church as a psychopathic cruel murderer to be avoided, so much so that this 'bible' could destroy families; thankfully, when I read the Bible at 12 I didn't come across the very nastiest quotes, and the real God quickly led me away from continuing reading that filth perhaps, as a few ambushes, killings and violence incidents I read were enough to "convince me" of the "value" of the "holy text". How can an ethical government allow such filth to be printed? How can a sane parent even allow their kid to open such a text and tell them they want to believe this is God's Word? What sane parent would do that? Nobody, since no parent really knows their Bible, except 1 in a million. Same for all novels with similar actions. We need to decide if we want a culture of life or of satanism. So far, for millennia we chose satanism disguised as 'word of god'. In the TV-radio ads we need to put side by side, all bad quotes from Jesus, Moses near their good quotes and see what people think about the "kind" (for profit?) 'prophet'. Let none be deceived. Some ad ideas are below and in the fake Messiah, fake miracles sections. The evil acts 'god' of Israel tells people to do damage the human quantum field, the concept of nonkilling, nontorture, transforming gentleness didn't exist. Pastors want us to love this 'god', who, they claim, predicted the arrival of 'Jesus the Messiah' and who is a 'loving' God… What? Let none be fooled by the 'god' of Israel, whose words make him a "Lord" of mass child rape, of genocide, of holocaust, who inspired the Quran sex stuff (Quran= recycled Talmud, Bible + added stuff).

2018 Japan intentional homicide, almost equal to USA in 1950, was down 10 times since 1950, USA went up slightly, while Germany, Greece, UK, Norway, France were stagnant, it shows how good the "present culture of shouting music" and Jesus and the "revivals" are too, a 0 progress after 70 years of "preaching the 'holy' WORD". Italy rate went down 2x since 1970s, Poland down 3x since 1990, showing an effect of the gentler music in churches perhaps? See the present rates. All those pastors getting rich by selling fake miracles had a cosmic effect? US murder rate in 2022 was higher in many cities than Ukraine war rate. This is not surprising, since our officials swear on the war zone like Bible as the Word of God and push it in every way, force it on millions of Americans. Let the whole world know the 'important' Word of the 'Lord' the pastors avoid. Inform all so that you ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ inspire, guide, and cause via spiritual realization, with untold grace and cosmic efficiency, all clueless persons (who never read the quotes), vampires, parasites, looters, conmen to cease *(*by their own choice, not by force to cease*) destroying the human quantum field, to gently, quietly cease promoting the Bible* as the 'Word of God'. Wake up, the Bible is a collection of 100% human writings, 0.01% God inspired, with 1% of it some OK quotes and 3 sentences reaching 21st century ideal tone of a civilization of 'want to be' Eternals. The Quran and Torah even less than 3 sentences, maybe 0 (due to war stress), depending on the eterni quality of your criteria. Millions of people died to make USA world's first nation with freedom of speech and religion, so now, Americans, wake up and expose the greatest scam of history, while you still have freedom. Use TV-radio-internet ads to defend true democracy, and the quantum field. Let ☺☺☺ gentle tender soft healing nurturing universal loving kindness☺☺☺ prevail ever so gracefully. This was an eterni tone sentence, a sentence worthy of scripture of the 21st century of World Peace in 3 months, by our collective choice, a sentence of a different vibe, not of gentle dropping of nukes, not of killing slowly, not of one quality alone, but of the combo of the qualities we almost entirely lack on our planet, the vibe of universal kindness (universal nonkilling, nontorture, gentle tender grace for all) in all circumstances: that is closer to 0.0001% of GOD's tone. Let all write scripture (0.1% of this book is nice and positive enough to qualify perhaps), let all interested be online clergy, they can do way better than the Bible/Quran. Did you get it? Did 0.000001% of God's Light now pervade your every pore deeper? We need your gentle light, magnify it and let it envelop the Earth forever.

One holy seeker can do more good than all present clergy combined. Fill the void my friend, be that person yourself. You wonder how can it be so? It's easy, if you have quality (not quantity), a short scripture guiding you, or good tech, you can move 9000 times faster than chariots (spacecraft today), create amazingly rich and peaceful sound with 1 mp3 player 1 billion clergy, musicians could not do in Bible times (tech folks read the Bible least), produce today many 1000s of chemicals with 100% purity; in alchemy era of the Bible ethics, you could only get 0.00001% to 30% chemical purity for most stuff, not enabling you to do endless good, miracles of science today, and living to 1 billion some day. The same is true for ethics and emotional vibes. With Bible vibes we will only go so far as a planet. One tiny water filter, can produce water purer than 1 billion filters in centuries gone. One good tone filter, creates wonders on Earth, produces the only tone of a certain quality. If more listen to it, it's like all drink clean water the first time ever, free from 100s of pathogens (bad quotes), so suddenly, all can live to 10 times the age, due to clean water, no longer dying spiritually (physically in prior centuries) at age 5. One tiny device today can do what before 100 billion could not do even 0.000001% of. May all violent quotes in scriptures worldwide be banned forever. Amen, in the real God's name, not the is-real, Israel 'god' name, even the name doubts their 'God' is real, see the irony? Perhaps, we can ☺☺ lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ see how suspect it is that they wear all black, many pastors, monks, nuns and all Orthodox Jews, the color hardest to see at night, when some followers of the 'Bible quotes' can attack helpless kids who can't see monks as with bright colors. Trust clergy now? Do people see why they didn't trust the red (color of blood) loving Church of England promoting these quotes as the Word of God? Why the American Revolution took place? Bingo. Hey, lovers of Immortality or Eternity Party, we now got a strategy to make USA never vote Republican, Democrat (they promote the quotes as the word of god, ethics, law) again. Let America free itself, embrace Anthem Eternal ethics, a draft of its New Anthem, perhaps dare to dress differently while not being shamed for looking 'unprofessional'.

The Bible 'god' promotes beating slaves with rods in Exodus 21:20-21, he's a monster god of violence, of slavery. Exodus 21:2-6 encourages cruelty, 'taking hostage of a slave's wife & kids, to force permanent slavery'. The 'Holy' Gospel, also promotes slavery, while pastors claim the New Testament is "perfect" versus the obviously much more horrific Old one: Ephes 6:5 says to "disobey God by obeying those who mistreat others, who damage the quantum field, so we can't graduate to a world of gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness". 1 Tim 6:1-2 sounds like "work hard for your master, if he pretends to be Christian (but is not, just some aristocrat or Jew or spy pretending to be local king or 'good citizen') to work you to death, to kill you slowly, be a gullible man, in the name of Jesus the fake miracle expert, and support and promote this form of subjugation that destroys the human quantum field".☺ In Luke 12:47-8 Jesus says "punish those who err even when they didn't know it was wrong". In Mark 7:9-13 Jesus criticizes rabbis for creating their own (less psycho?) traditions and not implementing the sociopath commands 'god' gave Jews, such as "killing kids for bad words" in Lev 20:9. In Mat 5:17-9 Jesus confirms he didn't come to abolish the above sociopath ideas (for profit?) 'prophets' gave Jews, on the contrary, he just came to fulfill them and indeed, his followers have killed millions. Parents beware. Protect your kids from the quotes. But, ?logically?, Jesus clarifies in John 14:6 all go to hell, unless they believe in Jesus. Jesus is planting the seeds of guilt and cult mind control: only thru Jesus they can be happy in the afterlife in heaven. You can be born in an area where no Bibles reach, so, no matter how good your deeds, you go to hell, while the most evil who accepts a fake pastor 'saving him thru accepting Jesus' goes to heaven; a very 'fair' God indeed. Jesus in Mat 5:25 fails to imagine a world without prisons, because his IQ was so low, all is about courts and wasting time. More bad ideas from Jesus are in the fake Messiah section. They give us a clue that Jesus was made up by spies possibly. We see in Jesus often the same Old Testament energy: huge punishment, no education, 0 IQ. Luke 22:19-20 shows Jesus has big ego, people need to recall him, "in memory of me", not in memory of God. Jesus got toad IQ☺☺☺: God doesn't need wafers or wine to reach people. Jesus forces people to recall him by creating a cannibalistic imagery ritual. Is this kind for kids? No. Wine and alcohol kill 3 million a year, not an issue for Jesus, the prince of Peace, co-responsible thru his Gospel for billions of drunk beatings of spouses last 2 millennia. Read Jesus' Mat 5:29-30 words about cutting one's hand and taking one's eye for just being curious about a person with tone of speech nicer than the thuggish chimp lady rabbis forced on you by forced marriage without any free will. A pretty jealous guy perhaps? Or just a rabbi in disguise? To top it all, you need follow Jesus, his violence in Mat 21:12 in the temple, to go to Heaven, clergy tells us to follow his thuggish ways. See his staging miracles tricks here. How long before all realize it's all fake? Politicians pretend to be Christian, etc to get votes, so elections appear genuine, even though they're often faked when vote is not as expected, they don't believe these (for profit?) 'prophets.' Wake up?

99.99% of Christian clergy (except for Quakers and others who reject communion and wafers rituals) tell us to trust that we need the weekly, quarterly, monthly or daily cannibalism like (eat the body and blood of Jesus, Eucharist), rituals and all the Mass says is true, that the Gospel Jesus words "I have not come to bring peace, but a sword" in Mat 10:34-38 are from a God of "Grace, Soothing and Infinitely Loving Healing Tactful Compassionate Communication", that these quotes are what the God said, would anyone intelligent trust that?☺ It's hard at times, for the indoctrinated, to realize ethics and Godliness can exist, or even develop a trillion times more, without the Bible or Quran... so we try to be kind and gentle, in attempting to clarify. To God, the real One, we pray that God will help them. Back to contradictions: The "Son of God of Infinite Love, Patience,☺ Compassion,☺ Healing☺, Transforming Grace", far above all humans in every way, Jesus calls God's kids, "rabbis and disbelievers" (just misinformed more primitive people), children of the devil (John 8:44), "snakes, hypocrites" and escalatory insults that bring conflict (Mt 23:4-36) and even engages in physical violence, throwing the table of the merchants in the temple, see Mt 21:12. Perhaps, he was trying to tell people rabbi teachings are not the best and used language people could understand refers to 'bad or to be avoided', but what about Mark 7:9-13 & Mat 5:17-9 where he approves of the 'teachings of the 'devil children' rabbis' and all the other ideas of Jesus that were as hypocritical, cruel, etc as the rabbis' ideas he criticized? Jesus can't even levitate a table (see miracles section), but walks on water? If he can be Godly, he can infuse all merchants with Infinite Love by materializing neurochemicals in their brains as he materialized bread in the fake story, gently levitate traders gently as he levitates his body on water in the fake story, then levitate the table outside the Temple and teach them that in the future we will live on eterni food as a true prophet or deep thinker about the nature of reality (everything is made of atoms as Greeks knew, so even a Jesus could imagine food will be different in the far future, no plants or animals dying and suffering), not a fake that made no prediction that ever came true. can't control his anger so many times and maintain serenity, but is Godliest? Logical? He incites people to violence? Today we see the same thing, every country almost says others don't respect human rights, or are hypocrites, but they all have the same hypocrisy, since they all kill and torture humans, slowly or instantly via spy services – with no politician (spy) in a major nation even proposing to end all wars, killings and torture via international agreement. They use lofty talk of 'socialist, communist, democratic, freedom, Judeo-Christian, Islamic, Hindu etc values' as a cover to continue the status quo of NO human right to live in peace without war and violence – they don't want to end wars, border changes and all violent coercive covert methods – only when other countries disrespect human rights it's an issue, when they do it, it's not. It's so far from the peaceful scriptures, Anthem Eternal vibe or even compassionate communication courses some have made online. Many suffer from the same condition Jesus did – he was accusing the rabbis of hypocrisy, but the way he talked and behaved totally contradicted his beatitudes and other teachings. Today we see how politicians criticize other countries for 'bombing civilians' while they did the exact same thing before; all countries bomb, but it's only a huge catastrophe when enemies do it; is that fair or hypocrisy? ☺

Why don't politicians talk of/walk Immortality for All, nonkilling in 'wars' within 3 months, nontorture for all, the end of all "wars, forceful border changes, covert/overt (fake protests, etc) violence" within 6 months, removal of all violence from scriptures within 1 year? Or replacing violent scriptures with a decent 7 page scripture we make? After all, the God many profess to follow said Don't kill. Sitting in a nice office, it's easy to say "invade to promote 'democracy' or 'communism' or 'Islam' or etc (more killing wars for millennia)", but when you have a house you worked to build and lived in 50 years demolished or have to do street fights to defend a little town, it's different. Why is violence acceptable or ethical, because the possibly fictional 'Lord' Jesus was violent? Where is the universal loving softness, tenderness and sweet compassion for all beings? Jesus didn't have any for many he talked to, so are we going to emulate him? If the prior quotes are not enough, please read the long list of Jesus 'pearls of wisdom', very sad/illogical, it will be a true revelation. Clergy don't talk about these quotes, because people would realize it's all fake and join Immortality for All ethos and movement,☺☺☺ building Immortality universities (learning centers, research centers, etc) instead of churches or converting churches to have one inside? Hey, if you didn't know it yet, God's Holy Word is that "he needs you to trim your penis and vagina to be Godly" or achieve World Peace in 3 months"? An Immortal would be 1 trillion times more loving towards any human than the best mother is with her baby, since any human is like a 2 hour old baby, vs someone 2 trillion year old, who had time to become 1 billion times kinder compassionate, so how is Jesus so called 'special divinity' playing out, since he's claiming to be infinitely older than the youngest Immortals aged 1 trillion? Well, merchants were selling animals for sacrifice, so maybe he had nice intentions for more kindness and less ritual/torture of animals; supposedly Jesus was Essene, a faction that had different ideas from the others in Judaism (no sacrifices, etc), hence you see Pharisees, the hypocrites per Jesus, talking in 100s of sentences of Talmud *about the rules of animal sacrifice and sprinkling animal blood (*Ctrl+F "blood"), etc; until the 20th century, when all doctors agreed blood letting is useless, a few people believed for millennia it has some benefits, and even Talmud talks about rules on doing it, just use Ctr+F "bled" and read or go here*; so if God so amazingly guided Pharisees and Talmudic ones, how come they didn't know in the 20th century* science will realize it's useless? The Talmud also says not drinking wine is a sin (yet we don't need alcohol or wine to live long) and encourages frequent sexual activity (twice a month or once even if done having kids), in contrast with the Essenes, who, per some scholars, were more into celibacy*; there is no indication though that Essenes, Jesus understood neuroscience millennia before it appeared, like true prophets would, and that you can achieve bliss☺☺☺ 100 to a million times higher than sexual one via meditation, Talmud has word blood 100s of times, meditation 0. Talmud is a continuation of the Torah (1st 5 chapters of Bible) violence and harsh punishment (instead of healing and prevention) focus tendencies, reflecting the culture of the times, with many suggestions for violent behavior (small punishments, not big violence of the Torah quotes above; plus lots of killings or death penalties for various reasons); it seems the teaching of being peaceful, charitable that Talmud scholars claim are so central in the Talmud, are not really on every page, because peacefulness includes physical nonviolence, nonkilling and charity includes loving kindness, sweet gentle tender healing soothing calming nurturing grace for all, since all are God's kids. Zohar, the book of Kabbalah, is perpetuating animal sacrifice, see 55 (sacrificing goats, like Freemasons were shown to do in this Masonic ritual in the Lodge of sacrificing goats (hence Hitler accused Freemasons being run by Jewish spies, especially given the Jewish (for profit?) 'prophets' focus in Freemason mythology and bloody rituals George Washington took part in) and 57 (sacrifices to help demons). Mishna details animal sacrifice rules, punishment focus (as in USA), instead of the immortalist healing and shared responsibility; today, in Israel, one group does animal sacrifice still as this 3 min video shows.

Oddly, Nepal Supreme Curt banned animal cruelty in 2016 and many defied the court order and killed 200,000 animals over 2 days in 2019: video 1 and 2, left to rot or burn in pits. This shows just how incredibly backward Nepal still is, how varied Hinduism is (vegetarians and these cruel killers), though this festival of slaughter is bound to disappear as more become educated about the nonexistence of their imagined gods and health risks of eating such meat. Now, perhaps you understand why Jesus was mad at those merchants in the Gospel real or made up story, the whole temple was sacrificing a lot of poor animals and the blood had to be washed via an aqueduct, big infrastructure: it is dangerous to have infrastructure for animal sacrifice, with all blood washing, tools, etc, since some may use it to kill people at night when nobody is in the temple; any animal sacrifice is painful and pollutes human quantum field, it shortens human lifespan, so it can't be allowed; today, we see the remnant of this, as they replaced the actual sacrifice with the symbolic wine and bread, but even that is not needed, as explained in the ritual vs kindness section. The persistent brainwashing of billions of Christians into Eucharist is a stark reminder of the Jewish nature of Christianity (bread and wine eating was a common Jewish habit, so Jesus made it a religion) and of the fact many bishops, Popes, pastors were and are Jewish (some pretending to be Gentile); indirectly, going to Christian churches, supports this anti-science stone age belief system that animals, Jesus or someone has to be "sacrificed" for us to be kind, reminding us of Aztec human sacrifice: you go and eat the "body and blood of Jesus" daily at Catholic Mass, so what is so uplifting about that, it certainly makes the Vatican all powerful, or the pastors, but people suffer as science and intelligence give way to low IQ? Then we can't have high tech nutrition even, let alone health care. ☺☺☺

Look at the hygiene practices of egg industry in India, similar to the crushing of male chicks all over the world, why not find a solution instead of these cruel factory farms, rituals of animal slaughter or Jesus wafers? See Florida cows treatment, the cheese people eat, see how infected cows are, the milk many drink; see how full of puss the pork many eat is, may all go vegan today, perhaps God will love☺☺☺ veganism more than going to eat wafers symbolizing, in the view of nonbelievers, that you're a cannibal eating Jesus' body, or someone of such incredibly low IQ, to imagine that God or Jesus needs bread as intermediate to bless you, when God can bless directly when you're kind to people and animals and speak in a nicer tone, listen to kind music. Where is the kindness for all sentient life? Crushing billions of chicks upon birth because they're male and unprofitable is OK, but cannibalizing Jesus is fine? Why not use science to reduce pain and suffering in the human quantum field that comes from the so closely related animals and fomenting religious wars in the name of converting people to a myth? After seeing these quotes, images, rituals they so well hide from the Missals, many become repulsed, disgusted by Christian rituals they formerly so devotedly believed in, or Eid cow slaughter in streets void of compassion: notice how they never talk of World Peace in 3 months to end human wars, human suffering and never talk of veganism or eterni food to free the planet of human like animal suffering vibes, what kind of kindness is that? Look at the lack of compassion for those bombed in Syria, Ukraine, entire cities in rubble; what do people do, what music do they sing? What music do they make in movies? One that never talks of World Peace in 3 months, one that is not gentle tender soft nurturing peace building, one that lacks compassion: no service*, or* wedding song or other special occasions song talks of World Peace in 3 months like this 4 line one, behold the aggression of wedding songs all over, the lack of compassion and realization for the need of peaceful vibes to end the terror of war, watch the selfish vibe, dancing without caring about Peace, we would need 5000 such songs to help build compassion, empathy for the bombed, maimed, killed: honestly, when did you hear Americans express in any of their music their deeply felt pain at the suffering of those killed by their taxpayer funded bombs? Never maybe, it's taboo, same for other nations, nobody cares, we have created very cruel cultures who don't give a crap about people or animals. "When I was hungry, you fed me" etc from the Gospel... When people are maimed, bombed, homeless, we gave them depraved music,☺☺☺ aggressive rhythm in all genres almost, so then what happened? All are restless, far more prone to over reaction that influences badly all around and makes the least aware engage in violence. Sacrificing animals and eating wafers won't help us, we need to change the world around us, not live in a fantasy land. They make it sound like you only connect to God if you give them donations in exchange for wafers, is that more like a scam or genuine effort to improve the world? Even Catholic church music becomes more like rap, pop and war zones these days, gradually. At least, we got some peaceful church music left, so whatever is good we keep. ☺☺☺ What about wasting eons with ancient or more recent wedding rituals, costumes, etc, instead of using that time to build shelter for the homeless or improve shelter for others? The clothes are beautiful, but use those ancient ideas and others to make such clothes (without the shiny plastic uncomfortable polyester, from cotton, 100 times cheaper due to mass production) for everyone, for daily life, to make everyone feel beautiful. Eternal Clothing Inc gives All folks beautiful clothes for everyday, to make every day a wedding to the Eternal God of Immortality for All in all humans, not just feel colorful at a wedding, and we focus on giving single family housing to all. True immortalists build Immortality for all instead of dancing, Universities at their wedding, clean Immortality chemistry labs or build houses for the homeless, as the song explains. Make every day look and feel like a wedding, thru virtues on clothing, and happy breathing.

Instead of John 8:44, Jesus could have said "Most holy teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals to be, it is with great honor that I commune with the spark of the Divine in you, for we're all little children of God. A wise man said once to test every hypothesis, and not believe anything unless you have 50 unfakable, independent sources to confirm it; so, when it comes to matters of infinitely complex afterlife, where proof is so hard to come about, nobody needs to believe anything any clergy says as more than a mere hypothesis; perhaps, our tone is more important than the hypothesis we formulate or repeat from others; likewise, I ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ offer you a simple hypothesis: in God's view, to protect every life, to achieve World Peace in 3 months is a billion times more important than kissing, bowing, rituals, wafers, alcohol that kills 1 billion people and that ought to be absent in any home or church, nose rubbing, fancy weddings, sword/rifle dances, and formalities: it seems kinder to free the human quantum field from violence first, so that we free all from the suffering of war and violence; no spiritual or scientific health evolution is possible in a war zone where you're anxious your house may be gone any second, where you're starving, freezing to death due to no electricity, food or water, where your entire brain and organs start dying; so, to love all is to give Peace to all first and foremost. All else is totally secondary, rituals can wait". Jesus failed, he was too much of a soldier spy, charlatan and liar or fictional being 100%, to make any intelligent statement, reflecting the 0 IQ of the people of his time. Perhaps, you may agree that a scripture ought to be more like☺☺☺ Immortalist Anthem, only positive words, no "attacks, insults, calls to genocide", etc, short and to the point, so all know it, instead of long so most have no idea what's in it, the horrific quotes. Why not have all wedding, birthday songs more like this one, talking about World Peace in 3 months so we achieve it quick and then we reduce violent crime within 30 years from 0.5 billion/year to 0? Spirituality is real when it yields real results, like World Peace in 3 months? Perhaps, to be spiritual is to be☺☺☺ passionate daily about achieving globally: 0 violence, 0 punishment thru preventing misbehavior via healing education since fetus stage via eterni music and tone of speech, 0 jails, 0 wars: so the planet of Immortality for All can emerge. Too many places of worship worldwide seem like war ships, focusing on the more macho quotes, we need to focus on what we lack the most: the quotes on grace, gentle, tender soft healing nurturing feminine kind sweetness. Political leaders will happily and gently realize that to decrease violent crime incidents half a trillion fold in 5 years, we ought to change RADICALLY and peacefully, not just in goals of continents, but in political platforms, public TV-radio speaking, to remind all (and kids for teachers) of the qualities we lack by mentioning words like ☺☺☺ gentle tender soft healing nurturing universal loving kindness☺☺☺ every 20+ words, besides the centralization of education tone, for equally refined emotional patterns to undo the genetic damage of a million years of shouting, yelling, commanding and threatening.

Too bad the folk music worldwide is also pretty aggressive and lacking in eterni lyric content, rhythm and tones almost totally: people live in a fantasy world, they imagine Earth goes from 500 million/year violent crime incidents (a lot of slaps and etc by males in many stone age countries don't even get reported) to 0 by allowing the same type of music worldwide; we're talking about a half a trillion fold reduction of the violent crime rate; it's not possible with the same music, we need to change the emoting patterns in every culture: the aggression is so baseline, so built in, so macho, that it doesn't even get noticed anymore by some, the complete extermination of the feminine, so peace is pure impossibility. The importance of 0 violent crime is highly underestimated, since World Peace won't last if there is any violent crime: sooner or later, it will vanish. In 1998 I discovered Steven Halpern music and soon after Aeoliah, so new age serene was my main background music; however, I did listen to some 'restless' spiritual songs that are typically played in millions of places of worship (what people may call upbeat, alive or more like folk country music), but now I dislike them 100%, more so after the 2011-2023 Syria-Ukraine war and seeing youtube videos of WWII, etc which show how depraved we're as a society, totally spiritually bankrupt, as if nothing almost was learned from WWII: look at the TV, radio music, not even one song exists about World Peace in 3 months and how to maintain it for a trillion years; look at the rhythm of the music, mostly inciting people to aggression and war, nothing to calm people down and sing about the end of all torture, violent crime and jails, nobody cares, they just scapegoat some people and then go have their wild parties and loud weddings, jumping like chimps, as if we're not so close to the end of the human species in 10 seconds. In a world where 100s of millions are victims of violent crime every year, where almost half a million are killed in intentional or unintended homicides EACH YEAR, where tens of millions are tortured in jails due to a callous limitless selfishness, an irresponsible blame game that never solves the problem, only patches the symptom, how can there be any hope of World Peace? We party and are loud, making church services as rock and roll, and we're totally oblivious the taxpayer of most countries is used to funnel the wars that maim millions, the justice system that only places band aids and never addresses the issue: lack of education from preconception to age 35. These stone age rituals of Eucharist, Eid festival, Kapparot (chicken slaughter video shows horrified kid) are keeping humanity chained in this thought energy of sacrifice of humans and animals, deities and "wanna be deities" (if agnostic, nonbeliever, spiritual or atheist)☺☺☺?, instead of focusing on providing decent housing, food and health care for all, World Peace in 3 months, so we get Immortality for All some day, "250, 900, or even 5000 year lifespans", and even a trillion. However, some argue that the Mishna isn't as bad as the Quran that calls many times for terror and violence against infidels, though I'm not so sure, since I have not read all 18 volumes of the full Talmud due to its advice on "having sex with 3 year olds" (Mishna is part of Talmud) and other garbage: it is too depressing and a commentary on the all quotes, perhaps, on some of the 50 ultra horrific quotes (evilbible.com) in the 'Holy' Torah (some shown above). We saw the Gospel fights among Essenes and Pharisees playing out over next 2 millennia, when Christians burned the Talmud (no blame on them, Talmud talks about having sex with 3 year olds or marrying them, the so called "age of consent under 'halaka or Jewish law'"), Talmudic Jews plotted to undermine Christians, etc – neither group realizing they have some of the same issues, granted via Torah influence.

If Jesus was God, he could have done what any advanced alien and future human soldier can do – which is remotely induce humans in 2 min into a divine ecstasy state, so stressed rabbis brainwashed by rituals would be happy and realize there is no need to torture animals to get love from God and remotely suggest that they remove the trade and table by themselves, without being violent himself and teaching violence. He could have even helped them to attain that bliss state by teaching it to them, and it may have taken them maybe 4 days not 2 minutes, lovingly, healingly, but no, he chose the 'tough love' way, the way of anything but God? And what about 3D holograms we can now create, God can easily create those, create light effects, and true miracles, not fake stories of miracles, and convince them right away that it's better to move tables out, especially with that state of infinite compassion and bliss for all beings.☺☺☺ Isn't that odd? Question everything? Or setup the Church of Christ the Fake?☺ But no, Jesus has, ☺, not even attained basic human tech of this and next century, let alone God's powers to walk on water by levitating his body or levitate the table of the traders gently while singing a nice song to make all love him. God is Grace, he inspires people to change, to have compassion for animals in a nonviolent way, he makes all feel animal pain for a second at slaughter via his superpowers so they stop doing it and please the God of Kindness instead, not physically shoving them or their tables to do anything. However, by the standard of the people back then, Jesus may have been a reformist if he was not a military spy role playing to create a new IQ lowering religion for gentiles (or non-Italians) as cover for Judaism (or Roman paganism) in disguise among the Jewish clergy of the new Christian religion, who would preach Christianity but live by Judaism (or Italian Machiavellian Roman Emperor tactics) in secret, to expand the global Jewish (or Italian) empire via Christianity? So, while some may think Jesus was nice, he (as portrayed, if some scenes, quotes were not invented or added to justify the murder by chief rabbis of someone who may have exposed some of their faults or 'cruel' animal sacrifices and offended them, thus weakening their mind control of the masses, prestige) had no justification for any violence (only low tech immature souls do that), since there were many alternate ways, as today exist for peace making but the 'lack of knowledge' prevents us from discovering and applying them. The scribes claim Jesus said he's the special Son of God (religion said Only Begotten Son, so he creates universes and stuff, etc and talks worse than many people today, is more violent than many people today), but he may have not said so, it would take someone with a big ego to say that he's the big guy that created universes and dimensions with God. Is Jesus real or fictional character, an Angel of Light or a human who also got angry often? What do You think? Or is it an angry scribe inventing Jesus like Krishna was invented by the Mahabharata writer as explained below? Some even hypothesized that Jesus role played being against the rabbis (and they role played being against him, like Jewish parliament members role play being against the new prime minister in this video, 'harassing' him as they did Jesus), while Jesus and rabbis plotted to create a new fake religion for gentiles to conquer, via espionage, more continents with, but then some noticed it and took over the leaders of the church – since if Jews would have succeeded, perhaps, Israel would be now the size of Russia, not just control the other governments as conspiracy theorists say 'Jews rule the world' without 50 sources to confirm it. Others said it was Roman empire spies who recruited Jesus to agitate, create a fake religion to expand the empire. Or another group who created other fake religions before?☺☺☺

John 14:6 "No one comes to the Father except through me." i.e. only thru Jesus anyone can go to heaven, even if they never heard about Jesus, a Bible didn't get to them they go to hell, being the nicest person and the meanest killer of millions goes to heaven because he accepted Jesus as savior in a 5 minute ceremony? Would that be like God or an impostor? In 2 Thes 1:9, Paul, the Jewish convert to the 'Wafer Religion' promises eternal destruction (energy inefficient, wasteful, low IQ, create a soul, and then torture him trillions of ages for a tiny mistake in an 85 year lifespan? God wants to burn people in the lake of fire for trillions of years for a small mistake in 80 years, sort of like a clueless parent would punish a kid, to do some pushups or exercises for 900 years, for spilling a cup of milk at age 2 day old, how cruel and 'intelligent' is that?) for disbelievers who didn't understand the illogical, contradictory 'Lord', Moses, Jesus statements, saying in 1 place 'Don't kill' and in 50 other places to kill for smallest infractions and commit huge genocides. "I have not come to bring peace, but a sword" in Mat 10:34-38 (turning tables, physical violence, teaching by living example, etc), and "Blessed are the peacemakers" in another, a God of infinite understanding and love, or a bored scribe with minimal imagination into the infinite destinations of afterlife? In Rev 19:17-21 birds feed on corpses when Jesus returns, the glory of Jesus? Revelation is ultra negative and apocalyptic, polluting the planetary mind field. In 1 Cor 15:24 God will destroy unbelievers, rulers, per Paul, the 'gentle guy', great 'saint' who in Titus 1:12-13 Paul uses Jesus style name calling for the entire population of Crete (8,336 km^2). In Luke 19:27 Jesus uses the parable of 10 Minas that ends with a very brutal image of some slaughter, how inspiring is that to make a point gently, lovingly and kindly? Oddly, some claim this parable is about Jesus commanding that slaughter of unbelievers, at his 'second coming', though the parable may just mean to not help a bad king too if read in another way, or that earthly rulers can be mean (as explained here) – either way it shows again, arguably, the intolerance, impatience of the scribe who made up the Jesus words, parables and character, if Jesus is fictional. John 3:36 again shows wrath, that Jesus' God or Father is similar to or the same Wrath 'god' of horrific quotes of the Old Testament, (not Love or the behavior of an evolved being) impatience from a 'God' who wants quick understanding of his illogical Bible (pile of rubbish from various scribes, starved spies, etc) full of mass rape, genocide, and wrath. ☺☺ John 3:5 "no one can enter the kingdom of God unless they're born of water and the Spirit." unless one is baptized one goes to hell per Jesus, after all, "water baptism is all we need in life?" and God needs matter, water molecules, to reach out to people, He can't bless us directly? He's so 'omnipotent', he depends on one, out of trillions of types of matter? ☺☺☺ Anyone see the contradiction? The Bible seems written by 0 IQ 3rd grader like angry intellects, heat hit brains, because the smartest of the times were no better than a fast 5th grader today.

Jesus has such a big ego (true messengers of God are most likely 100 times humbler than the way Jesus talks per 'scribes') that in memory of Jesus (as if there is 'no need to recall God, only Jesus, Jesus is above God after all, so 40% of Catholic weekday Mass is this ritual...' and above World Peace in 3 months; so, there is no need to recall World Peace is possible in 3 months... God, Peace are not important, but HE, Jesus, is so much more important than millions dead, directly or indirectly, in wars every 10 years), you need to eat bread to recall that the bread is "His Imperial Celestial Body" given out for them (in a staged death that didn't occur, per India government who says Jesus went to Kashmir and died there at age 81?), bread has gluten that makes many people sick and die fast. Luke 22:19-20 "And he took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me. In the same way, after the supper he took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you" - to ?encourage cannibalism imagery?, 'God of the universe' Jesus, chooses this Old Testament human sacrifice quotes imagery, among 1000s of ways to recall him, to enhance the recall of his deeds and public outbursts of rage against God's kids who didn't manage to immediately understand his 'amazing teachings', cosmic powers and fake miracles? Was that Jesus, spies, or vampiric or cannibalistic scribes editing or making it up later? Why do we need eat the body and blood of Jesus in Eucharist rituals to receive God's grace? Anyone can see the trick, the brainwashing, mind control? This quote has the wafer and wine thing that made priests invent the Eucharist ritual, make Christians drink wine so they may more easily get addicted to alcohol that now kills 3 million a year, and eat wafers, why can't God can't bless directly without wafers, while you try to speak or think and emote in a loving tone? (as long as Vatican spies (see Amazon book) or other spy agencies don't damage your throat and voice by their attacks, so you may sound older or ultra tired (due to torture) and more hoarse and so you can't create nicer tone songs (since better lyrics are easy to make) than the Vatican songs of brainwashing focused on "death, dying quite often, fake miracles (Eucharistic, etc) that never happened, nothing about living to a trillion or even 900, all about Jesus saves etc"? To create eterni tone, one needs to be in a very good mood for many days, no stress, that's why most music today is junk, it's made quick and with no eterni intent. We have the loving freedom to gently, kindly, compassionately, nurturingly,☺☺ healingly, not be deceived by those who claim "it's all about context" for all bad quotes above, what if it is not? In any context, such quotes have no loving kindness to come from God or any Immortal, because even in ancient times, people could have created friends, not enemies, by devoting as much time to friend making (enemy into friend, sweet healing speech, infinite love for even the worst human being like a trillion year old Immortal has for a nanosecond old human) to create win-win for both nations (help each other live longer, avoid scarcity thinking that creates all war), as in preparing for war.

Today we know there are trillions of ways to avert war, and even then with less tech, there were these ways, but the primitive state of the people taken over by negative emotion could not allow imagining 100s of ways even, some of them in the nonkilling section. Printing press appeared in 1500s, so everyone was extremely low IQ, much lower IQ than in the Middle Ages: do we learn chemistry from 1500s alchemists? No, we learn from recent textbooks☺. Do we learn ethics only from Vedas, Gita section of Mahabharata (see details next few pages, quotes nobody almost in the West knows about, effects of it: 1, 2, 3), Quran (see effects of it & this), Bible from 1400-4000 years ago? ☺ Not really, it's from the more recent books or future Immortality for All Ethics Courses in civic education classes stuff that is more complex, nuanced, way more peaceful, and sophisticated; ☺ we evolve, ethics evolve, spirituality does, just like chemistry does. Today everyone can read thousands of books on their phone and laptop without having to walk 8 hours against snow or high heat to a library to find just 3 books on the topic. Quran and Bible are very similar, the people he talks about, Mary, etc, see less known daily less peaceful Islam events, the many violent Quran quotes; some argue Quran violence is not as bad as Torah (Old Testament) genocide calls*, etc, yet any form of violent imposition of strange beliefs without proof (pray in a certain way, facing Mecca, 5.0 times a day, etc) or even with proof is sinful and leads to war, killings and end of Immortality Civilization, forceful imposition of any belief system, religion, atheistic philosophy (millions dead due to Nazism and communism) is totally anti-Immortality* and Mohamed could not imagine as a military plendering guy a world without fight and killings. Oddly, many pastors claim it's a holy word of God (though many explain Old Testament is just a reflection of the beliefs of the people, not of God's word), they read a Bible quote and say (Catholics, etc) at every mass 'The Word of the Lord' at the end of the quote – making people think everything there is from 'God'. Even more oddly, some try to find an apology for every bad quote saying that "they were using metaphoric☺ speech" all the time as with "Soccer match score was 5-0, the other team got slaughtered (not literally)", so when Jews waged war they won and the other side lost, but 'without slaughter'. This is arguably deceptive, since for thousands of years the literal translation of many such quotes (in secular or religious texts) was used to inspire genocides, since it's not just one place, but many places and not everyone reads the context and thinks about the widest context which in some cases may indicate people were exaggerating; we can be objective and realize chemistry 3000 years ago was truly non-existent almost and very primitive, so was ethics back then – very primitive and there are good quotes too in the 'bad quote scriptures'; it's just that if we want to lovingly kindly healingly learn the vibrational pattern of infinitely compassionate healing grace and Universal Immortality, the ethics of the future, we certainly can't rely on such old texts – since most of the Laws of Moses he gives to his people are illegal today and chemistry of 3000 years ago would be useless. Yet many people want to have tech of 21st century and ethics of 5 to 50 centuries ago, having an unquestioned devotion to some scriptures, without realizing the modern 21st scripture would be so much larger, its complexity of expression would be far higher, just like chemistry is far more complex than alchemy of just 5 centuries ago, let alone 30 centuries. For example, millennia ago they would say "You shall not kill", but today this would be at least 900☺ pages to explain what it means in the most healing piece of writing any pastor has ever written – i.e. to explain what nonkilling truly means, not just not killing, but not trying to make any action that is overt or covert shortening of lifespan for humanity or an individual, any form of torture, psychological, verbal, technological, and in far greater detail, and far better☺ quality (it takes a long time of not being tortured, etc to write something very healing, very beautiful, where the tone of speech is conveyed better) than the 35 pages in the nonkilling section. Not only that, but it can't contradict itself, like in the Torah and Bible where we have another few dozen commands to kill for various reasons, people or nations. It has to be coherent, eterni in tone of writing, like the Immortalist Anthem is. ☺☺☺

We are today like 'hyenas' (or fallen angels so to speak) compared to our Immortal descendants living to 5000, yet we're oblivious to it, since we reference our ethics to the average in our epoch. Likewise, millennia ago they would say "Be nice and love thy neighbor", but today or later they may say "To Bring the Universal salvation of all from the slavery of ignorance and short lifespans, the universal salvation of Immortality for All, where we can research for trillions of years the most ethical way to love all humans including neighbors and the worst people, it helps to adopt a most nurturing kind gentle tender soft forgiving sweet compassionate graceful reconciliating healing universal loving attitude that transforms our tone of speech, emotion, thought, intent, so as to make it the most magnanimous, expansive, infinite in benevolence and wellbeing wish for all beings – so that we can focus on Immortality for All, instead of on conflicts. To wish to grant Immortality for All is the expression of Infinite Love for all, to give all a chance to become an angelic being, and it implies an infinitely higher love for a neighbor than for the worst human who is also wished Immortality and helped to attain it, though in a way that emphasizes more the Immortals' qualities such a human seems to lack". This is a little different than some of the New Testament quotes above that have a vibe wholly different from that of Angels of Light, Immortals and God, which is Pure Infinite Gentleness Tenderness and Graceful Nurturing Healing Compassion – but it's because people didn't have the understanding of chemistry, physics, ethics, evolved beings that we have today, not because they were 'evil'; same for all bad quotes in any scriptures. Primitive scribes impersonating fictional (for profit?) 'prophets' or embelishing stuff or, maybe, sometimes, even the prophets themselves could not quite imagine, since mathematics and sciences and everything were very limited then, that an Immortal is someone who lives trillions to the power of trillions longer than a human, so he has a level of patience, kindness, gentleness☺, tenderness etc infinitely greater and would never speak in the way the 'Lord', 'Jesus', prophets often reportedly speak (if scribe didn't change it) in Quran, Mahabharata, Gita, Bible, Vedas, etc. Modems had 10 Kb/s speed initially, so we could exchange just plain text, then we got 10 GB/s in some networks – a million times more info, so likewise, when expressing kindness☺, an Immortal and future human expresses 1 million times more information to convey universal gentle healing grace and nurturing compassion via tone and content, that we can't imagine easily today – since via telepathy you can convey and process a 30 page sentence 1 million times faster than the chimp human today – instead of 'be kind to alex', you would express a whole eterni song of 30 pages to express thousands of nuances and qualities and healing vibes and ideas. ☺☺☺

In that age where violence was all pervading, some of those 'awful quote' purported authors may have been the equivalent today of very kind people – the laws of those times were crueler than today, because society on average was crueler due to illiteracy, narrow mindedness, simplistic understanding of every topic, about which today we may have 1 billion pages

published, say on a common substance in nature, or mineral, versus 3 pages back then. This doesn't mean we have to base our ethics on those quotes, since they're in most countries describing illegal or impolite things; likewise, this makes us realize a lot of church and religion dogmas are equally flawed and/or useless or outdated. In ancient times, or even 1800s some thought poisons were medicines – today we know better. The 'science' dogmas of prior centuries are flawed science today; it's curious how people get so offended if you say some of their beliefs or dogmas are flawed, but look at science, it always changes a little, as we get a better understanding, especially over 5 centuries; first of all, it's not their beliefs, it's usually some brainwashing imposed by the dominant religion where one is born – we're not the beliefs a society imposes on us, we're the soul or the infinitely fluid ever learning evolving intelligence of hypothesis formulation and testing, which is infinitely older and smarter than the body, infinitely more complex. It's not a personal attack on anyone of any religion, we're just realizing how, as understanding evolves, previous dogmas, beliefs or tenets of that science of life, ethics, chemistry, etc become outdated or flawed, useless or redundant. Consider this, let's say we tell everyone to stop using phones, EVs, computers, be true to ☺'sola scriptura'☺, perhaps, only use papyrus paper, stone writing to communicate, chariots to drive, alchemy of 1st century book to base all tech on, medical tech, etc. It would be equivalent to us using the Bible, Mahabharata, Gita, Vedas (animal sacrifice, etc), Quran ethics to achieve a really advanced spiritually, not just technogically, civilization. Where is the coherence, the eterni tone, the not inflicting of pain on any human or animal (sacrifices in Vedas, Bible, etc), the nonkilling vibe in these texts? People so imagine every civilization has the same trajectory like ours, i.e. only tech development. ☺☺☺

To advance spiritually, and thus also technologically (Immortality tech) far faster as a side effect, we would definitely benefit or even need at least 20 new scriptures, co-created by many, like today science textbooks have sometimes 500 authors scriptures of such ☺amazing☺ beauty, in our present top 20 languages, English etc, with rhyme and all that express far more healingly, colorfully, beautifully, ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺, with eterni tone, video maybe even, the ideas that form the 200 qualities of Immortals and bring the world of Immortals – without the wrath, violence, doom, gloom and extremely vulgar offensive talk in the Bible, Torah, Quran, etc. These would have mostly positive words and extremely rarely using a negative one to explain a condition though one could use "least loving" instead of hate, "least intelligent" instead of stupid, etc. Some 'scriptures' are like horror movies, we need something more uplifting, 200 times more healing, inspiring and evolved than what we got today. We can evolve. People make mistakes, maybe, so then we provide education, prevention (i.e. every day, a new prevention is made, by changing education from nursery to adult age, etc to prevent the issue from happening again, etc, continuous improvement, etc, until one decade or century we have 1000 fewer healing centers that are sealed off from outside world, etc) and such – we don't kill them as in Quran, Gita, Mahabharata, Vedas (animal killings) or Torah/Bible; Immortals realize anytime a bad thing happens everyone is responsible, so they work to prevent a single act from happening by changing the education of the entire society – the whole human family fails when 1 individual does a bad thing and it needs change, not a patch that treats a symptom, without addressing the cause. All 8 billion need a change, not just one person, think about that, it's so different than our world. ☺☺☺ When an electricity fusion energy plant explodes, the error is not fixed by firing one guy – it's fixed by changing the entire procedures to have way more checks and preventive measures to prevent an individual mistake from blowing up a town of 10 million people – we do this all the time with tech, why can't we do it with ethics? Why do we go back for ethics to 1st century and earlier, when we could not run any tech today with 1st century tech, when we don't study in college, school a 'tech book' (the Bible of how stuff works, "all is made of earth, fire, metal, wood and water, the 5 elements, folks, universe is static, moon is a deity so are the stars, welcome to science and ethics.") from 1st or earlier centuries??

Instead of 'genocide or killing for all' who make small mistakes, we would build an Immortality for All ethics, and civilization; no killing (see details in the 35+ page section), no prisons, but we heal and help all, the worst even to make it to a trillion, that's 21st century ethics. We have improved transport tech, so now we travel in rockets at thousands of times faster speed; likewise, we will improve our tone of speech and scripture writing tone thousands of times, making it thousands of times kinder, more loving graceful, healing, etc. Why? Because God is Healing Grace, not anger some scribes attributed to God; God and Immortals don't get angry, since they're trillions of times happier always, so if a little unhappy, it's not like our anger, it's far gentler and a trillion times happier, so happy, we can't call it anger; God or any civilized alien or Immortal heals, educates, prevents (give people who get pregnant or marry a free book on nutrition, proper tone, relating to kids, etc, video on how to avoid issues, etc), inspires, transforms, God doesn't punish, yell, threaten, intimidate, bully, mock; prevent, educate, see example of prevention here with medicines too, prevent disease; men yell, etc do these only in our 'epoch' due to not listening to soothing music and tones; so a Godly or eterni civilization is overflowing with God's infinite tenderness grace love gentleness grace☺☺☺ compassion, has no prisons, only healing centers, no wars, only polite presentations of hypotheses (healing tone debates) about how to solve issues. A Civilization of Immortals has citizens and even soldiers who're like the holiest nonpunishing angels men have imagined in scriptures of ancient eras, they don't punish, they heal, same for the cops of that world – they don't punish, as explained here – it's worlds apart from the Bible, Quran, it's a universe of happy infinitely kind Immortals.

We don't need depend on 1st or 7th century people, we don't depend on chariots today for transport, or open holes for defecating (we use toilets, plumbing to prevent disease, etc), or cruel rituals that make babies suffer (except for most Orthodox & old rite Catholics), why would we depend on texts from then? We don't study chemistry from texts of 7th century or 1st, why do so for ethics? If a historian in the evolution of ethics and language, that's fine, study all day old scriptures, but I mean for the average person, who is worthy of a more healing,☺☺☺ civilized text to build a far more intelligent eterni civilization. Some profess to be the Land of Freedom, Freedom from brainwashing about fraud and Freedom from short lives too, the land teaching the world about human rights and ethics, the land of Freedom to choose, yet the only scriptures to choose to swear on (oath when taking office, etc) got hundreds of very violent and rude quotes and this is deified? Isn't that a contradiction? To be Free is to be Free from Lies? Same for other countries claiming they got the better ethics and humanity and spirituality? We talk of diversity, where is it? ☺☺☺ Why not have 200 ways, scriptures (very similar in vibe and beauty, positivity, just different focus on different qualities of Immortals) to express the Path to a Civilization of Immortals? Well, we could even have 20,000 mini scriptures some day or even large ones when telepathic and can process info 300 times faster, for even higher diversity, as long as they're OK with the ethics of the Immortals, nonviolence, uplifting, healing, positive vibes of infinite grace and compassion universal in its benevolence. We don't depend on communication methods of 1st century, stone tablets, etc, why depend on language style and communication vibe of 1st century or even way before? Everyone become like Amish anti-tech? Can anyone see how illogical it is to try to cling to something so out of touch with the reality of the future humanity? The idea that "the bad quotes or slaughter or bad words are 'metaphor or exaggeration' always and that it's OK, Bible (or other similar texts) is the greatest book ever", is very anti-Immortality because it legitimizes the publication of such unedited (that can easily be taken out of context and literally by less educated people, leading to the downfall of human vibration as a planet) violent texts (in stark contrast with the ideal of Immortalism to filter out violence due to diffusion), it legitimizes the violence and killings in a just 'war' (healing attempt) to free people from subjugation, oppression disguised as "religious freedom, a religion/ideology to subjugate, lower IQ, repress science, nonviolence, free thinking, to degrade human quantum entanglement field, shorten human lifespan", when Immortalists don't support violence, torture and killings in a 'war' or, better said, in a struggle or attempt of liberation, since war is not the right word, since Immortalists don't wage war in a real sense we used the war word for eons.

We can just take the best from 90,000 books (the best 0.1% of Bible, Gita, Quran, Vedas, etc too) and create a Code of Immortality Ethics of 50,000 pages (short version is only 5 pages or 10, that everyone knows, mid versions 50-500 pages) today anyone can go to, written in a healing way by 2 million ethics experts or researchers, pastors, clergy, professors, etc. We take the best and leave the rest, since we evolve and we can't remain at the level of ethics of millennia ago, if chemistry and other sciences would remain at the Jesus era level, we would be so primitive today. An even clearer comparison is this: we don't apply ethics of chimps, who sometimes fight and kill for little things in the jungle (bananas, etc, since they don't understand infinity of resources concept) – in our modern human society – likewise, people from the age of 90000 year lifespans are so far beyond us, much more so than we (max lifespan 125) are versus chimps (max lifespan 65), that their ethics is so different, we wish we had their level of kindness. War has no winners, only losers, all humanity loses, the same is true for any violence, covert or overt, any torture, any suffering, etc. Thus, to offer universal salvation to all, ☺meaning the knowledge of salvation which perhaps takes a trillion years to discover☺ and which needs first of all Immortality for All, we can easily argue that we don't need to focus on violence, torture and suffering in the mythical story of an invented or real Jesus (all stone tablets, books, fake shrouds of Turin, Eucharistic, saint etc miracles etc can be fabricated based on ancient texts made up by spies), as with the 14 stations of the cross (Catholic Churches focus on this a lot, they even have them depicted on church walls), but on being that healing gentle nurturing graceful presence that brings down the violence, torture and suffering in our world. We don't end war by focusing on it, we don't end suffering by focusing on it, we focus on happiness and teach people to be happy, to be kind gentle healing, soft with self and all, not sadistic 'enthusiasts' (brainwashed? ☺) trying to emulate Jesus real or made up suffering etc. What we obsess about we bring more of in our collective psyche. The world has enough suffering. So, would we be so healingly gently kind to ourselves to admit, that we may not know what universal salvation for all means? Might it mean trying (or even succeeding) to build a world of nonkilling, a world of Immortality for All, a Civilization of Immortals, physical, then interdimensional Immortality in certain or most cases, since afterlife is infinitely complex perhaps, like today chemistry has 100 trillion pages instead of 100 pages 2000 years ago? Could we so gently admit that as we didn't know chemistry 2000 years ago, we, perhaps, also didn't know what universal salvation for All is? Can we so sweetly admit that we don't know, like this book tries to convey? Can we just be a little humble? ☺☺☺

In science and engineering, if we would limit ourselves to one text from 3 millennia ago, we would teach it and emphasize it all day and say that is the ultimate physics and infallible unchangeable knowledge of physics and anything newer is an anathema, sort of like Protestantism made a reformation and said "sola scriptura" (scripture only), giving some the impression of real reformation, because printing press just appeared and most were so illiterate. And we would be technologically at the level 3000 years ago as we would study only 1 book for all sciences, some Neolithic book on the world of stuff around us. Likewise, by limiting ourselves to one book, one scripture, our knowledge of ethics becomes as broad and primitive as today reading only 1 book about all sciences and engineering (when in fact there are billions to cover present knowledge) would make us. In science, tech etc we reference millions of papers with millions of authors – millions of 'Messiahs of knowledge on various subtopics', and yet for ethics (or military strategy, political science, ruling a country, etc) some want to quote only 1 or maybe

4 scriptures (or authors, Jesus, Mohamed or whoever they're a fan of) or ancient texts on 'strategy' (Machiavelli?) written 500 or 3000 years ago, do we evolve science of this dimension based on 'chemistry papers' of 0.5 or 3 millennia ago and those authors' texts? Do we evolve ethics (or any field of knowledge) based on 500-4000 year old texts only? So, how can people imagine everything about afterlife, Immortality ethics and reality of ethics is in one book written by illiterate in science men from millennia ago? Reality of other dimensions is far more complex than this dimension science, and without even understanding this simpler dimension, how can we ever dream to understand stuff way harder? We have our kids study for 21 years to get a PhD. And in this time, they study a lot about tech, but almost nothing about ethics of speech, thought, emotion tone and content, of nonkilling, of honest (not fraud rich) spirituality, etc. How can we survive as a species with tech knowledge only, without ending our own fast like perhaps trillions of alien species already did? Any text that "OKs violence and killings", be it communist, military, fascist or religious, creates narrow minds, the most impotent low tech, fanatical soldiers, unable to create lasting peace and Immortality for All. ☺☺☺

The Bible, Torah (the worst part of the Bible), Quran, etc and their vibe indirectly or directly create billions of violent crime incidents each year, (spy agencies alone torture millions each year, each being an act of violence, so billions alone from that alone). This is explained in detail in the next few pages; the violent quotes turned billions of parents, teachers over millennia into psychopathic shouting yelling monsters who punished kids once or 400 times physically, for nothing (same in relationships, marriages, companies, countries where cops, soldiers, spies often torture millions daily, creating billions of violent crimes a year), due to the psychopathic punishing focus born of the savage mind of yore, the savage mind of Jesus (or scribes) even yelling like a mad man, overturning tables, dragging people out of temples, using very bad words for the helpless brainwashed rabbis, employing violence when a God man can levitate lovingly the tables and not be a role model for violence against merchants trading animals due to sheer low IQ. These texts full of terror, punishing, genocide are created by narrow minds like the ☺ abysmal IQ☺ alchemy texts of 2nd century, who didn't understand infinite ways to an outcome, without any negativity, the trillions of positive ways to an outcome and also, the infinite resources within the universe that make war needless, that make degrading the quantum field via violence useless and self-defeating; these savage scriptures turned governments, officials, churches, religious institutions into terrorist organizations whose main job was terrorizing, torturing the people, lowering IQ. Here, we can ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ realize that what is loving to one less informed person is pure terror and quantum field destruction to a civilization of much higher gentleness, so because ancient people were of such brutality, it never occurred to them that a scripture can be wholly different. One can't punish, one needs to educate and heal, to vibrate like an angel, then the society or kids follow; punishing is scapegoating that achieves nothing, yet today we see nothing changed, same torture and violence as in the Torah, Bible, Quran, even in USA, the so called "land of freedom". These savage scriptures extirpate the ☺☺☺ gentle tender soft healing nurturing universal altruistic loving kindness☺☺☺ (7 qualities into one forms an eterni vibe quality, i.e. all the beautiful spiritual qualities out there but changed into the gentle tender soft healing nurturing version, or eterni version, the vibe of the Immortals, Eternals) needed to create peace. An evil killer can move gently as he enters an area to kill people or even kill gently (like spies do, thru torture to not be detected, slow death by 'natural diseases' - cancer, ehart disease, etc caused by their gadgets; but that's not eterni vibe, it's just gentleness without the other qualities in the 7 words above, since universal altruistic loving kindness doesn't kill (fast in 3 seconds or slow in 30 years thru food products, exports, microwaves, torture etc that may damage quantum field even more than a quick kill, but can't be done so the killer remains hidden, while they pretend to be friends of a country they exterminate slowly thru various programs and methods). It's a vast difference between all Bible, Torah, Quran quotes and only 1-2 in the Bible that comes close to the 7 qualities vibe, but even then the Ga 5:22-3 contains "long suffering" in between the good qualities, canceling the nicer vibe, again confirming they want slaves to work until "dropping dead or brains are out". A similar one Co 3:12, which would be fine, if "longsuffering" would not be there, though some translate it as patience to make it more palatable, be patient while your country is completely looted, enslaved, wiped out. We see this longsuffering in many of the 'better' quotes, it's put there to enhance slavery, abuse; the brainwashing and complete slavery is a lot more efficient if the Jesus God you have to accept tells you to enjoy suffering endless abuse, as everything is destroyed, looted in your country. A typical Paul energy quote is Ti 6:11, where we see this preachy masculine energy, void of that etherial feminine grace of infinite tender soft gentle nurturing music of eterni energy. Why so? Because this is Paul, the guy preaching eternal destruction for disbelievers: 2 Th 1:9. You see the qualities he chooses, they're mixed with some very masculine, like him... to dilute those and basically, turn it into a wholly different energy... that doesn't allow, but pushes. The energy of nurturing grace, soft tender gentleness is not uncontaminated in any Bible quote by stuff like ☺☺☺"longsuffering",☺ "righteousness", "perseverance, endurance" (push it Paul, until all run away), etc. reminding us of those fiery preachers in some churches or mosques. It's amazing how we can tell exactly, 2000 years later, how these people vibrated and why so many genocides happened. Why is this longsuffering bad? It makes pain, torture and violence Godly, legal and we see the results in our society, infinite police violence, etc. Pain doesn't help, everything can be done without it. It's thru this pain brainwashing that the subjugation and extermination of nations happens. People need to team up against torturers (cops, spies, gangs) and figure out nonviolent ways to stop it, using IQ, pain needs to vanish from the Earth to have lasting peace and development.

Notice the macho energy that contaminated the only (well, there exist an extra 3 quotes, but they lack a minimum of 4 basic wholly eterni (gentleness tenderness grace, etc) qualities, without contamination explained above) Bible quote that merges many qualities: "self-control and long suffering" (torture yourself, be abused until your brain is destroyed by malnutrition, sleep deprivation, don't seek help when abused by vampires); first of all, self-control is a masculine approach, whereas loving kindness for self, being truly gentle means by gentle breathing, you reach bliss much higher, so no need to control anything, as sex desire disappears by itself: difference is Tao vs force. When you're eterni, you're so kind, so gentle tender soft nurturing, that you give food to others, don't overeat, as that makes you more prone to sexual drive - so the eterni energy acts as a protector, without 'post gluttony' attempt to control drive. Likewise, by breathing like a babe (Ch. 10 Tao), one retains more even emotions and there is no need to "watch like a stressed out guy when a louder tone etc arises, since you're so happy listening to happy relaxing mp3 or breathing, there is no shouting to control or etc". Again, Tao/God vs force/satan, serene relaxed prevention (more passive too) vs sudden intervention after stressful fast aging watching, Lao Tze vs Paul, Buddha meditating vs Jesus being violent in Mt 21:12, Immortals vs humans, Immortalist soldiers vs the bad military, kindness vs torture.

Jesus turns the tables of traders, making them angry and engages with his spy, agitator, paid provocateur team in violent removal of merchants from the temple: this proves Jesus was a very low IQ person, much less any God man; he may have had a nice intention to prevent animal sacrifice, but it shows he was nothing of a God man; first of all, you can easily argue that, Godmen can, as people can today, with tech usually, induce others into divine bliss☺☺☺ states, just like music today can make people very peaceful, relaxed and happy (listen to this and compare it with the 21:12 energy) and like neurotech can; Godmen can explain by telepathy that killing animals doesn't expiate sins, but being kind gentle to animals and people will wash sins, as they breathe God's light and it surrounds and transforms all, Godmen show this Infinite Happiness quietly via telepathic education (an insight descends, a realization of the spirit descends in every brain, just like today spy agencies can do via synthetic telepathy, he didn't achieve even 21st human abilities, let alone Godly ones) to all in the temple how this breathing purifies their negative emotions, sins, etc and makes them happier and holier, feeling in the presence of God far more than anything they tried before in their 'low IQ' religion; how it's not useful and wasting energy to shout like chimps in the temple (like people raise voice when advertising stuff on the street market, or, at least, not using an immortlian tone due to no mics, amplifiers, loud background noise, etc), and gently have them quietly, lovingly, nurturingly, shockingly after such a revelatory nirvanic state, of their own leave the temple area, without any fight and violence, words, etc, but Jesus had no ESP, let alone ability to make them understand their silent divine ecstasy state came from him, who was shimmering as an Immortal, in a different way than all the other people in the temple, and all saw it as third eye perception opened; today, with an IR, and other cameras, we can take pics of various brain states and emotional states and see how certain patterns are associated with certain behaviors and by beaming these images or IR vision into people's minds, even without anything related to the soul or other dimensional light, they could have seen a 'Godman', full of happy serenity, was shimmering differently, just as today people of a certain brain state all the time have different spectral patterns than the ever shouting types, as IR, MRI pics show different areas of the brain related to eterni emotions, intentions, etc light up. But Jesus couldn't even mimic today's tech Sony, etc got of beaming movies into brains, let alone have Godly powers that transcend all time etc, saved all people from the future or from the past, present and other "tall tales" people are brainwashed with. Jesus staged miracles with his team of fakes (paid to claim they were healed) and spies. Godmen can get those people to stop the temple trade without any words, violence, table turning, that caused so much anger, pain, suffering, lost energy that could have been used to help the poor; so Jesus contradicts his teachings on the poor. God knows a trillion happy peaceful methods to achieve a simple outcome, such as getting some traders out of a temple, Jesus is too low IQ to imagine anything but violence. Jesus is like most militaries today (low in IQ), possibly a hired soldier to create the new Jewish Roman empire religion, so to hide their tracks, Jewish Italians running Rome initially suppressed the new religion... that was a tool to take over continents. Some good things (besides many bad) came out of this fake religion though, from those who believed, and created peaceful music, writings, etc. We can see clearly here how by his fruits, we can know Jesus as a conman, as he told his disciples in Mat 7:20. In John 14:6 he claims "nobody goes to Heaven except thru Jesus, meaning by accepting Jesus' violent moves as Godly"; obviously, followers are always told by pastors to emulate Jesus, their violent "God" too... to go to Heaven, reminding us of those radical Muslim preachers... How else can they have 2 million Americans in jail? They got to incite them, so they can make profits?

Thus, many agree that these texts don't qualify for scripture for immortalists, only for historical document to be avoided as much as possible as it destroys, degrades, stagnates, drowns the human quantum field. An immortalist can't inflict pain on others without their consent, as the governments who use torture do all day, every year, to millions or thousands, sometimes for years, daily, on individuals; it's all in the 'holy' Torah part of the Bible: complete destruction (slow, many years, or instant) of all "God gives over to Jews" De 7:1-16. Well, if you give all money, goods, national resources, land, free work (thru longsuffering 15 hour work days 6-7 days a week for minimum wage), to Jewish Bishops, Popes, priests as Jewish Jesus advises in Mk 10:25 (initially all were Jews or so they claim, Catholic Church became the richest landowner in Europe, later on, Italians reportedly got rich, others followed the example, so the scam spread fast using the power of the sword, etc), you may escape complete destruction, as you're "holy among nations", a subservient gentile or Roman slave, who endures abuse forever gently,☺☺☺ kindly, with no complaint. This metaphor "holy among nations" is sort of like the "righteous among nations" that saved Jews, except in this case the saving is not that ethical (those were innocent Jews, it made sense to save them), it would ensure the aristocrats who got money are allowed to keep humanity backwards, thru tacit or direct support of genocide: Spanish, Italian, French, Portuguese Inquisition, Brits (executions) or whoever used religion for plunder (can be discreet, via Jewish or gentile 'trade' with Christian, Muslim polities that repress) and repression via Inquisition, or forced conversion to Anglicanism, etc. The "holy useful cannon fodder among nations" save (via their indifference or gullibility) the most regressive types within all kinds of nations, not just Jewish opportunists/traders, just the anti-science and anti-freedom regimes, warlords, rich people who become so by tricks, unethical monarchies.

Christianity became officially the Roman Empire one in 307 AD, and in 325, the empire that crucified 6000 at one time for wanting freedom from slavery, formulated the Nicene Creed, an illogical belief not supported by any evidence that had/has almost 0 eterni vibe. No word in the creed mentions any eterni quality (not even more masculine qualities) that we're to emulate, that prevents any imperial, clerical authority from using torture and violence, killing and war to expand their empire of killings in unjust wars of subjugation (to be fair, cruelty has been the norm for most empires (or some kingdoms) for millennia, see cruel details). The only quality mention is forgiveness of sins in the context of water baptism forgives sins but not that people need to be forgiving; God can forgive sins without this baptism, if you're kind and baptize yourself with the light of God and do what is ethical to heal the human quantum field. The Creed they repeat in every Catholic service was a reflection of the torture methods and etc of many continents: technical, head type beliefs and nothing soft, healing, nurturing, gentle; a spy group (lacking any healing quality) made up this religion to centralize power, their God: the emperor convened his spy soldiers (bishops) to formulate some creed, to have 1 God instead of many; in typical imperial tone (hear it) and style, they make a creed void of any loving quality, character trait, way of behavior, they believe in or they're to emulate, blatantly reflective of the Italian treatment of millions of non-Italian slaves and of the endless genocides perpetrated by religious fanatics who came after, Christian and Muslim, who thought the Bible is the "Word of God" (Quran is Bible rewritten with some extras, keeping slavery Lev 25:44-6). In stark contrast, to undo the destructive damage of millennia, to stop the historical inertia force of violence in 1000s of Bible-Torah-Quran quotes, Immortalists can have a simple creed that has a far more eterni vibe, allowing freedom of thought and focusing on the qualities never mentioned together at least once in the daily religious or spiritual services of any religions (or any spiritual movements in or up to 2023 worldwide), while Catholic cannibalistic simulation rituals take precedence and sometimes 40% of the weekday service length. So, to return to the gentle grace quality of God, we ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ formulate the immortalist creed, which is quite different than any on Earth, an eterni vibe of infinite freedom, long lifespans for all (not just rich people), tender healing grace and gentleness. It's easy to promise unverifiable Immortality in a realm, but to commit to long lives for all is the real spirituality lived, instead of talked about. So, to avoid the looting and enslaving of the nations, we no longer focus on heaven's Immortality only, but on both earthly and heavenly Immortality. Notice the Nicene Creed uses Father 6 times, mother 0, while immortalists mother 2, father 0. All violent crime stems from men, who turn women by the culture they create into violent humans too. Religion plays a huge role in this. In Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc masculinity is deified, and gentle feminine values take a totally secondary role, if any at all: women can't be even clergy for most history, all power went to violent macho men and their more macho voices. The Nicene Creed tells people how Jesus was tortured, killed, buried, "resurrected", so if people are to emulate Jesus, they're programmed to expect/manifest torture, killing in their life: not a smart idea.

They forced everyone to believe in fake miracles and the spy operation that started the religion. But, like the Torah, Paul assures you in 2 Th 1:9, in the Gospel, of your complete destruction in the afterlife too, if you dare escape the Christianity cult, using threat of destruction for extorting people into believing it, like mafia gangsters extort people too, using fear. The Bible teaches inflicting pain on others as a way to solve issues, which is unethical and anti-God, as it destroys the quantum field, the loving vibe of eterni infinite gentleness; the amount of violence in it is so high, the pastors take great care to hide it all. They offer no proof for the miracles, only faked accounts (they claim this and that happened, paid actors, paid priests, paid bishops) and faked science studies that are done by paid spy collaborators. If you want to be the lowest IQ chemist or physicist, you study a book from 1st century or 10th, or 15th. Likewise, if you want to be the lowest IQ spiritual scientist or spiritualist, you rely on the Bible, Quran. We ban in classrooms alchemy books from 1st to 16th century, as nobody would know any science, it's pure garbage, yet we keep these 1st century texts and deify them as the best source of ethics. Why? We do have a few nice quotes and even one with many qualities in a 10 word sentence, but that quote is only 20% eterni (this means utmost grace, gentleness, tenderness that is wholly absent as 100% in any quote, due to few qualities/10 words or contamination by anti-eterni energies) in vibe (details here), i.e that vibrate with that higher☺☺☺ level of grace humans completely lack (on average), but our Immortal far future descendants have, though eterni means something that is ultra feminine, and the guy writer made it more macho, meaning the healing nurturing grace of gentle tender soft vibe is not there*; only the gentleness vibe, not the infinitely tender grace vibe; it is a difference, you can notice it in the language, each quote or expression has a belief system, related or not to torture and etc, punishing of self or others, belief that the only way is thru pain or suffering, etc*. Thus, it would be a lot healthier for humans to create way shorter 3-7 page texts, like national Immortalist Anthem draft versions, that all know, that have 300 times more eterni vibe, i.e. in those 3 pages or more, the qualities we lack are emphasized, so per 100 words, we get 300 times more qualities than these so called "scriptures", not gentleness, tenderness, compassion alone in a quote of 10 words, but the unique eterni qualities born out of the merger of 3-8 qualities. We either evolve or vanish in 10 seconds as a species soon, like trillions of aliens did already. Either way, negative quotes completely cancel any good quotes, so a scripture or ethics textbook needs to be 100% positive. No need of crazy battles and warfare, insults and violence. The Bible brainwashes the reader the only way is thru war, insults, torture, violence and suffering, in order to create the perfect mind controlled slave soldier the Roman, Jewish/etc empire needs to wage war, or the slaves they need to work 15h/day while having no rights as in the Roman times. The way it does this is clever, using the Jesus torture focus, etc. It's creating a loveless torture focused world of maximum pain/macho energies, disguised as love. Look at the Catholic churches, they got on the wall 14 stages of Jesus torture, it's insane.

The Bible *(*Quran too, Bible ideas recycled + extra ideas, yet 0 eterni quotes by the definition above) emerged thru interaction with various savage empires used to creating extremely cruel methods and fake mythologies and religions for empire building; as we see from literature (youtubes explain it too), cruelty was the norm on all continents, so it just happens that the cruelty density of this text, made by various spies, etc is high and destroys humanity. We see a little of that brainwashing in the Mahabharata violence and Hindu Gita call to war as the way. How many of those guys were really Jewish per se, is unknown, since in ancient times framing of enemies was common, so it's not clear how 'Jewish' the Bible is or if Jesus was Roman or Jewish spy (Jews infiltrating Roman empire), but many pre-Roman empires were very cruel and savage too, so the Bible describes typical violence of the times, originating from many places, some from empires before writing appeared, etc, that we know nothing about. Spartan Greeks were super cruel, so were many Assyrians, Persians, etc... it was a huge mess. So, nobody needs to take anything personally, it's not an attack on Jews or anyone, we just are stating the obvious: to create civilization the savage texts can be let go of, they're product of the stone age. ethics.gov can create a 5 page scripture or code of ethics and a medium version 100 pages, as well as a longer version of 20,000 pages for those who want more details. But most people are not going to waste time to read 20,000 pages and forget it all, we need a simple 7 page thing. So, they can ask all global citizens to create a 9 page max poem that can be anthem & scripture. Same for nations, they need to upgrade their violent or 0 IQ anthems to a nicer vibe.☺☺☺ The parasitic vampires in charge of the country won't let that happen though, as anthems are designed to keep the population enslaved, abysmal IQ, useful cannon fodder and recreate the pain, violence, etc and war vibe - this is called sleep deprivation and trauma based mind control.

Even jokes or comedy about killings, or publishing so called “metaphors” in Bible, Quran, Mahabharata, Gita, or anything, written or spoken, that has, for the lowest IQ people, any possibility of "dual interpretation, very obvious one that can lead to being interpreted as OKing violence" is bad and anti-Immortality, in the future world of 0 violent content,☺ even if 99.9% of people have NO CLUE SUCH Bible, Quran quotes exist, as pastors don't bring it up for fear of losing their job. The publication of content (especially calling it scripture) that OKs violence in any text, religious or secular, allows predator countries to use the ancient "divide and conquer" by demonization and to start wars between countries they want enslaved or "finished". This in turns alters the human genetic field, by reinforcing the probability of future killings of people of any (including their own) country (predator this century, non-existent in the far future), because the human genetic field is polluted by the presence of violent sudden death and this attracts more of the same: those who create the disturbance in human quantum entanglement field, who destroy present and future human species for short-term gain, can't escape the quantum resonant tracing effect to origin; thus, aware that anything bad is created by all, not one nation or person, Immortals take responsibility for filtering more by creating an Immortalism culture. The violence on some (not all) pages in the Quran and Bible (Old Testament especially) stand in sharp contrast with Buddhist Dhammapada or Tao Te Ching, sort of like heavy metal music in contrast with meditative music (sometimes Christian or Jewish), except for the ☺☺☺gentler☺☺☺ quotes the Bible, Quran share with the peaceful scriptures. Perhaps, due to war during the writing, some scribes dealt more with old reality (since people were killing everywhere, and the Art of War and 36 stratagems were present in Asia too), but to call that word of God makes the whole human civilization, governments and the pastors look very bad and pollutes the whole planet. Well, talking about Messiahs and their quotes. We're supposed to believe Jesus is the Messiah, or Krishna or Mohamed the great (for profit?) 'prophet'. Atheists and agnostics have done an analysis of Bible and Quran I read in a book, they found about 100+ "subtle or direct" calls to "evidently or arguably" (depends whom you ask) violent or even "horrifying" (not healing, not gentle tender nurturing, not peaceful) behavior (mostly Old Testament) in the Bible, 100+ (can be even 300 if you widen definition of nonpeaceful) in the Quran, explaining why it's hard for them to believe in such a man made "God". Would a Civilization of Immortals be OK with such quotes being published so widely? Catholics seem to agree with immortalists, not the best idea, so Bibles are no longer found today in Catholic churches pews – only more civilized quotes part of the Mass. Agnostics joke scriptures and "God" were made by men in their own image, but who controlled the people who wrote the scriptures, did they have an agenda to make others look bad? Most people don't even know these quotes exist, since clergy is clever to never bring them up, for then it's obvious the Bible, Quran are the words of humans in less peaceful/civilized times, not of God, even if the Bible also got quotes on gentle tender kindness.

The Bhagavad (God) Gita (Song unto) (sections 23-40 of book 6) is arguably among the most peaceful parts of the often violent Mahabharata (Maha means great, Bharata means India, though the rules of 'conflict resolution' via violent "just" war in Mahabharata were, according to Mahabharata experts, a lot less violent than the rules in Quran, Torah, Bible, but still were unacceptable in a world of Immortals who need no war at all, just as post Mahabharata less known scriptures talked about in India); most have read Gita (has a lot on reincarnation, meditation, spirit), but few read Mahabharata (free here), 200 times longer than Tao Te Ching, the so called '5th Veda', as some call it, though the 4 Vedas are the main scriptures: 1. Rig Veda (hymns and prayers to 100s of nonexistent invented deities), 2. Sama Veda, (hymns to sing while offering vegetarian food to nonexistent deities who need material food in the fantasy belief of ancient people) 3. Yajur Veda (lots of animal sacrifices unfortunately, again, that achieve nothing, except remaining clueless and polluting planetary vibes), 4. Athar Veda (how to sacrifice animals to get 0 "powers, rain, $, crops," and waste time when we could be vegan and eterni by science living 1 billion times happier☺☺☺ and longer without torturing poor animals, etc), with Upanishads the *more recent (free Upanishads here, less* rituals*)* scriptures. If you read some of these verses, you don't need watch comedy movies, they're too funny in their illogical content, I laughed for minutes at a time. I and many in the West were made to believe that Hinduism is just the somewhat peaceful Gita; Gita is very popular in India, hence the anthem is 20% of a poem about Gita that contains many negative words unlike the positive Immortalist Anthem; thankfully, the official anthem is nice, has only positive words, being the best 20%; however, some people sing the whole poem, which they view as 'full anthem' with all programming to live in the 'torture filled path' (brainwashing that life HAS to involve WAR to bring peace, read it carefully, clever alien programming, aliens remotely controlling Tagore Nobelist, like they did those who wrote many similar anthems?) of eternal war like Arjuna did, just like many anthems are based on much longer poems not fully sung, as they would be too 'unpeaceful'. Oddly, many have never heard about Gita; in India it's like the Bible in USA. I write this so we develop discernment and get the full picture of Gita and not be fooled Hinduism (or other religions with bad quotes in scriptures) is all about peace and love, it's also about the cruelty of animal (world's largest 100,000 plus) sacrifice and more; when you realize this you become less gullible and develop more questions about religions, you no longer are fooled by being shown only positive quotes and ideas in every scripture at services, not just Christianity (which we, the science educated, in the West find illogical, nonsensical, contradictory, etc, like I did when mom gave me Bible to read at 12, etc). Don't believe concepts because the stuff they present is nice and they hide the bad stuff to lure the prey into the trap of fake beliefs and fake miracles.

Question everything, seek 50 sources, unfakable studies to confirm beliefs. ☺☺☺ Gita, the most known in the West scripture of Hinduism, is peaceful, except for the fact "God" (Krishna) calls on Arjuna to wage war and kill tons of 'evil guys', because ancient people in India, like those in

Middle East (Quran) and Israel (Bible), China (Tao Te Ching) didn't realize there are trillions of ways to peace without any killing; the 20th century showed people can end wars of millions of years in EU via peaceful means or in India via unification in 1947, we can discern human ideas from God ideas, without labeling the entire text as word of God. Gita is from Mahabharata, and Krishna is a human who is very pompous in his speech, tells Arjuna he's the 'destroyer of worlds' and will wage the war thru Arjuna, so tempts Arjuna to fight, to do evil, to kill people as the only way to peace when it is not, when in fact God would be teaching nonkilling all the time (Krishna was just a made up fictional being by a writer in a violent historical moment, nothing real – just like Jesus story could have all been made up too), Krishna claims to be God (without providing any proof) like Jesus did claim to be Son of God yet talked with no infinitely loving nurturing gentle tender soft compassion for God's children, some rabbis who didn't understand his claims; Gutenberg has all 18 parts of MahaBharata (where Gita, the Jewel of Vedas as some call it, is from) free too besides sacred-texts.com, like Vol 1 and you can use Ctrl+F "blood" to find the first and many instances of talk about drinking blood, cannibals and fierce fights among various physical and somewhat mythical beings – all ultra violent stuff, including extermination of "Kshatriya race" by Rama, etc. Hare Rama, Hare Krishna? Besides Vol 1 (Book 1-3) above, there is Vol 2 ☺☺☺(Book 4-7, Ctr+F "intermingling" of caste to see idea of worker caste shun from interaction with merchant, soldier or priest caste) Vol 3 (Book 8-12), Vol 4 (Book 13-18) all free to read – all 18 books of the longest poem of the world with 1.8 million words, much of it physical combat and violent content (graphic depiction of removal of heads, etc) of some battles, and some spiritual discourses too (Book 5, Section 25 Sanjaya says starting the war would lead to hell, he tries to prevent the war, so the book has the anti-war message from a mortal charioteer advisor to one king called Sanjaya, but Krishna, another charioteer that people made into God because he claimed so in this fictional epic, advices Arjuna to kill lots of his relatives in the battle because 'he is 'God', destroyer of worlds'; Sanjaya remote views the battle and described to his king the events and that description is the Gita and 4 war books of the Mahabharata; this peace message gets lost in all the violent content). Use Ctrl+F "spiritual", though "sacrific, war, slay, slain, battle, army, soldier, kill" are about 10-90 times more common; 'peace' is more frequent than spiritual, but overall 5-10 times less than 'warrior' or slay, etc. Vol 2 spiritual appears 8 times, cannibal 25 times. Brahma (name for God and a caste) is twice as common as slay. Compare 1.8 million of endlessly repetitive battles with 9500 words of Tao Te Ching and its peacefulness, no rituals, sacrifices so abundant in the Vedas and Mahabharata.

Tao Te Ching is all about peace, way way more peaceful than Quran, Bible, Vedas, Gita, Mahabharata, no mortal like Krishna claiming to be God (like Jesus did too), yet Tao Te Ching doesn't talk about the ten trillion ways to prevent war, just says "avoid war at all costs, in a way clearer than any other major scripture, but when no choice left, if attacked, fight compassionately, without rejoicing in victory or killing helpless brain damaged (thru torture filled training) mind controlled robotic brainwashed soldiers", because Lao Tze (just like "God" or (for profit?) 'prophets' in Gita, Bible, Quran, etc) didn't know how complex reality is and how with complex engineering you can avoid a path ("violence, war, threats, intimidation, lies") to an end: if you start early enough to get to peace via a peaceful positive path always like a Civilization of Immortals who plans millennia ahead, not on a 1 hour notice. These scriptures with their violence create war and they're reflections of those more primitive times. Hinduism in not just about meditative peace; it is made up of 100s of 'denominations' which are sometimes so different from each other, like different religions, like Quakers are different from Catholics or Satanism from Christianity (believers in animal sacrifice or, possibly, if not a fake story, in eating dead corpses (this is in many news articles Telegraph, etc also, not the Daily Mail only, which has more fake stuff usually, google it, Indian government allows it, odd, it sickens people, spreads disease, shortens lifespan, etc) floating down the river vs strict vegetarians believing in one God of Light), some believe in one God, Advaita Vedanta, others in many Gods and sacrifices, others in reincarnation, others in a future physical Immortality via prayer/mantras – nice intent, but not possible (vallalar.org, with poetic teachings on ☺☺☺vegetarianism☺☺☺ (free books) and nonviolence, but Vallalar claimed in 1870s everyone will be raised form the dead and his so called 1870s ascension, miracles were probably made up by followers, like with Jesus – at least he was for kindness for all people and animals, unlike many Hindus today). These things show how filif and comical☺ some beliefs are and how we humans in the future will look at this dark age and think in disbelief, my God, they didn't have World Peace and complete nonviolence and believed in war, like cannibals believed in dead corpse eating or some in the strangest quotes? Some cave men were starving, had a dream in which a nice being asked for food to wake them up to search for food, and they gave food in the dream and the dream persona was happy and gave them something or blessed them in some way, so they invented these rituals believing physical food gives them this and that, confusing dreams with reality, so thousands of sacrifices emerged in many religions out of ignorance of brain workings, and confirmation bias; likewise, today, people with equal devotion, confirmation bias, etc as in writing those useless rituals, etc, believe (unless war is their human sacrifice?) in war as a way to peace. Education in neuroscience will inform intelligent people otherwise. We learn from contrast, the trillions ways to peace without war. Today, we understand war can be avoided, even when attacked, as shown in the nonkilling Immortality for All section. Spirituality, real Civilization can't exist when there is still violence, except in their most infant primitive forms, so a basic knowledge of silly scriptures helps us see how they create so much trouble today.

We question religious beliefs, realize the important stuff is the kind gentle☺☺☺ tender soft forgiving compassionate nurturing graceful reconciliating healing help for all to live healthier longer lives, not the rituals or odd unprovable afterlife beliefs; important are also positive thoughts and goals, like in the Immortality for All anthem and Immortality for All music (thru science research of billion years to make us live to millions of years one day, far away, not stone age rituals that keep us clueless and short lived). We see how violence ad war are not justified in religious texts or beliefs and that in secular life, they too have no place and as we evolve past religious brainwashing, that realization of the fake nature of many religious beliefs, makes us realize many of our secular beliefs ("war brings peace") are fake too and unsubstantiated by evidence, because we need no war to bring peace, since there are trillions of ways to peace without war and violence. How can we have a civilized world if all these violent quotes filled texts, festivals, sacrifices etc still exist and are published unedited? People in ancient violent times and violent scriptures, didn't know they can prevent war without using swords, weapons, violence, but with healing and maybe, holograms that speak, healing undetectable remote control or suggestion (as today, with our "God-like knowledge" versus millennia ago, that enables us to bring peace in that time effortlessly without any war, threat, intimidation, exactly as today that is possible without any torture, war, etc just more advanced tech or use of tech), or other things easier in those times like "explaining via a friend of the king of the "enemy" that if he would spend time with science, instead of killing all around, he would be able to get off planet and have 5 trillion planets (terraform them) to rule on and live to a billion years old too, he or his descendants; while killing only speeds up the evolution of the harassed groups, entices them to more science developing to the point where king & his kingdom being wiped out is actually more likely long term, with nobody going to space". Today with healing music and tech (and in the future tech way more advanced than present, as remote control is versus 1st century), one could convey the beatific happiness of this future world of Immortals, compared to the hell of our reality of eternal war, a lot easier than in 10 AD. Instead, people still torture, wage war, repeating history. The healers are killed, the torturers rule the world, the violent roaring lions try shout, dominate via war and threats, intimidation and bullying, compassionate loving kindness, soft tender healing grace, eterni speech is exterminated or minimized, hypothesis thinking too, only brainwashing allowed, mass indoctrination "we believe in this and that without any evidence". Lao Tze hid his "World Peace" engineering methods? Why? A savior tells them peaceful ways exist always and there is no situation where "war is the only choice left" with proper planning. So Lao Tze is making a mistake that can lead to species extinction.☺

The dramatic difference between mainstream scriptures (there may be less known violent "scriptures" too) suggests peaceful religious service music and meditation may help laymen and pastors to become more peaceful, honest, leading to more honest and eterni tone using tone clergy who present the Bible/Quran/any scripture as it is, not as the word of God, miracles as stories, not as provable facts, since no unfakable scientific evidence exists for Buddhist, Tibetan,

Christian, any miracles (outside of brain heals body type of events via placebo and autosuggestion), other than easy to make up studies and "evidence". Honesty is rare, it means telling congregants the truth that we don't know, we don't know if any miracle or even Jesus, Buddha, Mohamed, Krishna, etc are real and not 100% made up, that humility means we don't know, eterni gentle tender healing tone is the humble tone of not knowing and ideal, there is no need to yell about things we don't know, because many pastors are fakes, like Peter using earpiece to fake miracles, stage magic being millennia old, etc. To some degree I'm like James Randi, a skeptic for the most part, since I think most miracles were made up by robotized or deceived (not self-deception only) people (who don't know tech or stage magic tricks and how they're used to create "miracles" or deception) or ancient/present military intelligence spies for political reasons, while most genuine ones have alternate simpler explanations (self-healing, ☺☺ etc); even so, the universe is too big for us to really know if God exists as aliens or as this or that model. Even Exodus 32:26-9 "Levites killed 3,000 people as Moses commanded them" contradicts the universality of the Moses idea in "Don't kill" Exodus 20:13 commandment, which make it ☺☺☺hard☺☺☺ to know what the scribe or Moses ethics/walk (vs preaching/talk) was; same confusion arises with Jesus and Mohamed due to words they allegedly said, if their words were not twisted to make them look bad. These eterni like ideas of nonkilling from Moses, Buddha ("love all beings like a mom loves her baby" 5 centuries before Jesus) and Jesus, if they were genuine, (hard to know given the violence in the Bible that contradicts the good quotes) were taken to a yet higher level by other mystics and allegedly genuine prophets of Jainism, Hinduism, Buddhism, Catholicism and Orthodoxism (vegan saints), Protestantism (Quakers against war, Adventist Ellen White promoting veganism) who *reportedly (not all reports may be true) taught, practiced and believed* openly in not killing animals, most dedicated of them being Jains who avoid killing insects even. Some (essene.org) Jews have tried to whitewash Moses and claimed/hypothesized that Moses meant to not kill animals and that he too was a vegetarian Essene, framed by evil scribes to appear less kind, yet we have no real unfakable scientific evidence for any claim about location, century, words or actions of any scriptural heroes.

Once again, how a text came to be is less important, but the best message of peace we can find by searching for the best quotes, the message of nonviolence and helping all to live a better and longer life. ☺☺☺ If we want to get a little science fiction now, you can imagine far future humans living millions of years in bodies of energy and matter that can shapeshift and materialize matter by rearranging dirt, air quarks, leptons, bosons and be able to procreate without sexual organs, but by using rays that assemble elementary particles, where you can have one or 5 or 200 or 2 billion Immortals take part in the assembly or materialization of a new Immortal body, for a soul, as their communication with the other dimensions and the understanding of soul arrival in a newly made body is deep. Then, one can see that in this science fiction world, the concept of being faithful to your wife is a little out of context, since all they do is for the civilization itself, there is no lust or any negative emotion, like jealousy, since all are like the most angelic beings and gender doesn't even need exist. But even then the commandment of ancient times applies in another sense, i.e. take care of the child, whoever the parents are, 3 parents (2 moms, 1 father, nucleus of the mom and dad is removed from the embryo and inserted into donor mom cell with healthy mitochondria), 500 parents (we get mitochondria from mothers, so some kids become vegetables without this 3 parent procedure or die early), 2 fathers 1 surrogate (until artificial womb made), etc, depending on the intention for that body. For example, to create a more unified civilization, they might pro-create by elementary particle assembly and ray precipitation all kids with all inhabitants or 100 to 5 billion as parents, so as to enable the highest love of all inhabitants for everyone, with everyone being the parent of all youngsters. ☺ This creates a level of altruism and unity, far beyond anything we have, and removes any idea of jealousy, conflict or 'biological family', since everyone is ONE FAMILY. This is like the idea of 11 companies, 1 language, 1 currency, 1 bank, 1 nation for the entire planet, instead of 500 million companies, 7000 languages, 200 nations. Biology on Earth is just one chemical pathway to pro-create, and chemistry is just one physics way to achieve certain molecular ends. Chemistry is a branch of physics dealing with mostly electron and photon exchanges (except for nuclear chemistry) and biology a small subset of chemistry. When people think about these things, they understand historical context better and how commandments or communions or "hypotheses for understanding God and becoming closer to God" are valuable only in a given biology system, dimension, universe. This helps us develop a more altruistic world view, beyond "me, mine, my biological family" and more like "our Civilization of Immortals, our family of 9 billion teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals who live on energy, reach ages of 2 billion or trillion years". However in the historical context of our existing biology, Bible stuff regarding faithfulness of one's wife make sense, so promote of sense of selfless dedication to raising one kid or more and to prevent wasting semen with sex outside of pro-creation (stemming from the culture of "sleeping with all" that is common in some areas). However, today, with genetics and such, sometimes, if there is only 1 out of a million people with a certain sperm that prevents birth defects of a certain type (that shorten lifespan or make life a total misery), they could donate it to someone who is infertile/fertile, via a sperm bank that inseminates it 2 minutes after production, to avoid damage from freezing. No contact is needed, since MD takes the sperm, then uses the most high tech method of insemination (in the future, they could create a penis simulator (that releases this donated sperm once in, sort of like an artificial 2 lb 'doll' like thing even when tech advances to ensure instant orgasm due to limited sperm supply) that causes those female liquids during sex to be excreted, so that the fertilization is as natural like as possible (those female orgasm liquids have a role to play in fertilizing the egg), without transmission of viruses, etc from sexual contact, since the donor doesn't need to ever met the receiving couple, even if 10 meters away in a different room). This is why the so called (for profit?) 'prophets' were wrong, not knowing that one can be Godly and still be a "biological father" with more than 1 female, and even hang out a little with the kid of this "secondary procreation" if the parents (biological mom and nonbiological father) allow it, even if the kid has another technical father, just as we today get these IVF men who're fathers to even 100 kids sometimes from 100 infertile families. So again, as people evolve, their "don'ts" evolve. Plus, let's get real, all peasants and workers today are prophets if Jesus, Moses, Mohamed were "prophets", which is not true if your definition of "prophet" is someone who is all for peace and nonkilling always. As we have seen from the quotes and data above, the 3 condoned violence, or fraud/fakery, so they're not prophets. On the contrary, 5 billion nonviolent, gentle kind workers today, are true☺☺☺ prophets of Immortality for All (trillion year lifespans), Eternal Universal Peace (0 wars for Eternity*)*, gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness who liberate the slaves of Islam, Christianity, Buddhism, Hinduism, Judaism from belief in "wild miracles that never happened, violent or begging scriptures and dying happily at 80". The Holy Grace of Chemistry & Physics flows with Electrifying Zeal thru all World's Workers, as the Holy Spirit of Making Things Happen via Hypothesis Formulation and Testing alleviates billions from the suffering of diseases, storms, wars. Blessed be the God of Immortality for All via Chemical Physics, Hallelujah.☺

After all, God lives forever, so giving everyone a trillion year lifespan (an infinitely small span of God's life) is ultra easy, a tiny smile, effortless. Yet, these out of touch with reality pastors, popes, imams, lamas never have us pray or act for trillion year lives, indicating they're not talking to God, but to a concept imposed at gunpoint in their heads. Even poor rocks on Earth can reach 4 billion years, but humans can't, per their "scripture". Buddha didn't kill anyone or incite anyone to violence, nor did many in Hinduism, so he's more of a prophet than Jesus, Moses, Mohamed, the miracle fakers in Hinduism and 1 billion people today. Hinduism is more like 50 religions, with some denominations even aiming for physical Immortality, so it's only the fake miracles groups created by military spies in Buddhism and Hinduism that are 100% lies. The Buddha ideas of the right speech (telepathy in the future), action, being kind to all beings are very eternal, so many agree that Buddha is 9,000000 times more of a prophet than Jesus, Moses, Mohamed since Buddha was way more peaceful and nonviolent, but due to his lack of science awareness, he didn't realize we can live to a trillion, or that ascetics (who vow to practice Buddhism strongly) don't need to beg (they can create a self-sufficient community), as that is placing undue burden on the human quantum field (some claim Buddha was a spy trying to get other countries full of beggars and lazy 'ascetics', so states fall and his kingdom can take over, though few want to become ascetics, to renounce all human desires, which is the equivalent of monks, so it would be difficult to have a mass effect on other kingdoms, except getting those masses so unguarded and gullible, military invasion would be easier by other groups). Regarding how prophetic Jesus was vs Mohamed, read the 50 pages above: Jesus failed to make 1 single verifiable prediction about the far future (satellites 1960s, Internet, video chat, not immediate events he staged with fellow Jews to appear psychic*),* except general garbage anyone can come up with like "What I have done you will also do and much more", which anyone realizing society progresses and each generation can do more, can say to appear 'God'). *A prophet is one who can predict the far future (*future centuries, since one is dead and can't plot to stage events to appear psychic), an ability no religious figure has displayed so far. Catholics are naive, believe saints 'read minds', they did not, they were spies who were told people's secrets. No saint ever predicted "on July 10th, 100 years from now, this and that will happen in this city and building". Why? Because they're all frauds, all predictions relate to things they can stage via their spies, statistics knowledge didn't exist either, so if you try predict 1 million times, one time you get it right and that instance is reported as the usual thing to get followers. Today, science can write brains, so the conmen "read what the computer wrote into your brain" to pretend to be psychic.

The quotes above show Mohamed (he, like Moses*, was an orphan, which may explain some behaviors of both*) simply copied the exact same main ideas of the Jews. But hey, people called prophets those whom they thought had some good idea vs the worst, but really, today, 5 billion folks with a good scientific estimation ability can be called a mini-prophet, if people feel good about it, then call yourself a prophet in your head (if it helps you to overcome brainwashing that only Mohamed, Jesus, Moses is a prophet), be happy, bring Immortality for All. Though it's wise to not say 'you're a prophet' in public since only big egos do that, simply realize all humans are mini-prophets, they all can unite, end the Age of Aristocratic Terror, bring Immortality for All.

Aristocrats always wanted religions to keep the masses enslaved via lies, but we, the free workers of the world, want truth, not lies. Why do people have to wear 'blessed objects' in Catholicism? They wear a cross with a human tortured on it by Jews, which is an image that reenacts torture in the quantum field and keeps humans chained in ignorance of other states of consciousness. They wear medals of fake saints whose miracles were made up by the Vatican. When you enter a church, your critical thinking skills, intelligence, IQ, higher spiritual states abilities will also be tortured and killed, as they did with Jesus. Ironically, they even have a cross above every church, to signal "here we worship killing and torture done by Jews, come on and be tortured and spiritually killed too". Nothing is clearer: they tell you right from the start what is going to happen, truly honest people. Feel free to save your brains please and gently avoid Christian churches (and many other religious buildings), unless curious or wanting to see a comical display of pretense, offering 0 evidence for their claims. People find this 'offensive when some say Christianity kills intelligence, but if you don't use your brains, bandits will kill millions of people easily using religion, as they already did. For example, the pastors lie that Jesus materialized out of thin air 5000 loaves of bread, which is about 5000 kg of matter. Likewise, they lie that in many instances wine and bread turned into blood and flesh. So, how come, God can't turn a few mg of chemicals in the brains of Stalin, Mao, Hitler, Napoleon, Mussolini, Hirohito, Genghis Khan and 50 other mass murderers and their immediate supporters, so that the war mongers want peace and avoid killing 0.5 billion folks? Why didn't Jesus, the fictional being, turn a few molecules in the heads of Jews hating him and all leaders of the world, so all nations experience peace and no war for 50 years? He could not, the whole story was a military spy creation to enslave the masses. If Jesus can materialize food, Jesus can live without eating by materializing nutrients into his blood directly, like a true, not fake, Son of God. God is smart, uses powers with efficiency, so if God turns 5000 kg of matter from one state to another, from air into bread, etc, God will do it to show he can prevent 80 million dead WW2, for the alleviation of maximum suffering, for teaching everyone how mighty Jesus prayer truly is by preventing a huge war everyone thought inevitable. Jesus prayer "give us our daily bread that gives endless diseases for people with gluten sensitivity and keeps us living to 80", is not real 21st century feasible prayer: "give us the eterni food that helps us live to a trillion or forever, as you want us to, in order to show us what a nanosecond in Eternity (a trillion years) is like, right here in the physical universe dimension 1 of a trillion dimensions, before we even go to the eternal dimension if we choose to live there forever instead of here". So, all clergy could not stop Putin from his atrocities on human psyche at least, if war is faked and they bomb empty buildings for intimidation and global terror. So, how powerful are these "prayer formulas" of religions today? Or are these 'clergy' mere spies who don't even believe their prayers? ☺☺☺ What's going on?

Isn't it odd that with all their 4 billion people praying according to the 'infallible 'Word of God' (cave men to be exact? Jews and others used caves back then at times) and related scriptures', they can't even convert a few mg from one state to another, let alone materialize it out of 'thin' air (air molecules turned to bread)? All 'miracles', being fake, happen in impossible to verify circumstances or conveniently, '800-5000 years ago'. They prayed for peace millions of times, even for Hitler and God did nothing, so how come we're told to believe they're close to God, they're the only ones close to God (priests, clergy) and they know how to pray to bring God's Grace? Why believe without questioning? You don't have to. Think for yourself, otherwise, you may end up being cannon fodder for 'Christian', 'Muslim', 'Jewish' and other aristocrats who never sponsor, with their $$$, a TV show for clergy of the world to pray their 'favorite prayer' and to show on TV, in a lab, how one matter turns into another, with no possibility of faking it. It never happens, it's always in some remote village, ancient era, hidden church pew or some cave, where the grand miracle happens, away from any possibility to see the fraud methods employed. The workers of the world, weary of war and slavery, can easily argue that most basic miracle is not even materializing stuff out of thin air, to give people bread that anyone can get from someone; it is bringing Eternal Universal Peace, a state in which humans are no longer demonic beasts killing each other, they graduated past savage level to the nonkilling nontorture "1st grade level" of spirituality. Yet, with their trillions of prayers, we have not achieved even World Peace as a miracle. Why? It was a fake prayer, said on average 20 seconds maybe, once a month, with no action to back it up, so obviously, no Peace ever manifests with such strong historical inertia. To achieve change, we need an all consuming 24-7 almost prayer spirituality, not mental games. When all people on Earth, 30-200 minutes daily, think/act for World Peace and breathe God's Light of Eternal Universal Immortality for All, World Peace manifests. So, to show God you're serious, you create only peaceful music, movies, scripture, literature, TV news, require all music/movies releases to include Eternal Universal Peace in 3 months (and all peace maintaining goals: no violent crime, no jails) in lyrics/script until it's attained, then continue to include in lyrics Eternal Universal Peace for millennia to help the Peace continue until it has become the very essence of human DNA itself, after generations of evolution. This shows God you're serious when asking, meaning you did ALL HUMANLY POSSIBLE FIRST… This is true spirituality. ☺☺☺ It's funny how adults ask kids to do enormous amounts of useless homework and memorize endless junk, instead of developing critical thinking, creative thinking, meditation bliss, but adults would not do even 0.01% of what they ask students to do, to prove to God they're serious about learning how to create Peace, as students are about learning biology or chemistry. Pure hypocrisy. You want God, Immortals, Buddhas, with a trillion times more power than galaxies, to waste energy, when you yourself are not serious at all, have no strong desire for peace at all? It's a joke, God can't be fooled to waste energy so it's all going to waste and then war restarts years after Peace arrives. People need to act like adults, not like toddlers who expect God to do all their homework. Here comes action as a form of prayer: the Immortalist Party, Immortality Capitalism. Millions of adults say they want peace in public (even pray for peace in public for mere show, hiding being a spy wanting war), but secretly torture millions of people, which is the epitome of anti-peace and demonic behavior, so there you go: pathological liars, pure evil, so evil they don't realize they're purely immersed in the demonic desire to torture. Truth is simple: run a physics experiment, see for yourself. We don't torture students hours daily to teach them how nature's laws of chemistry, physics work. Truth is evident, kind and everyone will understand it, only LIES need torture, terror and killings to IMPOSE on others. Simply show past atrocities and issues happening today by video to help people learn history, compassion, you don't need to emulate the psychopaths of past ages of war. CIA, will you get it?

14.5.3. ☺☺ Below are 30 pages about the least known evil quotes in the Jewish Quran:☺☺

Muslim legal migration (refugees, etc) to US fell 25 times (it's 4% of Biden) during Trump vs before. Read the basic Quran topics index: theft from infidels is a religious duty in Islam, as seen with San Diego day cares. After all, the most frequent activity of Mohamed, the Universal Robbery Prophet, was caravan raids to steal via robbery or murder. Peace be Upon Him PBUH, Hallelujah, he simply followed the Jewish Torah, Bible and Talmud 50 quotes on how to rob by genocide entire nations. Egypt, world's only Muslim nation with 10% Christians and blasphemy law, inaugurated on July 4th 2026, the US Independence day, its new headquarters (world's largest military headquarters), which is 22,000 acres, vs 28 for Pentagon, 50.5 million sq ft vs 6.7 for Pentagon. Denmark wants to ban Islamic call to prayer nationwide, so should all nations. Let Muslims listen to it on headphones, not disturb anyone else. Muslim migrants from France show how Paris devolved into a 3rd world nation due to Islam: Muslims beating Christians to steal their air conditioners and Muslims tearing down entrance door. Arab Chamel Abdul Karim set warehouse on fire on 4-7-26, causing $0.5 billion in damage, because the infidels didn't pay him enough, so I guess 0.5 billion takes 30 years to remake by one person, this being equivalent of 1 murder at least, deserving death penalty. He burned the toilet paper, etc warehouse, as in Islam toilet paper is unclean and bidet are mandatory. What would Muslims say if Trump decides to reply to this by deporting all Muslims from USA to 3rd world Muslim nations without water/electricity to try enslave infidels there? Pakistani Muslims raped 200,000+ white UK girls per Quran guidelines, without being executed as deserved. This is a "Holy" War against USA, not a "wage dispute", it's the suicide bomber mentality that is all pervasive in USA Islam. The Mecca Hajj pilgrimage (where women are groped) prayers say "Allah, curse the Christians, curse the Jews, curse those who left Islam, make them poor, make their life miserable, clothe them in clothes of misery and garments of calamity, make their life full of pain and misery, make their life full of misfortune and". Why does any nation welcome Muslims and not deport them all to the Arab world to live around Mecca in filth? Muslims took over Dearborn, and a Muslim thug attacked an American holding a sign "Americans against Islamization". See Arab racism, beating a lady for having blonde hair and not covering her hair entirely, watch out, anyone without brown hair and brown eyes like Arabs will be exterminated under the pretext of "not being Muslim enough", liberal ladies who love Islam, watch female rights in Islam. Quran was written by Jews around Mohamed too, see below the details, many Quran quotes here prove this, that it was a covert method to spread the Torah with all its calls for mass rape, genocide of billions of people Jews feel like exterminating because "God gave them to Jews" (Deut 7:16), as the Christianity was a cover for spreading Torah via the Bible. At the same time, it allowed the complete intellect destruction of the Arabs, so Jewish merchants can have turn Arabs into slaves, and expand the Torah where the gentler Gospel would not work, as the Gospel teaching is about love not killing everyone who doesn't convert. It's thus plausible Jews created Islam to lower everyone's IQ, and that Mohamed was Jewish, since Mohamed's behavior is, in many ways, via mass killing and mass rape of infidels, that of an ideal Jew of the Torah who follows the Holy Torah bad quotes, like Islam being a branch of Judaism, just more liberal about how many wives one may have and Mohamed's focus is on his sexual affairs in the Quran, (Mohamed is a hypocrite who invents exceptions to Quranic rules for himself having sex all the time, like the animal he was) how he can have as much sex with as many slaves as he wants. Poor Arabs didn't know what hit them. 10 nations have banned Islam due to the quotes below, some of which are listed by topic (how Muslims justify torture and random honor killings), as Muslims in Spain and other nations rose by 10 times via illegal migration during 1995-2025, and 5 times in Europe since 1950 due to lack of equality (Muslims 5 kids, locals 1-2, no equality, but they demand equality using the cover of "left" politics to take over continents: equality is used as a brainwashing term to enslave locals (as Mohamed taught Muslims) by lies). Islam is all about enslaving (see Quran) all non-Muslims. Muslims gathered in Belgium, Brussels, the capital of EU, in order to take over EU, so 20% of residents in Brussels are Muslim, with Mohamed being the most common new born child name. Now they use tunnels to invade Poland with 130 caught in Dec 2025, the 4th tunnel found in 2025. They do that in US too, infiltrating the Democrats to bring 1 billion Muslims here and create Sharia law, they don't integrate or love science, they establish Mosques, Kebab stores, sit doing nothing in hotels, demanding same pay as others who work 10 times more in jobs with 10 times more stress.

Quran commands Muslims to rape infidel girls, so they rape 12 year olds. In Sweden Muslim migrants rape females 120 times more than Christians (in 1960 rape rate was 12 times lower than today, rape rate was 8 in 1960, 93 in 2023, a 12 FOLD RISE, today, suddenly Sweden has 10% of population Muslim, vs 0.01 in 1960 before Jews screwed Sweden, and they're the rapists, since that 10% raised the rape rate 12 fold, having 120 times the level roughly), in Germany, many Muslims rape 16 times more. Africa is waking up to Islam's true nature: theft of all African resources for Islamic Sheikhs, just as Mohamed the Prophet of Theft has taught in the Quran. Religion is brainwashing. Spirituality is testing hypotheses by yourself, via thought processes, not adopting beliefs from parents. Internet experts hypothesize that Islam has spread by genocide and it will disappear via the Internet. The Quran's many executions by Mohamed, discussed in many videos below, and green Islamic and (Kabba is the Black Cube, Allah is the Moon God, Kabballah is ...green), are revealed to us in Living Example, as is the Bible itself, the Source of the Quran, in the shocking video of Saddam (Satan) Hussein who, emulating Mohamed perfectly, started his presidency with executions, and wanted to kill many Iranians, per Jewish wish. Jew run USSR supported Iran, Jew run US supported Iraq, Human Sacrifice to Yahweh, Molek, Baal via War was to be Done, as each Decade the Satan World News Educate us To Watch, or Bohemian Grove Human Sacrifice deifies. Hussein's son killed endless people. Is the Bible Holy? Or is it perhaps the Word of 'Demons'? Check out the Islamic prayer call takeover of the UK, and of German cities becoming dumpsters. UK allows Muslim towns in UK, but Saudis don't allow a Christian or other Buddhist town there. It shows the low IQ of the UK, US and EU governments who stand for nothing, except bribes. Mohamed's disciples licked his blood, drank his urine, and fought for a hair from his head and to drink the water after he washed his mouth, nose and feet. The Hadith suggests Mohamed was bisexual.

The Quran is a rewrite of the Bible with some additions, by possibly cunning Jews who tried to keep Egyptians and Arabs as low IQ as possible, unaware of their history and tech, see Egypt 2 km deep of underground structures, 8 pillars found under a pyramid, etc, and Plato stories of Atlantis, others about the pyramids. Mohamed himself may have been a Jew who made up his life story to pose as an Arab. Since he was a merchant, Mohamed was surrounded by the Eternal Traders, the Jews. Islam is not a natural religion for Arabs or anyone intelligent, it's an imposed forgery. Burkina Faso rejected 200 mosques proposed by the supposedly Jewish Saudi Royals, since mosques lower the IQ of visitors, turn visitors into slaves, like 80% of Indian slaves in UAE and others in Saudi Arabia lured there by $ and free housing only to find paid housing, 20 in a room and 5 times lower salary: the Burkina leader wanted education and health, so he launched the building of 55 hospitals (listen to see how they enslave using churches and mosques to hide spies) to break the cycle of slavery by the religious mafia and Jewish international Brit banks like the Jewish IMF that destroy local industries in 200 nations and turn everyone into slaves to promote the Jewish global terror complex. Senegal stopped the French and other parasites from making all money off their oil, so now they refine their own oil. Niger kicked French, US and Chinese parasites out. The world is awakening. Niger sold uranium at 80 cents/kg for 50 years to France, and only in 2023 the price went up to 120$, the market price, after they kicked French troops out and military replaced a corrupt puppet government. Check out USAID being used to keep Africa backwards. US gives churches to countries it wants to enslave, not real tech and ethics to bring Immortality for All. This is due to the criminal aristocrats who run USA. They use churches as a cover for theft of labor, resources, cannon fodder buffer states. Same for Saudis, Turks and others, they give mosques, not real help. Burkina did not need spy bases and extortion networks (gang like mafias to steal and plunder every nation on Earth) as all churches, mosques, temples, synagogues are, Burkina leaders chose cement factories to build single family houses for all which can act as personal mini temples for personal connection to God attained by simple breathing, free from brainwashing Mecca lies and Rome ostrich IQ rituals.

The holiest lady is Islam is Mary, mother of Jesus, a Jewish lady, isn't that a clue? See the Bible quotes in the first 3 pages here to get a taste of Islam. Africa and our planet doesn't need mosques or churches, they need single family housing for all, like on this Burkina Faso street. Why is the UK royal (Jewish?) family allowing the Islamization of UK, 'Italian' (Jewish mafia loves green, green in Italy flag, are Italians ruled by Jews?) rulers speed up the Islamization of Italy if they're truly Christians as they pretend to be in public? Why are the 'French, German' (Jews?) leaders, who pretend to be democratic, allow Islam to spread when Islam is anti-democracy? Watch Islamic animal cruelty: millions of cows. Islam is pro-slavery, see how Mohamed created the Quran to enslave people and promote genocide against slaves by killing sex slaves or regular slaves. Mohamed made up Quran verses when he wanted to sleep with more than 11 wives and 35 sex slaves. Check out Somali autism fraud to steal taxpayer $ millions to spread the religion of Theft, Rape, Genocide. Check out the illogical Quran who calls for murder of anyone who quits Islam.☺☺ Quran quotes reveal how Allah (not God) is exactly like Satan. Mohamed needed jihad to loot all, to maintain his harem and luxurious lifestyle. Scholars estimate Mohamed killed 238 million people at least, though others say it was 270 million. Allah 'told' Mohamed that the best way to clean after defecating in nature is to use an odd number of stones and sand. Muslims fail to live by this command today, how sad to not live by the Eternal Word. The Hadith explains men resembling Jins raped Mohamed one entire night and he was in absolute pain, where was Allah? Apparently, the Quran and Hadith are full of wipe feces with 3 stones suggestions. Allah failed to protect Mohamed from stones hitting his head, so Mohamed waged war on them 10 years later.

The infidel tax was extortion money all infidels had to pay if Muslims took over. In Arab nations blacks are traded and treated like slaves, as Mohamed told them to. Assuming Mohamed existed, as a real, not made up person (as some say, due to Quran never mentioning Mohamed's name), the Hadith and Quran inform us that Mohamed was, as explained below, an imperialist "palace dwelling type" aristocrat, of the most evil rapist, murderer, depraved and violent type too. The Hadith explains the Quran didn't come from God, but from scribes Mohamed chose and they disagreed on what is part of the Quran. Quran/Islam deify Jewish Mary as the holiest woman in history: Jewish Supremacy again: Jesus a prophet of fake miracles and a Jewish lady the holiest lady on Earth. Was Mohamed a crypto Jew? He destroyed all pictures in the Kabba when he destroyed all Mecca 300+ idols, except that of 2 Jews. See how Jews edited Hadith to claim that Mohamed went to Jerusalem… Read below about Jews who shaped the Quran, Hadith, Islam, Mohamed. Mohamed may be fictional, created by spies to incite wars. Mohamed told folks to pray facing Jerusalem first, then changed it to Mecca. Got it? Just like its twin flame and mother, the Torah genocidal calls of the (Jewish) Bible, the Quran has genocide calls in many places deifying killing of disbelievers, such as: Quran 47:4 "those who disbelieve smite at their necks until when you have killed (behead)" Quran 33:61 "wherever found, they shall be seized and killed with a (terrible) slaughter", Quran 2:191 "And kill them wherever you find them". You realize that means killing 6 billion non-Muslims, are these not genocide calls? This poses the question: are churches, mosques, synagogues simply genocide cells, not mere terror cells, spy cells disguised as religious entities as explained in the fake miracle section? The Quran is the recycled Jewish Bible, hence it is a Jewish text, as the 545 bad quotes show. Mohamed, the "holy aristocrat looting caravans instead of working" simply retold the evil Bible (see the quotes), added some tribal customs (black cube worship), as islamisdifferent.com explains. Mohamed didn't have good math skills, nor did his 'Allah' god make any sense from a logic point of view, as proven by this great video on the nonsensical Islamic inheritance rules. A video explains that Quran is calling its believers to kill their non-Muslim relatives: pure murder. Perhaps, Saudis want mosques in Africa so blacks kill each other, like UK music wants black to shoot each other, by creating black rap music with violence in every song. Why else would the Jew Brit run USA allow such garbage as music, why are most shootings in USA black on black? Understand the immortalist wave of liberating all slaves globally, from the Jewish media via the immortalist media guidelines. Mohamed had no clue what will happen to him in the afterlife, as he says in the Quran 46:9. Mohamed was a fraud. One time, a solar eclipse happened and Mohamed said it's the end of the world and went inside the mosque, prayed a long time and told people to ask Allah to save them from the torment of the grave 100 times a day, or at least 70 times a day. So, Mohamed was not a prophet, but a conman☺☺☺. He could not even realize it was a mere solar eclipse. He told all he can't save them from Allah's wrath. God allowed enemies to injure Mohamed and make him lose teeth, while a sword bruised his head and face. Where was God?

The Quran describes in 100s of places how Muslims are to hate, avoid (no friendship), terrorize, mock, torture, mistreat or kill the evil non-Muslims, which is in stark contrast with the "love all image" sold by missionaries of Islam. This is why 'Jewish' Saudi royals perhaps want blacks to join Islam, so they can kill more blacks of other religions. Chaos makes it easy for Saudis then to loot and enslave blacks. The Quran has no logic, because Allah "Causes Non-Muslims to Sin" (Ctrl+F "Muslims to sin" on this page, to see these quotes) and thus makes Muslims kill infidels, so Allah commits genocide covertly, sending people to hell on purpose for his own devilish entertainment. Indeed, Allah does, since reading the Quran, it sounds like this Allah is a "demon of violence and terror" (actually just angry people), not God. Listening to Allah would surely send one to hell, if it exists, because Allah incites people to unprovoked violence and genocide, just as listening to the God of Israel and Jesus would send one to hell too, for both Yahweh and Jesus mislead and incite people to genocide, though Jesus does it in a very covert hidden way, by praising the Old Testament as shown above. Quran tells Muslims to steal from nonMuslims, enjoy the loot after a 'nice' genocide, to lie to them in order to enslave them, to extort them (good old Mexican cartel technique of the 'holy Mohamed') via the infidel tax if they want to not be killed. The rise of Islam led to a vast rise in the trade of slaves, with 3 in 4 slaves dying in the journey to the Muslim destination, with Muslims castrating millions (only 40% of blacks/whites made it alive, after Muslims castrated them). Some say only 10% of blacks/whites made it alive after castration, see how racist the Muslim Arabs were. Exactly as today Arab (Saudi, UAE, etc) Muslims enslave millions of blacks/indians, so did Mohamed's followers, as the unholy Quran deifies slavery (read what a rapist, and cruel person Mohamed was per the Hadith), just as the Bible does. 1300 years later, Muslim Berbers in WW2 went on a rape rampage (14 year olds raped 50 times until death) when French empire used them as cannon fodder to invade Italy, the low IQ rapists didn't know sex outside pro-creation shortens their life too, via sperm drain, and quantum effect of the victim energy destroying rapist quantum field without even trying to (due to quantum link, sperm inside is the link to the victim quantum field that has unseen matter counterpart that remains longer, sperm DNA was found in woman body/brain decades after an encounter; the link would exist due to strong interaction even if he would have had condom and no sperm got thru, it's as simple as she thinking of him that's enough to damage his field). Mohamed (like his twin soul from hell, Moses killer of 3000 Jews, the promoter of rape of all girls in towns they conquer), was too low in IQ to know that all women he forced to marry him (raped them 1 day after killing their husband in battle of looting caravans or etc, as shown below) would drain his happiness, since his connection with them connects him with their misery (anger, sadness they hid from him to avoid death). However, excluding the calls for mutilation, terror, open ended fight/kills of all infidels, the Quran is arguably not as cruel and violent as the Torah (Old Testament) in its verses, in the sense that it doesn't go into 'total kill' detail on how to exterminate any gentile nation Jews want, how to kill all animals, burn everything to the ground, loot everything, rape everyone Jews can almost. Yet, when you read all bad quotes, there are equivalent quotes for either, so both are roughly equal in evil and violence. Oddly, Mohamed views non-Muslims as animals. The Western media however, being Jewish controlled, Jews main profession being lawyer, banker, realtor, trader, CEO, musician, youtuber and journalist-politician, only criticizes the Quran, not the Bible, since Christians are simply more like ☺abysmal IQ☺ robots controlled by Jewish Bankers (crypto Jews who claim to be gentile and Christian) who covertly and indirectly own the Vatican, royal families, all media and churches. It never occurred to gentiles the Christian religion is the greatest Jewish scam perpetrated on humans,☺☺☺ with Islam being the 2nd greatest. Mohamed's grandfather was allegedly open to sacrificing babies to Baal. Check out rich Arab parties that leave girls from all over the world injured. Black lady suggests Arabs force ladies to suck their toe, penis. Arab slave owner beats slaves with stick. US Congressman gave a 5 min speech about the Quran in 2025.☺

Muslims say "Mohamed was inspired by God" because he was against alcohol in the last part of his life, due to some violent incidents and nobody coming to his mosque after he said don't pray while drunk. Well, thruout time, billions of people hated alcohol due to making people violent when drunk. So, if you hate alcohol, you're like 4 billion other people, not a prophet. The truth is that Quran praises wine in many places, but Mohamed keeps changing his word if it shrinks the pool of followers who loved wine more than prayer. Mohamed drank alcohol often (maybe too much) per the Hadith, so he had no idea about its evil biochemically, he just didn't like disorder and shrinking follower numbers. Today most Muslims don't drink. Muslims say Mohamed was inspired by God because he was against dogs. Well, thruout time, billions of people hated dogs, due to their lethal attacks on kids and barking waking people up from sleep or not letting villages sleep at night, incessant barking that annoyed Mohamed a lot due to many stray dogs looking for food in the food scarce desert. So Mohamed, in typical style, like with genocide against anyone not believing in his Quran, said "dogs are evil". Hating dogs, like billions of other people who lost dozens or thousands of nights due to neighbor dog barking, doesn't make anyone a prophet. It was not a prophecy, but a simple human correct assessment of the fact that dog barking and lethal attacks on kids, owners, elderly, smaller thinner people are evil, that dog barking leads us to become dog like, and not needed. Americans love infernal barking more than their fellow Americans, build dog hospitals instead of people medical centers. It's plain common sense, we definitely have something good in the Quran: anti-dog, anti-alcohol. However, this is common folk wisdom, not a prophecy, it's a dislike shared with 4 billion sinners. He never predicted anything, just stated an obvious fact: many people hate alcohol and dogs. Mohamed may have been bisexual and Muslim Sultans were pedophiles raping Christian boys that were part of their harem. Isis males raped infidels young males and boys to torture them: Islam 101, gay Rape All nonMuslims and Killing of gay Muslims, the eternal double standard of Islam. ☺☺☺

A video allegedly explains why Mohamed was not a prophet, how he died within 8 months of cursing some Christians, how his entire family was killed eventually by his "peaceful followers". He was so protected by God, like Jesus the fraud, that he was so easily killed. 0 IQ Christians believe that the Bible, Quran and Hadith were not changed. In reality, as you can find out by researching and googling this (many versions of Quran, and one became dominant after a while, just like with Christians, they got many Gospels), the Quran was written (in its final form after Mohamed's death), by various Muslim scribes, spies (Jews-Christians) who added things to make it sound like Mohamed predicted his own death, like the aorta cut of false prophets (watch the 0 IQ typical Christian passion of a cross wearing hypocrite, who promotes the Bible, equally genocidal to Quran, and uses 3rd grader logic to "prove Quran predicted Mohamed was false prophet". Quran predicted nothing, verses were added after his death to Hadith and Quran to make Muslims believe Mohamed was a false prophet, to weaken their faith in the new Torah-Bible denomination, or off-shoot, called Islam, as Christians and Jews wanted no competition for their looting genocides. Some Hadith verse, which could have been made up anyway, claimed that a 'Jewish lady poisoned Mohamed who died in 632'. Some repeat that as if it's a fact. Wake up, there is no evidence for any of these claims. What if it was a Muslim lady or he simply died of atherosclerosis, eating fatty foods? That may be a much simpler explanation for his alleged heart pain, maybe he had angina, since in later years he was allegedly fat due to being such a well fed rapist pedophile aristocrat with 90 harem girls. Extreme battles and sword fights also weakened the rapist, so it was natural (due to so much meat too), to succumb to heart disease, like 20% today, especially with few veggies, antioxidants growing in Saudi Arabia. Too much sex can weaken the heart too, and Mohamed possibly had 500-5000 concubines total and 10-20 wives. Please ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺ recall that it was common for evil aristocrats, such as some Chinese emperors and others to have 2000-9000 concubines. To cover his living expenses, Mohamed was engaged in looting raids, where innocent people were killed, kids and women enslaved and raped. More on his attacks and killings to loot people is in this video. Question everything in any text, video or this book, all is hypothesis, no videos of 7th century exist. It's possible Mohamed was a Machiavelian spy politician who claimed he believes in God of Jews and Christians when taking over Christians lands was easier and Meccan deities when he could gain some material benefit (see Satanic verses), hence today they worship the black cube, an idol itself like the 3 Goddesses idols of Mecca he pretended to believe in to make peace with Meccans and save his life. Millions of people believe Mohamed was demon possessed. However, science can't prove the existence of 'demons'. May God help more folks think like the Immortalist Anthem, and be more honest, unlike the deceptive cruel (see his advice to lie in order to kill someone) Mohamed. Mohamed stole camels and then when others stole those stolen camels, he killed them in a horrific way. Quran explains how Mohamed married a lady against her will to a Mohamed slave and later, after seeing her naked, forced her to marry Mohamed, killed his adopted son by sending him to wage an unwinnable war. Mohamed wanted people to give him money and told them God will pay them back in heaven.

Mohamed was essentially a rabbi who focused, like all rabbis do, on specific quotes of the Old Testament, and Mohamed created his own Judaism denomination called Islam: his focus, Peace be Upon Him was the genocide, mass rape, slave beating Bible quotes. Christians thus created Mohamed as they published the Infernal Jewish Bible. When Mohamed attacked/killed some people to steal their wealth, he also killed the prince and raped his wife, watch the whole sequence. The essence of Islam. Mohamed killed many people and married their wives, so in the Quran he doesn't talk much about King David's sin when David did the same murder, since the Quran is all about recycling the Bible from the perspective of a serial killer and rapist doing the same rapes, genocides and looting praised by the God of Israel (some Arabs called Bani Is- rail from Uhr moved to Israel area and became 'Jews'), as we have seen above. Now you understand why the Jewish first prime minister of Israel called the Bible the Book of Books: no other book led to more genocides, as it helped create the genocidal Quran. The ever deceiving bad type (not all) Ashkenazi Jews, united with the depraved aristocracies of the planet, who enslaved the entire planet and every American via the same deceptions of Mohamed, now brainwash us with zeal to worship their system of 4500 banks and endless stock market gambling and trading designed to enslave gentiles, via the Mindless Adulation of a Genocidal Scripture, the Torah, they forcefully pushed via the Bible on all continents, with all being lied that Jewish Jesus is their savior. Jewish Rothschild Bankers gave money to both sides of conflicts, profiting from the genocide of gentiles. Worship that Jewish Bible, that Jewish Quran? Mohamed dealings with his wives and their slaves tell us everything about the prophet, his wives were mere sex slaves. Studying the Quran in depth or the videos in this section, the quotes, etc will help you realize Mohamed was a carnal lustful animal, a rapist and mass murderer, a bandit, whose IQ was similar to cannibal chimps. We can see from his cannibal chimp Quran that he says "When an animal man wants to have sex outside of procreation, which is not needed for humans and an activity only beasts and cannibal chimps engage in, then his Muslim wife shall not refuse thereby destroying the opportunity to teach him meditative bliss, evolution beyond animalism and conservation of energy". No love for the wife exists, she's simply a slave of the male, and she has to undergo suffering to please the rapist energy of her husband, according to the Rapist Mohamed. This is in clear violation of the principle of 0 torture, 0 pain in any human relationship that all decent societies agree to. We can see that his advice is bound to create tension and suffering in the family and nation, leading to world chaos. Any joint activity needs to be approved by both sides without the use of force or it will lead to the 10 sec end of all humans.

Mohamed's ☺abysmal IQ☺ didn't help him realize that people on many planets, just like here, don't have sex because simply meditating makes them 1 million times happier or simply because they don't have sexual organs at all, procreating by materialization or molecular or subatomic particle assembler machines. He was so disconnected from God that all he chased was sex. You can see it in the Quran, Mohamed was a rapist. Watch how Mohamed wants a former scribe killed for exposing the way the Quran was fabricated. Your taxpayer money goes to fraudulent pastors and imams who promote the violent Bible, which deifies the same genocides, rapes and looting you have seen in the videos about Quran above. In the first decade, Mohamed only got 100 followers, so then, he changed his tune and invited followers to loot caravans getting 200 followers in 3 days after proposing his 100 'disciples' to loot others. His so called religion was a cover for gangster style robberies. The "Religion" of Theft via Murder was born. Watch how Mohamed missed the caravans 5 times in a row for months, receiving no info from Allah on caravan movements and how his whole life was that of a gangster looting people, like the spread of Islam itself was. The Quran explains Mohamed, the Global Genocidal Murderer and Looter, is entitled by Allah, ArchDemon from Hell, to 20% of any loot his slaves obtain via genocide. Behold, the Prophet of Genocidal Looting, telling his disciples to kill to steal money, when they wanted some money for a wedding. When he presented Mohamed with the head of the tribe chief, Mohamed approved of the beheading, giving him 13 camels from his loot as a reward. Hail Islam, but excuse us, the religion of Judaism, the Bible genocide, looting via murder, rape was reborn via Islam, refreshed… For such is the evil of Demon-crats and Re-pub-licans, they hide that Islam is a Bible byproduct, a Torah rewrite, of course they hide it, the 2 fake parties are controlled by Ashkenazi Jews, the friends of humankind. Let us worship the Bible, whom Jews, pretending to be gentile, shoved down our throats via war and deception for 2 millennia, Hail Jesus the Fraud, who gives us 4500 Jewish banks to loot gentiles in USA alone…☺☺ Hail Quran, who Deifies Robbery: watch how double standard the Quran quotes are in regards to stealing from infidels and Muslims. These videos are all you need to understand Judaism, the Bible, Jesus, Israel, Christianity and the Vatican. We now understand why Jew Kaganovich killed 5 million Ukrainians, Jews exterminate Gazans. The Black Stone removes sins when kissed per the Islamic nonsense. A Shiite leader went to Kaaba in 930 AD on first day of Haj and killed 30000 pilgrims, took the black stone and defiled it in toilets. The birds didn't protect the Kaaba from the massacre, as Mohamed the Liar said in the Quran. Mohamed killed infidels until he died, and Jihad was a cover for his looting of innocent people. ☺☺☺

After watching these videos, we can't but question how come the Department of Justice *(*Jew-stice) is going after organized crime mafias and not after the Islam, Jesus and Moses Jew-ish mafias. How can they award Christianity, Judaism and Islam the status of religions, when we have clear historical evidence they're organized mafias with only one goal: takeover of other lands under the guise of nuns, monks, clergy, churches, etc. Not only the historical evidence, but the texts themselves glorify the most heinous crimes against humanity, genocide, mass rape, mass burning of cities, mass mutilation, extermination of all humanity etc. Martin Luther dissolved monasteries due to info that the monks, nuns were spies, who would not always remain in the convent as they claimed, but changed clothes and executed covert operations for the Italian Mafia. In light of this, we need to question what Islam is: a cult of murder, genocide, rape and violent mutilation established by a world bandit joined by greedy bandits who relished looting hard working people. Not only that, but by reading these 5 pages, we see the Bible is exactly the same genocide and looting and Christianity is a scam, as Jesus deifies the Old Testament, the Mohamed techniques of global banditry and eternal genocide. Isn't it time for all nations to vote the Immortalists and require nonviolent scriptures? Why is the whole humanity slaves to the most criminal serial killers the world has ever known? We don't study physics from the 1st or 7th century books, why should we study ethics from those times? ☺☺☺

It's maybe worth pointing out that visiting any church is visiting the "demonic" text that created the Quran, the Bible itself, and that any worship of Jesus the miracle faking conman is a worship of Mohamed and his nonsensical teachings, it is giving power to Islam each time you take part in these chicken IQ Christian rituals and such. Sadly, people are too naive the understand the evil nature of Jesus the drunkard, who was neither a prophet, nor the 'only' son of God. Anyone who has read thus far and finishes this Islam section will realize the Holy Trinity of Judaism, Christianity and Islam, the Holy Trinity of Religions are: 1. The Holy God of Genocide 2. The Holy Spirit of Looting (Theft) 3. The Son of Eternal Rape, or the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. An honest look of history reveals the Real Trinity of 1. Christians, 2. Jews and 3. Muslims, too brainwashed to see Evil from Good. However, due to the intense war of Europeans against the Jewish-Italian scam called Christianity, many inventions emerged, including automated ship propulsion, ending the galley slaves profession. The war was rarely physical after 1750s, it was mainly thru books that teach people to question their beliefs. If you want to know how the 'eternal' Quran came about, (the 100 versions of it), watch how the Quran was written. Also see how Muslims are like pagans, worshiping a black stone at the Kaaba, a cube, a material object, instead of God and the human quantum field, how they believe birds can't poop on the Kaaba. Mohamed/disciples killed pagans for worshiping statues, destroyed statues of Buddha (a peaceful guy), but what is Kaaba and the black stone, another statue of a different shape? Orthodox Christians and Catholics also have an obsession with kissing icons or 'blessed objects'. God is an infinite field, present everywhere, you don't need wafers, icons, medals of fake miracle saints, crosses, Kaaba to reach God, God doesn't need matter to bless us. Mohamed said he did no miracle, but that the violent illogical Quran is his miracle. OK, so nobody did any miracle, except science by its cures. Check out how Mohamed, the "prophet", was unable to see the poison that a lady placed in his food, unable to get God grant his prayer of saving his son's life. Mohamed was OK with sex slaves and selling sex slaves if they became pregnant. The image and sculptures of Jesus and Mary did not protect Mohamed, as he allowed them in the Kaaba (all other idols not allowed), showing how fake the so called power of Mary and Jesus are, unlike the cult of Catholic Lies. Allah wants to make sure all who go to Heaven have white faces, all blacks go to hell? Mohamed had a tribe leader head paraded in Medina, had her body pulled apart by camels until she died. Mohamed wanted all who quit Islam to be killed. ☺☺☺

Quran says Allah suggests one night sex with strangers to solve divorce issues. The Quran is encouraging pedophilia illegal acts. In Iran, after the 1979 Islamic revolution by the allegedly 'Iranian' clerics (Jewish?), marriage age was moved from 18 to 9, then 13, with guys able to marry 4 girls and girls only 1 guy. Even Saudis banned marriage under 15 in 2020, requiring court approval for under 18, meaning the official legal marriage age is 18 now, with a few exceptions if pregnant and if a court allows it, etc. Check how Jews decide who is a virgin and what practices existed back then. Many believed Mohamed himself was Jewish, pretending to be Arab. The disciples of Mohamed could not even abstain from sex, so Mohamed told them to resort to prostitution (this 1-7 weeks sex slave marriage for lustful Muslim animals is described in this video better, it is designed to turn humans into demonic animals who don't know God or their brain), or 'comfort women' of the 'temporary marriage', inspiring armies today to follow the 'holy' example. The Quran is fine with beating wives, (read women rights in Islam), with stealing from non-Muslims, marriage to kids (in Iran, marrying 9 year olds is common, following Mohamed marriage to Aisha when she was 6 and having sex with her at 9). Texts of Hadith, complimentary to Quran, allege that Mohamed told people to beat kids when they don't pray.

What a violent (for profit?) 'prophet', given that there are 1 trillion better ways to silently pray than the way Mohamed told them or to commune with God. Given the calls to mutilate people that Mohamed, the Infernal Torturer and Evil Killer of Innocent caravan owners, shares in the "holy" Quran, beating kids is a very "small matter" and easy to believe as coming from the "all merciful 'final' prophet", behold their Eid holiday slaughter, blood on streets to uplift the vibe. There are ☺☺1 trillion ways to any outcome without any violence, war and terror,☺☺☺ but Mohamed was too much of a sadistic cruel low IQ soldier (0 IQ in today's words, like Jesus who pretended to have special powers in the fictional Bible, was a liar and conman too, though he didn't kill/torture people, so Jesus was kinder) to realize that a trillion peaceful ways exist, so his holy Quran is full of terror and evil quotes (see them by topic to realize Islam is pure evil). Many are shocked how naive Muslims are to believe they have to visit Mecca (1300+ died in 2024 during Hajj as temps rose to 120°F) and all that Mohamed said (which is from the made up Bible mostly) is true. They didn't read islamisdifferent.com perhaps, with the "pearls of Islam", inspired by the "holy" Bible. Saudis make big $ with those pilgrimages, like other countries with fake Christian Mary apparition sites. Once we study the violent quotes of the Quran, we see they're ultra similar with the Torah part of the Bible, so who got inspired from where? Some made a list of 50 reasons Mohamed was not a prophet. Quran was copied mostly from the Bible of course, as the Bible got written 7 centuries before. It's funny how Christians get mad at the bad Quran quotes, but it is all from the holy Bible quotes above about looting, mass rape, genocide, etc, quotes all Catholic churches hide (Missals replaced Bibles) and all Protestant pastors don't talk about, so most Christians have no idea what their Bible contains. To bring peace we need to realize 1. the Quran is nothing but the Bible rewritten plus a few new ideas related to Arabic customs of worshiping a black cube etc, ☺☺☺ 2. the scripture of Christianity can't include the huge violence in the Old Testament, where 98% of the horrific quotes are. Jesus faked it all. ☺☺

The Quran got many instances of looting (via violence and killings) of caravans (1st Mohamed expedition, 2nd, 8th attack in a holy month, 37th, etc) as part of Mohamed's 90+ military expeditions using killing/violence to steal or convert by force to a 'religion' that worships "military expedition, caravan looting, extortion fee from all lands who want to retain their religion and not be killed (a form of slavery*, 50+ countries had to pay with gold, food and soldiers to Ottoman empire, etc), killings of innocent people who happened to have goods Mohamed wanted*" & odd marriages. So, here came Mohamed, the "last (for profit?) prophet" perpetuating the slavery Lev 25:44-6 tradition of Torah, Bible again. Youtube ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ offers ALL a clue into Islam: Black and Muslim? Watch Blacks being enslaved by Muslims and read the many racist Muslim quotes. Indian and Muslim? Watch Indians being enslaved by Muslims in this era. Please tenderly gently watch Indian, Black workers who don't get paid for months. Ottoman Muslims came and burned villages in Europe year after year to enslave locals. Wikipedia says that after killing the father or husband of some women, Mohamed married them (if they were hot, as Quran/Hadith claims many were 'beautiful'?) like Safi daughter of a Jewish tribe chief, Raya Jewish Concubine; he had 11 known wives per Wiki (though the number varies a LOT, depending on which scholar you ask) or more if there were brief affairs with concubine "wives" that were expelled, or worse for insulting him or etc? and were not written about much: frequently we hear of people being killed for 'insulting Islam', where did this tradition come from? from Mohamed of course. However, if you read the 10 pages above, you will see Mohamed probably learned it from the sociopath quotes of the Bible Old Testament, Lev 20:9 etc, Torah. So, before lashing out at the 0 IQ of some uneducated Muslims, those Christians, Jews need to read the Bible, see what their ancestors, or 'beloved clergy' promote(d) as the 'Word of God' (they knew no Latin, Greek, Aramaic, the 3 languages the Bible was most printed in the first 15 centuries, and pastors lied to them*),* and realize these things probably existed before the Bible even emerged, just like slavery existed before Mohamed encouraged it in his Quran, since he was repeating what others were doing and saying in other texts, not a prophet, but a professional serial killer engaged in 90 military battles. ☺☺☺

A truly objective science geek can't blame it on Jewish 'insane prophets', since nobody knows if or which spies impersonated the scribes to frame (make Jews look bad) those 'savages' or what area these ideas initially emerged from. Thus, it's more tactful, peace building, diplomatic to just be kind to all, while not being a fan of bad quotes. All humans will evolve and live to a trillion then*. 0 IQ, cruelty, cannibalism and sacrificing animals existed on many continents and may have emerged independently, due to people believing 'gods of rain, etc eat human food'.* There is no way to know. Wiki says "Maria was sent as a sex slave for (the 'holy') Mohamed and her only kid with Mohamed died at 1; Maria was set free after the birth of this short-lived baby, and apparently lived far away from the mosque, in an orchard, like concubine slaves did, though she died 4 years after the baby died"). Islam is the only religion where the founder is engaged in 90 military battles and killings (see what Muslim Turks did, besides 'slave concubines' (Wikipedia) like Mohamed, more than even Moses. That is vastly different from Jesus, Lao Tze or Buddha who fought nobody in war, killed nobody.

Mohamed also bought, sold, captured slaves and slavery was OK for 13 centuries in Islam until the anti-religion Enlightenment thinkers led to the end of slavery (since Judaism, Christianity were for slavery Lev 25:44-6) in 1800s. Mohamed is the only religion founder who killed or incited many many people to kill in combat many times (see 90 battles of Quran), unlike Moses who was in some people's opinion 'kinder' than Mohamed, per scripture, having only killed 3000 once in Exodus 32:26-9 and told people some 'laws' that were cruel on killing others for small (today, not then if harsh punishing was the standard in the region) mistakes, and Krishna who told Arjuna to kill lots of people in Gita in the Kurukshetra battle, though Gita is one of 20 main scriptures of Hinduism, most being peaceful. It's hilarious, Muslims claim to be anti-Judaism, but their scripture is so Jewish, so similar to Moses bad quotes presented in the previous pages, so similar to the Jewish rhythms and dances that cry out to the world (well, sounds like artillery hitting Syria at times, like 60+% of world music today unfortunately, no wonder we got so much 'peace'☺☺). Let's bring Eternal Universal Peace in 3 months. Sing peace, not trash. ☺☺☺

Some care not too much about planetary (Syrian, Ukraine, etc) neighbors bombed into the stone age, how about more peaceful lyrics and truly serene rhythm that we desperately need to attain the most basic level of civilization: no war and no violent crime? To be fair, we see the Quran violent quotes energy (shouting tone and/or rhythm of war dances) radiate in 10 music clips: stick, rifle, wedding sword, sword, aggressive, 'gentle' voice', Los Angeles, yell 1, yell 2, rifle dance, thanks in part to Moses/Jesus Bible quotes that defined acceptable writings of Quran. The wedding video is from a series on weddings showing pink veil men who rub their noses (is that why nose is bent for some like in those pic of Jews Nazis used to publish (warm climate means bigger nose, cold means smaller, nothing complex, hooked noses are common in 50 ethnic groups) (which are fake, since only some Jews (see here) have such a nose, see main guy dancing here too)? generations of rubbing bent it?) and kiss each other with the cheek nonstop, looking more like gay Talmudic Jews pretending to be Arab; are some top 'Arab' and EU leaders Jewish? Is it spiritual to waste so much time with so much formality, kissing 3-4 times each other (while Syrians are dying and never kissed, left to die, as fellow Muslims, in Turkey tents), nose rubs, luxurious swords at weddings, while Saudi bombs, funds injured and killed fellow Arabs in Yemen, Syria and didn't build decent shelter for millions of Arabs displaced in Turkey tents due to Saudi activities in Syria? Are they Arabs? Press Ctrl+F "Saudi" to read more about Saudi treatment of non-Saudis. Mohamed had his followers face Jerusalem first during prayer (not Mecca), he may have been Jewish 50-100% per some reports, just like Jesus may have made up Christianity to dominate Gentiles via a fake religion they Jewish founders don't believe in, sort of like Jews can create both sides of a conflict, Nazis/Communists, Muslims/Christians etc, a way to keep everyone low IQ and short-lived and never attain Immortality for All, but anyone can do that, not just Jews. Will Muslims wake up and realize they may have been set up (duped) by Mohamed spy handlers, like Christians were set up (duped) by Jesus military spy and his handlers? Mohamed could have criticized Jews just to hide his partially Jewish identity, if the wars with Jews were staged; his Quran is very much a marketing, promoting of the Torah and Bible, with a few add-ons; whatever happened, we need to focus on loving all and granting longevity to all. People get caught up with 'how Jewish (or whatever nationality) was Mohamed or Stalin, Lenin, Hitler etc?'; that's not important versus who controlled those guys, since the 'leader' doesn't always make decisions as many assume, he's just a showman, manipulated by spies. That's why it is hoped, as Jews, Arabs, Christians, Muslims, analyze in detail these scriptures and see how violent they are, that they will take rabbis 'holy tone' & 'wise' speech (similar to the tone of Moses in some quotes above, he also gives commandments, commanding, yelling, whereas God is love, God loves, not commands, God suggests ways to commune with divine healing angelic gentle tender tact compassion; we need to transcend this 3 millennia old tone, this way of writing of the Bible, if we want to bring peace, focus on the best 3 quotes only, leave the rest or rewrite it in a civilized diplomatic healing gentle way.☺☺☺

It's odd how Buddha was 1100 years before Mohamed and was all peaceful and meditative, so did Mohamed really connect to God (God knows, recommends a trillion billion ways to peace in any circumstance, without using any violence, terror, torture which is the opposite of Mohamed and Quran) or just copied evil violent ideas of the Jewish Old/New Testament? If God inspired Mohamed, how come God could not inspire him to be at least as peaceful as Buddha? ☺☺☺ Mohamed read the Bible, talks about it, got "inspired" by the Bible quotes, and look what we got, some claim 90 million Hindus were killed by Mughal Muslim invasions of 500 years? Others say it's only 10 million. Some sites claim Muslims killed is 270 million infidels (politicalislam.com, see 2 hr youtube, or 2 min video) for 14 centuries, but we know even with some exaggeration some big stuff happened, even if way less than 270 million (the phrase political Islam is illogical, since governments are run by spies who don't believe in religions). And millions of African Christians too? And more Natives by various Bible or Quran believers? Can we just ignore these historical facts without wondering if the Quran quotes had a role in these atrocities? Jesus was a sort of rabbi too, just a reformist one who came to bring swords Matthew 10:34-38 reminding us of this Muslim sword dance and that Muslim sword moving, and also quite "inclusive": heaven only thru him: John 14:6 and "exceedingly polite, graceful, loving, courteous" like a chosen and the 'only begotten' Son of God: John 8:44.☺☺☺ This is a very manipulative Jesus that encourages people to make bold statements, including Mohamed. Take clergy, scriptures with a grain of salt, not too seriously and work with all humans for a World of Peace in 3 months and longevity for all. The symbols section explains swords are not the most peaceful one, since it is associated with war in most cultures and human quantum field, so it is not pro-Immortality for All or pro-World Peace to deify it, like Saudis do in their green (like soldiers, Mohamed was a soldier, green was his favorite color) flag and weddings. Scholars say green is a special Jewish, Islam color (hence Mohamed's love of many Jewish things, like wives, etc) and we see some green wearing shouting rabbis wearing long green robes (see rabbis shouting with gold green here again). Mohamed claimed in the Quran in paradise people wear green, cause that was his favorite color or that of his favorite friends, but it doesn't mean it's like that in every astral place (Jews obsess with the tree of life, link green with life due to plants being green when alive (it's the pigment that aids photosynthesis on our planet, nothing more), so Mohamed was fooled

and thought green is the 'color of God' so he writes in Quran about silver green clothing, like these rabbis who love yelling and this silvery gold green, close to the green of tanks, armor and all military gear used to cause eternal war and violent death on Earth, and to some reptilian species (crocodiles, 'reptilian or bird humanoids or fiery seraphim, saraph means fiery serpent, fallen angels from their saucer, bird people like in Egypt stone glyphs, though people may have imagined God must be gentle as dove, wise as serpent, so some flying reptile', snakes (flying serpent, video, in the garden of Eden, or maybe like Aztec flying serpent, flying dragons, the deity of human sacrificing Mayans?), salamanders use green skin to hide in the green vegetation from predators or prey, reptiles, scary winged birds, huge bats, etc associated with the fallen angels (bad 'aliens') who came down on Earth and had sex with women in the less published Bible book of Enoch). On Earth wearing lavender, orchid (a slight pinkish lavender) or light (since dark purple is pretty common these days) purple would help more than pervasive green, as any rarer color takes us away from historical inertia. Swords have been used for eons to kill and thus have a quantum vibration that shortens human lifespan and pollutes the mass consciousness field, so ought to never be displayed in public in light of quantum mechanics, much less on a flag, which is unfortunate, since about 70 countries have various emblems with swords (flag of various branches of government or etc). But alas, they have become victims of a religion imposing itself by the might of the sword, but truth always reveals itself in the long run, so Muslims will one day understand and become free from dogmas, so they can finally develop their ethics and technology to live to a trillion years old in peace and love for all. Christians will too become free of brainwashing and other religions imposed by swords: Roman emperor forced it on all officially in 307 AD and then all his vassals imposed it via "missionaries" spreading the fake miracles, and the word of mass rape, global looting and genocides. For God so much loves the world of humans, he wants all to be able to choose to live to a trillion years old, in freedom and peace and on many solar systems, unless they want to translate into a higher dimension or parallel universe sooner via sci-fi tech. ☺☺☺

Have you ever asked yourself: what if God is Infinite Happiness, Grace, Mercy, intelligence, Immortality, Inner Beauty, Infinitely Tenderness, Nonviolence (abhors inflicting pain on any living being), Most Nurturing Gentleness, what if God doesn't torture, directly or using Jews, anyone, for any reason, not even 'his son'? What if God doesn't want the glorification of torture and killing the Christians, Muslims, some Hindus (they got a lot of religions totally different from each other within 'Hinduism'), religious Jews do, even if without realizing, due to supporting the texts full of torture and killing calls? God will reach out, but if people choose evil consciously, then it's their free will. God will shine a light, help people question their long cherished beliefs, but God won't interfere. The gentle folks will eventually prevail, as IQ increases globally, even if it will take more than a decade or whatever. Future people will read and understand 1 million books in 1 minute, the IQ of Jesus, 'prophets' etc is like that of bacteria, we don't learn quantum physics from bacteria, so future people won't learn spirituality from Jesus, Moses, Mohamed or any book written today, not even the positive polite 7 page "Immortalist Anthem". Why do people have to go to Mecca once a lifetime at least and die in 120°F heat like 1300+ died in 2024 Hajj, or face Mecca while praying in Islam? Do people ever question these things? Wait, initially they were meant to face Jerusalem (to gain the favors of some Jewish tribes in Medina, or because he was Jewish?), then to Mecca/Kaaba, when praying: Mohamed changed his mind and now 2 billion 'slaves' (psychological slavery to the idea that the way they pray, or attempt to be close to God, which is one of quadrillions of ways possible, is the ideal or best, when they don't even know, 5000, let alone a trillion other ways, to pray, let alone test their hypothesis that one is better than the other) face Mecca now. There is no physics, just the whims of Mohamed, like in the Quran, whatever helps expand Islam. Saudis use Sunni Islam and Mecca trips etc to create spy networks. Why does the Jewish Vatican create fake miracles and uses churches as spy networks, and why do the other Christian groups do the same? What has being a liar have to do with granting Immortality for All? They got advantages from that, spy networks. It's not that the Italian (Vatican, etc) or Saudi aristocrats believe in the fairy tales they brainwash billions with, it's just an ancient way to have a cover for traveling to Rome, Mecca, setting up spy bases (churches and mosques), etc and create spies for purposes other than Immortality for All, as videos above show the complete disregard of Saudi aristocracy for Indian and African slaves they use. The Jewish Saudi Royal family, and other (most?) "Muslim, Christian, etc" royal families, are perfect examples of aristocracy keeping gentile people ignorant (by role playing they believe in religions, when they don't), so the enslaved masses can't become free, have scientific knowledge, be independent of oil imports, of the fairy tales of Islam, Quran, Bible, Torah or whatever. Immortalism is all about science, real freedom, the achievement of the trillion year life of every human, not the killing of pilgrims when they're 20-75 years old. ☺☺☺

For example, for Saudis, key ways to be close to God are to unintentionally kill 100s in 120°F heat strokes or stampedes and possibly die at Mecca (9 deadly stampedes, many of 100s of people, in 25 years), CIRCLING THE KAABA. Why do it if even 1 death can occur? No respect for Life? Likewise, they want, exactly like the Vatican, people to follow endless rituals and rules, some even made up rules not present in the Quran/Bible, instead of focusing on what is truly THE MOST important thing: LIFE ITSELF, Immortality for All, the most important human right of all, BEING ALIVE. Why do they need to wave Muslim swords? It's not a peaceful object, listen to the sound, the aggressive macho vibe… my God compare it with the 50 female voices here. How can Iran (or perhaps Jews pretending to be Shia Muslims) not believe the Saudi Royals are 'Jews disguising themselves as Muslims' to fool 2 billion Sunni slaves? Read Lev 25:44-6, watch the Saudi Royals emulate the 'perfect' character of slave trading/owning Mohamed: where is the loving kindness, the gentle tender nurturing grace, the humble desire to grant life that is longer, happier, free from the 500 terror and violence quotes of the Quran? Do Arabs realize clever military spies created Islam? Check our Dubai Arab bandits enslaving Chinese naive folks. What is Islam doing? Just keeping the Muslim IQ low (just like Christianity keeps Christians IQ low) read the Quran versus science papers and read its IQ. Nothing is known about Mohamed's true aims and origins, everything comes from reports written more than 100 years after his death, from possible spies (same with Jesus, all miracles could be fictional, written in books by hired disinformation agents, to pretend it was a real event). We're told to be naive enough to believe that the Saudi Royals believe you need to circle around a Mecca object to be close to God? Do something that has killed 2000 Muslims before in stampedes? And thousands of Muslims due to heat strokes? Who is going to believe that? God can bless anyone without any material object or human clergy intermediate. God knows how corrupt some can be, God won't use intermediaries to reach people and souls God cares about, God won't take risks to use those who could dilute God's energy or distort it. The more enslaved in ritual and Quran/Bible/Torah terror you are, the more they can extract benefits and enslave the nations. A lot of clergy who pretend to be Muslim, Christian are Jews: Deut 20:10-17. 'Tolerance' of other religions in Islam history, leading to, per some reports, 10s of millions killed, is a direct result of the Quran words. Read the words of an Islamic scholar about the need for violence and figure out what kind of religion it is: one that promotes violence, and claims that God is so low IQ that God knows only violent ways (or approves of terror and violent ways, when alternatives exist in the billions) to many outcomes, when there are (there are infinite ways to proceed in any circumstance) trillions of nonviolent methods to attain peace? ☺☺☺ The Bible scribes were equally brainless, they imagined the only way for the Kingdom of God to appear is thru some 'revelation' big evil events, big wars; they could not realize that peace can happen without violence, since they never did it (being trained spy soldiers disguised as scribes). All major nations need to realize scriptures need editing to remove violence and terror. The Anthem of Immortalists is more peaceful than many scriptures, it's not a scripture, just an idea to make anthems, lyrics to bring positive vibes. God bless you, my friend, gently question everything.

The last 8 paragraphs of this 14.5 chapter, explain some possibilities, personal hypotheses about the Jewish Mohamed, theories (in other books most never read), many of which also happen to be popular opinions of about half of humanity: aristocrats love religions, rituals since the two keep workers low IQ, distracted, unable to free themselves from their chains. Religions even destroy the souls of people, since they robotize people, remove their fluid kind intelligence. Religion wars make huge profits for aristocrats, who laugh as slaves die on the altar of abysmal IQ. To achieve peace, we need more of the ideas of these 7 pages on how to bring Eternal Universal Peace, ecstatic ~*~ Unity in Diversity ~*~ and Immortality for All. We need the scientific method, to question hypotheses, test them and find out the truth,☺☺☺ without terror, without a gun to our heads by Muslims, Christians, Jewish communists or German fascists. Muslims and Christians rarely realize their religions are 95-99% Judaism. They're naive, not studying the details and how Mohamed, the scribes who wrote scriptures, Hadith could have been Jews… mixed with bored aristocrats (Arab or other groups) wanting to grow richer. Religions 2019;10(1):63 says "An early Hebrew fragment from the Cairo Geniza recounts that ten Jewish elders (zekēnīm) befriend Muhammad "and made for him the Qur'an... ten Jewish elders of disguising their identity and pretending they're loyal followers of Muhammad while actually undermining and misleading him into believing he was receiving revelation when they were actually writing the Qur'an themselves—and disparaging it by encoding offensive remarks within it" and that Jews were all over the Quran, and knew Mohamed since he was born, having played a big role into him becoming who he was, perhaps, a Jew pretending to be Arab or an Arab doing the bidding of Jews. (official spy cover story is Mohamed was an orphan who was illiterate, made so perhaps by Jews wanting world domination using Islam as a proxy, read the green in Quran, Islam, the Jewish color, paragraphs before). Christians are too naive to realize that Jesus was possibly a typical bad type of Jew (rabbi) who didn't believe anything he said to gentile sheep: Quran 9:30 call to destroy Christians and Jews (to make it look less suspicious Jews made it up, bad Jews always introduce antisemitism in any new scam they create)…, so that Jews dominate both Christians and Muslims by creating conflict. In Saudi Arabia capital, we see one woman for every 100 men, ladies dressed in 100% black, often with only eyes visible (burqa) and for 4 million working Saudis in 2023, 8 million slaves (temporary workers, no citizenship for kids born there) too. To understand the Yemen, Iraq, Libya, Lebanon wars and how the big powers of the 21st century use Shia-Sunni conflict (Iran-Saudi proxy wars), watch this 52 min video☺☺☺. Basically, Saudi monarchy wants to defend the monarchy, and the Iranian puppet regime (they may not be Iranian?) want to export Shia Islam to Sunni nations, toppling all Sunni monarchies. Both are supported by sadistic forces (USSR, USA, Israel, etc) who love the wars going on, forces that don't have actually any concern about protecting Immortality for All Ethos, due to them being as brainwashed to be violent by the Quran-like Bible (Torah) as the Saudis and Iranians themselves. UK Monarchy loves the Saudi puppet monarchy, the Russian republic loves the Iran republic. It seems Russia and UK agreed to each support one side of the conflict to keep the Mohamed enthusiasts from going and destroying every non-Muslim building in the world as they razed every Buddhist temple before in the hey day of Islamic expansion. China and India, highly anti-Muslim, also play a double game of divide and conquer, to prevent further expansion of Islamic 0 IQ ideas (that Jews possibly made to enslave every Arab, others), that obviously has no scientific proof, being as illogical as Christianity/Judaism itself.☺☺

DNA that is present in all humans) that never changes for tens of millennia, is creating an Immortality for All culture globally, so the diabolical ethos in most world countries to kill and wage endless proxy wars comes to an end. A culture that is centered against "violence, killing, torture in any scripture, movie, anthem, etc, the very core of Judaism (Torah)" and its branches Christianity (98% Judaism) and Islam (98 or 99%). 99% of Christians and Muslims have no idea what the Quran and Bible contain, because the Jewish clergy have totally brainwashed them, having perfected the art of deception for 2 millennia: the more religious wars in the Arab world for example, the more profits Israel makes. An immortalism peaceful awakening of the planet, with 0 violent revolutions, just peaceful evolution, would mean the end of all violent passages in any scripture (Quran and Bible, Bhagavad Gita) or the creation of immortalist ethics as people realize the cave men were just men, not prophets at all. In 1979 a rebellion by fanatics in Saudi Arabia led to requiring all to attend the stone age prayers (more on that in the next paragraph), women to wear black abaya (no western clothing), until 2015, when King Salman allowed any color or pattern, while in 2018 they allowed women to not wear abaya or the scarf (hijab), giving women total freedom to wear Western clothing that is not revealing: this means in 2070s, Saudis may wear fewer scarves, becoming like Turkey where nobody wears abaya, robes, scarves anymore. Nations ban hijab due to police CCTV cameras not being able to identify people who cover their face (tracking of spies and preventing violent crime, theft, see China CCTV are done via cameras, to see all spy movements, to see how many illegals have slipped using a fake identity, trying to fool the AI cameras etc) and abaya due to terrorists being able to hide huge rockets, grenades inside and not be seen due to abaya being very loose. In the Saudi sun (and super hot areas anywhere on the planet), wearing 'revealing' clothing, shorts or T-shirts is an act of self-harm, due to the huge UV damage to your skin. People are brainless, we see Western women with totally damaged skin around the neck, arms and chest due to 'a fashion of 0 IQ and anti-Immortality anti-longevity'. Skin UV oxidative stress depletes the blood of anti-oxidants, so your internal organs suffer damage too, not just the skin. The problem with jeans is that they're too tight and can overheat the testicles, leading to birth defects. Oh, "we gotta look good" for 0-IQ males, and get skin cancer. The abaya allows a lot of UV to come reflected from the ground and oxidize the skin of the legs and even the testicles, so a more logical clothing is one that is ultra loose shirt and ultra loose pants, with a thinner diameter at the top of the foot, to prevent UV, but allow similar cooling. Wear white, pastels in hot weather to keep cool, etc. Our stores have no special sections for summer pants for warm climates, optimized by PhDs for maximum testicle and uterus cooling, comfort, etc: just mostly low IQ anti-life tight pants. They come up with shorts, but those are not ideal to prevent UV damage in bright sun, since sunscreen lotions are extremely toxic, all chemicals go to your brain and blood vessels too. The Muslim women take it to the other extreme with ultra warm neck scarves, they become overly warm, which also increases oxidative stress, heat shock proteins in the brain, etc. Both Muslims and the rest, do 0 IQ things that shorten lifespan, in the name of tradition and 'superior culture' of war and death worship in disguise. Neither seems eager to leave behind the era of war and zealous 'culture wars', to make room for Eternal World Peace and Immortality for All,☺☺☺ via the neutral, always true non-subjective scientific truth of what extends life the most, whether in food, clothing or other areas of life. Check out the bombing of US Capitol or World Trade Center towers, how Saudis film it after mind control by FBI who duped the Saudis into thinking the "Americans didn't know and the 911 idea was Saudi" (911 was inside job, by manipulation of CIA agent Osama bin Laden and others to justify invasion). Check out the (co-designer top secret possible 911 planner) Deputy Secretary of Defense on 9-11-2001, Jewish Paul Wolfowitz book on the Project of the New American Century, claiming US needs to dominate Central Asia (Afghanistan) and then 3 years later 911 happens and they invade it. The ease with which Saudi were duped indicates how eager they're to damage quantum field, to hurt innocent people and to terrorize, which contradicts the idea of all merciful Allah. Jews are not fond of Muslims, so bombing of Mossad-CIA created Taliban would be a natural project. Jews seemed a good front, to make it seem the Afghan idea was Jewish, not US Irish and US British. ☺☺☺

Have you ever heard all TV stations talking about Eternal Universal (All Planets) World Peace? Never, it's all a Zion Protocols Scam: eternal war. Aristocrats stay rich, when slaves fight and die in useless wars. Why are Saudis and others fighting so hard their enemies and kill so many in proxy wars? Because of the brutal merciless nature of most militaries, who don't have an ethics of nonkilling, nontorture: rulers know if they lose a war, they will be killed. Fear of the psychopaths in other countries, of the merciless serial killers commonly known as typical Earth soldiers, drives these enormous genocides and fight to the last slave, as aristocrats laugh in ecstatic bliss. This is a planet of seemingly mentally insane leaders, whose religion is essentially anything but Immortality (nonkilling, nontorture, nonviolence, longevity) FOR ALL HUMANS. It's as if they're on alien payroll, paid to destroy humanity. Everyone on TV, every leader seems an alien (vampire race feeding off humans suffering) brain chip implanted robot, who talks of anything, EXCEPT WHAT REALLY MATTERS: Living to a Trillion Years in Eternal Universal Peace. A trillion years gives us enough time to think clearly, under no coercion or pressure from serial killer fanatics, and to discover what God is really about, to become angelic, so we may go to a nice afterlife, not a bad one. Immortalism, with its eternal pacifism and nonviolence, is thus, by definition, implied in any true religion or state political ideology or system, and the most spiritual and natural choice for all religions, especially since a trillion years is a trillionth of a nanosecond for a young Immortal and infinitely less for God. In the 2023 era of insanity, there is no forgiveness or understanding, no concept of everyone creates everything, since aristocrats want no blame, only to find 'scapegoats' that then can be the target of the masses' anger, not the rich who stage the wars and setup the mega scams. The easy solution is for the masses to want Wold Peace and longevity in every nation, 0 wars and to support the peaceful nonkilling nonviolence infinite gentleness (see Immortalists' Anthem) forces of all round, wholesome immortalism. Immortalism doesn't interfere with the belief in reincarnation for example, it simply says your life will be 80 trillion years, not 80 years, and then you may become energy being becoming pure 'spirit' in another universe you 'reincarnate to' by interdimensional translation or by creating a body that lives in the new universe, planet, galaxy and keeps all your memories intact. Or you simply go to heaven when you die, at age 80 trillion. Once you understand the meaning of time, in the afterlife discussion, you realize that 80 or 80 trillion makes no difference in the big scheme of things. Back to religious robes: a heat reflective (during summer), UV blocking scarf or loose (to allow ventilation) long shirt that covers part or most of neck (make the neck part of the loose shirt like the old hand fans, so hot air can escape, while UV is kept out without toxic chemicals) would suffice, to prevent overheating the brain and body. Pants also can be more comfortable, no more touching the robe, all the time to hold it. Millions of Muslims and Hindus touch their Bisht like robes so much (Thobes are one piece, no stress, so full focusing on God possible), eternal focusing on God is lower because brain resources are lost holding the robe, God's bliss is even more distant, the whole religion has become holding the cloth? Design it so you don't have to always adjust to not let one part fall, etc? Have you ever seen the Christian Pope do it? Never, his is designed with some IQ, so instead of holding it always, we're communing with God. Copy the Pope one if you want a robe or make one that allows you to think of God and not of holding your cloth piece, it's so uncomfortable? We need PhDs who know optimal temp and UV exposure, vit D synthesis, to design clothes, not 'fashion' people or 'clergy'. We need a unified science based Eternal Clothing Inc in America. Saudi women were not allowed to drive until 2018, their duty being to stay at home. Given the heat, black burqa makes women hotter, babies more damaged by the heat, air becomes stale inside that burqa, less oxygen to the lungs too. The heat is damaging the quantum field of humans if it damages the babies: it's not healthy to walk little, be in the house all day. Egypt got more freedom, but Turkey scams suck… @ 1500$/1 beer, a cover for trying to end alcohol use, though not ideal, due to the threats. They need explain the science of pros and cons for wine, not make threats, if they want visitors to drink less, visit bars less.☺☺

Kindly gently listen to the Saudi train stations, Mohamed's 'brain-numbing prayer', repetition and even some negative thoughts, note the complete absence of the words, qualities wholly missing in the Quran and Mohamed's life: bliss, ecstasy, gentle tender soft nurturing healing universal loving kindness, hypothesis formulation and testing and God's infinite bliss. Instead of Immortality for All, or the above qualities absent in most Earth societies, we hear Allah/Lord 8 times and qualities related to obedience: pious. We see the absence of bliss, of ecstatic joy that Mohamed, Jesus, Moses never experienced as evident from the scriptures. When one is ultra happy due to being one with God's Infinite Bliss and Intelligent Ecstatic Joy, one would never write in Quran/Bible the calls to: 1. beat kids (the 'supreme' 'wisdom of Proverbs' in the 'Holy' Bible), and beat kids (Quran) for not praying 1 way, when there are 5 trillion ways to pray, 1 example here 2. beat slaves (Moses the 'prophet'), 3. beat wives (Mohamed 'All Graceful All Merciful Allah' messenger), 4. cut people's hand (Jesus 'grace', 'IQ' and 'love'), 5. pluck out their eyes (Jesus' infinite 'wisdom and kindness') or 6. kill people for just having low IQ, poor education by living example from the 'one who complains' or no knowledge on how to be ultra happy by breathing alone. Bliss makes people kind, not cruel. The self-appointed 'son of God' lacks basic empathy, Jesus says he didn't come to abolish the Jewish law (Mark 7:9-13 & Mat 5:17-9), but to affirm its limitless violence… that contradicts all empathy, scientific data and logic. It's scientific to mention that around Jesus time, Greek and Latin were the main languages of the elites, so it's possible a lot of the "Bible" was written by Greek and Italian military spies disguising themselves as Jews, though other former empires could have done the same for older oral traditions, so it helps to remain cool headed, detached, scientific and dislike ideas ("Jewish" law) not entire populations that were brainwashed into one fake religion for "divide and conquer" military purposes. Well, Islam deifies Jesus as a prophet too. How is that for logical? God's Love makes people kind, not punishing, not mutilating torturers. Anger is a failure to understand. Spirituality, culture are independent of Quran-Bible and other 'scriptures'. We sense in the Saudi train Mohamed prayer the cold heart, the vast distance between the seeker and God, the sheer lack of bliss, of any word for happiness, joy, bliss. Mohamed was an enraged man, you can tell that from his Quran, short temper, unhappy, you never want to mess with him if you want to be alive. Many would not call that a prophet today or even then in other areas of Earth.☺☺☺ When we're one with God we're infinitely happy, smiley and ecstatic, not like the 'let's say not the happiest gentlest most nurturing' voice of Muslim prayer calls. It's like 'Hey Muslims, come to kneel, pray hard 5 times daily, repeat formulas from 7th century, exert a lot and then, in 30 years, maybe you experience some joy. Until then, behead all infidels or tell everyone about the benefits of joining Islam". No, God is everywhere, a breath away, a thought away, as explained in the section about 3 calls an hour to immerse in The Eternal Bliss of Infinite Immortality for All, of Loving All. The old 7th century prayer is rebringing negative images, due to looters and violence. The prayer is archaic, it keeps Muslims chained in the 7th century mentality (fear, paranoia, misfortune, no happiness in the prayer). Happy people are hard to control, maximum misery, fear, terror, sleep deprivation, torture must be deified by Jews to control gentiles, you see that in Christianity and Islam (Ashura festival, etc) very well, all about torture, killing, cruelty, Jesus torture, etc. Your only purpose in life is to 'suffer as a slave of the Jewish Gods & Bankers, work yourself to death, die 50 years before your time'. That prayer is like the Jewish Protocols of the Zion Elders, the creation of our cruel, low IQ, sad or fearful cultures worldwide stuck in the ages of eternal war:

Above we saw the bad type of Jew, their methods of world domination using Islam (create docile low IQ sheep so Jews can enslave them), Christianity (same thing), etc: 'Nobody goes to God (Heaven) except thru a Jew (Jesus)' ► John 14:6. Nobody ever went to Heaven except thru Jews (Jesus is Jews with an extra s when pronounced in English) ► John 3:13. Nobody goes to heaven unless they do some nonsensical ritual Jews invented (being baptized by a Jewish priest who takes over your country in exchange for 'blessing you') to make God look low IQ and dependent on water to bless people ► John 3:5. Nobody goes to Heaven until they give all their money to Jews ► Mk 10:25 "it's easier for a camel to go thru a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter heaven" (all rich people need to give the new Jewish Scam (cult) their wealth, become zealous Jesus disciples spreading the Lies, so Jews can take over every nation using Christianity (later Islam) as a proxy). The list is long, thru repetitive brainwashing, you enter the cult: Jews are God, give all money to them, obey them faithfully: they will give you fake science papers too sometimes, besides endless rituals and rules to follow, to distract you from their control over you. Once you understand the game, every quote of Jesus & Paul, etc is read in a totally new way, as the Jewish scammer meant it, not as gentiles believed it. Mohamed was a merchant, an aristocrat essentially, like the typical bad type of Jew of the times, and became even wealthier when he married his employer, traveling the Middle East as a trader, world's 'most' useful profession. We scientists call it "finance it baby". In typical bad type of Jew style, Mohamed created for gentiles (Arabs, etc) a low IQ religion, just like Christianity made by Peter the first Jewish Pope and other Jews ('Saint' Paul, etc), to stifle critical thinking, intelligence development for easy duping and enslavement of all by the Jewish Banks. ☺☺☺ Defenders of Quran (and Gospel/Bible quotes) say all "bad things Mohamed/Moses/Jesus did or said were normal at the time, everyone was looting caravans, killing everyone, taking kids and women as slaves, etc". This is the BIGGEST LIE because in many areas of the world, where Godliness was much higher obviously, this was not the case, such as parts of India and China where Buddhism emerged and was already active for 1100 years. Buddha, Lao Tze never did the horrific things Mohamed and Moses did, never preached the horror Mohamed/Moses did, but Mohamed's disciples razed endless Buddhist and peaceful Hindu temples, killing millions, or, some say, tens of millions.

The difference between Buddha's words and Mohamed/Moses can't be more striking. Even Jesus appears as a clown vs Buddha, the ego and statements, etc. At least Jesus didn't call for killings, etc. We talk about a difference between serene meditative chastity (sex for procreation only) and self-control born out of watching gently your breathing, and a Mohamed/Moses violent call to genocide and mass rape. Many Jews and Muslims don't know Buddha's words, or Mohamed's. God is the same everywhere, he doesn't tell Buddha & others serene things, to avoid sensual desire, to love all beings and then to Mohamed to kill infidels and torture, terrorize them, to take women as sex slaves, to beat wives, have temporary marriages (allowed for a few years by Mohamed, with Arabs (Jews and others disguised as Arabs, Muslims too?), etc coming to India to marry Indian girls for 1-2 days and try have sex, practiced widely by Shia today, since most Sunni forbid it, except some Sunnis who OK misyar marriage, possibly a way to expand Islamic empires via more spy networks created by offspring too) that become sometimes child prostitution to this day in India, Iraq, etc. The Talmud talks of similar stuff, did some rabbis simply want to have fun and made up Islam, like Catholic priests (often Jewish) grope kids? Notice the vast difference between Bible/Quran vs Buddha, Tao Te Ching, some Hindu scriptures, it's the tone difference between someone shouting and threatening people with extermination, calling for extermination, and someone who proposes a hypothesis about how to be close to God and leaving it to you to choose your path, without ever suggesting ANY VIOLENCE. ☺☺☺

The same universal rules apply to all people so it can't be that God tells some folks to have sex for procreation only and to others to have sex with 100 ladies and as often as possible*. They're two different Gods:* hedonism God and intellect God. Discern, don't be fooled, recall the Talmud and see how similar it is to Mohamed's marriage to 6 year old Aisha and having sex with her at 9. He became fat in later years; overeating at any meal leads to extreme ease in producing sperm, and to getting aroused easily, higher libido (when all confounding factors are equal). This was also due to lack of meditative brain development, lack of good sleep (100-120°F in Mecca during daytime without AC those days, 85-95 at night) due to endless battles and self-created duties, lack of peaceful music. When temp is 110 so often, how is your cognition? How well is your brain working when it's 90-100 in a room? You sweat a lot, your brain produces heat shock proteins, you get brain fog, you become irritable, impatient ("convert now to Islam, or die"). When you eat little, like say many underweight centenarians, your libido is lower, you're less likely to wanna have sex with 50 ladies. As Mohamed engaged in 90+ battles and looted endless caravans (#1, #2, #8 in a holy month, #37), he became wealthy and fat too, with the Quran changing tone from tolerant of other faiths to extremely intolerant. Middle East folks didn't change much after Christians came with their lies, then Mohamed, actually they got Sumerian and Persia civilization before. Mohamed saw how Jews made huge profits with their new made up religion, Christianity, taking over the Roman empire (Jesus replaced many deities, allowing huge cash flows to go to one cult or 'Jewish Vatican bank') and other areas, so Mohamed (who may have been partially Jewish, fully Jewish, Arab or something else) and his fellow Arab and Jewish trader aristocrat friends, may have thought there is a lot of money to be made by creating their own religion, just like today we see gurus becoming very rich. This is explained in many books. By saying 'there is one God', the enterprising traders figured their tribe could have all donations go to them, instead of all different deity groups, even if he didn't believe in God at all, only the profits to be made, like a trading bad type of Jew who loves stories about God if they bring in cash. Not surprisingly, as a true "respecter of worker rights", Mohamed looted endless caravans, traded slaves. Why work, plant trees, raise animals, teach self-sufficiency, how to avoid conflicts, how to avoid killing, terror, torture, how to bring Eternal Universal Peace in 3 months via positive methods only, when all he can teach is terror, killing, looting by living example, some trading slaves to get rich quicker, taxing infidels the religious tax? He didn't care about others believing in the "truth of Islam" (his business (empire) that is?), only in taxing them, while they believe the lies of the bad type of Jews-Italians who made up Christianity. The 120°F weather around Mecca might explain why people got more irritable and into fights, but as modern tech allows everyone to have cool temps, to read trillions of free ebooks on the Internet, heads will cool and enable the human quantum field to return to a state of serenity. Mecca & Saudi Arabia are the hottest areas of the Middle East where food is hard to grow, malnutrition more likely, so it's possible this affects cognition too; difficulty in growing crops, camels leads to a desire to loot caravans.☺☺☺

Mohamed's Quran quotes reveal Islam's nature: hedonism and depravity, torture, beheading and mutilation (chop off toes and fingers), beatings of wives and others (instead of gentle education via centralized immortality capitalism, gentle tone, etc), terror, killing, trading slaves, taking sexual slaves after battles. He also taught by living example these quotes, in stark contrast with the self-control taught by Lao Tze in Tao Te Ching in China or Buddha in Dhammapada 1100 years prior, many peaceful Hindu scriptures, hence Mohamed followers, the Sultans and others, had endless harems (a form of torturing women, destroying their souls and bodies) and didn't really cultivate research into nonkilling, nontorture, no pain inflicting on anyone, showing the Mohamed group was not interested in true spirituality: gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness. The naive Arabs (like Europeans before) had no clue how the bad type of Jews behave, how skilled they're at pretending to believe in something, when they don't believe in it at all, even composing amazing prayers, songs and things to lead the Arab sheep into the new trap they setup for maximum extortion: Christianity 2.0 (Islam). Thus, many think that Mohamed was 100% Jewish. Having seen Arabs had 2nd thoughts about the Christianity scam (that Mohamed's Jewish handlers and Mohamed encountered far from Mecca where they ventured as traders), a new scam was needed, easier to believe (fewer obviously fake miracles, as people didn't believe those easily), Islam, as the bad type of Jew is always quick to create a new scam when gentiles figure out they were duped again.

The Muslims say Quran 8:12 was in the context of some battle against Meccans who stole some property (due to the harassment by Mohamed group of the local people). Under no context is killing (deified in the Jewish Bible and Jewish Quran) acceptable to Immortalists, since we're against any pain, injury, torture or killing of any human as it destroys the human quantum field. Quran 47:4 is again calling to behead infidels, he's totally anti-humanity, he has no concept of universal loving kindness. He's more like a secret agent of hypothetical evil aliens who want as much bloodshed as possible. Mohamed has no immortalist ethics, he was born in an area of savagery where beheadings and mutilation were ultra common techniques of the Assyrian Empire psychological warfare tradition. Most people, born in the same circumstances, brainwashed the same way by his Jewish handlers would have done the same most likely, so there is no point in feeling "superior", it's just helpful though to detach and not accept the brainwashing, just be thankful we're lucky to write, read or imagine a different world than the psychopathy of the 600s, a world of gentleness, with 0 jails even. No God spoke thru him that much. God spoke thru endless others in 1000 times more peaceful ways many centuries before, folks who protected the human species instead of destroying the quantum field. The Assyrian tradition used extreme terror to scare off countries, enemies into submitting to the 'terrorizing empire' (this case Islam) without a fight. His IQ is low: he behaves like baboons, extremely aggressive, forgetting that 'infidels' are people too. He's criticizing Christians for worshiping idols, Jesus, Mary or their icons, but he worships, kisses and circles the Kaaba and the black stone of Kaaba. Muslims fail to realize all he tells people to do is what rapists and serial killers do. No war, no killing is just, anyone who kills 2+ folks is a serial killer, and that is the end of the story, because God knows and favors always a trillion ways, to peace, without violence and that is God's will, not the way of Islam or Moses (spy agencies, military being Jewish controlled, puppets of Judaism), of Bible and the Vatican. God is Immortality, and teaches Immortality for All, i.e. not killing anyone, not doing anything violent. The eternal lie (we always hear from "scriptural" so called "scholars") that "in this or that context, Moses or Mohamed said/did the right thing" is an excuse for our depraved societies to continue their violent music, movies and sports and do nothing about discovering nonkilling noninjuring ways to solve disputes, to help savage humans graduate to decent bipedal animal stage. Those torturing others are psychos, needing to be sent to a healing center. Mohamed encouraged theft too. He brainwashed billions that his prayer is the best way, when it's one of a trillion billion ways to pray, some without words in any language. His IQ is so low (unless he faked it to deceive Arabs), he doesn't even comprehend how low it is. Some have hypothesized, he was just trying to create trouble/chaos, to enable more looting. Perhaps, if Mohamed/Jesus were truly spiritual guys, not military spies, they could have been filled (and fill others by contagion) with such bliss and grace, that they would have converted all around to believe in the God of Eternal Bliss and Immortality for All, without speaking much, without killing anyone or making any wild claim of "Son of God" (Jesus) or faking miracles. God's electric bliss would have convinced all to join the new amazing happy way of life, with gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness for all. The Quran is an affront (most Muslims are unaware of the bad quotes, same for Christians) to the human species and human intelligence today, as is the Bible (especially the Torah portion where all killing calls are): they may have seemed interesting for some savage times and locations, but today they're a curse that impede progress. Today, they're only useful as historical documents on ethics evolution, but not as modern guides for our planet, chemistry evolved from the 7th century alchemy books, so did ethics. Why would any sane person kill people simply because they had low IQ and believed in nonsense? A loving intelligent being never inflicts any pain on anyone, never forces beliefs on anyone and comes with ample proof for one's hypothesis or belief if one tries to present a hypothesis allegedly closer to the truth of Immortality for All Civilizations, that the less intelligent can understand. He didn't do that. He killed them, called for all to emulate his killing ways. He behaved just like the baboons (video) who love to fight over trivial matters. If we teach kids chemistry, physics using books from the 7th century, it would be thought of as child abuse, but if we teach ethics with the 1st century Bible, 7th century Quran, it's not? Look at our childish anthems, stuck in the 1st century vs the Immortalist Anthem, world's shortest pseudo 'scripture', more modern/relevant in our 21st century.

When 'Arab?' Mohamed died, big battles emerged over who controls the (Jewish?) extortion networks (taxing infidels etc), new cities, new caravan looting, plundering businesses (exactly as detailed in the Torah quotes above) they created, and this happened thruout the 1400 years of "Islam". The Europeans were equally naive, they had no idea the bad type of Jews were telling them 100% lies, about wafers, Eucharist, 'Italian' saints and other fake miracles in order to take over the continent, the royals, the aristocracy, making the Catholic church the richest landowner in Europe. Once Europeans figured out the scam, all out war broke in Europe in the 1500s with the Protestant Reformation: 20 million dead in 2 centuries. This war led to and/or sped up the scientific revolution, as non-Jews could finally☺☺☺ be free of bad type of Jew or Italian terror (disguised as religion) trying to make everyone a low IQ slave of their aristocratic class: for 1500 years Europe only had access to a Bible written in Latin, a foreign language to most, so Europe had no clue how evil the Bible is. The deceptive Jews, posing as Popes, bishops, priests, only presented the good quotes, like the Vatican does today. The printing press and local language translations changed the world, it was books that people could understand that changed humanity forever. The war is not over yet apparently 100% (traces of resistance to free thought remain), as the bad type of Jew (and/or Italian) has disguised himself as priest, bishop, pope, imam, king, aristocrat, general and political leader of communists, fascists, etc, in order to keep the 'gentile workers' enslaved and obedient to their businesses, monarchies, etc. Today, billions of people are starting to realize the 2 religions are or could be a pure Jewish fraud. Mohamed was too busy looting, killing, having sex with 11 wives and dozens of concubines, trading slaves to teach all the stuff Muslims now believe is in the Quran. It's not, some was added later via Hadith, etc by those who tried to fix the mess Mohamed created to prevent their countries sinking (a 1 hour video exposes Mohamed as the fraud he was: clueless and not aware of anything even humans know today, let alone God, see why this guy left Islam). Due to the 'wisdom' of the 'ultimate prophet', Mohamed, Muslim pirates enslaved many of all races, and turned them into galley slaves, dying in horrible conditions. Women need to take off their shirt and breastfeed adult stranger men, per the Holy Hadith (it was part of the Quran), so that men are thought of as their 'sons', and not in a romantic relationship: in other words, Mohamed told people to give milk to adults, instead of to babies who often need it to grow healthy. Today, millions of kids don't get enough breastmilk and we need women of same DNA to help a mom to breastfeed her baby if she can't produce milk, instead of eating toxic formula with 97 times more AGEs. We see that Mohamed's advice to increase arousal and promote lust was leading to mass starvation of infants and to lust, proving the rapist Mohamed was nothing but a depraved lust seeking serial killer psychopath. Watch him beat his "favorite wife" and get scared like a kid. Watch the Wahhabi Saudi Arabia type of Islam killing endless Indonesians. Check out endless killings of Christians centuries before the crusades. Many Arabs and Turkey were Christian.☺☺☺

Finally, I ☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺ ask Your Ecstatic (no plant/animal/human pain) Resplendent Magnificent Bounteous Radiance of Eternal Immortality for All, to courageously revisit the ant IQ 8.2. section and understand that in the future, our kids will be able to think a sentence with a trillion billion words in seconds and have a name that is a trillion words today, which calls the Billion Spiritual and Ethical Characteristics of that Soul, as 14.4. explains, so it makes no sense to name your kid Mohamed, who personally raped 100+ women and killed personally at least 900 people and indirectly 270 million people. Thus, protected by the new realization of the Immortalist Anthem, all ethical parents need to free their kid from the quantum signal influence of the Mohamed, Moses and Jesus names and choose names that heal the human quantum field such as Eterni, Imortali, Eternia, Grace, Charity, Virtue, Bliss, etc.

14.6. Divine Ecstasy (millions of times happier than any human activity)

14.6.1. Bliss via simple breathing, visualization, gentle energy breathing exteriorization (3 pages)
14.6.2. Conscious breathing is a million times happier than orgasm (1 page) 14.6.3. Why future folks have sex for procreation only (40 pages) 14.6.4. Sex wastes nutrients, lowers IQ (4 pages)

14.6.1. Bliss via breathing and visualization. All bliss is in the mind, orgasm happens in the brain. Neuroscience has found a way to bypass genitals and achieve higher bliss than any sex or any human activity using your mind (brain) alone. Some humans are like these cannibal chimps, they live in a world of pure animalism the Zion Elders created for them via social engineering for "drastic lowering of average IQ" and vampirization of the 0 IQ slaves (the 99%) entranced by the filif and pig IQ music the monkey vibe celebrities create. As you listen to most music on TV-radio, you see no meditative music to help you think creatively, by yourself, only music flooding you with their own opinions and pure evil garbage. This is on purpose, they want to animalize you, to make you so easy to control and enslave. Once you disconnect from the Matrix of Slavery of these Aristocrat Vampires, you can realize what this chapter says by your own experience. The next 21 pages contain some useful meditative bliss info, complimentary to the 12 pages on conscious breathing in Chapter 10 on how to be happy instantly via breathing in an eterni way, like an immortalist greeting all beings silently. Mystics/meditators practice contemplative prayer (by conscious breathing) or meditation and thus get glimpses of infinite happiness, far beyond anything humans experience, or reach states of "divine 'limitless bliss' or ecstasy, nirvana, satori or samadhi", like those doing astral travel exercises. The prayerful immortalist greeting is based on the Immortalist Anthem ethos of universal kindness. Prayer lovers are delighted that these meditations are a form of prayer,☺☺☺ i.e. contemplative prayer, that invoke the FREE (no donations needed) blessings of infinite kindness of God so that people attain freedom from the need to get God's blessing from blessed objects, medallions of saints (with invented miracles) or bread wafers, wine or fruit juice blessed by other people who profess to be closer to God, yet tell people fake miracles are real and tell people to go to war, when God is anti-war, and can share a trillion ways to peace without war. This is about the liberation of the individual from psychological intermediates (objects, people) that stand between soul and God, the emancipation of humanity from organized religion rituals and traditions that are simply outdated and irrelevant in today's world, just as chemistry texts from 1st or even 18th century are no longer used today. In Chapter 10 there is a description of such a bliss state. To reach this state easier, tech, music can help, such as a voice amplifier that reminds us to breathe consciously (since we can hear our breathing), practice the stuff below to reach cosmic nirvana each minute, like the ever happy anxiety free Immortals. People don't listen to our words, but to our tone, that's what creates aging/mortality or Immortality, sadness or bliss, war or peace. To trick our brain to entangle with the Immortals' chart, to return to Immortals' chart, being happy, tranquil, having their tone helps. The practice of eterni tone, much easier when we don't waste brain energy to raise voice, but to have eterni tone thanks to amplifier, also induces a cosmic bliss experience much easier for reasons evident from this chapter, tone and breathing chapters.

There are 100s of ways to attain these happy states, one of them is a hybrid OBE ("out of body experience") technique that seems to Enhance Translinguistic Telepathy and Immersion in the Cosmic Ocean of ☺☺☺Blissful 0 Point Energy, Cosmic Breath/Expansion, Peace Radiation, and Astral Elongation: it combines 4 popular astral travel techniques into one, in such a way that it seems to create a stronger, while awake, connection with spirit, telepathy, peace, joy, smiles. This technique can be done while relaxed on the bed or on the chair, totally still, or while doing your day to day semi-work at the computer, or daily chores, or daily walking, exercise, etc, as long as you don't have to be fully focused and can be more relaxed and multi-tasked (over time the connection can become second nature, with years of daily practice). The ideal way to do it is while resting on the bed, as if sleeping, so you can relax the body step by step, a few minutes for toes, feet, lower legs, upper legs, back, neck, head, eyes, face, etc, until you start feeling ultra heavy, but the astral feels ultra light, like in the autogenic relaxation for self-hypnosis autogen.htm, feeling each part of the body immovable, heavy (weighing a billion tons), relaxed. The cosmic breathing is breathing in the light-joy-peace-bliss-ease-healing-energy of the inner universes (realms that created this dimension) and radiating it out to all beings, surround in rays of gentle tender soft compassion astrally all human beings in all galaxies they may exist in. As we breathe in, we do at the same time 3 actions: Expansion, Radiation, Elongation... It's called eterni breathing if you wish to be poetic. Expansion of the astral body (we expand the astral body, as in the astral elongation technique, except right now this expansion is as big or small as you wish it to be, doesn't have to be 10 feet or 10 solar systems, it can be bigger or smaller), Radiation (we radiate Peace and are receptive to receive from the infinite ocean of the field or God or whatever term you wish more Peace strings and more joy so as to facilitate a deeper Radiation of Peace for the sake of World Peace), Elongation (the expansion tries to be very much like a huge elongation, think of it like connecting with a few galaxies and universes on the inner level and also on the distance level, so an elongation on the inner levels, within the inner dimensions, but also on the outer level, in terms of distance, where you elongate as far as you with, as if connecting with the infinite ocean beyond time-space). ☺☺☺

This can be adapted and done in your unique ways in a trillion ways, customized, etc, the main idea here is that you find something that works for you to connect with the infinite field of cosmic consciousness, for example, breathing in, you expand-radiate-elongate-absorb the tender-soft- gentle-peace of the field, then as you breathe out, you expand-radiate-elongate even further and you can take the energy you connected in the in-breath and radiate it out, a part of it as a ball of peace surrounding the earth, but the rest going into the cosmos for further connecting multidimensionally with the other realities and dimensions full of peace-love-joy... As you do this, you will notice, over time, that the bliss of connecting with the field is getting stronger and can be done with eyes open too. The method described above, in one version or another, has been used for thousands of years as just one of a trillion ways to induce elasticity into the astral body for easier astral travel. It also led me to several states of "divine ecstasy" different than the breathing one here. This technique can be practiced even while awake to fill the cosmos around us with peaceful Compassion strings and vibrations from the higher worlds of Immortals beyond time-space of our dimensional universe: we breathe in the cosmic energy from the hyper dimensions beyond our time-space where God and the Immortals dwell and we allow this energy to enter and travel from the top of our head to the bottom of our feet but instead of entering crown chakra and ending with the feet chakra, we allow the energy to expand into the ever elongating astral body of ours, with the feet and astral body becoming longer, bigger and bigger and encompassing as much as our imagination allows, be it 10 houses, cities or 10 galaxies, encompassing it in peace, Immortality or longevity strings, especially our planet which needs peace and 500 year lifespan. This is like inhaling the eternal energy of peaceful compassionate light of the Immortal dimensions (think of it as the ultra loving ultra bright NDE light if you had an NDE) or the cosmic consciousness of God if you believe in God and that helps you more intellectually to practice; one can use whatever concepts one feels OK with, since all matter and energy are consciousness constructs, and sometimes concepts can establish a better astral-mental connection that makes it easier. We can also inhale and elongate the upper body and exhale and elongate the lower body as the energy of the infinite cosmos flows up and down, side ways and in all ways the field guides along our elongating astral body that is merging with the non-spatial dimensions so to speak. ☺☺☺

Another thing to recall is the dimensional tapping into the membrane like dimensions of the string theory, like the 11th dimension in that theory, the one with strings perhaps, i.e. when belly moves up and down in the breathing process, if you bring awareness, you can tap into the cosmic energy lines that pass at that space-time or astrally in other space-times. Other similar ecstasy states happened in 2016 during "astral exercises". In Feb-March 2016 (over 3 weeks, 3 experiences) I went on a detour from the technique and I was trying to 'open' the head etheric center and let the cosmic light of the infinite 0 point field, to kind of wake up the astral body more (similar to energy exercises of Robert Bruce, see the free astral books section), so as I was "calling" for the infinite light or infinite compassion of God or Holy Spirit or whatever we call it, as I did it (we can do it in many ways, without verbal thought), my whole body became filled with energy, awareness and joy. It worked best when I focused on the light at the top of the head and allowed the light to magnify and engulf the whole planet in peace, all human beings shimmering as light beings, as Immortal souls... and then it becomes bigger, the bliss more intense, the planet more engulfed. If we would reach happy states daily like this, all war, crime, etc would vanish, since it all stems from a lack of happiness, joy. ☺☺☺

14.6.2. MEDITATIVE CONSCIOUS BREATHING (aware breathing is not meditation where folks try "watch thoughts/feelings pass by or to still your mind" or other boring stressful techniques), which can be practiced anytime in any tense or relaxed situation (unlike meditation) GIVES happiness A MILLION TIMES BIGGER THAN ORGASM or anything (even meditation).

The above breathing, energetic and visualization exercises are useful as they raise energy from the lower "energy centers" (peripheral neurons) to the upper ones (brain neurons), make us reach infinite happiness and be happier, healthier, preventing nutritional deficiencies caused by too frequent sex (man's desperate search for bliss, when it is in his meditative brain*, not sexual organs)*. In orgasm, blood goes to the genitals to enlarge penis or clitoris 5x, plus smaller increases of other areas; in meditation, blood goes to the brain, lungs, as the oxygenation increases and we no longer use a peripheral organ to trigger brain endorphin release, but the brain directly, sort of like NASA solar probe at 200,000 MPH versus natural running of 20 mph, a 10,000 fold difference between Bliss Efficiency, without nutritional drain. In social environments while wearing loose pants, erection is not welcome or simple embarrassing, but meditation bliss can be reached 5 times daily and it involves no erection. Once the on demand production of BLISS happens, it can be so strong, that it overrides any potential arousal from any source (seeing a hot semi-naked person at the beach, etc). I use the orgasm comparison simply because, in our world, unfortunately, orgasm is equated by some people with the highest happiness they reached; nature has designed orgasm to be happiest of common states, since the most important thing to the species is its perpetuation, so the act of doing so had to be happiest of common tasks available to anyone without any meditation training. Silent sound, microwaves, etc techs can be used to arouse genitals, stimulate neurons of peeing, ejaculation (which can lead to semen discharge if testes are full due to too much arousal), and to send ideas to a person like "let me massage my erotic areas", to make it seem like one's own thought, which may lead to nutrient depletion if massage provokes too much arousal, then sperm build up and later night release (which is also nature's way to release sperm produced due to high stress or poor sleep) or even any form of self-touching, self-arousal, thought that is sexual in nature and builds sperm up (or sex if married). Do you want real happiness or being a robotic puppet of mind-body influence gadget fans? We inhale the gentle tender universal loving kindness and radiate it out on exhale, giving preference to the upper body or brain in energy radiations to all beings nearby (it's an intelligent energy, it knows what anyone nearby needs; like if you're near a tree with calming energy etc) at exhale, to avoid exciting the genitals.

These simple exercises help us discover innate happiness☺☺☺ that doesn't depend on the outer world events like "the peace that passes all understanding". If reached at will, one could heal all around. Some people call these altered states of consciousness, which billions of people experience rarely, as "cosmic bliss" to indicate the different type of bliss attained, more expansive and non-local, not body centered so to speak, like some people describe an NDE where they're one with everything. When we experience the "love-bliss of God", which is a million times more ecstatic than orgasm or human affection, one no longer has such a need of "human love" and can have more self-control. If these meditative or contemplative prayer divine ecstasy states would be taught in kindergarten, primary, middle school (without any mention of genitals here, which was done to help adult sex addicts quit bad habits), it's possible kids would be way happier, way kinder, far less angry, as instead of kicking others, they heal them. Isn't it ironic, parents claim they believe in God's loving kindness and they teach them to kick and punch via martial arts since age 2-3, but nothing about meditation and healing others via speech, hands on healing, energy radiation, etc? Quite often, kids are learned to interface with the outer world in violent ways, as instead of healing sick fellow kids, animals or plants by hands on healing, and radiating loving kindness as in the exhale of these meditations, they radiate karate punches to other kids as in martial arts classes, or shoving during some rugby/football or basketball/soccer, etc in their "training" to become "well rounded" citizens with many extracurricular activities. This "well rounding" often makes kids (who become the future society, leaders, scientists) extremely shallow and weak in loving kindness, gentle tender softness, spirituality, awareness of the peaceful ways to peace, and the subtlest stuff that is unheard in almost any church sermon, but is barely mentioned in this book. What well-rounding is that if they don't know their inner nature and what they can achieve internally? Physical development, motor coordination, motor neuron development can be achieved by endless physical movements that are free of any violent connotation, such as planting trees, gardening, gentle healing stretching exercises combined with breathing that achieve meditation states too, helping the immortality research labs with simple tasks, etc. These meditations would probably make the rape rate and even unwanted teen pregnancy rates drop a trillion times, as people would think of meditation, loving kindness, astral stuff, prayer as a million times more ecstatic than sex, running, sports and martial arts. We're living 90 years, mice 3 years, so we live 30 times longer and can do a lot more than mice can. The super mental beings of the future have genetically advanced so much that sex for pro-creation only is as natural as breathing today, as evident as 2 + 2 = 4. They feel the entire human quantum field, the entire human race as if it is their body, being vastly different than the humans today.

14.6.3. ☺The end of Demon-crats via the Rise of Sex for Pro-creation Only, the end of LGBT sex☺

For more on this, please also read the Dating.Gov section on the "utility" of marriage, as well as the 13 point discussion on the MANY evils of sex outside of procreation and why promoting recreational sex needs to be illegal.☺☺☺ Get enough Mg in your diet, to prevent night sperm discharges due to low Mg induced overproduction of seminal fluid (not sperm, just the liquid). Don't drink water or eat 3 hours before bed, hydrate early in the day.☺☺☺ We can easily argue that LGBTQ shouldn't be parents, because it is the epitome of RACISM to hate the other gender so much, so as to deprive the baby of the ideal parent☺☺☺, the biological parent☺☺☺, who is quantum entangled with the baby much better via DNA and has the best understanding of any person on Earth of that baby due to similar genetics, behaviors as a kid, health issues and the feeling your own legacy continues thru the kid who is like you and has the best chance to understand you and continue your work in a better way, meaning the biological parent is the most motivated person to see his kid succeed, as it's his/her own survival of sorts, especially the kid who looks like him/her, due to biological self-identification programming. A stranger feels far less genetic compulsion to make the kid succeed, to love-forgive him and etc. A stranger can't even understand the kid well, like a step spouse, gay couple that has no genetic relation to their kid, etc. Not only that, but a real mom treats her diet, actions before conception, during pregnancy and lactation with far more care than a paid surrogate mom who views the baby as a job to get paid for 30,000$.☺☺☺ Likewise, a donor sperm for a lesbian couple is lower quality, as it's not his child, so he won't optimize his sperm quality as much as if he was the parent to raise that kid.☺☺☺ To build the best offspring you need to do 9,000 things right during preconception, and pregnancy, which don't happen with LGBTQ, so it goes against the very idea of 4000 year lifespans by changing pregnancy diet etc that requires thinking, cooperation in research, participation of real mom not a paid "surrogate mom" that interacts with baby father 1 hour weekly, instead of 160 hours weekly as with the cohabitation couple of biological kids. 160x more interaction = much better offspring. ☺☺☺ As we have seen with bees, what happens during gestation of embryo (larvae) is adding 3920 years to lifespan human equivalent, but what happens after the baby is born adds only 10 years. Humans are so silly and focused on the 10 years, while missing the 392 times more important and longer effect coming from heterosexual couples working as one during pregnancy. All this hot air about supplements is pointless, since they ignore the pregnancy stage, the only one that can make a big difference at our technological level. This misogyny by gay men shuts that avenue 100%. A pregnancy only works if the two are in a good relationship, I mean they didn't just meet 1 hour before conception, but lived together for a while. With one parent away as in LGBTQ, the pregnancy period and preconception are compromised, so results will be catastrophic for humanity. Nature showed nutrition during embryo stage can increase lifespan 50 fold, so it's very likely if you change the sperm and egg preconception, you can also do this 50 fold effect, to get a 2500 fold effect.

"Rat IQ" folks can't understand there are a trillion ways to peace without war, to bliss without sex, to living 2500 times longer without the bee method but with a new sperm modification method, etc. LGBTQ devolve humans into lustful animals of low IQ. So the LGBTQ as parents argument vanishes instantly in the Light of God Eternal and Immortality for All☺☺☺. LGBTQ parenthood is like covert genocide ☺☺☺, BECAUSE it deprives everyone of the simplest route (4000 year lifespans) to Eternal Trillion Year Lifespans we need to evolve towards Civility and eternal zero violent crime/war, zero Genital based reproduction, organs so deified by animal IQ LGBTQ. The baby doesn't resonate with the nonbiological parent, feels less comfy, while with the real parent he forms a natural bond, physics based quantum entanglement, like two Tibetan singing bowls that resonate in perfect harmony, DNA strings in tune with each other. Babies know their mother, father, one or both of which for LGBTQ vanishes, they suffer as their mom, dad disappears. Gay men depriving babies of their mom contact, immune system building is cruelty, child abuse. The low IQ of LGBTQ prevents them from seeing how baboon like in their thinking they are. Humanity is reduced to genitals. LGBTQ are created by social engineering by Brits, Jews running the media, music industries. Very few people are naturally born as intersex (having both penis and vagina) or having a brain of a female in many ways, normally attracted to males. This can easily be fixed in a society by pairing these people with women who're more "male" in characteristics, so they too can be heterosexual and have a biological baby if they want. In a properly educated society, with true freedom to express views on TV, instead of hearing only Brit-Jew propaganda, we would have 100 times fewer LGBTQ. Out of this LGBTQ 60% are actually B, meaning, bisexuals, meaning anyone who finds "sex with both OK", not necessarily having had sex with both genders. These labels are there created to shift the ethical boundary towards acceptable, so one may be first queer (short for LGBTQIA+, 'agnostic' bisexual, 10% like of men, 90% of women, but really only dated women), then bisexual (most only had sex with one gender, but has an attraction of 5-50% to the same gender too), then gay or lesbian. The purpose of all these labels and merging them as one is to entice more people to join the LGBTQIA+ (queer) crowd and make it appear as if 9% of people are LGBTQIA, when only 0.5% of population are actually true gays, who actually have real sex that is unhealthy, unhygienic and of zero IQ, anal sex. The rest are programmed, socially engineered fools, useful idiots used by spy social engineers to hopefully lower the birth rate and make societies degrade in IQ. Even these 0.5% anal intercourse apes, only 1% of them would ever be real gays (anal sex) without Jewish TV-media-literature brainwashing, and 0% would be with a little immortalist education on TV about the negative effects. Only 35% of gay men have anal sex, 42% of heterosexual couples have anal sex (at least once in their life, due to being young and less aware of the effects). These huge % show the catastrophic effects of the Jewish run educational system, where 80% of heterosexuals engaged (at least once in life) in vagina oral sex and 90% in penis oral sex. The Jew essentially made everyone a fool, his TV ads have turned everyone into a little animal, so disconnected from his higher brain, his only joy is sucking genitals. As long as US is run by KKK Brits/Jews, this 0% anal/oral sex won't happen, their racial or ethnic hate of "the others" is infinite and LGBTQIA is how the genocide or extermination is accomplished, among 500 tools. Most LGBTQ are too naive to see the plot. If LGBTQ doesn't work for a target ethnic group to be exterminated by Jews, or Brits, Jews try promote "sex outside procreation, daily sex, until you become nutritionally deficient". As Master Rapists, who deify the mass child rape Bible in every Anglican Church and others, they Love to Rape All. The Democrats, run by Jewish British KKK, are the tools to achieve this extermination.

The illogical thing is that they complain about wars and terrorists, but how does spending 1.4 trillion a year on useless stuff and wasting time with all this "affection" actually bring violent crime to zero and world peace? The LGBT/straight folks, who stick their penis into the anus of the "partner" are too "snail IQ" like (well, it's the group behavior, if they read some do it, they try it too, because if 90% are stupid like a cow, you choose to be too; 90% of people believed Earth is flat, should you too? the social engineers created so much brainwashing thru depraved literature, movies, etc, that everyone thinks of it as normal or even "healthy") to realize the uselessness and health danger of anal homo/heterosexual sex (infection from anus filth). They think they're the body and that the only way to be intimate with a person is to stick their penis into someone's anus or mouth, having remained at the level of "retarded worm" psychologically, unable to see that we're first the human quantum field, the size of the planet, an information pattern, a field of quantum information and light, instead of this body. Your real identity is much more the eternal human quantum field, or "God if you're atheist", than the body. It's pure brainwashing of gentiles by the Jews and other Sex maniacs and we need to have compassion for these people, the 30% of population who still do oral or anal and it wasn't a few times when "young and stupid". Sadly, they're like brainwashed kids, the serial killer kids brainwashed from birth by the bad serial killer parents (mujaheddin, etc) that only war brings peace, as the Jewish media brainwashed us that "there are no trillions of ways to peace without war". It's very simple, Jews know, like Nazis, that a lie repeated 1000 times becomes established fact, so they take over the gentile TV and repeat a lie 1000 times, until everyone believes "America needs nude LGBTQ parades instead of ending violent crimes and homelessness, wars and we need sex outside of procreation to be healthy". Unable to evolve past animal stage, they do some of the animal behaviors, while the TV Jew gloriously applauds them as expressions of Jewish Sigmund Freud sex for all theory "every human desire comes from the Jew invented "subconscious super cosmic drive to rape all or have sex with all, possibly every 20 minutes". The Jew, as Earth's sales rep for 'Satan', reinvents what is to be human and forces it at gunpoint on gentiles. The gentile, unaware Freud and all "luminaries of modern depravity" are all Jews, believes it as if it's some "amazing discovery of science (Jew invented pseudoscience)". As the immortalist breathing section explains, you can be intimate with all humans at once, by breathing intentionally infinite kindness to surround the entire planet, and you don't need to damage the anus, the penis, the mouth (throat cancer) of anyone to show them your "love" (Jewish style imbecility). Oral sex leads to serious health issues for both genders (throat cancer) and female (bacterial vaginosis BV). The mouth has some of the most lethal bacteria than the vagina can't handle. Most men's dental hygiene is pathetic at best, almost no man brushes teeth after each meal as required. BV microbes can reside on the penis, and sexual activity outside of procreation can disrupt the natural flora of the penis. Penis BV is transmitted back to female partners via microbes, causing recurring BV. BV microbes cause penile infections, such as balanitis (inflammation of the head of the penis) or nongonococcal urethritis. HPV is a sexually transmitted infection that can be spread through oral sex as well as vaginal or anal contact, and can lead to penile cancer in men (or cervical, vaginal, and vulvar cancers in women).

Sex for procreation only = longest life. The immortalists would define coercion to have oral or anal sex or even outside procreation sex as rape (meaning death penalty, if spouse has evidence of it via video, records it secretly), if the person has notified police that one no longer wants sex in the relationship, all sex or specific types of sex s/he pushes, asks her/him to have when s/he clearly stated never. It's comical today judges hear cases about some gorilla human unhappy a spouse doesn't want to have frequent sex. Such human looking gorillas belong to lifetime labor camps of tomato picking, not to a court where they hilariously defend their right to force Jewish imbecility on others' free will. ☺☺☺ Ask your 'potential spouse' sex questions first, before marrying animals. Better find a human.☺ The immortalists would make it illegal for anyone to publish any book, website, etc about the benefits of "anal/oral sex", which is obviously nonexistent, it only causes disease, i.e. all published books would be first approved to remove any bad sexual or violent content. Likewise, any video, music, book, etc promoting sex outside of procreation is forbidden, as no evidence exists in helps and it only promotes sexual desire that fuels the rape epidemic. The immortalist goal is zero war, which means zero violent crime, zero rape to sustain that peace. Given the fact Americans alone waste 1.4 trillion/yr in useless products that 1. waste the lives of millions producing them and 2. fuel wars by people not focusing on Zero Violent Crime now, it's common sense for immortalists to support zero "wedding ceremonies", as these only feed the genocidal aristocrats running these genocidal wedding companies, who're nothing but profit extractors solving nothing but the adherence to tomato IQ traditions that re-create war forever. These is nothing to celebrate when millions die to due violence, when 1.3 million die due to car crashes born of alcohol use that causes millions of beatings each year. It's a time for penance, charity and restraint, only serious people avoid weddings, the clowns celebrate and waste time, ignoring the 10 second end of all humans is approaching if nothing changes drastically. We immortalists try to be logical: if wedding parties had been good they would have brought zero violent crime by now, but they did not. To get different results, you need a different set of actions. It's time to act for Zero Violence. Weddings are among the most anti-World Peace activities, as they disturb local peace with loud music, remove all eterni tone of speech and promote impulsive showmanship and appearance over honesty and charity, flamboyant clothing and makeup, etc over the Longevity of all Beings via End of War. The $90,000 or 200$ used for a fruit fly IQ marriage party could have added 50 to 500000 year lifespans to humanity via the most essential needs of people without windows, heating, cooling, clean floors, zero mold air, deadly food, etc who're part of your universal body. We humans are so self-focused, that we fail to realize all humans make up one universal superhuman. A true immortalist invites all to his universal wedding of all humans, by his quiet unknown action of Building the 11 companies of happy Eternal Immortality for All. Any honest immortalists are fully aware of what evil all parties, especially long expensive wedding ones, create in the world. Let's be real, marriage is not needed and given we're all experts in talking and not doing anything for Zero Violent Crime, it would be a good time to walk the "Walk, don't talk" principle that has vanished in our world. Who needs to know who we're with? They use it against us anyway, let Cybersecurity for all extend to true privacy for all. Be simple, be free.☺☺

Some cruel LGBTQ often eat blood daily, as hypocritical preachers of Love for all☺, not realizing the eggs they swallow as unthinking animals are obtained by killing billions of male chicks on conveyor belts, their dairy comes from baby useless male calves led to slaughter after birth causing endless suffering for cow mothers. Would these LGBTQ love their babies to be eaten by reptilian aliens on day one of birth? No, so why do they do these things to animals instead of living the eterni ethics of ☺☺☺gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness☺☺☺ explained in the Immortalist Anthem who focuses the 11 universal companies around the 1st and most important, the end of violence against sentient beings, the end of animal eating, via Eterni Food Inc, the true definition of Free Love for All? In the same sadist ways, the "Gurus of Free Love" remove human (not just chick, cow) babies from their moms (who can give them 50 fold longer life if they were not misogynist), to satisfy their selfish animalistic rat IQ impulse born of lack of education into the meditative breathing that achieves bliss without erotica.☺☺☺ You don't create 4000 year lifespans by hiring an 'animal' to produce a baby for 25K, you need both actual parents be fully into it 24-7, since the sperm being of a new quality by proper diet 9 months before conception, is almost as important as the "surrogate mom" being replaced by a real mom for perfect diet, sleep, etc during 9 month post conception.☺☺☺ Kids born to lesbian parents will thus be lower quality, and degenerate the race/nation, the exact purpose LGBTQ is pushed by those hating USA.☺☺☺ As IQ drops, taking over USA becomes 400 times easier, without any war. No worries LGBTQ, we immortalists love all beings a trillion times more than the best LGBTQ mom loved her baby last 5 years, as the Immortalist Anthem says, we won't force our beliefs on you, we let you destroy yourselves by your own free will (since you don't want anyone to take that away from you by force), but at least we kindly let you know you're 100% responsible for your own downfall as a 'race of degenerates', we try to help you understand the mistake of hating the other gender.☺☺☺ Divided we fall, united we stand.☺☺☺ Why hate? LGBTQ is Pure Hate.☺☺☺ You choose your own lifestyle, we don't. We still have functional evolutionary brains about what the species needs now. We simply present our opinions as you do thru Nude Parades showing for LGBTQ "the genitals is all there is to Life": we we want 4000 year lifespans for all in the first stage towards 4 octillion (10^{27}) life, we want World Peace in 3 months, for you, genitals and such are more important than nonkilling, than zero violent crime, than World Peace in 3 months (Immortality for All, not just a few gay millionaires), topics never present at your depraved 0 IQ parades. ☺☺☺☺☺☺☺

Did any TV station (CNN, Foxnews) make a daily 365/yr protest about millions of such violent crimes happening? Never, where is the outrage of TV anchors making 50-2000 times the federal min wage when that money could have educated millions of kids who became violent criminals? Where are the TV clowns, making 8 million, calling for nationwide protests to end violent crime in 3 years, to march on all aristocratic mansions and protest with loud speakers 24-7, "Stop Stealing Trillions that Bring Zero Violent Crime" as in the 1000 places of violent crime due to loud music as no law protects the poor trying to sleep? Why aren't they asking what are Republicans and Democrats doing about a Crime a Trillion times Higher than It should Be? Why no 365 days of protests on TV about the murderous gangsters ruling America who don't care about the crime, as they live in gigantic estates with personal security, video cameras, tall fences, etc? Because all TV is fake, they just pretend it's free media.☺☺☺ The number one Right the TV folks need to talk about is LIFE, because if you are dead☺☺☺, there is no chance to exert any other right, meaning the number one thing TV needs to talk 8 hours daily about is ZERO VIOLENT CRIME via real reform like in no society on Earth before. Did any of the CIA-FBI on TV remind Americans daily that the Murderous CIA-FBI-Pentagon in charge of USA does nothing of substance to end the 1000 horrific violent crimes daily and question as a truly independent media would, instead of soldiers disguised as national TV celebrities making millions? Pentagon makes millions of violent criminals via the violent video games, music of infinite violence it funds via companies, "celebrities" it controls. Then we hear "We want World Peace". They give kids guns, to shoot everyone, like they give weapons to all nations to fight forever. So much "free" media, spewing the same feudalism lies of 5000 years. Where is the real Reform of the 11 companies and new violent crime penalties (Death)? The educational reform to give all 1 ethics video and quiz until the age of 22, the pay reform? The TV media-movies-music reform to remove all violence? We are like Gestapo, KGB and North Korea, instead of a 40 year frontman (Kim Jong Un, Putin, Hitler) for the Genocidal Elites to Hide Behind, we get one for 4 years, a conman or puppet (who can't do anything) as President. Zero unemployment via 11 companies so people can sleep well, instead of changing job every 3 months and location every year, at the whim of aristocrats firing all to make more money and causing poor nutrition, sleep and brain inflammation leading to violence? All these LGBTQ "fruit fly IQ" folks protest about not being allowed to have sex outside of procreation and brag about it and make no protest each time 1000 terrible violent crimes happen in USA, which is DAILY. This shows you the "character" of LGBTQ: they care more about their hedonistic pleasure than the rights of people to be alive and not killed during the rape that LGBTQ essentially creates via focus on sex outside of procreation. The issue here is that violence leads to 10 second end of humanity. LGBTQ are dishonest, anti-Immortality for All and unaware of it. But that's fine. We too have free will to voice our opinions, just as you show penises in front of kids on streets that the Jewish media never shows, as that would reveal the true agenda of LGBTQ, turning all into pedophiles. But the end of LGBTQ is here, the A letter means asexuals, who want sex for procreation only, so LGBTQA is the end of LGBTQ, the seed has been planted, A will grow so big, it will end the LGBTQ it came from, as humans become intelligent, evolving past the animal stage. Immortalists water this A seed daily until LGBTQ ends. When people are killed by war and aristocratic policies, all LGBTQ cares about is showing penises and vaginas to 3 year old kids in parades, to live the sex with 3 year olds in Talmud. ☺☺

The baby's immunity is built by contact, especially for cesarean babies who need more contact to get healthy microbiome, via breastfeeding, etc. Because of this lack of care, etc, the actual IQ of LGBTQ raised kids will be lower, as well as their health, leading to a weaker race easy to destroy by enemy states. Exposure to one gender only makes the kids' IQ fall, as they fail to understand the entire humanity. Thus, on national security grounds, it becomes illegal once enough sane people vote so, as they awaken from the Jewish Sigmund Fraud sexual mania and other Jewish sexual programming designed to destroy gentiles. LGBTQ parenthood is thus unethical on moral grounds too, not national security only, because it leads to sicker shorter lived babies. Adoption exists entirely due to lack of parent license and proper planning of families by the state who doesn't care about its citizens at all, except the aristocratic gangs who create fake governments. ☺☺☺ It's more ethical to place the wellbeing of the child above the animalistic hedonistic needs of a bipedal primate calling oneself "human", but LGBTQ are too lacking in IQ and ethics education to comprehend the idea that the future of humanity is more important than their penis/vagina erections.☺☺☺ The needs of their imperial spoiled LGBTQ selves are more vital than those of humanity, because they're pure selfishness.☺☺☺ Thus, the LGBTQ Immortality Credit Score needs be lower, as they're regressing humanity into the age of rape and lust, and stuck animal stage, instead of evolving towards shimmering shapeshifting Immortals etlif IQ, a trillion times higher than LGBTQ rodent IQ.☺☺☺ Mammals, humans, primates love people, kids who're like them and nobody can love a baby more, raise a kid better, than the BIOLOGICAL PARENT.☺☺☺ We're all going to become Genderless Immortals as the Immortalist Anthem explains, with 1 billion parents for 1 kid in the far future, so why focus on sex outside of procreation and all these LGBT nude parades in front of kids and hate of the other gender?☺☺☺ LGBTQ are the Ultimate Fascist Racists who hate the other gender so much, they don't want them around, and hurt the future generation by depriving it of the best parent available on Earth, the biological one. Nonbiological LGBTQ parents (only 1 is biological) is RACISM, pure discrimination and should be ILLEGAL, it's like saying "people who look different (different hair, eyes, skin color, breast size) are stupid, when we know females can have IQ of 200 and men 70, but they hate women so much, they choose to be with men of IQ 130 points lower. Same for lesbians."☺☺☺ You can see how hypocritical these so called "Democrats" can be, when racism is only defined in one way: they would rather destroy the human race via IVF and frozen sperm than stop being such HATEFUL FASCIST RACISTS.☺☺☺

The irony is that these LGBTQ portray themselves as progressives, but some are the most anti-progress patriarchal or matriarchal women/men haters who think women/men are stupid, and that the kids being raised by 2 men/women will be smarter/kinder than heterosexual or lesbian couple and creating more IQ 200 people is better, as it advances society more. The problem with that is of course that the definition of IQ varies☺☺☺ and is not a good reflector of species' survival probability always, and the promotion of hate of one group (men or women) results in war and conflict, dishonesty and lack of progress due to fraudulent papers, versus a world where both work to create the genderless human, who is eliminating all conflict between the two genders, as there is only 1 gender: the Immortal, a world of 11 companies for all humans who're "soon" to be "shimmering shapeshifting Immortals", one universal pay and ethics 1 trillion times higher. This leftist immortalist utopia knows no class, no differences in pay, or even gender. All difference is in the ideas, knowledge and mind, the rest is the same (yeah, all are telepathic and when you sense others' minds/emotions that makes them unique, there is no need for different heights, appearances, etc), unless one needs to visit another planet, morph into local species appearance to relate better to the savage animals there who obviously can't shapeshift and are short-lived lovely idiots☺☺☺, like humans are today☺☺☺. People of tomato or even bacteria or fruit fly IQ☺☺☺ can't see easily how we could all look the same and figure out who is who. That's because we look the "same" only to 80 year old lived human chimps today, but to the future people, with new organs sensing more than physical light, etc, they can see that each person is totally different, since each has a slightly different set of atoms, per new periodic table, arranged differently, etc, like an IR camera of two identical twins, can show different spectra, auras if you will, we would see these vast differences and immediately, via telepathy and this new perception, be able to know who is who, even if to us human ants, these people would seem like clones or identical people closer than even twins at times. When the 1 billion parents create, as in the anthem, the Immortality blueprint 954287613, meaning kid number 954287613 since the Advent of Math Names (people no longer have names, but a set of characters of the new 'decimal' system, numbers and maybe letters of the Eterni Universal language), the 'DNA' may be 1 million times more similar, to our "DNA science today" than the most identical twins in our history, yet to them, be vastly different, as they have quite a few people as part of their trillion trillion (10^{24}) people civilization with names like 9abc5ztf2ydh8cgp or 16 characters.☺☺☺ Permutations of 36 (26 English characters and 10 digits) taken as 16 (if order and repetition are allowed), is, per math, 36^{16} is 8×10^{24}, so if you got 10^{24} people of Eternia, names can be 16 characters, as they process info 1 trillion times faster than we do.☺☺☺ So, they can read this 4000+ page book (a "business card of the future") in milliseconds.☺ Parents, in the more immediate future, would be like 2 engineers working on making kids live to 4000, then 50,000 and eventually become genderless shapeshifters. 2 people live together as engineers of a new human, aided by the immortalist ethos of infinite lifespans of the parent license, the preconception nutrition education and programs to create the most precise procreation, gestation, first year of life that leads to 70 fold increase in lifespan every so often.

We can say it's a bad idea to have 2 men/women as parents, because we prefer 100% DNA of parents to match the kid.☺☺☺ But, if at least one is a biological parent and the kid is the same biological gender as the same gender parents, case in which it has at least 50% common DNA with the 2 parents, we have a better than adoption of strangers case, adoption being a disaster, a total failure of society to care and plan families for all. Since kids who have 2 fathers will 'soon' be possible, or two mothers, 2 men as parents then becomes more 'logical', but the kid who lives with biological parents has an edge: he shares 100% DNA with parents, while the gay couple only 90%, since 10% is the influence of the genetics of the womb of the surrogate mom, her dietary/lifestyle choices, if you could somehow take male DNA and make an egg out of it, so embryo at least is 100% related to the kid, but obviously not the placenta or artificial placenta creating 50,000 year old humans. This 90% or 80% instead of 100% will lead to conflict and species collapse, so LGBTQ may lead to species collapse due to 1-50% common DNA causing conflict, as kid-parents are not sharing 100% of DNA and more animosity builds, in the family first and then among nations of sex addicted gender hating psycho groups. Society is unstable even with 100% common DNA, imagine what happens if 1-50% becomes the norm, war will increase 100 fold. This fits well into the agenda of an enemy spy agency who wants the other nations wiped out. In a world of shimmering shapeshifting Immortals where 1 billion parents make 1 kid as the anthem says, there is a 100% common DNA and everything is so unified (each citizen feels the pain of all other 1 billion parents as if it's their own body), we can't even imagine how savage we seem to them. We're organized informational systems and we entangle or resonate, communicate far better with people who share 100% of DNA (50 from each parent) than with stranger parents who share 1% of it. That's why the rate of divorce for people of very different background, be it religion, education, language, race, ethnicity (DNA), hobbies, music, personality, etc is higher, the more differences the higher the divorce rate. They're too different to click, same for kid-parent relating, the more differences the more conflict, you see this: parents favor the kid who is genetically like them, who looks more like them. It's pure physics, parents will always deny they have a favorite as it would make the other kids feel unloved, but every parent has a favorite, even if some parents are not aware of it consciously, due to 2 twin girls who look like mom who're loved about the same. Many Jews are not LGBTQ, but liars, who present themselves as such in public to seduce the gentile to this destructive lifestyle, to destroy the gentiles.☺☺☺ It's the Jewish plan of mass extermination so they take over USA and become the Majority.☺☺☺ LGBTQ is Pure RACISM, plain and simple.☺☺☺ IVF kids are weaker, sperm is destroyed by freezing, the infertility is cured with proper diet, no coffee, no alcohol, no smoking, no weed, no drugs and use of no more WiFi (wired at home) and cell phones (only for emergencies).☺☺☺ We hope all Demon-crats join the Immortalist Party, by quitting pretending to be a leftist while being a reality a bourgeois greedy heartless ruthless capitalist supporting the Mass rape of Gentiles via the Mass Rape of child virgins deified by Moses (who executed 3,000 in one move) in the Jewish Bible (Old Testament), part of the Bible of human (gentile) sacrifice

(read all quotes, especially Deut 7:16 about exterminating all nations Jews think 'God gave them to Jews, so any nation they want dead, maybe 8 billion people').☺☺

Jews promote LGBTQ to gentiles, so white population went down 10% in 2015-25, while Jewish population went up 32%, as they have kids, while we're told to have LGBT and pets from Jewish owned pet stores.☺☺☺ Jews promote multi racial families (which have the highest divorce rates for young people and highest drug use overall, due to cultural clash making divorce more likely), while Jews keep marrying Jews only and having twice the kids of the average American. This double standard is seen in the brainwashing of the Bible too: Moses says "don't kill" in one '10 commandments page', but then calls for murder and genocide in 100 quotes, Jesus tells Jews "love thy (Jewish) neighbor", but then Jesus says "everything (mass rape, genocide of gentiles) in Old Testament is true". A picture starts to emerge. The veil is lifted. The Bible is pure fraud, nothing is consistent, except the deception.☺☺☺ We call Democrats Demon-crats, due to encouraging rat behavior in humans and demonic behavior, the wholesale destruction of USA by creating a nation of childless families. Poland gives 0 income tax to families raising 2 kids and having lower income, to shield the nation from having 0 kids due to Gay-Lesbian Social Engineering by foreign powers wanting USA or Poland wiped out. Likewise, our tax system needs to give lower/0 tax rate only to those raising biological kids (or foster kids, but higher discount for biological) and increase tax for those who give kids away for adoption (due to lies during parent license process), with no benefits to married couples with no kids. How are Democrats encouraging bad behavior? Read this paragraph and the following 15 pages to understand. Demon-crats supported for 150 years the palace dwelling celebrities whose movies (from the very first 7 movies) and music are filled with anti-eterni tones, or aggressive, mean, negative yelling, shouting types of tones, scenes, ideas, words that make a mockery of the ethics of ☺☺☺ gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness☺☺☺ of the best of all kind (not fake) religions and spiritual paths, a mockery of the national immortalist state and Its Holy Anthem, Its Peaceful Gentle Happy Media Guidelines, Its Holy NonViolent Doctrine, Its Holy All Loving Military, a mockery of the "face death everyday" scary work of all spies, soldiers and police (which will dissolve into the Immortality Nurturing Agency and Eternium, 2 of 3 national agencies), just as these fraudulent clergy do: demon tones of clergy, similar to many celebrities shouting and yelling in their infernal music: pastor, rabbi, Buddhist monk, imam, Hindu preacher, and closer to Hitler than God. In the context of universal humanist or religious ethics, to waste time with same gender sex and erotica when human species may disappear in 10 seconds within 5 years due to violent tone in gay music and other types of music is no different than unethical conduct or, more metaphorically, "demonic" behavior, selfish gangster behavior. The duty of all citizens is to bring ☺☺☺~~Eternal Universal Peace~~☺☺☺ in 3 months first and foremost, 0 violent crime in 3-9 years, so civilization can finally begin to be born on Earth, fight for it all day with all our might and soul. ☺☺☺

Sex outside pro-creation is attempted murder, because a fetus can emerge and then they will kill it, cause health issues for mother and destroy the human quantum field nonkilling resonance of Immortality for All☺☺☺. Creating an embryo needs to be done with proper preparation, after parent license was granted, to properly know how to create the best possible embryo and be a good parent, so that the best outcome happens, with fewest birth defects. Without knowledge, the fetus will die fast, parents need to avoid caffeine and other things before conception, to prevent low IQ, defects, etc. Driving a 20 year lifespan car requires a license, driving a billion year old body into existence should require a license to prevent criminality, violence, stress and defects. It's funny how we prepare so much before buying a house, but to 'buy' the body of a child from God☺☺☺ no preparation, just random sex. It's abysmal in IQ to imagine diet, stress, etc before conception won't have dramatic effects on the fetus viability, longevity, etc. Sex is not flipping burgers, there is a science, a perfect way to conceive. Honey bees live 50 times longer if they eat royal jelly, same way, the human bees live 90x longer if during conception, and prior, and during pregnancy, a specific diet and/or protocol is followed. The animal type human just wants intercourse. He's a beast, like Demon-crats, he knows not the Immortalist Anthem and its lofty ultra lefty ethics. Before conception attempt day, the two need to reach the highest state of wellbeing, as proven by the way one feels and even biomarkers if one wants to measure them for free. Democrats claim they're the pro-science party, but they're anti-science. Science shows that if you have frequent sex outside procreation, you destroy the uterus, by failed embryo implantation and failed fetuses that are totally unknown to the mother, since she thinks there is no damage and having sex with her husband daily is just good for her. But it is not, since sex drains your brain and increases the DNA telomere damage. With knowledge, you can discover how to eat differently so the fetus will live 40-50x longer, like some honey bees who change their diet during "fetus stage". But moving genitals like a dog won't evolve you out of your dog IQ state. These fetuses wear the uterus, introduce cancerous oxidative stress and make conception harder, it's like a used car that is trashed before the wedding day, or a space rocket for Mars that you trash with trips to a town on Earth. For the big day, you want a clean strong healthy uterus, not one damaged by birth control pills (women got brain cancer) and whatever, you want a clean healthy vagina, not one worn by endless x with endless animals posing as human males. The quality of the embryo is dependent on the quality of the genitals and the nutrition, for example, melatonin increases egg health, fertility and biomarkers in animals, the eggs are in a state of flux and embryo health is determined by far more than "the eggs mom gave you when born", everything is in a state of flux, everything is energy, eggs appear as matter, but recall the New Elements, there is more to it than we can see with the present genetics anyway, eggs change, with RF, DE, etc and sexual habits too, not just diet of girl since birth. Eggs interact with the environment they're in, trillions of reactions happen each second, mom's experiences are encoded in eggs and sperm holds dad's experiences too to inform the offspring, all is in a state of flux. Sex outside procreation shortensing the life & healthspan of the child, because the girl uses valuable eggs, body not knowing this time is not pro-creation, so the child gets the worse eggs. Sex outside procreation is sabotaging parents, as kid is weaker, less able to help parents, parent IQ diminishes, as brain doesn't keep itself in top shape, nutrients go to genital liquids that are produced by humans during orgasm. No wonder USA IQ is so low. ☺☺

When millions of people live in cities plagued by infinite violence and filthy buildings, it is selfish (or demonic if you want to sound more 'religious') to engage in nude LGBTQ parades (3 min video) (Jewish TV stations never show the nude part, as LGBTQ are portrayed in a good light to destroy gentiles and enable Jewish takeover of all nations), useless straight or gay sex (outside of procreation) when we need 11 companies to get rid of violent crime immediately via the state of emergency. This is even more demonic after the TV has educated all, 8 hours daily for 6 months on all radio-TV via the global state of emergency, about meditative states that achieve happiness higher than orgasm via breathing alone. As the Immortalist Anthem (and first book page) explains, we will be trillion year old teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals able to emit atoms via a third eye ray to help build offspring with 1 "baby" (18 year old size baby who gets a nice 1 second brain upload for knowing more ethics, music, physics and science than all humans combined today) materialized by even 3 billion parents in a minute not 9 months. As humans evolve beyond the primate animals we're today, future people living 30 times longer than us (30×90=2700), or 2,700 years, can do more than humans today (who may be like rats☺☺☺ compared to future "Immortals" humans), like materialize a small 1 year old sized baby (not 2 billion parents, but maybe 30 or 5000) or, using the same materialization tech, possibly never eat (unless perhaps they grow to an adult in the first 25 years of life) due to living on "cosmic energy" (some form of particles that we call energy today, with negligible mass) as Nikola Tesla predicted one day we will. These people, as all evolutionary smart people today, have sex ONLY for PROCREATION, to conserve matter and not release it via fluids and also because they understand the brain so well, they attain happiness 1 million times > orgasm at will any minute of the day, being the smiliest people ever☺☺☺. After 8 pages of meditation & LGBT talk below, the science papers on nutritional drain are presented, so all people know some of the issues with sex addiction, erotica, masturbation and etc. LGBTQ (clergy died during gay sex, every unrestrained animal is clergy today) is used for genocidal purposes, for extermination. While they push LGBT in the West, you see they push 3 child policy in China, the East. Aren't those Jews, KGB smart? Let gentiles have 1 child, Jews 3 and Chinese 3, Russians 8. Youtube on avoiding porn is good for those who watch porn (should be illegal for all ages) or masturbate, since it's a waste of time. Carl Jung explains how easy is to overcome lust, and its benefits.

Masturbating folks are treated like trash. Carl Jung said sexless life for 90 days transforms you. The video summary of the book "Continence and Its Creative Power" has useful ideas for all wanting sex for pro-creation only. This video explains why dating non-virgins is a very bad idea: all ladies 35+ are desperate to have kids, since fertility and egg quality drops a lot after 35. Sperm is produced fresh, but eggs are the same and they can suffer huge damage during life events, RF, DE, heavy metals, illnesses, etc, putting older women at a serious disadvantage. See the 7 types of women who cheat. 80% of women lie about their sexual affair body count, see how to discover a whore and low IQ bipedal animal. Avoid single moms/dads, unless a single parent yourself, since you'll always be 2nd class citizen, a slave, kids/ex are always first priority. A new kid being born will deal with the drama of the previous fights the parent got into, and that's not ideal for humanity itself, if it can be avoided. Single moms are often bitches who had sex outside procreation before they met you. Beware. Here are 8 signs he or she sleeps with someone else, and it's time to walk away. Here are 2 things (presence, safety) you get from love. Beware of parasites who want to use you to retire early. LGBTQ get HIV, which suppresses immunity and turns normal flu, COVID, RSV, etc viruses into more virulent strains that infect the rest of humans, so LGBTQ who're sexually active are a burden on society, since they require more health resources to deal with the HIV infections and all infections they get more often due to low immunity from HIV and too much sex. Choosing sex outside of procreation and erotica that transmits HIV is thus selfish, lowers the Immortality Credit Score due to extra burden on society with sex outside of procreation regardless of their gay or straight orientation. The more one night stands, the more disease transmission and the lower the score. The 40 sex partners culture will vanish as the scores of these people will be going towards zero, as they're literally ☺☺☺ supporters of mass rape vibe in schools and genocide by diseases spreading way faster. Only 1% of LGBTQA are A or asexuals who're not into sex outside procreation. The rest are animals, insane wanna be cannibal primates who need psychological help. They need conversion therapy. Avoid them as you would avoid guys with a deadly diseases that kill you in 1 day.☺☺☺

As the toothbrush section explains, any device that vibrates (vibrator) creates strong magnetic fields that can damage ovaries, testicles, eggs and lead to birth defects, so hedonism can lead to many issues. Even now, having sex for procreation only (no self touching to arouse oneself, since body releases during sleep semen it doesn't need) may lead to best longevity and health; at least have sex before 2 pm after waking up fully, to allow yourself plenty of time to eat, resupply vitamins and take care of your eyes (eyedrops if dry eyes or yawns to generate tears), because the sex act, or any emission (caused during sleep, by spy agency terrorists as a form of torture, if you forget to empty bladder before bed and drink a lot of water or eat within the last 4 hours before bed) depletes the body and eyes of nutrients. Some may be skeptical, but a 20x mirror allows adults to watch eyes before and after sex with their wife and see the effects, that it's not really a myth or folklore superstition (at 1x it's hard to notice, often times not visible at all); thus, the nutritional deficiency of the eyes and brain is not a myth created by the 'puritanical clergy' of various religions, it's an undeniable reality of life and science; taking a quick shower before going to bed, avoiding stress, heavy evening meals, etc all help diminish abnormal sperm production, besides not watching sexual content and not touching the genital area, being careful with evil people using dream gadgets to create semen discharge or sometimes even erotic dreams. Mature women have no sex outside of pro-creation and they're quieter emotionally. Psycho women tend to always be loud, create drama, noise and useless activities, not let anyone rest in the house, instead of meditation. Some always complain and make everyone miserable.

The spy agency of Eternia ensures that the books allowed to be printed, the movies, music allowed, Internet sites are not brainwashing its citizens about the "bliss and benefits of sex outside of procreation" without real evidence, without presenting the alternate point of view of this book and 100s of others on meditative bliss, the people who love to meditate and bring Eternal Universal Peace instead of rubbing their genitals and not caring about millions tortured and dead every year, live long by semen conservation, etc, just like many animals who only have sex 3 times in life. It's funny how they got this sex education, required, without requiring them to know the cons or disadvantages to this, in destroying their chance to evolve their brains to cause bliss instantly when needed, to be a happy person. You know, when you're 5 you learn things faster, as you have more plastic brain, etc, when you're 50, slower, with accent if a language, etc, so they brainwash kids with this, when the most vital education is meditation classes and bliss maintenance. To take over nations' resources, colonize them or turn them into slave labor sources, cannon fodder 3rd world country buffer states, they need unhappy people who will be cruel to others and mean, who deify pain glorifying rituals and religions (Jesus torture in 14 stations of the cross in every Catholic church for example, because Jewish Popes (1st Pope was Jewish), Bishops knew mind control is easier when people are unhappy or in pain, various festivals like Muslim Ashura*, etc),* so only a temporary bliss is allowed – one that spreads disease, causes nutrient drain, faster aging and brain weakening for max CIA mind control. Today, we communicate 1 billion times faster via email, 1 millisecond instead of 3 months for far away places, today we also understand neuroscience a billion times more and how meditation can reach bliss a billion times easier and with less body damage. To many it seems, and perhaps, rightly so, for meditators, that LGBT are simply uneducated people who have been brainwashed at gunpoint (the gun is often a special mind control weapon of torture they use to robotize various puppets who impose the new 'religion' or believe in it due to CIA gadgets causing attraction or arousal synthetically around persons of same gender perhaps if they use that tech or even use invasive images or telepathy to flood brain with ideas that 'x and y like you' etc), via state run propaganda disguised as 'private agencies' by the government that sex alone is bliss, when it's not true at all; LGBT stuff just another extermination tool packaged as promoting freedom and human rights (while designed to take away the human right to education about the much happier meditation bliss, much longer, of the eternally peaceful civilizations). A few people really are born with both organs, etc and different biology, and they genuinely may have the animalistic attraction to both genders, etc, but the point here is to be free, as in the land of the free, free from having to rub your genitals to be happy, thanks to a much more intelligent understanding of the brain and happiness. We're no longer cave men. We want scientific studies to prove the fact that it doesn't cause nutritional deficiency (vitamin section explains 30-70% of Americans are deficient in various vitamins) and making gays and lesbians easier to mind control by CIA and even lower in IQ. To destroy a country or continent, to steal all its resources, in hybrid warfare they need to turn everyone into selfish hedonists, to place one against the other, so the promotion of eterni culture, eterni greeting that loves all and achieves nirvana instantly is not there, only the Talmud-etc culture. It's important to recall the Zion Protocols for global war. To free ourselves from the "let all become gay" terrorists (in some areas most LGBT are fake, spies actually) who pretend to be gay, lesbian to lead others to their own destruction (just like Foreign Spies often pretend to like a toxic product or habit, to make gentiles (or locals) use it and shrink their lifespan by that), we need to understand neuroscience. They create sex shops, without a meditation center near it. Their aim is the enslavement of the people, not their "freedom" and "human rights". Recall the "rights" and the 100s of deceptions. ☺☺☺

Low IQ very violent (by immortalist standards) PhDs with macho music, violent candidates supporting habits, create research studies where they don't account for 100,000 confounding factors factors, and claim that "people who have sex more often live longer". When you actually read the study design and factors they accounted for, you're shocked: they only accounted for 3 or 4 factors, and often not for exercise at all. Plus, it only held true for women in many studies. Correlation is NOT causation. While it is true that someone may live a little longer than if you watch TV, simply because you exercise a little, if you keep active in building the 11 companies that bring 80 trillion year lifespans for all, you will certainly outlive those rats by 80 trillion years, not just 2. What happens in reality is something far simpler: parasitic aristocrats who torture others to death and work others to death, in general, via theft, obviously, have a lot more time on their hands to create wars, and maybe have even 3 "one night stand, sex included" dates a week if not yet married. Those with more time on their hand, who're not at all concerned with the well being of the humanity around them, having low altruism, have a LOT more time to have sex, after of course, torturing the hell out of the workers indirectly by passive "free riding" of the system. The worked to death stressed worker, eating poisonous foods and etc obviously has no time for sex and lives shorter, not because of not having sex, but in spite of not having sex. If that abysmal IQ aristocrat had any kindness, he would realize that diet could help him live to 5000, instead of "gaining 2 weeks by having sex often". So, here we go, every day, the news for the enslaved worker is "have more sex to live 2 years longer", instead of "be free from aristocrats to live 5 billion years longer". The grand deception is that by being an animal you become more of an Immortal. It's a clever trick to fool everyone into thinking that the "DNA" is depending on how many sex attempts you have. Turtles don't have much sex, and they live to 400, they have sex once. You see these scammers and bloodsuckers, they only want slaves. The human species has a quantum field and it knows when someone is working to extend the species lifespan, to triple it, to enable it to go off planet, increase its chance of survival, so it's those humans who stimulate their brains that it will support by DNA changes to live longer, not the ☺abysmal IQ☺ folks having sex outside of procreation. No human being ever lived to 150, let alone 4000, by having more sex. Yet we know from bees that simply changing your diet, you can live much longer, 40 times longer. Imagine that. You never hear "we can live to 4000 by changing our diet" on the news, only the lowest IQ things to destroy your eyes and brain with sex. The Zionist media knows how to drastically lower average IQ of the gentile and it will do so, look at the alcohol promotion, or tobacco, weed. If they can give you crap info, they will, to keep people ignorant, in a brain fog, as ☺abysmal in IQ☺ as a rock. In centenarian studies, a key factor is the will to live, optimism. All centenarians are optimists. So, this means immortalists, who're optimistic we can bring World Peace in 3 months and 4 trillion years lifespans for all, can get a little ahead of the pessimistic rats believing they will live 3 years longer by having sex outside of procreation, and perhaps, even daily. We immortalists believe we can live 4 trillion years longer by not having sex outside procreation, we're true optimists. Zionists will even promote abortion, since that gives cancer, all kinds of diseases that shorten your life. Look at the life of the longest living people, they lived a life of less cellular division, light food intake, so sex goes exactly against that, it causes a vast cellular division to occur, ages you faster, far faster than even a little masturbation, since it is a lot more involved. Why do you think CIA Jews and Brits cause sudden sperm emissions as a form of torture? It's pure war, murderer, China knows it, so China is preparing to defend itself preemptively. For centuries, Brits tried to drug every Chinese if they could get around it. If gay, he may have casual sex often and die as a species soon, a childless sex addict meeting its well earned demise. The universe has a self-correcting design: selfish folks, LGBT, disappear. We need to LGBT to become heterosexual parents, distribute kids rearing evenly, so LGBT is like choosing to not contribute to raising the kids, kids being people who support the older generation when kids become adults. While adopting kids seems OK, this only happens due to poor planning. If license to be parent exists, all have sex for procreation only, no unwanted kids exist, so gays can't adopt anyone, as a kid would be better served by a relative of deceased parents (say 2 parents die) with similar quantum DNA patterns.

should be removed, and only those who live as a biological parents of kids family☺☺☺, meaning cohabitation between mother and father, in one house, get the tax benefits from having a child, two or 3. If the 2 divorce, the child support is 0, since the gov pays all of it to the parents in exact proportion to the time they get for custody. This prevents people from trying to marry to steal money or turn the other parent into a slave to pay child support, by psychological manipulation and other means, fraud and lies to win custody. Criminal partners can game the system to live as a parasite off the other spouse to get high child support, while they destroy society. Such vampirism ought to be eliminated by setting "child support from gov" to 300/month (or whatever is deemed average expense for a kid) universal amount, the games of divorce for profit are over. Once the child tax benefit equals child support, meaning divorcing or splitting doesn't get anyone any extra money, child support is eliminated as a concept and this causes the divorce rate to drop and for biological parents to stay together longer if not married. Many divorce only to get child support and be a parasite. The era of Justice will Begin. The bitches won't divorce instantly anymore, or they won't marry anymore either, marriage will become a thing of the past, to avoid courts and issues if the two decide to not live together anymore due to fights over issues. The child lives with whoever has the higher immortality credit score, if the two no longer choose to live together, for example, max score is 800, if dad score is 700 and mom is 100-600, dad gets 100% custody, but he's free to allow kid to go to see mom sometimes. This saves us trillions in courts and time-money,☺☺☺ better used for immortalist technology and building a just angelic world of gentle tender soft healing nurturing graceful loving kindness, of such efficiency and silence, there are no arguments and raised voices anymore: ethical people act quietly, without fanfare and useless talk. Couples, no longer brainwashed by greed and "how much did I contribute to raising the kid", act towards benefiting the human quantum field and all potential Immortals, and raise their score accordingly, since the Eterni Bank knows exactly how much each parent spent on the kid. You know, if you live to 9000, you may not live together "forever" as the rituals say, since the number one priority is not one person, but the entire collective of Immortals' wellbeing, you may have 30 kids with 10 partners in 8000 years. Marriage loses its meaning, especially in the future, when, like in the Immortalist Anthem, we become "genital free" beautiful colorful telepathic radiant teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals materializing offspring, but can have 1 billion parents for one kid, since each precipitates a few atoms. The main drive of humans is survival and that increases when we as a species can shapeshift into the lifeforms that can survive on many planets or even stars, that can travel long distances, so then what happens the main drive of humanity becomes becoming a shapeshifting materializing one gender species. This is why marriage doesn't make any sense, since many men or women are emotional abusers who want the spouse they feel entitled to own, manipulate, control and torture, to act against the immortalist cause that benefits the species. True love is Loving Humanity the Most by doing what extends the lifespan of most people worldwide, not buying silly stuff or doing filif snail IQ☺☺☺ stuff to make the spouse happy (when they can attain happiness at any moment by conscious breathing), not the fancies of an abysmal IQ spouse, and this is clearly explained in this video. The freedom to leave, the idea to remain always independent makes the relation 1000 times more filled with love and altruism, there is no capitalistic ownership born of demonic religion. Only God owns anyone and this no marriage way put maximum pressure on both to become God like instead of manipulating the other, to help humanity instead of sex, etc. Avoid dating anyone like this. One guy explains 10 reasons to never get married. Their social media will tell you before you ever meet them if they're a psycho or not. Any biological parents have a kid together to help all humans become Immortals, not to possess the other or child for Eternity☺☺☺. This is totally opposite to Mormon mass killings, brainwashing to get 10% of income of church members, and temple "celestial marriage" empty rituals, with their cannibalistic quotes of violence, etc, where space and materials are wasted while others are in jails or homeless. Over millennia your score may become 800, hers 600, a real divergence emerges, an incompatibility… So, having marriage papers, endless rituals is anti-intelligence, dishonest and a waste of time.

Today, marriage doesn't make any sense for men since courts act as sources of aristocratic parasitic terror and theft of money property, offspring, any gangster lady with Immortality Credit Score half of man can steal millions, kids if guy didn't take proper actions, moving his assets and trust years before marriage and prenup, postnup, etc. The guy has to record anything, to defend himself in court 40 times more as everything is stacked against him, as a reward for being 70% of work accident victims as he takes the most dangerous jobs: equality of death risk it's called, reflected in lifespan length. Instead of living his life, he has to waste endless effort to defend himself against the Jewish lawyer who comes to destroy society with his "Chicken IQ" women Take it all, society IQ goes to Zero" and lower everyone's IQ, so he can enslave every gentile. He turns music into infernal rabbi shouting matches, to destroy each gentile family via irresponsible females and males, paid by the Jewish Pentagon to destroy every family on Earth, as they incite and instigate every human to violence subtly, then the Jewish movie-music producer and lawyer alliance can make $$$ by 10 divorces per person, screw every kid, dominate every field. He removes any chance of any time off, not 222 weeks off as in immortalism where both people are equals, friends who understand due to low IQ humans have 2 genders for now, and understand true equality of genderless Immortals, but 0 weeks off, where fetus becomes a psycho before he's born, a lunatic ready to kill in endless aristocratic wars of theft for the rich, who can get of course, 500 weeks off if wanted. Every day, we're brainwashed by the Pentagon Jews about Jesus' fraud and the demonic Bible of genocide and Rape, even in military songs. The emancipation of gentile men worldwide from Jewish and other forms of Gangsterism is finally beginning, women got rights last 100 years, now it's time for men to get some rights too, and increase their IQ, stop allowing Jewish Gangsters to cut their penises, regulate their beliefs with Genocide Rapism Religions by psycho Moses killing 3000 humans, calling for genocide of trillions of galaxies "God gives over to Jews" etc. They brainwashed us for 2 millennia Moses was the man of God. Jesus, the evil Rabbi pretending to be inclusive, praises the "beat gentile slaves until they die, as long as it's not instant or days, 2 months or years it's fine" quotes in Mt 5:17-9. The Bible teaches us that Jews can beat us, the gentile slaves, to death, as long as that death happens in a few weeks or years and nobody can prove it was from the Jewish covert torture. By the time 9 months pass, Jews may have forced the gentile in 2-10 events that may provide "alternative explanation for gentile death": slow covert killing. This extends to nations that are to be exterminated, like Ukraine 5 million folks killed by Jews and Russians in 1933. How can Jews hypnotize a whole planet to believe the Bible is the Word of God? Deception, Nazi tactics: repeat a lie 9,000 times and people will take it as fact, as with Jesus miracles, take over media and promote Jewish Jesus as the answer to everything or whatever ideology Jews need to control covertly a nation, even fake "communism" where Jews hold all vital positions. Recall the Jewish financiers accumulating enormous powers via trade. Men must be aware, women spies can pretend to be a friend and then use co-habitation laws in many states to claim half of your assets after just 5 years of cohabitation, thru lies and manipulation of law: parasites can win even without marriage, hence many prefer surrogates☺☺☺ for having a baby and raising the kid alone. Men are no longer dogs on a leash for thieving animalistic bitches of cow IQ (manipulated by Jews or spies) who actually hold humanity backwards with their vanity focus on "beauty" (instead of trillion year lifespans for teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals) and stupid stuff, like restaurants, religion, rituals and endless 2 trillion $/year worth of trash, etc.

Men are becoming highly educated via the free internet, men no longer crave sex outside of procreation (as the Jew programmed them to in order to manipulate them via the female), silly ladies can't control men as they did before, as men don't need sex anymore, meditation and conscious breathing is 10000 times the bliss of any woman encounter. Humans finally realize that just as etlif IQ is a 10^{27} times higher than filif human IQ, so do our descendants, the shapeshifting Immortals live in 10000 dimensions and planets at once, and for their hyperspace cloud self having sex with a human fruit fly or microbe (humans are far less intelligent vs Immortals as a fruit fly or flea is vs humans) is not really something they look forward to, as they can shapeshift into any lifeform. If you sit in a room and have 30 monitors playing 30 simulations in 3D of you doing something on 30 eras of humanity or planets, they happen in real time, so your Immortal Self can have 3000 reincarnations at once, i.e. you're a continuum of being, both the trillion year old descendant of humans and the insect human today, so the insect world loses its charm, when you realize you're not the insect but a mystery: for example NaOH + HCl = NaCl

+ H_2O, same electrons and protons rearranged, are we the NaOH or NaCl? The insect or the Immortal? We're both, protons, electrons in a movie. The Immortal's vantage point is beyond human time, i.e. all lives can happen at once, see afterlife section on why its goals would be different than fornication of 0.0001% of his being with insects (humans) or bacteria. Yes, we're microbes compared to an Immortal, as humans, and that's the reality, but what if we're the Immortal too, in becoming? The moment you realize that, reality shifts towards longevity faster. Would you commune with an Immortal who is a trillion times more real than any human or play erotica with a nanosecond lived neutrino (humans)? Your brain will become as stupid as your choice. We become that which we focus on, so all need to focus on God first, the first Immortal, you become as short lived as the beings you focus on, insects or the God or Immortal Energy (if atheist) that lives and animates the filif IQ lifeforms. In school they tell you "to become a great scientist or professor, you need to think like one", same thing, to become an Immortal species, you need to first think like one, pretend, role play a little. Like medical students train before going to practice medicine, role play they're doing real surgery or etc, cops/soldiers role play in training they fight a gang or war, etc first. When you think about the Immortalist Anthem, you realize that as hyperspace beings, the genderless shapeshifting Immortals ☺☺☺ don't have any interest in sex, nor does any smart human, except to pro-create.

Now, the current mythology from the chimp era of 1000 BC is that 2 people have to marry and be very possessive, to raise a kid or 3, but this model creates conflict, as each side is trying to get the other to do everything their way. This creates tension, and frustration, as she likes big dogs and heavy metal and he likes meditation and peaceful music. So,☺☺☺ dating.gov and parent license exist to ensure that two people have way more likes in common (music, diet, personality, politics, beliefs, etc) than average, to prevent fights over whatever, including personality and way of approaching things and life that would conflict if they want the kid raised their way: the two have to agree to let the free videos guide the kid the universal way and to a general plan (e.g. immortalists would never date anyone who drinks alcohol, smokes, uses weed, caffeine, or listens to regular music, which is not eterni, who is not trying to employ eterni tone as if you date the first time a trillionaire and whisper in the presence of a trillion year Immortals baby in the house, the child of the Galaxy President who sends 0.001% of himself as human, or has pets (owning pets is selfish when people don't visit an MD for decades in US, plus World Peace requires focus to happen in years, zero violent crime worldwide is even harder: no serious human being has a pet, only animal frauds and cops do, because the effort needed to reach zero violence, the stage of being human that is, not an animal, is huge for immortalists given the others don't give a dime about it and animalistic folks promote the death of kids, seniors by dogs and the blinding and scratching of kids by cats: you only have so much free time in a week; don't be deceived by words, liars are everywhere, their actions reveal their so called "immortalism level"), so as to not start a fight over how he will be vaccinated, schooled, at home or with the Jewish 3 year old intercourse based Talmud rapist education system, of Catholic Cardinals and Popes brainwashing people Beating Kids with Rods, Smashing them against rocks, Beating Slaves to Death is Word of God and couples need sex outside of procreation as it's "God's love" and other insect IQ teachings, such as circumcision. The electric heaters and small room coolers mean that everyone can adjust their room to their ideal temp and it's best for 2 parents to live more as platonic 10^{90} IQ etlif beings, friends who help raise an Immortal wanna be template for the human species, and not "the owner of the other". This genocidal Bible idea about two beings become one is a violation of free will. This enforced cultural expectation of "he is mine" is the first step towards total disrespect and becoming a control freak who then forces separation and tension out of control. It also prevents, (due to this fake concept that the spouse somehow dictates what you choose and owns you partially), the donation of sperm, egg by high IQ people to infertile or low IQ couples who want a smarter kid, even if half kid. It creates a clan of us vs the world, when we humans are all a Family of Immortals, mere insects trying to live to a trillion year old, which is a mere nanosecond in the life of a True Immortal that God can grant, thru God's miraculous (not fake) power no human prophet (profit) ever displayed of course. ☺☺☺

Don't be shy, if anyone asks to date you, quiz them first, "I believe I might enjoy thinking about this for a few minutes, if you allow me to, as I like to overthink, but would you be so kind to answer some questions first? Or use Elicitation CIA technique to avoid asking questions – use elicitation statements instead of questions to ask these, while looking for signs of lies 1. how many times have you drank alcohol this life and now? (never date if often for a long time, and now) 2. Smoked weed? (never date) 3. Smoked tobacco? (never date) 4. Vaped? Never date. 5. Had sex outside procreation (never date them)? 6. Do you have pets? Have you ever had dogs (huge red flag if not a tiny dog, avoid any big dog owner, the dog can kill you and your kids and war/violence/alcohol kill millions each year, dogs/pets never end these, but take us away from ending them, pets are the creation of selfish aristocrats who treat pets better than people)? What kind of pet? 7. What kind of music do you like? 8. Your top 1-3 hobbies? (if you read the book you know what to avoid…). 9. Can I see your social media so I can browse thru it now quick to see if we resonate? (facebook, x, instagram, youtube, if anything non eterni, minimal stuff about humanity (always about him/her/family/3 friends), big red flag, the more violent the music or the sillier, the faster you say no, you know in mere minutes you can tell if s/he a fraud. Don't be duped to waste time. Short and to the point, beware, many will tell endless lies. Ask these in smart ways that never reveal you're an immortalist perhaps, over a period of chats, so it's not like an interrogation. Like "Oh, I love drinking Tropicana, it's a healthy drink, fresh orange juice. What do you drink?". If he reads the book, s/he may lie to make oneself appear like an immortalist. But you can text book website and wait for 1-4 months for him/her to change, then check what effect it had. If no change, then, he will never change and talking to him is a waste of time for the rest of your life. He who can't change in months won't change much in 9 years either. Stop draining your energy. They're frauds, parasites who maintain the hell world of Eternal World War and Violence. We need efficiency☺☺☺ to get anywhere next 3 decades, with regards to the Immortalist Anthem, Immortalist Party and Eternal Universal Peace to prevent the 10 second end fo all pets, animals and humans on Earth and Zero Violent Crime in USA and then finally worldwide. We have no time for cocky idiots. The world has 8.5 billion people, you don't need "vegetable IQ"☺☺☺ people. Don't waste time dating much, just give them a business card with the book or something and then use that to select, weed out cannibal chimps ultra fast. Your life can't be wasted with "idiots". Get real, because lazy (blown by the wind) unfocused people will never achieve any change for humanity, the motivated alone can.

Thus, what is important is for people to control their animalism by realizing meditative bliss can be 900000 times happier, since Love means helping "flea IQ" insects live to 4000 not erotica, be OK to sleep in separate rooms if so desired, literally as roommates on contract with the Immortalist Anthem to raise a kid who helps people live to 4000. Marriage is an outdated concept of control and slavery, a remnant of the aristocratic class model of reality, where rat IQ parents arrange marriages and force 2 kids together as gypsies still do with 14 year olds today. Let everyone be free, for freedom is the most important thing. Without freedom, no love can exist. No co-parent will have any right to tell the other how to live, just as you would not tell that to a roommate. They simply do a joint project together, raising the kid, as platonic friends, no drama and noise after 9 pm or at any time, no yelling as fines accrue for each recorded instance for domestic terrorism and previolent crime (yelling). The duo realize sex is overrated, a chore, a necessary evil they have to engage in to pro-create due to our infinite imbecility and inability to come up with a better way to materialize offspring living to a trillion, a curse. In this Exalted Realism state, the duo clothe themselves with the Radiant Glistening Garment of Virtue of Ever Ecstatic☺☺☺ Resplendent Magnificent Bounteous Gentle Tender Soft Kind Nurturing Loving Effulgence of Eternal☺☺ Immortality for All. The duo lets their life be used to commune with the Immortalist Ideal (quantum entanglement with future humans who're "Immortals"), for this will help them become more like that, instead of more cannibal chimps they already are surrounded by in the billions. No more judges and lawyers will exist to listen to the insect IQ complaints from spouses that "he doesn't want to have sex", and other stupid trials on TV. These animals can simply masturbate if they're so keen on living short and being dumber than many mammals that have sex for pro-creation only, and we can have more scientists instead of admin experts to attend and count the penis hairs on the guy who is unhappy his wife doesn't want to suck his precious hair or other such cannibal chimp concerns. Marriage is outdated, because people grow, their interests and likes can diverge after 20 years so much, staying together feels oppressive. The goal is max growth towards the Immortalist Anthem ethics for all citizens, not keeping 2 human insects chained together so they can't move or grow.☺☺☺

The immortalist duo focuses on respecting each other's freedom and space. All accounts separate, the Eterni Bank knows how much each contributes to the kid and none has right to the other's property for any reason, at any time, just as you don't for roommates. If house is owned by one, the other will get back all money at inflation rate (which equals bank rate, only 1 credit card in all USA) for any expenses paid or rent paid if they decide to split due to fights over whatever, and credit scores will determine who gets to keep child. The AI will compute that in 1 minute should they decide to part ways, after counselors tried to help them resolve the disputes. If they buy house together, all splits per all transactions in the bank, and all houses will be maintained and repaired by the 1st of the 11 global companies, Immortality Building Inc, so no fights or need for any litigation, and drama over "but I cleaned the house, so give me 400 million". If 2 chimps can't even agree on a 50-50 house cleaning routine, alternating it or whatever, then they're incapable of being parents. So, everyone will be fine, as no lawsuits are possible when all assets and salaries are roughly equal and living to 4000 or 5 billion later is the only thing that matters. Judges will dismiss any such crap, as 200$ won't help anyone live 900 years extra, it will only waste our time as we have courts, lawyers and judges instead of science. This eliminates all bitches, users, parasites and fake romance to loot others. Respect and proper tone that exists before marriage all vanish once married, marriage destroys all love, the other is merely a paper, a slave that even gets a ring of slavery to signal SLAVERY, the chained dog status. Spouses feel like they're entitled to terrorize or control the other in 100s of ways. If we met an alien who is 1 billion years old, meaning 10 million times closer to God than all best humans combined, all sages and saints combined, we wouldn't do what gnat IQ folks do to their spouse, they would have a little more gentle tender respect for free will, as eterni music teaches. The same attitude then extends from parent to kid, when the kid needs to grow and not become a clown unable to make any decision, because parents chose everything for him for 18 years. ☺

Men and women realize they don't need pets, and actually, see pet ownership as a hindrance to true World Peace and to perfect relationships where ladies pay attention to the family, not pets. More than ever, both genders expect any "persons wanting to date you" that the "wanna be" dates need to focus 99-100% of online posts, habits (no alcohol, smoking, drugs, weed, no bad music), hobbies on the Immortalist Anthem's humanitarian 11 companies for all humanity, World Peace in 3 months, zero violence worldwide in 3 years, etc exclusively, to avoid the 10 second end of all pets and humans soon, not on random music, attractive pics of self, pets, etc: humanity 99-100%, self 0-1%. Women are awakening too from the hypnotic Jewish charlatan Abrahamic religions trance of Eternal Imbecility, and they look forward to being eternally happy via conscious breathing and without sex, as they work to create the genderless shapeshifting Immortals. Men realize women often go to beauty salon twice a week, while their kids don't visit the doctor in years even when problems exist (dad works 70 hours to make money for the Queen of Hell, so kid is left to her), the Queen image is very important, so they will plan sometimes even before 1st date to trap a guy for a few years and then get half assets…, the richer the guy, the more meticulous the plan before or during the marriage, so she can say to the world that "she exits marriage because he was "an evil guy", she needs an excuse to get max CASH, even if not the kid, who may not even be her goal, only the CASH. If guy is very rich, alimony will help her buy more beauty salon visits to perfect her holy saintly image, so she might want the kid too, to extract more cash. Always recall the Jewish Plan for USA, and how united the crypto Jewish lawyers, judges, etc are in aiding girls to loot gentile men. Every lady is moving towards science and the Immortalist Anthem vibes of true gentleness absent in our macho hooligan world. More and more, the Religion Psychosis dissolves and is replaced by the love of scientific hypothesis testing and by the Virtue of Resplendent Magnificent Bounteous Gentle Tender Soft Kind Nurturing Loving ☺☺ Immortality for All. Bliss generated at will via conscious breathing, not once a month, when the cannibal chimps have sex outside of procreation, as proof of their imbecility and infinite animalism. Monkeys love remaining an animal, humans reach for becoming shapeshifting Immortals. A man's primary purpose☺☺☺ is the manifestation of the Immortalist Anthem, not his wife or girlfriend, watch this video about a few ideas (not all in the video) every son needs to hear from his dad. Don't let monkeys destroy your kids. Some people are people in appearance only. They will stick to their animalism even after reading this book entirely. Only immortalist ladies who have proven via volunteering their immortalist nature are worth your time. Give them a business card with your website or this one, see what happens, don't waste time to date folks who don't have real progressive values, just want a sugar daddy. Stay focused on the 11 companies mission, it's effortless then to convert neutrals into hard core immortalists in the chase game, as they chase you. They'll even unwittingly provide info to help turn more into immortalists, as you see them. ☺☺☺

Unlike 100 years ago, when most violent crime was done by men, today, 20% is done by women. Add to that other forms of "almost" violent crime that don't involve tough but are pure terror, see the police section, women know how to commit crimes that are actually more damaging physically and to your lifespan than a mere slap or push (in order to avoid cop involvement, some are inborn terrorists having learned from life how to be a demon in human form). Women can be as bad as Adolf Hitler, in fact history is full of genocidal ladies who ran empires, led armies to genocidal wars just like all male psychos. They just imitate male values without any thought of nonkilling and trillion ways to peace without war. Robot killers like Moses, watch this female Mossad killer of an innocent guy, without any evidence he's a terrorist. Jewish ladies pose as “women loving you”, to destroy you, your life mission to rid the Planet of Evil Scriptures, quite often dyeing hair blonde to appear Nordic. Women can coordinate with their Jew run youtube to place on your social media or youtube suggestion on the right, videos of Mossad agents disguised as youtubers (MDs, health advocates, university professors, spiritual people, you name it, vegans, omnivores, all flooding your subscription with stuff related to the crap they want to force into your life, everyone who is celebrity on social media is a cop or spy, or a puppet of cops; they're telling endless lies to maintain their online cover and persona) who're part of her terror team trying to make you believe she loves you, or to coerce you into doing whatever, when she doesn't, as a form of torture, people need to know women can be like Hitler, Moses: many Nazi guards who killed/ tortured to death 1000s of Jews and gentiles were women, or performed sadistic torture via their medical knowledge (amputation, etc). Many women were queens who committed endless murders, like true serial killers, and genocides (100s of queens are not even covered by youtubes, since their wars were thought to be normal, but we know they were genocides, as most wars are, since there are trillions of ways to any outcome without war). The males are brainwashed by the Jew religion that all women are like the sweet soft mythical Mother Mary… which makes their destruction via gullibility far easier and that of the entire human species. The Nazi serial killer ladies and Hitler made nice photos petting dogs or smiling, like today, many post smiley and dog filled pictures on social media, so don’t assume the facade always matches the real person: a cruel female or male terrorist and serial killer (covert killing) could be hiding behind the public persona (clever, highly curated, family life, kind to animals, or spiritual or whatever, all family the same, experts at covert murder). A female MD could be a serial killer, who consciously harms patients. Nothing is as the cover appears sometimes. Most celebrities are pure evil, per thousands of pastors telling people to avoid their “music” and social media, even their “cover” is infernal evil. Too brainwashed since birth. USA freedom = zero. Any ethical person can't use an infernal spy cover, as for every bad guy they catch, they create 10, doing the work of “demons” and destroying all humans, leading all to the 10 second end. USA was created by serial killer British general Washington and is still run by such people sadly. Change is slow. Society programs men that 99% of women are nice/kind, gentle, sweet, as in 1840. Men realize there are far more options today than being a slave to a psychopathic mind controlled serial killer female robot of CIA, than 100 years ago, which bring a new level of progress towards true Equality of the genderless shapeshifting Immortals: ☺☺☺

People are too brainwashed to do stuff only for money, so choosing to pay someone as with a gestational surrogate agency or whatever setup, can be, in some cases, much better, as the surrogate “mother” maybe can take time off 9 months and learn about nutrition, etc and be open to following a very detailed eterni immortalist music, vocal tone exposure, etc to comply to the most stringent Immortalist Anthem criteria of that specific surrogate agency modeled on immortalism. Men can choose a vegan high IQ lady (parent can ask for a vegan diet, though it's best to choose someone who is a vegan already, you know they will follow it plus supplements you offer for free 100%) who hates coffee, alcohol (never smoked, never drank alcohol, never used coffee or not last 5 years, etc), who listens to peaceful music if you want a vegan baby, high IQ, etc… Why? Because caffeine in sodas, energy drinks, coffee, cacao, chocolate and other junk can lower IQ 30 points if she drinks it while pregnant… diet needs avoid iron deficiency or mineral, via avoiding high polyphenol intake, etc... offer free extra vitamins, etc… to take, etc…☺☺☺ people rest and take care of fetus way better if they're paid… companies pay first time surrogates 45K on average, so any "altruistic arrangement" has to come close to commercial prices to incentivize anyone to do a great job, rest, not work maybe at all, etc. Most ladies today listen to hyper violent music, donated generously by mind controlled "zero freedom" celebrities (trained to be mean from birth by the system), paid covertly by the military and spy agencies, music has become a Show of Macho Bravado and violent Crime Generation, a cover for "catch 1 bad guy while creating 2-8 bad guys via the music", as explained here. Thus, serene music, serene vocal, etc are hard to come by (instrumental is much easier), especially if you try to be free of hooligan Bible lyrics about faked Jewish miracles and brainwashing and stick to ethics and immortalism. It's human nature, being cheap = poor health fetus, nobody has the resources to be ultra kind to a baby not theirs, and also continue their life, etc, they need enough money to maybe take 9 months off, so, think about that. Not only that, but science means artificial wombs will enable the development of eggs from male DNA and embryo and even new humans that live to 4000 without ladies, so bad (not all, though music today makes everyone almost pretty bad) women can't abuse men anymore. It will be possible to have make asexual reproduction. The artificial womb allows you to change trillions of molecular events with more precision than in a pregnant female, so it may become the default, because the offspring lives much longer than being born to a woman. Then the new 4000 year offspring may be genderless, meaning brain much larger and no genitals, but instead some new organ☺☺ that materializes matter, the new offspring, in a force field with any number of genderless (eventually shapeshifting) Immortals willing to donate atoms to the project by directing them into the blueprint of Homo Immortalis, i.e. each kid can have 9 billion parents even eventually, creating the Family of Immortals☺☺☺ society that obviously needs not even 11 companies and 3 agencies and is so intelligent, doesn't use money, all that is needed to live to a trillion is done for each kid of the family, with the Immortalist Anthem being the Universal genderless Parent. Today, being single is better in some cases for males, since you can get a surrogate mother, to help bring the kid you then raise alone without a psycho criticizing and mocking your every choice, in fact, to increase fetus quality, businesses may emerge to let pregnant women relax all these 9 months and have a vacation, of sorts, to focus on better nutrition, musical tone, vocal tone, content the fetus hears, all done in a retreat that reduces the stress of the mom and baby.

A valid contract outlining that the surrogate relinquishes all rights and the intended father is the legal parent is the primary document used to determine custody. Attorneys usually obtain a legal order before or shortly after birth declaring the intended father as the legal parent. If the father provided the sperm, it strengthens his claim to parental rights, particularly if the surrogate is not biologically related (gestational surrogacy). Men, you're free, just make sure the surrogate is getting proper rest, nutrition, vacation, time off, is healthy, via a professional agency and All cleaning, cooking is so easy to do alone with pressure cookers, etc, home schooling (online academies can help dads with weak physics or math skills, dads learn as they go, raise the kid as immortalist, not religious retard the "lady wants raised"), nobody needs a housewife anymore to clean and cook, men are free from terror. Of course, the ideal is to get a surrogate who wants to provide baby milk for 12 months, for a better immune system, and you can arrange for that too. This is not the best outcome of course, but it's important for men to realize they're free and not slaves of the Jew who, via endless deception, managed to create 400,000 churches in US dedicated to spreading the Word of 'God' i.e. of Mass Rape, Arson of millions of animals/humans, Smashing Kids against rocks, boiling of kids to eat them, Beating Kids with Rods, genocide of trillions and Beatings until Death, if death is not immediate (delayed for years) for legalized Slaves, and useless businesses. Gentile men can unite and create decent music, true equality culture (no Jewish millionaires, billionaires and parasites destroying gentiles to make billions), free from the genocidal music born of genocidal scripture that has defined our "cultures" for 2000 years of Jewish "religion".☺☺☺

Not to mention the paradox of Tao Te Ching: the more forceful you're in "trying to make a relationship long, the more you fail" as Chapter 29 says "The sage doesn't try to change the world by force". By not seeking praise, the sage is praised, same principle. When you know the other one is ready and free to leave at a moment's notice, you treat a spouse a lot nicer than when you feel entitled by a marriage paper to abuse them: this is turn creates a much longer relationship with far less arguments, emotional fights and drama, way longer than a marriage. The greedy possessive impulsive condescending abusive ownership money first capitalist mentality of marriage is replaced by the serene respectful gentle tender soft healing nurturing graceful loving kindness one would have in dealing with a trillion year old Immortal. If his score is 700 and hers is 650, he may get 75% of custody, if his is 700 and hers 675, he gets 65% custody, etc, if equal scores, they get 50-50. It's to be noted that a 50 point difference is huge, and 200 is gigantic in ethics and total value to society. The games of Jewish/etc bandit lawyers will be over. Everyone knows what happens if they divorce, the beast doesn't get the child anymore, but the ethical spouse. To destroy gentiles, Jewish lawyers give child to the beast. So, the defense of a society is in the Immortality Credit Score that eliminates all Jewish or other foreign billionaire and millionaire, lawyers and fraudulent parasites. The marriage and divorce industries are tools for society destruction in a way, since true love doesn't force anyone to stay together, but they can if they want to help the kid. Since immortalists are married to the human quantum field of all immortalists via the Immortalist Anthem of the Immortals' Ethics, since they're people of substance, not appearance, marriage is not important or needed at all in society, nor the ritualistic chimp IQ Judeo-Christian ethics that encourages alcohol use, which is the cause of billions of violent crimes worldwide, see video of what girls do when drunk. Never drink alcohol and never date anyone who does, as women become like the most violent males when drunk. Support immortalism, since this dating.gov won't allow anyone to lie and dupe anyone and parent license will only be given to those with a much better match of preferences that avoids any potential conflicts. Why do couples fail? Due to decentralized fraud filled profiles and garage dating websites. With dating.gov, we get 100x more info, to be released gradually after a set number of dates you indicate. Each sets their preferences in a search: Immortality Credit Score (small choice there, as default search results are only of people of nearby credit scores, unless their choose to be contacted by people with lower than standard range score), vegan, listens to this type of music, has been vegan for 20 years, etc, or whatever). Dating.gov is like a company product with 90,000 PhDs vs 1 PhD trash product stared in a garage (most match sites and businesses today). All role playing and fraud ends, as one law exists everywhere, not 20,000 versions of it. Conflicts arise due to 2 million versions of laws and expectations, many unknown to people. Laws of a nation need to be so simple, everyone knows them: one country, one state.

Since in immortalism everything revolves around the future, around kids and their education, only biological parents get any money from the government or tax benefits, marriage gets none, so gay marriage is simply a paper for filif fruit fly☺☺☺ IQ people. Childless couples will get no tax benefits, the greatest contribution to society is having one child at least. Parents are encouraged to keep separate bank accounts, so no drama or courts ever get involved if the two divorce. That way, a divorce is as simple as 10 hours and assets are same as before marriage. No joint assets exist. If anything is bought together, then the asset can be sold and everyone gets the % of their contribution at purchase. Since everyone gets a free house, this won't be an issue. Immortalists are altruists, not people using marriage documents to get rich, so everything is designed to kill greed totally. This way all games played by gold diggers are over and state doesn't waste time with divorce proceedings. Animals fight, intelligent people just contribute to society without filif toad IQ☺☺☺ rituals of marriage, marriage papers and complex games of low IQ. The immortalists are against courts, lawyers, judges and the like, as explained in the death penalty section. With 500 trillion cameras in USA, the Immortality Nurturing Agency will know what everyone is up to and need no courts and lawyers at all in the end. Child benefits: 300$/month for the first kid wired into their checking Eterni Bank account for first 18 years, same for the second child and third child. Everyone needs parent license to procreate and this means the biological mother and father commit to live together for 18 years. Parents get 222 weeks off, meaning only biological parents get 222 weeks off, the gay couples or "parents" don't get any weeks off, as today nobody has federal weeks off. World Peace depends on the children and the best people to help a child are the biological parents with the child's DNA and perfect understanding of the child's makeup, needs and etc. The female brain is different than the male brain and experiencing only the male or female brain is not the best idea: it creates people who're too aggressive or too passive, too analytical or too nurturing, too yang or too yin, etc. Nobody in the world can understand a child more than his biological parents, as they're the closest genetically to him. The 222 weeks section explains why we end all kindergartens and nurseries, via the universal education. Nobody can nurture perfectly, via the education.gov videos and proper training, a child than his biological parents. This is a scientific fact. The nursery and kindergarten teacher is the video… and parents learn from it too. Parents engage, bond with the kids and are able to protect kids from bad influences at school, kindergarten, college.☺☺☺

In today's world, most women, like men, are used to telling lies and some have sex outside of marriage with their real lovers, while the husband is merely a sucker used to get US citizenship or money for her life with her lover that she hides, while the husband works 50 hours a week. Some even take abortive pill after sex, without telling husband, then withhold sex for 5 months, while trying to have sex with lover and once pregnant, she will try have sex with husband once and say she's pregnant. As such, many times, the kid's father is not the husband, but the secret lover. Then, once she gets 50% of wealth by the depraved laws of USA, she runs with it to her lover and takes her kid and the former husband still has to pay alimony. One lab had 30% of paternity tests reveal the mother had affairs and claimed the father was the wealthiest guy she had sex with, among 3-5 guys she had sex with that month or weekend. However, to prevent this fraud by pathological liar women who want to milk the richest men and use kids to get wealthy and be a parasite, an immortalist government takes saliva from husband and baby at birth, when they check weight and etc, to make sure, before birth certificate is released, that the husband is the real biological father, by federal law, overriding the unjust laws today, made by the illegal redundant 50 states. Estimates say 30% of fathers tested for paternity fail the test, while the other people, who don't have a reason to test (wife not cheating or acting suspect), experience a general population fake father (child support too) rate of up to 5%.☺☺☺ The government forces strangers to pay for the crimes of other dishonest men. Women can get fake ovulation devices to show 'ovulation' when she has sex with the rich guy, while her real ovulation is 4 days away and she has sex with that poor guy, she uses lies to claim her period is "fluctuating" etc, and when guy goes to work or shopping, she sneaks out to her secret boy to have a baby. Even if you stay with her 24-7, and neither you nor her works, she can still trick you if a good spy, by taking pills to abort after sex and inserting fresh sperm when you take a shower or defecate, using a probe someone delivers by mail when you take a nap or are busy taking a shower, into her vagina. So, she can trick you anyway, that's why government needs to know the father, for health reasons and maximum outcomes for longevity and it is illegal to not take tests for paternity on birth day in an immortalist society, to ensure no clinic ever swapped babies intentionally or by accident too. Beware of such ladies and of such capitalist systems where anything is said to steal money, the goal of all. In the US alone, insurance and inheritance management companies, as well as guys in troubled marriages, "well over 382,000 legal paternity tests" were ordered in 2016 alone. This DNA test also helps us understand the DNA health link, provide better personalized healthcare care for father, baby, mom, whose saliva is taken too, to monitor DNA risk factors, provide personalized immortalist nutrition, healthcare. If kid thinks his dad is X and X has no diabetes, he may eat sugars and get diabetes at 18, due to not knowing his real father who was diabetic at age 15. Thus, every gov needs require parental tests to make sure the mother and father listed on birth certificate are real, no baby swaps☺☺.

The same brutal laws allow the mother to get custody of kids in most illegal states (illegal because all men created equal, same federal law must apply to all, no state laws) when the two are living together without marriage, which is criminal, since sometimes, the woman is far worse, with 1.5 to 4 times lower Immortality Credit Score than the guy. In immortalism, the higher credit score gets the baby the most. The present system punishes the man who frees society from Jewish lawyers, from the marriage con institution of ritual and control, by taking his kids and making him a slave of the woman who then can live off various men she has kids with, taking the kids and getting to screw society completely, in a typical Zion Elder way of using females to destroy gentile society. In gentile society, the bad type of Jew promotes feminism, but in Jewish society, the Jew promotes the opposite. He doesn't even promote feminism, but violent music by violent "so called women", macho hooligans he mind controls. He promotes chaos disguised as feminism to undermine gentile society and take over gentiles. Real feminism is immortalism, everyone is infinitely gentle and has sex for pro-creation only. To take over gentile societies, the bad type of Jew creates laws to destroy and weaken men, since women are more emotional, easier to dupe, manipulate, rape, etc once men are out and distracted as slaves of Jewish corporations where he tolls 50 hours a week, while Jewish secret lovers rape gentile women. So, here is the deal, this trick can be used by all groups, not just bad types of Jews. Real love needs no paper, marriage, courts, lawyers to waste time. We need chemists, physicists, solutions to end all wars, violent crime, house all and feed them all properly. The bad type of Jew turned gals/guys into bitches (sex with many) of cow level IQ. Like with fake science, olive oil, avocados, coconut, seed oil fake papers, he publishes 100 fake papers about sex for every real non-industry funded study. For every non-industry study, industry creates 100 and uses

“preponderance” as an argument to argue that “majority of studies show X”, but all are fake. They pick a far worse food to compare it with or a really sick group of people and argue “arsenic is better than cyanide”. The trick works, all news repeat the lie, gentiles become obese. ☺☺☺

For those who want to date, please avoid restaurants/concerts for dates, choose a quiet place, a library, quiet bookstore or spiritual place. Watch this video of the lowest IQ women jerks on Earth, who, being the ultimate egoism and trash incarnate, order 4000$ in food (while the guy orders 18$ for himself) and then expect him to pay the bill on the first date for her order. Any honest person knows you can't predict the future and that you can't marry, as that would feed the terrorist lawyer industrial complex of useless courts, arguing and bickering. Couples can have kids without marriage and tax advantages need to be given to parents only, especially those living together. Given how women and men are these days, neither is excited about marriage. Dating tips: only bipedal animals go to restaurants for dates, since when you eat, you activate the animal reptilian brain and higher cognitive thinking shuts down (all blood goes to stomach, the brain is starved, ☺abysmal IQ☺ comes to the forefront), the noise and music are uneterni terrible and most women (and men, especially anti-science 'bipedal tiger’ Republicans, science alone eliminates bloodshed) are animals who feed on blood, eating meat full of 0.5% blood and even 99.99% of restaurants that are vegan don’t soak the legumes and grains and serve highly toxic foods full of AGEs. The glorious Bible Republicans promote says “He who kills an ox is as if he kills a man”. God calls them to stop the bloodshed, but demonic blood lust is anti-science, anti-God. Going to an eating place is a way to encourage the blood drinking parasite to become more of it, instead of Godlier. You want to elevate animals to the immortalist human stage. You want to evolve the entitled violent bitches (who think themselves smart and saintly) to science of eterni foods that brings no pain, suffering or violence for plants or animals. 99% of people are ignorant about nutrition. Restaurants are demonic covens, that worship the destruction of the Temple of God by poisons and diabolical sadistic suffering ladden animal blood, the human body, by poisonous foods created by aristocratic terror companies, not the selfless 11 companies of kind gentle immortalism. All those filthy pigs stuffing themselves with blood filled meals obtained by stabbing or shredding animals with infernal cruelty make a horrific vibe for a first date. Not to mention the noise means you have to shout to even say something, you're so distracted by digestion, noises, smells, you can't really observe, understand the other person, restaurant dates are the lowest IQ idea and a high risk to make a horrible start, a bad first impression, etc. Sports facilities are diabolical temples of infernal music and vibes. You just don’t poison your “wanna be parent of your kid” from first date and have both brains function at 20% capacity by evil vibrations of infernal music, lethal food, digestion taking over brain, fights over bill split and over health of food. Play calming music☺☺☺ if the background nature due to nature or etc exists, at very low level. Don’t go to places where there is something to pay, as that can cause issues, unless you pay in advance for the 2$ tickets. Avoid any anxiety, like moments when "you have to pay for 2, making them want to pay". Pay ahead, ideally nothing. You don't want the other to feel guilty if you paid and then fake their interaction to compensate, make it equal to gauge their real character, no paying for anything, see what they do, not out of guilt, but being. Equal means a venue with no paying… Dating.gov will solve the issues. Check out an insane lady, vibrating like Taylor Swift tone in Bad Blood (the undeclared chief of the Education Department in the USA thanks to a gov of clowns), yelling that a cake is too small, while others starve… Pathetic to watch these videos of ladies complaining about 5K gifts they got, when men/women should never give any gift. Then we got the Mormon Church of cannibalism quotes that lies to people they will be forever with some gal in heaven without any proof to extract 10% of income from low IQ folks believing in the Mormon serial killers. Men need to realize not all women are what they seem, while initially they may act nice, later they may become very violent, as women do 20% of violent crimes. So, focus on real service to humanity via immortalism, not on giving gifts to someone who has never served immortalism. Rest assured, in due time, with patience, you will figure out what kind of woman someone is by seeing how she serves the Immortality for All cause instead of her selfish desires.

Let our gift be our kindness to humanity, the building via immortalist sport of the 11 companies and the 0 violence world. Ask them if they want to buy something healthy (explain why it is so), if you want to "gift" someone, trying to guess what they want is a waste of time, life is short, be practical. Gifts are 1st grader actions, of tradition loving low IQ people: the world may disappear, humans too via the 2 capsule scenario, the gift we need today is 1 nation of humans and 11 companies for all humans. True religion is not filling socks with Christmas gifts, but ending violent crime, jails and wars in 10 years. The Christianity of the West is a fraud, a commercial crap to enrich aristocratic murderers. Real religion has no donations accepted, as the immortalists online groups. Why are parents so ☺abysmal IQ☺ to make gifts, when they can just ask kids what they would want to buy to improve their health, nutrition, to help others improve it and build domes to prevent death by tornadoes? Why are guys so low IQ to waste 50K on a car she complains about (instead of her selling it and buying a half price used car she likes and use 50% of money to build a temp house for homeless?) instead of giving 1k to 50 immortalists to spread 1000000 flyers or emails about ending violent crime, jails, aristocrats and wars in 10 years? Don't waste your money guys on a bitch that sucks the planet into the black hole of low IQ, when with 500 immortalists you do 1 million times more good for the human quantum field. Help 500 homeless and they will become militant immortalists, be smart, think about what changes the planet the most. Watch the video of these ultra selfish ladies who want the guy to be a dog on a leash paying 900$ on a first date for all her 18 friends' meal or 120$ on a first date, ignoring that many people of the same ethnic group, gender, age, etc spend 120 a month for food due to being 1000 times more selfless with his money or time spent helping others vs self. Guys, or gals, don't waste even 1$ on any date, instead, have them prove their humanity by volunteering 25 hours a week to bring the 11 companies and Immortality party, to show their real beliefs, not words. If a bitch doesn't care about World Peace in 3 months or 0 violent crime in 10 years, s/he certainly won't be selfless in a family. These monsters hardly realize the time they waste at these demonic restaurants could have been used to create Eternia Volunteer Network☺☺☺ and help 4000 people with something, so they become immortalists. These soulless animals bred by the Culture of Money is God don't even realize life is short and they're wasting so much time with dating 500 people to find the lowest IQ selfish guy they could manipulate to do their every single whim: watch a whore destroy a guy's car for maybe not obeying her "Hitler like tone". See the tell tale signs of a demonic lady, decades before. This awaits all naive guys who date bitches from hell and who fail to rein demons in and educate the wild beasts into the way of the Immortalist Anthem. Test what people are made of, avoid restaurants for reasons in the previous paragraph, unless you pass by 1 minute and hand a business card for Immortalist Party, but not to pay for deadly food and bad or anti-peace music.

These soulness thieves, posing as pastors, promote fake miracles, theft from parishioners to become rich and promote fake fraud of Christmas tree worship, stress, socks, gifts, when the real people in real need are ignored: 2 million in jail, 50 million in horrible housing, 150 million in tornado paths and flooding often inhaling mold, etc, millions dying due to aristocratic bad products, etc. Get a tiny plastic tree, reuse it 99 times, don't waste 50gal of fuel to transport a tree, cut these trees, trash them, kill by overwork workers cutting trees, instead of building the temple of God within 1 Co 6:18-9: "Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God?" The purpose of life is not to have sex outside of pro-creation, but to evolve the fallen human blueprint to the Immortal Eternal Temple of the God of Immortality for All*, the Bo*dy that can live trillions of years, shapeshift into any lifeform in the cosmos, forever, materializes offspring, sometimes with 4 billion parents creating one child by a few 'new matter and present matter' atoms from each person, the blueprint of beautiful colorful telepathic radiant teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals.☺☺☺ Luke 17:21 "Kingdom of God is within" Real Jesus? C 15:44;51-3 "Our body must become immortal", the living temple of God is to be Immortal, not churches/cathedrals, not medallions, gifts, trees, everything must support spirituality and Physical Immortality, not material objects. The frauds have hijacked religions. Health for all 1st, the rest is ☺abysmal IQ☺ tradition greedy aristocrats made up. Where did Jesus say to have pets that kill 500000 people/year equivalent, or to have Christmas trees, gifts from socks and all these commercial things? He said give decent shelter, food, water to all citizens, not like in the world today, or even USA: rich poison food, sell it to us. This same message existed in all religions before Christianity and Judaism… since Jews merely copied ideas that existed before… some people had a basic understanding that God is Eternity. Even the quote about don't eat blood is copied from India's vegans: "He who kills an ox is as if he kills a man". Veganism existed way before Jewish Bibles seemed to write about it. Merchant Jews went to India from Iran, got all their ideas from the older civilization there.☺☺☺

Nazis acted like the Catholic Inquisition who executed people based on false rumors of someone "being a skeptic about the evil Jesus or a witch", (anyone intelligent realizing Jesus was a fraud) except in Nazism, any neighbor who hated 20 people in town could go and report them as gay to be executed at concentration camps. Pure insanity, since most of those "arrested" were probably not even gay, but any half Jew could join Nazis and report anyone too, not just Germans. You know, that's one extreme, the other is Jews trying to make all gentile males gay in a nation. Today, USA has endless Nazis and hard core Jewish Gays in the US military, rapists (US generals, and the spy agencies it controls, are possibly world's biggest rapists, using electronic devices to cause emissions during sleep as a way to torture), etc whose main job is harassing feminine men or anti-gay men too who obviously are not gay, but decent people who're not violent as they are. The US is a dictatorship of the blood eating ultra macho serial killers who're obviously too evil to give eterni food a thought, food obtained without animal bloodshed, rodent bloodshed (during agriculture, crop harvest, etc) and Bible Jesus meat eating. They're like the Nazi aristocrats, living in palaces today as in Nazi Germany, while the masses are slaughtered by social brainwashing programs, such as "sex is the best thing, everyone become gay, eat blood and meat daily, practice macho sports, boxing and other cannibal sports exactly as Nazis promoted" all day on TV, etc. You see these hooligans on TV, and White House all the time, they're Hitlerists who could care less about preventing death by tornado via better housing (domes, etc): sports are above compassion, fist fights, slapping contests by White House inauguration Dana White guest, Education Department led by a wrestling lady to keep masses clueless and aristocrats rich, slapping of spouses by the same White, punching others and spouses more ethical: Hitler wanted kids to "terrify the world, a violent, imperious, fearless, cruel youth… trained in all physical exercises". He was an ArchDemon who wanted to turn humans into Demons. So do Republicans, watch the Trump promotion of Nazi sports culture, void of gentle tender soft healing nurturing graceful loving kindness. No decent middle way is allowed, either everyone becomes a psychopath like UFC people smashing and slapping spouses on TV, or a gay LGBT promoter. Decency is not allowed as that threatens the infernal aristocrats. When these hideous monsters kill millions for profit and power, the very thought of caring about animal bloodshed is a quadrillion times less important than killing 1000 people daily in ever more sadistic ways. Nazi animals are infinitely cruel to people, so caring about animals and the quantum pollution on humans is not going to ever happen, it's a trillion times less important than sadism and violence against entire nations, it's something never even considered. So, you see these vile frauds who claim to be Catholic/Orthodox, yet never talk about or call for others to emulate the vegan Catholic/Orthodox 'saints'. Both parties are used by the aristocrats to torture the 99%, like in Nazi camps. The more violent one's movies or music is, the higher the publicity quite often. That genocidal violence of US military Nazis who helped Hitler rise to power to smash Germany and Russia thru Nazis, has its own demonic quality: it fights genocidally the seed of life in non-British humans☺☺☺, per chapter 28 strategy of British extermination of non-brits and Jewish extermination of gentiles who criticize Infernal Torah Judaism. It destroys the human quantum field, it is the demonic Nazism identical with the demonic Old Testament: exterminate, rape, destroy, burn cities to the ground. Why? Because Nazi Jews are Nazis. They took over US, circumcised all at gunpoint via media brainwashing.

Nazi rich Jews also helped finance Nazis to create Nazi Israel, just as they financed communism to help Russian Jews. The Nazis also tortured and executed anyone against war, anyone who didn't want 'Germany to enslave all nations via brutal torture and war'. All peace lovers would be wiped out, so many fled. LGBT people can be as violent as Nazis (since often they're straight people who force LGBT on gentiles to destroy gentiles), LGBT doesn't mean feminine at all. Straight Jews can pose as gays to induce gentiles into becoming gay to ensure destruction, while the Jew has maybe 2-5 gentiles unofficial wives and 1-2 kids with each. Being for LGBT sex is just being an animal like person who is too ☺abysmal IQ☺ to realize there is more to life than human rats using sex for reproduction or pleasure, that meditation can make you way happier than sex: only animals have sexual organs, but the lustful depraved Mormon tells people people have sex in heaven and lots of babies, like in Islam 72 virgin mythology of "those who kill shall have 72 sex slaves". This is natural, since Mormons loved to have many wives, so that Joseph Smith Mormonism founder may have been Muslim. When you realize what Mormons do, they're like these wild dogs eating America and all nations alive, for only one goal: making money by spreading unproven nonsense, freemason rituals. Everything they do is against Jesus' word to care for the poor/homeless, they build huge temples that steal materials that could build homes not destroyed by storms, etc. They're pure charlatans and thieves, like all animals who promote LGBT sex: don't steal energy for sex outside of procreation, use it to build the Kingdom of God on Earth, the Kingdom of Immortality for All, meaning 0 violent crime, 0 war over religion, etc. All those scorpions from 200 nations writing books about eroticism could ☺ lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺ be deported to Pluto cities, where they can live like beasts, wage eternal wars over sex positions: Mormons are more into sex than into 0 Violent Crime, look at their theology. The LESS SARCASTIC odd thing is none seem to realize today you have limited money and resources, time, etc: we either spend 1.4 trillion/year on vanity/lust or on 0 violent crime. All these conmen clergy avoid talking about ending violent crime and war in 2 years. Funny how all kinds of nonsense is taught, but none of these violent thug started cults based on forged scriptures (and made up tablets that never existed) is ever teaching the need for 0 violent crime in 5 years to avoid the 2 capsule scenario of all humans dying in 1 minute. Low IQ genocidal killing fans (120 innocent folks killed in 1 day), the Mormon founders known for their boundless violence, imagined aliens or spirits are similar to their hyena/wild dog like beings, gladly eating blood daily via meat born of via endless animal suffering/pain and calling it Godly. The "insect IQ" Mormon founder and Mohamed brains simply failed to realize Immortals can be a field, a cloud, with no form, able to take the lifeform of a trillion planets, that can use inter-dimensional energy or cosmic energy to shape matter, create offspring with 10 trillion other beings by materialization of a few atoms, like say you breathe out CO_2, you're a machine that takes oxygen and carbon from food and makes CO_2. Maybe some Immortals breathe in cosmic energy+nearby matter and can project from their heart or head a few atoms that later join other atoms and each baby is the kid of all planet's Immortals. One day all will quit Islam/Mormonism & even Christianity, realizing it's all man made nonsense by greedy emperors needing central cults. Why don't Mormons move to Israel or Sahara desert to be close to Egypt, as the "tablets were in some Egyptian", be close to Israel, the source of all Mormon wisdom? Obviously, it's pretty clear the Jewish obsession with sex, found in Islam too, hints Joseph Smith himself may have been a Jew, living the Holy Torah: violence, rape, lies, genocide, and all. ☺☺☺

The fake nature of religions existing today is self-evident in the way imperial houses set them up for political goals and in their complete failture to bring 0 violent crime and 0 wars in 5000 years of their "amazing religious traditions, abysmal IQ rituals and filif fruit fly☺ IQ mythologies". A new religion has emerged, created by filif 'cow IQ ☺☺ spies wanting US destroyed, that says that "all need be LGBT or have LGBT sex if they so feel like it, this will certainly solve all problems, such as the disappearance of all humans/animals in 1 min by the 2 capsule scenario". The lowest IQ people imagine they can spend 1.4 trillion/year on vanity and LGBT sex, while any non0 violent crime threatens all humans with extinction in 5-15 years via a simple 2 capsule scenario. Too bad people don't realize the biggest danger is not AI, but the 2 capsule scenario that becomes twice more likely daily if we don't lower violent crime 1 billion fold by global state of emergency. There won't be gay clubs or sex shops, nor any humans to have orgies with. ALL DEAD. Do you realize that end of humans could happen within 2 to 15 years? We all need to mobilize to stop it. What is more annoying is that these frauds get tax free status, as shown in the 150 page section on the US Declaration of Independence from the violent aristocratic thugs.

Most LGBTQ are 100% clueless (just like cannon fodder countries having no clue which spies control their government; thus we need to have compassion and gentle tender softness for LGBTQ like for all people) as to how they were made to become that. This means that in the absence of the CIA-FBI-etc created culture, or even gadgets used by FBI-CIA for mind control, turning straights into LGBTQ with taxpayer money, they would have never become LGBTQ, they would have breathed, smiled and been so happy, happily greeting all humans hourly, or hourly visiting planets via tech based astral travel born out of an immortalist culture. The militaries and spy agencies use gadgets the people are not allowed to know they exist, even if taxpayer money invented them: not only to make people LGBT, but to have them do 1000s of things against what they would ever do on their own (by implanting thoughts that seem theirs), to appear as if that person chose it (anything, good or bad), so that they can use that guilt or the outcome to manipulate their entire life one step at a time. Spies use these brain to brain and computer to brain devices that don't need to touch the victim's brain or body (from a distance), to beam whatever thoughts (that seem self-originated) of "being in love with the spy, or the spy loving them, hugging them, kissing them (plus the spy may act as if he wants to marry or hug/kiss the victim whose state secrets he wants), telling them "I love you, etc", so that the victim of such brain gadgets can then play or even kiss, hug the spy and tell the spy the secrets, regardless if they're same sex or not. So, people are incredibly naive and believe arousal while a thought is beamed is self-created when it's computer generated, to steal secret info that can help the spy to kill 20 million people sometimes. So, not everything is as it seems: it seems "love", but it's genocidal intent at times: the victim thinks the guy or gal loves him, but the spy wants all of his country exterminated: so the naive is wiped out. Spies can use same techs to get a girl like a guy, staging their meeting, marry him, have a kid even and then divorce 2 years later, then marry another, etc, all for their espionage network building purposes. They're not much into 'human rights', only stealing info, secrets, creating loyal agents to an ideology that benefits the spy country or steal resources (or get them at 10 times lower price, etc). ☺☺☺

So, gently don't think your 'imagery' in your head is always your brain (not just erotic, but any type of thought): do the breathing exercises to move energy up (inhale, bring God's light into the head thru the top of the head and exhale it thru the 3rd eye (center between eyebrows to stimulate the new frontal cortex universal empathy), and rebring some into your head top in a circle of energy, to bring the focus and 'quantum energy, particles' into your brain and the entire human species' brains, not genitals) and keep your genitals to yourself, don't hug and kiss anyone (unless you want to have a baby with that person, after living happily together for a while as a married heterosexual couple). Well, you can hug and kiss your kids or if a nurse, take care of someone, massage them, but in general, keep the energy into World Peace and global compassion. We can love all beings and it's not hugs and kisses that define love, humans are still savage beasts killing millions – so the hugs and kisses culture has not really brought any evolution to universal gentle soft nurturing kindness. War and torture happen daily, the savagery is incredible, proving the "kiss all, hug all, have sex with all" culture has led nowhere. ☺Abysmal IQ☺ folks touch their own genitals, smart people meditate and develop new neurons enjoying bliss any time without any nutrient drain. Over time, the asexuals IQ will be triple of the LGBT touchy-feely folks, so have compassion for the "subanimals", but don't become a "subanimal" doing oral sex or any form of intercourse outside procreation, for you see the depraved music and world the heterosexuals and LGBT glorifying sex have created: eternal war, no compassion, love for one person and genitals, not for all humans, for the brains and health of all humans. Mind you, even animals have more self-control having sex only a few times a decade in many species. 500 species don't kill their own, humans have yet to become such an animal. LGBT doesn't allow the biological parents to love each other deeply by living together with the kid and doesn't allow LGBT to create a much better quality of loving kindness vibration present in a natural family. This is because in LGBT one biological parent, if any exists even, is out of daily life. This is really bad for the kid. LGBT holds humanity hostage in the era of hedonism, where we can't evolve to genderless shapeshifting Immortals who don't even have sexual organs, but can precipitate kids via their mind, and a kid can have thus 1000 parents who co-create that new Immortal template. Additionally, LGBT are more depressed and 4 times more suicidal (scroll half way to Table 3), and poorer (scroll half way to Fig 1). Sexual LGBT makes us savage animals, stuck to these nanosecond lifespans, stuck to the selfish one on one capitalistic love (sex for $, me 1st), very far from the Immortality for All idealism. Since asexual LGBT don't exist, them being called A, not LGBTQ, it's not an evolutionary choice for the human species. If you're a leftist, communist, anti-racist, then LGBT is the most racist anti-communist regressive anti-progressive anti-universal evolution thing there is, a betrayal of ethics and universalist values of universal gentle tender soft compassion for all people, for all races as in the universal immortalist greeting of all races. Don't worry about peer approval, think about the approval from the smartest people on Earth, and the Immortal humans of the future, who live to a trillion. Meditate and be happy. Learn to be happy alone, by simple breathing, you don't need people to be happy. Be self-sufficient. Smile and think "I am happy, all is bliss" until you get the bliss induction perfected, if the breathing and radiating energy out is not causing bliss instantly . Later you won't need verbal thoughts once you perfect neural pathways that are nonverbal. Use an eye mask, earplugs if noisy and bright, to reduce stimulation and go develop the inner bliss, especially when a beginner who is distracted instantly by light, noise. Sleep very well, since when tired you can't create new neuronal pathways well, etc. Don't hang out with bad people, spend time to know self. Knowing others is intelligence, knowing self is wisdom and freedom, you won't need others to be happy, or their garbage ideas to listen to in order to feel happy.☺☺

When one sees how loveless the world is, how much violence there is, one realizes how important is for a kid to have his parents be his biological parents to create beautiful quantum DNA resonance and understanding and to develop universal love; only when biological parents live together can they develop a strong enough bond to achieve true love that teaches by living example the way humans and the kid is to interact with all beings – if the parents never interact in the presence of the kid, he has no role model from people closest to his genes and this confuses him, as he has artificial LGBT parents. The bond of 2 people who have been together 1-10 years, every day, and then another 18 until he's adult, is so deep, that it creates a true resonant love that teaches him to be like an Immortal (since he's part of the trio of Love: mom, dad, kid who spend a lot of time together, living in the SAME HOUSE, not one parent with a gay friend and the other parent with a lesbian friend, and the kid shuttling between them, puzzled why the two don't love each other and yet made a baby with their DNA to create conflict inside his being, vs the perfect love of 2 living together and enhancing the 2 aspects of him by quantum physics to unify and bring bliss, efficiency, cognition superiority), a true harmony and balance in his DNA quantum matrix and gives him superior ESP and superior happiness, tranquility, health and IQ. So, when you're old, your kid will have lower ability, IQ to take care of you. Today is the ideal era for LGBT to quit the LGBT lifestyle and become straight and asexual (sex for procreation only), for the sake of the human species and your own benefit too: win-win. However, there is no need at all to forbid any lifestyle. It's unethical unkind to bully mock anyone or even LGBT, as then people will rebel, and become more LGBT, let everyone take their time and years to realize the truth, everyone evolves at a different pace and natural selection happens anyway. For every force, there is a counterforce. Live and let live, but do maintain your freedom of opinion, as LGBT have their freedom too. USA is the land of freedom, including freedom to explain asexualism, the immortalist way of life, not to impose it, but to help human DNA to evolve towards it over 2 centuries and become a nonkilling species, who is so happy from meditation, that no crime ever happens. That's why enemies of a nation, promote LGBT in that nation, it lowers the IQ and quantum unity. It's odd how immigrants, etc minorities vote Democrat which supports LGBT a lot, and this acts as a programming tool to get those guys have fewer kids by going LGBT. Demon-crats are pretending to want to help minorities, but they do the exact opposite. Likewise, no border wall means illegals are in fear 24-7 of being caught and work for below minimum wage and live in terrible conditions. So, Demon-crats don't want rule of law, only slavery. The whole system is a scam designed around enslavement, that's why, when you realize both parties are Nazi, you vote the Immortalist Party. Normal loving family teaches the kid that he's made of 2 compatible DNA quanta sets… and that he's Pure Love itself, the Eternal Radiance of God that brings Eternal Universal Peace on Earth and Immortality for All. To love humanity is to love the kid, to love the kid is to create the most unified perfect Love in his quanta, that is by understanding (by living with the other biological parent) the other so much, that the love is the most perfect one, since no other 2 people globally can resonate with the kid better due to similar DNA and understand the kid while teaching him how 2 people can love each other. When the kid is the product of 2 people who don't love each other, his inner being enters a conflict due to physics as each parent is attached to one side of his personality in conflict with the other. The DNA of a kid is better when the 2 are in real love vs just a surrogate mother, this is a simple science fact, since the guy helps the 'mother' more, for years before conception. The more disjointed, incompatible parents are, the less healthy the kids are mentally, so that's why dating.gov, parent license exist, to prevent an angry generation. ☺☺☺

When science can make kids out of DNA of 2 women or 2 men (maybe in 1 million years, today you need sperm to make embryo or surrogate mother, as no artificial wombs exist and embryo need both eggs and sperm to form), then maybe LGBT adoptions make sense since both parents living with the kid are biological parents (though they don't get yin and yang of the species, only yin or yang), but until then, it is more logical from the species point of view (unless you want your nationality or the human species exterminated, if a bad human or alien spy) to not have LGBT adoptions. It damages the entire human species. The species evolves more when you love the opposite gender who is different, since this stimulates intellect and the kid learns more from having 2 types of parents: male and female. If you're around people of the same gender, you develop a narrow view of reality and deprive the species of the point of view of the other gender. Men have bigger brains than women and can specialize in some things more, so they offer a totally different ability to focus and teach innovation to the kid, while women teach nurturing healing compassion and some less known forms of "ESP and survival of the species intelligence" (not measured by IQ tests) better. Women are more 'communist', immortalist by nature, nature which has vanished today, as women imitate male shouting and restlessness, aggression. Tao Te Ching "Know the male, but keep to the female". Yin and yang, complimentary double the "level of some forms of intelligence" vs LGBT couples with 2 yang or 2 yin. Computers with bigger brains can do more stuff quicker, if using same basic chip technology, just more cores, RAM memory, etc. LGBT allows us to have the brain areas related to emotional control 10000 times less developed, which facilitates CIA mind control: meditation gives 1 million times higher bliss, at any time, without need of dildos, partners and pics. Meditation creates a higher cortex that doesn't exist in animalistic LGBT or heterosexual having sex all day. While in a world of Immortality for All it's fine to say I love you to all and treat all infinitely lovingly (causing the 'more savage among the' LGBT to think you're LGBT for being a somewhat nice immortalist or simply a decent polite sweet nurturing kind gentle human like all ought to be), the immortalist is keeping non-torture, nonviolence as the number one goal to be achieved in 3 to 80 months and that is the expression of his universal love for all souls, not someone's genitals and biological lifeform. We're in the USA, the land of freedom, so we lovingly gently allow all to believe as they want, the natural selection will take place, if some don't see the spy plot. ☺☺☺

Let us all try to love all, even the LGBT who disagree with the immortalist point of view above that says no love exists when war exists, no love is real when violent crime exists, no culture or civilization (just bipedal beasts) exists when war-violence-torture-jails exist. Eros or lust is not love, we're referring here to universal love for all people. Lust is just pure hormones, nothing too

ESP like, requires physical access of the other, etc, universal love reaches to far away planets and nations, so, when parents live altruistic universal love for every kid and his DNA quantum balance, they live as one super loving eterni tone family with the kid, not chase selfish hormonal lust via 'sexy gays and lesbians'. Real Love is real ESP that brings Peace before our species disappears in 10 seconds. LGBT focus creates focus on loving one person (egoism) or 100 if part of the "one night with a different person" culture, which is diametrically opposite to the altruistic culture of immortalism of "universal loving kindness for all", which brings Eternal Universal Peace a trillion times faster and maintains it. LGBT is like capitalism everyone by themselves, versus universal love of truly gentle nonviolent immortalism. The interest of the species is to move beyond sexual reproduction in some far future to Immortal Lifeforms that materialize stuff or literally teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals, so that it can colonize more unfriendly to human biology planets and survive. This is where most LGBT is holding us backward, it emphasizes one on one love instead of what is urgent for World Peace in 3 months, Eternal Peace maintained and evolution towards Immortality for All, trillion year lifespans. It's OK to hug all, but LGBT won't hug the homeless, the poor, the sick, etc, so it's either UNIVERSAL Love or just mental games: how many LGBT went to march about the eternal bombing in Syria, Ukraine, etc and give their lives to bring World Peace in 3 months? NONE. I have never seen anyone talk about that in any LGBT march. That is not PROGRESSIVE, just lust culture as usual, stagnation. LGBT also promotes more of a 'love' rooted in lust, as opposed to the universal compassion for all as the motive for having a child (sex for procreation only). ☺☺☺

It is this "lust based focus" that then leads to creating dependency and slavery in individuals and can contribute to the thought forms, the culture that perpetuates rape, etc, since sex is deified as some 'amazing cool thing", when it is a cheap trash thing in terms of happiness. We recall science gave us a billion times faster letter sending ability, so neuroscience today with meditative music and meditation gives us a billion times over nature ability to create happiness too, the LGBT pushers want people to remain backward, like they do with many nations, to enslave us. Not to mention, biological kids are very quantum (due to similar DNA) related to you, and allow for less conflict between parent and kid (due to understanding the other better), so in an immortalist culture of sex for procreation, there is never any abortion, as nobody has unwanted pregnancies, and never any orphan given to parents not related DNA wise (since if a tornado kills both parents, a relative can take orphans to promote the closest sync that enhances the quantum field). Therefore, LGBT promotion is against the maximum optimal ease of parenting, promotes global rape crimes, as it deifies hedonism and sex, which creates unhealthy craving in unbalanced poor people (soldiers, etc). On the contrary, what is evolutionary or much more ethical, is to ☺☺☺promote sex for procreation only☺☺☺ and happy breathing and eterni greeting for infinite hourly bliss for all. LGBT promotes touchy hugs, massage, which is anti World Peace, as it can distract from "touching" all people's souls via the immortalist greeting, bringing and maintaining Eternal World Peace via the breathing of Eternal Bliss, the breathing that cares for all, that thinks of all, until all violent crime ceases, all jails disappear, and everyone is infinitely kind to all. The immortalist brings the energy from genitals to the head and heart, to create the civilization of Eternal Universal Peace & Immortality for All.

LGBT may ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ seem OK only after kids have grown and one is done having kids and raising them, after that, if they feel like being with same gender, maybe it's OK, for the species; however, it's possible that after 20 years of friendship if one kid or more, the benefits for the species are to remain there and take care of each other as nobody else is understanding the other and has a link, via kids, to the other that is stronger, so the empathy may be highest. In an immortalist society, people are less tribal, less individualistic, so there are more ways to avoid loneliness and feel loved, so presumably, if both are happy with it, it would maybe be OK to live in different ways, it all depends on what makes others happy, what is possible and what projects happen, since it's bad to keep 2 people together if they're not happy, like in arranged marriages, etc. It's better for 2 people to be separate and happy than to fight and be unhappy together. If one follows the Immortalist Anthem, it's pretty hard to be unhappy, if both have the same values, beliefs, goals. When one realizes the love from the quantum field or God is a trillion times stronger than that from people, then really, as an introvert you don't care that much, as long as you're left alone to sleep, meditate and be in meditative silence in unity with God instead of asked to watch barking pets, evil concerts, evil sports and bad tone TV content. It's all about meditative SPACE. The kindest immortalist is aware of the need for peace and won't be a doormat who is destroyed by the spouse, which leads to the species extinction. In our insane world, not even 0.01% of couples are truly living like a true immortalist, who is more like a monk. Thus, the decision to be alone or with someone else is ethical, in some cases of aggressive anti-Immortality behavior. As people grow older or wiser or more educated, regardless of their physical age, they understand neuroscience, meditation and want sex for procreation only. To love someone or humanity is not to make them dependent on dildos that destroy the quantum field, vaping, drugs, strip clubs, TV, etc or people, but self-reliant, self-sufficient (just use mp3 player to help focus in noisy places) in producing instant bliss when needed by breathing and using the neural pathways created by meditation, happy breathing, etc. Give people lessons on how to fish, not fish, so they become free. This means very quiet cities, where people can sleep and be rested enough to create those neurons. It helps to realize the quotes, De 7:1-16, De 20:10-17, Lev 25:44-6 and that many spies pretend to be LGBT to hide who their wife or kids are, by faking their divorce or having multiple partners to have kids with, or to simply lead other nations into self-destruction: they're straight, but try to promote LGBT to destroy others, by role playing in public that they're LGBT, hiding their straight partner and kids from the public. Their tone of speech reveals their ethics. Pay attention, listen. By their fruit and tones you will know exactly what "pure evil" they are.☺☺

To be in love with the entire humanity is far more important than being in love with an individual, we have created a society that places one person above all humanity and this leads to endless war, unhappy marriages, violent crime. They don't want evolution of our nation or ethnic group to asexual Immortals who live to a billion, only slaves to be worked to death and die at 70. The eternal greeting creates a very different field, a friendly field, a buddy field, a Buddhic field, of Buddhas, of universally kind Eternals, a unified mind field of all humans, forever happy. It's just as easy to become brainwashed to become LGBT as to do the reverse via books like this who open the minds of LGBT that their have been deceived by a government of liars who publishes fake papers, magnifies them thru the "independent" media to create social engineering (many governments do that, not just USA, the people are used as guinea pigs). LGBT is one of the reasons we don't have World Peace, since Peace requires universal compassion, not erotic passion. So, any true immortalist is the most dedicated meditating World Peace fan. Meditation brings energy up, to heaven and serenity, LGBT and sex down, to hell and war. Energy needs to be transformed to bring inventions and World Peace, not wasted with erotica. Wikipedia shows in Muslim countries LGBT is illegal, some jail for life those who do anal sex. In a world of terrible war, violence, what use is the disgusting anal sex to get fecal bacteria over penis/condom? It's gross. While friendship seems OK, anal sex is insane. Even self or mutual masturbation as in many LGBT circles, without intercourse, is bad. Regardless, education about benefits of meditation seems more useful than jail or execution as the section on blame shows. Natural selection will eliminate gays over time, due to less offspring and lower IQ via brain leaks. No need to get angry or anything. The religion of genitals is not as critical as that of Peace in 3 months from the point of view of the quantum field of humans, so it will naturally deselect. Likewise, nations promoting it will be destroyed over time by the quantum field of humanity, as it's not in the interest of the human species, its evolution towards inter universal species. It's filif and comical☺ that many nations ban conversion therapy, since many times people become LGBT due to culture spy agencies create, not because of natural causes. Today, via meditation, one can easily learn to not become a sex addict, use one's energy to bring Peace in 3 months. USA will be destroyed or changed, due to spies, military being rapists. While LGBT rights exist, conversion rights don't, the right to decent subway stations doesn't, all filthy and rat infested, lots of rats, check this out, China vs USA subways. Vote Talmud? Note how Talmudic Demon-crats and Re-pub-licans always talk of gay sex and never of Peace in 3 months. Nuclear war can still happen, and kill 7 billion people too. Ukraine war may be the start of WW3.

world's first democratic society, world's first society and government where the number one goal is 0 Violent Crime and World Peace in 3 years, talked about daily on TV, and via required DAILY☺☺☺ tweets by all members of Congress and President and all Cabinet members, with supporting policies, updates relating to their department or area, with crime data for that day and World Peace progress updates. One symphony, one song of ~~Eternal Universal Peace~~ ☺☺☺ to dazzle all nations whom The Immortalist America will Lead to the Light Eternal of Universal Happy☺☺☺ Holy Immortality for All. This nice society is one that makes 0 violent crime and 500 years lifespan the goal, instead of sex outside of pro-creation which is 1 million times less blissful than immortalist conscious breathing. As TV teaches everyone how to be happy the new free way 5 hours daily, with the effortless assistance of the peaceful music in the background if one needs it to calm down, that needs no partner, no drug lord to pay money to, no Brit aristocrats to pay for smoking or alcohol, the conscious breathing will provide the "high" without drugs to people, without sex, so then everyone can become so uninterested in sex, with sex being for pro-creation only.☺☺☺ Additionally, due to the focus on peaceful families and harmony, to nurture a biological kid, by being in quantum resonance with him,☺☺☺ is the number one goal of all, and least conflict is only possible via DNA resonance, if you stay with the kid until he's 18-25 and ready to live on his own.☺☺☺ Thus, immortalism, which is pacifism on steroids, as the expression of gentle tender soft healing nurturing graceful loving kindness and the highest concern for the most perfect in any family and society, is the end of LGBTQ: World Peace depends on biological parents raising the kids and on the Centralized Tone Education from Nursery to Grade 12 doing most things online so kids are home almost always as all parents get 222 weeks off (read chapter 15.1) to encourage LGBTQ to stop role playing and become straight intelligent people, bonding more with people (the parents, not teachers or nurses), who can understand kids better than 8 billion people, due to being the same DNA makeup. This is the physics of the triangle: mom, dad and kid, living as one unit, one family, one house.☺☺☺ The central edu recordings help parents before conception even via parent license (15.1.) to learn a gentler tone, to relax and prepare for the incarnation of the ~~ Eternal World Peace ~~ Avatar, whom their child will be, working with the rest of kids to bring that World now. Parental stress is lower, as the 1 in 50 million best voice in NATO records in the standard NATO English accent, the American one, the most soothing 1-5 hour recordings for that day, from day 1 to day 8000. Thus, due to the physics of the human quantum field, the Immortalist Party is ANTI-LGBTQ, Anti LGBTQ Civil Unions, Anti LGBTQ Marriage. The Immortalists want to provide tax benefits to biological families, not LUST families, families elevating humanity, not families ruining humanity. Thus, it is ideal that marriage be defined as the Union of Potential Biological Parents of Child, for maximum Quantum Entanglement of the parents and child via same DNA, for maximum World Peace and Understanding. Those who don't want the burden of bringing kids into the World can live together if they believe the media brainwashing that they're LGBTQ, but get no tax benefits of marriage. The most important contribution to the world is kids and becoming human from an animal craving sex outside of pro-creation. Nobody is required to marry to have kids, and anyone can divorce in 1 day via divorce.gov, but marriage is mostly a psychological tool to help people commit to raising a baby for at least 20 years.☺☺☺

Our dear LGBTQ minority needs to gently understand that a child needs attention, we can't have 1 couple have 10 kids and 5 gay couples have 0. It's thus ethical for all LGBTQ to become straight, because a fair society is one in which the burden of kids is distributed equally. As a champion of left wing Equality, LGBTQ ought to honestly agree with Conversion to Straight out of real logical consistency and coherence. It's ethical for LGBTQ to ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ stop playing games, realize LGBTQ is mere cultural brainwashing, spy agency social engineering caused in 99.9% of cases. It's ethical for all current LGBTQ, to become straight and have 1-2 biological children, who live in a house with you and the other biological parent of the kids, because this helps to maintain that perfect vibe of the eternal bliss in the human quantum field, of understanding the kids better. It's ethical to evolve past animal stage, because Immortals don't have sex outside of pro-creation, and advanced Immortals obviously don't even have genitals, or gender, as they materialize offspring as described in the Immortalist Anthem. ☺☺☺ Just because an LGBTQ hallucinates he likes the same gender, is not bad at all, on the contrary, he'll have a normal immortalist family, where he will have no sex with his wife except to make kids, due to less attraction. This "no sex outside procreation" is a blessing in disguise, as sex outside procreation makes both parties lower IQ, devolves the human quantum field. This LGBTQ temporary "identity" will prevent LGBTQ from fornicating with biological spouses, the other biological parent of his child. However, in cases of sperm donation, where a guy donates sperm into a tube and then a doctor inserts this fresh sperm into a lady, since this guy can't be with 10 kids 24-7 by making 10 copies of himself, marriage is OK between a lady (biological mom) and a nonbiological father, incapable of fertilizing her eggs. The same is true for a lady who gets eggs from another egg donor via the egg retrieval, that are then immediately fertilized with fresh sperm from her husband (or stranger) in the hope of making a viable embryo that so far didn't work out (cases of 1 biological parent or even 0 if both eggs and sperm are incapable to fertilize normal fertile eggs or sperm). The parents in such cases can qualify for marriage and child credit, due to the burden of raising a kid or two for society and having tried to have biological kids. No same gender can qualify for this credit, since 0 violent crime, 0 lust, maximum chastity is the goal of immortalist societies, to prompt human evolution. ☺☺☺

Real love is helping humanity by raising a kid with a lady whose body the "gay guy" may not want to play with all day, due to being "gay". It's filif and comical☺ that some think the purpose of penis is to be stuck into the buttocks of same sex primates. For those big science egos, just a 3rd grader biology reminder: evolution didn't make penises for same sex erotica, but to help the species to reproduce, have babies with the other sex. There is no point in playing the selfish self-gratification seeking Bible Rapist with 1 night stands to destroy the brains of fellow humans, by shifting the human quantum field into the lust zone and away from the teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals who materialize offspring as in the Immortalist Anthem. ☺☺☺ The species wants to inhabit many galaxies and systems, so it favors the shapeshifting vectors of human evolution, that enable trillion year lifespans or at least 9000, because you can be alive by the time you arrive in another star system. Evolution disfavors LGBTQ sex addicts or enthusiasts or straight "daily sex is good for you" people, as they don't innovate, but remain like masticating animals or filthy pigs engrossed in their own pig level IQ. The evolutionary and survival pressure of asteroids and other (it's easy to wipe out a species in 10 seconds if all live on one planet only) events, is why the brain can achieve bliss higher than orgasm, because the human quantum field knows the dangers to then human species being stuck to a planet only, because people can live without penis or testicles but never without brain. All that LGBTQ sex has emptied the sex outside procreation addict LGBTQ folks brain of all nutrients. The sex fan LGBTQ folks can't even think logically anymore at times, unless they're the asexual types, the A of LGBTQA, but that's 0.1% of LGBTQA.☺ The brain is more important than the penis. Do LGBTQ really want to have the lowest Immortality Credit Score, the guy/gal who drags humanity into a black hole of animalism? All LGBTQ funnies who Worship sex, whose IQ hovers usually around 50 on the immortalist Scale☺, will receive plenty of weeks off to learn conscious breathing to achieve instant bliss without sex, assistance to rewire the "stuck in childhood" brain addicted to sex, get over the 7th grader mentality of self-seeking pleasure addict, graduate from cannibal chimp vibration of Mass Rape of the Bible, turn that screw that is loose in their head, due to the Jewish Media Loosening It, making LGBTQ sex addict 3 year old "Mommy give me candy to suck ☺☺☺" mentality clowns (thinking themselves adults, but being diaper babies psychologically☺☺☺, who need some pampering and couseling), who believe they're LGBTQ. The biological kid achieves its highest potential when he's in the presence of mom and dad until adulthood in the family unit sharing a single family home, since ONLY THE BIOLOGICAL MOM AND BIOLOGICAL DAD know the kid, themselves, the best, they're the only people in the world capable to understand the kid DEEPLY, since they're the most like the kid of all humans, having the DNA of the kid. Thus, any intelligent parent, wants the best potential for the kid, so that the kid becomes so great, he will take care of the parent better. But what we see today, is the super low IQ of LGBTQ is sabotaging the LGBTQ parent's own future and many such parents become homeless, as they prioritized the selfish lust desire for a sex partner, instead the altruistic desire to help human kids reach their highest potential and bless the human species the most.☺☺☺

consciously and discover real bliss 1000 times deeper than sex which they can generate on demand with no partner, and today, with serene music and smiling, positive affirmations, it's so easy to generate any emotion on demand if you slept well last few years). Critics will say the right to gay sex is above the right to not being bombed by Gay Soldiers of a Depraved Military, like US today. Immortalists say that the First Right is that to Life, to No Torture, No Violence, No War, the LGBTQ rights are 1 trillion times less important. The Bill of Rights is 1 trillion times less important than the Right to No Torture, Violence, Death. Everything is 1 trillion times less important than Eternal World Peace, got it? ☺ All media, literature must remove all sexual scenes. The only allowed sentence ought to be "they had a child". No talk of stimulation, tantra, sex, touching, masturbation, LGBT, anything as that creates desire or curiosity and then that can cause desire to masturbate, etc shall be present in the centralized education video, in any movie, book or Internet forum. The act of sex is taught only in parent license videos. In a biology class they can tell people, without any details of how, that the "genitals" can be used to create babies, and that "no adults are not supposed to have touch a naked kid and kids are to report to police if any adult touches their genitals, because a monster can come out, a dead baby and they can die, etc". No extra details, the sexual education today is 1000000 times more than needed before age 18. No imports of such books in the US, not even via travel bags by visitors. ☺☺☺ Stress, overeating, etc sexual images all cause sperm buildup, so all kids need to have a calorie table, sleep well, avoid extra curricular activities that prevent good sleep and raise stress level. No revealing clothing, to prevent too much arousal. Leggings that reveal butt or leg shape are not arousing for most men (got used to it), but they do reflect the filif IQ of ladies who fail to realize the skin needs to breathe, and tight leggings are toxic, the microplastic in them irritate the legs and cause microplastics entering the brain of all house residents, etc. Why not wear cotton, cool the vagina, prevent infection, wear looser underwear that prevents birth defects from hot vagina or penis in case of equally abysmal IQ men trying to show off their testicles they crush and overheat with tight shorts.

Think about aliens who find us maybe as ugly as we find some dust or face mites, ticks, spiders, etc, they wouldn't really find your spider leg sexier if it's wrapped in a cloth or not. Beauty is all subjective, instead of focusing on longevity, some waste too much time with trying to seduce others, which is retarded, since humans won't have sexual reproduction in the far future. Showing off all their shoulders, tits, etc, almost bikini like stuff can arouse some guys, usually the wrong type, and screw those ladies' lives. The UV damages the chest of ladies, their necks/chest look horrible (see pic) (plus they give the vibe of an ☺abysmal IQ☺ bitch trying to seduce a human bacterium of male gender, instead of evolving to the Immortal human blueprint living to a quadrillion years) as they never wear UV protection like men's shirts, etc. This way, with less revealing clothing, nobody has sex before 18, when they might marry and try to have a baby, after parent license was obtained. There are cults and books with wild claims about sex having "wild benefits" (who wrote those with what agenda? Were the studies fake or flawed due to 3 million confounding factors?) – like they claim this or that tech or pill or food does 500 things to sell it. The human body adapts and if you don't "educate people" about what sex is and how to have it, they don't have sex, until the moment of procreation. The human won't slap, spank, etc anyone if this action is never depicted in any media, book, movie, etc. So, we need to remove all these sex outside procreation ☺abysmal IQ☺ books and fraudulent science papers from the kid domain, and only studies with 3 million people with all confounding factors accounted for can be published in adult domain about "sex benefits", due to the danger of destroying the human quantum field via spy hybrid warfare to destroy brains and innovation by focusing on the "benefits of sex outside procreation" myth. No such legitimate sex benefits study was done, as they didn't ask 3 million people to abstain from sex, consciously breathe, listen to peaceful music in that time wasted with sex and compared them. Any promotion of sex outside of procreation will be illegal in any media or science journal until proper studies are done to measure innovation, IQ, contribution to society besides lifespan length, health status.

For profit books are full of lies and fraud, because they're like for profit education and most companies today: pure fraud. People invent stuff to sell more books. We need 11 companies for 400 year lifespan for all, not for profit. "Sex outside of procreation may cause miscarriage which may lead to cancer, like abortion does too. Sex outside of procreation is against the evolutionary drive of humanity and not recommended by the Immortality Nurturing Agency, believe in "sex benefits" hypotheses at your own nutritional deficiency and lifespan shortening risk" needs to be explained to all adults at the parental class. Just like on cigarette packs we get "this will cause cancer", etc disclaimer on all science papers or books (all books are free, nobody can make money via books, since all books are electronic to save the environment, all incomes very similar) about unverified benefits which may be disproven 5 centuries from now, as with tons of medical myths from centuries ago. All sex toys will be illegal. The number one goal is World Peace in 3 months, not sex shops which will all become illegal. Sex outside of procreation is unethical, because it takes energy from the brain and mental effort to bring Eternal World Peace, and evolution towards a shapeshifting Immortal human being. All people need to be explained the evils of any form of self-touching, self-arousal, thought that is sexual in nature and builds sperm up, too. It's a matter of national security too, since it's national health, frequent abortion is unhealthy, frequent sex or self-arousal lowers IQ, lifespan length or causes various diseases due to nutritional deficiency caused by sleep time sperm release due to daytime sexual imagery or neuron control via gadget use by unscrupulous police, etc. Sex during pregnancy increases risk of bacterial vaginosis and preterm birth, which will mean sometimes 25 year shorter lifespan for offspring and poor health in that shorter life, so sex fanaticism can lead to civilization downfall. Universal compassion is much healthier for society than eros, it leads to much greater lifespan. Conscious breathing (when we're rested and not tortured, since when tortured by spies, we can't really achieve true meditation) makes us happier than running or doing any physical activity for 5 years. Oral sex is suicidal, since it can cause bacterial vaginosis without dental dam protection, and increases throat cancer risk by up to 9 times. Only ☺ abysmal IQ☺ folks have oral sex. It can deplete males of sperm, women of reproductive liquids that help the sperm reach the egg, diluting the sperm/femake liquid concentration and capacity of couples to fertilize eggs, making a couple impotent that month if trying to conceive. Aim for a 5 trillion year bliss, not a short-term oral sex leaving you mentally disabled, a burden on society.

All can now see why the idea of nondiscrimination against LGBTQ is anti-life, anti-progress, because it forces all to equate murder of fetuses that destroys the human quantum field with kindness, short 80 year life from sex outside of procreation lowering IQ with trillion year lifespan from asexual Immortals of the Immortalist Anthem. Religion is not ethics, LGBTQ is not ethics, kindness, love, they're subjective categories that are based on intent, to commit violence or rape. They're thus not feasible to be protected by law. Skin color is objective. "LGBTQ-religion are ethical" is an opinion, NOT an objective reality, not an independent quality (like race, gender) that is free of criminal intent, as the religion sections explains over 100 pages. ☺☺☺ Today they say don't discriminate against LGBTQ, tomorrow, against pedophiles, or Jews who have sex with 3 year olds, then against baby eaters (Bible), later against "cannibalism of kids in public (Bible quote) religion" like Aztecs, Jewish Baal folks boiling kids. We see the pattern clearly, initially they just asked for equality, now they moved to branwashing kids into becoming LGBTQ and nude gay parades to indoctrinate kids seeing it, creating 2 laws: one for regular people and one for LGBTQ: for example, endless folks are arrested for indecent exposure, but when done in front of many kids at a nude LGBTQ parade, no arrests. This is discrimination against non LGBTQ: first, they play victim, then they become the oppressors who impose their way on everyone. Initially, they just wanted to be able to marry, etc, now they want to convert everyone to their way. Sounds very typical of fifth column type of forces socially engineered to destroy societies. We need to reverse this criminal law that forbids discrimination based on religion or sexual orientation, because what they call religion is nothing but conciously or unconsciously supporting GENOCIDAL INTENT most of the time, but people never read their scriptures, so they don't see the connection, thinking "religions are about kindness", not mental slavery cults established by military spies of empires to subjugate nations. Sexual orientation is not neutral, it can mean "Jew attracted sexually to 3 year old gentiles", which, for now, is illegal, but, at the current pace, may become legal as Jewish takeover of USA deepens. Always recall what Muslims and Jews do: initially, they play victims, demand equal rights, etc, then they infiltrate and take power in a city or state and start to oppress the people who welcomed them, destroying their culture and turning them into unrecognizable slaves with 500 tattoos, 500 jewelry piercings, 400 hair colors, etc. Take USA for example: we welcomed Jews, and as more came, they took over gov and imposed circumcision on all males. The LGBTQ follow the same exact tactics, as Jews support them. In 1950 LGBTQ wanted recognition, in 2026 they demand control over USA. We can only imagine what 2126 has in store: forced anal rape in public for all who resist LGBTQ sex with the LGBTQ politicians raping everyone on CNN and Foxnews. California allows sex offenders to get school boards jobs and other public office jobs.

Religion is not a protected category, or an "innocent" belief, but a choice to adopt unique levels of ethics or violence. LGBTQ is also genocide of the nation, cleverly promoted to exterminate. We can't treat those who destroy humanity the same as those who build humanity. If we did, then the penalty for stealing 2 cents should be the same as for murder, because the "religion calling for mass rape, slavery, endless genocides" is equal under the law with a beautiful "Love the worst human a trillion times more than the best mom loved her most belived infant last decade" religion. It's time to redefine religion as nonviolent scripture religion, and to remove tax exempt status from most religions in USA which are sadly, based on violent scriptures. Just as most religions are terrorist organizations that create eternal war with or without realizing, LGBTQ are terrorist organizations that terrorize the youth into destroying their brains via sex outside of procreation, so the youth become low IQ, easy to dupe, incapable to experience higher forms of bliss on demand via thought or conscious breathing. The gov must protect the kid and young adult mental health and promote the increase of IQ to reach etlif IQ of a billion quadrillion, not becoming a stupid chimp. LGBTQ is criminality, in light of what was presented above and below, it is the use of one's conscious energy to devolve into an animal, to promote quantum field imprints related to rape (which leads to war and violence), instead of evolving towards a human experiencing World Peace, zero wars, zero violent crime, zero rape. Every act of sex outside of procreation is energy that makes rape more probable (since it deifies sex outside of procreation thru brainwashing as the pinnacle of bliss, when it is not, creates deisre for it, that for unstable minds leads to coervice rape to satisfy the alleged "amazing bliss"). The energy of sex outside of procreation is not used to stop war, so it is criminal, since society derives zero benefit from it, it's quite wasteful. Every rapist religion, like the 3 Abrahamic ones, (Bible mass rape and Quran mass rape, that deify mass rape of all, kids included in scripture, makes rape for probable, and is not a protected category, but an organized crime act, an act of destruction of the state, of the zero violent crime principle of civilized and immortalist societies, an act of destroying public order by calling for mass rape, for slavery, for genocide of infidels. They're no different than the Italian Mafia or the Taliban, ISIS or terror groups. Having yellow or white or red skin is not a crime. Supporting a scripture calling for mass rape, genocide, slavery and killing slaves IS a crime, not a RIGHT. Supporting sex outside of procreation that is useless, needless (when 99% lack proper food, shelter, transport or healthcare), rape causing and when many alternatives for similar bliss exists that damage the body and quantum field less is a CRIME, not a RIGHT. A person's Immortality Credit Score is higher when his actions increase the lifespan of all humans. Anal/oral sex doesn't increase the lifespan of humanity, it only decreases the lifespan of the 2 brainwashed persons taking part in such an act, as explained above and below too. Life is short, you either use it to increase human lifespan to 4000, or to be a chimp rubbing genitals against other chimps, since you're too brainwashed (or gullible to believe the Jewish TV) to realize bliss is 100% in the brain and you don't need genitals to experience it.☺☺☺

Unlike nations that kill LGBTQ, immortalists advocate for educational courses to explain how attraction and brain bliss work, to help debrainwash people who believe that they're their genital selves and that their identity is determined 90-100% by their sexual life, when sexual life should be 0.00001% of ones' identity. For these mentally challenged ultra low IQ folks, LGBTQ that is, it is the epitome of infinite compassion, i.e. a trillion times kinder love than that of the most nurturing mom towards her breastfeeding baby, to not kill them, but to accept that social engineering takes time to undo. We don't kill people with low IQ, so we can't kill LGBTQ for being tomato IQ. It's who they are. However, just as we don't let mentally retarded people run nuclear power plants, and serial killers to be promoting their beliefs far and wide, ISIS to run the planet, we can't allow LGBTQ to take over education adn turn every kid into LGBTQ. We don't let Down syndrome people run universities, so why should we let LGBTQ run our colleges? There is a difference between understanding people of low real IQ and allowing them to run society into the ground. There is nothing unusual about being born with a more male brain in a female body or having both vagina & penis, but the reality is today 98% of LGBTQ are created by Jewish social engineering thru their 100% control over US media, courts and education. We understand some people of high IQ can have these attractions and not understand that real IQ is 10 times more than what IQ measures, that they're confused about their likes. But understanding and education can help 'LGBTQ' understand, at 18, when an adult, and when it's appropriate to discuss the definition of an ideal family (parent license) and the benefits of being heterosexual and of sex for procreation only (which is taught as such via the central immortalist universal equal for all education that replaces all Jewish run higher education of USA) for the longevity (living to 4000 in bliss, instead to 80) and bliss of their lifeform born with a mix of genes that confuses them temporarily, until thru education, they overcome their like of same gender and realize heterosexuality can be their reality and LGBTQ can be seen as a choice 100% that is not the best, due to avoiding half of what is humanity, the other gender, needed for now, while we're not yet genderless shapeshifting Immortals (far future). No kids need to know what LGBTQ is until they become 18 and eligible for parent license. All kids need to learn is that sex is a chore that human chimps do to pro-create when they get parent license, and that sex for procreation only is 1 trillion times better than the alternative. This ends the Italian Jewish Rapist run USA cult, where the powerful Jewish Italian Mafia running USA, Christianity, Judaism brainwashes everyone that somehow, the God of cannibalism simulated, wants sex outside of procreation or that sex is love, when it isn't, but the Inquisition and baby drowning (for 1200 years, until gentiles realized Jews invented baby drown baptism to destroy gentiles) Catholics didn't get it, in part due to the Jewish total control of Christianity for centuries. Today, many cities have 10% Jews and are run by Jews, just as Rome when it adopted Christianity, had 10% of Jews running the empire and its relentless genocides in perfect harmony with the Word of Eternal Genocide. The Bible forced by war was nothing but Jewish Sharia Law, Old Testament, forced at gunpoint on all, via the fraudulent Jesus miracles cult of eternal guilt and blowing self up as Jesus died for Jewish profits and Solomon of 300 concubines and endless slaves Israel imperial expansion.

14.6.4. Sex and masturbation waste nutrients, weaken eyes/brain and lower IQ (eat well after sex for pro-creation, vitamins in Chapter 12, since body is depleted). Science papers to Prove It.

Intro: This is why terrorists from spy agencies, US/etc militaries cause sperm emissions (normal emissions are once 1-3 years, depending on stress and etc, not 50 a year like CIA causes using neural control, electric impulses, etc) in people they torture, the genocidal Big Power Militaries wage war of extermination and destruction on all nations to loot them effectively by installing brain dead leaders whom they can easily manipulate via torture. That's why they export infernal music to all nations, to lower IQ of all nations, as the Zion Elders guidelines for the destruction of all Ethics State. No World Peace is possible until the human sacrificing (in California) elites are killed or locked on Pluto: these bastards swear on the demonic Bible of Mass Rape and Genocide in plain view of the masses of gullible ultra low IQ folks who have no idea what the Bible contains: pure satanism, war making as human sacrifice to satan, war is human sacrifice, so news and music is all about war images and violence, lust, etc. Military Elites worldwide are Human Sacrificing Elites, for War is Needless Human Sacrifice. All Militaries who're not for Instant World Peace are demonic Human Sacrificers who deserve Death penalty. However, immortalists are for peaceful methods of ending war, including renaming the US military Eternium, reforming it, EPA-CIA-FBI-cops-judges-lawyers-FDA become Immortality Nurturing Agency, to end 20000 agencies/cop departments.

SCIENCE: Castrated men live 10-20 years longer than normal men and neutered cats live 60% longer than normal cats. Men with low calorie diets live 25% longer and also have lower (almost nonexistent) libido. Science has shown again and again that abstaining from sex, except for having kids (so a few times in a lifetime), extends your lifespan. Perhaps, nature designed reproductive liquids to be rich in nutrients, fats, proteins for reproduction, so when one meditates one avoids draining every organ, (even the eyes and brain), of nutrients (and thus lowering health, telepathy, spiritual and cognitive capacity) and enzymes, cofactors, DNA-RNA wear-tear of cells used to create those sperm components, as people do when having too much sex or any form of self-touching, self-arousal, thought that is sexual in nature and builds sperm up. A species' most vital thing is procreation, so semen and, far more importantly, the body systems used to create the sperm cells from germ cells over 2.5 months and sperm plasma etc contain the most valuable stuff in the body, its production after semen/liquids depletion takes precedence over body repair, nutrients and enzymes (some that may be produced in short supply every day, known or unknown to current science) used for body repair and neuron growth (semen contains lipids) are wasted for reproductive liquids, so one ages faster if overdoing it. SeMen contains (google it) in 1 mL many chemicals found in the brain too:☺☺☺ DHA, EPA, choline 1 mg (part of acetylcholine), 0.00026 µg B_{12}, 7 ng testosterone (keeps eyes wet, so dry eyes is reward for masturbation), 0.15 mg Zn, 171 mg protein, 13 µg I, 0.37 mg Mg, 1 mg K, 26 U catalase (antioxidant enzyme to protect semen from free radicals), 200 IU SOD (superoxide dismutase), 110 IU GPx, 0.03 mg spermidine (in every human cell, prevents aging, baldness, grey hair, see 2 pages about it here, studies show frequent sex/masturbation causes grey/thin hair, wrinkles, hoarse voice (lots of ladies using birth control too), red eyes, acne, faster aging, strokes, infarcts, since sperm production uses the best nutrient and antioxidant reserves since species procreation is top priority, sperm production generates free radicals that no longer fight acne or hair root oxidative stress: nature designed us to ejaculate 50x max to have a few kids, not 9000x), 0.1 µg B_2 (related to sperm health), 0.8 mg sialic acid, cholesterol 0.5 mg (highest concentration is in the human brain), phospholipids 2 mg (IJA 2001;24(6):327-34 like SM, sphingomyelin, the myelin cover of neuron axons that prevents cognitive decline, also present in the lipid layer of tears that prevents dry/red eyes, playing a key role between water layer and lipid layer of tears being in between them, low PE, SM phospholipid found in those with dry eyes). Dry (and thus red) eyes are associated with low serum glycero phosphocholines Oph 2017;124(4):505-11, like phosphatidylcholine, which we get from soy, legumes, lentils, bee pollen; sperm emission (contains these phosphocholines) will lower serum phosphocholines (polar lipids) and diminish the capacity of meibum lipids to spread over the aqueous layer due to a deficiency in polar lipids, leading to evaporative dry eyes, since lipids can't prevent evaporation.☺ Sialic acid is found in the highest concentration in the brain where "it participates as an integral part of ganglioside structure in synaptogenesis and neural transmission" ► EJCN 2003;57(11): 1351-69. Sperm cells contain "high levels of docosahexaenoic acid (DHA, C22:6 n-3) which contributes up to 30% of the total fatty acid composition." ► And 2016;4(5):857-65. DHA makes up 97% of brain ω3, 93% of eye ω3. Scientists made some genetic changes to some worms that helped them live 2-5 times longer, but they became sterile, meaning the overuse of the entire body systems to be fertile, to produce sperm/female ejaculate can shorten our lifespan (true for all, truer in humans with some deficiencies), since worms and humans share many biochemical pathways. ☺☺☺ Mass murdering nations (any nation that exports killing weapons is that, see immortalist nation military definition), who worship barbecue, alcoholism, eating fried animals (like aliens would fry humans to eat), war, like USA, favor global rape/genocide via sexualization since age 3, see Talmud, so spy agencies torture many with night emissions. Other countries copy the US gadgets for sperm release at night. Tesla was talking of the day of no food eating, it makes sense then to have less sex, so as to conserve nutrients, live longer. As species want to live longer, they favor thru superorganism dynamics (unknown to us) the embryos formed from parents whose habits propel that longer lifespan, so species can travel in one lifetime to another planet to increase survival chance. ☺☺☺

Back to health effects (outside procreation): skeptics will say that queen bees produce their body weight of eggs daily and live 10-50 times longer, but we're not queen bees, we're much closer to all other species that don't have a single reproductive individual. Until a future century, when we have cured every disease by seeing molecular changes in real time in every organ, understood all body resources it takes to produce new sperm by seeing real time the molecules in reproductive organs and the body before, during and after sex, it's wiser to not overdo it, since the lifespan may be shorter, especially in people with certain diets or genomes. Many things people believed in ancient times were confirmed in the last few decades by science, and many were disproved; it may be that in some centuries there will be a clear evidence of the optimal frequency for maximum lifespan, which may depend on genome and diet of course, like everything else. Some ancient texts claimed that anecdotal evidence supports the hypothesis of longer lifespan with less sex, what if future science finds clear evidence for this? What if the science will find evidence that minimizing it or at least being very moderate about it extends healthy lifespan the most, making you able to live to 900 easiest in best health? Today, as explained in the analogy of a million confounding factors, we don't know the daily optimal level of each vitamin, as it is individual; likewise, we can't estimate, in our primitive era, the frequency of sex at which adverse effects occur due to system stress in the production of sperm cells, due to levels of enzymes, vitamins, cofactors becoming low; some people are B_{12} deficient even when eating 50 times mroe than others, due to lacking the intrinsic factor. When making public health recommendations, NIH maximizes lifespan for the most people, not the most nutritionally optimal people, the best fed 1%. It's therefore unwise, in the absence of data, to go to extremes, because some spiritual guru or book or MD writes to "have sex every day or week", one has free will to think independently. It's not so much about a little zinc, lipids, protein in semen plasma, but all resources to produce the whole thing and sperm cells. In the wilder past or more ancient, perhaps people had sex more once a month around ovulation, not daily; look at many tribes, they're naked and the arousal happens much less when seeing partially naked female and it happens more at ovulation. This may mean that most of our genetic history was not us having sex all the time, as some MDs claim is good for you. What is "too much sex" is subjective; some MDs claim that as fake smiles trigger endorphine release or physiological changes, sex triggers longevity genes as the body is "tricked to think you perpetuated the species and need live longer". But that's not true necessarily, because the brain may distinguish between having kids and taking care of them and mere copulation to "have fun or kids in some future". The one who has kids is naturally detected, by the specific electromagnetic signature of DNA templates interaction of parent and fetus/kid (wave interference of specific wave signatures of DNA), when kid is small and lives around parent first 18 years of life, which the body may have learned over 2 billion years in all animals. The body is often deficient in various chemicals (some undiscovered yet, it's not like we found all nutrients ideal for ligving to 150 and science stopped discovering yesterday) and obviously, for many, even weekly sex would make them more deficient in those nutrients or cofactors, enzymes used to create the nutrients. Then, all benefits from the orgasm stress relief are lost.

Everyone is free to develop their own beliefs, and of course we respect everyone's free will to do what they wish,☺☺☺ but given the manipulation that can occur with technology, it's useful to wonder where the "sensations or sensual thoughts" come from at times, could such thoughts (silent ultrasound for example in a public place, etc) come from humans with gadgets whose intent and ethics are very anti-longevity? All "stress relief" benefits of orgasm can be gotten via meditation in a much deeper way, bigger way, without destroying the limited reserves of certain nutrients, especially with such a poor nutrition education of most people. How to avoid overproduction of semen, wet dreams, 'spontaneous sleep dreamless emissions'?☺☺☺ Lovingly gently avoid liquids or food, exercise, stress, before going to bed, take a shower before bed if stressed. However, some sleep emissions (that spy agencies cause easily when urethra is full, so empty it before bed and stop drinking water and eating 4 hours before bed, hydrating more early in the day to hydrate) can go from 1 a year to 50 a year during spy agency torture; they do that to harass and may even play a dream with their tech into your brain. Meditation or contemplative introspection on God's infinite loving kindness as it moves with the breath into oneself and outside towards all beings, neutralizing by God's loving tender gentle kindness dematerializing power all artificial entities and unfriendly energies of less aware spirit beings (who're transformed into more angelic versions) in all dimensions who interfere with highest happiness and longevity of all humans, if one is religious and against "meditation" as a word. This meditation can not only make one super happy and heal silently the body from high cortisol caused by stress, but can act as a prayer of protection (no need of fancy mechanical verbal, mental repetitions of "organized religion/spirit group approved prayers", God reads our preverbal intent, one can dance with God's infinite energies as in these meditations and resonate more with Immortals), as one avoids anger and negativity and gains the "superhuman" ability of turning enemy into friend, without need of threats, intimidation and negative methods. By avoiding eating late at night, minimizing stress before sleep, taking a shower when off-balance and maybe for 3 min before sleep, one could achieve a "sex for procreation only" state, maybe a few semen emissions a year during sleep if body overproduced it by mistake or sudden big meal at night. Perhaps those interested can google "advantages of celibacy", read 100s of other books, articles about it, like brahmacharya.pdf, celibacy.pdf. Soon, with an MRI, etc way to stimulate the memory of such "ecstatic meditation" states faster, we could eliminate most negative emotions and give everyone an extra 20 years of life, as all conflict disappears.

Orgasm can bring the species one new individual,☺☺☺ but infinite compassion states can save the species from losing all 8 billion in all out war; thus, it makes sense for evolution to make compassion (and other eudaimonic altruistic happiness not hedonic) states (the joy of helping 8 billion be happy and live to 200, instead of 1 to be happy as in orgasm, the species perpetuates more if we live to 200 as we travel to other planets) much happier than orgasm, as they perpetuate the species much more. Can orgasm ever coincide with the best universal kindness states, i.e. the two have so much compassion for all when procreating, that it becomes a special state? Probably not, because the brain uses neurons for touch/moving processing of affection for 1 person, not 100% for compassionate energies moving at species level (affection for all beings) & beyond. All humans are quantumly entangled and 8 billion (or quadrillion species even if taken to cosmic levels, some living 10 years others 50 billion) replying to our compassion is stronger than 1 extra person replying/multiplying the bliss and compassion (or 0 when/if people do it alone). Hence reaching a tiny cosmic bliss during orgasm via universal compassion may change embryo geometry to enhance living longer for that species.

Another reason evolution prioritizes happiness☺☺☺ in meditation states by a factor of billions to one, as explained in the analogy above, is that it gives the species more choices, more survival chances, since it takes it away from sex based reproduction as the only way, into materialization by mind ray reproduction in far future via science altering human physiology and capabilities. In sex, people become hot, i.e. high in infrared energy, "red", infrared (heat), infra=below, infernal= lower, below realm, red chakra, infrared is lower energy than red (red=800nm, lower energy, higher chaos, death, more entropy). In meditation, people stay cool, activating the purple chakra, purple = 400nm, higher energy E=hc/λ, higher order (birthing infinite biological species and reproduction systems (cosmic rays are much higher energy), Immortality, less entropy. So, when people meditate daily, they move towards Immortality or longer life, when they have sex daily, they move towards death or shorter life, as the intellect is used for reproduction simulation instead of for transcending the human condition. God, Infinite Immortality Knowledge, the first Immortal, may be like the subtlest sublimated gentlest softest most refined infinite perfect total compassion for all, the greatest lover, the magnet that pulls souls towards the Eternal Bliss of Immortality thru the higher chakras, the ultimate seducer of all souls, a field spanning universes pouring the infinite compassion-mercy on the whole being and the soul realizing the astral/physical body pleasures are nothing compared to God's Love. Bliss is this universal kindness for spouse/all beings, and it can be achieved in many ways, even scientists who never meditate, sometimes discover something that helps us live 0.5-20 years longer on average and as they relax on the chair or bed, thinking about it, they broadcast that to the human species due to automatic involuntary diffusion of ideas in certain cases, and the whole human species rejoices and replies to that compassion in action and this scientist feels more ecstatic for weeks or years than a guy who has orgasm every day or who meditates daily trying to reach "super ecstatic infinite happiness state". Or it could be someone prays for World Peace or all humans to be healthy, and that intent is so strong, it activates a brain communication with the mass consciousness that the whole species replies and floods him with bliss and he experiences joy for months much bigger than others, yet he has no clue about these fancy names for samadhi, satori, nirvana, ecstasy states. Most humans felt a bliss state.

14.7.1. Introduction: basic concepts and aluminum protection (against RF weapons)

CIA can read and write every human thought, using devices like Facebook's brain reader, though influencing a mind via a passing thought they implant as coming from one's 'inner voice' only works if that passing thought aligns with the victim's belief system, so they get you to do one little step away from it, to get you to over years do/believe something you can never do in one step: like you brainwash people (sleep deprivation etc) via repeated simulated events that "leftists are idiots and 11 companies can never work", "aristocrats are saviors of humanity", "all leftists are violent like communists were", "leftism is pure evil", etc, "nonkilling and nonviolence don't work", "living to a trillion is not possible, World Peace in 2 months is not possible, zero violent crime in 3 years not possible, etc". "We need all military power in aristocratic hands (the military elites running all spy agencies), slavery is wonderful, big evil nations attack us, be happy to be alive as a hard working slave in US or whatever country. Turn the other cheek, take abuse forever, Jesus loves you, work self to death like Jesus died, you sinful stupid slave, make Jews rich, Jews are good at business, serve them to get a raise, you eternal slave☺☺☺". Elites use this to maintain eternal power and world never reaches peace. That's a way to win negotiations and winning "wars" without any physical violence: manipulate the other into doing what they don't want by believing it was their idea and in their best interest via a gradual manipulation, so minute, so slow, taking so many years, the guy just thinks it was a natural change of mindset.

The KGB spied on USA for 7 years (1945-52) using a no battery capacitor, that could be used today to spy on verbal talk of anyone, without them being able to find the source, since it's disguised as an everyday object, hidden in furniture or walls even, with no power source and such objects can also cause "torture effects" via a nearby device in a car, utility pole, hidden WiFi spy device behind your fence or any unplugged objects in your bedroom/desk area (not just light bulbs or monitors which are obviously usable as torture device to attack any body area: legs, toes, eyes, face, temples, skull if monitor above the head etc) that sends a wave to activate the device. So, the Chinese or Russians can insert dreams, thoughts into any human on Earth in any location, if no aluminum barriers exist above/around the head, around the person... even if spy devices are unplugged, like the soviet capacitor, so think about Beijing satellites activating an object and torturing Americans from Beijing: buy made in China, Russia? Not anymore of course, you would buy everything US made.☺☺ See 90 min 2026 Congress hearing on MKUltra program CIA ran in US and Germany using Nazi scientists. When you realize what happens, you don't want to buy anything foreign made, only US made with US parts. They can use satellites to listen to everything you speak, hence the 20 telepathy habits. When a device is plugged in, espionage and torture are 1 trillion times easier, so turn the power strip off before going to bed, since anything in standby mode, or sleep mode, like monitor, etc can be used as a weapon to raise heart rate (you know they do it, it's sudden and their pulse devices uses rarely even starting sounds to increase "intimidation", kind of like "we turned on the machine"), etc. Turn everything off, except maybe your heater or humidifier if any. China doesn't need direct war, they can wage it covertly with lethal exports to USA. Electronic devices of all types, EMF protection (can be mind control devices in disguise), Stetzer, cell phones, bed clocks or humidifier meters, computers, Taiwan/Korea monitors/cars with China parts that have a straight line of sight (Car roof, etc) to your brain to program or attack your brain remotely, etc anything with power on even on battery or standby mode can be used to insert dreams, thoughts (good or bad, works to some degree in certain naive folks, even if sounds crazy, as long as thoughts are within their "anger level and ethics range (they create this wide ethics range by demonic music, to later arrest people for doing things they told them to do via mind control)" that day) and cause involuntary emission of sperm or erotic arousal on demand to manipulate recruiting targets using honey traps, so unplug everything before going to bed or turn off the power strip on-off button (or unplug it) to avoid unplugging, besides avoiding eating 3 hours before bed or drinking a big glass of water before bed (drink water earlier in the day). Spy agencies have developed cheap dream manipulation tech since 1950s at least, today they're ultra tiny, ultra cheap. They use the same mind technique like bitches to enslave you: you're a mere resource to them, for Nazi experiments, etc. It's safer to sleep in a room with 0 objects in it, 0 plugged, protected by Al cubicle (see below), way harder for them to program you during sleep.☺☺

So today, they don't need special CIA people to kill anyone, they manipulate a messed up guy to do random acts, as with their MDs destroying millions of brains on purpose via psychotic drugs and guns to all, etc and mind control, sleep deprivation, etc, they get anyone malnourished and tired to "hear voices" and do killings or any dirty stuff that they want done to hide the perpetrator (CIA, etc). Often times the "voices" are merely music lyrics modified by the brain into 'seemingly self-generated thoughts', all music is poison, except 0.1% (mostly instrumental), if you need vocal music, make your own like I did, don't listen to the CIA programming via music, TV-radio, all singers are CIA mind control victims and/or unwilling or semi-willing collaborators, shells inhabited by artificial robotic minds, too evil to know what is good and what is evil. Watch DC Shorts to see how music is used to create millions of violent criminals, link it to hyper rock, mean pop, gangster rap, etc. Most celebrity singers deserve death penalty or at least "lifetime labor", since they fuel millions of deaths, rapes and almost death like injuries worldwide, hyper music causes endless crashes, alcohol lyrics and weed ones too. All ethics and behavior stems from music people listen to, if you want 1 trillion times lower violent crime, you need 1 trillion times more peaceful melody, lyrics, and tone. These evil "singers" (making billions or millions) are the tools of aristocratic terror of the 99%. CIA-FBI-Pentagon cause most violent crime, since they control all music, movie, media, education (nothing is private, freemasons control it all), more than even China does (China has overt control, US control is covert, all think freedom exists, but none exists almost as no decent music is allowed to exist as popular one, US and most nations are more like a Nazi concentration camp, where real freedom is zero), and decide to saturate all minds with infernal, violence, crap music, news and ethics, satanic religion, satanic freemasonry, to have an unlimited amount of criminal potential killers to do their dirty jobs, all while hiding behind a facade of "Christian ethics" or what might be seen as noble in some other nation. Same old tricks of empires from millennia ago and British Empire: divide and conquer, control colony with the slaves themselves. Most cops have zero understanding of the Pentagon capabilities. That's why USA has no decent music except 0.1% of it. Same for all nations. CIA uses youtube right side suggestions with "Psychology of people who're like this and that" in order to make you believe you fit into a category, so they can manipulate you into imitating that supposed alleged behavior of "amazingly high in IQ type of people" or whatever, or "Fears create all pulse rises, odd sensations of torture by CIA, it's all in your mind, just write your fears down to overcome them" and CIA will control you even better, by knowing your fears and how your mind works. These devils used manipulation to create plausible deniability for 5000 years, sweet talkers, spies, etc... who pose as friends, but are serial killers. ☺☺☺

Mg deficiency (when real, since often times you know the CIA causes the twitches as they happen right after you go near a monitor that they modified and write something about eyelid twitch, or seconds before you open a letter that has something about ears and they cause ear sensations), stress, exhaustion or high K may explain 30-70% of the "torture" below in some people (who're not tortured that much directly, but indirectly, via gadget to brain suggestions to make one tired, to be tired and easier to manipulate into doing certain things that lead to the desired CIA or Mossad outcome, since silent sound etc goes around aluminum barriers, etc), so make sure you soak legumes, grains to remove phytates and antinutrients, and avoid bakeries, bread, cereals if you don't take Mg supplements, because phytates are blocking the Mg, Zn, Fe, Ca, Mn, Cu uptake causing 30-100% of symptoms below and spy agencies know this and can manipulate people to eat high phytate foods (breads, unsoaked or canned legumes, etc) and low Mg foods, to cause anxiety, fatigue, poor energy, sickness, or even misdiagnosis in victims of mind or social manipulation. Poor ventilation causes a rise in pulse, heart pain if some heart artery blockage exists and/or if room oxygen is low, as heart/body lacks oxygen trying to beat faster, needing more oxygen itself. So not all pulse rise is torture, stress by CIA psychological torture or CIA slight 40 bpm heart rate rise one time can cause similar incidents other times due to mere poor sleep, while low Mg causes arrythmias (palpitations). Clear real torture is 30 bpm rise, not 8, as 8 is easier to justify with mundane fluctuations. High fructose intake or purine rich foods spike uric acid which can cause uric crystals in the joints to cause arthritis like pain temporarily until intake of glycine, better soaking or lower fructose intake dissolves them: this can explain perhaps 5% of events below. Blood Mg is 1% of body Mg, so a test can look normal in deficiency, for Mg and other nutrients, that's why we need the 7 tests for any nutrient: blood, RBC, nail, hail, urine, feces, saliva. The body keeps the serum level in tight ranges for most nutrients, at the expense of tissue levels. By understanding human biochemistry, an enemy can torture 1 billion folks, by covertly making most deficiency in 2-5 nutrients, bringing IQ down 9 points, health down 30%. Then taking over the nation covertly is 20x easier.☺☺☺

Alternate (NOT TORTURE) Explanation for Calves/Toe Cramps, Temple/Forehead/Skull Pain, easily used by spy agencies to create plausible deniability to hide their advanced torture devices:

Many of the tortures in this section are very hard, with current tech, to confirm with physics blueprints of former events in a location (due to our tech being millennia behind such tech), as direct attacks using infrasound or etc that goes around an aluminum barrier or etc because the pain or pulse often stops within seconds or minutes of you placing an aluminum thick or thin barrier (1-30 mil thickness) over the area of the body they attack, which seemingly "stops all microwave lasers, x-ray lasers of low power, etc". There are 3 reasons why the pain stops:

1). a CIA attack has a latent period of pain proportional with the intensity of the laser fired or direct energy weapon fired that goes around the corner, like advanced weapons today, just sci-fi weapons only CIA knows about, the period and pain vanish instantly by mere movement for low power attacks by hidden objects strategically placed within one's house or room. ☺☺☺

2). CIA didn't want "you to know they use x-rays passing thru aluminum to attack you" and the video spy camera showed it you detected their attack so they stop to make it seem like a regular "low Mg induced sensation that comes and goes with time". ☺☺☺

3). The typical explanation CIA would try to make every target believe: "a simple biochemical explanation exists for every case, i.e. they "never torture anyone", and it's all his "speculation" that CIA has anyting to do with it", which is a lie, evidently, since all these events can't happen so often at exact times, repeatedly, in the middleof the night etc... or day, 11:11, 3:22, 3:00 am, etc, plus other things happening. The explanation would go like this (supported even by Google AI that is remotely controlled by a CIA operator at times to implant thought questions in the minds of a computer user, and then give fake answers to steer the user into believing a false narrative by the "authority" of the anonymous non-CIA manipulated intelligence of all PubMed papers, which can all be made up by CIA controlled teams anyway. The biggest trap is believing that AI is objective, it's not, it's the government tool to spread its narrative and even to assist in brainwashing targets of torture that CIA didn't do anything and it was all others or simply "imagination of a sensitive guy who was tired and a little paranoid". That's why Pentagon forbids DeepSeek, Chinese AI, because it's a brainwashing by government propaganda tool too, not just an incredibly superhuman memory of the abstracts/content of millions of free papers it accesses by web crawling and reads so fast, that it seems so "ingellignet". Speed is not intelligence, and believing google or any AI answers is foolish, they just apply basic knowledge to the existing flawed human dogmas of our current stone age of human development. ☺☺☺

With that being said, the CIA spin doctors would go and say the classic third reason: 3). the "weird sensations" or "attacks" are all caused by high potassium (K), low Mg or a combination, can stop due to the fact a lack of magnesium causes them, since our bodies are electric and aluminum conducts/alters electric magnetic fields, alters bioelectrical properties of ion channels and membrane allowing the firing of muscle signals, leading to the sudden end of pain by simple massage or aluminum placed over an area. This may fly, but it's strange that a pulsing pain attack would vanish immediately at times at precise moments, especially when the pulse may not match the heartbeat which then removes the Mg explanation of 3). CIA is not stupid, they always design anything to make it seem like a natural event, not like intentional torture, since they want people to think CIA is this holy mission agency. Every one of CIA operations is designed as ultra simple and mundane (see the CIA youtube channel on how spy agencies operate, they design torture in a way they can escape in court from any incrimination, ready and armed already wtih 3 possible explanations to free themselves of any wrongdoing), every act of espionage or torture is designed so clever, so as to seem the CIA torturer was doing his natural thing, not really any torture. So, let's here a typical alternate explanation, which can be true in many cases and not just a CIA trick: our scalp (or any body area that has spasms or pulsing pain due to low Mg caused by high K meals) is packed with highly sensitive tactile receptors. When you place a structured, metallic, or crinkly object like an aluminum-lined (or no aluminum) hat on your head or any body area, it applies unique physical pressure, texture, and thermal changes (aluminum traps and reflects body heat very efficiently). These non-painful sensory inputs (touch, weight, and warmth) travel along fast nerve fibers to your central nervous system. This flood of safe sensory data effectively "closes the gate" in your brainstem, blocking or overriding the slower, weaker tingling signals coming from the irritated pinpoint spot of low Mg "pulsing or regular pain" (see below). However, this trick of sensory rerouting only works when the low Mg and high K are not major shifts. In other circumstances, the hats or even 200 meter thick aluminum will cause NO EFFECT, because the CIA doesn't do it with X-rays OR THE LATENT EFFECT OF A weapon used lasts seconds to minutes after the first attack, just like a Taser attack can cause pain for 1 or 1000 minutes, depending on how strong the energy or electricity used. So, "relax, nobody is attacking you daily", would be the CIA idea. That's true in many cases, and some "pains" or "attacks" may be an inflammatory response to previous damage the CIA did when they had you bump into something with the toes, etc. Other times, many "tortures" or "pain sensations" are not always infrasound and high power density microwave attacks (as in Maduro abduction), but can be due at times (not always, can be after an attack by a spy agency or military) to temporary weight gain due the stress of CIA torture via sleep deprivation that causes weight gain (like, so busy dealing with the stress, one forgets to even weigh oneself on a scale to see and realize one is gaining weight, yes even 5-30 lb for a very underweight person, when resulting weight is only BMI 21, skinny fat, no muscles, just fat gain), poor blood circulation or narrow arteries, cold feet or knees due to low ambient temp (though these manifest due to their other obvious torture that leads to poor sleep and self-neglect, so it is still indirect torture☺☺☺), lack of B12 or magnesium (causing tingling, toe curls, chest pain, eye, brow, temple/skull pain (low magnesium + occipital nerve irritation cause hyper-excitable tension in the temporalis and scalp muscles), numbness, muscle cramps), electrolyte balance (during fasting), hydration, nutrients, etc, not due to an attack by an RF weapon minutes ago. ☺

See, for head pain, CIA has a simple exit to explain it all: when we sleep, if our neck is hyperextended or poorly supported, the suboccipital muscles at the skull base tighten and compress the occipital nerves that extend all the way to the top of the head, so then wrong neck position can cause "skull pain rarely when waking up", it wasn't CIA attacking our scalp to "wake us up", or CIA attacking the "toe or calves" to wake us up, the waking up caused the pain, due to subthreshold depolarization, with cross membrane electrical charge falling from -.95 to -.75 due to high K intake. Likewise, when we sit at the desk in a fixed position, our occipital nerve sits in a certain way and then we change that position suddenly, so with waking up ot stnading up to go to the bath, statically contracted neck and shoulder muscles are forced to rapidly lengthen and pull against gravity. This sudden move presses on the already compressed occipital nerves, causing a brief spike of sharp or aching scalp pain as we move. Low Mg → NMDA Receptors Open Unchecked → Excess Calcium Influx → Continuous Muscle Contraction/Temple/Skull Pain. You may be driving a car, with head fixed in front for hours, exhausted on some highway, and be low in Mg and high in K, then the scalp may have this "burning tingling" in one spot due to this very "lock spasm" mechanism of muscles unable to relax, because you changed suddenly the head, tilted head to the right to finally change lanes at some ramp after 30 minutes of driving straight and not tilting head at all. It wasn't some cops or gadget in the car or spies atacking your temple or scalp, not usually, it was simply these types of toe/calves or even upper body electrical potential pain in the first 2 pages of the Mg section. If Mg is low, calcium floods into the muscle cells unchecked, forcing the temple/scalp muscles into a state of micro-clenching or semi-permanent baseline tension (especially if clenching a jaw while working at a desk) or constant micro-contraction (can't relax) that stops local blood flow to the temple/scalp muscles, resulting in a dull, tight, band-like ache around temples, skull and/or forehead. If you sleep in a car, the neck is even less comfy, so more pain can occur. To end temple, forehead, skull pain, adjust Mg and every half hour, gently tuck chin straight back, roll shoulders backward to unload mechanical pressure on occipital nerves before standing up. ☺☺☺

If you take high vitamin D, this drains your body reserves of Mg. If you eat a lot of legumes at one meal, this drains your Mg too, as kidneys flush out excess potassium, flushing out Mg with the K too, and low Mg causing hyper excitability of the muscle and nerve fibers thruout the body: heart, brain, temple, toes, calves, etc. To prevent such issues, take Mg pills before any high potassium meal and lower vitamin D intake. High K causes trigeminovascular pulsing pain in the temple, skull or forehead, via excessive dilation of blood vessels there, felt with every heartbeat. The pain is not always pulsing, because at times it's just low Mg due to high vitamin D and vessels don't dilate. CIA doesn't use a "pulsing weapon" as some claim online. Opening specific K channels in the brain (like (K_{ATP}, BK_{Ca} channels) dilates cerebral and cephalic arteries, initiating pulsing migraine-like attacks. Your scalp pain and temple pulsing may be a localized release of K into the extracellular space of the brain that activates the trigeminal nerve, which sends pain signals directly to the temples and leaves the scalp feeling deeply bruised, sensitive, or painful to the touch. When K is high and Mg becomes chronically low due to high K meals for years, the throbbing pain can occur in any body area really, not just temple, but also feet bones, calves bones, knees, anus, eyes, arms, you name it, anywhere. You need to take glycine too to diminish this hyper excitability, since Mg stores take 5 months to recover after 1 year of high vitamin D. A lack of loose stools proves your body is utilizing every mg of the Mg you're giving it ideally 3 times a day to provide a steady, uninterrupted ceiling of electrical protection across all your muscle groups, so you no longer experience any pain, can finally sleep well, without any throbbing pains in any body area and you no longer have to believe "CIA is torturing you". True? You just had a glimpse into how complex can be the lies and methods of manipulation of torture victims by the CIA, in order to hide the CIA methods of changing one's mind about any topic.☺☺

The spies can simulate normal health conditions in their torture to create plausible deniability, (producing a similar sensation to a common health issue for slow killing, undetectable elimination of inconvenient truths exposers), because they want any death/disease to appear natural and not caused by CIA. That's how all spy agencies do their slow killing. They go at "infinite" length to make it seem natural. The aluminum stuff below makes any enemy incapable to know your location, even if you're at "home" (your official address) 1% of the time, making shooting you without police coming impossible, especially if you live in a cul-de-sac area where police cars are almost always parking 24-7 while on duty in a given city, for fast response times. Today shootings are far harder, due to all new cars coming with front, back, sides cameras that record everything around the neighborhood, besides utility pole and home cameras. With a book like mine, that exposes lies of empires and dynasties who used religion, 1.4 trillion/year of junk products, fake elections to enslave billions for 5000 years, one becomes a little more paranoid, when cars smash into my car on purpose and I get followed 24-7 for years by various cars and spies. The purpose is not to scare anyone, but to reveal some possibilities and to encourage all to read the nutrition chapter, increase critical thinking,☺☺☺ distinguish between correlation and causation, so they don't think everything is torture, it may be, besides aluminum microwave blockers, you also need more blankets, to keep feet, knees warm (example: I was in a small room with temp 81°F for 4 years and had no issues with knees or feet, then issues appeared when I moved into a big room with temp 69 in winter, which can cause cold knees, feet sometimes due to poor circulation). Happiness☺☺☺ is good. The first 20 pages explain basic aluminized foam (Al chemical symbol of aluminum) defense methods against sound (ultrasound or infrasound), "EMP nuke blast" radio waves, electric/magnetic field attacks. Then, the last 50 pages detail the torture "they" might do, "they" meaning the aristocrats. Everything here also helps all prepare for any war, so don't ignore the Al foil stuff in the next page on 80-120 GHz microwave weapons of spy/military agencies. Most heard of the CIA MK Ultra torture.

This torture is done by the Vatican, Mormons and other Christian churches (Freemasonry too, which is a church (of demonic mutilation) in disguise) in charge of the US military for 3 centuries, folks who practice the Talmud or Bible, Torah quote like "spirituality" in action, that is the Bible Quotes they Swear On, our Beloved Politicians (Bible Advice on How to Behave: commit genocide, mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, alcohol, kid beating, slave beating), the modern day Inquisition by demonic Catholics, and Imperial (American Empire?) Blowing by Microwave, etc Gun of all who don't want to be eternal slaves 70 hours weekly of the American Corporate

Aristocrats.☺☺☺ These corporates use torture weapons to annihilate competition. Competition exists due to the jungle mindset US (and others) spread globally, since Immortalists are for trillion year lifespans, win-win, cooperation not competition. They kill people slowly, diable or severely damage brains and bodies of those resisting their forceful imposition of hooligan violent culture, violent hooligan religion, or business contracts of the Royals (Freemasons?) and extended family of spy agencies and military. This is detailed in the next pages explaining 21 forms of spy agency & militaries covert/overt harassment, torture, acoustic weapons, etc, mutilation, genocide, crimes against humanity that can cause WW3 anytime, invisible slavery via remote control. Spy agencies and militaries worldwide turn millions of houses into North Korea like prison torture cells (see video) except the torture is not done by daily physical beatings, but by daily lasers attacks to cause pain and bodily damage identical to physical beatings headache for 15 hours daily, 4 weeks at a time if you don't protect your head with microwave blocking Al foil taped hat (well, even with that it still happens since you can't create 100% Faraday cage to block microwaves, needing to breathe), or other body areas for 5-10 hours a day, extreme exhaustion from the lack of sleep, not letting you sleep when you try take a nap, always attacking, etc. Check out a US base where 160 people died due to violence within the base. You realize the US Revolution was violence of one aristocrat group against another group (UK). Our USA was born out of violence and it is based on violence. Until people remove violent crime, no hope exists for World Peace or 0 violence within the military, where the most violent exist. Spy agencies use pulsed microwaves to cause infarcts, stop hearts:

For protection against CIA, Mossad, etc militaries, spy agencies boiling people alive in accordance with the unHoly Bible with MicroWave (see what microwaves can do at low intensity, imagine at high intensity) 10-150 GHz military combat grade crown control weapons, Infrasound or Ultrasound Weapons, sonic weapons to jam speech or produce stutter, you can create microwave shields easily. Examples of materials for this are 52" x 84" thermal space blankets, 10 for 9.6$, 5 layers of aluminum atoms on one side acting as microwave blocker, see one example, test them with Safe Sound or a good microwave meter☺☺☺ to make sure the shields, fabrics reduce signals 10,000 fold when you make a sealed cage, they have military grade ones too used for making a tent for yourself to prevent body heat loss or overheating. All pregnant moms should use these around their baby, to cover the back and front, when travelling in town, since most towns have high RF that kills baby cells, damages immune system. Other shielding options are home made Al foil (taped in clear tape) blankets for stronger protection against EMP weapon system arrays of EMF waves, cubicles with foam boards 50x20"x30"/65$, coverall garments with shields on the inside, etc foam boards taped with 12"x150ft aluminum tape (you can use at a 45 degree angle a Walmart earplugs plastic box round edge to press on the Al tape so it binds perfectly to the foam board, after you aligned it with the hands and it has some small air gaps. This 'tool' makes aluminum foils perfectly flat a 1 minute job per foam board, see like Bomei 8"x150ft 3.2 mil 33$ with subscription you can cancel. The foam boards can be joined (25 for a decent size cubicle to enclose desk and bed) after they're Al covered and finally tape covered in 12" wide duct tape or 8"x435ft clear tape (cheapest: 9.7sq ft/$) 30$ or 12"x300ft clear tape 52$ (5.7 ft^2/$) to prevent Al particles/foil breaking out. This 8-12" wide tape requires some ruler or 8-12 inch straight ruler to hold the tape in position to make it easy to pull it all at once, otherwise, if you let it stick to the roll after each use, you will waste minutes each time you reuse it to get a straight tape out, since it tends to break in 3-4 pieces without such a ruler, pencil or tape dispenser. Dollar tree stores etc have these 1 or 1.25$ Al trays or sets of 2, buy about 40 and use them on top of your cubicle, since this is much thicker than 3.2 mil on your Bomei foam boards, it will protect you from magnetic fields or high power lasers that imitate EMP nuclear blast radio waves that they use from 2nd floor of your or nearby buildings or attic perhaps to blast your head/heart with, though it can be even hidden devices in your building they installed while you went shopping by disabling camera footage remotely to make it seem nobody went inside. Make sure when you build this that the magnetic field (measured with GQ-390 etc) reading remains the background 0.3-1 mGauss that exists in most homes, that it doesn't jump to 2-5 mGauss, as anything above 2 is unhealthy if you stay in it for hours daily. Unless you have some crazy wiring, it would be lower than the rest of the house, since Al, and especially stainless steel sheets, block magnetic field very well (steel way better than Al). Likewise, V/m electric field (GQ) needs to be around 1-3 where you sit or sleep. Don't forget to use these Al + tape covered foam boards or some steel sheet metal plus taped foams on the floor, otherwise, they will attack you from under your bed, from houses nearby that have basement or first floor lying lower or street cars that lie lower and blast microwaves or whatever from there using drones blasting high magnetic fields sometimes. Without that floor and stronger roof, your cubicle, which already has so many gaps for ventilation, will be rather useless, as microwaves go around and can cook you well while sleeping. 3 mil Al tape is not enough, if they continue attacking, you will need much stronger stuff to deflect magnetic fields, like the Hope Depot 50 ft by 20 inches steel roof roll. You deal with animals, so you may need tape this 1 mm thick sheet metal around on the existing structure in smaller pieces that the cubicle can withstand, some resting on the floor of course, if attacks continue. Regular cooking Al is 0.016 mm or 0.6 mil, while sheet roll is 1 mm or 62 mil. The difference is 100 fold and the sheet rolls don't create kinks and gaps like Al does when handled, so it is rather good for protection as long as you're careful to tape it well to avoid scratches and to cover it in foam board, bubble wrap to avoid any injury on the sharp edges. That's why a blanket you make out of Al and tape can sometimes be useless if only 3 mil, it has to have no gaps in bright light and be at least 9-12 mil. Ensure that any Al that detaches from the inner rim of hat is taped on both sides, so that no small eye reddening Al pieces get inside your eyes. However, avoid twisting the neck when sleeping by having pillow too high/low or by wearing an Al hat when you don't need it and causing neck discomfort that can cause a stroke. Block RF well, so you don't need hats in bed. A cubicle with strong ventilation (2 fans to keep CO_2 below 650 ppm) is enough usually. If a hat is tight, it can press on some of the blood vessels around the temple or forehead. We don't want that as less blood flow can affect scalp skin/hair or cause headaches. Any winter/solar hats need to be comfy, not tight, to avoid this issue newbie hat wearers are completely unaware of. Recall to soothe the area they attacked with warm shower and hand massage, to help it heal.

A person can make a 6-12 mil thick Al vest that protects all trunk, back, sides and reaches up to 6 inches above the knee, in order to protect various hip joints, anus, lower back, back, spine, abdomen, colon, genital areas they attack. They can even attack testicle, say left testicle only so you get one intact to produce healthy sperm, hopefully you had your kids if they attack both, since the attack would naturally destroy all future offspring via permanent damage to the sperm producing cells, but you're a naturalized citizen, so disposable cattle for the Nazi US military, inferior race to be exterminated. This 'vest' needs to be held tight against the waist with a scarf or belt in place, otherwise it unravels and becomes too wide to protect, microwaves go around any gap, so tight against the waist or heart if they attack heart area one hour or day or both if they attack hips at the same time as they often do attack 2-5 areas at once, due to it being one flat long piece made of 2 pieces (back and front) joined by the shoulder connectors, to allow for easy placement over your head. If you don't protect they will permanently damage many joints of your body as many militaries and spy agencies of nations view naturalized citizens as cattle to be worked to death and useful guinea pigs to develop new torture weapons that destroy the human quantum field. That's why, for the happiness☺☺☺ of the entire planet and human evolution, America will end one day, hopefully peacefully, like with the 'immortalist party' like movements, not Hiroshima like continental blast. Americans are too ignorant of the potential genocides US government does daily with its 10 million terrorist Army made of veterans, FBI, police, CIA psychopaths who obey dutifully the infernal commands of the murderers at the top. Of course, the CIA will say "Alex is imagining things, and that's fine, everyone has their opinion".

In highly contested territory of covert spies, a hat has to be flush against your head, forehead, etc, protect your forehead down to the level of the eyebrow (frontal cortex they love to attack to turn you into their slave), flush against the temple (if not possible to have 0 gaps in the entire circumference, just thicken it, place other pieces there, permanently, to the hat, as nobody will see it) etc since 2mm wavelength microwave laser directed at the hat to head border will penetrate via any 2 mm gap between the aluminized hat and your head. If you live alone in a tiny house, turn off all breakers when sleeping if warm enough (Hawaii or other areas) and you use no tank water heater (but tankless on demand heat type). Otherwise, turn off all breakers except tank water heater and whatever you may use. This can help prevent hidden devices from being powered and beaming strong waves. If not, you can put more Al (fold it and then tape it in clear tape) to prevent any gaps and then aluminize it. You can also wear some beanie, etc that covers your temples well, and maybe the ears too, maybe tape to your festive or regular hat (if shiny hat, people think you go to a party or the Immortalist Party) some 2" strip (aluminized on the inside), like a (this one 4 colors) reflective strip – tell all it's for safety at night, to make it look like a natural extension of the hat (maybe not same color) protecting temples, $ tree stores have semi-reflective glitter tapes, 1$ wrap for gifts of 100s of colors or patterns or Amazon too. The cubicle (with aluminized foams as roof too, to prevent attacks from upper floors of neighboring houses, installed devices in attic, enemy drones or satellites, etc) is 100 times more important than wearing a hat or other things to block specific attacks on one area of the body or head, because microwaves travel around and they will get to your brain even if a hat is on, they pass thru your face and other areas. So, a cubicle is a must in hostile environments full of possible spies. CIA, FBI, PLA, KGB can unscrew the screws holding the monitor or any device, place some torture devices inside, to frame other countries and blame it on them. The cubicle prevents milimeter radars from 100 meters, used by spies and cops, to see where you're in your house and every move with every finger, as that could make killing you so much easier. Aluminizing the whole house enables you to survive☺☺☺ if they use a drone or paid spy to detect your exact location (within 5 cm) and shoot you with a drone invading your yard. Thus, aluminizing has advantages. They can see any body area, if there are gaps from their house to yours, so a cubicle entrance door has to allow air in and yet block incoming microwave or radar waves, so you can't be seen or attacked, so you may need extra foam boards on the wall where the door is open to be invisible, or aluminize the whole house with microwave blocking paint, or use some box or supports to cover the door with 5 pieces arranged differently, so air gets in, you can come in and out, but microwaves from cars on the street with spy grade cannons or outside the cubicle in hidden wall devices or etc can't go in.

Since Al doesn't block magnetic fields well, you may need a cubicle that also contains steel foil, mu metal roll sheet or nickel foil to block/redirect magnetic fields, same for your hat, if magnetic field exists due to electrical fields created. Mumetal needs to be 10 times thinner to block as much as nickel or steel sheet (Amazon sells it). Home Depot galvanized steel (99% steel) flashing is 20$ for 8"x25ft, 0.01" or 0.254 mm thick, about 10 mil, or 3 layers of 3.2 mil Al tape, but flashing steel is not magnetic, nor is most steel people buy. This is 99% steel and the rest zinc. Nickel foil needs to be about 0.5 mm to block a lot, but less if you already have Al, which blocks some magnetic field too. Don't keep the laptop or desktop inside the cubicle, as they're noisy and connected to too many wires and EMF and could also conduct more EMF from the wired ethernet cable that connects to the whole city via the cable company network. Use extension cords for your wired keyboard or wired mouse, which are healthiest anyway (wireless are poison and easy to hack), free from microwaves. If they screwed your monitor to attack you or your laptop, simply replace the monitor or make a 3" by 4" rectangle hole in the upper part of a 20x30 foam board (that has been aluminized) to look at the monitor and keyboard from, to prevent blasting attacks. They attack from many directions and you can prevent them all. You could create a pyramid with the base being the laptop monitor or the monitor and the flat top your ocular area, so they can't attack you. Better yet is to buy a new laptop and take it with you so they can't modify it, buy it in person, not via Amazon as they intercept it and send you a look alike that is changed. Apple desktops are bad, as they got the high EMF built in a display. This cubicle also blocks foreign spies, criminals parked outside from reading stuff on your cubicle computer (avoid any wireless devices with data, used wired, 100 times more secure, never activate WiFi on a router), by blocking EMF. Any keyboard creates EMF that can be read by spies, and wireless is trivial to hack. Hats and body "Al armor" is only for outside the cubicle, etc. When placing 8" clear tape on the Al tape and press it, air bubbles form that are easy to pop with a razor blade, which is much faster than using a needle and much safer as no chance of puncturing the Al tape, since you use the blade corner going lateral (horizontal), not downwards or vertical and do it gently to avoid making holes in the Al. $ store tape is 1.89"x45y, so 1.89/12x45x3/1.5 or 14 ft^2/$ if 1.5$ price. 2" wide tape in most stores is much thinner, much easier to break vs Amazon heavy duty 10 ft^2/$. Microwave, infrared, ultrasound, infrasound guns can be used to kill, just like CIA used a poison dart gun to cause heart attacks. ☺☺☺

Thus, these cubicles to protect you against microwave heart attack guns are useful, since spies can drive by your house, or park a car to shoot an invisible microwave laser to cause stroke, leg pain, or heart attack.☺☺☺ You need to create a cubicle the size of your room eventually, if attacks continue, since they got terra hertz cameras that see thru walls and can attack you, besides the hidden normal CIA cameras, tiny ones, hidden in regular appliances, devices, etc and the IR cameras, etc which they use to attack and know where your toe or every body part is. Today, any electronic device can be modified by CIA to include torture devices and cameras, so it is important to stay away from any gadgets that may cause attacks and put some barrier between them and yourself. To them, "you are simply a guinea pig, a slave, (like 8 billion slaves on Earth of the 20 million aristocratic class of USA), a mere animal to be exterminated."☺☺☺ If you use a pressure cooker and a bath near your room, you can avoid aluminizing your whole kitchen and other areas, just your room and part of a bath would protect you. They think "You have no value, you're as valuable to them as Indians blown by artillery gun were to Brits doing it. You're only allowed to live as an obedient slave, or a useful guinea pig for weapon testing.☺☺☺ You're a dog who is to work to death to help them build bigger palaces." Many (10-80%) Chinese or foreign brand monitors, cookers, microwaves, washer, dryer, any electronic device bought online could have hidden wireless cameras sending every month all/some images displayed to Chinese satellites, to spy on the entire planet and turn every nation into a slave. Importing electronic products is national suicide, see Chinese solar panels filled with secret devices, possibly torture devices some day, or the Chinese Huawei inverters in charging stations able to shut down any electric car and cause a 100 car pileup or shut down a grid. Workers, don't be fooled by claims of communism or democracy. If you get odd sensations on your head or heart, body, hands while using a monitor, it could be it's full of hidden cameras and attacks your body, being a torture device in disguise. Always cover the sides of a laptop/desktop monitor where cameras may be with Al tape to prevent microwave laser attacks coming from cameras who act as microwave lasers too. Buy local (if a safe company) or be careful how you setup the monitor (below eyes) so it can't fire into your head, by using barriers of aluminized foam as above with hole inside or whatever, until you find a safe brand. Companies making parts for computer stuff, appliances, can also spy, so all parts must be local. ☺☺☺

If you ever drive a motorcycle, aluminize your helmet. Some have opaque blue (like mirror sunglasses) eye cover, like this helmet, so if you place RF tint on the 'glass' they can't attack eyes with IR-UV or microwave lasers as they often do. Cars have more metal to protect, motorcycles don't. The helmet (clear or mirror screen) would need Al tape on the inside (before the sponge thing, on the hard plastic, but also the sponge) and ideally on the outside too, can cover the outside with shiny or plain decorative favorite colors and the inside with clear tape. Some open helmets have the temple thing and the visor which could make for a lightweight helmet, and you could cover it all with Al tape and then some blue to keep the protection discreet. Open face vented helmets are 1.5-2 times lighter, so they're the only thing anyone may consider when not riding a motorcycle. A good one may be this.☺☺☺ Temples area attacks are sarcasm about the 'church, mosque, synagogue' demonic temples of genocide worship, as Orthodox Jews wear locks around the temples, since we propose making aristocratic mansions temples of science and medicine, and giving all humans a temple, their single family home.

All backup or even regular (if possible) electronic devices need to be stored in a faraday cage, a container wrapped in aluminum foil, tape, an aluminized cubicle, so they work after FIRST Nuclear STRIKE.☺☺☺ A lady explains during EMP, the waves are AM and FM, GHz too, you can see here how to prepare for the end of the world, so one needs to use AM radio and test if anything is heard inside, EMP has 3 pulses, 1st is 150 GHz, 2 mm wavelength, so max gap in your cage needs to be below 2 mm (150 GHz), 2nd pulse is FM, 3rd is AM radio, that's why she wraps objects in several Al layers, since there are gaps if you only wrap it once and 500 GHz waves may get in. Any 1 to 500 GHz blast can damage our body too, so this cubicle is a useful preparedness for nuclear strike of EMP type, spy attacks (who park a car near your house to kill you remotely with microwaves passing thru walls), plus trillions of other continental blast weapons that kill everyone on a continent in minutes. An EMP attack kills 90% of USA. The GHz of the EMP Pulse will destroy much of our healthy tissues too if we're closer, and this is why preparing with a cubicle can help so if WW3 starts, you work and sleep in it more, with tight cubicle that has gaps of max 1 mm. Living in a metal container helps in some climates (gets too hot in warm areas without insulation, if not painted reflective white to reflect heat), since you can aluminize the windows when going to bed and be safe. Or make a huge cubicle, 7 ft tall, 12 ft long, 7 ft wide. Any day, due to Ukraine war, USA and NATO nations risk EMP nuke attacks that kill 90% of Americans and destroy all phones, laptops etc not wrapped in Al foil (get those aluminized car covers to protect the car). In these events, you need distillers to distill water, humidifiers if winter, and also battery backup to have power and prevent pipes bursting due to frosty weather. Due to the ubiquitous nature of microwave attacks, you can wear some Al taped on both sides coat that goes on from above the head, which is like a long rectangle with a circle for the head in the middle that covers back and front, and wear an extremely tight shirt on top of this Al cloak to hold the cloak close to the body so they can't attack body so easily with microwaves and etc. To make it more discreet, you can buy some coat or some jacket that is longer. Any gap between body and Al will mean ultra easy to attack from above or below. However, don't try $19 long 60" Galeton raincoat (too heavy, and can't be washed so not a good idea, too bulky and heavy, sheds microplastics). Try Al pants worn on top of some under garments, if they attack legs a lot. If it rains a lot, try 45" (small)-47"(med)-49"(large)-50"XL iCreek raincoat, (iCreek is the best, lightest, can be washed with regular clothes and 100% polyester, sometimes a polyester thing on top of the Al helps deflect better some sound weapons, you can even trim the top of the white interior mesh to insert a removable Al tape double taped with clear tape above on both sides that acts as a shield) or just wear some double taped Al 'jacket you make yourself' under it) or 2 piece set (10$) (not practical, carcinogenic PVC sheds microplastics that harm you) or thick 2 piece set or this 46.8" (most on Amazon are 45" too short for tall men) purple poncho (6$ each on Amazon, don't buy since too short and sheds microplastics, hard to wash well in washing machine) and simply wear a self-made aluminized shirt (covered with clear tape above on both sides of course) or Al coat to wear under your shirt, coat, raincoat, trench coat or wahtever you may be wearing, even a longer puffer jacket. The neck needs Al too, as the hood is kept under a thick neck storage area that can protect the back of your head as you wear the interior aluminized, taped hat. ☺☺☺

Normally people wear armor against bullets, but today spies can attack and kill with invisible microwaves, and other weapons that Al tape covered on both sides with clear tape can block. You can place a foam board with Al taped and then clear taped, under your keyboard and laptop that sit on a typical computer table and avoid plugging any USB desk into the socket as it can have hidden torture devices. Any electronic device can be used to attack if a hidden weapon exists, so place those away from cubicle if issues exist. Create the cubicle (60" tall minimum, so two boards stacked on the 20 inch side, 8-9 of the duo-board units joined with 8" tape will enclose a chair and a computer table, with 2 joined boards cover on top where your chair is to prevent attacks from above, using maybe 20 total 20"x30" $1.25 foam boards from $ tree stores or online (pack of 50 google search or eclipsusa.com 65$/50 pack) taped with Al tape and clear tape on top of Al tape) well, so nobody can attack knees, toes, etc from behind the table, like a car parked in front of the house, etc. Join the sets of two 30"x20" with 8" tape to make it strong, so it doesn't come apart. You can make one for your bed area, get a 1 watt quiet fan to bring in fresh air. You can place computer desktop or laptop away and outside of your cubicle and use a monitor via HDMI cable, to prevent attacks while in the cubicle, since any computer can be used to attack too, as can monitors (need transparent screen filter if so, that blocks RF). You can even aluminize/tape the top of your slippers, to cover the top half of your foot (tape it to the blue folding parts), including toes, double clear tape on both sides of the Al tape that covers toes. Don't stay in any hotel or room rental etc without a cubicle that takes 10 minutes to put back up, as the damage done to your body will cost 1 trillion to fix in today's dollars, so USA owes the planet $ trillions of quadrillions... while other nations also owe enormous amounts, which they will pay over millennia in different ways, since the quantum field of humans is smarter than any empire coming and going. Turn off lights (use your lamp) or ceiling fans in a hotel or AirBnb and assemble your cubicle wherever you go as it is the best protection, because the CIA *will pre-*install torture devices in hotels, unplug TVs or any big devices. Not only that, but any KGB, Chinese, Islamic terrorists can also rent a room near, under or above you and blast your room and bed, legs, feet, heart, head, so you need to be ultra careful, you're dealing with serial killers. AirBnB and any US hotel has CIA microphones and torture devices activated when they love to destroy the human quantum field out of "love of Jesus and the international rules (read them) based "order"" ("order" = genocide by the palace dwelling genocidal aristocrats and their armies). US tortures millions this way each year, they befriend millions of people, while covertly slowly destroying/exterminating them with low intensity attacks repelled by these cubicles, shields you make under a hat or clothes, etc. This is how Brits, Dutch, Germans, French, Italians, Spanish, Portuguese, and Ashkenazi or Sephardi Jews pretending to be Europeans exterminated endless groups they befriended with the demonic Jewish Bible religion. The 'devil' poses as an angel of light, as a missionary or "lover of Jesus/Allah"... while blowing people by gun like Portugal/Muslims. But realize who Jesus was first. ☺☺☺

Buy your own tiny lamps 9$ each, since their lamps are used to attack various body areas. Small mirrors from $ store can be an infrasound barrier. Only after 30000 attacks last 10 years in all places I have been to, rentals, hotels, AirBnB, 9 years in my home, have I understood the real meaning of Christianity, Judaism, Islam and US "rules based order". It's evident the continental blast is going to happen unless immortalism emerges in USA. For some hats etc you're fine with 20 layers of 2.8-3.2 mil Al tape to prevent powerful x-ray laser weapons that can cause stroke in 5 seconds, but for flat foam boards or 'thin blankets or curtains for windows to prevent low power microwave lasers (metal blinds are useful too) using some shower curtain as substrate', 1-5 layers of 3.2 mil Bomei is enough. Thickness of Al foil from Amazon is 2.8 to 4 mil usually, vs 0.6 mil for store bought Al foil, so 4-6 times thicker. $ store has 12"x250 ft rolls foil, for 5$, you can fold it in 4 to get good shielding against low level x-ray lasers and then tape it with 8"x435ft clear tape to a foam board above. You can create using 1-2 layers of Al tape a vest you can wear under a shirt, that is made of 2 pieces about 2'x3' that are joined by 2 over the shoulder pieces about 16"x6" so it can rest on your shoulder, and 5" of the 16" on each side (front and back) overlap and are taped with normal 2" wide tape or wide tape (your choice) to provide strong support and allow hea to slip between the 2 shoulder "straps" made of double taped Al foil. This may not suffice at times and you may need a strong Al tape one 20"x24" to reinforce well the area around neck where microwaves get thru, plus on the entire upper trunk, chest, stomach, etc. These are taped on both sides with thick tape to prevent breaking and you can wear it (when you're attacked) as a microwave laser weapon shield, sort of like armor against bullets, except these are RF wave 'bullets'. Since Al is on the inside, you can cover walls with the foam boards without being noticed much from the outside, your room looks as white and normal as usual. For microwaves, one layer is enough. These foam boards take 5 minutes to cover with 2 sheets of 12" (30 cm) wide Al foil and then 2 sheets of 8" wide tape and some regular tape in the middle, to help you make a tiny cubicle where you type that makes the attacks from the 300 CIA laser positions of the terrorists much harder, when you have your head great protection too, which is not sufficient, as the subcrocodile beasts attack from all possible angles. You can use these until you move to a different house, city or nation to stop these acts of genocide that are routine for defenders of the "human rights of Brits, Jews or whoever runs the show in a country to exterminate all non-Brits or minorities or the enslaved groups in the nation". ☺☺☺

Always wear your shield on your chest and back, as they love to destroy hearts of people and protect your temples too if they attack either side of your head, with Al tape + clear tape to reach from top of head to the shoulder even. Gone are the days when wearing a bullet vest is enough, today, gangster CIA, FBI thugs are roaming the streets shooting people left and right with invisible microwave and other lasers. This is the "democracy in action", the ethos of 'nonviolence' aka "infinite police violence". When they attack your left eye orbital area, you get lots of pimples there and even a stye, when they attack the buttocks you get pimples there, when they attack the knee, you get ten pimples there first time in your life, when they attack heart for many years, they change the way it beats and raise its baseline rate, etc, they shorten lifespan, they damage every organ that is repaired during sleep by not allowing you to get the 8 hours of deep sleep required, instead giving you 2 on average at best, by incessant torture by psychopaths they hire to attack 24-7, they commit murder of millions using taxayer funds. If they attack anus, you get the growth or bleeding even, when they attack toes, you get nails stop growing or grow 15 times slower, become thick and unhealthy, etc so these are not "imagined attacks" but genocide by the spy agencies, militaries, police in all nations, which are illegitimate terror states incompatible with civility, humanity and the Immortalist Anthem, 18545 police departments in USA that need dissolve to make 1 department that gets proper training to avoid police violence. This is only the tip of the iceberg of what they do: now you understand why thermonuclear war can occur, why the American Revolution was a scam of the aristocrats to further tighten the chains around our neck. Every genocide by these murderers will be rectified, and undone via policies or Hiroshima like events. Just as US nukes Japan to stop Japan's genocides, so may the world think they got the right to stop the genocides done by aristocratic vultures eating alive every nation, like cannibals of Japan, of the UK, Portugal, Mughal. ☺☺☺

The clown aristocrats brainwash all Americans that the rule of law is the way, but the only law is massive theft by aristocrats who can get paid 50,000 times more than the slaves, for the same hours and effort. The aristocrats also often pay less in taxes, when 0 taxes is the only ethical way of efficiency to help the nation prosper and the masses. When all you hear daily is equal rights, you wonder how come we don't have free centralized education, so all have same right to an education, etc to create one language, one accent (to avoid accent discrimination), one cohesive family, one nation, instead of 130K nations made by 130K K12 schools. USA can't fool anyone, everyone sees behind the empty 'democracy' words. Free education is the most basic building block of a democracy, yet it is absent in the USA. There is no rule of law or democracy, only feudalism, within USA, enforced by courts, laws, police slaves and FBI brainwashed comrades. The international rules based order is a feudal rules based order too, enforced by violence from the military, CIA, etc. When all nations realize their countries are enslaved by aristocrats, the whole world awakens and brings Immortality for All: 1 language, 11 companies, 1 currency, 1 country not 200, 1 global human family, 1 education. Aristocrats don't care about World Peace, as slaves alone fight, so the media never talks about the urgency of World Peace and ending torture, only about stuff aristocrats care to maintain wealth. The media freedom doesn't exist, it is only what serves aristocrats: keep masses ignorant, blissful and easy to manipulate and enslave, destroy via endless wars that wipe out the working middle class and solidify its eternal slavery. No country is legitimate, they were all made up by aristocrats, the only nation that is legitimate is one that ensures ~~Eternal Universal Peace~~, meaning the country of all humans on Earth. ~*~ World's Workers We Unify, Immortality for All We Deify, ☺☺☺World's Workers We Unify, Eternal Life We Deify ~*~ ☺☺☺Workers of the World Unite, To Bring All Eternal Life☺☺☺ That is why Immortalists want to dissolve FBI, CIA, all police departments, and replace them with one Immortality Nurturing Agency, the one police department and spy agency, all in one, with one training (every cop car in USA has Immortality Nurturing Agency written on it, not police), and War Dept replaced with Eternium, the World Peace bringer and maintainer. All state city governments become offices of federal government, with only 1 law for all 20,000 US towns and all states dissolved. No more differences in any laws among cities, states that fuel war, conflict internally and internationally. We learn to amplify research jobs, not lawyer, admin jobs. Build a new capital, world's safest city, worthy of a nation aiming to help all nations unify under its gentle tender soft immortalist anthem ideals, courses adopted by all other nations eventually, as they're free, and the era of paid education is long gone. Take away all power from cities and states, as aristocrats use that to exterminate various groups, not to help. The so called "choices" by states are nothing but extermination tools of the old aristocrat Brits. One nation with one law, not 50, united by one language, one ethics like ethics.gov for real religion education. Bring Eternal World Peace in 3 months, act as if that one planetary law is about to take hold and DO IT, don't just talk about "peace in a trillion years when Jesus never comes". Be the leader of centralism worldwide, show the world the way of unity, not banditry. We got endless agencies, state, municipal, etc and no research, everyone a manager, admin, cop, lawyer. There are no states, only Americans, no nations, only humans. Immortality for All. ☺☺☺

Al also allows you to shield your car windows etc when you camp in your car, if ever, against microwave laser attacks: put the foam boards and you're done, you reduce RF radiation 20 fold vs city/village level. To hide the Al color, you can use a non-clear 6"x55 yards white duct tape. Non-white tape is more expensive, but available. They got blue masking tape 12"x60y, less obvious than white, people think you plan to paint something. It helps you create Faraday cages to do physics experiments and prepare for WW3 too, when enemy aircraft would send out beams of microwaves, IR, etc to detect certain heat, building material, etc signatures, destroy living people, scan for houses above ground or underground etc. You can also use it to reflect heat in warm summers when all cities have no electricity to avoid dying from hot house temperatures. Tape your Faraday cage cubicle-shed and stay in it when hot to avoid dying. Survival skills for WW3 EMP attack on any country or region that can take out grid for 3 years, most USA no lights for years, imagine that. Can you survive? If not, then let's bring World Peace in 3 months and zero violent crime in 3 years by the Immortalism 11 Evolution. Al tape can insulate your shed from cold too, can provide instant warmth in case your house is too big or bombed to be covered entirely in foil. For better camouflage you can choose grey/green duct tape or paint it green later. The pros of microgrids, solar power, off grid living are clear. No gasoline, no transport, no refineries can work, so electric cars from backyard solar charger is our only way to survive WW3. Veggie garden in backyard too. ☺☺☺

While talking of love, behind the scenes they commit genocide. Recall to unplug big screen TVs and useless appliances in hotels, as they can be weapons in disguise who attack various body areas. Recall Samsung, LG and other Korean companies may have secret (unknown to CIA even) satellite links to North Korea or even Chinese Army and their own methods of torture, not just spy agency-military devices we all know about. If visiting a hotel, unplug every device and use a flashlight or your own lamp, if any harassment occurs, odd body sensations, etc as weapons producing infrasound, EMF, etc can be disguised as lamps even. Every body area can be attacked via an AI system of cameras directing the microwave, ultrasound, infrasound at certain body areas, so recall TVs and camera devices can be used to attack you, tape them with Al tape that blocks microwaves and ultrasound etc. A laptop camera can be dual use via a CIA modified laptop to also spy on you, attack you, etc. So, tape all laptop cameras too, on phone facing camera too, to avoid attacks. Monitors, TV screens can be designed to have hidden cameras even while idle or standby, and send video to spy station to make new attacks. Wrap in Al foil any device that may emit microwaves or ultrasound and turn off, unplug any laptop, iPad, tablet, phone, wrist watch, any electronic and other devices they modified or swapped, while Amazon shipped it. If they attack your feet 50 times, and only moving leg or covering it with 9 sheets of ultra thick Al tape works, then unplug any electronic device in the room that may be a disguised weapon. Move to a nicer climate where you can live in nature without cooling or heating and unplug everything, create a tent that is reflecting all microwaves via Al and live in nature or unplug the electrical main switch, and avoid any condo, live in a tiny house where you can turn off all electrical easily and stop all EMFs going around the walls (can't do that in apartment or condos, as walls are shared). EMFs can be manipulated via simple device plugin to raise your heart rate even if device is plugged on the other side of the condo wall. I noticed in a hotel, upon unplugging an LG TV, the attacks reduced in intensity or frequency 40 fold. Unplugging the desk lamp also reduced it more, as desk lamps and TVs near the desks are placed there on purpose to attack the hell out of you. If you travel a few days and need a hotel or to eat, choose Aldi organic black or red canned beans, with only 85 mg sodium, or Lidl with 0 mg, versus 400 mg for most other brands. Sodium raises stroke, infarct risk from these hotel devices. You can also choose Walmart no salt black beans, 10 mg sodium,no gas versus pinto. Sodium will raise blood pressure on top of their criminal heart rate and blood pressure increase. ☺☺☺

As the victim is too tired to even walk or go visit a doctor, they attack the victim the day before a doctor appointment so he can't even walk there. Everything USA says about human rights is a scam, they violate the rights of all, while demanding others respect human rights. USA is North Korea 2.0, just 100 times more disguised, but the same dictatorship and terror, made in the image of the Jewish Bible who inspired communist terror of KGB, the teacher of North Korea. US supported, via many methods (even banana companies), killings of decent people in Latin America (Brazil, etc) who wanted to create a kinder government. They attacked me about 200 times daily for at least 1200 days, while on lucky 800 days only 50-100 times, multiple attacks on different areas, not just head and heart. The controlled enslaved person, meaning 100s of millions of people, for whom they decide job, house bought (control of realtors), spouse or relationships, etc via FBI agents disguised as clergy, realtors, etc) usually never knows their most important decisions, and some days most thoughts, emotions, movements (go upstairs, downstairs, open fridge, go let, look right, turn left, call X, etc are written into their brains). are remotely controlled 50-99.9% of the time thru sleep deprivation and gadget (far away, microwave like) to brain suggestions. In the modern electronic brain control slavery, 99.9% of slaves don't know they're enslaved, and the slave can mean 7 billion people, the 7 billion the CIA partially or fully controls (basically indirectly or directly, thru national policies, spy agency policy control, local military control). During covert slavery, the handlers use some of the overt torture methods below, but low intensity, so that the slave doesn't know he's enslaved. During overt torture, the handlers use high intensity, the slave is sleep deprived for 8 years or more due to CIA, Mossad, etc not letting the slave get a good quality sleep of 8-9 hours from 10 pm to 7 am, regular hours, when it's dark and when your body is used to sleeping. They do that thru loud cities and fighting quiet cities policies too: the slave is all workers. The CIA tries to change hours of sleep by attacking the person at various hours to always shift sleep hours. The only way the slave can fight back is to try sleep regular hours more and to not be so easy to direct out of bed to do little chores, eat or other things they do to break sleep cycle. The CIA destroys the sleep to damage the brain of the victim so that aristocrats can loot all nations. You need at least 10-12 hours of sleep on days of high torture needed (since 5 hours are just trying to sleep as they attack every body part, the heart, etc like wild dogs), since even falling asleep is so difficult. CIA does memory weakening via sleep deprivation, to make room for new brainwashing, ideal for CIA who did 25,000 violent crimes over 9 years against tens of millions, plus trillions against humanity, like other agencies did too, from other nations. Governments do the highest number of violent crimes in reality: 47 billion bullets in WW2, so at least 50 billion crimes far more than civilians ever do, 20 trillion violent crimes via torture last 90 years by various agencies, nations), CIA only cares about remotely controlling them, no human rights). Naive people may think it's 'spirits' if positive (or negative) coincidences are staged by CIA, KGB, like with the fake miracles they stage or coincidences by having you go to a place where their spies await. These mass murderers with "kill and steal" as their real religion, killed millions to steal oil alone, so a few million tortured to death is a pat on the back of the enslaved planet. They destroy anyone (or turn into a vegetable by destroying organs and brain, to appear like they didn't kill) who doesn't help them bomb or enslave all using the "bomb all" Bible ethics.☺☺☺ Christianity was made to increase looting efficiency for the emperors killing slaves by the 1000s. Wake up, the military disguises itself as civilians, clergy, businessmen who use invisible weapons to create disease, distractions, brain damage, so that they can manipulate others into signing deals with the bully.

So we have a need for international deals to end torture and violence, so war ends and then later gangs end too. The lie "land of freedom" is what they want immigrant slaves to hear, it's nothing like it. They use the brain control gadgets and can decide what 80-98% the people choose at least, their top 10-40 most important decisions, free will is ILLUSION. Note that once immigrants become CIA, they're used by CIA to commit 25000 violent crimes against a "new trainee" (gang like organization) or "anyone CIA doesn't like" who is being subjected to terror until nothing is left of their brains sort of and they become an obedient robot. The brutes joining the CIA think of it as "a fun activity to increase resilience to stress of new recruits". They stage an encounter and then implant the thought to continue with that car, house, person, job, etc, staging 'it didn't work' for the rest of cars, houses, persons you (they put in your path by google results manipulation, etc) tried (even when it was not so, they blocked it, easy, delete emails, voicemails, texts, stage issues the delay things, etc, remote control some to say stuff, etc). The realtors are spies, they lie to you, they're the FBI who decided already your home. Once people realize the scam, the controllers can't control anymore, except thru severe torture which reveals the nature of the "democracy", the entire planet moves towards democracy. Feudalism, state terror of citizens, subjugation, empires never died: they went covert. They think thru you, you think it's your thoughts: the parasites can be the "most respected people in the community", who lie to all about what goes on. Those enslaved have no idea how easily it is to be remotely controlled and not know it, since FBI won't torture all daily in obvious ways. US is a police state, with the only freedom left being your own thoughts (which are obviously not so easy to even create when they write your brain or they make you tired, etc): slavery is called freedom, war is called peace, violent music is called culture☺☺☺, junta is called democracy. The intercept gently shows the glorious "democracy" in action: total military dictatorship (media control). They call other countries junta, except US is one too, they just wear civilian clothes, the guys on TV whose words, thoughts, feelings, tones are 100% controlled by US generals (new Hitler). USA just hides its atrocities 9000 times better than Nazis/Soviets did, just like other nations hide theirs 9000 times better too. Today it is much easier to hide them: all nations are citizen brainwashing (World Peace in 3 months is impossible) military dictatorships. USA has recruited thousands of Nazis to get their military knowledge, as Syria got a few too. Sadly, these torturing exterminating psychos' ideas were often implemented/adapted.

I experienced most of these forms of torture (detailed below) since 2015, years before this 14.7. section with "uneterni" words (rude, etc) was written in 2022-5, well before any negative word and sentence was written in this book. Milder torture for decades, but then I didn't realize it was the junta. The words were chosen to convey the diabolical nature of the US/etc spy/military agencies. Any religion or song etc that doesn't support World Peace in 3 months in its scripture or lyrics, etc is no longer liked as it was before in the 2018 version of the book: the heavy torture started in 2016 daily, ultra heavy in 2018 daily. 14.7. is the answer to the torture, since USA is exactly like Nazi Germany, Stalin's Russia and North Korea in many ways, yet nobody knows it: the dictator is hidden like in each nation: the military generals. Ctrl+F Neuralink will take you to the paragraph on technologies of mind control and modern day slavery: SpaceX, satellite mind control, Tesla car mind control, mind control via RF gadgets or phones. Foreign made phones could be used to torture too with low tech, hacks or even, some day, advanced invisible quantum imprinting. So could cars globally, hence India blocked BYD EV plant, given Kia cars can read your emotions and thoughts and maybe write them too, UK fears Chinese EVs will spy on drivers (write their brains too) and the streets, India banned imports of laptops), all car brands, turn phone off, use airplane mode. Korean Kia cars already come with emotion detection tech, etc, so imagine, Chinese cars will write drivers' brains and emotions before Kia does. All major powers can use their cars as carriers of hidden devices that torture the driver's toes, knees, head, face, eye, eyes, ears, skull, one side of skull (the left where analytical thinking is centered, so your discernment is weaker), etc whatever they want to attack that day, depending on when they want to cause certain damage and torture to someone. That's why if you buy foreign cars, you put yourself at high risk of hidden undetectable torture, brain damage, etc. After some examples of what they do, there is a long discussion about various topics and later more examples of their torture, in a disorganized fashion, since I don't have time to make it perfect, I wrote it when I was upset, so the emotion there is raw. The torture devices are not left inside the wall built in, as it could kill someone if it malfunctions and need to break the drywall to take it out, etc: all torture is done by neighbors or roommates, who role play they like you romantically or as a friend to appear less suspicious, so you trust them and their evil suggestions or they're ultra quiet. To destroy you, they need and try to gain your trust. For them, torturing is as second nature as for most is to drink water or walk; they love inflicting suffering on others, suffering from mental illness (sadistic psychopathy) typical of most spy agency and military terrorists who torture tens of millions without any remorse, while talking of human rights. Mild torture happened since Oct 1995 visit to USA, without me realizing back then it was torture.

The goal is mind control; so no decent sleep for even 2 weeks, except one 2 week period in 10 years 2016-2025, usually nightly sleep harass for max control, brainwashing. This can shrink lifespan by decades. Logically, in that 2 week period of good sleep, I had no acne breakouts, since stress causes most acne in many. After August 2018, not even 1 night of decent sleep. Sleep disturbing makes their sugestions easier to implant... so they can more easily harass, tell you to vacuum something, then trip over the vacuum carrying something. ☺☺☺ USA only uses those who come to their shores as immigrants as slaves, for Nazi experiments to deepen their mind control knowledge of human chimps, or for enslaving the native countries they come from. To be fair, this has been the policy of 100s of empires, US is just following the crowd. This is evident to you if you read this and the 13th chapter, study history. However, even slaves in EMPIRES can uplift Earth vibes, bring World Peace in 3 months. USA has 18 federal torture agencies (6+6+6=18) & 18,000 local torture agencies called police departments, due to the culture created by Feds, the British Jews that is. You will notice spy/military agency folks as roommates or neighbors have these big screen CIA TVs to watch the victim of their torture via the CIA installed tiny cameras thruout the house. Sony had those movie beaming into brain gadgets for mind control since 1990s probably, US Army from 1930s maybe, check this on TVs radiating ultrasound pulses (AI foil taped inside your hat blocks this brain writing). Sound passes thru solid objects, as you know, you can hear it from other rooms, etc, same is true for ultrasound. TV with magnetic, electric pulses of invisible no contact passing thru walls "taser, laser, etc", etc could harass people from another room above, under you, etc. The closer a roommate gadget is, the easier to alter electric or magnetic fields, so try sleep in a place away from any electronic device or rooms or walls, neighbors if possible. The only solution is living in a house with 0 roommates and where next house is very far from you, so it's a lot harder to attack the way they do by bringing their gadgets near your wall, pretending to be nice friendly roommates or neighbors (mobile homes are a bad idea, too noisy, thin walls, since they got neighbors so close sometimes, same for apartments or condos; mobile homes will completely vanish in 25 years). The roommate closest to you may be very quiet, and try to keep his window as shielded from the outside (covered with drapes, etc) as possible, so as to not be visible when he's awake and using the big screen and weapons to torture your heart, eyes, toes or whatever the boss tells them to do. Rent or own a 1 bedroom house or build it yourself, like a little shed even if possible, disconnected from anything, except a cable for the heater, a cable from the house. They dispatch people with different sleep schedules, so they can monitor and harass victim 24-7, even while he sleeps, etc. They're pure evil, psychopathic genocidal liars*, like pure animals, wild tigers,* mad dogs released to tear anyone apart*, whom their boss commands to: destroyers of the human quantum field, global terrorists and serial killers, with 0 ethics, with no thought of consequences, as if there is no soul, no physics, no law, except who "murders first".* Please ☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺ give yourself 9-12 hours of sleep daily, uninterrupted, if they do attack you a lot for 1-4 hours daily while you lie in bed, since the "torture hours" are not allowing a good brain cleaning (they can attack first hour, and then 4 hours later, then remotely suggest you to wake up (if not waking, they start a huge heart rate rise, leg twitch or cause semen discharge for example in sleep). Their tactic is to get you do tons of useless things, when the most important thing to health, or even safety, is good long sleep, longer if attacked and body needs recovery time. During attacks, you can turn off the light (and move, since clear visibility informs the hidden camera laser where your hand is and they or the AI can point it at you) and of course instantly shifting position to prevent the outside of house weapon focusing.

City violent crime rates are fake, because when you take into account the 18 federal and 18000 local agencies commit 50 to 5000 violent crimes per year per tortured person, the numbers become 50-500,000 times higher for 99.9% of cities. The ratios may be quite accurate though. Yeah, 1 million times higher than FBI liars tell the people. Even the reports of classical "physical hit" violent crime are so much lower than the actual, due to people not reporting it or FBI bothering, especially when cops and the 18 (6+6+6) 'satanists' do it. They're the wolves protecting the hen cottage, the fox protecting the chickens. The amount of crimes committed (even if it's a suggestion via an FBI phony trying to get someone hurt) by "the 18" is far greater than the stuff civilians do, and the crimes the gangs, etc do is also way higher that FBI data, as most get no reports (slapping, spanking, other things rarely get reported in bad areas). Watch one of the many incidents Biden falls, and the Air Force folks who placed the sandbag there laugh, his shoe shows a hole too. These soulless 'satanists' love to show off their cruelty, power and evil, so don't obey these demons, wake up FBI, CIA, police all agencies and don't obey the Us military who has turned USA into hell, live the ethics of gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving kindness.☺☺☺ Biden was basically their slave, a mere puppet, listen carefully to the lady's tone of speech, the "kindness". Biden on 2023 airplane stairs, 2021 stairs. They use someone tired so they remotely control every move, like blood sucking parasitic vampires. That's USA, a military dictatorship (brainwashing all World Peace in 3 months is impossible) who mocks its civilian "leadership", the people are lied to that Biden and others make decisions on who to strike or what war to begin, etc, it's a scam, nothing like a democracy: torture based terror state as the next 99 pages explain. Who do you think created the Nazis and the endless dictators USA used, then fought or killed like ISIS, Al Qaeda, etc? It's smart to not obey the military in any nation, since if USA falls, all spies, police who collaborated with the mass torture may be themselves tortured to death, as they did torture to slow death millions of people themselves. World Peace☺☺☺ would arrive instantly, if all soldiers would disobey their superiors, abstain from torturing, killing anyone, using only positive methods. These cold blooded killers have no mercy, they're just like Nazi guards killing people, KGB murderers torturing people to death. The British, Jewish etc guys at the top will often use races or ethnicities different than the one of the victim they torture, to frame those guys. So, Americans gladly vote to allow all to USA, no border wall and then, these very same Indians, Koreans (they love to use CIA provided invisible waves weapons to attack peoples back), Vietnamese, North Koreans (tunnels, Chinese disguise), Arabs, Jews, Siberians, Russians (they love to cause heart attacks on Christmas, like CIA too), Brits (love to attack knees), Italians (love attacking toes, legs), Central Asians, Chinese (Hong Kong too), Japanese, Africans, South Americans (attacks on eyes) are torturing Americans to death using weapons CIA happily provide, due to a stone age government of terror (the military IS the government in each nation, the real covert one) and immigration system that doesn't check anything: they claim they're better, but they're as evil as "local" (not 1st or 2nd generation immigrants) 7th generation US military, spy agency terrorists.

Why do they need millions of immigrants? Simple: the Demon-crats and Re-pub-licans are one Party actually, 'Aristocrats (living in Palaces) for Enslaving the Masses': no centralization, no efficient state companies, no volunteering to do something that needs be done when not busy at work (just acting busy or slacking 20 hour a week, as aristocrat enslaved you), etc. Pathological selfishness, people at violent music concerts, needless sports facilities, acting busy at work, duplicating every other business 1 million times, no research, so then all spies, soldiers disguised as immigrants, sabotage experts, terrorists, criminals, gangsters will infiltrate regular hard working immigrants to gift the lazy "altruistic" Americans with more "blow up from within" problems, due to loving to reinvent wheel and have 33 million businesses instead of just 11 and 90 times more research, 2 million real*tors* instead of housing.gov selling all houses in 3 days max to end vampirism, total lawlessness instead of world's most advanced immigration system, lack of efficient 5 times more productive centralized immortality capitalism instead of "everyone loots everyone capitalism". So, migrants come, get brainwashed by "become a monster program" of CIA, perpetuate the very system of mass murder setup by the US military with no second thought or remorse. The thugs behave with an impunity that is shocking. Ctrl+F Sony this book for more info. CIA is only one, of the 18 torture agencies, they recruit under the guise of another agency, this is common practice, they pretend to be MI6, KGB, PLA, RAW. The 21 forms of torture done separately or 9 in a day, like in a Nazi concentration camp of the Nazi Pentagon (Pentagram satanist symbol of the Freemason satanists who created US, swearing on the Bible):

14.7.2. 20+ types of attacks by spy agencies, militaries, cops, etc (subtler than classic torture)

1). CIA attacks 210+ days the heels, feet usually. However, such tingling or twitching can also be caused by magnesium deficiency, so try eat that first, see if it vanishes, wear comfy shoes; the most diabolical is heel twitching for 7+ months 24-7 so you get poor sleep and obviously can't do much of anything most of the day, due to trying to sleep, since no deep sleep to do body repair occurs, aging speed increases 5 fold: spy agencies militaries GENOCIDE to create mental slaves (mind control is easy when victims are sleep deprived) for global subjugation of all nations. This is done by the US gov where you need to wait sometimes 6 months or 7 to even get to your primary doctor, if part of the super enslaved 30%, or wait longer due to CIA's other forms of torture, thinking going to the MD won't make any difference, as they brain write the MD to not fix the issue. This happens due to criminal aristocrats faking elections for 250 years and installing puppet governments from their imperial towns 1000 times nicer than Washington DC dumpster, that encourage the enslaved 90% to buy $3 trillion/year in junk useless products, while real research (50x more than now) via free education never occurs as everyone is a retail, admin and business for maximum duplication (10000 companies in every field producing 100 times less research), humanities majors wasting life (30% STEM instead of 95%), instead of more sci-tech, healthcare jobs and 10 times more ETs, NMs, NDs, MDs, Rns. To hold power, the rich restricted education from the 99% for millennia, created religions to keep masses ultra ignorant, banned free education forever, so we're centuries behind and now, everyone could have lived to 500 already without the criminal religious aristocrats and others who kept education priced. Keeping masses ignorant ensures Eternal Power over Them and the Ultra Slow Progress of Society. Today, this issue is solved fast, because for any pain you experience Google search via Gemini AI gives good answers, so you don't need wait 6 months for meeting a clueless doctor, who then sends you to another 5 months wait for a foot specialist. FBI did nothing when contacted, since they're behind it. This staging of fake leg casts, limps, etc can happen 3 years before they start torturing the heel (2018) 24-7 for 7-9 months and the number of people around you with crutches and fake casts goes from 4 to 400 a year. A tenant (room) for 2.5 months, pretended to be black LA cop (no uniform, just claiming to be from Ivory Coast, fake docs, in October 2015, even display show off a pair of handcuffs and jokingly ask if I want to try them as if he was going to arrest me). It's to intimidate (no arrest of course) since he asked that I don't tell others about it, since it is illegal for him to do so, if a cop: to intimidate with cuffs. I let him do it for fun to see how cuffs are like, but his goal was to test and intimidate for mind control. A white guy in 2015 faked his leg injury too in January. Around the same time, in October 2015, some Indian guy said his wife can't come to the astral class due to her leg injury. Then Paris Hilton inserted herself via google+ into my stream via a guy commenting on it, and she had a purple planet and purple gun in her profile pic, etc and linked to some amputee girl (see torture method 21 to get more details). All these 3 people in 2015, prepared for the early 2016 post by Paris Hilton about this girl without legs who then got herself into pretend mode that she knows what goes on in my life by her instagram posts. A black guy pretended to be a cop in 2024 (he rented me a room for 1 month after I sold my California house in 2023) and claimed he got an injury (was wearing some fake leg cast), on the toe near the big toe, and while explaining it he bent over to touch my big toe. Then, for the next few days, CIA attacked my big toe repeatedly more than it was in 1 year. Our democracy is a scam. It's a military dictatorship (LL BRAINWASHED to believe trillions of peaceful ways to World Peace in 3 months don't exist), like Russia, 100+ other countries are too, all fake elections. Read the fakery section to see why.

They attack the joint of the feet and the rest of the leg too, so cover it with AI if so. Try submerge in warm water the attacked area to help heal by increasing circulation, in a small container or take a shower. They also attack ankles for 3-4 days, or the top of the muscle below the knee. They confirm later after the attack started: people you meet during shopping, etc wear crutches, skateboards, roller blades, roller skates, (people of all ages, in front of your car at a stop, or nearby), fake cane, fake wheelchair, if they attack legs. They confirm attack on all areas, see # 21 for 1 page of detail. Other times, they may attack the upper part of the foot, near toes. France24.com posts pics of heels with lavender and pink, to indicate their CIA does redden the legs too, as they did in August 2023, google "france24 heels". Any thick material that blocks air gaps between the heel and the source of the sound weapon can dampen the signal, like many layers of clothing, Al, electric tape on top of Al tape. Air allows sound, electricity, EMF fields, etc to pass, so you need to block all access of the wave to the motor nerves, above and below the area. They can also cause muscle cramps around toes, foot-leg joint pain. Cover the attacked areas with thick Al trays or something from $ store, and it will stop fast. They can release ticks in a room, to bite your legs and infect them, use doxycycline to kill the Lyme disease bacteria that the CIA likes to infect people with to kill them via Lyme carditis from the Borrelia Lyme bacterium. Wear insect repellent, protect all skin, shower, wash clothes used after gardening to remove the 1 mm ticks that could lead to leg amputation.

2). CIA attacks 240 days the anus (for 8 months in a row for me, in 2018-2019 every night, while a military veteran was living upstairs (he could have done a lot of the torture, as he lived there 5 years 2016-2021, though could be others too, a Vietnamese, a Russian, all CIA agents probably, etc, Japanese temporary tenants in the nearby rental, just 10 ft away). Of course, skeptics will say this is due to low Mg and higher K intake (see start of 14.7 pages for that), though at the time I was eating 550 mg/day of Mg from my almost 10-11 lb of food daily (produce etc) or maybe more. What we need to understand as a society and planet is not whether this was caused by a KGB, PLA, CIA pulse weapon or by a low Mg, but that in either case, it is still CIA torture, because CIA uses all national resources, like the Pentagon, its boss who controls everything in USA (all elections faked, courts in Pentagon hands, all in Pentagon hands, all companies, etc, like in every nation, military controls everything), to have the 90% enslaved class buy trillions of $ worth of trash products, while the basic medical care doesn't exist. So, nobody wants to even contact an MD that is selected by CIA manipulating all google, internet searches to show up their CIA MD as the only valid choice near you, or to even search for an MD if you need wait 9 months to see primary care doctor (that's how it is, the so called "free medical care" offered to many victims of CIA torture by the "blue states") and then wait 9 months a specialist, or etc. When you're so tired because of their torture and crises, you postpone even googling your symptoms because you know they give you fake info, like today's AI they can override with human input, or because you're too tired to google it, and every delay can mean 8 months of no sleep, and it's still CIA-PENTAGON genocide of the planet, regardless if it is direct or indirect. The point is not how CIA-Pentagon did the torture, it's that they did it in more ways than direct attacks on body parts, not to me only, but to billions forced into the system all copy at gunpoint: read the 11 companies section for the fraud there in the 33 million fraudulent businesses, the single family section (10x the resources to give all single family homes), housing.gov 2 day house buy-sell to end realtor parasites, fake education (Jews get to Ivy League, etc, become MDs, rich lawyers to make 20-1000 times the min fed wage, etc), taxes for rich being zero, etc to see the real "palatial aristocrat character" of CIA, FBI, PENTAGON. With pulse throbbing attacks, it's easy to reactivate the thing with a simple attack (a taser or direct energy weapon only attacks 8 seconds and causes pain for 8 weeks, likewise, a gentle 1 min attack of another weapon type can cause throbbing for days or weeks) during the day to sensitize the area, when you may be outside a protected aluminum enclosure, due to having to get out of your sleeping area that is less exposed to big microwave, infrasound, etc guns from outside of your room. It took me a while to realize that this stops to some degree if you wrap yourself (especially the buttocks area) into 10 layers of Al foil and create a Faraday cage, it was too late by then, as they stopped soon after, because the microwave, INFRASOUND, etc failed to pass thru the walls, when going at non-straight line angles as latest rifles, perhaps from nearby rooms or houses. They can reattack any area again for 3 months year 5 years later, say in May 2024 using some residents above or below (odd lady above when I lived away in another state to try escape California torture, after I sold my house in 2023) or June 2024 using some 'Ecuador' "military veteran" landlord, until the anus is sore again as 5 years earlier. When they do attack anus or colon (side or front of abdomen) they can cause even a small tumor or hemorrhoids (half adults have those) at the anus and bleeding, and you may need to use some CeraVe cream (with ceramides, collagen, cholesterol) before defecation if stool is harder, to prevent bleeding (obvious on toilet paper). Avoid hard stool forming foods or blood thinning foods/nutrients. Some CIA migrant thugs who're or pose as being Latinos are often like the gangsters who behead 50 at once. The people whose anus is thus attacked (millions) can develop cancer like tumors in that area or have the elasticity of the elastin and collagen proteins destroyed, so when gas forms it no longer exists easily and silently, but by making more noise. This is what the so called "human rights defender" is doing to destroy and humiliate millions of people. With millions of attacks lifespan years lost become 1 billion, so then it's worse than the Nazi holocaust itself. It's like killing about 25 million people aged 40, since 25×40=1000. Torture is imitated by other nations, then wars start between nations. Torture of 700,000 people, that shrinks lifespan by 4 year each, is like killing 100,000, 28 years before their time, the equivalent of a Hiroshima nuclear attack. The "freedom of religion" is useful to Jews, Italians, Brits (disguised as clergy), Americans only when it enables enslavement of other nations thru military and espionage bases, otherwise known as "churches" etc run by spies. All laws of the "rules based order" are a mere artifice to bully others into doing its will, laws can be broken covertly in all cases. Most nations get some national church, say Orthodox Ukrainian, catering to Ukrainians overseas, but US has so many US origin churches, Mormon, Adventist, etc that cater to all ethnic groups and reach out to people, trying to brainwash them with lies, 0 IQ rituals (Catholic Church 2.0, like the Vatican Mafia octopus) or violent terrorism quotes. This destruction of the intelligence of other nations is done to enable enslavement, like other religion exporter nations do. Don't waste time reading about "separation of powers in a democracy", "courts", "legislature", "government", since all 3 are remotely controlled by the military in each nation. Focus instead on eternal World Peace in 3 months, so fewer jobs for the military (alien attack). Humans will create the device that ends all American and other terrorists once and for all, see the mind upload version here.

This anus torture is done probably in many ways to cause colon cancer in targets spies want eliminated by 'natural causes' 30 years earlier. Brits blew people into pieces by artillery 6 foot gun, this is the same, except a slow killing by spies. This anus torture makes those days ultra tired and wasted, since after bad sleep, you can do 20% of normal stuff, if that and only low cognitive effort stuff of course. The benign carcinoma, may disappear in 2-3 years, but new one can emerge 4 years later 3 mm away, they just attacked it again in March 2023 with the same weapon using the CIA agents near my bedroom; 3-22-2023 the bump swelled again. They can also attack the general hip area for 4 days to make it swollen, this was done maybe 60 days total. This started in 2019, after Hilton released in 2019 the depraved 'Best Friend's Ass' (lyrics here), per CIA-FBI mind control and global destruction of all ethics and kind gentle vibes. Lyrics describe CIA torture methods. I wasn't even aware of this song, until many months after they tortured the anus/buttocks nonstop. To achieve World Peace in 3 months, we need to sing that all day, not the US music today. We need peaceful lyrics, seems like celebrities are mind controlled slaves. Terrorists are all who oppose World Peace in 3 months: aristocrats stealing tax money to build palaces instead of World Peace, pastors who do everything to support wars, upper middle class who waste eons in building useless businesses to defraud others and make them waste trillions each year, while no money is spent to bring eternal World Peace. America has 25 million aristocrats. World Peace depends on gentle tender soft nurturing graceful universal loving compassionate kindness, which is absent in 99% of music, movies made by infernal robots. All war on the poor is disguised as "patriotic wars" whereby the rich people incite slaves to fight other slaves for the profits of the rich. The top generals never fight, they us slaves to fight wars, so they have zero incentive to reach eternal quick World Peace. The citizens need stop being devils wanting $7 trillion of useless things, except World Peace in 3 months, all must spend 20 hours/week of spare time to bring eternal fast World Peace. We need 1 world language, 11 companies for all, one currency/bank, educational system for eternal World Peace.

3). CIA attacks 900 days the heart or chest/breast areas (left for example), non-consecutive days, over years, sometimes 30 days in a row (the Eternal Favorite torture of the US military beasts) in a medium intensity mode or high intensity after 1-5 hours of sleep, for 3 hours, in order to destroy every organ that depends on good deep sleep 8 hours a day. To be sadistic, they often do it right after you went to bed, within 30 minutes, raising the pulse suddenly (say from 53 to 63 or even 73, BP from 100/60 to 125/80 to not let you sleep). Rarely, they raise pulse after a certain sound they deliver via other effects (blast wave can cause wind that causes something to fall or simulation of various sounds via hidden devices, if you wear earplugs you can't even tell if the sound is outside in the room or a Pentagon synthetic telepathy computer to brain "silent sound", etc, not that it matters, since 99.9% of cases they don't use sound or no sound happens by 'accident'). They want you to know they turned on the torture machine... perhaps, if they're behind the sound too. When you journal, don't give details to these devils as anything you write or say they use against you to mock or discredit you, to attack and weaken you: make it ambiguous, like they do when they torture billions daily, with their "fake news" and etc: the sound can be a trace to, any info can be a trace, any quantum signature, that allows locating these terrorists by the human quantum field (not your subconscious mind or anything, but the trillion times more intelligent collective intelligence) and that's best, so they don't know they're compromised so to speak, seen in ways their rat intelligence doesn't understand. "Strangers" or "people in your life (spies posing as friends or etc)" place hand on heart or wear some big heart on clothing to confirm the torture. Perhaps the favorite method of US military psychos is to harass heart right as you go to sleep (when you're the most exhausted), so if you normally want to sleep at 11 pm, they may harass it until 4 am. That can go on 3-4 days until the heart area is so swollen, you can't even sit on the right or left without pain that takes weeks to go away: it's designed to destroy the heart and make repair harder, since sleep is when repair occurs, the more damaged the brain, the easier to mind control. They confirm it with some bipedal pig female with black feathers on her breasts for example posting something on social media you never follow, and you never get any message from facebook, but that one time when they post, they use a picture of themselves with feathers as they're the US military or CIA CGI or real poster to confirm torture by the Crocodiles. They can confirm it in many ways, like all of a sudden, 4 youtube influencers (who're all FBI, CIA, cop, military by the way, you can't be a celebrity without being that, all big internet sites are controlled by the gov of the country of origin) post about exercising (take an old recorded video from months or weeks before, say Dec 8 2025, 84 years after US entered WW2 by declaring war on Japan, 1 day after Pearl Harbor attack on 12-7-1941, post it 2-2-2026), how to raise the VO_2 max etc, or even showing meeting with Transport Secretary and Kennedy (Health Secretary, relative of Kennedy who proposed lowering tax rate from 95% to 65% for aristocratic parasites in 1963, when US worker wage was 20 times lower than CEO vs 400 times in 2021 thanks to Trump-Kennedy types who kept borders open 75 years to bring in millions of slaves, since at the flip of a switch they could dispatch military like in 2025) to build more stuff in airports (for exercising). This is torture CIA did for eons to loot 100 nations, since real exercise is raising heart rate a little, for 1 hour when you do exercise, this is damaging the heart, as they raise heart rate for 3-7 days, 24-7. The gyms in airports, etc are a preparation for WW3 possibly (Dec 8 is infinite at 90°, or 8, Dec is winter, nuclear winter), since they talk about kids stuff etc, so in case cities are nuked and people fly. CIA sends flyers, magazines of local hospitals with the "Pulse" or "heart" on the main page, each time they do a major heart harassment. You need to cover heart area and even back with aluminum to prevent issues. The entire USA is a police state, where it seems the British Jewish Gangs, together with their Vatican war makers or Italian Mafia (millions of victims, 20 million during Protestant-Catholic wars alone: extort nations to pay donations) gangsters (more on this 2.5 millennia old Italian Banking etc Mafia here (recall Machiavelli) here, Bank of America was Bank of Italy until 1930 and in 1949 it was the largest bank in the world, etc) terrorize all gentiles, via 9000 methods, one being the quotes of the "Holy Bible" also known as "accept Jesus fake miracles at gunpoint" for Vatican profits (Vatican spy agency, etc). Check out Prince Harry bragging he allegedly killed 25 people, in his book, so Americans fail to realize the American Revolution never happened: all are still slaves of the 'Jewish' Brits and British Jews. On bad days, you can do 5-20% of what you normally do, due to sleep harassment, barely being able to walk, since they have blasted your head with microwaves too: a hat with some Al tape*+ clear tape ends it. They can whack* your eyes or left or right cheek as they do with the chest area or any area that becomes painful to the touch (left/right breast for example), the skin becomes so and the tissue under it; so you won't be able to drive safely (due to extremely slow reaction time) on a new route (not to the store you always go) etc for days.☺☺☺ They attack, then brainwash the victim that they got 'COVID19', like some Internet fakes or celebrities, pretending they got cancer, COVID, etc, as a cover for their espionage or use of torture devices (the torturer will often pretend he's a victim of 'diseases' whose symptoms are like from CIA gadgets of torture). Take this yahoo Julia example, while she's probably joking, she could be victim of CIA torture. If you read the article, about purple legs, etc, you can see how by repetitive attacks on toes, and sleep deprivation, CIA causes infections of toes and feet, which, if coupled to total immune system weakening via sleep torture (30% of normal T-cell count), makes it easy for them to cause purple legs and even amputations that you see in some "celebrities". On October 23rd 2024, I removed my 12" by 20" Al foil taped in clear tape above my trunk under my long sleeve T-shirt and went to the bath, so they instantly attacked the trunk.

4). CIA attacks 5 days the heart intensely: they love attacking on special days too, sometimes 3 days on Dec 24-25-26 in 2016, or March 24-26 2020*, raising the pulse to 90 bpm vs normal 65, sometimes even reaching 99 in bed* (vs 52 normal when sleeping in bed), so 47 above normal*, so you* need to lie horizontal for even 3 days, as you're too tired to walk even, too dangerous to walk as you could raise it to 110 and cause infarct. This method is used by "refugees and immigrants" given weapons by KGB, CIA and spy agencies, to kill people too – by causing heart attacks, heart weakening, "dying of heart disease", or 'dying peacefully in sleep' (the weaker and older the heart, the easier to kill probably, this is how they can depopulate a country fast by 'natural deaths', so they can steal identity of the guy and get benefits or delay something in that family). Incessant heart torture can cause permanent change in heart rate from a healthy vegan of 50 during sleep (ideal like athletes) to higher. The local cops are CIA contractors too, they often ring their sirens loudly when they try to cause a heart attack by raising pulse to 99. This may be how the military created Joe Biden aneurysm, etc, damaged the heart, requiring pacemaker for a Vice President (Cheney), just like allegedly other foreign leaders got pacemakers as a result of the same heart torture by various spy agencies. After their destruction of the heart, the pulse may rise fast at the slightest effort (unlike before when you felt nothing). Do avoid meals 3 hours before bed, otherwise, the sugar crash in the middle of the night will wake you up as the brain raises heart rate to prevent death and wake you up.

5). CIA cannibal gorillas attack 5 days the toes intensely to cause massive swelling for 1 month and also does everything so you bump into stuff. If torture causes any toenail fungus, and an MD asks to take a nail sample, make sure you use your sterile tool and take a sample yourself to place in a bag, since many hospital tools are dirty and can infect your nail, or they can have microbes placed there by the MD (working for some military-spy agency in secret) to infect your toe more. They may take a nail sample and say it comes as negative, due to clipping nail after you used topical antifungal for a long time. This is a game, like in the Talmud: don't heal gentiles: "stall, cancel appointment to force provider change, pretend, play stupid, don't help, sabotage, waste time, deny, pretend to help again". You're often better just using daily over the counter topicals daily yourself. Choose an MD who sees mostly patients of your race, since the experience of an MD about the pathology or type of fungus manifests differently and looks very differently: same fungus will appear very differently, based on MD memory. If MD sees blacks mostly for example, their experience with manifestations and images of white toenail fungus may be only 1% of patients if that. Until we have AI take a picture, and you clip a nail to send to the lab after 2-5 weeks of no antifungals that messes up PCR tests, and real healthcare via one Universal Immortality Inc, we adapt to the stone age system we have. It's all too familiar, all while CEOs of these "healthcare systems" make 15-26 million/yr for screwing people up. They can also attack 2 minutes with their microwave laser and cause permanent lifelong damage to toe and nail, so any moment attack happens change position, shield toes, don't wait. Proof that this is an attack and not just a regular "muscle cramp or stabbing pain" is there, that they attack it, because pain stops instantly only when you surround the foot in a cooking pot such as those in a pressure cooker, as that metal is super thick and regular Al foil (unless you put 100 foils) doesn't diminish the intensity, unless you use one 100 times thicker than kitchen foil. One day USA may have to pay 50 quadrillion in reparations to all 1 billion people it has destroyed via torture and war last 300 years. Evil may not disappear except with continental strike. You can use 3.2 mil thick Al taped on both sides with clear tape (to avoid glue and increase its lifespan 100 fold) and create a small cap, maybe 40% of foot enclosed, with a little opening near toes to let feet breathe, prevent sweating, to wear on top of socks in slippers around the house. Roommates doing the attacks can confirm them in many ways, including placing the heels of a shoe pair on top of the toes of another pair, images of amputated toes/feet in your email, social media right when it happens.

The attacks can begin with sleep deprivation due to heart torture during sleep, so by the 3rd or 5th day you're ultra tired and they orchestrate everything so you trip over something to bump toes into a vacuum, since they make you grab something (say car cover) so you gaze upward to not see the stuff on the floor so you bump a toe or several, in my case the one near the left small toe on July 29th 2019, Italian fascist birthday, Mussolini, since USA is a slave colony of Italy and the fake church. The toe became purple and inflamed for about 12 months until it healed. Italy's shape is a leg. Meloni, Italy's leader, said Mussolini was a good guy, when her hair was brown. The bad type of Jews dye hair blonde to appear like a 'superior Nazi race of blonde' European, and, perhaps, as some would say, they become leaders of gentile nations (Jews looking Asian, White, Black, Red) and also pretend to be antisemitic or far right, but actually bringing the worst criminals and psychos in the EU, like Biden did to USA 2020-2024. Paris Hilton (who created my best friend's ass song when they tortured the anus) and who pushed the "Italian" (public cover) amputated leg Gwen Stefani (using the Jewish Lauren Wasser name now, from vaser in Yiddish, or Wasserburger, another fake name probably) into my stream has a sister Nicky married into the Rothschild family (one of their houses), like French President was a banker there too, the Bankers who helped create Israel (see how), financed both sides of world conflicts (20 min video) to profit from the genocide of gentiles (video "Lord Rothschild Claims His Family Created Israel" and others). Some speculated Mussolini and Austrian Hitler were Jewish (Eduard Bloch was the family doctor, a Jew), intent on slaughtering as many gentiles and religious Jews as possible: today enemies of nations or even bad type of Jews do it with fanatical illegals who abuse the kindness of being allowed in and beat the locals. The most sold calendar in Italy is Mussolini. The good "Italian" Mussolini was inciting people to genocide with Hitler tone speeches, destroying the human quantum field by demonic yelling and ordering 100s of thousands of deaths in Italian colonies. Is Meloni Italian or Jewish? Was Mussolini Jewish? Do all EU nations have Jewish leaders? I didn't know when Mussolini was born in 2019, but whoever did it, within the CIA-FBI (British officer? Irish, Jewish?), wanted to frame the Italians that have infiltrated USA? This was done with great planning, they got me ultra tired prior 3 days, July 26th, the FBI birthday, lots of attacks. Federal Bureau of Israel and Italy. Watch fascist salutes in Italy today, violence glorified. The aristocrats finance both fake left and right, so violence kills workers. Violence only helps bloodthirsty aristocrats. AI stops the attack instantly: sometimes it takes 5 mil AI, other times 100 mil AI, depending on the intensity, gaps in AI.

Another CIA (extension of Mussolini fans) classic torture (used by many spy agencies, they all copy each other) is they make you trip down the stairs (they will try to brainwash you via telepathy to fast for a day or two to make you weaker and easier to manipulate, without telling you to drink electrolytes) causing a small fracture of your right big toe that then takes 1-2 years to heal, very swollen and then they attack it for another 7 years (2016, March 17, Italy unity day, I discovered about this after the attack, as I googled the day to see why they did it then, again to confirm it's the Vatican or to frame the Italians; classical spy agency technique is to blame others, or pretend they're 'Italians') with all CIA operatives (roommates were probably CIA) nearby having fun and aiming hard to happen. All kinds of torture methods, give ideas to go to some store and it's closed, etc, you're so tired, didn't even bother to check hours of operation, though this is nothing compared to swollen toes for months at a time or 2 years, having to wear special slippers, no shoes possible, for 5 months, slippers that sink where the toes are, like Champion ones. They attack toes many times to cause nail regrowth 3 times (3 nails at once time even seen), fungal nail or bacterial infection at the base of the nail, slower nail growth. Use red light (see acne section) to stimulate healing. CIA tortures people and then send people to CIA doctors (using fake names like Jihad Mustapha to make Muslims look bad) who cause people's legs to be amputated. It's after these attacks that I wrote the book suspicions about the Vatican. March 17 is when the naive Irish celebrate the fake miracles St. Patrick, the trickster, made to fool them, while pretending to be a local Irish guy, when he was simply a clever Italian or Jewish spy. The educated Irish know it's a scam now, but keep pretending to be Catholic to be polite. March 18 is when Crimea was officially annexed by Russia in 2014 too, interesting. ☺☺☺

The big toe attacks are like the Big Toe fake disinformation book by Thomas Campbell. Many military 'hyenas' write books with lies and disinformation about science or spiritual topics, but they're nothing but professional torturers and complicit mass murderers; they use Italian methods: we give you the wafer, you give us all the rest in your country, like in Europe the Catholics became the biggest landowner. Severe toenail attacks can even create so much inflammation that any bacteria nearby the nail will cause an infection and pus to come out right at the nail connection to the toe eventually (like a pimple, the skin becomes super swollen and it will burst with the slightest help (press or needle 0.01 mm press, etc), causing white beige pus equivalent of about 0.3 mL. After the pus is out, the toe will recover on its own, like skin does after a pimple is burst, it just takes some time, 2-3 weeks, use antibiotic ointment, peppermint oil, antifungals for a week. You can wear Champion slippers with toes sitting lower than the rest of the foot, slippers and shoes later need to be larger than your normal size for ample room and no pressing by shoe on the toenail (such as Walmart brand that is the flattest of anything there or most stores: No Boundaries). No boundaries brand is great since it got memory foam to absorb the shock from walking to the knee ligaments that they also attack. Buy a size 1-2 above normal, to allow max room for toes without being pressed from above; may need remove the memory foam where toes are to avoid foam pressing against toes when walking, since most weight goes on the other parts of the feet, not toes. Soak the feet in warm water in a disinfected container, using peppermint oil to kill any nail bacteria, avoid having a strong jet of water pressing on nail or too hot water, as it can irritate fine skin; too much water will make skin very flaky under nail. Sleep well, to boost your immune system and prevent weight gain, use the scale to keep belly/visceral fat low. Make it harder for them to disturb, because the quanta will destroy them far faster when they attack while you're in bed after trying to go to bed earlier. If you understand well the principles of physics, as chapter 3 explains, you can realize they're less invincible than they claim to be. CIA puts people on 2nd, or 3rd shift or suggest that they work a later schedule via telepathy so the person thinks it's their decision, to disturb sleep, make them suggestible, harass sleep until 4 am; torture victims can become overweight. Another technique is to get you very tired thru daily attacks, so you maybe use an airbnb where the chair, table is different and the CIA will remote control your gaze away from leg and then toe bumps into the leg of wooden chair, like they did with me, by remote control on Nov 15 2023, to make your small left toe red. The AirBnB had boats and sea images, on the walls, water everywhere, a metallic female boot and some slipper decorations on the bath wall that you don't notice until they do the torture with the toe, and realize all was well planned.

Blue light can cause 100,000 fold reduction in P. acnes; it kills fungus too, so maybe use the 445+633 nm acne laser (google "Neutrogena® Light Therapy Acne Spot Treatment" 30$ on ebay, 6 min daily for 5-15 days and see what happens (or only 2-4 min/4 days at a time, if any redness appears). If you only got 1 laser, use plastic wrap around the toe,☺☺☺ clear bags, to avoid touching the laser with the feet and then discard the plastic into the recycle bin. Avoid touching face after touching the feet, to prevent fungi going from feet to eyes, so in peace time disinfect well that laser with CaviCide, 70% alcohol, if you got only one and use plastic and wash hands ultra well if you use it for face acne. If blue light doesn't kill all fungi (since it only penetrates 1 mm max), don't use Proclearz or anything that removes keratin unless you're ultra careful, and have tried everything else first to make it thinner, since if that thing touches the skin around the nail, it will damage the skin and even tissue under the nail and make things worse so better never use those. Try Theriac natural antibiotic (for nail bacterial infections) or antifungal terbinafine, miconazole, tolnaftate or clotrimazole, not dollar tree store versions of tolnaftate, clotrimazole or hearing damaging, eye muscle damaging neomycin in the triple antibiotic (polymyxin, bacitracin, neomycin) made in China with petrolatum, mineral oil that causes swelling, has PAHs carcinogens. Try plain peppermint, tea tree oils. The strongest topical natural antifungal and antibiotic is 70% bee propolis tincture, bees use it to cover dead mice stuck in the hive: take bee propolis caps while placing thick sticky paste on toenails and covering them with bandage to avoid making socks brown from the propolis. NIH explains for fungus that is at the nail base or multiple nails, oral terbinafine (not the cream at RiteAid) is needed (20$/3 months), as a 2026 study shows the least damage to livers and highest cure rate, 76% vs 50% propolis, etc. A paper explains the most common antifungals used to treat toenail fungus. All the propolis studies are in the natural antivirals section. Even a lightbulb has tons of blue light and can help in emergencies, when no pharmacies have antibiotics, blue light is not only often working 100 times better and safer, but is the only option available, your lightbulb is a mix of blue and red light; however, a 445+633 or 660 laser or acne mask are way safer, since 630 or 670 helps cytochrome oxidase, power plant of cells to recover and 445 is the 1st aid antibiotic that never expires (solar panel to recharge batteries); other lightbulb frequencies can form blood clots when used close for long periods to save a leg from a life threatening infection during war.

6). CIA attacks 20 days the throat: on and off, not daily perhaps, infrasound, laser, microwaves to make voice hoarse (eat some soft fruit, watermelon to soothe it, and read natural antivirals section for sore throat: carrots, chamomile, honey). This is not dry air causing a sore throat, but weapon to cause a specific 3-30 min pain of the throat (as if they press on it) that lasts minutes and is sufficient to cause damage. This happened mostly during a few months of a "Korean" (who knows...) renting a room in my house. The throat attack is like with the back (left or right shoulder) 5 min attack that causes swollen area there for 4 days. They also do it at specific times that are not coincidental, when you speak certain things. Use Al foil covered in tape & cloth around neck until the Korean Japanese, Chinese etc guys hired to attack throat move away from your area. Recall Caesar crucified 6000 when he didn't have to and cut their throats.

7). CIA attacks 10 to 200 days (not consecutive) the head: general microwave shower above skull or left skull area, 10 cm diameter or entire upper top or left top skull, or back of head a specific area 4 cm diameter where the hair vortex is or 2 inches below it. These can be attacks or simply lack of magnesium, which causes these muscle tensions perceived as pain or even pulsing pain. It can be left or right forehead right above the eyebrow, left/right face/eye, usually left because the analytical discernment logical brain, left temple (left skull, back of head in March 2025 on the left, with them showing in your favorite websites links to articles with the back of the head etc before or after (they had no way of knowing, as I didn't always write it in my journal on purpose), left skull was a new thing in 2023 October-Nov on and off, when hat not on, as I was selling house (4 weeks of escrow they attacked head), then stayed 2 weeks of AirBnB (CIA terrorist AirBnB hosts or neighbors, Nov 7-20), aimed at destroying the brain (attacking all Nov-Dec too using various FBI-CIA agents: Arab, Jew, Indian, White). Al pieces need cover an area 9 times bigger than the 1-20 cm diameter attack area, be held tight to the skin. You don't need a 25$ Al construction hat from Amazon. Try find if your headache is due to you having 35+ lb of body fat that causes inflammation, fast 3-30 days on 200 cal a day, to remove old proteins in the brain and brain arteries if you're fat. If real attacks happen, try wear a party hat (trim if rim is big) or a regular hat that is aluminized on the inside. Having a laptop with metal not plastic frame is best, since when closed, no microwaves can get out. Ceiling light bulbs can be weapons in disguise, replace with safer options. If no cubicle, you may need the equivalent of 5 thick Al tape 8"x55m /34$ layers, or 20 regular foils covering the inside of hat if x-ray lasers used. Alternating layers of Al and tape helps deflect better this weapon, maybe it has to do with orgone energy generation. Avoid staying in the same location, change location, since where they put a table in a hotel, room is where they setup their torture devices. Move to prevent blood pooling, which could cause clots, walk 3 min/hr. You can create a collar piece of clothing (with Al under) to protect the back of head, to be more discreet, as thick helmet styles are strange.

The US funded Taliban and Nazis they bombed later, Nazism, Taliban being reasons to bomb Germany just as today they create ISIS, Al Queda and others as a pretext to bomb various nations. They have those electrical devices to cause body jolts, that they can do, as in August 30th 2018, on head, body, stomach using a roommate, neighbor, be it a Cantonese Chinese, Korean (Chinese looking guys who may be Chinese, but speak Korean, Cantonese, Vietnamese, left October 1st, China's national day, to make it appear they're Chinese spies), or American Caucasian military veteran. FBI attacked my skull the first time in Mar-Apr 2019 in a wide attack (like phone microwaves headache), though in 2018 they got the jolt device twice in August. Read how Big Powers use torture to destroy others' state companies by revolutions (they criticize state owned enterprises, socialism, use sabotage to destroy the regimes that protect nations against foreign looters), then use private companies to steal other countries' human/material resources. The murderous UK aristocrats loved opacity. UK got a human eating lion and "Dieu et mon droit" (French was the native language of UK royals for 3 centuries) on coins, meaning "God and my right" to rule forever. UK Prince claimed that he killed 25 people. They bring dysfunction in other countries and then claim "statism doesn't work, only free market where US private companies (controlled by US government, state companies in reality, "US statism works only, not other countries' statism") take over the market and land, etc, resources. Check out some of the Africa genocidal UK actions that most have never heard about. Even King Charles admitted to the torture and cruelty. Germany and Belgium apologized too. Copying the British Opium Genocide against helpless nations, the 100+ nations' aristocrats etc sell luxury bags, flowers (Dutch), alcoholic products, smoking products, pet stores, pets, etc to the working class of all nations, to destroy them, by having rich local (enslaved nation) people buy these 30 times more expensive pants, bags, etc, instead of fixing the houses that need to be raised 10 feet or 5 ft in some areas above the street etc for flood preparation. The aristocratic terror regimes or monarchies worldwide, sell lethal products to prevent other nations from developing real tech, real 11 companies systems that end aristocracies and monarchies, from providing a house built on site in 2 hours by high tech that never can flood… Look at China, the product of aristocratic terror (the new 'communist' aristocrats making millions homeless) creating a quasi feudal state disguised as Communism, where the unethical gov allows tobacco/alcohol sales, luxury items before everyone has a decent house maintained yearly by gov, a house that never floods by 10 feet. Same selfish aristocrats rule USA too, you see floods causing 8 feet in many areas and houses never fixed for 20 years.☺☺☺ They only came to China in 1978 with businesses in order to expand their GDP by cheap labor, not to help the Chinese live to a trillion years old as angelic beings, as Immortals, so much for God's love in action, the God of slavery, killings and beatings. They steal like the Chinese too by hacking, they destroy rival or potential rival companies in other nations, they also steal human resources by calling people to immigrate, be destroyed by torture. Americans are forgetting Greek language was the language of the elites in 70 nations and now nobody knows it. US needs to be ethical, to avoid the same fate of Greeks. Just as they treat US citizens as pure trash, so are the other nations treated.

Humans need make torture illegal like they banned slavery, in all its forms: police, gangs, spies, military 'training', even Shiite Ashura or Filipino Catholic crucifixion and flagellation rituals, a form of mass psychosis. If they believe in Jesus, why do they need mansions (see pic) or 2300 acres palaces or 2130 acre part-time living estates for, aren't they supposed to give it all to the poor? How can the US promote human rights and allow such Filipino abuse and never say anything about it? The Jewish US military sings about Jesus/God murdering all with their infinite wrath. All torture symbols (yes even crucifixion), need to be banned, all violent imagery music too. The cross is nothing but a symbol of torture and subjugation of the workers, the Catholic churches have 14 stations of the cross, all deifying torture of the enslaved fool believing the scam, it's unbelievable how the Catholics became Europe's largest landowner: pure scams. God doesn't torture anyone, let alone 'his only son Jesus'. Recall US military rape of 12 year old Japanese girls. Anyone who tortures is a subhuman beast. Some US soldiers love to drink blood. It takes 1.3 ft of lead, 6.6 ft concrete, 14 ft water to block high gamma rays and 0.25 inches or 70 mm lead to block low level gamma rays. Beta particles will be stopped by thin plastic or dry wall, or Al foil. Al foil is often used in hospitals as a protective barrier against harmful low power (not weapon grade) x-rays☺☺☺. A strong military laser (x-rays are 10 nanometer to 10 picometers wavelength), passes thru walls. As such, for strong weapons, you may need the aluminum construction hat that blocks x-ray laser weapons, and maybe 2 other hats under or even above and a big cone type of self-made thing to deflect EM effects (sometimes, one hat in contact with skull acts as electricity conductor, so if you make one with tape that's larger and not in contact it can work), 20 inch long that covers the neck and face so face attacks can't be done. This would be extreme, but I did try it and it worked 30 times, though it could have been due to moving so much at times. Moving yourself and the head in the process of placing this or what hat, grabbing hats etc creates sometimes a break in blood pooling (when we sit a long time blood tends to clump) or lack of circulation in an area, so the oxygen returns, pain vanishes (pain being lack of oxygen due to COVID19 vaccine causes extreme clotting blocking blood flow to various body areas) and creates the illusion that you "placing an aluminum piece" removed the pain, it may just be that you moved and you have bad proteins in joints (that fasting removes via autophagy), and thick blood (need blood thinning foods, water to dilute blood), that oxygen levels drop. It's not always spy attack. To promote circulation, oxygenation, always get that CO_2 meter, make sure CO2 is below 650 ppm, and take warm showers, 4 of them daily even if needed, with water running on the "attacked" (low oxygen?, clots?) area to help dissipate the electromagnetic entropy and abnormality and increase circulation and reduce pain. They will send guys (even tenant) your way with a hat, beanie or headband to confirm the torture.

8). DIA (Diablo, the Devil, Defense Intelligence Agency) attacks 350 days the knees, feet joints, feet to destroy blood vessels and cause cold knees, feet, knee caps (you will notice that knee cap pain when you go down the stairs or up. This can be due to aging, osteoarthritis or merely poor circulation. X-rays can show if there is no arthritis and only PFPS: patellofemoral pain syndrome (worsens when climbing or going down stairs, squatting, or running or when weak hip or thigh muscles that fail to keep the kneecap properly aligned on the femoral groove), often called runner's knee, a common condition causing pain around or under the kneecap, due to the thickening of the synovial fluid and the bending of knees at tight 60-90° during sleep or desk work, which makes the ligaments stretch and press the kneecap against the cartilage, leading to cartilage damage (due to restricted blood flow, blood brings nutrients, oxygen to help cells survive, blood removes toxins) and pain under, on and around the kneecap. Climbing stairs forces quadriceps to contract, pushing kneecaps backward with massive force directly into the tracking groove. If the kneecap is off the groove by even 1 mm, it causes friction 5-10 mm deep inside the joint. Cold weather causes the muscles, tendons, and ligaments around our kneecap to contract and lose elasticity. This increased soft-tissue tension pulls on the kneecap, throwing off its alignment and tracking, which leads to pain. Cold temps bring drops in atmospheric pressure, which can cause the tissues in your joint to expand slightly, squeezing and irritating hypersensitive nerves, leading to the sensation of pain, so this can be confused with torture, when it's natural, even if indoor temp is 78° not 65°. In summary, knee pain stems from tight 50-100° knee bending, overuse, low knee temps (cold knees), muscle imbalances (addressed via specific exercises an orthopedic MD suggests for physical therapy), or improper tracking of the kneecap in its groove. To prevent it, wear long pants to keep knees warm, ultra thick pants in winter, keep knees at 120-150° under the desk while sitting and avoiding angles < 120° during sleep if a side sleeper. Every half hr bend knees from 120°-150° default position to 180° and then all the way to 70° to promote synovial fluid lubrication of joints, which is key since few blood vessels exists around the kneecap: synovial is the main method to bring nutrients and it works best when it's warm. Keeping knees at 80-90° for hrs at work stretches the knee tendons tight, pinning the kneecap firmly against the bone underneath, blocking synovial fluid circulation. Instead of squats that put heavy pressure on the knee cap, you can do glute squeezes (in bed, in the chair or while standing) and glute bridges, or straight leg rises.

If the "CIA attacks" only happen in winter, fall, spring and never in the summer, that's a big clue: your synovial fluid is getting more viscous at lower temps and you need knee warmers: if you don't turn on the AC on warm days or weeks, once 5-10 years there is a heat wave when inside temps climb to 90°F for much of the day, you may notice no joint pain happens in this week, vs daily in the winter, showing the "attacks" vanish, indicating it's not done by anyone, but by poor circulation, so you need to raise the thermostat to 80°F or take warm baths, or use IR heat mats for the joints, move around more or move to a warmer climate. You can easily realize this by spending some summer days in the shadow in the garden under a canopy you setup, with UPF 50 clothing and see how all joint pain vanishes in hot weather, as synovial fluid melts, it will be a free diagnosis, no lies from MDs trying to sell pills. Of course, spies could attack in winter months only and avoid attacking in the summer to make you believe it's the weather, but you can see when barometric pressure drops it is there perhaps, indicating poor circulation in the joints. Cold temperatures constrict blood vessels, thicken joint synovial fluid (causing friction and stiffness), and drop barometric pressure. Cold weather thickens the synovial fluid inside the knee capsule, transforming it from a smooth lubricant into a sluggish fluid that causes grinding and aching. To preserve core temperature, bodies naturally reduce blood flow to hands, feet. Less blood flow means less oxygen/nutrients reach the joints, causing them to ache as no ATP exists to repair and feed the nerves, etc. We're naturally less active in the cold. Lack of movement causes supporting muscles to weaken and joint lubrication to drop. When we move we force the synovial fluid to lubricate the joints, to nourish them, since they got no blood vessels and depend on this fluid. The fact that the pain vanishes instantly when you use some IR cap indicates poor circulation and lack of fluidity of the synovial fluid. When we're 15, our knees are perfect, but as we age, some people start having issue even at 25 if they use the knees a lot, this lubricating fluid becomes thicker, failing to nourish the joints. To undo this thickening, you can also leave your knees and lower legs (or any area they attack, elbow joints, etc) in the sun for 20 min daily to absorb beneficial red and IR light to help improve circulation. You can also use warm shower and red light (if overcast weather and no sun) right away if any pain develops anywhere. Lower temps always make knees colder and cause more pain, so raise thermostat to 78° to prevent cancer and stiff painful joints. Low Zn, Cu, Mg can also cause knee pain, so do a hair test for 39 metals to see. Try fast to cause autophagy to clear old proteins, remove inflammatory junk. Knee issues can also be due to you not wearing thick pants around the colder house, like sweatpants under winter pants if freezing cold or going outside. Thick pants remove the need for knee warmers. Wear thermal layers directly over the knees when house temps drop below 75, to keep the fluid thin. Walk around the house to pump fresh, warm fluid through the knee joint without stressing the knee joint. Google exercises (chair squat, etc) to try to strengthen knee joint muscles, so stronger muscles reduce the strain and pain on joints.

Why does the synovial fluid thicken as we get older so much faster in cold weather? Because we age, our eyelid glands oil changes from clear and thin to toothpaste like thick one, same for the synovial fluid. This fluid thickens more noticeably in cold weather as we age because the fluid loses its natural water content and elasticity over time, making it highly susceptible to cold temps. Inside a young, healthy joint, synovial fluid has the smooth, slippery consistency of an egg white. However, aging and cold weather trigger a combination of chemical, structural, and circulatory changes that turn this fluid into a sluggish gel. The specific factors causing this accelerated thickening include the loss of Hyaluronic Acid HA that binds massive amounts of water to keep the joint lubricated. As we age, we make less HA and HA molecules break down into shorter, less elastic chains. This thinner baseline fluid holds less water, which means that in the winter, the fluid undergoes a much steeper phase change, rapidly shifting from a liquid state into a thicker, warm honey consistency that resists movement, causing pain. When cold, we restrict blood vessels in arms and legs, to keep warm blood circulating around our vital organs. Because joints already have a limited direct blood supply, this cold-induced constriction dramatically drops the local temperature within the knee capsule. Fluids inherently become more viscous (thicker) as their temperature decreases. When the air pressure around our body decreases, the tissues surrounding our joints (tendons, muscles, joint capsule) expand slightly. In an older joint that may already suffer from mild cartilage loss or low-grade inflammation, this expansion increases internal pressure and mechanical friction, compounding the heavy, stiff feeling of the thickened fluid. Cold weather causes muscles and tendons to instinctively contract and tighten to generate heat. This structural tightness compresses the joint space. Because fluid viscosity decreases with movement, a compressed, tightly-held joint moves less, preventing the synovial fluid from thinning out naturally through activity. See the parent license section on why (synovial thickens, damages) playing as a kid in cold temps causes joint issues later, as the synovial thickens are much lower temps as an adult, requiring thicker pants and higher temps.

It seems like CIA attacks right big toe with a needle sensation right at the top of the nail or maybe the knee joint, just when you type something bad about CIA. They can also attack the top part of the left leg for example, where it joins with the buttocks and then confirm it by someone nearby placing their hand all of a sudden (they never do that) there. After savage 'FBI attacks', you may need to bend from knees instead of from the back to avoid pressuring the eyeball if they do savage attacks on one side of the face (one eye), which may not be attacks after all, but simple magnesium deficiency causing the trigeminal nerve to produce pain. Bend from knees when they feel normal, because sometimes, they attack knees for months so you can barely walk, you would need to lean on shopping cart or use a cane to avoid damage☺☺☺. They send the carpet cleaning guy earlier than allotted slot, knowing you didn't yet move the bed frame out. Then, they suggest you quickly remove the bed frame with the CIA 'carpet cleaner' so as to bump leg into the frame. To create a sense of rushing in bed frame moving, the tenant (CIA thug?) who was supposed to move all his stuff out, intentionally didn't, while promising to do so way before the carpet guy came, that way only seconds are left to move bed frame. Then you rush to move the bed frame and bump into the bed frame, etc. They calculate everything, so that tenant, cleaner, your every move (that they control) align. They waste copious days to just get even bump from the back of the foot accomplished.

9). CIA attacks 90 days the eyes to cause red-dry eyes, styes (due to excessive oxidative stress and mailing eyedrops or ointments with bacteria), glaucoma, blindness, retina damage via infrasound vibration, ultrasound. CIA can cause pain in the eye for hours, daily, for 90 days in a row even, if you don't cover eye when they attack it immediately. When you write something in your book, notes or tell someone about the torture they do, they make a lot of noise, drop objects on the floor, slam doors, etc, via some roommate or neighbor who uses the lasers to torture you, to make it all more 'dramatic' and intimidating, and confirm they watch your every word typed on the computer and everything with their tiny invisible cameras installed in your house when you go shopping, etc. For eye attacks, they send your way people who put stuff on their face sometimes, around 1 eye, with a dye or makeup to confirm torture. Aluminize your eye mask, see punctal plug section. They do a routine optomap OD exam to scare you that x "might be wrong with the 'eye they plan to attack' (left for me) in order to have an "explanation" for the victim sensations…. The OD also pressed the left eye on purpose a lot during MGs expression, (no decent OD does that, you use the forceps to express, not press the eyeball with the bare hand). Retina scan lights can damage the eye too, don't overdo them. CIA can blind you during retina scans that are part of routine eye exams. Just because they can, does it mean they do it? Oh, another one of their attacks is paying optometrists or even ophthalmologists who do IPL to pretend they don't know how to place the cornea shields, especially the OptoShields, a newer product, and use that as a cover for their attempt to break blood vessels under the conjunctiva, which is a red spot (subconjunctival hemorrhage) that can heal itself sometimes in 2-4 weeks. If not healing, you have a red spot on your eye, often times visible to others, for the rest of your life. Just don't eat blood thinners (vitamin E, omega 3s or garlic, ginger, chamomile, berries) that cause bleeding during physical activity or higher blood pressure. Eat K, Mg to lower blood pressure. It's basically like any redness on your skin, it stays red or purple for a while. The real danger is Israeli IPL use for retina damage, using so called 'plastic see thru OptoShields' enabling Mossad, CIA to make us blind. Try go to MD of the same appearance, since CIA knows it is easier to remotely control via brain or motor control MDs of different races, due to the innate tendency to be slightly more careful with those like them. It's not just some Jews doing it, writing about not healing gentiles, only pretending to: De 7:1-16, De 20:10-17, Le 25:44-6. Jews are usually brown eyed, not tall & 20 times less likely to have blue eyes (real, not contacts to change color when you visit) vs brown or green, 500x less likely to have blonde hair (%s here), not gold dye. See a typical oblong Jewish face (bone shape is only visible in thin Jews). See blue eye blond Jew.

They can vibrate the eyes, like they did in Jan-April 2022 for me, big eye torture like you never experienced, 5 hrs at a time, 30 days out of 3 months – where the big toe pain torture (whereby toe becomes swollen days later after 24-7 attack and causes new nail to grow and current one to die) is applied to the eyeball causing entire eyeball to vibrate due to infrasound weapons used and also the orbital area, the whole head or side they attack that day, anything near the orbital area. When you bend head towards floor right after the 'punch' using microwaves, etc and gravity pulls blood into eyes, there is a slight partial return of pain as blood pressurizes the edema (ocular and inside the brain vessels) DIA created with infrasound weapons. The eye attacks are of many types, some are burning, others are twitches, other are shrinking, others are vibrating, drying, etc. One odd weapon frequency is applied until the eye shrinks from the stress for 3 weeks, before returning back to normal. They even have people with white iris sent your way, due to fake Halloween contacts to mimic cataracts or real cataracts, another intimidation. Blacks were sent, saying sarcastically "you got beautiful eyes" during eye attacks. Pulse raises cause high blood pressure, which damages brains as much as a punch from CIA 'thugs'.☺☺☺

Can cars mess with our eyes, brains, legs? All 6 nations bordering Russia banned Russian cars, since a car can be altered to become a KGB killing machine or a spy station intercepting enemy communications. All connected devices can have spying software or hardware or even devices to torture, robotize (edit, write, read emotion, thoughts) and enslave all, so do turn off phones. I had a Japanese car for a year called Solterra EV and noticed brain skull attacks when I parked it near my house, microwave lasers pass thru walls, though it could have been low Mg. 70% of parts are Japan, 30% are China on the window sticker. This was used as a loaner or courtesy vehicle by the dealer with no prior owner, perhaps, for plausible deniability that "others installed something in it", the guy in charge of Temecula Subaru internet sales was called Brian Schwelling, and if we had any questions or complaints we can contact him, his name refers to brain swelling (brain attack). Perhaps the CIA or car attacked the head as I was with the sales guy Valone Lopez at the table near the entrance door signing the papers, the dealership didn't mail the title DMV application after months or any gas or electric car, if modified by USA to make Japan or others look bad. Spy agencies can easily take panels off a car and insert various torture devices (microwave, EMF fields, ultrasound, infrasound) to frame other nations. Fisker Ocean I tested in Hollywood, Florida attacked the skull. You may need to use some Al tape to block the roof above driver or door where they installed microwave lasers. CIA installs anything while owner or dealer is away, as cars sits in the lot. June 2016-Jan 2024 my car was a used $8000 2012 Nissan Leaf bought from Star Motors, 7108 Reseda Blvd, Reseda, CA, from David the Iranian Jew (possible CIA/Iranian double agent) in 2016 who advertised it on craigslist), as it was the cheapest EV anywhere, but may have had torture of legs devices installed. All car companies in a nation are part of and subordinate to its military, so that's why anyone working for the USA government drives a USA made car, due to security and health risks. Kindly watch what Japan did to prisoners in WW 2: Japan unit 731 Nazi experiments & beatings and killings of Aussies who were starved to death like the Jews, & railroad building (like the Gulag) where 25% died or Japanese eating Indian prisoners or death marches, genocides of Americans, Brits, Dutch on hell ships (everyone urinates/defecates while standing, 2000 prisoners crowded in a 50 people ship) of WW2 prisoners. The US is banning all Chinese cars to protect Americans. CIA sent modified chips and tech to USSR, just like Japan can modify its cars to turn them into silent killing machines. Buy car (or any device that uses electricity) made in your own country (not "Japanese etc allies"), as it may be safer, foreign versions may have hidden torture systems or thought reading tech that is sent to exporting country for analysis and then attempt to write driver's brain, using a random quantum number sequence for satellite or local secret spy stations data upload once every 29 or 89 days, varies. *Cars can all have producing and/or designing (designer can be 3rd country who remotely controls engineers) country spyware in them, via unknown methods of random cheap parts subtle effects of satellite quanta*.

10). CIA attacks 90 days the eyelids to cause twitches, see 14.7. first pages on low Mg possible explanation: caused by magnesium deficiency or electrolyte imbalance or deficiency during or after fasting. don't spray your house if any car is around, since wind can send paint to the cars and you'll be spending hours to clean those cars, making eyes so tired. Pain on one side of the face or eyelid can also be caused by atherosclerotic plaque blocking oxygen uptake, so lose belly fat first via a gentle one meal a day fast. Low sodium can cause puffy swollen eyelids, as well as thick dry eye artificial tears, it's not always attacks. If the eyelid twitch vanishes instantly when you use an alcohol pad to wipe the eyes, it's most likely magnesium deficiency. calvin.edu claims Ashkenazi Jews have a higher % of people with: short height, sunk eyes (like 2023 NATO leader with Ashkenazi last name or UK 2024 prime minister), bent nose, bow legs, thick lips, thick eyelids, droopy eyelids, wrinkled face (at 75 they got 3-20 times more than average).

11). CIA attacks 5 days the penis (1-7 days/month), not consecutive days to cause sleep sperm emissions, or even attack a testicle 5 times a decade. See Nevada, USA legalized prostitution (sexual slavery): video on celebrities seeking sex slaves. Slavery didn't end in 1865, it's still legal in Nevada. During WWII, Americans raped French women, while being drunk or not. After 1945,

Japanese women were raped. Microwave, EMF, sonic safety means keep 20 feet at least from any neighbor, ideally 100. Normally, like all males, sleep sperm discharge happens once or twice a year, or even decade, depending on the person, how many liquids and big meals they eat in the last 4 hours before bed mostly. To avoid issues in the absence of torture, avoid eating anything 5 hours before bed and drinking anything 3 hours before bed. However, when CIA does it, it can happen 5 times in just 3 weeks, 50 times/year. UK also has military rapists, as this article hints at. USA is like UK. You know it's them since they use the Sony like techs (Ctrl-F Sony) for dream insertion that are different than natural dreams. You know it's unnatural: it is sudden, multiple, in quick succession due to the use of the gadget to activate the neurons related to release, wakes you up. Normal emission you don't even notice (happens slowly) while it is happening. They knew of 911 false flag, US staged 911 to invade Afghanistan, by fooling the Saudis and allowing them to train in Florida to fly airplanes US military actually remotely controlled into the towers to make sure the terrorists make no mistake. See videos of Abu Ghraib that were on TV, 2003 war, though Hussein was also tough: Saddam regime video. See US military pimps. The US military abused endless Iraqis, they raped (and then brutally killed, after torture, mutilation) endless people and minors in many wars (not just Vietnam) of genocide, with entire villages of innocent civilians wiped out, because 1% of people had a gun or some were leftist. This shouldn't surprise anyone, given the evil heavy metal music invented in the evil USA of simulated human sacrifices and then exported globally to turn the planet into a living mayhem. When emissions happen, wake up, use eyedrops if they're dry, eat some multivitamin, ☺☺☺ carrots or greens (vitamin A) smoothie plus a walnut to enhance absorption of fat soluble A, D, K, E, CoQ10 vitamins, take a shower, wash face, generate tears and use some cold compress too if eyes are red. This is all due to the demonic Bible mass rape quotes that normalize rape. Immortalists propose death penalty for any human who rapes others. See South Korea comfort women used as prostitutes by the fake Christian US military (they use that Christian scam to attract fools as cannon fodder, while not practicing the 5 nicest quotes of the Gospel), etc. A Yale University article claims that "Even today, camp towns around U.S. military bases import women from Southeast Asia and Eastern Europe", hey I guess the fake Pastors getting rich by supporting war, didn't include the global rape by the US military in their sermon while talking about faithfulness to your spouse. Emissions and sex outside of procreation create new eye arterioles that make you ugly and old looking. So, definitely, have sex for pro-creation only and work to turn the US military into Eternium. The control of the urine and sperm muscles by gadgets is easy. After emissions, make a new resolution to not eat big meals or liquids 3 hours before bed. You can even yawn to make tears. Masturbation drains female/make eyes, emission during sleep even more. US needs to ban all sex outside of procreation in literature and news, movies, media and ban the depiction of any sex act in any media. We need ~~Eternal Universal Peace~~ movies, not sex scenes. Christian/Muslim/Jewish Elites are Mass Rapists who swear, like US Officials taking high Office on the Demonic Word of Lucifer Bible Quotes on genocide, mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, alcohol, kid beating, slave beating & similar Quran quotes. Jewish Ethics. They create Many of the World's Terrorists, to justify military action of looting. See Elite Rituals.

12). CIA attacks 2-8 days the abdomen: this can also be caused by your own visceral fat causing poor oxygen delivery to various areas of your abdomen or even liver (fat liver disease). Thus, it is OK to lose those 35 lb of belly fat first, before you think CIA attacked, and perhaps, do an enema, as some had 40 lb of hard feces they carried for 50 years as mutant obese men. However, a real 1-2 day microwave attack leads to imbalance that takes 2 weeks to restore though.

13). CIA attacks 3 days the ears: they send letter in the mail about some guy pic with ear stuff and then they twitch one ear for the next 3 days in a peculiar fashion, or make it vibrate, like a gentle pop. They did this in September 2018 first when the terror became super heavy. Then in 2024 they attacked it more. If they attack ear, cover the ear, use earplugs for 5 minutes or longer as silicone material prevents ultrasound (anything above 20 kHz, medical ultrasound is 2-15 MHz, sonar used by navies is 30-500 kHz, others can be GHz). They confirm it with their CIA FBI doctors posting videos about 'hearing loss' at the same time (Oct 11, Oct 12, Oct 18) they torture 10,000 viewers of his (allegedly Jewish) videos, or fake real life or social media 'celebrities' (soldiers) posting videos about pit bull puppies licking ears of monkeys. ☺☺☺

14). CIA attacks 4 days the back: this is done usually on the right or the left, closer to the shoulder, so that it is very difficult to even walk as that area is very sore after the 5 minute blast, sore for 5 days. If you don't put Al foil taped shield, they will often reattack for 4 days. So, always be aware, the devils know no rest, they pounce when you're least expecting. 9 out of 10 times, they attack the left areas. They can also attack your vertebra. Japanese cars can be modified or co-created (automakers are branches of that country's military) with US to attack people's toes, lower back. Place taped Al foil under your car seat cover if spies attack you.

15). CIA attacks 210 days the teeth: they confirm it in many ways, living people with a missing tooth, crooked teeth, even google chrome ads about dental implants or whatever people need if all people fall off due to their torture. They attacked the front teeth that never experienced any pain, using a CIA Korean (or maybe Japanese posing as Korean) who oddly had an electric toothbrush. The goal is to make people shut up and not expose their crimes, alter speech, damage teeth, make it hard to regenerate enamel, etc, like with the toe nail attacks that make nail grow slower, etc and make it impossible to have good control when singing about World Peace, as I tried to before attacks began. Don't bend downwards as the blood pooling in the tooth has the same effect as with the eye, it causes more damage due to pressuring the damaged vasculature, since CIA completely disables people, make teeth fall, change their speech patterns, shrink eyes, damage eyelids, cause dry/red eyes. Don't chew on affected teeth, make smoothies, stop chewing gum (bad since it releases lethal microplastics), and talk 50 times less to provide relief and minimize tooth inflammation; left side when they attack left face and eye for example, or just one tooth (left or right front tooth to make speaking, singing hard; they attacked the left front tooth (upper, like they do for other people too) after I recorded the World Peace in 3 months song on my phone in October 2022, because World Peace is not acceptable to the World Military Dictatorship who controls all 'civilian' governments, brainwashes all that Eternal World Peace in 3 months is impossible. Military elites disguised as CEOs and big politicians enjoy eternal human sacrifice thru war and California Bohemian Grove simulations. All TV stations are demonic covens of ritual human sacrifice via war in disguise: all we hear is war drums. Any business can have hidden torture devices to attack customers.

They attack the front teeth so you can't speak much or smile or laugh, they cause cavities thru vast increase in oxidative stress or this reporter of chicken torture for sin expiation, the s sound, torture. Feel free to take a COVID mask and place an insert made of Al foil or tape covered in tape to block microwave, ultrasound, infrasound. Keep mouth shut to block lasers, ultrasound entering the mouth. You can touch with the tongue the attacked teeth, move the head a little to get the electromagnetic focusing on given teeth destroyed. To confirm/intimidate, CIA shows, in website news or emails (from companies you subscribed to), pic of people without front teeth etc or whichever teeth they attack. CIA makes people called Mike (mic for microphone, that you use mouth/teeth to talk on), Michael, Tony, Anthony (tone of speech, talk, teeth) email, call or interact with you, tell you via text or etc to 'shut your mouth up'. A guy Mike can even rent a room, or if you got 4 rooms, 4 rooms with his gang (all had fake documents they're students from Colombia for example, could be from Mexico etc) and coordinate torture for maximum intimidation, all 4 pretending to work as "mechanical/electrical engineering" interns at a fitness place 1 mile away fixing gym machines. The teeth attacks are often done 30 months after they send a gang (FBI fools pretending to be gangsters) in a store (they manipulated you to go to) to threaten punching you (me on Dec 14, 2019) in the face or have spies you may run into on social media post pic of gold vampire teeth on Dec 14th 2019 after the encounter (Halloween gold caps people place on teeth to role play☺☺☺ they're vampires) to confirm "she sent the gangsters".

CIA confirms by sending Arab Muslim guy (faking that he's from Jordan, Jaw-are-done) out of the blue near you with a tooth flosser (even tenant roommate, who is a CIA in disguise, who might even place some smiley face sponge in the kitchen, scrub daddy brand, smiles reveal the teeth) and flosses his teeth and may ask you why you wear the mask (he knows you put Al on the inside to block signal). Alternatively, a CIA spy (different race, maybe Asian if White, since Genghis Khan sounds like gingivitis, and Khan looked like East Asians) will use an electric toothbrush, unlike anyone else, and he may be close to the room where you sleep, to indicate that he's doing it or is part of the torture team, if he's a roommate, neighbor. Or CIA sends an FBI 'plumber' and city inspector who will fake his speech as if he had a tooth extraction and he sounds funny. You go to grocery store, a guy has a missing front tooth (maybe an extraction recently). Or on youtube when you watch some Ukraine war CNN youtube, shows on the right side under suggestions a Ukraine war video by a guy with odd teeth smaller in different videos or some 'Estonian soldier' (his youtube name) with perfect teeth interviewing an allegedly 'Moscow born Jew' talking about no meat/cheese in 1989 Moscow' with smaller yellower less 'perfect' teeth or Israeli spy master teeth pic is shown on many sites, but most of his pic show normal teeth, not crooked. This is due to the Nazi idea that "Jews, Gypsies have a higher incidence of teeth issues", though millions of 100s of nationalities may have malnourishment (cats take 4 generations of healthy diet to return to normal health, after 3 generations of bad diets led to severe issues). Don't chew with the teeth they attack, use the other ones and chew slowly.☺☺☺ CIA can infect you with some flu, food bug or other virus like they did one time around 2015, like Japan Unit 731: "East Europeans are cannon fodder puppies☺☺ for USA, and experimentation cows to test latest US weapons" per KGB disinfo. Google allows you to turn off health care related ads on youtube on the side, so no more "dental implants" ads.

The same YouTube "Estonian soldier' interviews a girl (AI or real?) who allegedly has some space between her upper left teeth (like many 15 year olds have), if not a video filter, they both use a porcelain (teeth fillings made of porcelain) cup to drink water at the same (watch) time, (notice mock neck sweater, they can show videos with people with beanies when they harass head, or with mock neck or neck scarfs when they harass your throat to make your voice hoarse). I googled "bad rap lyrics" and got these teeth. My google news posted this odd teeth video, probably fake teeth you can put on and remove in 10 sec, maybe she or the video AI darkened the rest to make herself look odd like this Chinese guy did too, or this Chinese front teeth missing retiree talking to UK guy. Maxim (maxiliary, jaw) named folks can be KGB spies disguised as refugees. Youtube/google is owned by Russian Jew Sergey Brin, US Jew Larry Page, hence many youtube Jew "celebrities". How many spies are fake/real Jews? How often do spies send a guy, after torturing him, to another nation, to be 'free' and there the same spies, continue the torture, disguised as 'locals'? During this teeth torture they got me to discover some odd stuff:

See Hitler's odd (missing tooth on upper left) teeth at min 20:47 of part 1, part 2 and min 00:30 of part 3, of a 3 hr 2011 PBS documentary "The Dark Charisma of Adolf Hitler", you can find some parts on youtube (since Nazis deleted vimeo part 1 and 3 that made Hitler look like a "Jew with imperfect teeth" per Nazi doctrine, whose only aim seemed the slaughter of millions of gentiles (75 million) and creating Israel), youtube PBS has 1 min preview of it, Hitler forgot his tooth cover maybe. Oddly, Israel's leader says "Hitler didn't want to kill Jews, but to expel them", yet some Grand Mufti of Jerusalem (Islamic leader of Palestine) Haj Amin al Husseini told him to kill the Jews, not expel them to Palestine as stated in the Ha'avara (Transfer in Hebrew) Agreement on 8-25-1933 signed by Nazis and the exiled Zionist government of Palestine, which did help 60,000 to move to Israel. Due to Hitler's methamphetamine drug use between 1937-1945, cocaine ear drops in 1944 after a failed assassination attempt that broke his ears, he developed Parkinson's, see his hand shaking. Hitler's doctor was not that smart, Hitler's missing tooth is seen at 5:35-5:36 (stop video there) here. Notice the lies in the movie made by PBS at min 30 that the German soldiers, spies disguised as the "Rich Aristocrats" thought they could control Hitler and were 'surprised'; in 1919, German generals were planning the remilitarization of Germany and the Nazi Party, secretly building Hitler up as their front man. Hitler also had apparently exotropia strabismus (his right eye looks out slightly sometimes in 100s of clips, so strabismus is sometimes linked to brain disorders and mental illness, those with Down syndrome (that Hitler killed) are more likely to have strabismus, see Israel needs be 50x bigger strabismus guy too ('pastor'), since strabismus is not just eye muscles always, it can be due to brain disorders, nerve misfiring, poor neuron migration during fetus development (due to caffeine intake by mother), etc, mental (schizophrenia) illness alleged by History Channel in his family, besides the beatings Hitler got from his father and slaps he gave his sister). The foreign spies who created Nazism and puppeteered Hitler could not even fix his teeth, let alone bring World Peace as they lied in Mein Kampf when they wrote thru him their insane ideas. You often see strabismus (min 2:04) in psychopath Nazi guards, male or female, like this serial killer. Look carefully at this strabismus (min 3:11) Nazi demon. The son of the Islam promoting Iraqi leader, who tortured/killed thousands, also had strabismus. The UK Royals, some Jews, others (Ceausescu in Nazi prison after torture, Ceausescu president) often had for centuries strabismus (Queen Elizabeth, etc), which led many to think inherited mental illness is often accompanied by strabismus and caused them to create psychopathic laws and genocides. Many of the worst royals and dictators had strabismus. Use Ctrl+F "Hitler" to find all related info in this book. USSR claims Hitler had many gold teeth. Hitler escaped (newspapers reported he escaped by airplane), if USSR faked the Hitler teeth report (official cover story presented in 42 min here: an unrecognizable "burned body was Hitler's because the teeth resembled Hitler's per a report by his dentist", but the dentist could have memorized a double's teeth and drawn the diagram to help Hitler escape; plus KGB trashed the body, oddly, while DNA evidence could be made, as if to hide more WW2 secrets related to Russian spies in Nazi regime or Hitler being partially Russian) that 'confirmed his death', after having co-killed 9 million Germans and 70 million others... there are 100s of km of tunnels under Berlin... See Putin's daughter odd teeth. The same people who controlled Hitler control Putin? is Jainism, who uses the Buddhist/Hindu swastika inverted symbol, which means lucky in Sanskrit. Jain monks cover their mouths (teeth) with a Muhapatti "mouth mask", to avoid killing insects (even if mosquitos kill 0.7 million/year, 1 foot leg span spiders can kill us). Jains are anti-eterni, since they deify self-torture: Jain hair pulling, called Kesh Lochan is painful, painful fasting 5 months on water that damages brains, looking at the sun with bare eyes, rare baths causing infections. All will eat eterni foods, so vegan/omnivore will have no meaning. Hitler charged Germany fees to use his image in products, amassed $0.2 billion (today's value) by donations from companies getting low taxes, 0 regulations, all while promoting a fake image of a frugal man. Hitler was an insane fraud.

16). CIA attacks 30 days the hands: this can be the elbow, the whole hand, from the base of fingers to the elbow almost, or the wrist and palm central area. However, this can be caused by repetitive strain injury, so make sure you get an Apple keyboard, a sharp serrated knife for watermelon/pineapple to avoid crushing your thumb and index finger by pressing hard on a blunt knife, and get a good mouse first. A bad mouse can cause the nail of the thumb of the hand you use the most to become sore; same for any overused finger. Did you buy proper gloves and are your hands always warm? Cold temps can cause pain. Pain can be a sign of poor circulation and poor oxygen delivery, bad proteins that accumulate in joints, so get some fasting to remove bad chemicals via autophagy. CIA can cause a 3×5 mm area under the nail to become pink due to the 3 minute attack like with my right thumb attack on Dec 20th 2023, 220 years after Louisiana purchase was completed, 1 day before French President official (fake?) 46th birthday. CIA confirms it with people texting you images of busted toe nails or thumb signs in texting. You meet folks with a fake hand bandage or TV/web have images of what CIA just tortured.

17). CIA agents slam into my car and cause flat tires: they get you ultra tired again, via torture, they have a big SUV, etc glide into you, fully aware they're hitting you, on purpose, waiting for the right moment. Like in the movies, they follow always, for 8+ years, in cars with one light off, behind, front, always those Kia, etc cars (the most common, due to CIA and to frame South & North Korea, joke about 200+ tiny nukes) and one headlight off, the All Seeing Eye on US banknotes to try to fool you they know everything, and you need to be their slave. They also cause flat tires. You know it's them since it was parked fine in the garage and then suddenly flat tire next trip, they even confirm it with tons of tire images online.

►►►►► What Bad Militaries can't control, they will completely destroy ◄◄◄◄◄

►►►►► free will is gone, 'all cyborgs will become', all nations of the world beware ◄◄◄◄◄

►►►►► your extermination is next if you don't pretend you're controlled by Them ◄◄◄◄◄

18). CIA attacks 4 days the thighs, 4 weeks the back: thighs, sometimes as high as your hips. This may be due to your body being cold, wear extra clothing. If that doesn't remove pain, fast to remove visceral fat and bad accumulated proteins. Recent weight gain can cause stress on the spine. Lose extra pounds first. If that fails, use AI "skirt" from nipple to knee, to protect back, knee, hips, upper thighs. This is similar to the sore breast or back of heart attacks when everything is sore to the touch. Attack of the back (or center, left or right, behind shoulders, heart), the joint where the spine joins with the leg or vertebra meet ends if you instantly place A barrier: it's a stab in the back (KGB?) that can take months to vanish. ☺☺☺

19). CIA attacks toilet wax rings or breaks pipes to create water leaks inside your house, CIA roommate/neighbor opens doors when you open your door or cabinets, sends off 100 defective items, tenants don't flush toilet (harassment technique used by many agencies: feces stay for days or hours in a toilet in a bath you don't go to every day). The smell stuff is a code, like skunks they remotely guide to a location come out in your path or you go into theirs as you're remotely controlled. Directional control applies to things you buy in stores too: you find what they placed there on the shelf. They cause dents in shipped items, dent fins on heaters. They suggest silently to do x, y, z, which may take minutes, hours or days and it's all a waste of time.

20). CIA attacks brain's language inner audio processing input via synthetic telepathy daily for years: this is psychological warfare and it is explained in far more detail in the next 30 pages. It's the war against the brain. They beam a thought using their tech (like bats, elephants, etc use ultrasound or infrasound inaudible to human ear) and if you don't do it, they start torturing the heart, leg, etc until you do it, such as waking up, go downstairs, go in front of the building you're in for 1 min (then you see something wild going on, the police or something makes a big fake staged event to intimidate or whatever, crashing a car into a van, that smashes a nearby gate and flips a van, etc), search google for a thing, and then the first result is a website or profile of someone (of either gender), then you click on it, goes to some youtube videos or some other person they want you to follow to harass you (this con pretends to like you sometimes, or may just post something related to what you were googling recently). The CIA also uses thousands of 'bitches' online (male or female) who post sexy pics/clips to make 5,000 of their ☺abysmal IQ☺ followers believe that they love to date them (fake, since there are 1-30 million followers at times, mostly fake bots, to give the CIA recruiter more credibility). See how China trains kids to kill Americans. You can see this very well, you can test the reaction of CIA spies by role playing you like them and see the games they play when they try to pretend to like you, while torturing you secretly. Other spies may use the cover of a conservative science geek wearing purple if you like purple and are conservative, to mirror you and gain your trust.

21). CIA attacks one's sense of safety by Mind War, threats to the max for 11+ years: they place 400 people with crutches or whatever in your path over 8 months sometimes, and beam into the mind, with their weapon the thought, "we will amputate your leg", so that when they torture your heel, toes, knee, etc you're in a state of anxiety (same for eyes, etc). It's the gang method of forcing others into slavery and submission to the military mafia. Confirmation of torture methods are many: they can have 5 people (teacher (any class you attend on(off)line) wife, roommates, etc) fake a 'leg issue' (fake cast, limp) at any place (class, etc) you go to, as they did with many (me in 2015), in order to make the victims curious about an instagram profile they force into their social media (be it google+ or etc) (the lethal bitch inserts oneself into your life pretending to like you, honey trap of CIA, spy agencies). Then the recruiting spy (may be a celebrity) posts something you like, favorite food, music, color, etc… via a post or main profile picture, right around the profile was referenced to into your social media stream, to gather your attention and make you curious or willing to look at their profile for a few days, until they subtly introduce you to a "friend", the lethal bitch (male or female). Example: guy commented in 2015 on google+ about a Paris Hilton post, then I clicked on the Hilton profile and the main pic on google+ had some purple planet pic with purple outfit to lure me there (a color I like), so I watch Paris social media for 2 weeks and some amputated girl using Ashkenazi Jewish name Lauren Wasser, who gave TED talk in Israel, is promoted by the Paris (amputee is presented as Paris 'friend' on paper or via work, pics of them together were posted). Due to prior fake leg issues (for other bitches, there will be other issues related to something the lethal bitch has, to arouse interest of the potential CIA recruit or torture victim) of roommates (black "LA cop" (CIA) faked a leg injury weeks before this, he was renting a room in my house for 2.5 months, and tenant from Utah faked a leg injury too (he worked at SpaceX), same 2015 year), etc I was curious, so I watched the lethal bitch (amputee) instagram for a while, then only 1 minute every 2-9 weeks). Sometimes the purple planet in the hand holding picture of Paris had a purple gun and sometimes the instagram profile pic had the index finger up, right when they were torturing my index finger. Paris violent melody concerts are causing wars and crimes, but the youth has gone insane worldwide, so that music style is the default, eternal war vibe for all. Why can't we have music that brings World Peace in 3 months? Why can't most celebrities create peaceful music? They're mind controlled slaves of the CIA. The amputee then posted content over 10 years that indicated she, as the lethal bitch CIA/Pentagon terrorist and amputee, was taking part in the team efforts to torture me (her family is full of military, allegedly, per instagram, though anyone can use AI and pose as military*, so it seems plausible,* they love to post weapons to destroy the quantum field, like mind controlled mujaheddin who kill people since age 5). Like thousands of online bullies, she loves to terrorize people, like most CIA agents, to post violent movies of herself punching boxing bags to "relieve her aggression" (only animals post such content on social media), also posting 100s of times the most depraved music that destroys USA and the planet, posted sarcastic yelling after the CIA staged July 29th 2019 toe bust (see above), laughing with her Olivia friend about a 'leg bump', she knew about it, she had video cameras installed from CIA in my house, watched them, then mocked what I did (often mocks anyone who happens to read her posts that if she was able to go thru amputation, everyone will survive the torture she does on them with her Mossad CIA gang). A sewer trash type of person, whose goal in life is to make everyone vibrate as the piece of garbage music she posts online, like the ferocious dogs she posts about, breed responsible for most lethal or almost lethal injuries in USA. Many don't even realize that they're fueling the violent crime via music. The youth is programmed by the social engineers to kill whoever the rich need killed next, see cop videos.

China sells a battery that lasts 50 years and USA-USSR had those for 60 years already, so they don't need even to replace batteries for well hidden microwatt microphone (UK discovered a way to create a microwatt battery for tracking people via objects that can be hidden inside a jewelry item and report the location of a person and lasts 5000 years) or video camera tiny devices in an appliance, house object. On Dec 24th 2016, before the huge heart rate rise for 72 hours nonstop, the lethal bitch posted about a Malibu black gal 'dead of cancer', another veiled threat, though then I had no idea what it may mean. On March 8 and 10th 2017, she posted naked pics of her breasts for the whole world to see, that were later deleted to "improve her image". Many other times posted bikini pics to try seduce men, like a whore. CIA, FBI, etc use various fake celebrities, they give 10K or 3 million followers☺☺☺, to confirm torture and intimidate 1000s of people at once, they can even use youtube personalities posting on science to confirm it. It's more efficient that way, torture 1000 on toe (or heart, eye, etc), then nutritionfacts.org (Jew from CIA, Michael Herschel Greger) makes a video on toe (or heart, eye) health later, to show the love of Jews for gentiles? See Wikipedia reference 9 saying "Greger was raised in a small Arizona town, "the only Jewish family within 30 miles." His parents were New York natives; his mother taught Biblical Hebrew at the community college. Following his parents' divorce, he moved with his mother and brother to Binghamton, N.Y., where she taught Hebrew school at the orthodox Beth Israel synagogue (renamed David now)". She's using model as her CIA cover, as 1000s of models, actors, singers do in our world of infinite lies and eternal wars of deception: all spy agencies know this scam. She removed a lot of the bad posts from her social media to make herself look like she has 0.1% of the ethics of Adolf Hitler and Moses, instead of only 0.00001%. The wolf pretends to be 'a sheep', the devil 'an angel', the slave torturer 'a slave', the genocidal psycho torturer 'a peace activist against torture', the war planner 'a peace planner', the sadistic torturer 'a soft-spoken MD', CIA terrorist who tortures people daily with gadgets 'a quiet polite 'ideal' nice roommate', the aristocrat 'a social democrat or socialist working for trade union deals', the worker's rights lover who is a gov agent or spy 'a billionaire', etc. Celebrities are cops who try to catch gangsters, so they create a gangster public image, though that destroys humanity as a result since people are led into bad vibes; catch 1 bad guy and create 4 other bad guys is genocide under the cover of "doing FBI work", a nonBrit extermination method. There are 1 trillion ways to peace without war, to 0 crime/violence without violent music. CIA controlled much drug trade, still does, as even RT says, shipped tons of drugs to black or to various ethnic (Eurasia country X) areas when agents were from Eurasia Country Y (includes Middle East): to drug all, they create the drug music, engineer a drug culture.

Many celebrities promote these rappers, bad tone, lust and drug alcohol pushers indirectly sometimes by promoting pic of them (Paris, etc) and the rappers, etc with or without realizing. The rap singer is told he's "catching bad guys" acting as "undercover agent", and he may believe it; he's forced to sing bad lyrics, whether he wants or not, under the threat of torture; he's paid well, so he's happy; he doesn't see the big picture sometimes (genocide disguised as police work by actors, models, singers), but when he sees, he goes along to avoid the torture. 100s of US towns are dying and have empty 40K houses that decay for decades, see towns never on google maps, with no pictures on the Internet. Drug addicts are on the streets, yet many states got empty towns with 84% poverty rate (some even 160 people left, 91% white), others black majority, Cairo, IL had 15000 people, today 1600 only, can buy a house for 700$. Louisiana is wasting and falling into the ocean, thanks to the stupid Pentagon engineering work, Jews don't give a crap, they just ruin the Pentagon, the "snail IQ" robots are busy singing rat IQ lyrics about crushing and anger and smashing, hyena IQ tone, instead of protecting US land from erosion and IQ destruction by the fruit fly IQ Christian religion the Jewish Moses like parasite has imposed via deception. See Oakland homeless drug use camps, miles from San Francisco, the materials from basketball courts, liquor stores, gyms, churches sitting empty, cinemas, stadiums for music that pushes drugs and here are the flesh eaten victims of drug use… flesh eating drugs… made from fentanyl (99% is made from Chinese precursors shipped to Mexico, see video, though China can send fentanyl directly too) and xylazine: see leg effects, amputations. Fentanyl is in illegal fake pills sold in US and Mexico at shady "grocery, etc" markets. Canada, Vancouver, is becoming drugged too. EU too, watch it. Colombia makes 900 tons or 80% of world cocaine using coca from Peru, Bolivia, Colombia, worth $20 billion/year and US military could instantly stop it if THEY REALLY wanted: simply invade Colombia, Bolivia, Peru with 4 million drones, use lasers to set every coca field on fire: they didn't do it, since many major nations made billions or even trillions via drug trade (even small ones, maybe 50 total, hence CIA never stopped opium in Afghan lands, as heroin trade made $$). World drug trade is 2 trillion/year, so over 30 years, major covert controllers can make trillions. Leftist Colombia guerrilla groups also made billions. The US military uses "drug lyric music" worldwide, that is made so legal in USA, thru music bands it mind controls, to increase sales of its Colombia cartels who act as spies too. For 100 years, cartels were protected by the US military vs innocent civilians who killed nobody with drugs, yet were bombed, maimed, killed in Iraq 15 years, Syria 11 years, Vietnam 9 years, Afghanistan 20 years (they didn't wipe out Afghan opium fields or force government to end its growth, as CIA made trillions via heroin, cocaine, etc, like Britain made billions with drugging China in 1850s. Rule of law means World Peace in 3 months and 0 violent crime in 5-15 years talked about on all TV-radio stations every hour, to respect the basic human right of all humans to life: without life (single family homes, decent housing, eterni food and decent sleep), no other right matters.☺☺☺ UN has all rights to invade Bolivia, Colombia, Peru with 5 million drones, to wipe out all opium, coca fields in 3 days in response to millions of lifespan years lost globally. Burma+Afghan=most heroin, need end that too, 900 tons/yr globally. We provide them with seeds to replant the fields with food or cotton.

Civilians can be foreign disguised soldiers and devices can control/torture a country more effectively than 900,000 soldiers in uniform in a base of a former colony. The devices can be replaced easily with invisible drones made of unknown matter or cloaked drones. Exactly as a lion instinctively attacks hyenas, even when he's not hungry, just to kill them, so do many military spy "humans" behave like these beasts: violence for no reason. They give nukes to regimes to turn them into "kill switches" to remotely control to attack 3rd countries when needed, so the giver appears neutral. The volunteer armies are not volunteer, they use their gadgets to force people into their armies. The (military) rulers of all nations are never public (since they're so paranoid nobody is allowed to know their existence, due to quantum signature and other effects, and to prevent other nations' satellites, etc from attacking their houses, etc), the public officials are mere robotic slaves who know little of what is going on. The presidents, kings don't decide anything, they're just puppets, even if they believe they control it all. France, like all nations, says public opinion must be controlled, like military brainwashes all that "Eternal World Peace in 3 months is impossible", this is why the music globally is so brutal. The human (not subhuman) quantum superorganism is more powerful than all their supercomputers and weapons combined by a factor of 1 trillion to 1, and it will always be so, as the superorganism (and your soul) evolves just as their tech does, actually even faster. Say you come home and then the tenant roommate or neighbor parks his car and your knee is attacked (see below), or right eye. They borrow ideas from the Dutch. They come home at the same magical time 7:11 pm (G. Washington spy code), right when you arrive home.

MIND WARS to achieve intimidation or enslavement via thought insertion:

New Scientist reported in 2005 that Thomas Dawson filed a patent on behalf of Sony in 2000 (many others reported it too, NBCNews too) on a 'transcranial magnetic stimulation' technology which could beam video games (ultrasound pulses induce smells, sounds, images) into the user's mind by bypassing the visual cortex using ultrasound pulses, but ultrasound can cause cancer and many problems. Thus, spiritual experiences are ☺☺☺faked too. MRI etc allows spy agencies to edit the dreams and memories of people, just as they can recreate from MRI what people think/see visually, etc. Check this out too. A 2017 New Scientist article explains ultrasound allows ultra primitive basic word communication (10 words or so) to people 100 feet away as long as there are no walls, people or objects in between that could block the wave, like the most primitive "telepathy" imaginable; see the full paper here or youtube 30 sec video. We know from physics that frequency is speed divided by wavelength. For light, the speed is 0.3 billion

m/s, for sound it's 343 m/s in air at atmospheric pressure. We hear sounds of 20 Hz to 20 KHz, so the wavelength of sounds we hear is between 343/20 and 343/20,000, or 17 m and 17 mm. Notice that these wavelengths are far bigger than the 400-800 nanometer for visible light. Infrasound (frequency < 20 Hz) of 19 Hz (that some pipes, appliances produce) can, according to a line in the "Ghosts in the machine" paper in the J Society Psychical Research 1998;62(851):360-4, cause the eye to vibrate and create a blob "ghost" (no exact features).

The eyeball resonant frequency is 19 Hz, so those facing a 19 Hz infrasound beam can see spots. Likewise, similar frequencies cause dry eyes, damage the retina (CIA does that to many, without any second thought, humans are cattle to them), optic nerve, change heart pulse, cause heart damage. Wikipedia explains that some are filled with negative emotions when exposed to infrasound, and some "haunted" locations emit infrasound. Holograms can simulate spirits. This discernment of telepathy source is useful, especially since we're always moving towards fancier phones and people talk about verbal basic telepathy becoming as common as texting in 50 years like Mark *Zucker*berg talks in this 3 min video, or Elon Musk talks of his Neuralink, Synchron of brain implant without brain surgery, Mary Jepsen in this article talks on telepathy via MRI. Mary explains that reading brainwaves via MRI that each person has when they speak a word or think a word enables the computer to guess when we think verbally of a word. Likewise, a computer could imitate the brainwave of word "joy" or "Walmart" or "contract z" and help us go into that joy state, or agree to sign a contract z, go to Walmart, move left, move right, open a book at a page (subconscious suggestion without us being consciously aware) that is more likely to occur (if you picked the book at a location that was open a lot on purpose at that page to increase probability of opening at that page) to seemingly confirm telepathy, make an event happen at a certain precise time to make it more dramatic, or for educational purposes to show it can be done. See more below on MRI, tech that is not described much in the public domain, coincidences, & their use by generals, cops, spy agencies to terrorize the planet.☺☺☺ Video games are used by the evil militaries to incite violence, causing China to make similar movies.

The next paragraph explains how they make your life decisions so you think you chose them:

Numbers that appear often (7:11, 9:11, 11:11, 4:44, 3:22 on clocks, etc) when those who follow you interact with you, or are around you or who email you, are a mind control technique, they just wake you up with their tech when it's 11:11 etc ► once we start looking for any number in science facts or in life, we will find it in many places and possibly think that number is more frequent than it is; it's not, they manipulate your events. Numbers or any symbols can be used to create the illusion of "miracles" of coincidence, of destiny, to manipulate you. I go shopping or something happens at 11:11, the receipt total 12:12. ☺☺ We use a decimal system, but if you change it, the numbers will mean nothing. In the (made up) astral travel book "Projections of consciousness" by Waldo Vieira, Chapter 26, page 96-99, the author describes a "real" astral travel where he sees people trying to suggest hypnotically telepathically (from a distant location) to a CEO to invest money in something by focusing on his picture. This telepathy forceful suggestion is the opposite of eterni tone: highly complex trans-linguistic non-verbal conceptual, uplifting, graceful, smiley, peaceful, universally kind, positive and healing, which are Immortals by definition, emotional energetic resonance with the infinitely sweet healing loving universally nonviolent free will respecting non-pushy gentle tender softness of the trillion year old Immortals. It's best to keep evolved telepathy signature and nature secret from all astral or physical beings, as spies will try emulate it to pretend "ideas in that one" (mind encryption) comes from the Immortals☺☺. Above they used a person's pic, but spies can use one's MRI patterns or even speech patterns (that's why a nation's real leaders are top secret, because brain self-talk often happens in similar patterns) to facilitate a better suggestive hypnosis that imitates our habitual inner talk. Spies suggest a search keyword and then giving peculiar fake results specific to that IP address, leading the naive search engine user to believe it is true, without realizing the 100s of interpretations of an article. To ensure a better detection of telepathic brain intrusion (of robots or humans) think non-verbally and have different speech/tonal patterns internally when thinking in words (eterni tone is best, as it's very different than the energy of those who intrude into the brain using gadgets; make it very different from verbal tone to prevent replication, a secret tone you alone know), the inaudible brain patterns that are different than speech so as to distinguish between Immortal (conceptual emotional thought verbal audio visual) patterns, self-patterns and intruder human/AI/etc patterns disguising as "self". Intruder enemy suggestions can occur during play by suggestible kids, "past life regression, soul travel attempts, meditation", tired states, after intentional sleep disturbing by spies who want to mind control a victim. Never trust any thought emerging in tired states, nor take any decision then, it's not going to be good.

Extra suggestions on how to protect your mind from programming/torture:

Don't buy a 5$ teddy bear to love if the thought is implanted by spy agencies to manipulate your brain. Take care of yourself, sleep well, meditate/rest after meals, avoid social media (especially CIA imposed "girlboyfriends" posts). Teddy bears are a CIA trick to produce oxytocin, induce gullibility and trusting leading to more telepathic manipulation. GOD and infinite Immortals are stronger than all humans combined. Humans are like neutrinos living 10 to the power of 10^{27} times less than God's youngest kids. GOD may have completely forgotten humans even exist (like a busy owner, CEO of a company with 2 million employees, humans being one), but not all "GOD like" Immortals may have: we, your descendants from the future did not. Humans are 10^{27} times shorter lived than old Immortals☺☺; we're a non-existent nothing, don't stress. Our IQ today is like that of bacteria vs us, compared to our descendants from 3 billion years from now.

Smile to release endorphins, be happy, bliss is a choice, emotion is created by thought. Be quiet unless singing or recording eterni tone for youtube. This creates privacy and inability to "implant into your brain your own patterns and tones" by the MRI and speech patterns recorders, who want to use your speech and MRI patterns against you, to insert thoughts and desires. Any science discovery is usually used first to torture and kill on our planet, so ☺☺lovingly gently recall that what you share comes back to you in this or a future life. You don't need teddy bears, pets, girl/boyfriends, the happiness from divine bliss ☺☺☺ exceeds that of any hug/orgasm by a million fold or 100 fold if you barely get to such a state (0.0001% of it). Build new neurons for ecstatic states,☺☺ to discover the stuff that can't be written. Don't let them use your mouth speak out loud thru you in an uneterni tone that ends human species or internally thru you to cloud your awareness. Filter the tone of internal/external speech, wear earplugs to focus on internal tone filtering, if sound distractions make it hard. Imagine being enveloped in Love by the real God as you practice the cosmic breathing, realize God's infinite size/might and visualize the amazing future. To overcome fear, imagine God sent now an Immortal 10 or 5,000 miles tall to watch over you, so nobody on Earth, any dimension or nearby can harm you, or an octillion (quadrillion trillions) times bigger than the known universe to dematerialize any threat. ☺☺☺

14.7.3. Torture by foreign spies/militaries (China, Russia, Arabs, etc): past and present

This section has 4 subsections dealing with torture/genocides perpetrated by 1. Nazis (Jesus Cult) 2. West Europeans/Arabs (Jesus/Mohamed Cults) 3. China (Jewish Communism, Silk Road etc) 4. Russia (Jesus/Jewish Terror Based Communism). If you have a Master Jewish manipulator who trains naive gullible kids to Commit Genocide, Mass Rape, Beating of Kids, Mutilation of Bodies, etc, who is guilty for such acts? Naturally, both the doer and the instigator of the crime. This introductory paragraph argues (proposes the scientifically honest hypothesis) that the cause for all the genocides/torture below (20 pages) is not entirely in the nations doing it, since Jews, Italians brought at gunpoint Christianity (which created Nazism), Jewish Communism, Islam (Quran is the Bible rewrite in response to Christian genocides) via the Rewrite of the Jewish Bible and its associated ethics of genocide and torture. The torture inflicted by Christian nations on various citizens is due mostly to the Jewish Bible who became the basis of ethics at GUN or Sword POINT, after Jews took over the planet using the Christian disguise, i.e. the Bible ethics of Genocide of All Billions You Feel Like Killing, as detailed in Deut 7:16 and Deut 7:1-16. Quran, and associated genocides, is a direct rewrite of the Bible, and Jews were the major force behind the rise of USSR communism using the Heavy Genocide Tactics of the Bible, so the Jewish Bible is the Instigating Source of both Islam, Communism and Christianity caused Genocides. Crime is not Perpetrated by 1 guy, but often by Instigators (Jews) using Puppets (Christian, Communist, Muslim). We can't blame the Muslim for worshiping Violence Published by Vatican, Israel, then rewritten as Quran by Mohamed. No decent, honest person would agree to the publishing of such Infernal Genocidal Hate Texts. While not blaming the Jews (or Assyrian, Italian, Greek spies posing as Jews who made up various Bible sections to create Middle East Divide and Conquer Strategy) entirely for copying junk (nothing in Bible is original, it's all copied from others) from nearby cultures who got it from others, who got it ultimately from chimps migrating from jungles (cannibal chimps who learned it from other animals they evolved from), etc, all need to ponder on their choice to continue to publish such Cannibal Chimp "Scripture" and to take responsibility for the fact the Publishing Creates/Perpetuates the Torture and Genocide. Do we want to be human or to remain animals? 500 mammal species don't kill/torture their own. Do we study chemistry from texts from 1st or 7th century? Why do so for ethics?

14.7.3.1. Torture by Nazi Germany in the 6.5 year fight against 3 millennia of Jewish Torture

The torture started on Nov 9th 1938, the Crystal Night, when the Nazis and sympathizer masses destroyed/damaged 7000 Jewish businesses, 1600 synagogues in retaliation for the murder of the 3rd secretary of the German embassy in Paris by the Jewish Herschel Grynszpan and ended May 9th 1945, with Germany's capitulation. Perhaps, the real God was not pleased with the 2000 genocides the Jewish Torah caused in the last 3 millennia, so God allowed 11-9-1938. Torture continued in 1940-45 concentration camps, as seen in 5 short videos (Buchenwald, starvation, last 5 min, overcrowding, skeleton camp), 90 min Auschwitz & 3 sets of pics: pic1, pic2, 45 pictures. The concentration camps experiments were brutal, as the paper on dental procedures causing death shows. They broke Polish women's legs with hammers, infected/amputated them. The Nazis simply Obeyed the "Holy" Command of the Jewish Bible in Deut 7:16: exterminate all people God gives over to you, meaning God gave Germans the Jews coming there uninvited, even after Nazis told them for 5 years to get out of Germany. Jews didn't believe that gentiles will Practice the Jews' Satanic Religion Too. So, Jews, will you still Publish the Demonic Torah? What Jews have Sown for 3 Millennia they Reaped. Christians have done the same as the Jews, now they complain Muslims, who rewrote the Bible, kill the Christians, by practicing the Satanic Christian Religion, which is no other than Judaism 2.0, as Islam is Judaism 3.0. Islam is merely Christianity 2.0, but Illiterate People who never Read the Bible have No Idea. Satanic because Jesus says that all Quotes in Torah are Valid. No group shall be able to escape the consequences of their Genocidal Publishing, Physics Plays No Favorites, Action Force = Reaction Force, You can't Call for Genocides in a "Religion" and Hope it won't be used to Genocide Your Nation. The Communists complain that others killed them, but they wrote about Torture and Killing of Others. Will any of these people finally come to their senses and adopt the Immortalist Anthem for All Humanity to end all torture, violence, terror and killing? Nobody wants to take responsibility for their actions, stop publishing hate, they only blame the 'other side'.☺☺☺

Germany used 3.8 million soldiers to invade USSR in 1941, in the largest invasion of history, and many remained behind enemy lines and blended in under a cover of "Soviet citizens who relocated, fleeing the Germans", under fake identities of people they killed and looked like, to bring down USSR, infiltrate Israel as immigrant 'Jews', so Nazism may not be dead at all in countries that pretend to be the most pro or anti Nazi even (see why Nazis fled to Argentina). Many claimed Hitler's grandpa and relatives had Jewish genes and he was remotely controlled by foreign bankers to kill 80 million people via WW2. A clip says 150,000 Nazi soldiers were 25-50% Jewish who saved Jews from extermination or simply allowed ?millions? to escape to Israel, etc? A rabbi claims only 1 million Jews died☺☺☺, the other 5 million being only 5% Jew. How can one tell from these videos and pics of skeleton victims if they were German, Pole or Jew? An official story is Germans exterminated 11 million people total, 6 million of them being Jews.

We immortalists have compassion for all beings and love all, understanding that the Bible is merely recycled garbage from the 'cultures' near them, such as the infinitely cruel Assyrians, whose God was Torture itself (see pdf). So, due to the propensity of people to imitate those around them, the Bible became Infinite Violence itself. Nothing in it is original, it was copied from other sources. The Eternal War against Demonic Judaism will only stop when all Jews become educated, read other scriptures (Tao Te Ching, Dhammapada, Eternia) that have 10^{90} times less violence and give up the demonic Torah invented by insane malnourished heat stroke patients hallucinating that God, the Infinite Knowledge, doesn't know trillions of ways to Peace without violence. The Eternal War continues until Jews stop the Torture of Millions of Babies by Circumcision via Deception, Takeover of US Gov via Pretending to be Gentile and Atheist while Being an Orthodox Jew, until Jews stop the Deification of pure infernal evil via quotes sold at gunpoint as "Word of God", see the Torah quotes on genocide, mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, alcohol, kid beating, slavery/slave beating. The evil Christian clergy are puppets of the religious Jew, brainwashing billions that the infernal Bible and Quran are the Word of God.

14.7.3.2. Arab, European, Turk, African, etc genocides (for 622+ AD, see the Quran section)

Torture is an unhealthy low IQ tradition stemming from the reptilian brain of the alcohol loving cannibal chimp. The Immortalists are for zero killings/torture, only for lifetime labor (for violent crimes) in sealed cities of healing. For the public criminals, we say "death penalty" to deter crime, but we'll create a fake AI video of it, since with 10 trillion cameras and proper anti-crime tools, nobody will even shove anyone. Torture stained every empire: French guillotine & French Inquisition started in 1252 by Demon Pope, death by flogging UK until 1881, Sparta & its insanity, Mongols, Byzantine, Spanish Inquisition, Aztec/Native American human sacrifice, Jews drowning babies, Hindu/Muslim bleeding, Turkish atrocities & extermination of East Europeans (cannon fodder), Armenians & Assyrians, Chinese mutilations, blowing by gun by Muslims, Portugal, Britain. A list of genocides: Greek Empire, Rwanda + unknown 900+ on 7 continents,

Italy 1940s genocides & 99+ in Roman times, Portugal (Brazil, Africa), Spain (40+), France (Arabs, Blacks), Belgium (Congo), Germany (Jews, Namibia), USA (30+), Russia (75+ ethnicities, Circassian etc to increase land 100x), Jews (Gaza (ruins), 50 Arab (ruins) wars Jews caused via US/USSR, Holodomor 1933, Moldova 1946, Gulag many Jews as killers, NKVD grain removers), Dutch (Indonesia 300+K, Africa), Brits (Irish, Kenya, 50 others), Banker Jews promoting the Bible in EU/USA, Jewish Jesus conman. Quran spread by 500+ genocides, Pakistani genocide of Bengalis, Islam killed up to 270 million, 90 million Hindus via 200+ genocides. Vatican killed 20 million Europeans via Reformation wars. In 200 nations, we see 1. crosses, 2. minarets, 3. synagogues praising slavery, 3 symbols of torture, of crucifixion of workers tortured/worked to death to make the filthy rich aristocrats even richer. ☺☺☺

The older Arab civilizations include the Sumerians and Assyrians, for which we have plenty of data from stone inscriptions depicting torture. See Saudi 'love' for non-Muslims 400 in a room, and the slavery of millions who built Gulf cities for the allegedly Jewish Royal Saudi family, promised pay that is double actual, promised conditions way better than actual, some don't even get paid for months. While slaves live 8 in a room on potatoes and rice, Gulf, Saudi, UAE aristocrats love tigers, lions that got 100 times more meat a month than the slaves who build everything, see big cat video here, UAE banned big cats for some, but not all, see gold shiny vinyl wrapped cars. Saudis have lavish weddings, the 5 million Gulf workers are treated like dogs. Saud had almost 100 kids, 22 wives for example, and all kids become the government torturing heavily any anti Wahhabi Sunni Islam guy. The Sunni Saudi royal family is Jewish per Iran. Ayatollah who went to France in 1978 to plot the Shia Islam revolution before he led the 1979 revolution, was a Jew per disinfo?, though ethnicity matters not, rather who controls remotely a 'leader'. Did French Jews or Arabs control the Germany born French President in 1978 to bring in 75 Muslims in Europe? Was the remote control of a leader or 900 faked miracles, apparitions fluctuating between superpowers (French/US Jews, Vatican Jews making up Christian miracles, Marian apparitions), to promote Jewish Supremacy, Torah thru Jesus Cult of Jewish Son of God, during the spy wars by spies controlling 'the remote control' spies via new hidden tech?

14.7.3.3. China's 5 millenia of torture, culminating with 77 million dead in communism

14.7.3.3.1. Ancient China: very cruel punishment methods, totally against the Immortalist Ethics, see the real Chinese history of war that shows they're just like many other nations and were not "always peaceful" as the Chinese government claims. Some Emperors had 9000 concubines, all killed if emperor died. Sex slaves: 6 year old boys for sex, later castrated at 13. Human rights and millennia of "culture" of deception as shown in the 36 Stratagems to deceive neighbors, etc. The 500 BC Sun Tzu Art of War is only one of 5 texts teaching deception/violence as a way of life. Let's not forget even the most peaceful and lofty Chinese piece of literature, practiced only by 1

% of China, the Tao Te Ching, is OK with war, when no "option" is left, which is opposite to the immortalist culture that is totally for nonviolence and the trillion ways to peace without war. Even Lao Tze didn't explain to his Chinese that World Peace in 3 months is possible, living to a Billion is possible, that there are always a trillion ways to Peace without violence, etc. Fail. People of all "worm IQ" types love their ultra violent "scriptures", not realizing they're like 500 BC alchemy texts versus the 100 million more detailed and accurate chemistry knowledge today contained in 100 million pages of books and 1 billion of science papers. Today's world requires upgraded ethics and "philosophy, religion, morality" textbooks, like the Immortalist Anthem and the Nonkilling section, the World Peace Chapter, the Spirituality Chapter, to create civilization and quality outcomes. To get quality materials, we use 21st century chemistry knowledge, not 500 BC or 1st-7th century alchemy books. To get quality peace, we need the Immortalist Anthem, a 21st century foundation text that makes Tao Te Ching, Confucius, Mahabharata, Quran, Bible look like alchemy texts that poisoned China's emperor with HgS. These old texts are Pure Poison that Destroy the Human Mind and the Militant Chinese, other nations' zeal for such crap delays the Advent of Trillion Year Lifespans Deified in the Universal Immortalist Anthem. Clean rooms got 100.0000% pure air to create 1 nm chips for exact calculations and the Immortalist Anthem is 100.0000% pure positive writing, free of any negative word like war, killing, death. That's graduation to the 21st century ethics and anthem vibe folks, we evolve from chimp texts. NO science progress is possible when everyone lies nonstop, every paper is fake. Thus, immortalism is antithetical to the bullshit Chinese culture of deception and obfuscation.

14.7.3.3.2. Mao's China: 1949-1976: the communism section has 77 million dead details ☺☺☺

14.7.3.3.3. Modern China: top 0.01% of families own 58% of wealth, see communism section on the hypocrisy of the Chinese elites who have housing for 3 billion, but people sleep on streets, healthy food is trashed while the poor starve. Pure Feudalism: Ctrl+F "Deng Xi" in the book.

14.7.3.3.4. 'Communist' China vs Japan-S. Korea-NATO conflict:

China invented porcelain, China eats the most pork/capita, Republic of China. British hyenas tortured millions of Chinese via opium trade imposed by genocidal war, destroyed 10% of Chinese by addiction, opium was British empire's most lucrative export,"rise by destroying everyone else", win-lose, not win-win, not | Immortality for All | . Due to this, the Chinese hate USA a lot, as USA has been a demon assistant to the UK opium genocides, being in the 19th century essentially a demonic tool of the international Jew religion of Genocide and Immortality for Jews only, slavery for all the rest, or even genocide of 8 billion humans "God gives over to Jews". Thus, in a natural physics response to Infinite Violence from Israel, PLA is torturing kids by training them to kill Americans (puppets of Israel), stab people since the age of 5. Kids go to a camp to practice stabbing straw Japanese soldiers. US military Brits, etc, Jews created endless violent video games and Hollywood movies from Demonic Minds and totally anti-God & ethics, that the Chinese now copy and emulate. US creates its enemy by following the Infernal Bible. French President blames video games for violence too, see RT and science studies. Thus, 50 million Chinese kids age 12+ were militarized in 2013, to defend against US-Israel-Vatican satanism and blatant deification of Genocide, Mass Rape and Torture via the Infernal Bible publishing. ☺☺☺ Watch Chinese kindergarten kids being taught how to kill like soldiers. China plans 900 schools of heavy indoctrination into the violent methods of the communist manifesto, which are opposite of immortalist armies. China allegedly forces 8 year old Tibetans to attend summer military camps. In 2014, for 6 weeks, in the summer vacation, Chinese kids were turned into killing robots. More 5 year old Chinese kids being tortured and brainwashed. Russia is responding with its own kid military camps, with terrible tones and shouting. ☺☺☺

Mexico kids are given weapons to form militias to fight various gangs. In Mexico, 90% of guns originate from the USA. China tortures dissidents abroad via 100+ covert police stations outside of China. See Mao and evil elites parade while millions starved to death, the misuse of energy, calories, food, time for creating a good facade to hide the genocide of millions during Mao's misguided reforms. Because of these starvation experiences, older folks now catch fish and sparrows everywhere. "Have you eaten" is a way to say hello in China among older people, due to Mao era famines. Here are 8 examples of psychological torture that are incompatible with the Trillion Ways to Peace without Threats (Mental Torture), Intimidation: 1. every few years, N. Korea vows to destroy USA, 2. in 2023 Russia threatened to sink all UK with nukes, 3. in 2022, China threatened to nuke Australia if they buy nuclear submarines (faster submarines, without nukes), 4-6. USA threatened China with nukes 3 times: in 1950 Korea War, 1953 Korea War, 1955 Taiwan war, 7. in 2005 China told USA they will use nukes if USA forces attacked Chinese forces who invade Taiwan, 8. China claimed all South China Sea and created 7 islands with aircraft there by 2023, which obviously creates a torture of the mind for neighbors, contradicts 13.19. ideals of peace. The psyche torture never ends, since the macho energy dominates, everyone follows the "demons" of egoism, not the Way of Tao, the happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene universal loving kindness of the Immortalist Anthem of loving the worst human a trillion times more than the best mom loved her beloved infant last decade.☺☺☺ It's difficult for people to design a new strategy, vocabulary, because the military colleges mistrain people to use short-term coercion, psychological torture based results based on fear and fight and flight, while ignoring the long-term consequences of spies combing thru history and realizing that the enemy did the same and they can now do the same, not to mention drive up their desire for nukes once US threatens with nukes. Unless one takes action, threats are useless, they only make you lose, since now they want nukes. You either use them and defeat communists in 1950, or you don't. Threatening is weakness, it invites more war in the long run, we need to educate the animals with the Immortalist Anthem. Act, then say “to protect 5 million from the never ending war, we had to use kill 100K by a nuke”. However, a little better is to say:

“Let’s all stop fighting and work for trillion year lifespans for all, loving the worst human a trillion times more genlty tenderly than the most loving mom loved her suckling baby last decade as the Immortalist Anthem explains the Ethos of ☺☺☺Immortality for All, because all ideologies are laughable versus the way Immortals organize their society, we're all 1 trillion times lower IQ than them, why fight over 2 types of low IQ, each a trillion times lower than the youngest Immortals’ IQ. Think about it, stop being animals who kill their own species. 500 mammal species don’t kill their own, you're not even a mammal? Have some humanity. The whole world is shocked by your cruelty, you killed already millions. Aren’t you ashamed of the blood on your hands? All nations will imitate your savage cannibalistic ways to eat your own nation. Kindly compassionately stop destroying the human quantum field, or all humanity may never trust you again or even trade with you again. The time for violence on Earth is over. Stop it. Now. Make World Peace in 1 month the Only Goal of All Nations. Immortality for All. There are 1 trillion ways to Peace and Immortal Lifespans for all without any war and any torture. Any violent act or war threatens the very existence of all human beings, via the 2 capsule scenario. We need one army, one nation, one people, 1 currency, 11 companies for all humanity. End all historical tendecies to value war and let’s build the Paradise World of happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene universal loving kindness. Thank You☺☺☺ for your cooperation☺☺. Singapore has 8000 times less land per capita and live 21% longer than Russia, what do you need? One can live to a trillion with 7 times less land per capita than you already have, think, It’s kindness that makes Immortality not murder. Evolve past the predator tiger stage please.”

See rampant Chinese corruption: useless projects, deceptive tree/stone green painting, garbage oil reuse, fake air pollution data to fool inspectors, more crime than reports. Since 2017, 27 out of 31 new nuclear reactors were made by China/Russia, check out Thorium. If war or natural disasters happen that affect nuclear power plants (even world’s safest sodium cooled reactors), nations will blame China and Russia if they're in the group of the 27. It's irresponsible to give any nation nuclear tech, civilian one even, until we have zero violent crime in that nation for 10 years. US erred in 1978 to give tech to China before torture and violent crime went to zero. US needs to never export dual use tech to any nation without zero torture, zero violent crime. 99% of tech is dual use, can be used to become self-sufficient so one can wage war. Clinton betrayed USA, gave it all to China, had no morality of instant World Peace, a puppet of the military Jews. North Korea (Korea was often called small China for centuries) tortures its people via lack of information, so nobody has Internet, except the top parasitic 0.5%; this is due to fear of hacking too, not just imperfect firewalls, that would overthrow Kim's family regime and its '10 principles' of zero freedom. Besides that, the TV in N Korea is lies 24-7 to keep everyone obedient to the

Kim regime, 2 min clips: alien abductions to justify labor camp disappearance, fake soccer matches that never happened, fake bowling feats by Leader, 9 hours 'leader' cooking methods to waste people's time, extreme personality cult of Kim shopping for food (while cops allegedly starve, get beaten by starved citizens, see video of lady pushing cop), lies about kids ☺☺☺ playing ping pong 62 hrs straight, lies about all citizens being able to play golf (only the elite goes to play golf). This happens with China's approval, their supporter. Why not build decent houses for the poor peasants, who needs these villas to play golf? Kindly watch the horrific life of North Korea in 2010, where people die at 72 vs 83 South Korea. See North Korean slaves in Russia (on paper, they call for ending it), not on BBC (video 2) as wood goes to England? North attacked S Korea in 1950 and caused 3 million dead, thanks to Stalin/Russia who pushed North to do it.

Uighur lady describes horrific torture of herself and her 2 month old triplets taken from her for months, given surgery around the neck, while one was killed by the surgery, as the babies didn't get breastfeeding, Chinese did blood testing to see why triplets emerged, so they can use info to make triplets for Chinese too. The unkind tone of Chinese music (pop lady shouts, PLA rap, metal) confirms clearly that brutal torture (watch) goes on, see 2009 protests, Uyghurs seem mere mice for the PRC to perfect robotization tech, see more rape torture and even alleged organ harvesting. Muslims need to realize the real Quran and stop being easy targets, just quit Islam and denounce the Quran quotes, to make friendship with China and all, stop violent subversion, instead of working for Immortality, non-torture and non-terror for all. That way, Chinese have no reason to oppress you, except racial hatred, which would make all planet turn against China. Be smart, trash Islam and sew what China does to you. In China people of all religions under 18 can't practice it, not just Muslims, so kids choose religion once an adult. Choosing religion at 18 is a smart idea, since most 'religions' are pure scam, they promote dependency on ritual, clergy and fake unproven miracles. An honest 'religion' would be online and free, 0 donations, and you can "practice" as litle as you want. China (like USA and other nations) got 100+ secret police stations overseas, secret cells that torture mostly Chinese but others too, check out NYC China police station. The Uyghurs have signs in their own language, fancy restaurants, a sign of China's foolishness, since only 1 language assures World Peace. The airports say the Uyghur language and Chinese one, yet Uighurs say torture happens. So, Uighurs must have some rights. The Western media hides some stuff about Xinjiang. In Xinjiang, 6.7% of population was Han in 1949, 60% in 2018. The 1 child policy was for Han, not minorities (to prevent unrest, and due to declining minority birth rates). The truth is in the middle of what both sides claim. There is always abuse by police/spy agencies, in every nation, mainly due to the low IQ of the national leaders who create 18,000 police departments, instead of one. ☺☺☺ The Belt & Road Initiative built Vietnam subway is leaking water, China uses subways, phones, laptops (cover video camera), trains to film foreign citizens, while Chinese students in USA bring pathogens to USA covertly, China loans are 5% vs 2% from IMF. Some Americans living in China argue (to avoid removal from China) that Belt & Road has helped many nations. Who knows?

We need all world leaders to surround themselves in peaceful vibes, music 24-7 at White House, in the background, big colorful posters (on the currently empty walls of the buildings) that name the top 50 qualities of Immortals (gentleness, tenderness, softness, grace, kindness, serenity, hypothesis formulation and testing, Immortality thinking) that build the World of Immortals, Immortalist Anthem, posters on speaking with infinite nurturing healing gentle tender soft loving kind compassion, permanent decorations flashing the words | | Immortality for All | | above the main gov headquarters 24-7, to unify humanity in peace, longevity focus, permanent calming music around, etc so all visitors value peace and have their inner hyenas dissolved. We need to talk about Eternal Peace on Earth in 3 months, | | Immortality for All | | in every political, military speech too, every 20 min on TV-radio, if we want World Peace now.☺☺☺

14.7.3.4. Russia's 1100 years of torture (aided by Jews during communism, see details)

The language section explains the Russian Empire engaged in genocidal torture (see methods) for 9 centuries (executions or torture of those not speaking Russian, etc), before the arrival of the 1917 "revolution" in torture and mass deportation of various groups to Siberia to die by breaking in two in the freezing temperatures (how Kazakhstan went from 83% Kazakh in 1897 to 30% in 1959). Thanks to 1917, 50 million Soviet citizens died at the hands of the KGB (Putin's University in Genocidal Torture) predecessors. Before communism, the Tsars often exterminated entire nations to steal their land and give free housing to Russians, like with the 1.5 million Circassians genocide. They banned local languages, forced all education in Russian after invasion (when no local knew it, in order to create generations of clueless uneducated people and milk the land of resources) and deported locals to Siberia, etc, so they can claim "Russian language rights" as in Ukraine and etc and the "rights of the Russian minority" who moved there via 100+ genocides. Jewish Kaganovich managed the 1933 extermination of 5-9 million Ukrainians in Holodomor and another million of other groups in Southern Russia, and the 1946 USSR genocides (2 million, 5% of Moldova population), under the pretext of collectivization, with help from Stalin, was rewarded with a life of 97 years, while 20 million innocent gentiles were killed by Jewish Russian NKVD during the "purges". Watch the genocidal labor camps USSR made... see Nazi ones that became part of the Gulag later. During the unjustified WW2 invasion of half of Poland, Russia killed between 0.15 to 1 million Poles, Russia's 100th? genocide. Ana Pauker, the Jewish daughter of a Kosher slaughterer, world's 1st female foreign minister, vice prime minister (Time Magazine☺☺☺ cover, "world's most ruthless woman" supervised the slaughter of 1000s of gentiles 1945-1955 as a Stalinist). She live in Paris, Berlin, Vienna, US in the 1920s, Moscow in 1941-44. Gaddafi was allegedly a Jew, British Royals claimed to descend from Jewish King David.

LEGS, shoe*maker* etc in fake biographies and how East EU was tortured by Russia:

In the US-UK-Russia Yalta meeting, spheres of influence were decided, West got 90% influence in Greece, 50% Hungary/Yugoslavia, 25% Bulgaria, 10% Romania (highest % (90) of Russian influence in the Warsaw Pact, so the last pages of this 14.7. chapter focus more on torture by Russia in this little country as an example of 'communism'). Stanculescu, a Russian looking possible KGB spy with possibly 90% Russian DNA, a confidant of the 1965-1989 Romanian dictator, put a fake cast on his left leg to avoid flying with the dictator. Stanculescu told the guards at noon they will execute the dictator (who knew too many things about KGB and Warsaw pact) and his wife 3 hours later, and after a 50 minute mock trial, they were shot, as the video shows, (if execution video was real, not fake), older youtubes showed the actual 100 bullets hitting both at once while they were still standing (as it was shown on Romania TV), youtube has very little: you could see the bullets hitting, all 100 and them collapsing, holes in their clothes, blood, etc, a way for KGB, and others etc to terrorize the Romanian people, a hybrid war, like Putin did to Ukraine in the 2022 started war. See 10 pages on how Ceausescu was tasked with removing KGB spies from Romania's elites to understand why KGB killed him in 1989. CIA wanted him dead too as he was anti-aristocrat terror by rich gangsters, and Ceausescu reportedly was in Moscow for a few years or months at the Frunze Academy in 1953, he graduated on 7-23-1953 with the rank of lieutenant general at age 35 (major general at age 33). A 114 page PDF and a CIA doc have more on Frunze. Wikipedia has more on why KGB killed him. KGB allegedly tried to kill several top Romania leaders in 1957 too, in 1962, as Romania was the anti-war black sheep of the Warsaw pact, believed by Russians in 1979 to be a mere agent of NATO within Warsaw pact (maybe true, since in 2020s-2030s, the biggest NATO base will be in Romania). The TV conmen blamed the Timisoara revolution (started by Hungarian Protestant pastor Lazlo Tokes) killings done by 100s (Iran mercenaries, KGB agents, Romanian soldiers, KGB, CIA, Hungarian, etc spies) on the dictator, in order to fool the masses that the "evil of using torture, war etc is gone", when it was not.☺☺☺

Understand the Deception of Soviet & 36 stratagem Chinese 'Communism': The Confucius Scam & Tao Te Ching Deception (why Lao Tze didn't understand the Immortalist Anthem)

Confu-cius = Konfu-Chews: Hit, Punch, Subdue☺☺☺, then Chew people like parasitic aristocrats who enslave the proletariat in ritual, piety (same purpose religion has in the West, to submit as eternal slave to the Rich Gang), submission to the "Communist" Elites and Chew the flesh, suck the blood the Chinese nation, like the bloodsucker 0.01% of top "communist" families that own 58% of China's wealth via the torture, beatings system of endless companies for endless parasites instead of fewer that ensure everyone has a decent life and job, instead of 100 million jobless (50 million homeless while empty apartments exist for 900 million) while 50 million slaves work 80 hrs/wk until collapse. Carbon Copy of US Capitalism. The Machiavellian leader uses religion, Confucianism, etc to increase his power and destroy the national and global IQ. Revisit 14.7.3.3. (the 6 pages above) to understand 5 millennia of Chinese culture of lies, deception (see astaxanthin section too, like and genocides (similar to all other "cultures", since Earth has no culture, as culture implies zero violent crime*, zero torture by governments),* and why both the cruel legalism and the much more benign, Tao Te Ching (Ch. 31 approves of war when "there is no choice" (there are always trillions of peaceful choices) unlike the Immortalist Anthem that says no violence is needed for any outcome, not even when forced to) like, and "war as a last resort" Confucianism philosophies led to Endless War. Check out Confucian values generously spread in New Zealand with China's help: Chinese fighting over veggies. Tao Te Ching Ch 31, 36, 57, 69 and Analects 13:29 & 13:30 contain 6 unacceptable quotes in a scripture of an Immortalist State, due to references to war and weapons that imply these are normal and should be used "when no choice is left" (a lie, there are always a trillion choices with no war). You attain a fraction of what you aim for, if your verbal ideal, your written goal is not free from war and violence imagery, how will actions ever become that, when we know people rarely walk their talk? Your talk has to be much better than the walk. Confucianism, Taoism Goals are so low, they only can lead to war. We're the USA and you don't achieve 1 trillion times lower violent crime and war worldwide with such scriptures.

We're not a colony of China, Israel, Saudis or Italy. Our standards will be a trillion times more stringent than any nation today, in the New Immortalist America, the Land of Freedom from Death and Violence. Peace only emerges when all nations agree (without coercion) with the essence of Immortalism: there are infinite ways to solve any dispute nonviolently and nonkilling nonviolent examples of that are many, idea that cancels the nihilistic narrow minded Taoist, Confucian view that reality is a so limited in choices and "war as a last resort" is an acceptable concept, and they "have to fight". There are infinite resources, a trillion planets for each human alive, so war is meaningless. The low IQ Lao Tze (Ch 57 OKs war too, "if war be waged": cannibal chimp thinking dressed up as "evolved Chinese philosopher") and Confucius, being fixed lifeform of IQ a trillion times lower than etlif shapeshifter formless Immortals, didn't understand the Universe, so they advised all on what to do in "wars". Taoism is against educating the people, which is a recipe for limitless violence, stupidity, one has to educate people in STEM and ethics daily, to stimulate innovation of trillion year lifespans.☺☺☺ Therefore, Taoism in of itself with its anti-knowledge stand is anti-life, as Immortality is Knowledge of how to achieve Immortality obtained via effort, education, focus, the evils of Taoism. Thus, Taoism is anti-immortalism in its essence, though the altruism ideas are good. Taoism was a manual for granting inner peace to primitive peasants, warlords and it worked if some were lucky to find it, read it, practice it, but it's outdated in today's world. Because Taoism & Confucianism support wars, like Abrahamic

"religions", they don't qualify for taxpayer exempt status, as a war cult is not a religion, but a terrorist group disguised as Chinese philosophy.☺☺☺ In Taoism, war is acceptable, strategy is used, but this savagery stems from their anti-education stance; any educated person knows that all war is preventable, by proper preparation for decades and the transformation of one's nation into sages of peace, instead of gluttons of rape, sex outside of procreation and theft, violent music, movies and lawlessness. When bandits rule a nation, World Peace is an afterthought for once a year night talk shows. When the continuous education (via ethics programs, 2 minute ads on all TV-radio: "Did you know that this action X would add 5000 year lifespans to USA, vs this that adds only 1? Choose Life, Choose X") sages are in charge, opposite to Tao, the World Peace is the 5 year goal that is talked about every hour on TV.☺☺☺ Just as we upgrade software daily on phones or whatever, we update people's knowledge daily, we improve daily, we make effort daily, we don't just "do nothing, strive to discard knowledge" and go with the flow to be eaten for lunch by the next predatory invading nation just waiting for us to embrace "Tao". Tao Te Ching says "choose neither life nor death" in Ch 50, so the idea is "just die at 80 like a moron, and live a happy relaxed life of being lunch for the cannibals who love human meat." This is an unacceptable form of brainwashing of the citizens of an immortalist state that is anti-life, anti-civilization. It's a death cult.☺☺☺ It's our country and we decide what we let in, anything supporting death, short life, war is not a religion, but a nihilist cult of death. Buddhism is similar: do your 8 fold path and then die at 80 and you'll be happy in heaven in Amitabha, the Land of Buddhas. No proof of heaven or anything, just live like a rat, a nanosecond and then beg all day, aiming for nothing in life except ending desire for anything, even for living to 1 billion years old or 300. Just be blown by the wind, and lunch for other predatory nations, as explained in detail in the "How Buddha invented Buddhism to take over the World". ☺☺☺☺☺☺☺☺☺

Check out high school students who're forced to shower once a winter (or wait 1 hour in a huge line to shower), have 12 classes a day (12 hrs), sleep 5 or 6 hours a day, 1 day off a month, have teachers split in their open mouths for "breaking rules". This is in stark contrast with the billionaires living in palaces on 3 acre hills in Shanghai and whose kids go to much nicer schools, so much for "communism" and "ethics"☺☺. Chinese teachers use corporal punishment nonstop and 100s of schools have students get 2 days off each month, being underslept, sick, with dental problems, etc. Confucianism means the enslavement of the 99.99% by the 0.01% murderers who own 58% of China's wealth. Most schools are like concentration Nazi camps that raise slaves of the 0.01% Fuhrers. Beatings and torture of most kids are the real way Confucianism lives in China. The poor fight over food. Students 8/room, while millions of malls waste materials to house all in single rooms 10 times. See 50 other horrific videos in the "communism" section. Basically, all the wealth of the nation goes to the 0.01% elites and the rest are left to fend off for themselves, as victims of "markets" and corrupt local governments, trashing billions of tones of fresh produce that the poor can't afford, due to money stolen by elites, so instead starving, sleeping on the streets (even if housing exists for 100 times the amount of homeless people, they can't afford it, as all money stolen by the elites, many simply flee with millions stolen by subjugating the Chinese to the West and buy mansions in the West to live the good life), eating bark or cardboard☺☺, or processed junk noodles, etc. This is the Confucius Taoist Buddhist civilization, mixed with Judaic 'communism'. Do we want such junk in our country? No, thank you for the piety to the Vampire Confucianism that teaches Chinese students to poison others.

The Confucius Analects and associated filial piety, ritual discipline led Mao Zedong father to beat the crap out of Mao and his siblings for reading books instead of helping the father to make more money by working hard on the farm as kids (instead of getting knowledge to go beyond agriculture and discover eterni foods), even if he was one of the wealthiest men in the village. He was the product of Confucian addiction to classes, authority, hierarchy and 1000 levels of income… instead of one universal pay of the immortalist society of true ethics. Mao's dad could not stand kids not treating a parent like the Supreme Emperor of Heaven, even though he was a "rat IQ" father who treasured money instead of knowledge to bring Eternal Universal Peace and Immortality for All as in Trillion Year Lifespan for all. He already had way above average income, why beat kids to make more money? Knowledge is Eternal Life, Proper Knowledge! Knowledge comes first. The Cultural Revolution, burning of books, jailing, killing of knowledge creators by Mao was a subconscious repeat almost of his father repression of knowledge and forced farm labor, that Mao's father forced on Mao and then Mao forced on all intellectuals who could have discovered living to 500 by now with kindness and honesty. With some stupid suggestions from evil spies, the Confucian destruction of childhood, Mao was duped and did the unthinkable derailing China's progress by 2 decades. This frequent fatherly beating made Mao very violent as he got brainwashed early on that the only way to avoid pain or being beaten is to kill people: if you kill people or beat them, they will not be able to cause the pain Mao experienced in his childhood. To avoid any chance of being beaten or tortured again, Mao killed endless people due to extreme paranoia: outright or covert killings. Due to Confucianism culture that made Mao's father entitled to beat his kids, Mao also unleashed the Red Guards "revolution" (12 year olds given rifles to kill professors, teachers, etc) and other stupid reforms that killed up to 77 million people. The kids were Mao kid rebelling against adults, he gave kids a chance to rebel against the "evil parents generation". The deification of Confucianism creates a loveless society lacking empathy, full of shouts, militarism and societal classes, with no recognition we are all equal kids of God and should not beat, kill, injure or torture anyone, like Confucian discipline did for millennia, as seen in the torture of the Chinese Confucian emperors. This pontification of authority in Confucianism spread to Korea (little China) where 7 forms of politeness and authority exist in Korean language indicating how unequal and pontifical the society based on Confucianism behaves, having 7 castes of people, treating people like slaves: slave class # 2-7. If we are all eternal souls, physical age and status makes no difference... why create 7 classes? We don't use physics and chemistry textbooks from 2500 years ago, why use ethics from then? Let's replace this "filial piety" and fanatical submission to evil fathers or evil authority with the idea of all loving the worst a trillion times more than the most loving mom loved her sucking infant, let's replace the ritual of Confucius with the substance of Tao, the eterni quality (happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene compassionate forgiving loving kind soothing mercy). Scriptures are important, Confucius Monuments are outdated, unethical.

In Ch 69 and 36, again Lao Tze invokes weapons and how to win wars, but that's old thinking eons behind nonkilling, because being surrounded by aristocratic war lords, Lao Tze could not have imagined that reality is infinitely vaster, i.e. societies infinitely more advanced exist, as well as infinite resources that idiots were fighting over due to laziness back then. You don't need wars when you plan ahead for centuries or even years, but he could not say it, he could not have understood what now is obvious to every human: infinite resources exist, only lowest IQ species kill their own. We just don't study chemistry from 500 BC, just as we can't remain stuck with violent scriptures, be them the Bible, a trillion times more violent than Tao Te Ching, or the Analects. When China's emperors are fighting left and right, have 9000 concubines☺☺☺, etc, of course, Peace thru peace is not in the first priorities as it would in an Immortality for All society, only gluttony, hedonism and nepotism☺☺☺. Lao Tze was keenly aware of it on some level, so he suggested people breathe, meditate, temper the senses, avoid hedonism, gluttony to prevent impulsive war starting, he was dealing with serial killer psychopaths and had to speak in their infernal language of eternal genocide. But we can't stoop so low to the war lords of China's ethics, even if we all agree that if all followed Lao Tze, we would have more peace (but die peacefully like ignorant men at 80, going with the flow, as Taoism is against acquiring knowledge, of longevity or anything, like perhaps, how to avoid all wars, etc); however, due to the Taoist teaching of not reaching out to others to preach Taoism or World peace, the chance of World Peace would be zero because nobody knows about Eternal World Peace or Tao, so it's a dead text irrelevant in a world where all people can die in 10 seconds. Today, we need an electric Immortalism that is militant about World Peace and nonviolence, before humans vanish. Notice the glaring difference: Lao Tze uses words like war, weapons, battle, funeral, while the Immortalist Anthem has no negative words at all. Notice the degree of Grace in Anthem vs Lao Tze, how much subtler Anthem is in conveying the idea of no war, no torture/battle, being so careful to never mention the negative vibe words that pollute the reader's mind: "peace by not lowering the happiness or well being of anyone". It's like the difference between this Jewish rabbi voice (Bible, etc) and the eterni immortalist music. The Jewish (Old/New testament) Bible tone is obviously a 10^{45} times worse than Lao Tze. But the Chinese gov ignores Taoism's ethics,

Sadly, US, like many others, is a country of gluttons and hedonistic pigs☺☺☺, with 1 million US restaurants for ultra lazy people (pressure cooker cooks much faster and healthier meals) and 0 Zero Violent Crime Institutes/TV Programs, etc and 0 World Peace in 3 months Institutes (TASTY FOOD way more important than NOT KILLING OTHERS in American and WORLD ETHICS of Depraved Cannibal Chimps, every country you go, Gluttony Temples (eateries, restaurants) Abound☺, But Not ONE SINGLE World Peace & Zero violent crime in 3 years INSTITUTE), happy Americans who follow the concubine lifestyle of Chinese emperors via boundless sex outside of procreation☺☺, wasting trillions/year in gluttony and filth, instead of being the sages of Eternal World Peace by Implementing this book with 100% dedication to the Eternal Cause of Immortality for All, by replacing violence with nurturing healing graceful gentle tender soft loving kind compassion.☺ You can't achieve World Peace in 3 years if that's number 500 on the priority list of every USA and world glutton☺☺☺. All this talk about religion, Confucianism, Taoism, Liberalism, Capitalism, Democracy is bullshit or comical☺, if Zero Violent Crime in 3 years is never spoken of on TV and the last (if ever on the list) priority for most people☺☺☺. The hypocrisy of the "spiritual, religious" people is unbelievable, it's all talk and no action: civilization and culture don't begin until we have zero violence, spirituality is way after that.☺☺☺ We don't even have culture, let alone 'religion', all 'religions' are violent, to some degree. That's why food quality is so bad, these animals only crave taste, like unthinking chimps, because that's what the aristocratic rat glutton animals program us thru ads to want, comical☺ indeed. Nobody dares to talk about the Elephant in the room, the Human Hypocrisy.☺☺☺ Likewise, we can't allow ourselves to be brainwashed by Lao Tze that war is inevitable at times, we can't be stuck to 500 BC, just as chemistry evolved past 500 BC chemistry texts, so does ethics evolve from Tao Te Ching to the Immortalist Anthem. The Confucius Analects explain: 13.29: The Master said, 'Let a good man teach the people seven years, and they may then likewise be employed in war.' 13.30: The Master said, 'To lead an uninstructed people to war, is to throw them away.' This is a clear indication of Confucius' nod to war (similar to Lao Tze Ch. 31, nod to war), of equating goodness with training people to murder others, with OKing killing/ war horrors, which is 100% opposite to the idea of noninjury, nonkilling, nonpain of the eterni breathing, eterni tone, immortalist military & its boundless grace, & of the Immortalist Anthem, which are against killing, injury, war, because God/Tao know trillions of ways to any end without violence, injuries, war. It's one thing to tell people to "prepare for war in Analects for 7 years and then go murder people", and another to tell them to "prepare for centuries to create peace, so no war ever happens". To create peace is to have 100% of Chinese music eterni tone, not 0.1%, to ban alcohol. That is De or Te of Tao Te Ching. To create peace is to remove all violence from all movies and video games. To create peace is to remove all sex outside of procreation content in books and movies. That is De. Ethics is eternal life for all, not the indifference of Ch 50 Taoism that is neither for life, nor death and is in Ch 65 against educating the masses daily on immortality tech, ethics via the centralized educational system to create a Family of Immortals☺ with the aid of the 11 companies globally. The masses need knowledge and the love of discovery of new tech for trillion year lifespans, so Tao Te Ching is outdated, Chapter 48 is against discovery of new techs, against knowledge of trillion year lifespans. Chapter 81 is against having knowledge, which is suicidal, because knowledge alone grants us trillion year lifespans: Tao Te Ching wants inner peace, and goes to the extreme of renouncing everything to achieve that, even the basic discovery and scientific progress to alleviate suffering and the harsh ungentle rigid way nature kills humans a trillion years early, which is against the way of Tao itself. This was a text written to help China's warlords stop useless wars, not to build long lives. Below we'll see how fake Chinese Communism (top 0.01% own 58% of wealth) is used as a cover for promoting Confucius wars, Chinese cars with Chinese parts to spy on/torture all:

25000 Russian KGB agents came via cars, etc to Romania in April-October 1989 to fight CIA, MI6 or control the 'new' leaders, install KGB agent Ion Iliescu as President after killing (see shooting) Ceausescu on 12-25-1989 (Christmas) for opposing USSR many times like 1968 Czechoslovakia invasion murder of 137 folks, for asking on 8-23-1989 the return of Bessarabia to Romania on the 50th anniversary of the Nazi-Soviet Pact, for knowing too much about USSR, for abolishing the mandatory Russian language in Romanian schools, restoring Romanian names of streets, abolishing Russian cultural centers, replacing mandatory Russian with mandatory English or French, German. USSR communism was a cover (e.g. Ukraine) for Russian Empire building. Russia was busy with Russian culture instead of World Peace in 3 months as the Internationale claimed to want, killing endless people in Korea (Stalin told North to attack South and caused 3 million dead), Afghanistan, etc. Same for the fake communist (0.01% of families own 58% of wealth) Chinese today, who promote Confucius Chinese culture Institutes, Confucius follower Mencius was a lover of "zheng" or violent punishments via war to remove "bad rulers", instead of the Internationale goal of World Peace in 3 months, zero torture of any humans or the Immortalist military and Immortalist Anthem of zero war because there are trillions of ways to Peace and justice without any torture, violence, lies or war. Confucianism is antithetical to Immortalism, since immortalists are for hypothesis formulation and testing, for personal spirituality, not for ritual (1 of the 5 pillars of Confucianism). One's kindness doesn't stem from ritual. Immortalism advocates for nonkilling and nonviolence, even in self-defense, which is totally different from Tao Te Ching and Confucianism that are OK with killing and war, "when forced or invaded". Immortalists defend (secretly preserve) the human quantum field vibe of happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene universal loving kindness, not a body, "national culture", "language or system", they know an invading ruling system can be penetrated, adapted to, converted outwardly to for perfect protection, transformed without any violence. Thus, while Confucianism and Tao Te Ching are 10^{800000} times kinder than Quran, Bible, Torah, Gita, they're not the same as the Immortalist Anthem, which is octilions of times kinder towards the worst at least, loving him a trillion times more than the best mom loved her baby last decade, let alone kill him as Confucius/Lao Tze agree with: Lao Tze says "don't rejoice when you go kill enemy in war", so he agrees to kill, immortalists disagree with that. The difference is HUGE, seen/heard clearly in the Confucius "Virtue" De Tone of PLA rap recruitment video (genocide tone), China metal (mayhem tone) vs the decent music of immortalists. So this makes the Immortalist Anthem 10^{500} times kinder than Tao Te Ching and Confucius. Why use chemistry, physics, scriptures books of 2500 years ago? Would you be so kind to gently upgrade your spiritual scripture or ethics? The Way of Heaven, Tao, God doesn't always come banging too loud, it can be very subtle indeed, hidden in the torture by Russians section of a book. If you set your goal or bar so low as Confucius/Lao Tze, you get far less in life, becoming a chimp. See the results of Confucius: dumb kids with 4 hrs of sleep who commit suicide, forget all they're forced to memorize, low critical thinking skills, robot slaves, teachers who beat students often, sometimes to death, the opposite of US schools where students sometimes attack teachers. Neither system is good. Unlike Tao Te Ching and Analects, Bible, Quran, Gita, The Immortalist Anthem is free of any negative word, even 'war', as it tries to evolve the human quantum field to the vibe needed to avoid war: infinite nurturing healing graceful gentle tender soft loving kind compassion. Did you see such a positive vibe in our filthy scriptures? Why not choose the most positive and shortest scripture to guide our civilization?☺☺ Shortest is the best, that way all know its contents, unlike today, when few know the evil inside the scriptures. Tao Te Ching has clarified: the more you know, the less you talk, the shorter the scripture. Why did all these scriptures fail to bring Peace? Because that was only 0.01% of them, vs 50% in the Anthem.

Communism became, sadly remains a Cover for World Hegemony Attempt by UUSR and today Chinese Kung fu (an evil sport (like all martial arts, boxing, UFC) of hitting others to cause injury to the human quantum field, promoted in Chinese Buddhist monasteries, as Buddha's hits to kill others "kindly") Confucius force and torture (war is torture). The only real communist nation is China and N. Korea today, but these are pure terrorism, since communism is free of violence. A real "communist" abides by the Immortalist Anthem ideals of zero torture and loving the worst a trillion times more than the most loving mom loved her baby, a true "communist" doesn't abide by the corrupt London communist manifesto taken over by Jews and spy agencies to kill 120 million people. If anything, the "Immortalist Anthem" is the real manifesto the communists never had and should have gotten, to avoid all bloodshed. But when Jewish Marx took over, everything became like his Torah early education, Pure Evil. The Russians' real cards showed once they got the power. After 1993, Russian was no longer taught anywhere almost in East EU, even as an optional 3rd language (unless one wanted to be a spy). 100+ nations, believed the decisions were made by various 'dictators', but the dictators were puppets who believed they're in charge, their brains are manipulated/written by the military/spy rulers of each nation, so when the generals execute a dictator, they create the false impression that the "bad guys" are gone (each nation had bad guys, because the world of no peace today is a product of all nations) and all evil was due to 1 guy, when it was a whole system of USSR copied by the others. The way KGB worked is to try use minorities (disguised as locals after name change) in every communist state to run the nation, people who betray the majority and are OK with Russia taking a big part of that country and annex it or get some other advantages (Bessarabia in Romania's case). As proof for the absolute control of communist parties by the Russians, Wikipedia shows between 1924 and 1944, the Romanian Communist Party was led by 6 Soviet agents who were not Romanian: 1 Bulgarian Boris Stefanov too wanted Bulgaria to get some land from Romania, 1 Polish, 1 Ukrainian, 3 Hungarians, 2 of which (Stefan Fori, Bela Breiner) fought, possibly killed Romanians (the locals, enslaved by Hungarian aristocrats) in 1918 war when Transylvania became free after 1000 years of Hungarian occupation. ☺☺☺

After 1989 revolution, Romania's president for 10 years was Ion Iliescu (married to a Jew), allegedly the son of a half-Jew and of a Bulgarian gypsy who couldn't even speak Romanian well, a mother who abandoned him when he was 1, so he was raised by grandparents until 9. Iliescu's half-Jew father went 5 years to USSR from 1930-5, then died in prison in 1945 as a KGB spy advocating for taking Bessarabia out of Romania again as in 1812. Iliescu studied in Moscow and reinstated 42 generals working for KGB that were deposed by Ceausescu. Iliescu studied Stalinism and engineering at the Moscow Power Engineering Institute 1950-4 and became a KGB agent directly under Alex Shelepin great anti-American (USSR KGB Chief 1958-61), who then killed Ceausescu in 1989 for causing so much rebellion against KGB in 1958-1989. Not being Romanian, Iliescu (who called Russians superior men and Americans cannibals in private) had no issue killing Ceausescu, who sidelined Iliescu (he was made a "state governor equivalent" instead of a high ranking official), due to Ceausescu suspecting Iliescu of being a KGB agent wanting to annex part of Romania (Russian Empire wanted to annex all Romania in 1860s-70s). Iliescu's wife studied at Moscow University, Iliescu uncle was # 2 in the Romanian secret police torturing, killing people for KGB, who naturally was promoted into the communist leadership by KGB to facilitate anti-Romanian bias so more land can be stolen. 1996-2000 president's wife has a Russian name. All Soviet satellites were mere colonies. The less one is majority, the more Jews, Russians, enemies promote that person to enslave the country or dismember it. Napoleon was Italian and he totally destroyed France, sold Louisiana to USA for nothing, achieved nothing by his silly wars. It's the same technique: minorities used to destroy, dismember empires, nations. Communism was a ruse, a scam to expand the Russian empire. In 1985-1990, Romania exported food products to many nations, including Russia, while Romanians were starving. In 1990, the East EU stopped sending food to USSR, so shelves became empty, USSR collapsed in 1991, as they made weapons/oil only. All USSR did was to gain max theft of land for themselves. In 1812 Russians stole Bessarabia from Romania, in 1918 they lost it. Every Soviet republic border was set for maximum conflict among ethnic, religion, resource lines, so that if USSR splits, Russia can start wars, take land fast. The phony communist or Christian ideal of "brotherhood" was only a facade for land theft, empire building, at any cost, even wars of torture/genocide.

Stanculescu leg guy (Russian looking guy, possibly 100% Russian using Romanian name,☺☺☺ who faked a leg issue to avoid going with Ceausescu as he tried to escape and who took over the military and installed the KGB agents in power after 1989) used the civilian "leader" Ceausescu as a scapegoat for anything the masses didn't like when the dictator paid all debts (was remotely controlled to do that, to starve the skeleton people, while exporting most food?) within 10 years. The public story is that the debt was acquired due to buying useless Western oil equipment that later was not used since oil price went down, but who put the idea in his mind? As they torture people to death, so do nations get it too: what if KGB, etc spies knew oil price will go down, so they mind controlled him to waste years and billions with that to get indebted, then starve people to pay debts and cause regime change, double fail setup? Typical old CIA (hopefully no more in 2026), KGB torture of nations and persons: humiliation, destruction, enslavement, depopulation? Both KGB/CIA were ultra worried that he banned abortion, especially Bill Gates. Romania, became possibly world's first nation (excluding some microstates with < 300000 people) with no slavery/debt to the IMF Bankers, so 'it had to pay with blood for that', and it did, via a violent revolution and then getting high debt again, 48% GDP today. The Romanian army, CIA, etc were all infiltrated by the KGB (who chose a young peasant to be 'dictator'), Russian Jews, since 1945. It's unrealistic to believe an uneducated peasant who completed only primary school per official "cover story", married to a first lady who allegedly didn't even know how to write, speak well in Romanian or any language (illiterate), can control the actions of 300,000 in the army, security. KGB chose him due to him being the easiest to control: the official cover story was that he's Romanian, quit school at 11, living in a tiny 2 bedroom house with his mom Alexandrina, father, 10 siblings, eating corn meal daily as staple. This is the type of person Russia wants to put as President in every nation they want to annex.

Wiki tall tale is that Ceausescu became a shoemaker (leg related) apprentice at 11, while training to become a communist spy with Alex Sandulescu (shoe related sandal), was arrested 4 times during WW2 for communist agitation (and allegedly, per some very honest (as 'all' Jews are) Jewish author of 'Rise and fall of Ceausescus' Edward Behr, beat fellow communists in prison for not criticizing themselves (some tradition Stalin started via a book, since Stalin felt guilty about the genocides he took part in) enough at the suggestion of his mentor Dej, showing a violent streak due to his father beating him too, like the abusive fathers of Stalin, Hitler, Mao). Seeing such violence, the KGB made him general at 32 to beat everyone KGB wanted beaten. Ceausescu reportedly later he went to Moscow Frunze military school for 2 months a year in 1951-2 (4 months total, vs 4 years for other more hard core KGB agents like Iliescu), and studied some economics too in Romania (got a fake PhD, like his 'illiterate' wife for endless degrees), though these things were never told the public (to avoid appearing as a KGB puppet) during his 24 year reign and today, 100s of disinfo books and articles appear online, etc with odd new stories nobody ever heard about, so the real story may be slightly different. On paper he was pro-USSR initially, though later he may have become anti-USSR. At 15 he was arrested during a strike for street fighting, for communist agitation, notice the exotropia strabismus that was so well hidden in most propaganda pics in every classroom, I never noticed it until April 2023, since it is slight in videos. Another fake or real story is that he used to beat others G.G. Dej (his 'alcoholic' boss) demanded to, while jailed, but that's a claim in an English book; the English have their agenda: KGB, CIA, MI6 killed him, if killing video is not faked by MI6, via Romanian generals in 1989, months after he paid all IMF debt, a feat no other high debt nation did, so Romania could be lunch for West Europe exporting goods Romanian fools buy to increase debt they starved 10 years to pay. Recall that Irish exported food while they starved, Brits know the game. Maybe losing weight is good, waiting 2 hours in line for milk, eggs and bread, you may discover teleportation while waiting.☺☺☺ In a world of nonkilling, everyone lives, everyone is loved and forgiven in immortalism. He was supposed to emulate the KGB, so in 1957 flanked by 2 tanks, Ceausescu, per 9 Wikipedia allegedly real reports, (see here & this testimony, with the chief peasant surviving and saying 2010 government was worse than pre1989), gave the order to shoot and soldiers killed 9 peasants, wounded 48 without warning, due to peasants not joining the collective farm after a severe beating days prior. We can understand though that most of the communist leaders were previously tortured by the aristocracy secret police in all former communist countries, sometimes for many years, leading to them becoming very cruel, in 1907 aristocrats shot dead 10,000 peasants (next paragraph). Ceausescu 9 vs aristocrats/royals 10,000. This infernal torture by aristocracy of the people asking for better living conditions for workers, has led to communists becoming cruel and supporting torture of aristocratic puppets. So, before people blame communists for torture, let's recall that people are not just "born terrorists", they're made terrorists by the aristocratic militaries, spy agencies, etc or later, the communist ones. If 9 died, then Ceausescu was a terrible killer, a fake communist, since a real lover of workers, peasants doesn't kill them, he loves them infinitely, to make up for the cruel beatings deified in the Bible/Torah (kids, workers, sex slaves) or Quran (sex slaves, mutilated infidels, kids, wives) and 12h/day 365 days/yr slave labor the feudal lords, aristocrats, monarchs, bishops, clergy (brainwashing all into Bible-Torah-Quran BS) subjected them to. Ceausescu was fond of hunting, a feature of many mass murderers (Western politicians too) who love shooting animals, seeing bloodshed and animals suffering as they die over 2-20 minutes after being shot sometimes. During 1945-1955, Romania was a 100% KGB puppet, and in 1949, the KGB run spy agency ordered to beatings of people to "reeducate them", as these infernal Jewish and Russians demons from hell, followed the infernal Bible Word of Lucifer with perfect devotion. In 1958, USSR removed the Soviet troops from Romania at the request of Romania's leader.

While Ceausescu killed 9 peasants by ordering that one time, the German (maybe Ashkenazi German) Kings who ruled Romania for 120 years killed in 1907 peasant revolt 10000 peasants, just one event. Others say a 1977 miner protest led to severe torture, beatings and mutilation, equivalent of several deaths when taking into account the lifespan years lost. This 1907 revolt was due to aristocracy and Ashkenazi Jewish spies and German Western European royals allowing, demanding (Germany would not recognize Romania's independence from Turks unless they accepted the Jews), all Jews to move to Northern Moldova, after the Russian Empire kicked Jews out (due to predatory loans Jews gave Russians, etc) and then Jews using predatory loans to turn Romanian peasants into slaves who lose their land. The bad type of Jews (bipedal cannibal chimps) establish pubs and bars, as fellow rabbi Jesus the killer of 1 billion via alcohol taught them too, like today after communism fell we got endless Jewish casinos and pubs and alcohol stores, get people semi drunk, suggest to them to buy this and that or have expensive weddings, etc on loans, so they miss payments and Jews take over the land/house, while the peasants work 65 hours to pay the predatory loans, because Gentiles are to be Slaves, Jews the Lenders as in US 4500 Banks system: Lev 25:44-6. The Jewish theology of Enslavement is kindly codified by the Genocidal Bible and Quran, plus Talmud. Jews then became lawyers and judges in large numbers, to further help the Lending Jew. Recall the Jewish and Western destruction of Romania after the 1989 revolution, when everywhere appeared strip clubs that never existed, and 16 year old ladies were deceived to come to strip clubs, then tortured to have sex with some clients, after being beaten for refusing. This was a time when the meaning of freedom via the Grace of "bad apples of evil spy agencies and militaries" partial destruction of Debt Free Romania, became evident, as torture invaded some areas of East EU. Industry was destroyed, girls were destroyed, drugs use rose 100,000x fold, lotteries and gambling everywhere, complete destruction a la Zion Elder Protocols. Communists were evil, but the real face of Capitalism was far more evil than people believed when they gave their life in 1989 to overthrow the dictatorship of communism, but got the dictatorship of new aristocrats. Of course, there was some good stuff too, Internet, freedom of information, PubMed, travel, etc which may over time cancel these demonic influences stemming from the Hollywood bastards and the Jewish cabal.

So, if we make museums to Holocaust, we need museums of the Holocaust of gentiles by the Jews, and the other 4000 political or linguistic entities of then last 20,000 years. We'll run out of space soon, as the previous pages of 3,000 genocides explain, as each deserves as many museums as the Holocaust got. Instead of single family housing for slaves, we deify Torture. Odd. The KGB & CIA killed Ceausescus, but others, who killed more, were not killed. The only way to fool the people was to put all blame for all atrocities committed by tens of thousands of secret police on 2 people, while the real criminals (the people who tortured others due to being taught to do so by the aristocratic secret police who taught communists how to torture*;* since all communist leaders were former victims of aristocratic torture*)* escaped, some became part of the new governments, owning new companies, 'private' and the same KGB, etc spies and other spies continued using torture, now part of NATO, fueling the flames of war in Ukraine too, like all NATO nations. Oh, yes and the 'bulldog IQ' Romanian TV stations (listen to the 0 IQ of the answers, showing the ☺☺abysmal IQ☺ of the educational system, nothing about developing the qualities that give us long lifespans or about discovering tech for living to a trillion years, Eternal World Peace, living off-planet, etc, just 'my country is nice because it has nice hills and had some nice rulers') show the typical violent Romanian folk music (to be fair, all folk and country music in all nations is violent in the context of the gentle tender softness of eterni music needed to Bring Eternal Universal Peace after 5 million years of genocides), black robe Romanian pastors (crypto-Jews or crypto-Russians, etc trying to keep the masses as low IQ as possible) telling credulous folks lies about fake miracles and Jesus theology made up by Italian-Jewish spies, plus violent sports, the most lethal methods of dry heat (barbecue, etc) cooking (like their American 'zero IQ' carbon copies) and the 'Royal family representative' (German Royal Family of Romania killed up to 102 folks on Dec 13 1918 for requesting better pay) during 'King's Hour' program (Romania is a republic, but descendants of former aristocratic terror (10,000 peasants shot) reps used to 'talk to other royal families') organize pathetic events for 'selfless ladies' to showcase their hats (important as they claim in the video), while fellow citizens live in ghettos.

The Ceausescu and former communist rulers personality cult has been replaced with a new personality cult*, the royal family, the military or the Jewish puppet Bible preachers, the infallible promoters of* the Eternal Genocide Religion, like in USA Celebrities are the New Personality Cults replacing Hitler, British Royals, etc. The religion and the army are the new cults in many nations, and the 2 institutions people are brainwashed to have a good opinion of (since all media is managed by military as in all nations), thru the perfect media control, because to achieve 'heaven with Jesus' one needs to be a dutiful cannon fodder executing commands of foreign spies controlling the military. Everyone thus needs to be ready to sacrifice his/her life for the foreigner, without a question. The torture continues, today it's far more covert, thru hired thugs and manipulated tired or drunk people (who might bump into your car, etc) and invisible weapons, gadgets, etc. The apparent rulers changed, the torture did not, so the hidden rulers are the same group: the torture lovers. All Revolutions of history were mostly fake, torture, violence didn't vanish, so much work needs to be done to remove all torture globally, as that is the reality of all nations, not just East EU. 50% of country wealth is in the hands of the few % aristocracy (former spies, military), they're the new idols to be worshiped via the 'market capitalism' scam. This is not democracy, but mindless adulation, slavery. How do these low IQ TV programs lower violent crime 1 trillion fold, bring 0 torture, Eternal Universal Peace in 3 months? TV talks BS about royal families. Instead of exercising to renovate the bad areas to be better, they talk because the Hohenzollerns did that for 120 years of ruling Romania since 1866?

The 1989 revolutions were cosmetic, just like the 1789 French and 1776 American revolutions, nothing has changed from many points of view, the same torture, violence, etc continued, except now the national debt was enormous (killed for making Romania debt free?) and the former West EU empires have established 100s of military bases disguised as grocery store chains with endless cameras, mind control, torture devices that cause sensations, foreign churches about fake miracles, endless stores, to recruit spies (among local workers) and fight for influence. The West didn't give any tech to make Romania self-sufficient, only useless oil tech to acquire huge debts in 1970s paid by starvation in 1980s. Spies claimed 25,000 KGB officers were sent to Romania from April 1989 to Oct 1990, some Russian spies who took over 80% of privatized state enterprises. KGB killed Ceausescu also because in 1989 Ceausescu asked for the removal of 8-23-1939 Nazi-Soviet Ribbentrop-Molotov pact consequences, meaning for the return of Bessarabia to Romania that USSR stole in 1940 again after the 1812 theft. Others too had their own financial interests (like Swedish IKEA, etc looking to steal wood or other resources) who had a country no longer paying them interest. KGB didn't like the independence of Romania who rebelled against the Warsaw pact and condemned the Prague invasion by USSR, Hungary, Bulgaria, Poland, East Germany on Aug 21st 1968. In the 1950s Romanian spy agency DIE (Department of Information External) was ruled by foreigners, those with native Romanian accent were in minority (most being Russians who got Romanian names and had Russian accent) and true Romanians were rare in top leadership. That's what people don't understand, a nation's spy agency can be taken over by foreigners and the masses would be clueless. Mao was beaten by his dad (like other dictators) and advocated violence too. An Immortal perceives every human as a 3 second old baby who has low IQ and doesn't torture anyone. Romania was ruled by German Hohenzollern after a 1866 coup removed Romanian ruler 7 years after Romania was founded. The German puppet gov (using a German Polish Ion Zelensky, who changed his name to Codreanu, to pretend to be Romanian, brainwash people into Christianity, pro-German ideas) was torturing the communists when they appeared, causing communists to torture others when they ruled. East Europeans can now unite via Eternia, to bring the world of 0 torture/wars. Ceausescu loveless shouting on 8-21-1968 and in 100s of other cases, confirm a mean person. Ceausescu peasant was made general overnight in 1950, at age 32, with 0 army training due to allegedly shooting a banker who didn't want to donate to the communist party. Stalin helped rob banks, 40 dead one time, 1000s of Bolsheviks looted one and all, killing 100000 by 1922. Ceausescu was promoted to country leader allegedly for being in jail in the same cell for 3 years (jailed by fascists in 1930s many times) with the existing leader in 1950 and helping him in jail.

The Internationale original French version was about the end of all wars, no longer being cannon fodder of the kings, nobles (today this would be the military generals, the hidden monarchs of every land) trying to expand their empires or estates. The USSR Anthem version 1917-1944, a more explicit upgrade of the French Internationale, details the struggle of the enslaved to bring a better world for all, not just mostly the royal family and aristocracy that ruled every land. Post 1917, the USSR Anthem changed and lost its meaning of "freedom for all" from the get go as they started killing 100000 in first 5 years, millions later, as the Cheka, the KGB predecessor founded on 12-20-1917 that still runs Russia, etc aristocracy was taking shape, undermining the ideals and Cheka becoming the "new royal family and aristocracy" waging new wars. Okhrana was the Russian CIA before 1917 (Stalin was Okhrana informant too, while helping the communists, to raise less suspicion), using heavy torture, in Tsarist times of extermination of majorities in occupied lands. Russia invaded east Moldova in 1812 and banned Romanian language later so all education was in Russian (1% of population initially in 1812 was Russian, 95% Romanian) in order to make Romanians lower in IQ and easier to deport, depopulate, enslave. Russia invaded it again in 1940, since they lost it in 1918, so Romanians hid under 5 foot corn stalks (12% of Moldova land is corn) sometimes at 1-5 am, in the middle of the night, starting to flee slowly towards the Romanian new border, with 4 kids ages 0-7, leaving everything behind, after living there 40 years, hiding under the cover of the corn, before KGB showed up at 4-7 am to deport them to Siberia to die freezing to death, based on information about disappearing families from neighboring villages, towns, USA says 100s of thousands were deported. This was before Romania declared war on USSR in 1941 in order to retake the 1812, 1940 stolen lands. Some of the Soviet atrocities/torture after 1945 are described in Laszlo Borhi's Soviet Occupation of Romania, Hungary, and Austria. On June 12-13 1941, KGB deported 24360 people in the middle of the night, all smart people as always. The USSR Anthem: "We will destroy this world of violence… You've sucked enough of our blood, you vampires, With prison, taxes and poverty! You have all the power, all the blessings of the world, And our rights are but an empty sound! Enough of the will of kings Stupefying us into the haze of war! War to the tyrants! Peace to the people! Go on strike, sons of the army! And if the tyrants tell us, To fall heroically in battle for them — Then, murderers, we will point The muzzles of our cannons at you!" Notice how much anger and genocidal energy, how many exclamation points that are 100% absent from this calm book of the Immortalist anthem vibe. While I agree with the enthusiasm for ending war, we can't accept the first lyrics "Our outraged minds are boiling, Ready to lead us into a deadly fight". The angelic person and even ideal soldier remains calm and thinks of peaceful ways to achieve any end. The USSR Anthem composer (a 'Russian Jew', Arkady Kots) is inciting people to believe, wrongly, that "only thru death can they bring the new world, only thru complete destruction of the old can they bring the new". This brainwashing is created to incite max chaos, civil war, so Russia collapses and spies, bad type of Jews, anti-Slav Marxist etc can maybe take over and have a pretext to kill 20 million in USSR to build the "new world". The original Internationale was composed by a 'French' Freemason Eugene and didn't incite to a deadly risky fight, as it didn't want the poor to die, only the aristocrats. Odd, how communism led to 120 million dead and Freemasons have this oath. However, the 'Jewish' USSR version uses a language that incites people more to taking very risky actions that lead to proletariat casualties, so it's either low IQ or evil intent to increase casualties by minority aristocrats or foreign spies wanting a good old depopulation of 'undesirables' who were not obedient to the new puppet government which was itself unaware of how they were actually robots of the hidden government. Even the French version uses very bad language and suggests indirectly killing generals and aristocrats, "Soon they will know our bullets, Are for our generals" which is not surprising, Freemasons were into 1848 revolutions and USA, France one too, they love a good fight, as their rituals show. So, no the Internationale is not ideal, don't sing it, it's too macho, impulsive, low IQ, violent. Sing this. Thus, the USSR anthem tone was too violent, since there are trillions of peaceful methods to achieve decent living conditions for all. The old world of 'violence' can be gently lovingly transformed, not destroyed to the foundations as the Internationale says, since some good exists in any world, all higher tech staff knew how to run factories, so killing them meant no knowledge to run the economy, production, etc, it meant chaos, the spy agenda. Russia gives 10 yr jail for refusing to kill.

14.8. THE God Hypothesis: GOD, The Only IMMORTAL 'Omnipotent' BEING

For atheists, theists and agnostics: God or 'The Immortals' who love all humanity 'infinitely', can be defined as the collective quantum intelligence of the entire human species (current and/or future, when humans live to the age of a trillion), the Infinite Bliss of Eternal Immortality attained by future humans (our grand grand... kids), or the superorganism with huge powers versus 1 person (billions of times greater, though each human is connected to this field, unlike any object, so each human is more powerful than any material object or weapon men created, even listening to peaceful music makes you more powerful than all weapons combined in bringing World Peace). There is no need of belief in fakable miracles to believe in God, since God can be perceived as the mathematical reality of statistics and superluminal vision: in an infinity of probable events, an infinite variations of an event that happened also happened, meaning, an infinite variation of humans happened and some of these guys are or will be Immortal, living to a trillion, being what we could term God... because they don't torture, beat or kill each other like silly humans do. Aliens who live to a trillion years old, if they exist, are infinitely smarter than us and can fool us into thinking that God exists or doesn't exist, depending on how the human insect defines the God as: a human insect can't prove God exists or doesn't exist, since a trillion year old alien can prove any argument humans make for God or anti-God very easily, being far smarter than men, able to manipulate the human mind to make it think its thoughts are original and not alien implanted*; instead of arguing about God or atheism, people can choose to be kind and grant* Immortality for All instead. Thus, there is no need to believe in some nonphysical weird God, since the above mentioned bodies may be made of inter-dimensional energy-matter (they discovered to create the shimmering shapeshifting Immortal bodies with) after trillions of years of research, and they could have even merged to become a vast consciousness as the pages below explain. For skeptics and those who have not yet discovered the Bliss of Infinite Immortality via breathing, God could be defined in simpler words as the oldest and happiest Immortal alien group who may or may not know about us, or care about us, 'is not omnipotent or omnipresent probably' (but could be, why not? though it is too hard to believe in some omnipotence for atheists, unless all humans are lab rats an alien God created), being busy with maintaining their immortality, which is hard, given universes come and go, etc. God can also be thought of, by theists or atheists, in infinite ways, for example God can be the beautiful knowledge of the "universe, of physics, of Immortality, of all there is", or our descendants, people who live to a trillion, who help us to get where they are, since time is an illusion, and events being linked or they travel back in time to us to chat with us. God is infinitely kind, so because God gives us an afterlife of trillions of octillions of years, a life of a trillion years is only a billion trillion times shorter than that, a mere nano nano second. Thus, living to a trillion years old is easy for those who follow the science of the real God, since a trillion years is a nano second in Eternity and gives us a little time to better understand God, so God supports the immortalists, the Immortalist Party, and God can also be understood as the descendant of former older or future immortalists, who became Immortal before we did or will become Immortal from our time zone, reaching back to us to their world. Since God is Immortal, a trillion years is an infinitely small fraction of a nanosecond for his life and God, Immortals, Buddhas, aliens, etc could help us to live for a nanosecond in this universe, which is a trillion to the power of a trillion human years for their long life, the lifespan of endless universes coming and going. God can also be thought of as the collective of Buddhas or Immortals if one is into Buddhism or as the field of infinite intelligence to tap into infinite energy to power our life and world, so as to enable us to build trillion year lifespans; atheists can conceptualize that aliens who live a quadrillion years could have, in their own attempt to build better Immortality knowledge, created this universe and our souls as artificial intelligences, for the sake of simulations that create knowledge to prevent mortality.

Whether these AI souls are going to be immortal is not something that they may easily believe though; however, as the soul hypothesis section explains, Immortality of some AI souls can emerge on its own or even the soul itself as an immortal being without the need of an alien creator. Just as humans don't know all bacteria or tiny lifeforms in the infinite universe, or stress about 'guiding their spiritual growth'. These concepts are wonderful, they help people cope with adversity easier, provide solace and comfort, the will and stamina to carry on and manifest World Peace in 1 year and no prisons in 30 years, etc, plus long lifespans in 300 years. These God concepts can't be disproven or proven, they're hypotheses and possibilities that help us reach trillion year lifespans easier, since we're honest enough to realize we're not alone or the smartest lifeforms in this infinite universe; the concepts are not a religion or brainwashing, only hypotheses that we may prove in a trillion years, so there is no need to convert anyone to any exact rigid belief system about God, as no proof exists anyway, except for the law of physics: action force equals reaction force in classical mechanics and this extends to human relationships too, so to live long and get along, we employ kind eterni tone and ethics and everyone lives long 4 trillion times faster. If something helps us to achieve our goal, trillion year lifespan to understand the universe better, then we use it, even the concept that these God ideas may all be true, when obviously, given the infinity of the universe, they're at least partially true.

Perhaps one of the most central aspects of God (Infinite Knowledge & Eternal Grace) is God's Immortality, especially since God could also be the physics of Immortality. Why do people often say that the first nature of God is Immortality? Because Immortality is the first quality that comes to mind that we lack (unlike gentleness, or 500 spiritual traits), and God is the First Immortal whose Immortality is the longest as explained below. The arrival of Immortality awareness in the Eternal Now is the realization of the Eternally Present Euphoric Energy of God's Immortality enveloping us in infinite love mercy compassion bliss joy.☺☺☺☺

THE LIMITLESS SPLENDOR OF Immortality☺THE BOUNDLESS BLISS OF Immortality

Nothing more amazing than Immortality☺ THE INFINITE JOY OF Immortality

What we all often forget is the sheer immensity of the Infinite beauty of the Civilization of Immortals of the Future. Even the most passionate atheist will agree that the Civilization of Immortals is inevitable. How so? Well, in mathematics, if you have an event happening in an infinity of probable events, then an infinite variation of that event can occur in infinity and one of those variations is one humanity reaching Immortality. This Future, this Immortality Reality exists somewhere, amazingly calling us to its sweetness and enchanting our consciousness with its tunes in a very hypnotic way. In some time in some universe, parallel big bang of another baby universe like ours maybe, or in our very future. If this doesn't get even the most anti-Immortality believer excited, then what I can say is this, there is so much to be excited about, because one doesn't even need to believe in an Immortal Soul (which many atheists don't believe in anyway, but some do) to conceptualize the INEVITABILITY, mathematically, of the Advent of the Civilization of Immortals some day somewhere, maybe here if we focus on it enough. In fact, mathematically, that thing already has occurred because the past is infinite, and thus Immortals ALREADY EXIST. To see that future (or past in the infinite past, which may be harder to conceptualize) reality, that tangible all so real world of Immortals, so much more real than our dreamy world of today, is to use the mind to see the nature of math and infinity. All our worries, troubles and sorrows in this world are a joke compared to the infinite majesty, marvelous splendor and bounteous awesomeness of the Immortals who call us from past, present, future to become like them, angels on Earth.☺☺☺

The inevitable arrival of the Civilization of Immortals is a most exciting thing that actually doesn't contradict at all most religions, since Christians believe in a new earth (maybe we build it ourselves with the help of spirits, God, Immortals, Jesus, etc) where people live forever, many Hindus, Buddhists, Taoists believe in this future of physical Immortality. The Inevitable Advent of the Most Wondrous Wonder of All Worlds, is actually a palpable reality we can connect to and Remember as a billion times more real than our world today, when we want to get a little more hope and joy, in face of the less ideal emotions or news we encounter in the media, internet. To know that what is Unseen, Impenetrable to us, that wondrous magnificent Brilliant world of teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals exists, is simply to use the rational mind and to arrive at the logical conclusion that we can be in a sea of Immortal bliss and grace all the time. This will open up the minds of many people to the possibility that these Immortals that have emerged in the universe, have formed a "Federation of Immortals" that exchanges information, and since atheists have a hard time to conceptualize a God that created all universes, we can even say that God is something a little bit like this Collective of Oldest Immortals, older than trillions of trillions of years whose consciousness is merged into one as they guide new universes to be born and then contracted, recycled and recreated. If you're an atheist, but like math, stay with me for a second, imagine in the INFINITE PAST, a civilization emerged and they became Immortal, figured it out, so these people have been Immortal for an infinite amount of time almost in the infinite past, and what do we call something that has been Immortal for an infinite amount of time? Perhaps we call that God. ☺ Perhaps this helps atheists to conceptualize the rather hard to explain Nature of God, Immortality, and why it is kind of hard to look at things from the frame of reference of Immortality. ☺☺☺

Since we can have an infinity of Immortal civilizations, one of them from the INFINITE Immortal past, that attained Immortality in the past, may have built a hyper-universe (heaven) and many physical universes that last billions of years or longer each; they may be what some call "spirits" or those who help us to build a Civilization of Immortals or Heaven on Earth. This is a simple way to conceptualize how it is possible for other dimensional Immortals to help us to attain Physical and Inter-dimensional Immortality. The skeptics will say we humans don't care about the immortality of mice, bacteria, or neutrinos, why would giant Immortals care about humans? ☺ Since the universe is INFINITE, there exists a God like Civilization of Immortals at every size; if that thing can't be accepted, we can argue that the civilization that discovered Immortality first can extend its infinite compassion at lower size level beings, as their life is not about survival, but about making other beings happy, and their thoughts are infinitely different than ours, not about survival, but about giving Immortality to more beings, just as we humans would love our dear pets, or mice pets to also live to 900, if we live to a few thousand. Because when we live to 5 quadrillion we can feel the love of neutrinos far more than a mortal can feel that of a pet, to grant Immortality to neutrinos becomes more of a concern for those giant Immortals (or our size) than for human beings of our planet. How can this be? Simply because the life is infinitely longer, their capacity to love and perceive becomes infinitely greater. When our life was short, we didn't have much love and care for pets, but over time, we cared more. Likewise, as we live to a quadrillion, our ethics becomes something totally different, we become much more angelic. This Civilization of Immortals could have even guided events on Earth slightly, like how life evolves into humans. It's easy then to accept the possibility of God or at least God like beings out there. People can easily imagine Immortals (of our size or bigger or smaller) emerging somewhere in the past, but not necessarily them knowing about earthlings. However, if you think of past as a really big infinite past, these people had time to develop universe building technology. In infinity, perhaps one of the Immortal civilizations discovered the future humans by time travel and guided them towards Immortality. Their tech can detect new lifeforms appearing, then send signals to see who is the most responsive to Immortality. ☺☺☺

In statistics, if an event happened in infinity, then, an infinite variation of that event happened too in an infinite past, and one of the variations is an Immortal civilization that is aware of us in our time, due to the fact they build time-space in the universes they create, or they got some time travel tech, or whatever, but one of them knows about us and they can shapeshift into our size if not being the same size. Another variation is an Immortal civilization that is the "infinitely aware" first Immortal civilization to become aware of all other civilizations in the infinite past at all size levels, which becomes the super Civilization of Immortals or God, the all-knowing Being. This argument can thus prove that such a being can exist within the infinity of all that exists, that God can exist and exists. This is a very simple modern "proof" of the possibility of the existence of God for atheists. The skeptics will offer the counterargument that no being of any size can be Immortal, due to universes dying, but it's not true, they can figure out a way to move to another universe before their universe dies, by turning local matter into energy and taking new form/matter into the new universe. This Civilization of Immortals is omnipotent, omnipresent and omniscient, as it knows all universes. Only 1 civilization can have this quality by definition of omnipotent, omnipresent; if 2 would have omnipotence, they would be one, because omnipotence *vanishes if another would have "*omnipotence or even an extremely tiny power compared to God to challenge God's omnipotence, infinite knowledge". So, can we speed up the manifestation of the Heavenly Earth of Immortals by simply remembering that this is possible, or at least that humans can live to 30 billion years old? Perhaps. When we think about it, we get excited and we're setting in motion energies that will add up, from each human, until the energy becomes so big, that it puts us into a happy timeline to quickly manifest 900 year lifespans, as our first step towards really Immortal LIFESPANS, like 90,000 years, and 30 billion way later. The thing is with science, the TRUTH is there, even if people don't believe in it, or know about these laws of math, physics, Immortality. Gravity was always there, so were electricity, elements before we discovered them, and so is physical Immortality. As stated before, one of the most Astounding Qualities of God or ALL THAT IS, or the first nature of God is Immortality or Eternity, in the sense of infinity of time... Eternally Immortal. And God so much Loved the world, that God gave us science to bring physical Immortality, to realize deeper the meaning of spiritual Immortality. ☺ The word Immortality is synonymous with bliss joy love and all that is wonderful. What a joy Immortality IS, we don't ever die; we just shapeshift into pure energy and become the spirit or new matter physical being that lives in another universe made of new matter. We defy death.☺☺☺

The Eternally Present Immortals in the world of hyper-universe or heaven (dimension sourcing physical universes into existence) is such a powerful reality, that it acts as a beacon that guides all mortal civilizations to aspire to Immortality and one of them to make it to Physical Immortality at least when they realize how real Immortality is and what its nature is. It may well be the very mechanism of the universe creation and dissolution, i.e. dissolution starts when a civilization attained true Immortality and starts collapsing or contracting the universe as it ascends the universal matter to be used for the creation of a new universe, with this first civilization to attain Immortality in a universe acting as a guide for those, at all size levels, who might be able to make it interdimensionally, i.e. defying death, by translation, without the need for astral travel to hyper universe as in normal "death" due to universal contraction. What is evident is that the heaven of Immortals exists, and we can commune with it 24-7, we're too distracted to think about it mathematically in terms of proof, so it becomes less real, especially if we're the science type who can't accept things based on astral travels, miracles (which advanced beings can stage to fool us) or anything but LOGIC itself. ☺ Why is 120 year Longevity so important? It's probably because it helps us to draw closer to 500 year lifespan or Immortality and thus to God's other 4 trillion qualities. ☺ Every little step, even 100 or 120 average lifespans from the current global 72, is a huge step towards Godliness ultimately. Preserving life and building the world that preserves life is what builds Civilizations of Immortals, and it takes time, but eventually, we get there. We will probably be colonizing many star systems before we reach true Immortality that ascends a universe, Immortality being the hardest thing there is. ☺☺☺

If a 2nd Immortal civilization aware of other (not all) civilizations appeared, some may argue that it might try to influence us one way, in a conflicting way from first aware civilization we called God above. However, if God chose to go invisible in another dimension God built, 2nd civilization would not fight God, as real God is unknown to them, leading from behind. As explained above, only 1 omnipotent Immortal civilization (God) can exist, so a 2nd civilization can be aware of God, but can't be omnipotent and can't fight God if God doesn't want the fight, because God is omnipotent by definition and can stop any attack on God at any time for an infinite amount of time. Why doesn't God stop the mean people from doing bad things? God's patience is different than human patience, it's infinitely greater; God knows all are nanobabies, tiny young souls just born recently. ☺Since God has lived a quadrillion to the power of quadrillion, repeated a quadrillion times at least, he developed an infinitely greater intelligence than any civilization in cloaking God's existence and becoming invisible. God can be thought of, at times or by some people at least, as having no interest in revealing the real God's existence, because the true nature of souls is revealed better when they don't really believe fully or much or at all in afterlife or God, thus enabling God to determine which civilization God reveals God's existence to in a really strong way, so they join a higher universe, or God. If there would be several later Immortal civilizations discovering each other (or even discovering all other civilizations except God), if they value remaining Immortal they would not go to war (after eons of fights perhaps, they realized war is futile as it ends Immortality) and, instead of warring, they would create a collective of Immortals because war would end their Immortality, and then this collective will joyously join God upon discovering God (when real God reveals God's existence, God only does so when others would join God), the first infinitely aware civilization above. This ascension into another dimension of a previously known to other civilizations collective or single civilization, which is absorbed into God, is done with God's Infinite intelligence that hides the existence of God from all the civilizations not ready to know. ☺☺☺

All civilizations after the God one, have 3 possible routes: fight other civilizations and end up dead eventually, join a collective of Immortals to prevent death, or be lucky to be ascended into another universe by God. This perhaps metaphoric or simplified way of explaining God as the most hidden mightiest Civilization of Immortals may be helpful for atheists who're vehemently opposed to even agnosticism, since it can bring more fluid intelligence and peace on Earth. ☺ But we can see how there could be competing mortal or Immortal civilizations, unaware of God, trying to influence the destiny of humanity, from the respective areas or dimensions they may be in, just like superpowers on Earth try to influence a country (or use a country as a disposable garbage to attack a rival, even if that can mean the end of that small country or in our case, of the human species used to attack aliens that some other aliens want to get rid of) to be on their side, even when they don't know about each other's existence. The problem of course with attacking others is the attacker has no way of knowing if that's the beginning of their end or not, because while on Earth we know human capabilities well, in space we have no way of knowing if an alien group once sensing the intent of certain space operations or "fake friendship overtures (with intent to enslave a fake bait civilization of biorobots that seem genuine species on a planet, used as decoy for sensing "predator" species with ethics diametrically opposite to theirs)" can end humans in a shorter (seconds) or longer (centuries) time.

If any human like civilization exists in a nearby galaxy or in our galaxy, they may know we exist since big fusion bombs have a specific signature that ultra sensitive instruments may detect from far distances as different than solar fusion in stars due to shock waves of various gamma rays and subatomic particles bouncing off the heavy atoms nearby on a planet leading to an echo absent in stars (which have lighter atoms). Even ultra fast fission doesn't occur in nature, so they can detect it probably from light years away. This is why a little thought about such "useless topics" as God, spirituality, being a friend to all beings, can actually prolong our longevity as a species and make us reach Immortality too later on. It's hard to know what goes on, but this simple analogy opens the mind to the possibility of Immortal civilizations or "spirits" existing who have agendas, or even mortal astral civilizations. Ultimately, we know so little, that one thing that helps is to never take these or our hypotheses about Immortality or mortality too seriously, since we're like 1-minute old infants, clueless, about the Universe, compared to 2 quadrillion-year-old Immortals.☺☺☺ Likewise, we know so little about other people, that it helps to not take our hypotheses about them too seriously, because we see only a trillionth of what an Immortal sees, as Chapter 2 explains better. People, just as God, often have no interest to reveal their existence, skills or nature, because in such invisibility, the real nature of other people is revealed better. A 1 g inter-dimensional "asteroid" or a gamma ray or unknown ray burst could carry in it, in subatomic/string patterns, the recipe for bacteria that lead to plants, animals, apes which shift into human when a dimensional signaling occurs that invites souls to incarnate a tiny part of self in this virtual world (living trillions of years, the Immortals can wait 4 billion years, as they seed trillions of planets) as explained in Chapter 2. Our tech can only encode little info in 1 g, but with particles $10^{99999999999}$ smaller, the info that 1 g carries, via this synthetic matter (probes being the only such matter in the galaxy or universe?), is huge. Then the signaling draws souls to find the mother civilization. ☺☺☺

The arguing back and forth about God can go on forever. ☺ For example, if the universe is infinite, how can a finite civilization (the first Immortal One) map it all out and identify all civilizations, from the nanometer to the quadrillion trillion miles in body size of individual? Also, we think of civilizations of interest in terms of those made of beings of comparable size. If we go down to femtometer scale, some beings may exist that live such a short time, we can't study their life or civilization well or even if they live a long time, we can hardly understand the nuances of their activity, since it seems they all behave the same. A being the size of a universe also may see humans as some ultra small “subatomic matter conglomerates” or photons or electronic clouds behaving the same and being “low IQ particles with no civilization”, and as such may not be ultra interested in mapping every such “civilization” and in directing its path. When humans produce high heat, UV, etc (war, etc) or we clean things we often destroy entire ant or bacteria civilizations in 1 second, or 10 hours of human time equivalent for a big body civilization inadvertently wiping us out, if bacteria live 1 day. Likewise, when we're living on 1 planet only, our chance of survival long-term is dim, even a solar system, because there could be tons of events – gamma and other ray bursts due to activities of this dimensional beings (made of a mix of discovered and undiscovered particles, or made of undiscovered particles with far less (undetectable by our “gravity instruments”) mass due to an illusion thus seemingly immaterial (perhaps ”spirit” like to use an incorrect analogy), invisible and undetectable by us, but influencing existing known quarks, bosons, leptons, they could exist in our town, galaxy, interstellar empty space) or other dimensional beings the size of 1 nanometer, 4 inches, 7 miles or 80 solar systems that wipe us out in hours, just as we unintentionally wipe out bacteria in seconds when we remove a sun blocking material in one area and the sun then destroys all bacteria via UV in liquids and on the surface. E Coli or other deadly bacteria are not really seeing humans from outside to our true size, and they're not very aware of us existing even.

Now, what if, life and intelligence as we know it, includes things that we would never consider “living organisms”, because they don’t have “neurons” and biology, and they don’t transmit information via neural impulses like humans do, but in a totally different way, using possibly undiscovered subatomic particles or a mixture of known and unknown particles (their neuron impulse equivalent could be very very slow in human terms, but due to their big size and lifespan, it’s comparable to human neuron impulse to lifespan ratio), so that a bundle of air, magnetized by solar storms, or dead matter, rock or earth, under certain circumstances determined by less known boson-lepton interactions (sort of like photon boson excites lepton electron moving it from HOMO to LUMO, most life as we know it in biochemistry or even inert natural chemical processes are electronic and photonic exchanges and interactions), forms a self-organizing life system so different than humans, we would never suspect it is intelligent? If such beings get sick due to humans, as humans go sick during a cold or flu due to bacteria, with humans doing something odd and useless (not essential) that sickens these beings or even kills them, they naturally would wonder, like humans did for centuries, why they died, and then we discovered bacteria or they will discover us, and try to control human population as we control real bacteria. To think that this could be possible in some future on some galaxy or solar system at least, adds another challenge to living to 1 million years old. How would we be able to even detect such a being, avoid upsetting it, can bacteria ever figure out how humans function and exist? Bacteria have no eyes, they can't see humans as we see a big whale or whatever. What if we humans, like bacteria, lack the "eyes" to see these beings, since it would require detection of not photon bosons, but other undetectable (today) particles and we lack such an organ and can only see it with instruments only? Bacteria only know nothing about us, so we probably can know little about such beings if we discover them. They can be even tiny size, much smaller than us, and produce subatomic particles in their usual activities that give rise to new disease conditions in humans, without them being aware that they affect humans or that we even exist.

For eons we humans did activities that wiped out entire bacterial colonies (spread some peppermint oil in some area or etc) without having the science and knowledge bacteria even exist and what their chemical composition is. Likewise, aliens who're mortal and new in the intelligent life species class, may not know we exist and inadvertently help or hinder us from living to 1 million years old or from colonizing every single planet we want. We categorize life as some moving matter, but what if unmoving chunks of earth or rock or water, in certain conditions, governed by subatomic processes and other particles that only exist in certain locations and conditions, can evolve some intelligence and awareness, exchanging info not via electrons or photons as humans do but in another way, undetectable to us? We see a tree, someone will say that's not moving, not an alien, not intelligent, but they can eat animals, at least some plants can, they can make chemicals to prevent animals from eating their fruits or seeds, or branches, etc. We see a mountain or rock or interstellar void or carbon dust (fullerenes), that's 2 billion years old, why so old? Is it that ☺abysmal in IQ☺ and unintelligent or does it communicate in a way unknown to humans with other rocks to protect its longevity? What if rocks, some rocks at least, are smarter than we ever thought? What if some rocks or certain molecules (big ones, not all molecules of the same formula, only some that are different than similar molecules in ways undetectable to present physics), hadrons, undiscovered particles etc developed in the last 3 billion years a form of telepathy using unknown (to humans for next million years) waves and physics particles? We see empty planets and no aliens anywhere in the galaxy, but hey, by what definition of intelligent life and size, what if the galaxy is teeming with invisible life? We live 80 years and have a number of events in our life perceived as distinct. Some huge being, 3 billion years old, may have an equal number of events in their life perceived as distinct, so its transfer of learning to subuniverse time may be similar to a human's. When we tap a wood piece, it's 1 second, but for femtometer beings it could be the equivalent of 1 trillion years; 1 million human years could be 1 second for a billion year old gigantic being. Immortality would become more real if the number of distinct events in self-awareness is infinite almost as in Immortality, when adjustment for perception of time is made,

i.e. a human size being who lives 1 trillion years, not one the size of a galaxy. So, what makes such a long lived first Civilization of Immortals (God) interested in granting infinite lifespan to beings we humans perceive as living a nanosecond or a billion years in human year definition?☺☺☺ Once again, God is Immortal and has developed infinite awareness of all sizes lifeforms, and can become interested in granting Immortality to them, i.e. some subatomic particles may move to another universe and reach physical Immortality before humans do, even though now, they live much shorter than us, i.e. perhaps a billion times shorter. When we live to 9 million, we want tiny pets, mice or ants to also live to a million perhaps, God is the same way. ☺

Just because some subatomic particles are tiny (even if we can't detect them now, some weird "hadrons" of "femtoquarks") doesn't mean they're inert silly particles or very short lived, they could live to a trillion years old (moved in our universe from another) and be so much more advanced than us, in culture, technology, understanding, that we would never guess how much tech they built, as it's made of "invisible to us particles". We keep looking for aliens and they could already be almost everywhere, with stuff we can't split or alter in any way, maybe some femtoneutrons or femtoneutrinos, as their "planet". Does that mean God is so small or that they could be the God of religions? Not necessarily. It just adds a level of complexity to the question of "how much do we know about God and the universe?". Why would a tiny small God want huge humans to become Immortal? Because "God" loves humans, just as we love our pets, big elephants, or perhaps solar systems or gigantic trees, which are huge compared to us, but we want them to live a trillion years too, not die at age 3,000 or 5 billion.☺☺☺

An invalid counterargument, if we can call it that, for the idea above, is that a finite civilization, over an infinite amount of past time, can become so big, that it can create trillions of universes and subuniverses and virtual Universes and souls (artificial intelligences) and be, for all practical purposes, the "God" of the subset of infinity itself that it shaped. The clear thing is that while they're local "God" they don't control everything at all size levels in all infinity or they can't do anything against the real God who is the only omnipotent one. However, going back to math as above: if an infinity of variations of such civilizations who become local "God" exist, out of all these civilizations, one of these finite ones, expanded so much in infinite time that it became infinite itself so to speak, and out of those who became infinite, one, and only one, became omnipotent, and the most infinite of all. The debate then ensues whether our universe is in an area where such a mini or the real omnipotent infinite "God" exists, whether such a "God" is highly interested in human civilizations directing, or our universe is in the outer reaches of infinity that this oldest most advanced Immortal civilization "only omnipotent one" ☺ has not mapped yet but will get to soon, in a few quadrillion years. In infinity, if an event (human civilization) happened, an infinite variation of that event also happened, including the variation of humans that map all infinity in their infinite Immortality, since they have infinite amount of time to reproduce and send out spaceships to map out all infinity. How can infinity map out infinity? How can a finite group of beings who become Immortals multiplying and becoming an infinite amount of Immortals perhaps, then map and omnipotently influence, if desired, all infinity? Skeptics can argue we can't prove an infinite amount of time already has passed for the full mapping to occur (they say I may talk about a future event from our linear virtual time), and that's fine, but one can't be 100% certain our universe is new either and the other universes are only a few billion years old and humans the only ones out there. Even if we accept that all that exists appeared yesterday in cosmic time and mapping wasn't done fully, there may still be a local God as explained that is not omnipotent, even if unaware or aware of humans. Additionally, if not enough time has passed, technological advances in doing it faster and faster could have caused an infinite like rise in mapping speed, which enable the full mapping to be done in a shorter time, that to some seemed not enough initially.

This mapping of ALL infinity by infinitely reproducing Immortals sounds impossible indeed for some, but only one such civilization exists and they do it with the aid of infinity itself that becomes self-aware thru this civilization. The skeptics would argue that we humans can't keep track of every bacteria or virus strain that may appear, and humans are very much like bacteria compared to the size and lifespan of "Immortals" that, per statistics, exist, even if we don't see or are aware of them as bacteria don't know much about human civilization; hence, God, the first Immortals, the skeptics argue, have an impossible time to keep track of infinite new lifeforms emerging each second at sizes too small for them to detect as lifeforms even (in 1 human second a trillion universes and galaxies of much smaller size have come and gone in an object, but to humans everything seems the same in that object), let alone in bands of electromagnetic spectrum we see less or nothing if undiscovered photonic type particles. Believers argue that they only track those that gain special longevity or that they found a way to keep the speed of tracking expansion increasing, so it outpaces that of new lifeforms appearing.

Believers also say humans can do what no bacteria can, but so can bacteria do what no molecules can and bacteria can end all human creation by ending humanity. When bacteria change things in a huge lake or area, they do it on a scale (compared to their size) as vast as humans using the mightiest bombs. ☺ Regardless of how much they can map or not map, to continue with the first Immortals, at some point in the infinite past, infinity became aware of itself thru these mortals who became the first Immortals who later became omnipotent, i.e. more powerful than any other lifeform of any size. Humans become self-aware perhaps due to small neurotransmitter molecules, right? What if infinity becomes self-aware thru this tiny at first, infinite later, civilization of God? This is where most people will become skeptical and not understand the meaning of God ever expanding and evolving, how can finite beings (neurotransmitters seem finite compared to the seeming "infinity" of a human) bring awareness to infinity and map infinity? The truth is no finite things exist, everything is a part of infinity itself, infinite one energy exists alone, the "all that is" is the only being existing, so the mortals who gave self-awareness to infinity were infinity expressing itself, so it was infinity (not finite beings) that gave infinity self-awareness and self-direction via omnipotence of God, the first Immortal civilization. It's much more than neurotransmitters that give us self-awareness, but it seems they're the ones, it seems finite beings give it to the far vaster human, just as it seems finite mortals, who expand and multiply and become infinite in number (God, the omnipotent civilization), give self-awareness to far vaster infinity of all that exists.

Infinity alone exists so Infinity is not omnipotent, since there is nothing to influence besides itself, only God is omnipotent, as God is different than the rest of infinity. Infinity can't be mapped, some would argue. While it's hard to imagine how infinity can't be mapped, in an infinity of possible events where one event happened, an infinite variation of that event also happened, including one civilization which is omnipotent, omnipotent means able to map and influence all far out reaches of infinity, including our galaxy. Thus, we can argue mathematically, that, weirdly enough, God, the real one, not mini-local ones that are not omnipotent, but God the "first" and only omnipotent Immortal, knows about us humans, as God is omnipotent, God can map out everything. Isn't that funny? ☺ How can God be so cold to human suffering if God knows about us, some ask? God appears cold because we have no feeling, imagination, experience or idea at times of what follows this virtual experience of being a little human mortal on Earth. First of all, God is not always that cold as we think; God, due to being infinite, can love infinite amounts of beings and naturally God does love us and helps our souls to practice building a world of Immortals in our virtual universe we call Milky Way. God perhaps thinks of our troubles as experiences that help us to realize what is more loving (useful in developing the best Civilization of Immortals in the long term), so that one day, we become able to live as Immortals in this or other universes, depending on the soul structure and journey in the afterlife, in case we didn't make it in this universe. In any instant, there are infinite reasons to be ecstatic about, but we become so self-focused on 1 thing or experience, that we forget the rest of reality.

But if this universe is virtual, why bother to become Immortal here? Because it makes us much kinder as souls, it prepares us much better for being Immortal in multiple other universes, the one of God eventually. Why much better? Because it's one thing to talk about living in a heavenly way and another to realize by building Heaven on Earth what it takes to have heavenly behavior, knowing by doing instead of by guessing and assuming, knowing by hypothesis formulation and testing instead of by 'believing without proof or experience'. A trillion people can tell us "an apple tastes like this" or "a mothership traveling at light speed is like this", but if we never ate a fruit from earth or built such a UFO, we will never know perhaps what it takes to build such a UFO.☺☺☺ Only by tasting the apple or building the UFO (experiencing a world of Immortality without any aging, wars, violence, dying in this virtual world for a while until transfer elsewhere) here on Earth, will we know better. But, skeptics don't even worry about that question, as they think "this is the ONLY real universe, we either make it to Immortality here or we lose all chance". Either way, this whole chapter is for skeptics mostly, a little essay on why one can agree that God can exist even if God is a physical civilization and we can make it to 30 billion years old, the proof of science is all we need to realize that, math alone, no religion needed, no unproven stories of miracles and etc needed. ☺☺☺☺

As we can see, the debate and exchange of pro and con views and ideas can continue forever. What everyone probably agrees is that there are a lot more constraints (or even existential risks) to human civilizations than we normally think about, when we ponder about humans making it alive over a trillion years. This realization can act as a sort of unifying force for humans, regardless of their level of belief in "God" (depends what definition one assigns to God anyway), since we have a lot of factors stacked against us, most of them unknown to us, as we have a hard time to understand the civilizations of beings the size of solar systems and how their activities influence our chance to be alive in an area of the universe or galaxy even. We can thus see, that from the human point of view, it seems much more helpful and productive to become inter-galactic and Immortal (very long lived, able to travel vast distances) via eternal hypothesis formulation and testing (science) than to fight over religious interpretations of God and whether this or that type of alien being setup this universe or not. We co-exist with bacteria, in fact, our life depends on it. We only take action against some bacteria when they do something harmful to us. Understanding what human activities may be harmful to much bigger or smaller beings may help us survive. That is not something we usually think about, but if suddenly humans on some planets disappear, it may be due to these inter-dimensional or even this dimensional events, of less known matter, etc that happen unintentionally (some huge being removing something in the galaxy structure that blocks a new type of cosmic radiation or particle jet that is lethal or very toxic to humans, without a specific intent to control the bacteria or humans that do something odd or even being aware humans exist at all). Our telescopes only see so far and only certain things, now imagine some weird aliens out there, not Immortal, some gigantic aliens, the size of solar systems (but made of invisible to us matter) or just 80 miles tall, unaware of humans (or even if aware, not caring about us, as humans don't care about bacteria when dropping certain bacteria wiping bombs or chemicals), fighting and this war ending up spreading some chemical changes to all matter in 10 galaxies, that then wipe out all humans. Imagine how cool and safe it is to be living longer and to be on 100 galaxies: we're more prone to survival, since we have a trillion things stacked against us that we have never seen in our telescopes, understood or experienced yet that we have to be ready for, far more dangerous than our "enemy humans on Earth". If people realized how little they know (ants have weird beliefs but many are false, just as most of our beliefs will be proven wrong in a billion years), they would stop fighting so much other humans and fight to advance science and understanding so we don't disappear in a week as a species, due to things we could have seen if we developed science instead of living in paranoia-fear all the time trying to wipe out other humans.

There could be gigantic (size of 3 galaxies) or even super tiny (a quadrillion trillion times smaller than smallest particle we know) alien beings out there (made of invisible stuff to us) who when fighting or go on a "fishing or foraging" expedition to eat the invisible matter of some solar systems, they vaporize entire galaxies and turn them into some weird nanoneutrino undiscovered particle sets, or weird energy vortices (not black or white holes of physics), or they eat the invisible component of normal matter (a whole solar system, leaving behind some dust from our perception or from theirs, as they don't realize the solar system even exists as they perceive different things, like termites do when eating wood) and change its structure (even if the solar system seems intact from human point of view, except all animals, bacteria, humans and plants are dead), wiping all humans without realizing, something our telescopes never saw, not black or white holes, something totally different. Now, how is that for a survival challenge, compared to some rebel group on Earth? Are we ready to become an intergalactic civilization on short notice before this war or just "random going out to eat something event" happens, so they don't wipe us out by accident? Will we forget our petty wars on Earth that keep us so primitive and realize the trillion times greater (than other humans) dangers to our species out there? One can argue that since vegans and eteris use much less fuel, land, water, resources, if we were all vegan or eterni, we would be able to have way more scientists and to go into space and survive with a higher probability and arrive at a better understanding of existential risks, God and the universe faster. ☺☺☺ In the subuniverse that is more real than the virtual universe we're in, humans or beings who live 1 billion years old (but are a million times bigger and have roughly same number of distinct events in their time perception, so not really Immortals in the sense of having far more distinct events than us), are potentially similar age beings of the same type, so compassion for their virtual universe self (bacteria can kill humans, humans can kill beings a million times bigger than us) extends our life and theirs, enriches our subuniverse relationship.

Additionally, if we humans are out to do something, and we see a lifeform that is truly cute and kind to everyone, we're less likely to wipe it out and take some effort to build something or do our things so as to not wipe those little cute creatures out. Same way, beings who live 4 million or billion years and see the little beings called humans might be way more compassionate if they see we're nice, because they might just be 50 feet tall and can study us in great detail just as we could study a vegan animal that is very small or a carnivore version of the same animal. What is the utility of veganism or, way better, eterni diet then? It helps us develop empathy that might increase the probability we make it out as a species. Spirituality is not meant to be only talk of empathy, but also walk of empathy. To talk about kindness for pets or guinea pigs is easy, but to stop eating animals is a lot harder, given the many ads on TV. Whatever version of God exists, that God may care more about our compassion for other lifeforms that are not as powerful or fortunate as us (not just people, but all lifeforms, even those who're a million times bigger but can die as a result of human action), than about our rituals, prayers, etc. The boundless compassion for bacteria for example, can cause a civilization to seek a diet that enables them to not wipe out any bacteria, leading them to an inter-dimensional matter body and true Immortality. We see thus, how endless compassion can actually bring us to a real understanding of what could be called God's central attribute that we lack, Immortality. ☺☺☺

CONCLUSION: The arguments for God existing, not existing, what a local or universal God can do and not do can go on for trillions of years and pages, but the point here is not so much to prove or disprove we're or not alone in the universe or God exists or doesn't, but to prove that a Civilization of Immortals (that is God like) can appear (again perhaps) in this or other universes, or millions already evolved even if they're unaware of us, being tiny "local Gods" so to speak. Obviously, a real God, that is omnipotent, can only be one, so we can't call the other civilizations local Gods, but perhaps, "old civilizations". Any Godless atheist who knows science and understands the infinity of the universe, realizes that the probability of other aliens being way ahead of us is huge, but we don't know if and when we may meet them of course, if they didn't map out all universes yet or chose to stay quiet if they mapped infinity already as explained above. Why would they be so quiet if they saw us? Perhaps they have their own process of granting Immortality to civilizations that join them? We can't know for sure. We don't give our best tech to anyone randomly and quickly, either, so if such aliens exist, they would perhaps be the same from that point of view? Imagine us trying to give our best tech to mice, it's challenging for us, but we could do it in a special way, help the mice souls become humans via reincarnation perhaps or mice becoming human or shapeshifting? Everything would be so complex. We love our pets ☺ to be living to 9 million too if we live to 30 million, so if they see us as we see pets they may love us to live to 9 million, but we didn't get that gift yet for unknown reasons. Instead of waiting for the good aliens to find us as cute adorable pets and give us such a long lifespan, we can use science to discover how to live longer in the next millions of years. No aliens may encounter us for millions of years anyway, why wait so long? However, it's possible God already mapped out everything and this civilization already gave us the first clues and ideas about how to build Immortality technologies, but they do it gradually thru inventions humans discover without taking credit and saying "we gave it to you". As Tao Te Ching explains, the sage does it all quietly, the best leader is unknown to those whom he leads so that people say "we did it all by ourselves"… like people today say "we discovered all this by ourselves", maybe it's not by ourselves… ☺ Perhaps, some ultra far away century, when we have been Immortal for some eons, and can better understand the "only omnipotent civilization", they will contact us in a more overt way, less subtle than today… If we're in contact unaware with some aliens aware of us and guiding us, are they the God or some lower ones who're mortal and quite confused, or even those who may try use us for their selfish agendas? Highest selflessness can only arrive from the most omnipotent civilization which can do what is best for all beings. That is so hard to know, especially due to disbelief by some in the ability of a civilization to become omnipotent after mapping everything so fast. ☺☺☺

Skeptics could argue the whole argument falls apart when we use statistics the other way: in an infinity of possible events, if an event happened, an infinite variation of humanity happened, including one civilization (not that became Immortal, still mortal) able to wipe out or prevent from mapping out correctly all other civilizations that may become Immortal in some sense of the word locally at their size and definition of Immortality. For beings way smaller, living 20 years is equivalent of humans living a trillion to the power of a trillion years. Does this human size civilization care about those tiny beings who at their level are Immortal, but from human point of view are mortal nothings to be bothered with? Maybe not. So then, we see that the question is very much a mystery, in that we can use the same statistics to argue that Immortality is possible or not possible, that God exists or doesn't exist. Yet, if a civilization is able to stop all others from becoming Immortal, it would have all the knowledge of these tiny beings who became Immortal (20 years equivalent to an infinity of time at their size and time perception), or, as skeptics would argue above, would be able to map out all infinity at all sizes, as infinity infinitely expands due to new molecules forming, new hadrons, new subatomic particles, new dimensions, etc… But the skeptics argued above that such mapping is not possible. If it's not possible, then these people can't really track really small, infinitely small beings or infinitely large beings, let alone stop their attaining Immortality. We see from this that it's quite difficult to prove Immortality of individual lifeforms on a time scale relevant at all sizes, not just theirs, because we define Immortality as a property with respect to mortality, just as something is long when compared to something short. Can we go around the universe ask people if they attained Immortality or mortality, or longness or shortness? How can you prove a civilization of Immortal or long people exist? Immortal, like long, is a relative property, defined by the opposite, mortality or shortness. Sure, some people are long compared to others, but can they be infinitely long? Can some people be infinitely immortal? ☺☺☺ Believers would quickly say that they can, they just map out all planets and create infinitely long bodies made of tiny vibrational strings that form all matter of all inert or organic matter, with these tiny waves going thru infinite universes of infinite sizes, so that when one universe dies, they don't. But hey, how many people can be that way? But the totality of all that exists obviously is Immortal and nobody has a problem with that. Regardless, it's quite amazing to ponder on the fact, that if the argument falls apart in the skeptical mind, and the existence of a civilization of "infinitely Immortal" Immortals at all size levels definitions of time perception is impossible or this civilization is incapable of mapping all infinity, then we may not be in the zone that is mapped by a somewhat Immortal civilization, and have a chance to develop Immortality at our scale and perception of time, which while not infinite, would mean, like for the 20 year living tiny beings, living to a trillion to the power of a trillion years.☺☺☺

So, while we can agree with skeptics that is it hard to prove true "infinitely immortal" Immortality, total infinity mapping or God exists, we can all agree, theists or atheists, that humans can live to a trillion to the power of a trillion years if they set their mind to it. Since we have nothing to lose, why not try to create at least a semi Immortality at our size and level of being, which for all technical and practical purposes, becomes like the Immortality of God and spirits of religions, who indeed, can't prove their Immortality anyway, how can they prove they were around a trillion to the power of a trillion years multiplied by a trillion infinitely? It seems a waste of mental energy to argue how long the "Immortals" live, because it will be hard to prove that they lived that, since the number would be huge. From their perception death doesn't exist, they saw nobody dying for 99.99999999999999999999% of their existence and they don't know in 20 years they will be gone, since 20 years is a number that is impossibly long for them to grasp, just like a trillion to the power of a trillion years is hard for most people to grasp. It seems more useful to instead dedicate our mental energy towards discovering how to live healthy long lives and build those trillion year lifespans, because then we have more time to dedicate to the question about the "longest Immortality possible".

We may have been living a week as insects eons ago (some insects live a week, humans live 4,160 weeks in 80 years), if the soul evolved from that lifeform, and now we live 4000 times longer. Why wouldn't we evolve to live 4000 times longer than present day humans, much faster that hundreds of millions of years and not necessarily by becoming bigger? If skeptics deny God or Immortal aliens, then they can agree at least that we're free to reach Immortality without any impediment, without anyone trying to stop us. So let's do it together. Atoms seem inert ☺ abysmal IQ☺ matter components, but they may not be all so, maybe some isotopes of some elements are part of a civilization of aliens who're Immortal for all practical purposes at their size and perception of time, can use telepathy to avoid being disintegrated (fission) or fused (fusion) artificially, if heavier atoms. Some particles are unafected by fusion or fission. There are quadrillions types of any type of isotope, even if to us all identical isotopes seem the same; if they communicate via particles that are a trillion trillion trillion trillion times smaller and faster than smallest/fastest ones we know, we may not detect their advanced culture, religions, exchanges, way of existence. Compared to humans, on a longevity per weight basis, many stable isotope atoms (not the ones that decompose being radioactive) live a 10^{36} times longer and some particles (unknown to us) probably far longer than our little universe has been around for. Humans are made of 10^{28} atoms, having the weight of 10^{28} atoms and they can live 10^{8} times longer; some heavier than oxygen atoms can live 10^{37} times longer. Cows are big, but can only live to 20 maximum; many bats who feed on insects weigh 7 g versus 0.7 million g for a cow and live to 40, so they live on a per weight basis 0.2 million times longer than cows. Likewise, some birds, small parrots, can live as long as a cow, but weigh just 30 g. These examples show bigger doesn't mean living longer. Fruit flies are small, but live only weeks. Ato disintegrate, particle physics estimates protons live at least a trillion billion billion years (10^{30} to 10^{33} years, which means about 10^{60} times longer than humans on a per weight basis, while stable atoms can reach lifespans of 10^{59} times longer than humans on a per weight basis). One can see how, skeptics can argue "if someone is God, can't they at least give humanss a formula to live 50 times longer?" We're not talking about parrots living 50000x longer than cows on a per weight basis. ☺☺

If God created all these creatures, birds, atoms, God can grant longer life to humans easily, but none of the people who claimed to be God or messengers of God were able to even double, let alone increase 50 times or much longer the human lifespan. This doesn't mean they didn't get some good ideas from God (thus being a sort of messenger of God, but then anyone is who has good ideas, like people discovering things that cure diseases), just that the ideas, as expressed, may be incomplete at least, or a revelation that fit those times when people did not have science to understand they can live much longer and develop much higher and deeper spirituality, ☺☺☺ kindness, gentleness, healing grace, eternal tone, compassion, understanding of God's and afterlife's infinite complexity, etc. God created some stable isotope atoms and protons living 10^{59} or 10^{60} times longer than humans on per weight basis and 10^{30} on an absolute basis (nobody saw protons decay, so they may live way longer than 10^{30} or 10^{33} estimates), birds who live 500 times longer than humans on a years/weight basis, why can't God incarnate at least quadruple human lifespan of some disciples by giving people a formula of things to mix and eat? This would be a true miracle that is very hard to fake. Perhaps God wants democracy, demos kratos, the power of the people, so the discovery happens thru science some future age, so all benefit from it, not just one disciple who lives to 300. After all, God will give people a nice trip to heaven for 10^{99999} years in the first heaven before ascending to next heaven, if we're to believe that "Jesus is the only way to Heaven" ("No one comes to the Father except through me"), giving them such an Immortal spiritual body, why not give people a glimpse of that with a 500 year or trillion year 10^{12} (12, not 99999) old body? If God can make a body lasting infinitely long time, certainly, 500 or a trillion years is a nanosecond vs infinity.☺☺☺

Isn't it odd that no mainstream religion (or spiritual group, music style or music band) focuses on the fundamental human right in a Civilization of Immortals, the right to not be killed (war means people can die young, so no hope of living to 900 or much longer) or have one's lifespan shortened by others (as in violent incidents), on the truth that "no real ethics emerges on a planet where killing others is routine via war and etc", on the urgency or need to bring temporary cessation of all hostilities within 2-5 weeks and permanent World Peace within a few months, 1 year max, this lifetime, not via war but peacefully, as soon as possible as the key step to "Heaven on Earth"? ☺☺☺ These ideas are not even 0.1% of the lyrics content of country, techno, pop, spiritual, religious, anthem music or literary genre, indicating how much our Earth "advanced" culture and spirituality cares about the most basic form of being spiritual and having some refined "culture": not killing others (but also not torturing, harming others non-lethally overtly or covertly). It doesn't seem to register to people that with present focus the "eternal" warfare and violence will continue for a long time, in other words "others getting killed for being innocent civilians or brainwashed soldiers is none of their business, they just sing about whatever topic or religious lyrics, very "sensitive, compassionate and caring" indeed?". Watch carefully the sermons and activities of all religions, music, movies and you can hardly see any focus on World Peace now (it's always World Peace in some "future century"), let alone on eterni tone (not content) for example or eterni music rhythm, known to aid the cause of World Peace and spending trillions on longevity not killing others. Ethics is good behavior, but when the violence, killing is routine and always in the news, the news lower the threshold of what is seen as "acceptable or ethical" and the whole society dives into a deplorable condition ("jungle" or "anything goes") when compared to a Civilization of Immortals where violence is unthinkable.

This then gives us pause and makes us question how religions, music, literature, movies came to be, what was the agenda of the "creators" (which are not always the "founders", as texts are edited by many "creators" over centuries and the real controllers of the events are hidden from history) and what role the historical inertia played in the creation of religion, music, literature, movies? People make music, books, movies to help others feel better, to get rich or have fun, but perhaps most of the hundreds of religions are not having these GOALS. Hardly any song is about World Peace, many of the few about peace are religious or spiritual, talking about some future that never comes, when there will be peace and how amazingly beautiful it is going to be. These songs are nice, but they basically keep the status quo as it is, catalyzing nobody to action to bring peace now, as the lyrics don't explain methods of attaining World Peace now, don't explain we can achieve peace without someone coming from the sky, so we just sing as we wait a billion years when Jesus teleports everyone to Heaven at the second coming, or when some prophet comes again or Buddha in some Golden Age etc. This type of attitude removes any responsibility for creating World Peace as that "is the task of God only", just as God has brought us, not human action, the cure of many diseases for which we worked with millions of scientists. If they sang "we'll cure this", nothing would be cured, they had to make specific plans "we plan to cure this by this date" (World Peace by 3 months from now, not without a date, since no date means 20 billion years sometimes) and actions; today we see lyrics that don't have any roadmaps of how to achieve peace this lifetime. ☺☺☺

Have you ever seen anyone singing about the World Peace Alliance in Chapter 13 that ends all war and violence? Lyrics that present one of 5 billion ways to bring World Peace within 3 months, first temporary end of hostilities within 2-5 weeks, then permanent? The past is gone, there was no internet and instant communication between world inhabitants in the past, so no creator of religion envisioned temporary World Peace within a few weeks and permanent one within less than 1 year. So it is understandable why prophets didn't create such a social movement, music/literature genre or religion. Some argue that revelation of God's Infinite Truth continues daily, thru scientific discoveries that make the Earth slowly a nicer place: we conquered many diseases and arguably became slightly more peaceful than 5 millennia ago. Humans are still killing each other, though in more high tech ways, having remained spiritually identical. Imagine a world where the intent/tone is mostly like this or that. ☺☺☺

14.9. Why present religions are anti-life & very low IQ like physics was in the 1st century

1). The 1st reason religions are anti-life:

The 100 page quote section clarifies the infinite genocidal cruelty of most religions and the 3000 genocides they led to (0.5 to 2 billion dead), beyond the shadow of any doubt, for all naive folks who have been duped by clergy hiding the evil quotes. Such infinitely disgusting filth has no place in legal literature in modern civilized society, let alone an immortalist society aiming for gentle tender soft loving kind nurturing Immortality for All as in the Immortalist Anthem. ☺☺☺

2). The 2nd reason religions are anti-life:

Religions shorten life, they fight knowledge that helps us live 2.4 times longer today. Humans average life expectancy was 35 when most religions were invented, today it's 84+ in many nations. The reason for this 2.4 fold rise in lifespan is very simple: we no longer use the alchemy books of 1st to 15th century, we use modern 21st century science books, based on the latest knowledge proven by millions of science experiments, confirmed as real thousands of times. Theocrats, emperors, etc have suppressed scientists, burned them at stake, as they tried to evolve human knowledge and give everyone a longer life. Not only that, but old texts often have old forms of present or formerly used languages, and we don't publish that junk, we don't hold in school libraries 20-1800 AD nonsensical texts about "alchemy", they're not our textbooks. Religions are anti-life because they force everyone to study ethics, life, ethos, morality with the equivalent of death at 35 causing "alchemy" books about "earth, fire, air, water, metal" ☺☺☺ 5 elements, etc. Religions are a form of psychological torture and forcing the human IQ to devolve to the stage of 500 BC to 700 AD cave men who knew nothing about the universe and its infinite resources that make any war illogical and useless, and World Peace the most beautiful thing.

3). The 3rd reason religions are anti-life:

Religions lower the IQ of followers, because they force memorization of myths and dogmas for which there is absolutely zero evidence evaluated by real science, using artifacts that have not been forged or created, such as fake books, fake stones, etc, and fake lab results to invent a carbon dating range, etc. No unfakable evidence exists for any of their miracle claims☺☺☺, and evidence shows all miracles have simpler explanations and were often staged by fraudsters. Religions don't invite people to think, question, test, verify any hypothesis, they just destroy us, turning decent people into robotic serial killers ready to commit genocide in the name of God.

4). The 4th reason religions are anti-life:

Religions are conmen☺☺☺ business enterprises of trillion dollar theft, invented by empires to subjugate nations covertly, with "places of worship", monasteries, etc being military espionage bases in disguise to subdue entire continents. There is no religion that is decent, that is free of donations, as the Immortalist pseudo religion of Think for Yourself, Believe Nothing without 50 Sources to Confirm, Verify a Hypothesis in an Unfakable Proof Way. Religions are pure fraud, they promise some "immortality" in some dimension, in exchange for donations. Immortalism is not promising immortality in some nonexistent dimension, it's simply for the truthful donation free discovery of the science of extending human lifespan indefinitely, allowing us to one day live to 200, then 400, 800, 4000, and even a trillion. Immortalism realizes Jesus and all Immortality "prophets" were frauds, because if they were God, for whom a trillion years is a nanosecond at the most, they could have chosen to grant 500 or 5000 year lifespans to a few disciples at least. Religions are encouraging dishonesty, scientific fraud, regress and stagnation, as they don't put to rigurous tests any of their hypotheses. For example, we see in nature, the same larvae can live 50 times longer via a different diet, so living to 4000 equivalent is possible in nature. How come these "prophets" have not given us the recipe to live to 4000, like God made some bees live 50 times longer than others via slight dietary changes? Immortalism is logical, it seeks to discover, not to believe without proof fantasies of chimps in caves. ☺

5). The 5th reason religions are anti-life:

The scriptures of Hinduism, Confucianism, Sikhism, Jainism, Judaism, Christianity, Taoism, Islam, Buddhism, Communism, Capitalism, Legalism, etc make it clear that the inventors of these religions want us to live to the age of 80 (max lifespan back then, and average today) and kill others or self in 'justified war' for the man of Tao (Taoist Emperor) in defense as explained in the Confucianism section, or as Jesus gave his life or as Mohamed/Moses killed 3000+, or to please Krishna's desire to exterminate nations, to beg to attain nirvana after dying at 80 and be a burden on society while striving for nothing except detachment and having no goal in life than some hypothetical nirvana, blown by every trend, to go with the Tao/Buddha flow and die at 80 blowing by the wind of change with no direction for life or death, to attain political power for communist workers via genocide, terror and die at 80, to make as much money as a capitalist via cheating, exploitation and covert genocide and die at 80. In all religions, death is accepted as natural, a given, nothing to ever postpone or defeat, a step in achieving enlightenment or a life eternal with one's serial killer Mohamed or Moses "prophet" in the heaven of 72 virgins, or 3000 pregnant young ladies and helpless 5 year old boys Moses killed via his psycho followers. Religions don't ever consider the possibility of being Pro-Life, meaning anti-death. Religions are thus the epitome of pure Death Heavy Metal 'Satanism' that worships death, chaos, destruction. Behind their facade of being pro-life or anti-abortion, lies the real truth, the genocidal scripture, the rejection of God's Infinite Nature and Eternal Life Granting Power to grant us a 'femtosecond lifespan' in the life of a young Immortal, meaning a trillion years lifespan. Religions are anti-God, anti-life, pro-"demons", pro-death, pro-chaos, anti-human, 'satan' (mythical anti-God) worship, mere hallucinations born of the scarcity mindset of a cannibal chimp who sees limits and limited resources and won't walk 1 mile to grab a banana, but kill their neighbor to steal his banana. Religions are the sick fantasies of lazy cannibalistic chimps who won't walk 1 mile of effort via science to discover how to live to 4000 via new tech that removes the need for war to steal resources, 1 mile of effort to discover how to live to a billion, choosing instead death & war, doom & gloom. Let's Redefine The Goal of Life and Human Civilization as Immortality for All.☺☺

These religions, like all others, were made up by various "worm IQ" persons of bygone eras, who, in their attempt to obtain political power, and subjugate millions, managed to create strong traditions that gave endless war (no prophet told them World Peace in 3 months is possible) and destruction, as believers in each myth killed the others. They all have one thing in common: the worship of fast death, of short life, the pure 'satanic' demonic worship of death and indifference to building trillion year lifespans, to develop the intelligence and tech to test hypotheses about the afterlife as an honest person who accepts the truth and nothing but the truth, not claims and speculations. Immortalism is not a religion, but a way of life that unites all humanity into one quantum field, that deifies Life Itself, prioritizes being Alive forever itself, the Way of Life that unifies the species' field of consciousness into One Focus of Eternal Life, that unifies all humans into one Body of Immortality for All who aims to live by the simple ethics of "May All Live to an octillion, in peace, bliss, with Eternal Universal Peace and zero violent crime of course, zero wars, so each can discover by hypothesis formulation and testing what the afterlife is like or may be like, and live eternally as an Immortal in 2 dimensions, both here and in heaven, as it is possible. Religions are about beliefs, memorizing "cockroach IQ" dogmas written millennia ago by gnat IQ folks who couldn't understand there are always a trillion ways to achieve any outcome (nirvana, immortality, understanding of God) without dying, without violence. In contrast, immortalism is about Discovery and Thinking for Ourselves, about scientific proof. To Bring God's Kingdom on Earth is not to worship death, but to bring the Kingdom of Immortals on Earth, yet look at these religions, it's all about snail IQ circumcision or baptism torture rituals, consumerism and belief without proof, never about discovering how to Live to a trillion to understand a trillionth of what's like to maintain a heavenly realm where all are Immortals.☺☺☺ For all their pretense of spirituality, all these religious donkey IQ phonies waste a whole life with materialistic pursuits, cosmetics, beauty salons and 1.4 trillion $ a year in Vanity Pursuits of Utmost Egoism and Depravity. Everyone can become an immortalist by thinking it, no fees, no violent and rat IQ rituals needed. We help all live to a trillion, that's the only belief". Very simple. If you're a religious person, immortalists respect your monkey level of intelligence, and wish you well in raising your IQ. However, you would be hardly pressed not to agree with immortalists that that the above religions are nothing but demonic death worship, disguised as ethics by mixing 5 nice quotes with 2000 bad quotes to distract and confuse, enslave and dupe, like a vampiric alien group trying to keep humans stupid, fighting, bound by the myth one has to die at 80 to reach happiness, which is a lie, there is no proof you go to the heaven described, so honesty demands we're scientific. We may need a trillion years to understand God or the universe. Once you realize all religions are evil, fraudulent, leading humans to worship death and destruction, you value trillion year lifespan for all focused societies of 11 companies and 3 agencies, meaning you work 20 hours a day to bring 4000 year lifespan at first for all. The faster you quit religions, the longer time you have to help discover the nutrition that helps all live to 200, 400, 800, 2000 to create a bridge for other better longevity techs, so no human alive has to die at some stage.

"May all live to a trillion or forever if they don't ascend to new universes"

CHAPTER 15 - Immortality & Parenthood, Parent Licensing

15.1. Intro, parent license, 222 weeks off for parents, brain size doubles in the 1st year of life

15.2. Pre-birth Telepathy and Pre-conception memories of babies: probably made up stories

15.3. Studies & hypotheses about Pregnancy, Birth & 1st Year of Life, baby IQ and sentience

15.4. The very deep thoughts and feelings of unborn and newborn babies who learn very fast

15.5. The effects of parental touch in the first hours, days, months of life on baby IQ, health

15.6. The Dangers of Hot tub, Sun Heat, ULTRASOUND Scans, Baby Movies and, low UPF clothing around genitals before conception (higher oxidative stress of testicles); solar UV can decrease blood antioxidants, as we fight free radicals from UV, so covering the entire body in bright sun helps during preconception and pregnancy block UV &, if a warm climate, block IR (heat) too, via the heat reflective qualities of many lighter colors/clothes made by Eternal Clothing Inc.

15.7. Medical intervention births lead to far more complications. Epidurals early in labor led to 12 times more caesareans in one study. Midwife assisted births fare way better

15.8. The better outcomes of water births: far less pain, 10 times fewer caesareans in 1 study, 33 times fewer episiotomies in 1 study compared to air births, 2-5 times shorter labor. 12 times fewer caesareans when midwife present in hospitals in 1 study. Water births can be pain free

15.9. Increasing IQ of babies by proper pre birth and after birth nutrition, play and stimulation 15.9.1.3 explains the importance of BREASTFEEDING fresh (not donor or earlier pumped) milk. See why cow milk formula is so bad, besides having 73 times more AGEs sometimes. "superiority of mothers' own milk to donor human milk & infant formula" Ntr 2019;11(5):974.

15.10. Free astral travel books for World Peace and Immortality for All

15.1. Introduction, parent license, the importance of the first year of life

The next 150 pages are useful for "wanna be parents". Ctrl+F "infertil" in this PDF to find "infertile, infertility" sentences with what nutrients infertile couples need to become fertile again. 9$ pill is cheaper than $50,000 IVF, plus baby is usually healthier. You can jump to the 15.1.1. 222 weeks off for parents for every child section or 15.1.2. Autism. Immortalism helps young people to find a spouse using dating.gov to match their DNA perfectly, so that their kids don't die on day 3 or 9 of life or live like a retarded vegetable until age 45 due to autosomal recessive disorders or develop fatal cancer as a kid or mental illness (ataxia, small brain, etc). The Amish, Orthodox Jews and most Jews (since they were inbred most of history, only recently they ventured out more), Muslims inbreed a lot, causing the frequency of birth defects of certain types to be 10 times the average, for example the Amish have 10 times the rate of kids born with 6 fingers, while Jews have 10 times the rate of kids born with Taysachs. Insanity birth defects (less obvious as it comes with no deformed body parts) are also higher, hence the tendency to maintain their insane cults. Populations with inbreeding got 17 times more microencephaly birth defects, meaning ultra low IQ, Pakistan is the worst. Pakistani were 3.4% of UK births in 2005 (55% of UK Pakistani married their first cousin, so they got 13 times more genetic disorders), 30% of babies "with recessive disorders and a higher rate of infant mortality,", so UK MP called for banning cousin marriage due to its genocidal effects on human lifespan, which is a form of global terror, like the Islam terrorist organization itself. Mohamed, Moses, etc were no prophets (Bible, Quran encourage inbreeding too, by telling Jews to avoid marrying others, etc), they encouraged inbreeding, contrary to the knowledge of ancient humans who avoided it. Wikipedia has more on inbreeding. Avoid having kids with residents of Muslim majority nations (the quantum link to the most fanatical religion will have a very destructive effect, even if 'partner' quit Islam) and of South India (see table by So. India religion), as they're the most inbred part of humanity (2 billion: Arabs (0.4 billion), Afghans, Turks, Indonesia, Sudan, Bangladesh, Nigeria, Middle East, North Africa, Pakistan, Indian Muslims, S. India Hindus, Sri Lanka, see the World Country List Ranking, it's Muslim dominated). Muslims follow the most violent religion, like religious Jews do too (Old Testament is as violent as the Quran it created, see genocide data here, marrying genocidal groups has quantum effects and karmic ones, i.e. conscious support of a highly destructive ethnoreligious group engaged and responsible for 900+ genocides via Jews, Islam and Christianity born of Jewish Bible), giving the least peaceful genes to kids, least connected to God. They refuse to give up their inbreeding "culture", there are 2 billion of them and still refuse to marry distant people, let them marry their cousins. Other highly inbred groups (who're still allowed to destroy humanity's DNA and commit covert murder by inbreeding that shrinks lifespan of offspring, due to the freedom of "religion" (psychotic cults of death)) are religion groups, cults, where everyone is related to the founder: Religious Jews (Samaritan, Hasidic, Haredi), Hutterites, Amish, Mennonites. How would "Immortals" approach parenthood?☺☺☺ In a very democratic way, based on the principles of equality talked about in the immigration chapter. Any immortalist government would require a parent license, since not knowing the minimum basics in this chapter even, can mean 10 miscarriages before a conception (which damages the uterus (future babies too) and depletes energies, time of conceiving couples by 1-10 years) and conceiving a baby with severe birth defects. We also need a parent license because, sadly, as these 6 videos show: parents kept 16 kids in a 12x12 room full of feces and junk for 4 years (more details here), many parents smoke fentanyl and other drugs in the presence of infants, toddlers, living in a trash/pet feces filled house or beat kids for winning a game on Christmas twice and hurting dad's psycho ego or mom stabs 2 year olds in the presence of 3 other kids or a mom killed her 4 yr old and his him in the backyard, another mom yelled and beat her kid while doing drugs losing custody, so the government needs to quiz the parents, at the end of each 1 hour module, on the 1000 pages of the Parent Course they take online BEFORE CONCEPTION, which also has to be done at ovulation to prevent birth defects. The housing.gov section has many videos of ultra dirty homes with dead/sick kids: clip1, clip2, clip3, clip4, clip5, clip 6, clip7. Thus, every 2 weeks, mother has to take the phone and take video of the house to make sure the house is sanitary, AI detects. The parents have to watch and pass the quiz daily the ethics and science (30 min/day age 0-0.5, 1 hr/day age 0.5-1, 2 hr 1-1.5, 3hr 1.5-2, 4hr age2-3, 5hr 3-18 (online schooling, lab classes are separate, 1-2 times weekly, age 3-22) video watched by the baby too, to raise the gentle tender soft loving kindness coefficient of parental tone of speech, of parental emotions while they do speak with the kid, to train kids in all subjects, speech, language, writing, etc. The kid and mom/dad watch it together, one of the parents who is with the kid that day more. Thus, the kid, can by imitation of tone and such learn the letters and other things and the tone that parents can't have during stress of lactation and bad sleep, since this video available to all US new parents, has the best voice in 200 million proven by MRI and effects on human kid/adult brains for the stimulation of the brain centers and behaviors related to Eternal 0 Violent Crime, gentle tender soft loving kindness. This creates one universal accent in USA, born of the happiest most eterni voices in USA, one female, one male.☺☺☺ The kids are smart, they always imitate unconsciously, learn from the tone of speech, from the emotions felt by the speaker during the recording and they become like the emotions and tones of those speaking to them, the stressed parents, teachers or the amazing video of the happiest most eterni tone on Earth. Kids don't learn from the kindness of the words used, but mainly the kindness of tone, emotion, action.☺☺

It will be necessary to create a co-habitation license too, for those who don't want kids yet (since parent license is far more tests and lessons to take and the two may not have had the time yet to decide), since most violent crime is done by people closest to you and not everyone has the basic upbringing in ethics, relationships, equality of action tone, to prevent tension that becomes violence. AI cameras need to alert police when yelling, frowning happens, because yelling, etc often leads to violence. Classes on tone of speech, accountability are taken or cohabitation license is revoked. The pathological side can use unique body and face language to intimidate coerce the other into emotional suppression/silence, which builds up resentment, then explodes into violent crime. So, everyone needs to take a more proactive approach to violent crime if we're to eliminate it. Given the new system of zero aristocrats and renting and buying/selling a house in 3 days, everyone can split easily, and keeps accounts separate (as explained in the 40 pages about the LGBTQ scam and marriage futility), so as to eliminate the trillions of violent crimes that occur daily, via what is called "yelling" and "nontouching physical sabotage": yelling is a physical violence, as the sound is physical, affects the brain and ears and 2 people shouldn't be together if there is yelling or any tension. The arguments over "he or she spent this and that on vanity beauty salons, gym memberships, sports events, etc" stem from the cow IQ decisions to have joint accounts. Don't complain about partner spending joint $$$, just keep accounts separate. Be proactive. All finances need be separate: true love☺☺☺ only emerges when respect exists and the possibility of leaving within 3 days exists, as a warning to all manipulators, saboteurs, drama queens/kings who love to make every home a hell. Most people only behave ethically when the threat of leaving exists and is real, supported by every law of the land. They got the chimp DNA of a master manipulator, liar (even babies lie all the time to get candy or whatever from parents) and slave owner, due to the aristocratic brainwashing of capitalism that's totally opposite to the Immortality Credit Score. People don't appreciate what they have if it's taken for granted and the object of posession can't be taken away from them for years or months. People don't value what is free and a given, due to capitalist brainwashing. Your spouse becomes just "another pet to keep on a leash or train". Most humans are too mean, violent, chimp like in subtle ways, to behave, once they know it takes years to split, to find a house, to divorce, they use that as a way to revenge, provoke incidents to get more of the estate by claiming "abuse" (records only the response, not the provocation to build "her case", can't do it, video exists of everything, games end, lawyers find other jobs, we have no time for role playing, but to do research to live to 4000), strangulate the other psychologically and the house becomes a boxing ring emotionally, even if no physical fights exist, it's like a concentration camp in Nazi Germany. The terrorist isn't always the guy, it can be the female in 50% of cases, as they're 50% of human chimps. "The Corrupt Business of Child Protective Services" report by a Georgia state senator was published before she was killed, indicating that the PDF may point to less comfy truths about this organization☺, which would need 10000 times less staff if you had real centralized education, ethics videos daily for kids and parent license studies, quizzes, etc of 20 hours/week for those who were not brought into the new "a daily ethics video in eterni tone of the one universal English accent"☺ system since birth, to make sure no parents will employ violence and run out of money for food, basic needs due to smoking, alcohol, weed, gambling, sports events, etc addiction via the new 'one use only' (via a code for each basic category) parts of income that are strictly for food, clothing, health, etc, kids. Prevention is far cheaper for the US budget than cure, but when fools rule, waste is infinite.

We're chimps who fail to realize how far we're from the Immortalist Anthem, we live a little longer than chimps because we have their ethics, if we had Anthem ethics, we would live to 1 million. Happy Immortals☺☺☺ means Happy Families. Thus, to achieve zero violent crime we need 2 licenses to assess capability to happily coexist, before a duo tries to bring a new life in the world, to make sure the two are compatible in real life (not just on paper on dating.gov algorithm and 25 dates), they really like living together, not just dating, since 24-7 tension will do as much damage as 1 physical fight a year to human longevity. There is no point in applying for parent license until you found a cohabitation partner who matches your "persona" in real life, after living together as platonic roommates, to make sure that arguments don't arise at all, or if rarely, they're solved via "tension busting techniques" and other tools from the license education. To the analytical mental human of the future, sex is a curse, an ugly chore of our evolutionary stupidity, so they don't have the necessary evil until they decide to pass the parent license classes. People who find the other incompatible, can leave within days, so no child is ever conceived in an unhappy relationship. The human animal becomes the human Immortalist. Happiness only exists if it's a mutual happiness. Living in a terror state can make people lose 10-20 years of lifespan, develop cancer, hypertension, endless diseases by self-neglect, both the terrorist and the victim (usually both are the terrorist and the victim to some degree, even if one can be 95% in some cases), so it is the duty of the state to prevent 97% of today's marriages, which are toxic by the immortalist definition, since nobody gets any real cohabitation or parent license, going clueless, unarmed into a minefield, which it is, as men and women brains function differently, especially if one is introvert male and she's extrovert female (a recipe for disaster), given that guys are already more introvert and less emotionally expressive. For the same reasons we need AI cameras everywhere, as privacy is not as vital as Immortality for All, and we need to give up the ideas of marriage and sex outside of pro-creation, which sabotage the very goal of zero violent crime, zero possibility of manipulating, enslaving others covertly, as it often happens today with the more crafty and covertly violent "spouse", who is a piece of trash, or as it happens due to both being mean, unskilled in communicating, manipulative, coercive, aggressive, pushy, combative or clueless about tone. Many marriages are like a race to the bottom, box rings of emotional, covert manipulation until they divorce. This is due to a society of incredibly low filif IQ, a trillion times lower than etlif IQ.

So, to raise a new generation of kind compassionate happy kids, we need a new tone in teaching that can only be in video form due to the stress of the child birth, with parents simply adding here and there and all teaching done by the lecture for all US kids. This chapter has some studies on the dramatic effects of parental emotions (3-6 months prior to conception, during pregnancy and the first year of life) on IQ and emotional life of the child (overall anxiety, anger, happiness level throughout life). After reading this chapter, many people will be in disbelief that this can be so, and probably want to read these books themselves and even then have the same doubts. But those doubts will dissipate perhaps when you realize that if you build a computer the wrong way, with electrical failures and while angry, anxious, tired, lacking sleep, etc, you will make mistakes, cause short circuits on motherboard, components, etc and build a computer that will be lousy for its entire life. And no matter how many repairs you're going to do, that computer, like a poorly built car too, will break much more often. In the same way, 90% of the human brain is formed in the first 21 months of life. (9 months of pregnancy and 12 months of the first year of life). The baby stimulation chapter and this subchapter (that deals with playing with prematter babies) explains in detail how one can stimulate baby before conception and in the first 21 months post-conception, so some brain areas are 900 times bigger than in "up to now born" babies, leading to an easier time to take humanity towards "living to a trillion", "eterni tone", "hourly astral travel" and "hourly meditative ecstasy". At minute 35:16 of brain platicity video we see imagining we're doing something (live to a trillion or astral travel or nirvana) activates and GROWS those brain regions in us and the baby 800 TIMES FASTER (as baby brain grows 800 times faster in the womb and way > 800x faster as prematter baby) (as much GROWTH as when we're doing it) we sing (mentally or verbally prerecorded ideally) to in eterni tone. If the parents are trying to do a billion things (they could slow down and calm down, take it slower), don't sleep well, get angry, watch negative news, get into any negative emotional state, don't meditate, don't smile a lot, rest, engage in happy moments and acitivities, the brain of the child will be poorly built for emotional stability and dramatically increase the likelihood of the child being unhappy for his whole life, struggling with same negative emotions, unless he undergoes some heavy meditation happy states cultivation while young for 3 hours daily to rewire most of the brain, undo the damage. But most people don't do that, so by the time they're 35, it will take MUCH more effort to rewire the brain and literally, it won't all be reversible in all cases. Why? Because when a computer is built badly, sometimes repairing it doesn't fix the issue, and we can't replace components in the brain like with a computer. ☺☺☺

Parents without proper parent license training, let their kids for centuries to play in the snow for hours, to the point where knees and feet become wet cold, 40°F, point at which the damage to the lower legs and knee joints starts to build up with every play outside or trip to school, where they walk 1 mile in 15°F weather to the school, with pants that are too thin and shoes, socks unable to keep feet/lower legs warm. Every parent or teacher needs to measure feet, knee temp upon arrival to school in the morning or home from school, or kindergarten if they walk together or the school teacher should, to make sure that all kids got proper clothing. Kids don't know cold feet or knees will damage their joints for life. They think it's normal to be cold in cold weather. This incredible stupidity of parents can cause "joint pain" to occur 10-20 years sooner than normal. If we want kids to live to 150 without joint pain, we better help them by not destroying the synovial fluid by repeated daily temperature shocks from 80°F inside to 45°F outside in the snow. This issue affects people in most nations, because there are days of the year in 60% of human settlements that are cold and wearing shorts then would be bad, as the knee joint capsule synovial fluid temp drops to 45°F. As this fluid becomes so cold due to 42°F outside weather and shorts or thin pants, etc, it thickens, and it damages the joint progressively, with cumulative damage building up, for the cells creating this fluid. Ladies have more arthritis and 3 times more rheumatoid arthritis than men, possibly due to them wearing leggings and skirts in cold winter, which thickens the synovial fluid. Even Hawaiians can get it, winter storms bring temps to 50 at times in higher elevations, and if we wear leggings or shorts, the same damage will occur. It's time for ladies to be real and wear thick pants. No more showing off your legs. Likewise, if we want kids to have healthy eyes, we can't let them go from 80° inside to 15° outside without winter wrap around glasses, as that temperature will cool, thicken and damage the composition over time, not just the joint synovial lubricating fluid, but also of the eyelid meibum oils that are key to keeping the eyes wet and preventing dry eyes caused by the atrophy of the meibomian glands that generate thin watery lipids to prevent tears from evaporating from the ocular surface. Repeated thickening of eyelid oils via cold temps leads to blockage of the meibum orifice and the start of atrophy we see in 42% of kids, who then get red-dry eyes decades earlier, leading to blindness at times via infections. Parents and teachers need to be educated in proper protection of legs, eyes, skull, since cold temps of the head without thick hats can damage brain tissues leading to early onset of neurodegenerative disease. Some people are genetically predisposed to a higher melting point of the thick synovial. So, dress up. If your kids or employees got cold knees, use a 660-850nm IR cap or 6-14 µm pad to warm the knee or elbow joint, the pain usually vanishes in 1 minute, without destroying organs and brain with "anti pain medications". All employers need to measure the knee and toe temps of employees upon arrival to work once a year, and another day upon exit in the colder days of the year, randomly, to ensure they got protection at work & to work, to prevent arthritis, to save $300 billion in MD visits. Everyone needs to wear thicker pants if the knees are cold, or special pants with thicker plush knee area. All cops, military folks need to get warm knees and legs to prevent arthritis via amazing beautiful colorful immortalist uniforms of eterni ethics. The 11 companies are amazing, you get some car breakdown, it sends error to the station and in minutes someone comes takes car and gives you a loaner car as only Eternal Travel Inc sells/fixes cars. You don't need to freeze your legs in rain 5 hours waiting for someone to pick you up, because your plan has no road assistance or wait 10 weeks to find a "cheap dealer", to fix it and kill 5 legs/folks in a car crash in the wait game of deathist capitalism, antithesis of immortalism.

Every citizen has the Eterni Bank account and it blocks any purchase of coffee, soda, tea, energy drink that contains caffeine until child is 2 years old, to avoid caffeine in the fetus or breastmilk. No male or female with license is allowed any caffeine before conception, as caffeine causes birth defects, and delays conception by years, causing endless energy wasting. A long list of miscarriage and birth defect causing chemicals and foods will be created, since basil, many mint herbs, etc also cause similar damages. In Australia, if parents are drinking too much or doing things that could endanger the child, the child is taken away at birth. A better scheme may be to tell everyone to have sex only after they got a parent license certifying them free of alcohol drinking, coffee addiction, smoking, weed and other destructive habits that give birth to a low IQ, lung damaged baby. Likewise, they need to mandate all people watch 300 hours of video before getting marriage license, to ensure real love, for spouse and kids, like in the Immortalist Anthem, answering the credit score 400 point ethics categories for the marriage – how does marriage help each category, and that they won't start fighting, raising voice, etc, since too many cases of fights, verbal or physical exist. Those interested in being parents ought to first take a 1 year course, 10 hours a week, or 30 hours a week for 3 months, to make sure they know what needs to be done, they can meditate and be happy☺☺☺ without stimulants, without coffee that causes brain damage, heart damage, low IQ, and other problems (chronic health issues due to low birth weight, etc). All want equal rights to this and that, housing, food, voting, etc, but fairness means family size equality too, so all have max 3 kids, unless one's immortality credit score is higher than 99.99% of people, to prevent some from having 12 that become beggars as in Muslim areas trying to outnumber Hindus. People scoff at this, but in immortalists, fully disagree that a "psychopath who beats his spouse has the right to have a kids". No, his only right is lifetime labor or death penalty, if they agree to implement death penalty for slaps of any human, or punching, as explained in the section on creating a society with 0 violent crime, the prerequisite for ~~Eternal Universal Peace~~, a peace that lasts for 5 trillion years not just 40.

This is why people don't see how the historical inertia, the drama of wars, the anxiety felt during warfare, violence and on TV, movies, etc are influencing epigenetically and programming the DNA to form damaged brains skewed towards negative emotions, towards paranoia, violence and all negative states that lead to violence and war. Knowing this, the Immortals, seeing how 21 months of each child influence 500 years of life, institute a program of real training for would-be parents and give them the biggest holiday of their life, during these 21 months, off from work, so they can have the strongest epigenetic erasing of negative emotional patterns possible to undo the damage of thousands of generations. The turning on of the Anxiety Free Immortal Mindset that prevents all crime and violence, is a gradual process, and it's much easier for anxiety-free Immortals to actually have such a state of infinite happiness ☺☺☺ during 21 months of life so as to build the most tranquil, intelligent and amazing brains for the future Immortals expected to live even longer than 500, maybe 550 or 600. However, this can be implemented partially even in civilizations that only live to 100 or 150 and they gradually move towards awareness, in the light of the neuroscience and the studies you will read below. These emotional patterns may be completely independent of genetics in some ways in the same way that in a family where everyone has diabetes and eats meat, a person with their genes starts eating healthy vegan diet and doesn't develop diabetes for the first time, showing that genes' potential to do damage is turned on and off by behavior, by choices of parents or individuals.

The same thing happens with the genes of the brain and brain architecture and emotional response to life being basically epigenetically influenced by the 21 first months of life dramatically, far more than when you're 10 or 30 years old. Why 1st year of life? Because this is the after birth year when the brain grows the fastest, by 100%, it doubles in size. Why pregnancy? Well, this is when the brain grows super-fast too, not 2 times, but thousands of times in size, even faster than the first year of life. The 2nd year of life brain grows only 15%, third about 4%, 5th about 2%, etc. Kids have 2 times more neurons than adults at birth and 2 times more synapses, and this makes them a real sponge for any emotions and thoughts of mom and dad. The basic Emotional Architecture of a person may be mostly finished by the first year, or 21 months from conception. For a few cents a Civilization of Immortals can print a brochure with these studies summarized to give to people and people can freely access online pdf files or videos/books like this free book or have these emailed by gov automatically to any newly unexpectedly pregnant or trying to conceive couple so they know these things and it will probably extend lifespan a lot, eliminate $25 trillion in lost GDP due to IQ lower by 10 points, poorer health, unneeded violence, crime, wars and help bring World Peace. It's important to not do circumcision, if possible, since it has many negative effects on baby. So does full immersion baptism, that harasses babies in cold water, naked, away from mom. ☺☺☺

As explained below, our birth system has become more mechanized and assembly line like, with babies taken away from mom right after birth, injected, weighed, incubated at times to prevent emotional learning and bonding, and with birth trauma incapacitating emotional learning of kids, leading potentially to violence, crime, world conflict and suffering, autism or incapacity to comprehend and assess others' emotions. This may be one reason autism rates are soaring in direct relationship with cesarean rates and other ultra medicated births that shock the emotional life of the fetus and his brain. In 1970s, Netherlands had 70% of births at home (30% today), many in water; they had the best birth statistics worldwide, see below. It could be that in civilizations of the telepathic "Immortal" humans of the future, this period becomes 30 times more important, because they got these 21 months of life create a brain architecture the person will have for 900-4,000 years, not just 90. If we take a bee larvae and we give it royal jelly since birth for the rest of its life, it grows to live up to 50 times longer; however, if you take a worker bee, that was not fed royal jelly while small (equivalent to human fetus and infant stage not getting ideal nutrition), the genetic expression already occurred and now the change into a short lived individual is irreversible. Likewise, if we do a nutritional intervention in an adult human or 3 year old kid, we may add 5-25 years to its lifespan if that healthy diet continues, but if we do it much earlier, in fetus (mom diet) and first 12 months of life when the body grows fastest, we could add 3,000 years to the lifespan. So, as a society we have to ask: do we want to add 10 years or 3,000 years to human lifespan? But how can we know what to add, if all females are so stressed out and working during pregnancy, especially when baby is big last 4 months of pregnancy, how can they read many studies on nutrition in this and other books, and rest all day so all body resources go to building the best human so far in that family line, and to record all nutritional intake so we develop the knowledge of what extends the lifespan the most? We give people 1 month holiday a year often times, and people spend it, but no holiday is given during the most critical moments of a mother with 1-2 kids (typical today), last 5 months of pregnancy? This is inefficient or not ideal to say the least, because the intervention and care you do for the baby in that 5 month interval is worth 10-40 times more the intervention you do 5 years later in a holiday with that same kid. When we talk about intervention and care (as in interventional nutrition studies), we talk about everything, tone of speech, tone of thought, tone of emotion, that will be imitated by baby (eterni tones takes so much energy, that mom and dad can't work full time anyway, especially mom last 6 months of pregnancy needs to get time off to rest and be able to practice the tone of Immortals), not just foods eaten recorded meticulously with analytical balance, etc but even behavioral, love your unborn baby, surround him in good energies, rest the baby, treat it with happy☺☺☺ harmonious music not traffic noise, (like the plants who grow much healthier and bigger in happy sounds, etc).

We know that if you get an injury immune system cells go to the site and leave your face and you get acne, likewise, if mom is all stressed out about this and that, nothing goes to the baby to build proper 130 year long lived baby, but to her muscles and brain to deal with the hectic hell created by a mentally "deficient" society who has drivers license for car driving, but no rest and education required for pregnancy at all. What we focus on grows, healthy baby focus leads to that, doing gardening, soccer, video games etc – send nutrients and focus to mom's brain and muscles (not baby's), not resting, meditating and surrounding the baby☺☺☺ in golden loving kindness, or visualizations and positive statements like "We will build a world of Immortals, live to a trillion if lucky" that the baby hears and then repeats "live to a trillion" when born as first words since he heard it often in the most loving tone full of gentle tender soft loving kindness. People take care more of their phones, computers and cars than of their babies/kids and tones of speech (which create the tone of thinking, feeling, behavior of the baby by imitation). A phone lasts 2 years and can easily be replaced, but a baby lasts 4 millennia if intervention is right in that early stage. What are our priorities, life or objects? We see endless pregnant females (third semester, when baby is big) doing stuff that is contraindicated instead of resting, while other people, who could help do those chores, wash their cars daily or do some rather vain and useless activities. Why do we as a society care so much about so many things, and not at all about this critical period to living to 5,000 years old by nutritional intervention? Some atheists will say, "forget it, we're all machines, I like computers, cars and caring for them all day while ignoring my baby/family"; but hey, think about it from self-interest alone, at least: if baby lives to 500, he could help you, the parent, to be luckier still and live to 30 billion years old like Immortalli in the movie. Pregnancy would be by definition the happiest period of someone's life, so the baby becomes happy and optimistic, which is important in living to 120 or 700 later on. No sex during pregnancy is advised by many MDs as sex depletes body of nutrients and because testosterone, male hormones and sperm chemicals etc can cross into the serum and cause the birth of a baby with no gender and infertility (no penis, or penis (or half penis) without opening, or closed vagina, or no testicles (scrotum only), no uterus or ovaries, the so called infertile "intersex"). Many foods are forbidden during pregnancy due to their interference (like sperm can) with male-female hormones ratios, leading to genital malformations (or girl with penis and male voice etc, if "lucky" to have fertile offspring) and infertile offspring, etc.

15.1.1. The 222 weeks off from age 0 to 7 for new parents in every immortalist nation, to decrease the stress (creates crime) of the 99% during childbirth by 10 fold to the level of the 1%:

Before going into the details of the 222 weeks system (long discussion), the first 3 paragraphs explain what parents can do before that law becomes true in 4-200 years, since honestly, it may take decades and by that time, nobody can be a parent who is already 30 now. But we need a long-term plan, a vision, a hope, because in 1810 workers often lived (for millennia) as slaves dying at 40 after 80 hour weeks for decades and all it took to bring some change and 80 year lifespan was a little plan, pamphlet, set of ideas (printing became cheap in 1800s, as ebooks are not free to print and distribute), like this book does collect some basic goals of the workers. The astaxanthin section explains what happened after JFK destroyed USA via proposing lowering of taxes for the rich (from 94% to 65%, as Reagan the final destroyer of USA did with 65% to 35%) and destroying the US middle class, as CEO pay rose 2000% from 1960 to 2021, while worker pay only 9%. This led to having no money for kids and US already had zero paid time off federally for parents, being more of a slave colony, more so as each decade passed since 1960. As JFK pursued all out destruction of the US workers under the cover of "leftism" (to be less detected), as all aristocratic clans did, US became a banana republic where all jobs were sales and marketing of stuff made in China and elsewhere, with all industry, except military, destroyed and outsourced to others that make pills that contain 50 to 5000 times less mg ingredient than listed. As we devolved into a 3rd world country republic of clowns☺☺☺ and 10 times higher adolescent obesity, IQ dropped and we realized that laziness is King and outsourcing everything, is the way, so we outsourced kids' education too, trusted the nursery, schools, colleges with catastrophic effects, as the youth was unable to discover anything of substance as previous generations did, except how to change their gender, increase breast size and penis length, use 1 lb of makeup weekly, 40 piercings, 45 tattoos, 4 kg of hair dye & play chimp sports. Parents blindly trusted the system, gave kids to some lady, a small business owner, who didn't really care much about the kids, being 1 adult for 10-20 kids, leading to lower stimulation and lower quality intellect. Some kids become disabled, as big dogs maul their face or leg, since nursery gal was a big dog fan. A parent loves their kid and takes better care of their kid using proper online materials and classes, and makes a better complimentary teacher, etc. Most teachers are also unaware of the basic ideas in this book and will raise an average kid. The kid will be polluted and destroyed by the infernal vibes of the fellow kids, who're subject daily to a barrage of demonic music on TV-radio, bad parental tone in the presence of kids, plus bad tones of speech, and kids become like the peers, teachers around them. Today, all parents have access to many free online platforms to learn any school subject from home (khanacademy.org and others allow tracking of student progress, homework grading, etc), youtube lectures, software classes (coursera.org or edx.org), for every subject, the parent can review the best sites for a given topic and the textbook, wikipedia, etc, plus parents can refresh their knowledge, find a youtube on a topic, watch it together, explain it using a tablet (that allows handwriting for easy chemical formulas, to stimulate the brain areas related to handwriting) or white board with eraser, etc or even read the textbook together and make a new video on Living to 4000 Biochemistry for 4 year olds, etc. This allows parents to design physics and chemistry of 4 millennia lifespans for all grade levesl from nursery to 12th grade, to help create a new educational focus unlike any of our "rodent IQ schools training "memorization zero inventions chimps" who adore fast death at 80 as a slave of corporate criminals". The fraudulent religious schools and others brainwash kids that the purpose of life is to move a ball thru hoops and etc, so the priority becomes shouting like Hitler while playing chimp sports, instead of conscious physical exercise to stimulate precise sets of muscles for 1-2 minutes using eterni music, gardening (learn to grow food, spices, jasmine or other scent giving bushes, photosynthesis $6CO_2 + 6\ H_2O = C_6H_{12}O_6$, etc) or exercise in the rendering of service to a cause, to develop compassion for those neglected by society in its love of useless material object purchases that remove any chance of World Peace and zero violent crime, the very basis of any civiliation that these phony fake miracles based religions so vehemently claim to try to build (while 97% of donations are going to the staff, 3% to actually helping the needy, the whole scheme being more about jobs for those pretending to teach the truth, while keeping everyone as short lived and ignorant of real ethics as possible, with parents paying astronomical sums for this "special education in being as clueless as possible", a brainwashed parrot with no real awareness about how criminal genocidal spies invented most religions in their quest for a more efficient and universal power to subjugate all nations. ☺☺☺

Parents no longer need tutors if they forgot some things, as online sites have exercises, etc, able to replace school, without the risk of kids being recruited for a gang or other odd activity by a bad kid. If we take a human and give it to chimps to be raised, the kid will become a retard. Likewise, when parents give kid to "retards" (like sadly many in the educational industry are), kid will become the average chimp without any focus and loyalty to immortalism, and even worse, live in terror if bullied and harassed at school, get punched by "cow IQ" violent kids, etc. He'll waste his entire life, following the mob of genocide and slavery eternal. Many people are loaded with cash or equity, and could easily retire by downsizing to a cheap town (many Florida towns have 100K houses even without the crazy harsh winters of most states), live frugally and raise a kid or two the proper immortalist way focused on how to increase human lifespan to 4000, etc, but instead choose to amass more useless paper money, or have some silly job to maintain their "luxury status symbol" life, instead of choosing a simpler life with 1 kid educated the correct way, instead of these idiots doing it, as the TV-radio satanists define the tune, content and ethos. Pibank.com offers 4.25% interest, better than most CDs as the bank section details, while a pressure cooker and buying the raw materials and cooking it under water with no salt is 10 times cheaper (lentils are 10 times cheaper than beef and contain 25% protein) and 10 times healthier than buying premade foods created by genocidal aristocrats who need a reason to loot the workers of trillions of dollars, by forcing on our throat at gunpoint ads (the so called "free media" owned by aristocrats) about their poisonous products: the cans leak toxic metals and BPA, microplastics, the food packaging too, the AGEs kill us, salt they add causes plaque and via that heart disease, vascular dementia, organ failure, added sugars cause diabetes and belly fat, etc, pretty much 1 trillion dollars wasted yearly taking care of the issues these aristocrats cause, all paid by the same slaves, the 99%, via health insurance. The phones, WiFi laptops in schools are designed to destroy the workers' kids brains (Israel, France banned WiFi in primary schools, WiFi routers in classrooms are like cell towers, weapons of mass destruction, their intensity is so high, far stronger than home WiFi, which itself is lethal and a clear example of human stupidity, laziness and suicide for the sake of "convenience" of not walking to a laptop or desktop wired connection, so then all become fat, sick, short-lived), the rich ban cell towers in their areas, as they know towers kill people. They murder us to spy on us and remotely control us with connected devices. Nobody needs phones except for emergencies. They add endless food poisons to increase sales, while making everyone stupid, sick and obese. The money wasted with paying MDs 20-80x the minimum federal wage to treat easily preventable diseases of high salt, sugar added to foods, cans, etc could have been used to replace all carpets with wood to add 3 years to every life and provide better protein. In the organized British-Jewish mafia state of USA, you need to protect yourself against these bandits if you want to save money and then be able to feed your family, while working part-time or living in a very frugal way and on the savings. 1 genius can help humanity than 50 million kids who simply follow the mob. His value is 1 trillion times higher than the extra million you make by working more and outsourcing kids to "snail IQ teachers" who pretend acting like adults. Imagine how much higher the critical thinking and 9000x higher immortalism focus is, if he's home schooled by you, gives you a higher chance to turn your chimp self into an immortalist, since the kid forces you to filter out your bad tone and behave much better as you would if a teacher with kids. He won't learn the depraved content of the demonic educational system, be it religious demonic education presenting Bible as holy or demonic public education who place sexual books on the main library door to create pedophilia victims. Don't ever forget the Jewish Talmud on having sex with 3 year olds, the drugging and butchering of kids to steal their kidneys (advanced drugs that wipe out memory), etc, do you trust a daycare Jew pretending to be gentile to correctly educate a gentile whom the Torah (Old Testament of the Bible) ordains to rape, cut out of wombs, kill? This book explains how via online education, kids minimize school trips, using school for labs only and parents are able to see the lab wired cameras to check on their kids, how they're present in the lab and not doing drugs or being abducted. Bible, Quran call for beating kids with rods, general beatings, etc, so how can any responsible parent trust such animals (pathological liars who claim such filth is the Word of God) to raise kids, when they can bully kid to not report to parents the beatings and abuse with powerful mind control and torture methods? Any sane parent who has read the Bible, Jewish, Quran, Gita quotes and see what public schools teach today (what ethics focus they have, etc) would consider home schooling and if going to college, living off campus away from insanity. Teachers who tell kids such genocidal "scriptures" as Word of god are either "cannibal chimp IQ" or evil. You don't want humans raised by monkeys, as they will become monkey like. If parents want to work, they can choose perhaps 3-4 days work a week, alternate, so 1 parent is home half the week to homeschool and avoid paying $$$ to "fruit fly IQ" schools.

Schools are designed to create "sheep IQ slaves" to put it midly. They're for profit criminal enterprises today, the police section shows 30 videos about horrific shootings, crimes happening to kids, adults, 6 year olds using a gun of dad to shoot fellow kids or teachers. This is USA, with 280 times more guns/capita & gun deaths vs Singapore, we're savages, made so by the demonic Republicans of Eternal Javelins, Shoulder Nuclear Weapons for all... with the satanic help of Demon-crats who flood the gates of movies, music, scriptures, with violence, drugs, animalism to incite the workers towards slaughter, for the eternal profits of the "Nobility Class of Extortionists and Torturers of the Working Class": the more crime, the higher the looting yield, the more fear the masses are in, the more extortion: the rich control both parties in a total all out war of subjugating extermination of the slaves, the 99%: one party provides the javelins (guns), the other the mind training to commit violence against fellow workers: never against the rich, never a protest near multi-millionaire/billionaire mansions and cities, always staged protests about dozens of irrelevant topics, like abortion, LGBT which wouldn't be an issue with zero sex outside procreation, zero violence in movies-music-media-books, staged protests all kinds of minor issues, pathetic laws about redistricting for fake elections, migrants (secure borders would not yield any protests about migrant mishandling, but the rich need slave labor for insane profits, so they pretend they can't pass a law to secure border for 80 years, when they control all political parties for 250 years and everything in Congress, White House, Supreme Court is a scam, staged clown circus to fool the 99% that they "choose" something, i.e. their eternal slavery*)*, etc. Aristocrats care about increasing lifespan of a few people in their immediate circle, while immortalists about adding billions of lifespan years to the nation, so aristocrats destroy nations, while immortalists triple the average lifespan of nations. In 2023, US had 352 gun related incidents in schools, while Singapore 0 in 100 years. Go figure the safety of US schools. Do you want one day come home from work and get a phone call that your kid was shot dead after you spent 500K with education at "salamander or nematode worm IQ schools" the rich designed to subjugate all?? Americans are too brainwashed by the Gun Lobby to realize the school gun incident rate is 1 million times higher in US than some nations, it's like having schools with tigers roaming around or pitbulls without a leash (avoid big or medium dogs if you don't want infants mauled to death in 3 seconds while you're distracted). Would you enroll a kid in a school that allows unleashed or leashed lions in classes as a pet of the "honorable teacher"? Kids grab guns from places where parents forgot them. Making a little extra money is not that critical, be frugal, as the Bank section explains, since the future is the kids, they can discover how to make people live to 4000 and build Eternia. Most kids who finished college at 18-19 were home schooled by dedicated parents, though degrees are of no use per se, Tesla didn't graduate so early and discovering something doesn't mean graduating at 18 from MIT like one guy or etc. Inventiveness requires rest, creative thought, not stuffing self with memorized books you can repeat by heart. ☺☺☺

The 222 weeks system requires a vast 11 companies reform of society to be able to pay for it and make proper use of the centralized unified English accent education of all infants, kids, parents, as members of the national Family of Immortals☺, via the emergence of a national planetary consciousness of immortalist brotherhood. Our parent, the Immortalist Anthem, educates his kids equally the same way... to create a peaceful family, without guns, without violence, without filth (from all directions) the rich dispose generously to sadistically destroy us all on purpose. Today's system is anti-life and anti-nature. We know from a billion science papers that if you work 80 hours a week for 5 years, you increase the risk of death by 5-25 times, even if you relax on holiday for 5 years afterwards versus just working 10 years for 40 hours. Likewise, if you work 32 hours a week for a longer period, you damage health even less, as you take better care of kids and self. So why don't we make 35 hour workweek or 32 standard and retirement age 75, so we focus on health and longevity 8 hours a week? The aristocrats steal trillions from the state and workers, and then the workers get 0 hours time off by federal law, when having a baby. How can that be, when aristocrats can have 222 weeks off? On top of that these genocidal aristocrats control the 2 fake criminal parties, Republicans/Democrats, to arrest any parent (youtube got 5,000 videos at least of overworked parents unable to deal with 1-2 kids) and take away the kids if parent leaves them alone 20 minutes due to having gained 145 pounds by aristocrat healthcare and food for slave system (they live as Gods of a parallel society, as parasites sucking the blood out of every worker, with their own towns, neighborhoods, health facilities, stores, etc) and having to work 75 hours a week to feed the 2 babies. The demonic Al Qaeda like terrorist aristocrats use the workers (cops) to terrorize and jail the workers, take the exhausted overworked workers kids to child services to increase trauma and lower worker/kid IQ for more efficient subjugation of the working class offspring, while faking elections for 250 years, as the Infernal Royals taught demonic Founding Fathers (British Empire General Aristocrat George Washington, lover of slavery of 200 nations and all) to do. Many young people are expected to:

1). live in a room or moldy 1 bedroom apartment where faucets leak and rats, fleas, bed bugs, milipedes, cockroaches, mice, dust mites, dog ticks, and other creatures crawl

2). raise a family in this crowded place while listening to a drug addict above (pet hospitals, but no hospitals for people, all have dogs, 90 million, but border has only 10000 dogs instead of a million to prevent all drugs entering USA via ports, mail, etc) playing music at 3 am waking the whole complex with his music or at the other hours, his insane barking dog.

3). work overtime so 50-65 hours a week, save a litle for a downpayment, destroy health for 10 years and your child's upbringing, yell at kids daily, smash a few objects too as you're angry at the aristocrats who fire you 50 times and change location 50 times in 10 years for low IQ useless jobs, while they sit in one place and never have to deal with unemployment which is made illegal by Immortalists when aristocrats are wiped out, everyone assured a job in their area at one of the 11 companies by proper stress distribution. Milk cortisol goes up 10 times and screws up the kid's brain whose emotions are all negative like mom's, as parents seek a new job when husband part-time or full time money isn't enough, then you raise a kid alone as divorce happens as husband is fired too and can't find a job either. A kid killed by the aristocrats forever destroyed by the fights, job changes and charade, pure genocide against the working class. Then these same genocidal psychopaths jail people for theft and violent crime they create by the system of 50000 times higher pay per hour, mom has 3 jobs to pay for the most toxic formula with 97 times more deadly AGEs than breastmilk, too stressed to produce milk even

4). support retirees wasting time who do nothing, for 20 years, yes and live in a house 2-3 times bigger alone, as you work to hair style them, to hair shave them, to massage them, to install eyelashes and mascara for them, to hair dye them on your 4th job on Sunday mornings 5-8 am.

5). educate kids by living example to become nonviolent citizens free of so much paranoia, negative emotions, stress, psychopathy, with eterni tone void of stress and aggression, an IMPOSSIBLE TASK, etc. No parent can create a 0 violent crime society in such madness. To reduce violent crime 1 trillion fold and sustain it, we need central help, central education, real protection of parents and parental leave before and after birth of a new kid.

A brief video explains what abortion is like and why we need 11 companies to ensure zero unemployment, all have a stable job and income during the childbirth process: the genocidal aristocrat fires people left and right, for his greed, causing endless abortions. Well, by now we realize that the youth today can't have kids and our society is geared towards COLLAPSE without radical changes. The youth is being used as "pig IQ" fools to buy $ trillions in useless products for the aristocrat profits; these animals make everyone acquire debt, while immortalists forbid credit and more than 1 bank. The debt acquired in mutilating body ('beauty' industry) and buying lethal poisons and junk makes it unable to have babies, aborts people, wastes time for all. Nobody will have kids, that's what we see today, they wait until 50s or 40s, which can be too late or impossible for ladies at least. The system is of an ☺abysmal IQ☺ that borders insanity, it's pure national suicide. The people who can be parents are crowded in tiniest worst places and the retirees live in huge houses sitting empty and destroying thus the future of the nation. Wouldn't it be more logical to retire at later ages and make everyone work 35 hours a week, so the stress is more evenly distributed and life expectancy higher and retirement happier due to having a kid or two instead of none like many today due to pressure to work so much? Let's say we have normal jobs with the 11 companies with 0 unemployment and 40 hour weeks. Say you work from 22 to 62 (2025 retirement age), 40 years of 52 weeks, 2 weeks vacation, so 50 weeks of 40 hours on average, 40*40*50=80,000 hours worked in 40 years. Imagine if instead, you would have worked 80,000 hours in 50 years, it becomes 32 hour weeks, an extra 8 hours a week to properly take care of your health, your sleep, kid's ethics education, kid's health, etc. This early investment in having one extra kid and in 222 weeks off as a parent will make you happier later, as you had time to go to the doctor and prevent health issues by a better diet and prevented 40 diseases gained by 60 hour a week jobs with crazy 12 hour shifts. Extreme shifts and distribution of work creates permanent damage much faster that you carry from age 23 onwards. With an equitable 11 companies system of equal physical exertion/stress and other forms of stress, we reduce the need for gyms and sports 1 million fold and we move towards an intelligent society that aims to give all 150 average lifespan instead of the 0 IQ today. We see in many nations with huge life expectancy for women, of 83-90 retirement ages being very low, meaning these childless ladies will just sit around, being a burden on the nation's only hope, the young females who have no time for their kids, nor a decent place to call home. And don't start the ☺abysmal IQ☺ story about grandmas help raise kids because that will make a nation of fools, a grandma's IQ and brain is much smaller than that of a young parent, she's stuck in the pre-internet age, and is not even that related DNA wise as the kid, having much less ability, via quantum entanglement to understand the kid. The parent has many more live☺☺☺ neurons, received much newer science based education (instead of beating kids and kill entire nations Bible education), makes much faster☺ and more intelligent decisions based on reading 1000s of papers like in this book, or others, youtubes, having a far more plastic brain and able to learn stuff so she can help her kid. Grandmas are not ideal childcare. Childcare is for parents, not grandpas. Grandparents can help, but it's evil to replace parents with grandparents, look at these grandmas of USA, would you trust these ladies to teach your kids? Or pehaps you need to watch the Chinese grandmas and other fights over worthless items? The idea that one should respect elders who punch others and fight over cardboard, etc just because they are biologically old, as Confucius says, makes less sense when you see all the videos. ☺☺☺☺☺☺☺

21 months is 1 year (after birth) and 9 months (womb) when the brain reaches 80% of its size, a year = 52 weeks, 9 months = 39 weeks (9/1252), total 91 weeks (91 is 19 inverted or 20-1 inverted, or 7 times 13) for each parent or 637 days for each parent, so 182 weeks off sounds like a good idea. As explained at businessinsider...8 Hungary already offers 180 weeks off between parents, Lithuania 178 weeks☺☺☺, Sweden 87 between parents (many countries have dad months which can't be moved to mom, and lost if not used), Estonia 84 weeks between parents, Canada 78 weeks between parents, Serbia 72 weeks for moms, Sweden 69 weeks between parents, Denmark 52 weeks between parents, Norway 45 weeks moms 10 dads, UK 40 weeks paid 52 total between parents, Iceland 39 weeks between parents, Vietnam 26 weeks, Bangladesh 16 weeks, China, Chad and Congo 14 weeks, USA 0 paid weeks, the land of Republican Aristocratic TERROR. Immortalist nations need to offer pregnant ladies the entire month off for the last 120 days of pregnancy and the first 90 days of lactation (until baby is 3 months old) due to the huge stress of proper copious lactation on the body and of the baby last 4 months of pregnancy. She can also take any day off when feeling weak, sick or etc. even before that month 4. Every pregnancy is properly planned by getting the parent license and this enables mom to listen with the baby to meditative breathing and immortalist greeting meditative bliss classes in the days off, so she can raise the happiest baby known to mankind until that date ideally, with both parents taking some of these classes in the evening, so they both quantum entangle with the baby via their DNA to be ultra happy, but especially the mom as she's directly overflowing the baby brain with endorphins of happiness and she will be the happiest she has ever been her life with the biggest holiday ever to love her baby and listen to the 5 hours daily of education.gov classes on baby nurturing, kind eterni tone of feeling and thought, affection for the baby in accordance with lines 8-40 of the Immortalist Anthem to love the baby at least a trillion times better and gentler than the best mom did last decade. This creates better parents-kids bonds and eliminates systemic abuse in millions of childcare settings. Pedophiles or violent spanking psychopaths often run these centers, that's why parents aided by the most gentle tender soft loving kind videos are a better solution. Kids take care of parents when old, so parents have a way higher self-interest to take care of the kid to avoid a life of hell.

This enables mom to rest more and take care of her diet more, to make sure her stress level is lower than usual, to prevent creating a psychopathic violent kid. This means mom gets 30 weeks off to start things up, or 150 days off minimum, with an allowance of a few extra days before month 4 starts, so maybe 170 days around birth time, so a total of 34 weeks. Dads also get some time off around this time, but not full time, as their stress level is much lower, so they will get an allowance of say 44 days, or equivalent of taking 8.8 weeks off to take dad classes on parenting and relax, learn how to meditate, be happy, smile at baby and mommy, etc, since some males are totally screwed up, addicted to smoking, etc and need to learn to meditate and receive tehse classes, which, knowing his Immortality Credit Score file and purchases via the Only Way to Buy, Eterni Bank card, will be custom and aiming at removing any alcohol, coffee, smoking weed addiction and other unhealthy habits, like nail biting, finger chewing, irregular sleep, etc. Some rest and remaking of oneself would be helpful to avoid polluting the kid and wife with one's sick habits. 214 days among them until baby is 3 months old and 894 days afterwards next 8 years. Dads who live in a bad neighborhoods can be invited to take meditation classes in a very nice serene healing center to help them lose their pathological addictions, though these processes start well before parents receive their parent license before conception, to ensure the baby embryo is not damaged by drugs, smoking, alcohol, coffee (miscarriage, inability to conceive fast, birth defects in offspring, weak embryo). Mom becomes a new being with so many classes, the happiest mom ever, aware of what to do with the baby, how to teach him physics and chemistry, and math, since prebirth exposure to various sounds and science concepts will make it easier for him to discover how to live to 90000. Everything is the approved universal education.gov classes that are required in each day off for the happiest baby. The days off are not to waste time smoking or drinking alcohol, or watching violent movies, but to follow a specific alcohol smoking weed coffee free healthy diet and routine of 0 violent or negative emotion content, that brings maximum emotional health for the baby. Anyone who fails to take these classes (can't fake it as one has to click thru some pages, the PowerPoint presentations, etc) and the weekly quiz, will lower their Immortality Credit Score. ☺☺☺

After baby is 3 months old and the milk supply healthy and copious, parents 3-4 day work weeks, until baby is 3 years and 3 months old, so dad spends time with kids 1 day while mom is at work a max of 6 hours daily (so she can come back and breastfeed the infant, who usually sleeps 20-22 hours anyway first few months, so dad works 28 hours, 7 hour shifts, 4 days, mom 18 hours in 3 days; this means dad gets 1.5 days (12 hours) off for 3 years, working 28 not 40 hours, mom gets more due to the need to breastfeed baby until the age of 2 for a stronger immune system. This means 234 days (1 day=8 hours) off for dad and 429 days for mom. Parents work alternate days, with one parent at home when the other works, so they don't use so much time to travel to work either. This is due to the need to sleep more due to baby cries and issues, and the need to teach baby to walk and do other tasks related to the daily classes that parents need to take alone and with the kid to ENhance his IQ to the maximum level, besides EQ. After year 3 and 3 months, they work 4 days a week, 9 hour days, on alternate days, so that one parent is home until age 8 and 3 months or so when they start going to school more for the science labs, field trips, etc. This means they work 36 hours only, not 40, since it's work to help kids with homework a little, as video teacher instructs when test score is low. They do need 8 hours of real work among them, to help kid 1 hour daily with taking the classes, the quiz, etc. Due to getting 4 hours or 0.5 days off for 5 years, this means 260 weeks times 0.5 or 130 extra days off for each parent, so 208 days off total, plus 214 (Feb 14, valentine's day) around birth, 234 and 429, adding to 1111 days or 222 weeks, close to the 180 weeks maximum people get off today in 2 EU nations. Parents can all choose home schooling, which is effortless via the online centralized education, so in this case they can go to work regularly, by being always able to see a video of the kid taking the lessons and talking via video chat with the kid using an app in the TV that turns on, to avoid WiFi or cell signal in the house that damages brains and having mom pop up as a window 10% of the screen during breaks if anything is needed or the kid presses the button which dials both parents. This system ensures that parents don't always have to work alternate days and kid can be at home alone sometimes, after an agreed age, which is normal in most nations. In 100+ nations, including many EU, and even USA in the past, all school kids went to classes alone from age 6, no parents accompanied them, since violent crime was rare and nobody had guns (except police). So from 6 to 18, I walked to school, sometimes 4 miles daily if going back to the chemistry lab 1 times/wk. Never did anyone attack or threaten me and this 2 miles daily and I passed thru some bad neighborhoods. So, as the violent crime is bought to 0 almost, kids walking alone will be OK worldwide, since a violent crime = lifetime labor or death. Crime is created by aristocrats to justify jailing and exterminating the working class. By distributing 222 weeks over 9 years, we make it more efficient in raising the kid with the most eterni tone experience, instead of the psychos raised today by the psycho tone of daycare and kindergarten teachers who can't all have the tone of 1 in a 50 million people in an online recording proven to be the most beneficial for ethics brain centers stimulation in the audience.

The online teacher (same accent and AI voice for all USA) will guide kid to rest and meditate a little too after each class, to breathe gently while the most relaxing music is being played and he keeps eyes closed. Since kids only need to go to labs 2 days of the week max, on those 2 days, parents can also work both on those lab days, so they can get the weekend off for the entire family. The age when kids go weekly to labs and spend a whole day there may be 6, 7 or 8. Until then, all labs are simple at home chemistry and physics experiments are easy to do with kids parents receive by mail, or group projects with a few families they choose, like planting a tiny flower or tree or doing some "community service" to help a cause. The 222 weeks first 8 years are there to make more time for parents to assist kids in using the online universal one accent system of online tests and video classes, to replace the need for expensive daycare and other kindergarten, etc facilities and angry tone teachers who screw kids up. At home indoor air quality can be much better and we make residential housing and zoning 5000 times more important than commercial in every city. The video teacher uses eterni tone to teach kids how to write, compute, etc and instructs the kid how to take the test at education.gov/m4598 address for a math test for 6 year olds, etc. One parent at home with the kids at any time. Parents need to get parent license first, to comply with universal education pre and post conception, daily video education to fulfil the need for daycare via centralize universal accent, equal number of kids per family max to prevent "Muslims have 12 kids Hindus 2 scenario". A daycare worker doesn't and can't love a kid as a parent would. Assembly line daycare facilities mean families are less prone to peace and understanding, since they don't talk to each other. Lots of family conflicts stem from this lack of parental leave, which ultimately fuels various types of negative emotions, which pollute the information field of humanity, leading to crime spikes by ripple effects. This way, we no longer have daycare centers and everyone watches the amazing daycare classes on huge TV made by education.gov☺☺☺. Same for kindergarten. Kids who're with their parents can also choose to meet other kids, if they visit, for group activities and small science labs at the Kindergarten Science Labs. All schooling is from home, except for lab subjects, teacher and tests are done at home online, via the videos from education.gov taken when one feels like. This system allows quantum entanglement of parent with the kid (same DNA) that is better that teacher-kid and gives everyone a uniform English only national daycare curriculum of development that enhances human quantum field unity and the parent-kid bond. The kindergarten and grade 1-12 classes can all be learned online via huge screens, except for labs, and they can play with other kids too, as parents meet to have kids play, mother drops kids to a family and they rotate where the kids play, which house of which parent. This allows parents to prevent psycho kids from influencing one's kids at school. It creates more peaceful homes and stronger families. All parents talk via video link, wired one to prevent WiFi damage to kids as in these demonic schools of mass extermination. All tire pollution harms kids health, even if electric cars drive, less traffic noise means less death via car crashes. Time to put family first and centralize education for same accent in all kids. The parents can see kid at home any time via the video camera that watches the kids atending online classes on the kid TV screen. Higher air quality too, less traffic jams, etc. Say 3 couples decide their 3 kids to play at their 3 houses on a rotation, with either parent being able to watch the play via video camera if not there. This way, there is a higher quantum entanglement and resonance as the families are similar in Immortality Credit Score, preferences, diet, music likes etc. ☺☺☺

employer doesn't have to pay ► chicagotribune.. But 58% of American companies do offer some form of paid maternity leave and 12% offer some paid paternity leave. Out of the world's 196 countries, the US is one of only four nations that has no federally mandated policy to give new parents paid time off. At least, US and other countries who lag behind in this matter, could create via Immortality Nurturing Agency, a system like Social Security, that keeps track of Immortality Building Days, not of money. How about moms rest so the baby can grow healthier? The rush to do a million things and acrue more money only gives same short lives. Since a Civilization of Immortals' main goal is lifespan tripling, etc, it is ultra easy and logical to allow flexibility in holiday and sick time use. For example, many companies have flexibility as to when you take holidays or sick days in a year, but often times, you can't acrue these, you lose them if not used. The new federal law would forbid the loss of holiday (or even sick) time and enable the husband even to acrue 9 months of holiday-sick time and use it as a transfer to his wife (or viceversa if she works at a company that offers more holidays, or saved more holidays 5-15 years before first birth, since her job was not as stressful, and wants dad to be home for a few months around birth time) in the last 5 months of pregnancy or first 6 months of life, so the baby becomes 300 year human, not 100, due to a special care they took to make it happen. Rocks live to 3 billion, humans can't reach even 80 million, are we that smart? Also, most women no longer have kids after 50, due to menopause, even if working another 20-50 years. If they can take 1-2 days shorter vacations ages 50-80 (or the Average Life Expectacy), as a percentage of the employer offered holidays, they then can claim at age 30 when having a baby a future allowance of a few months to take off for the first few months of baby's life when baby brain grows fastest ever after birth. The interesting thing is that the US has much higher infant mortality rate than most developed nations, and the US is the only developed nation with no government paid time off. Could it be that the first year of life is so critical to future adult health that this lack of parental time to love the baby contributes to higher infant mortality and lower lifespan for Americans compared to many nations, even if we spend more on health care? Having a baby would be the most important event, and people would save holiday time for that for years. How can you build data if moms have no time to record their activities? In an ideal world, we enroll all babies and moms into Planetary Immortality Study, so we get 130 million data points a year for what diets of mom (pregnancy, lactation) and baby (first 12 months, eterni formula added to breastmilk) are best for living to 120; like if you split foods in small packages, each with a barcode, and moms enter what they eat daily into their phone or desktop, or their account on NIH website, they get one of the 0.1 million combos possible for the top 10,000 nutrients in the human diet (mom and baby formula, etc). In the absence of such a study, with eteri-vegan foods in packages (like fruits, veggies, in transparent bags, preweighed, only sold for pregnant moms, etc, weighed and the fruit subspecies recorded to correctly evaluate vitamin and phytonutrient content, which can vary 2-10 times), moms and dads need to be citizen scientists and record it for future generations to the best of their ability to estimate protein, carb, fat, type, vitamin, mineral, food, etc intake to better assess in 300 years what diet did. But how can you do that when people spend 10 months on holiday before and after pregnancy, and during pregnancy, they don't have time, since they work for money, their God. Why make money our God, instead of Immortality? Several studies in this chapter presented the amazing and beautiful ☺☺☺ communication between parents and fetus and how the fetus learns from the parents.☺☺☺

As the fetus is bigger, its conscious brain communication with the mom deepens. This allows for something to be done that few have tried before, since before 1980s there was no awareness of just how deeply the parents can communicate with the baby. We all know that for every 2 parents out there, due to their genetics they have an organ that is genetically more likely to be weaker, if one parent's genes get inherited, so the fetus stage is one of a lifetime opportunity to give that organ a boost and use the biophysics of gentle tender soft loving kindness to change genetics. For example: moms often joke with their unborn baby that they're playing or she reads him in eterni tone something nice, many times unconsciously, without aiming to develop the verbal skills of the baby, but this is what happens, baby's verbal skills improve (see sections below). Likewise, when mom rests, with eyes closed, she/dad can communicate with the baby, smile at him and play with the baby mentally in a way that stimulates that weaker organ (for example massaging that organ or kissing it or projecting a beautiful image in the baby's mind, with immense richness, etc to develop visual acuity, etc). Most people will think the baby won't know and it's just an imagination exercise by the bored mom/dad, but usually the baby understands a lot more of what the mom/dad does. Let's say that the mom or even dad kisses the fetus mentally or verbally and tells him mentally or verbally "we now visualize this beautiful warm (she feels it) loving ecstatic light surrounding our '...fill in the blanks with weak organ'. It feels so good." Dad can help with this too by recording something to help mom focus, they can record it together, etc, and she listens to this ultra eterni tone, recorded in the happiest moment, to advance the science of healing. This then sends extra nutrients, neuron development, etc to that fetus organ, and has the chance to change a gene that was there 3 millennia. We have discussed at length in the massage therapy chapter about biophysics effects on physiology, how simply massaging an area stimulated fibroblast skin cells, (how massaging or kissing gently weaker organ first year of life can help too, etc), this is the same biophysics at work, except we can't massage fetus like in real life, only mentally. Fetus stage allows for easier change of genes (like with bees) than 1st year of life of course, as everything is very fluid then. A baby has 2 times more neurons than an adult, the fetus brain is far more plastic than any adult will ever dream to be, or even 2 year old baby (known for brain plasticity). A 7 month old fetus learns faster than adults, responds to stimuli, adapts its brain faster than adults. As mom watches for example amazing pictures that stimulate her visual cortex, this stimulates the same in the baby, as she meditates and develops happiness brain states or the thicker neocortex of multi-tasking higher brain function eterni tone, this develops the same in the baby more.☺☺☺

As the tone of content, thought, emotion, speech section explains, eterni vocal and content tone requires one to be the most rested ever for weeks, before one can reach high % of eterni, it's the most brain demanding activity one can do, as it goes against decades of neural patterns, more demanding than the most difficult math-physics-etc. This is impossible with a normal stressful job, you simply can't do it, just like when you're tired you don't want to go to a job interview since your voice and cognition are poor; thus, to prepare for such spech, the couple would ideally benefit from practicing this well before conception, from date number 1, speaking with the other like they never speak with anyone else to help them exercise this new speech, this new emotional life, to help themselves and the other to break free from the patterns of millennia of "..." (we know what human history is like), which are associated with a chemical brain structure. We don't become a good violin player or car driver from first try or world chess champion from first few attempts, so if pregnancy is the first time one tries to speak emote think like that, it won't be as good as when practiced for a while beforehand alone or with the baby co-parent. If dad has a weaker organ X and mom has a weaker organ Y, it may be better for dad to "imagine playing with the baby in a way that stimulates baby organ" Y and mom to do same for organ X "hey sweet baby, embodiment of gentle tender soft loving kindness and infinite immortal bliss, we're going to play for 10-30 minutes, imagining this beautiful shimmering purple, or golden or rainbow light bathing our "organ x area" and making us so happy, I give you a wave of loving kindness, you feel free to give me one too if you feel like it's enjoyable, watch how happy I feel, radiating this cosmic bliss and speaking like an angel mentally or verbally", so that if chemically the gene of one parent is there, it's easier to change by resonance to the better version, doing genetic "editing" via biophysics of quantum entanglement and molecular resonant information transfer. To determine what works best, we would have to do large studies to see if meditating 1 hr daily and imagining a golden warm loving energy surrounding both parent and baby organ has any effect. Ideally parent does it when happiest in the day (after reaching semi cosmic bliss), mornings, most rested, and closer to when fetus is scientifically known to be most awake, we need 70,000 parents to see if this influences which parental gene version gets inherited and in what condition (changed, how much, depending on how long daily meditation was, 2-10 or 30-60 minutes, etc). However, the habit of being happy due to ecstatic meditation endorphins flooding mom/dad and baby brains, strong desire to live to 800 can be given to the baby from the fetus change by mom/dad reading (or ideally playing prerecorded when tone is worse than the eterni tone recording made prior to conception) inspiring Immortality books, or listening with eyes closed to some Immortality audio book or recording or pleasant relaxing song or dad talking about it in the most eterni tone.☺☺☺ This needs parents who're rested and in their happiest states ever, on vacation, to be able to influence via this gentle meditation, various activities the nutrient flow to a given organ or gentle eterni speech brain regions, and the electromagnetic reality of that organ relevant for the couple. But what do we see in real life? Parents wasting holiday time when not pregnant, yet this is the few months (4-7 before birth) when gene changes are deepest, and when you can add 500 years of lifespan easiest. When you're 20, trying to do that takes a billion times the effort and tech.

Revisiting the chemical & city analogy to time travel, we get to a more complex perception of the independent /(infitesimally dependent) reality of the future "soul" and future human choices, i.e. communicating with "'City B' Immortality Knowledge loving and storing (released by his City B higher self when loved enough by earthlings) baby" is not limited to when baby is a fetus, but even before conception, so the genetic "editing" effects of this communication can be studied too (is "imaginary" talk affecting the future that "doesn't" exist in our "perceived" reality?), City B is independent of human reality in this dimensional universe in the time travel analogy. But why wait decades for a mega study to be done, when one can activate creative visualization brain areas more and visualize the baby as the healthiest Immortality sciences loving longest living human that was ever born in that line of ancestors? Parents have nothing to lose, it's not like parents bet with a physics professor that they can time travel or anything expensive; if anything, the perception of the baby like a gorgeous healthy immortalist (and/or vegan) will become a mental parental habit (neuron activity pattern) that then transmits this perception (positive thought) to baby when he's a real fetus and infant and aids him in growing healthier, more optimistic and more confident (essential to living longer, taking care of himself, etc). This is sort of like visualizing the baby as healthy and helping his Lepton-Quark-Boson chart to better match that of the future prematter baby Immortals (see the 43, 69, 86 sec clips about prematter baby, ☺☺☺ + all @ youtube.com/@immortalia) who live to 900, and are much healthier (it won't be a 100% match, but even if 10% shift may grant extra 20 years of healthy lifespan and total lifespan). It may be way better (the only way perhaps, since someone could record anything you say or write) to keep your preconception talks with the baby to yourself or joint (your soul and baby soul) prephysical matrix genetic "editing", otherwise, people may think you're a "science fiction writer" or trying to get rich by "wild claims of time travel". Some studies later in this chapter explain that when male mice are stimulated in some way prior to conception (equivalent to human years), the offspring is informed genetically, as the sperm changes to make that stimulated or stressed organ stronger. This is also explained in the pre-conception section on sperm reprogramming. So, when parents meditate and focus on an organ with the imaginary or real baby soul, they're stimulating that organ and guess what, the sperm changes and that organ will be stronger. New sperm is made daily, eggs can be 30 years old and their changes are less dramatic, unless it's new egg. So, even if you may not believe that you can actually change prematter and shift timelines, you literally change genetics of offspring by just pouring/focusing energy on that organ to that via visualizations and imaginary playful games with the pre-matter baby that stimulate that organ; many eye doctors give exercises to kids and because the brain is plastic, it can correct vision without any other intervention if done early enough; this correction is impossible when older; likewise, the prematter anatomy is even more plastic and prematter brain even more plastic, fetuses having the most plastic of matter humans.

Because each DNA template carries a modulating information pattern, one can communicate with this pattern and achieve resonance, to shift its frequency towards the desired gene. For example gene 1 oscillates in a region of prematter anatomy as a certain geometry due to electronic clouds, but gene 2 as another geometry, so technically, with electromagnetic templates (that traverse from our time to future timeline where not all is set yet) that seek to guide the patterns of electrophotonic structures, one can biophysically alter the embryo formation probabilities totally; but this science is too demanding for our primitive technologies. While this is doable via biophysics of future millennia, how to do it via meditation is totally unknown. Another unknown is how much one would need to meditate, play with the prematter baby, investigate gene (related to desired features or skills) geometries and their oscillations, how many times daily and how to meditate in order to have the desired resonance or stimulation effect with minimal energy and time spent, and whether the quantum information of the changed sperm and eggs (some new, not all are old) can hold the understanding of the desired genetic outcome (outside timeline shifts) perfectly; the information could hold the desired outcome perfectly, if properly encoded, because quantum entanglement (faster than light) across planets, galaxies is no different than across time, because it's the same subatomic particles that resonate and share info, that program the electrophotonic dance around atoms of sperm and egg. My random guess is that we can't think 3 minutes daily about genes 1-300 that affect "capability y" and expect any outcome, it would have to be at least 1 hour (for example: meditation to achieve a very happy state, conscious breathing perhaps where inhale and/or exhale focuses on energy thru the desired organ) or perhaps even 2-3 for many months to have a significant effect on probabilities, something most people don't bother with, due to laziness and lack of genetics knowledge or lack of time due to "money (or anything except longevity-immortality, extending lifespan 50 times by intervention when it matters the most, preconception, conception, pregnancy) is our God civilization" (vacation before and after pregnancy years), not around pregnancy or conception. Since the future baby is real in expanded view of time-space from megauniverses, or of chemical time travel analogy, and present in the expanded "eternal now", but has the flexibility to change its yet to be state, communication with him is not a fiction, but pure physics, even if you're an atheist who believes in no soul or no afterlife. Skeptics will argue there is no way we can do that naturally, we have to wait 400 years for physics to get there to do such editing of genes. But look at dogs, they often smell better than machines, what if humans can smell too, perceive patterns too (that dogs can't), change them in their own egg-sperm,☺☺☺ patterns that if unchanged lead to gene 1 with 90% probability? We don't have electrophotonic pattern programming machines, our options often times are only non-machine based. The baby is intelligent and can know, in this pre-materialized state, that if he's an adult able to be one way, he will have a new set of options, but lose other options. Every change has its pros/cons, one pro being of course, science advancing.

In theory, the baby can even tell you something about himself that nobody can know (a detail nobody except you knows, and that nobody can fake), which will come true, to confirm you talked to the future "intelligent organized" matter template in that timeline or baby soul. Here is the funny thing that many people, due to being such pessimists, don't even consider: if one would get good at this, he could achieve things, on occasion, that medicine won't be able to do for centuries or millennia with gadgets. Isn't that amazing? We're today shocked how ancient people, before they had the gadgets we have today, could at times do things that many or most people can't do today without gadgets. The most amazing millennia living healthy "Avatar of Immortality" gorgeous baby version exists for any couple, what we lack is the knowledge of how to shift the subatomic processes to lead to that prior to conception, and also for organs that form later some of their specific features, during pregnancy. This could be termed energetic nutrition, we don't change diet of mom during pregnancy and baby when born only, to live 50 times longer like bees, but also mom/dad material diet and energy diet before conception, thru frequencies and patterns we have not yet knowledge of in present physics. The question arises, which features are the most important in offspring to spend time influencing? That is up to each parent to decide when they talk to their prematter baby in their fun adventures of quantum entanglement across interdimensional time and space and this dimensional time-space, City B-Earth, and future time on Earth versus present time, but obviously the ethical thing seems to be to focus on features that maximize the lifespan of the greatest number of people.

If parents think they have an issue with an organ, that issue doesn't exist genetically, it's simply the parents' parents didn't have ideal nutrition during preconception or pregnancy or kid early life (e.g. DHA, EPA only added recently to infant formulas, low DHA led to poor ocular health). So it's a waste of time to massage or mentally activate the area "believed to be weaker", especially since organ issues can be the result of gadgets of torture used by unethical people, or electromagnetic pollution, not genetics. But if parents know beyond any doubt, it's genetics, they can try, why not? Nothing is wasted, just practice some meditation and watch less junk fake news online. The odd thing is that we may not necessarily need to know the specific genes, geometries and subatomic oscillations and patterns that shift probability of a gene set being dominant, not recessive, but that such things can be influenced via learning of prematter baby during imaginary plays, which inform prematter baby of an option of a new set of gene changes, that may not even exist in the biological parents: for example, we all know that if you fake your smile, your brain is tricked to become happy and to secrete endorphins, and if you yawn, your brain can be tricked to produce tears. Because the universe shares via quantum entanglement all abilities of all humanoid species, human like and Earth humans, including those who can astral travel for example via tech or soul, any couple without such genetic features in the more real periodic table genetic code representing the subatomic periodic table structure unknown to us yet, can actually tap into this information and via role playing they astral travel with the prematter baby for example, (we trick the prematter brain or "third eye as some mystics define it" to astral travel (octillion times faster than present space travel)☺☺☺, as we trick the matter brain to release endorphins by smiling and pretending we're happy), parents may start a genetic change that causes a learning in offpsring of a new type, that leads to the tech to do that via gadgets or soul, maybe not at once always, but in 2-3 generations if kid and grandkid do this. Fetuses are the most intelligent, having more plasticity and capacity to learn new things than adults, (newborn babies got twice the neurons of adults) likewise, prematter babies are even more intelligent than fetuses/embryos, able to learn things we never can as adults. Isn't that something to ponder on? Some will ask if someone would be able to talk to prematter babies from another continent and family, and of course they could, but the thing is the communication will perhaps be far less effective since the parents and kid, when biological, have already a high level of "biological" quantum entanglement unlike any other pair; but we don't really know, we can only speculate as to what quantum entanglement exists between souls of adults and unborn babies from biological or nonbiological gene pools. Some don't believe in souls or quantum entanglement of souls being stronger than parent-kid biological matter entanglement. But we can talk to prematter babies from stranger families (not of one's own choice, I mean the baby coming to us due to noticing something odd not seen around other electrophotonic patterns; the spirit baby would talk and play and the living person may not even know who the prematter baby belongs to). We also can have a stronger effect than biological parents (if they even bother, they may not even believe in astral travel anyway) on genetic inheritance or trait creation. One's contribution to the future is not dependent on having biological babies, and that one with 0-1 baby could influence humanity 1 billion times more than one with 17 biological babies.

If one could talk to God like beings and figure out how to talk to the prematter collective of all adults (i.e. the severely restricted in ability to shift future timeline of living human beings, the older the more retricted) and prematter collective of all Earth babies (far less restricted) which will be born in the next few years, one could imagine that if such a collective vibratory pattern would exist and one could role play and play with this "baby representing all living and soon to be born earthlings", one could fill The Archetype with the wisdom, gentle tender soft loving kindness (the loving care a mom has for her nursing infant, etc) and ability to free itself from short lives and attain 5,000 year lifespans a lot faster, one would be able to give this "aggregate, all humans into one, baby" the freedom to no longer be under historical inertia hypnosis, that recreates short lives century after century. How?☺☺☺ We can even sing to The Archetype, like I did in this 1 min tranquility clip. So, one could see how a seemingly useless imagination in that case, could actually change history in ways more dramatic than anyone has ever dreamed of possible, but if and only if, one has some deeper knowledge perhaps too, since people prayed and imagined things before, but that didn't lead to big results (maybe partially due to lack of focus, dedication and understanding that this is really possible, i.e. that offspring can live to 400 if prematter template is shifting towards that), knowledge is obviously needed. But if knowledge is needed to share a trait (or skill to escape historical inertia) with 1-2 billion prematter babies to be born next 1-2 decades, and we don't have it, might we find the special knowledge, if we're motivated enough to help humanity, even if to our brains it doesn't really translate into a way that they can understand fully? Technically, in the worlds of consciousness or informational constructs, these Holograms of Archetypes (the average of all beings unborn or born of a species, etc) exist as "shimmering spirits" sort of, in one of their "infinite" representations (depending on the frame of reference of viewer), so if one can enter such a world and runs into this being, or is approached by the being, one can talk and play with The Archetype being, informing it of the new possibilities – like in minute 35:16 of brain plasticity video where imagining we're doing something (discovering how to live to a trillion or astral travel or divine ecstasy) activates those brain regions in us and the prematter baby we play with. After all we're all in quantum entanglement with the future Immortals, (descendants of The Archetype being sort of) humans like us who will live to 8,000, so they can give us the knowledge to speed this awakening from historical inertia mass hypnosis faster and bring World Peace in 3 months, 8,000 year lifespans within a "short" (compared to our history as a species) period after that. This is similar to how reading this/other colorful (not plain) fonts books before conception may develop a higher baby visual acuity of colors (auras? Is clairvoyance of toddlers until age 5 related to brain maturation, like vision loss causes people to see 'invisible people and objects'?)),☺☺☺ belief in ultra positive futures, complex thinking, fluid intelligence. It's amazing how much happier parents and adults become when seeing pictures of smiling babies (even if it's the baby himself when happy or just the best web picture in several copies, doesn't ahve to be many babies) as opposed to smiling adults; part of it is because our brain who knows that babies don't make fake smiles when little (they do later, when noticing it gets them what they want); it's a genuine happiness, not a sales smile. The superorganism, The Archetype of all babies into one, wants us to be happy when we see happy babies, so babies imitate our smiles, become happier or remain happy, because brain doubles in the 1st year of life, the emotional brain basic architecture is established then, so the happiness of a person is influenced by the 1st year of life 20 times more than by other years, the brain is ultra plastic. If a baby (and parents too, when pregnant and having a small baby) sees smiling babies pictures around his play area, they will be helped by The Archetype to become happier, since The Archetype thinks we see a lifesize baby and that signals special resources need go to the looker to make them happier so the baby smiles. To trick The Archetype head pictures are enough, around the size of a baby head, with eyes looking at you to transform you deeply as if he's smiling at you since that makes you smile a lot deeper and bring more Archetype resources since our brain responds differently to pics where the eyes look at us, to simulate it and trick the collective unconscious it's a real baby, so as to help parent to become gentle, tender, soft, happy as The Archetype would try to have parents be, since the looker (be it adult or baby) is around the carrier of The Archetype genes/future, health, wellbeing.

15.1.2. AUTISM IS THE SPECIES ALARM, a warning of Possible Species End in 10 seconds:

Taking multivitamins before birth lowers autism risk by 30%. Those overly vaccinated during early infancy are more likely to die and be sick all their life. Not all autism is debilitating socially, some autistic people are engineers, inventors who discover things, like Tesla, helping humanity a million times more than regulars: autism is 5 million years old. Studies show personality problems, hyperactivity and other misdiagnosed issues are often mere malnutrition effects and psychiatry is more of a "bullshit science"☺☺☺: low Mg (kids can't relax without Mg to make GABA and are misdiagnosed as ADHD, they bedwet too), low B6 needed for normal Mg, low ω3 intake, low B complex and low lithium (diets rich in greens, veggies, beans have 20 times more lithium than junk diets that are associated with higher hyperactivity, violent crime too, besides schizophrenia, psychosis, personality issues, suicide), low melatonin (poor sleep causes irritation, antisocial behavior), poor sleep schedule short sleep (kids need 9-20 hrs depending on age). When combined these can be misdiagnosed for autism or ADHD. Autism is not a disease, of any individual, genes, or group of folks, but a simple feedback mechanism of the human quantum field, notifying the HUMAN SPECIES that humans are becoming more mean/violent/selfish via the negative type of autism (not the above average serene type, but the one no medications control, whose empathy is lower than average and acts so strangely, so rudely, he causes all to become more empathetic). Autism spikes due to our ultra evil music, ultra evil parliaments, Congress, ultra evil 0 weeks parental leave (see 15.1.1. trauma of parents of the US working class, vs 180 weeks other nations), ultra evil literature, ultra evil movies, evil tones of speech on TV-radio or infernal tones in education, risking total end of all humans in 10 seconds. The more the aristocrats steal everything from the working class and subjugate everyone, with even TV "left wing" guys/gals and Wall St., business conmen making same 50-9000 times more money than 15K/hr minimum wage, with some even making 50,000 times more than the pregnant lady), the more the stress of the worker female mom rises and she births autistic kids who engage into more abnormal behaviors, leading to a balancing act, the Revolution that restores the balance between yin/yang, "people/government" where Tao, unity, the government of We the People is achieved for real, after 250 years of fraud. The autism epidemic is solved by bringing more compassion, via the 11 companies, in our world,☺☺☺ not by the aristocrat MDs medicating the working class to lower its IQ, drive it insane to steal everything from them and loot them (evil MDs does that to destroy perfectly nonautistic people by making up autism diagnosis) and subjugate it even more. When Revolution/government fall is near, autism spikes, that's the universal marker of once in a million years societal change, the victory of We the People, We the Family of Immortals☺☺☺, the Collective of Humanity, of Altruism. The collective invisible brain of all humans knows all humans can all die in one blast and it wants to alert us, so it creates autistic folks who force everyone to have more empathy. Such autistic folks can be the regular "non autistic by current standards" kids or even future high functioning autistic savants who create a bomb that kills 8 billion and causes the surviving 1 billion to be more empathetic. Autism is often defined as the 1. unwillingness/fear to speak until the kid is 2-4 years (Einstein spoke at 36-48 months old, with full sentences, see an autistic savant type of 8 years old) old instead at 6-18 months for normal people, 2. self-soothing repetitive behaviors to turn off the brain hyperactivity (of the working class scheming how to bring justice first time in 2 million years, of the species trying to prevent humanity's demise), 3. "poor social skills" (double empathy issue) or more introversion/shyness 4. extreme sensitivity to sound, light, smell, taste and/or touch, which overwhelms the brain, due to an alleged volume dial in the reticular thalamic nucleus (at least in mice) that makes every sensory input more elevated than in normal people. Whether this is true or not in humans, is unknown, but one has to be careful to not confuse real autism with spy agency induced (via torture blamed on autism) fake autism and fake studies in mice, for Nazi experimentation with "autism curing drugs" that are a cover for creating mind controlled Manchurian candidates that kill and forget everything they did. Spies can pretend to be autistic, schizophrenic even (they act 'crazy" when topic shifts to stuff that may blow their cover or when you ask a question that may blow cover, take fake pills with rice powder or sugar inside to foll the victim of their espionage), epileptic or "truthful, honest, direct like autistics" to deceive their targets, to appear much less of a "threat", or claim to be autistic & ADHD to justify why they selectively pay attention (lost attention) to questions or topics, to evade answers that blow their cover. Most papers are fraud, so don't trust any without a lot of research of another 900 papers. You'll see youtubers claiming to be autistic, but being interested in sharks, like autistics have 1-5 areas they're truly obsessed about, and sharks are used in espionage a lot by navies, due to their odd abilities, like some autistic kids, such as sensing fluctuation of five billionths of a volt using organs called ampullae of Lorenzini. Evil folks can claim to be autistic to start autism online group, to push drugs on people they hate, to screw them up, like MDs get commissions from drugs they push. Watch out for frauds, conmen who act autistic only on youtube or around you, to manipulate you/others.

Autism is due to either 1. malnutrition (due to lack of altruism that creates 1 million times more nutritious food, parents eat caffeine or theobromine (caco, which destroys fetus brain) which slows neuron migration and then this causes brain areas to not communicate and severe autism, with 100 times more autism than slightly autistic kids, develops, making them unable to function in society, via hybrid war of genocide against a nation via coffee shops to sterilize everyone and make everyone low IQ and autistic, that's why Starbucks, Coca-Cola/Pepsi/etc that push caffeine products without warning label of 40 points lower IQ, autism in offspring, etc needs to be fined 8 trillion each at least, they destroy America's gene pool and make everyone a retard, a person with lower IQ, lower birth weight, shorter lifespan, sometimes by 30 years due to Down syndrome, severe autism, etc, which is th same as killing 100000 people if 100000 mentally retarded kids are born in 8 billion people fed caffeine by the kilogram), related to brain mechanisms of dialing down sensory or other inputs that overwhelm the brain (hence the repetitive behaviors to soothe the brain overload?), or, due to 2. the eternal wars and animal attacks people dealt with over eons, which cause 2.1. survival adaptation of the fetus or 2.2. survival adaptation of the species, in the human quantum field who creates by unknown to physics mechanisms, the autistic genius by magnifying the brain area related to abstraction and minimizing other brain areas, so as to discover something in science that may make the species survival more likely. 2.1. means when a fetus was in a very stressful environment, like a chimp group was attacked by tigers all the time, it was essential for the happiness of the fetus, to avoid the painful feelings that came from mother brain thru placenta into his brain and feeling, to avoid situations when the mom feels sadness or fear or rage at the spouse, relatives, foreign occupiers being violent, or tiger attacking, and going thru the run thru the jungle trees. To reach happiness and serenity, to avoid the DNA damage of the mother fights, the lifelong damage that would come from hits to his brain by a drunk father, etc, the damage of fight flight response catecholamines produce, the fetus needed to change its brain, make itself "PSYCHIC" and develop this reticulum area that perceives sensory information that can be threats to mom 10 times sooner than mom does, as his brain is more plastic, so he had to hear thru the womb noises, fine paws of tigers inaudible to mom, etc that mom could not see, and become more psychic (3rd eye) to sense enemies or animals approaching before mom could, and move and cause sensations in mom or overflow her brain with an idea to run, be silent or walk away, so that the mom would not get into a 4 hour argument with dad (which can end up in fetus receiving punches or kicks from dad, causing brain damage) or be eaten by tiger, shot by Nazis, beaten (fetus beaten too) by the KGB officers, tortured and without food for days or harassed and in despair for weeks, or other occupiers, etc.

This self-protection and survival of the fetus by avoiding hits on mother or verbal abuse of mom, is only achievable when this fetus brain center area dials up the volume of every sound and emotion and word said 10-50 fold, to hear or perceive if any danger appears to the fetus survival (no hits or bites to mother by animals or injuries by violent competing groups), tranquility and safety and 0 catecholamines in the womb (0 arguments mom gets into, so no negative emotions overflow the fetal brain damaging it). The autistic fetus noticed that if he did something, mom was quiet and didn't answer back dad and no negative emotion emerged, he noticed he had no negative feelings at times when mom was quiet and didn't answer back to dad's insults, due to no escalation among parents, so the fetus learned to try to perceive sounds, voices and emotions early on and he learned that speaking is deadly usually, as it causes mom and dad to fight, so he spoke at age 3-4 like Einstein. He also became ultra sensitive to sounds (this can happen to adults too) and learned to avoid eye contact, so he can fixate the brain on one spot and listen to others when speaking, so he can discern the threat level much better, while not revealing to the other side one's emotions by looking at them and being manipulated by the fake expressions of people that cause one to react emotionally and reveal how one feels about some topic. The autistic kid became the natural counterintelligence expert. Facial expressions are easy to fake, like smiles, but sounds are 9000 times harder to fake, they tell the entire history of last 50 years very well, so to avoid sensory overload and focus on sound only, autistic kids learned to look away, as a survival tactic to discern threats and evil people. Hence 'autism' often is linked with less eye contact, also due to sensory overload of the brain via dual visual-audio channels, so when they look away, they "almost close eyes" and focus on tone modulation and tone interpretation with 5 times more neurons, so they can assess threats level better, as womb time made them ultra careful about speech or even their life as an adult reinforced that sound of voice reveals 9000 times more than facial expressions ever do. In the womb, the baby can't see, but he surely can develop the "3rd eye" or psychic sense of remote sensing of human emotion, or develop above average hearing range, sense via infrasound or ultrasound, events, miles or 100s of miles away, so sound is a better threat indicator. It's pure self-defense, total lack of trust in others, since looking at others makes you easier to hypnotize by evil bastards who're often trained in mind control by odd fix stares and 1st grade role play.

So, due to psychopathic Set of Scriptures, Psychopathic Cannibalistic Unfair Society (see the 11 companies section for a decent society where all 350 million Americans form one Family of Immortals☺☺☺) and the risk of all humans dying in 10 seconds in one blast in a weapon test (or even inadvertently as some tech does something unknown in physics due to the collective intelligence wanting it to happen to make all empathetic and less cruel), and the cruelty, war, violence they bring, fetus drama experienced, the autism appears. Autism also manifests, as mentioned above, due to high stress and negative emotions of mom during pregnancy, verbal fights among parents (hence both parents need to avoid even the slightest ultra polite arguing when pregnant or first year of life when brain doubles in size), parents listening to or attending restaurants, grocery stores, events with music by folks posing as singers whose "music" lacks any happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene universal loving kindness. So, the autism cases will exist until we have achieved 1 language, 1 currency, 11 companies worldwide, the hallmark of honesty, ethics and compassion for all of Immortality for All civilizations. Autism is merely anxiety and Immortality brings the loss of autistic anxiety. Autism is thus something that can be weaponized by psychotic spy agencies to wage hybrid wars against various nations, train spies and brainwash local populations for taking over their entire nations. Jewish, Muslim, Christian, Hindu, etc MDs often love to make 400-800K (25-50 times the minimum federal wage) by prescribing useless meds to people, without actually taking any action to treat the real cause of the 1 billion people killed last 3 millennia via Torah praised alcohol, genocide praising Torah, the very synagogue, church that praises the Hyper Violent, Alcoholic Torah/Bible it preaches. Were we to be a decent society, we would treat the cause, the perpetrators, not the victims of the genocidal autism they created via violent scripture, music and ritual satanic abuse. Sadly, we're not a decent society, so we "penalize or try to stop" the victims of aristocratic genocides, not the aristocratic/clergy perpetrators and preachers of "genocide, mass rape, human sacrifice, arson, kid beating, slave beating" laws the genocidal Jesus came to reaffirm in Mat 5:17-9 and in other quotes with bloodshed of 20 million dead in Protestant-Catholic wars alone, besides Islam Jesus created (Quran is Bible rewritten) and 1 billion dead due to alcohol. These autism perpetrators get a free pass to whitewash genocide, mass rape, arson, ritual drowning of babies for millennia, slavery as the Word of God that Jesus praised in the Gospel, and get paid 25x more to cause heart attacks, diabetes, diseases for fraudulent claims pills will remove autism (when decent music/tone would definitely remove it and free us from the need of these pills and infernal clergy tones (pastor, rabbi, imam, Hindu, Buddhist), infernal singers, etc MDs support).

It is important to understand the basics of honesty: humans perceive cannibal chimps as very violent and themselves as evolved, so future humans who have evolved out of human stage, view today's humans and most singers today of anything, except the gentlest most kind spiritual universal compassion song, as pure cannibals. Unless people who speak on TV in Hitler like tones, though not as evil as Hitler, realize they're not speaking and emoting like an Immortal of the future, in an eterni tone, we can't evolve past autism as a species. Autism is simply happening due to a simple lack of empathy for all humans and for others, so the TV presenter thinks it's OK to make 10000 times more money a year than other people, to have dogs that annoy other people, dogs that steal the chance of people getting medical care due to endless pet hospitals and stores existing, dog that eat meat obtained by the slaighter of thousands of animals per dog creating infernal levels of pain and suffering and autism via interspecies effects (animals know we raise them for meat for carnivore humans/pets, so livestock will make us infinitely violent via meat, release the most lethal stuff to amke humans fight among themselves, so animals can live free of human terror). TV presenters from Hell praise dogs and pets as a must have and their owners are portrayed as kind people, while human nutrition stores are nowhere to be found, due to dog nutrition stores, in many areas of Earth. Not only that, but dogs entangle with wild dogs (their brutality) and cats with tigers (tiger eats woman, watch: some ate 400 people each in Africa, India, in the past especially), and this bloodshed by big cats, hyenas, wolves, wild dogs is teaching, via quantum entanglement, dogs and cats to attack humans, kill babies, and by contamination destroys the human morphogenetic quantum field, causing an insane level of violence among humans. The moment a kid engages with his pet dog, the kid becomes the serial killer quality of wild dogs/wolves/hyenas that kill others by shedding blood, the kid quantum entangles with all similar lifeforms and becomes that which he focuses upon. Likewise, the moment a kid pets or plays with a cat, he becomes more of the tiger who ate 400 people. ☺☺☺ Kids become the quality of big/small cats when having a cat, of wild violent selfish animals insensitive beasts when having a pet, i.e. kids shift towards autism, lack of empathy for humans, engaging in repetitive strokes of animals to avoid dealing with human complexity, kids devolve into lower IQ, into autism, kids devolve into a mortal blood eating rat IQ animal, and kids destroy all energetic, intellectual, cognitive, analytical, spiritual progress towards eterni speech, emotion, thinking, society and action. This is pure physics.

To have pets that eat meat is to further compound the issue to stratospheric levels, by 1 million fold, as each pet means 4000 brutal murders of livestock that have caused insane pain signals of distress, quantum NOISES felt from thousands of 100s of miles away by the whole body sensing and brain sensing, SENSORY OVERLOAD autistic people deal with, noises which contaminated the human species, all fetuses, raised autism levels to new highs, and caused paranoia to create insane levels of war. To make things far worse, dogs eat more meat, and bark in very audible ways that connect with their primal fight and flight wild dog brutal bloodshedding wolf hyena self, with all wild dogs killing sentient beings, which makes the children around such evil beasts far less able to develop "Immortal level emotional information processing", i.e. the knowledge of a mother who knows when a kid is in danger, when any of her 8 billion kids on Earth, her Family of Immortals☺☺☺, who feels a kid was a victim of violent crime or murder via gangs or war. Dogs/pets turn kids into the more violent autistic types, the so called "normal people on TV-radio-concerts who mistakenly perceive themselves as normal when they themselves are highly autistic, insensitive and violent", and prevent the development of the universally feeling being that feels all humans are one's being, as parts of one's body, one's family, one's household, like a universal being with the aura of a planet, of the Immortals of page one, the being who can only accept 1 country, 1 language, 11 companies on Earth. Pets turn kids into autistic beings, magnify their lack of empathy for humans (so evident in TV-radio-music tones), boost their selfishness. Fools claim that 'pets help us', they don't, pets simply make autistic kids avoid humans even more and become even more unable to help humanity, which is why the quantum field created autistic people to begin with, to alert all that empathy is lacking. With empathy and 11 companies instead of 1 billion, with 1 currency instead of 200, with one nation instead of 200, with one language instead of 7000, we become so efficient, we can create soothing musical drones that emit sounds that triple human lifespan and can monitor all smells and do all functions of service and cop dogs and with 11 companies, we eliminate violent crime per the state of emergency plan of reducing violent crime 1 trillion fold including eliminating all dog on human aggression by banning all big dogs except service/sniffing dogs, and we bring the world of no pets, as animal souls reincarnate into humans to evolve. Having a non-vegan cat or pet is murdering 4000 similar lifeforms, is ANIMAL ABUSE/Killing of 4000 PETS equivalent, it is not spiritual or ethical, it is Pure Satanism, Pure Diabolical Evil, Pure Genocidal Psychopathy, Pure Infinite Evil. These grotesque monsters on TV that praise nonvegan pet ownership without showing how this pet ownership encourages BLOODSHED, are simply bipedal HYENAS, not worthy of being on TV-radio. They aren't civil, they're not even human in the minds of the people of the future, they deserve only minimum wage, not 10, 50 or 5000 times the minimum federal wage. What a Pure Satanism Deification on TV. Hence we need to temporarily shut down all TV-radio stations, to eliminate autism, and create 1 really kind TV-radio station, to help bring violent crime to 0, so nobody needs dogs to maul suspects, to sniff drugs nobody uses, kill livestock and then we can rid Earth of all bloodshed. Our far future descendants, that we morph into, who actually are in the Eternal NOW continuum and real and able to communicate with us, perceive humans today, even popular singers, TV-radio speakers as we perceive violent thugs, as cannibal chimps who ate babies of neighbors as in this clip, as their choices, tone of speech, etc destroyed the audience, incited the primal hyena in people, trashed the audience, made them live 10 years shorter and caused a genocide to occur, killed them spiritually, hit them violently as in the most violent beating just on a spiritual level. To help humans evolve towards 0 autistic kids, we need to have people engage in empathetic sports, not violent thug sports of today, in helping human lifeforms, not wild dog wolf tiger lifeforms like cats and dogs, we need listen to serene music, avoid pesticides, microwaves, bad electricity, caffeine, 99.9% of TV-radio.

Let us all ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ ask if buying pets for our kids is like murder or like killing our kids (or at least other kids later killed by other dogs whose arrival we supported via dog industry support). Why would it be so? Buying a dog is supporting the dog industry that makes millions live shorter lives via barking and makes millions visit emergency room due to dog bites, see the 100 videos to be horrified about what dogs do. Buying dogs is an act of assisting genocide. It's like everyone in a different world would get a tiger, waste 10 times more meat than pitbullss, kill 5000 times more people than pitbulls, but because on that Planet they have 10000 political parties, they don't care, they hate and fight to death each other like wild dogs and really, nobody cares, having a tiger than kills 4 people monthly becomes a normal routine. This is just like in our insane world, having 2 political parties instead of none and dogs that kill babies, seniors and thin short ladies often is normal, expected and nobody says anything about 5 million emegency room visits due to dogs and think it's normal, because the mob behavior means you accept what the cannibals around you do and think that dogs won't make kids autistic or cats are way better when they're not. Kids☺☺☺ need to help people, to develop empathy, to learn tone modulation, to help bring the world of 0 violence and 0 war, they don't need become more ofa brute by focusing their souls on imitating the low IQ dogs, etc. The fake science works by prepoderance of evidence, so Big Dog, Big Reptiles, Big Cats, etc fund many fake studies that need conclude having a pet is going to reduce issues with 30 diseases, by data manipulation and totally ignoring that pets can shorten the lives of others a lot. Raise kids' IQ, do you really believe that kids become smarter via pets instead of by tuning into the Immortals? Pets have IQ 35, Immortals 200 trillion, which direction do you choose? You become the IQ of those you hang around, why be so incredibly fruit fly size in IQ to ignore the Immortals? Please, a pet is like a fleeting nanosecond flash of light, the Immortals are Eternal, they don't vanish in a second of Eternity, do you really want to live shorter? You become as long lived as those you focus on, by the universal law of Pure Physics. So, let's chat with humans, not pets (fellow kids, adults are way more intelligent than pets), with Immortals if you believe in quantum entanglement. Consider that our future grandkids who live to 5000, think we're all autistic on Earth, too violent/selfish, so we need to remove autism via the 11 companies of altruism. It's $1.4 trillion egoism that causes autism to emerge, lead to humans' 10 second end. Always question everything, plants and livestock produce chemicals in their bodies to prevent predators, such as animals or humans, from being healthy. Likewise, dogs are part of the great species of wolves and they act as one with hyenas, wolves, wild dogs, dogs to undermine humans, make humans dependent on dogs, unable to become free of dogs for sniffing or service dog addiction, make humans worship dogs, wolves, dog murder of livestock if not vegan dogs, etc, like the T. Gondii manipulates humans it infects to have cats, so it can multiply. So, the naive folks believe dogs are there to help us, but don't be so gullible, they got their agenda. We soak lentils to remove these classes of chemicals the plants created to kill animals who eat the lentil. Likewise, dogs hypnotized people to not develop sniff drones that replace dogs, in order to survive, they evolved to cause certain addictions in humans to the dog companionship. Livestock release chemicals in meat to make all humans vanish in 10 seconds via desire for war. That's why eating meat and plants is not ideal, especially animals, since biochemically, animals are way closer to humans and can create far more lethal poisons to destroy our brains, so we fight. This is further explained in the blood drinking section, on how meat turns people into psychos. At the moment of death, due to the slaughter torture, animals poison the blood, 0.5% of meat=blood. If you go to an enemy nation and talk always with their people, you get hypnotized and become a spy for them. Likewise, if you surround self with cats you become a spy for the tiger, big cat mega species, if you surround yourself with many dogs, you become hypnotized by them and a spy for the wolf species, a human who betrays humanity. Want to destroy the human species? NO, then, support eterni foods and advanced drone sniffing tech. Pets sit all day and scheme how to dupe. Individual pets have no idea how the wolf or big cat species is trying to use them to kill humans. Livestock can poison not just their blood, but their muscles, the meat people eat, and science doesn't know which of the meat chemicals cause aggression, besides the obvious lack of ω3 in farm raised animals, fed corn, soy, vs grass fed, which have more ω3, so less war.

To ensure the happiest baby who lives 20 years extra due to optimism, parents need smiley pic of happiest babies all around (even if just faces, face is most important, the smile, that's what we look at when smiling at babies, the eyes), so the baby can imitate those when parents are too tired to smile big, though parents would ideally always smile around the baby, when staring at their baby or any baby or pregnant woman, to help them to be happier by contagion, and make womb baby happier. Likewise, parents can take video of baby smiling big at the camera and then replay it to the baby so baby is happy when he's neutral or sad, to bring him up so he lives to 170. This will make the baby 100 times more smiley than the average baby, and way happier when an adult. Youtube also got laughing baby videos, which can help lift the baby mood when down. It also helps to give positive names to the babies, for example, first names Immortali(a), Eterni(a), Pereni(a) (perennial), middle names Bliss, Happy, Ecstatic. 3 siblings: Immortali Bliss, Eterni Happy, Pereni Ecstatic. Names would remind people to be happy Immortals. For people with 4 names, Immortali Smiley Gentle Bliss, with kid getting new last name of an Immortal Quality, like Bliss. The Qualities of the Immortals would be in every name almost, or the things that bring a world of Immortals. Parents could create new last names like Immortal. Smiley helps the person calling/called to smile more, while gentle tender soft would remind them of those qualities. We have these meaningless in English names, why not choose names that create more positive vibrations when we type or say them daily?☺☺☺

15.2. Pre-birth Telepathy and Pre-conception memories of babies

Below are 21 cases of telepathy between Unborn/Unconceived baby spirits and their future or present parents, as well as babies reportedly recalling their life in heaven. Parents (sometimes even relatives of the parents) have short or very detailed (complex and multiple) meetings with the mature or baby like spirit of the future child, with many details confirming to sometimes undecided parents that another child wants to come thru. Thousands of kids have perfect memories of the heaven-world they came from (assuming these books are genuine and not made to sell), but these memories (just like the hypothesized "past physical life" memories) tend to weaken with time, just like our dream recollection weakens with time. The heaven

(spirit world) period before this life is the most recent event and it is even more recent than any "past life", so it's natural to be recalled. Stories of babies seeing 'spirits' have existed for millennia, even today, when China is much more backward than people realize, believing in inhaling toxic fumes and shortening lifespan by burning paper to honor the ancestors. The best way to honor ancestors is to create a world of Eternal World Peace, 0 violent crime, 0 torture, so ancestors can reincarnate, enjoy living to a trillion years old as a shapeshifting Immortal. To burn paper and shorten the lives of people, decrease visibility, cause car accidents is a blatant act of disrespect, not honoring of ancestors. Ancestors want people to be smart, question things, evolve out of the dark age of ritual into the age of Eternal Oneness with the Tao, where everyone is an Immortal, not just the '8 Chinese Immortals'. ☺☺☺

The cases (first five cases below are summaries of more detailed accounts from "We lived in Heaven" book by Sarah Hinze; all Amazon books linked below can be bought for 1 cent usually, $4 shipping, or 1-4 dollars used, I tried to include in this post the most important and transforming experiences or research in each mentioned book) are below:

1. Mother had a dream that she recorded in her journal of a girl and her dead aunt who told her the little girl is her daughter Jessica. As a result of the dream, she knew she will have a daughter. Years passed and one day her 4-year-old kid pointed to the astral castle he saw as they drove by, a castle where he spent time before incarnating, with his little sister. He told mom that his little sister is worried that mom will forget her. Same night her husband said he felt another kid is meant to come to their family. She was stunned and went to check her journal and finally reread the years old entry of her dream with the aunt and Jessica. She then asked her kids what they think about a new child. 1 kid proposed Jessica for the name, 2 kids said to name her Jennica and one Jennifer. They settled for Jennica. When Jennica was born she talked about a grandma a lot. One time when they went to a cemetery, Jennica saw the "grandma" and ran and found her burial place without anyone's showing her. Mom finally arrived and saw a picture of the "grandma" that looked exactly like the aunt of the mother (grandma for the daughter) in the dream many years before. The girl also saw Jesus in that astral world. Or did she? ☺☺☺

2. Dad had astral encounters with an amazing lightbeing... over many years and after many encounters, the lightbeing asked him is he would be ok if she became his child. He, of course, was ok, asked his wife if she wants to conceive and was surprised to hear her say yes. Before the girl was born 3 spirits came to dad and announced her arrival and that all will be taken care of, and he needs no worries. Similar announcements have been made to others, just like Gabriel told Mary that a special child Jesus will be born. Some people think the scriptures and paranormal events in them are all made up, but everything paranormal in the scriptures almost happens these days too. The girl then recalled her spirit world encounters with dad while she was little. Very detailed encounters, other experiences like this one are of mom having astral encounters and seeing the exact appearance of her kid, confirmed years later, with exact same scene replaying... future seeing. Or kids recalling how grandma or grandpa bring them to the womb. Other parents (pretend? to) see all 7 children in a row, in exact order to be born.☺☺☺

3. A couple had a daughter and it was a difficult pregnancy, so they were hesitant to have another child. But then, while the 3-year-old daughter was at a rest area, her mom saw her playing with another red-haired little girl, and after a while, the other girl vanished and the mom realized it was her future daughter. Anyway, she had 4 daughters and her health was weak, so her husband was totally against a 5th kid. When mom was ready to pick the phone to schedule the surgery to prevent any child from being born, a red-haired boy appeared with a sad face and said: "Why don't you want me?". Mom immediately canceled her phone call. Before this surgery phone incident, mom was told that when she has a son, his name will be Michael many years before (before her 4th daughter was even born). One time, for 3 days in a row, a tiny red-haired boy Michael appeared to 3 members of the family (2 daughters and the mom), completely changing the mind of the skeptical father. The girls were playing with Michael and named him, as he passed thru walls, etc, so it was obvious to the parents that Michael was meant to be born, as the girls can't make stuff like that up. Even the husband's father had a dream of Michael who told grandpa that he will join the family and has a special mission on Earth. The father was always against a 5th child, but rarely, a few times a year, when tired and in a semi-trance, he would say absentmindedly "are we missing someone" when the family had dinner together. Just like we often do in those precognitive moments when we don't realize what we're saying, as the rational mind filter is not there and we're whole right-brained, wholly telepathic, without the filter of beliefs or desires.

4. One kid recalled very distinctly his heaven world experiences, his use of another language in that astral world (possibly the language of his past life).

5. Another kid (actually many were recalling being brought from heaven to earth by a relative or spirit) recalled how great grandpa brought him from heaven to earth, to the womb and how in the womb he was taught the basic English language and how at 18 months he said his first words, a complete sentence asking about great grandpa and shocking everyone.

6. In "Parenting Begins Before Conception" on page 24, Carista (a Harvard grad) explains that noise pollution is to be avoided during pregnancy.☺☺☺

7. The "We lived in Heaven" book by Sarah Hinze has more interesting telepathy examples

8. Two Australian cases of telepathy between infants and parents. In "A Mother's Instincts," an Australian mother recounts her experience: "I was in the kitchen washing dishes and Alex, aged around eleven months, was running around in our lounge room. Our lounge is very much a childproofed room, so I was confident he could come to no harm. But while I was working I kept getting a fidgety odd feeling that wouldn't go away. It was a very strong feeling of 'Do something.' I kept trying to ignore it, but then it was like a light that filled a black room. 'Alex.' I dropped everything and ran into the other room. There he was, about to put a fistful of sewing needles into his mouth. How my sewing box got into the room I'll never know... But it was just lucky I got the message that he was in danger." ☺☺☺

9. Another lady shared "I began to notice that whenever I wanted to eat, Dale would wake up demanding a feed (he was breastfed). Even as soon as I thought about food he'd wake up. We went to visit my parents in Queensland when he was six weeks old. I wasn't preparing the food, but as soon as I sat down to eat, he'd wake up. No matter what time of the day I wanted to eat, so did he. Even my Mum commented on it... she said to my husband, "Every time she sits down to eat he wakes up." Ronnie just said, "Yeah, he does that all the time." It got to the point where I couldn't even think about making a cup of coffee or he'd wake. I had to sort of "not think" about it, just do it, and then drink it without focusing on it. It was very difficult, as I like to really enjoy my coffee. It was very frustrating too."

The Unborn Soul book ($2.99) has many interesting experiences, a few summarized below:

10. Page 127, a kid recalls how he was in the womb and had to use all his energy and urn around so he could stick out his foot and push against the placenta wall so he would not be squeezed out of the womb, so he could use his body to block the hole from where the fluid was escaping (mother had a condition that was fatal to the fetus had he not intervened while in the womb). Later on, he has to do surgery on his foot at the age of 8 because of this womb experience made one knee unbendable. He had to do this in the womb to avoid certain death.

11. One lady met some spirit that told her to call her daughter Rose when she's born, and she kept seeing roses and had another experience in a pink light one time related to her pregnancy, and had other signs confirming the wish of the spirit baby to be called Rose.

12. Another lady had soul travels and met this spirit who wanted to incarnate and then others confirmed later on the baby's spirit is someone with the appearance and personality of a spirit that matched perfectly the description mom got in the soul travels Mom also got right from the spirit baby everything major about the way the pregnancy would develop, etc..

13. Pages 195-6. Jane got pregnant and was terrified, unprepared. Her great grandma (who died about 10 years before and who was her best buddy in some ways) appeared as a spirit at the foot at her bed and told her telepathically to relax, she's going to be fine, know what to do to have this child, etc... and lifting a lot of anxiety off Jane's mind and soul. As months passed, Jane, a Tomboy, thought she's gonna have a boy, as she wanted a boy. Then, great grandma showed up again as a spirit and told her telepathically it's gonna be a girl, and was accompanied by a cute blue-eyed blonde girl who asked Jane if she will love her as much as she loves her. The little girl was concerned that Jane wanted a boy and may not fully love a girl. Spirit babies can have very interesting things to say to elicit a funny response from their future parents. ☺☺☺ The spirit babies look exactly as they will once they get to the age of 3-5, sometimes parents can see scenes of later life exactly played 5 years before in some form of pre-cognitive telepathy. Anyway, once the girl is born and 3 weeks old, grandma spirit shows up again and tells Jane to go to the eye doctor immediately, Jane goes and treats some infection that could have potentially left the infant girl blind otherwise. Jane also had other spirit encounters.

14. Page 253, Beverly recalls being visited by a girl spirit sitting on her green rocking chair when she was 6 years old. This girl spirit told her she will be her daughter. When Beverly had a girl named Cassie, the 3.5 years old Cassie asked her mom if she recalls her visits and asked where the rocking chair was. Upon seeing the chair, she mentioned that it looked different than decades ago, which indeed was the case. There are many similar stories in the book, some with very clairvoyant kids who talk to spirits daily.☺☺☺

15. Page 257-8 has a cute experience apparently showing spirits of kids can retain memories of their years prior to birth when they visit parents (this proof makes the hypothesis of communication with these spirits more believable for skeptics). A 3-year-old Philip tells his mom the exact description of a living room where his mother lived years before Philip's birth (3 houses before the house in which Philip was born) and where she was playing the flute. Philip explained that he was in spirit and that's how he remembers. He also recalled other events that were verified. This is similar to NDEers recalling events states away, during ‘soul travel’ there.

16. In one of the Chapters of the "Spirit Babies" book, clairvoyant medium Walter Makichen talks about conscious conception (which is similar in some ways to the conscious dying process [described in hundreds of books] of some mystics who astral travel at will and know when their last astral travel will take place, know when they die that is, when the spirit guides will cut the silver cord). Conscious conception is basically the spiritual process of assisting the spirit guides and the spirit baby in anchoring the astral body into the embryo, via the silver cord. This conscious conception participation is not needed ultimately, since the spirit baby and his guides can do this. However, conscious conception just tries to make this a more aware experience and to make it more "at will", just like astral travel at will or conscious dying at will, as practiced by the more advanced shamans who invite 100 family members for their last dinner and exit their body at will in the last astral travel. We might be able to say that conscious conception can be done via astral travel, i.e. parents can go together and the spirit baby joins and they watch from the astral the process of silver cord to embryo formation, while the body does its own thing, just like in typical multilocation experiences when we're 10 feet above the body and the body is walking or talking to someone and we, in our spirit mind, can watch the physical body doing its own thing. Doesn't have to be done via the visualization technique that Walter explains, but this astral travel method of Conscious Conception is not possible for most couples, as only 1 couple in millions can induce astral travel at will (both able to travel at will is ultra rare). Walter exercise is basically simple and easy to practice by any astral travel newbie who has not astral traveled consciously before: while parents do their physical conception process, they can also visualize the conception cradle above the head of the mom, as a ball of light that tells the kid "Hey, we love you and we're ready for you to connect and for the silver cord to be created in mom's womb, we're here for you, ready to nurture and support you, to practice telepathy and tell you about the mystics and saints and telepaths and psychics and astral travelers, try astral travel together as the telepathic astral travel family, we will never drink-smoke-eat meat, we will be vegan, listen to low volume peaceful music only, always use positive words, we will be gentle and kind to all to the best of our ability, create the atmosphere for the angel you're to descend on Earth, in our family, etc, we will practice the telepathy habits as much as possible..." or whatever you think is important to the spirit baby based on your research of his wishes via astral travel to his spirit world or telepathy, etc. Maybe the soul wants to learn astral travel and telepathy early on, and stating this and visualizing this conception bubble each time one makes "love" with the mom, does help. This is more of a mental aid in speeding up a natural process, and mental aid to make telepathy with the spirit of the baby easier. ☺☺☺

Since the astral traveling souls who're more telepathic are looking for parents who will support their wish to read astral travel books and telepathy books from an early age and to practice these things, it's very helpful for parents to reiterate and affirm mentally (doesn't have to be out loud) their commitment to the Telepathic Astral awakening of Humanity before or during "conception". The reason is that we're often brain scattered, and don't have a daily time to meditate and try to talk to the Spirit of the Child and understand what he's incarnating for. It is just a fact of life that many parents have clutter in their heads, compared to the head of a very old soul able to astral travel at will 50 times daily, so it's important, if one wants to be focused and assist the incarnation of astral travelers and telepaths to remember these things and create a room for the baby with astral travel posters and telepathy posters, etc - so the baby spirit (the soul can be far more mature than parents and older than parents, so it's not really a baby, but a spirit and often times a Teacher of the parents themselves) knows all is ready and she or he can come down. Naturally, it can be stated that with true mastery and telepathy, if everything is done right, conception can take one single "making love" act, since the reason "conception" takes eons sometimes is because the parents are not spiritually ready for the incarnation of the soul. Really aware parents prepare extensively before conception, so that everything starts in a more conscious way, as done in more conscious astral travel. What kind of preparation parents go thru before conceiving signals to the universe what kind of spirit will anchor its silver cord to the embryo, by the law of attraction. Imagine that every human being is an Immortal Soul, a teacher in disguise, an Avatar of Immortality in disguise. Imagine if parents worldwide would teach telepathy and astral travel to their kids and prepare as if a Great "Avatar of Immortality" is about to incarnate, from a more advanced world, to help our planet... even if it's not always the case. It looks from thousands of NDEs and astral travels that spirit planes are far more advanced than our physical civilization, so this is not really an exaggeration to say every child coming from heaven, fresh with memories of the Immortal World of Immortal Souls of Heaven, is actually an amazing & beautiful ☺☺☺ Angel of Kindness or Avatar of tenderness or Avatar of Immortality, Spiritual Immortality, descending in this world to teach something about the 200 trillion qualities of a divine soul, that enable a deeper manifestation of "Heaven on Earth". ☺☺☺ Just like kindness is a quality of God, we can say Immortality is another quality. There are many "Heavens" or dimensions, so it's all rather complex. To create a brighter future of peace and nonkilling, it helps to recall that each person (babies too) is an Immortal Soul who may have lived before in many worlds, as a human or alien or spirit..., a teacher in truth or disguise, etc.

17. In the book "Soul Trek" by E. Hallett on page 148 there is a description of a 4-year-old girl who told her mother that the last time she was a girl, she had a different mommy and after that she was in the tummy of her current mother, but the mom aborted her because she was not yet married, so the same spirit came back later. The mom never told this to her daughter (only her husband and doctor knew, nobody else in the world), and when she became pregnant her future husband did not want the child so she aborted, even if she wanted the kid. This is a typical talk of "lives before" found in many thousands of cases, though they could all be made up.☺☺☺

18. Page 158 of the "Soul Trek" book above has an interesting telepathic exchange between a pregnant mother and some spirit who asks which of her dead relatives she wants to incarnate in her fetus and be her child. She picks a grandma and then grandma's scent comes around and the spirit later reminds her how fortunate the pregnant mom is to consciously choose the soul of her children. On page 159 there is a 4 year old kid who tells his mom he had multiple choices about his future mother, and if a mother was taken, he could not go there (he didn't elaborate about why some souls get to choose first, when there are multiple choices). Sometimes it looks as if in some cases the decision on which soul to enter a body may not be finalized until after conception, but it may just be an illusion too. ☺☺☺ On page 175 a pregnant mother has a dream of her future child Bryce who names himself and looks exactly as the child when it grows up. The child says he's very excited to be born to them, etc.

19. On page 198-9 of the "Soul Trek" book above a mother experiences some brutal handling of her and her newborn girl by the nurses at the hospital. Because of this brutality at birth, her baby cried frequently for months, did not sleep, etc. Driven insane by this, the mother resorted to the strangest method, at last, TELEPATHY: she told the baby that she will always be with her, she will never let any nurse or anyone do anything hurtful to her and what happened at the hospital will never happen to her again, etc. Then, the baby became quiet and slept for the first time thru the night and ever since.☺☺☺ Certain people think everything has a "chemical" explanation, but data suggests that it's not always like that. Lots of kids or adults have fears of places, situations or people that are irrational, and sometimes these only disappear during "past life recall". This experience is just one of many other similar ones, where just talking via telepathy with a baby solves a lot of problems. Babies are far more telepathic than adults. After this experience, the mother vowed to never birth at the hospital and do it at home. When people do it at home in water, etc, they only use hospital as backup if there is a complication.

20. On page 207 of "Parenting Begins Before Conception" by Carista Luminare-Rosen, a woman sees 2 pink spirits at the end of the bed, as she reaches climax and senses via telepathy that they're her future twins and they helped the embryo form, since they mingled with her physical body for 2 hours. She tells this to her husband who is skeptical at first, but 14 weeks later the twins are confirmed and husband is shocked. Many similar encounters and special energetic effects have occurred when the embryo is ensouled. Women ovulate 14 days before menstruation and if the sperm doesn't reach the egg in 24 hours, conception doesn't happen (all eggs a woman has are formed in the womb in months 6-7). That's why some parents, not using urine ovulation tests, waste 1 year to conceive since they miss it by 1 day. Those who determine exact ovulation time can conceive from the first month, if fertile. One other thing worth mentioning is that MD Thomas Verny and others found that babies will suck in the 4th month in the womb if lips are stroked, will shield his eyes if a bright light shines on the mother's womb and by 5th womb month he will raise his hands to cover his ears if there is a loud sound, kick if the mother's emotions are negative, etc. Babies respond even when father and mother argue, etc. This is all very important, for women who're used to super-bright light flashing and super-loud concerts or even headphones or parties, their actions might torture the baby inside and create trauma that will scar the baby for life. We know how critical the first 10 years of life are, or first 3 especially, imagine the first 9 months are even more critical and sensitivity is even higher for babies. That's why how we talk and telepathize towards a baby while in the womb is very formative for the baby. ☺ As explained above, the positive emotions during pregnancy and first year of life are so critical, that many countries offer 9 months off during pregnancy and even 1 year after birth. In a Civilization of Immortals it is important to pay attention to brain architecture building during first 2 years of life, womb and outside, since emotions picked up from parents in this period will have an outsized effect on the kid making him more prone to be angry or whatever. All his life. So in this period, parents are best served if they slow down, take more time off and not try to do a million new things at once, as usual, to avoid getting tired and then getting into any negative emotion that would contaminate the child. Maybe sleep more, more regularly, etc... meditate, consciously breathe, smile a lot, relax via a walk in nature with pets or alone, etc. Do one thing at a time, not 500 things and nothing done right. In this case, that one thing is the creation of the most positive healthiest brain emotional architecture, which is happy, free of anger, anxiety tendencies, the foundation for accurate telepathy, and a long happy life. The first year of life and womb time will influence the other 900 SO MUCH, that it would be time off for both parents where they're resting, doing the most positive transformation and meditation and happiest emotions building and healing, and rest and radiating positive loving energies to the baby to turn on the most positive genes and pathways, and erase the historical inertia genes, turn them off, epigenetically, so humans can move to an anger-anxiety free era of Immortal lifespans. In many studies rock music makes babies angry, they start kicking and growing restless, as all dolphins and whales run away from the ships when ships play that disharmonic music, and pigs are unhappy. Soothing classical music calms the babies in the womb, just like dolphins gather around the ship playing harmonious tones and music. The soothing sweet tender loving voice of parents as they talk to each other and others, the calmness of meditative calm music sounds around the baby affect his willingness to interact, communicate and explore once born. The baby's heart rate doubles when the mom gets frightened, so listening to calming healing music low volume is essential for the best healer vibrations taking root in the baby hearing them, as peaceful music evens out mom emotions. Doctor Pottenger did some amazing experiments on 900 cats in the 1932-1942 period and found out that diet can make a huge difference and affect future generations.☺☺☺

The voice of the mom being sweet gentle tender during pregnancy has a huge impact on the child's future desire to communicate once born. Moms and dads can (need to) abstain from smoking, caffeine, alcohol, weed, drugs during pregnancy at all costs, as it creates oxygen deprivation for the fetus and other problems. When a pregnant mom smokes, her fetus "breathes" through the umbilical cord heavily and his heart rate goes up, like adults' heart rate does when we're suffocated because of a lack of oxygen. At 6 months, as TELEPATHY (or some similar communication) is more advanced, the fetus heart rate increases and he starts gasping even when his mother TELEPATHICALLY intends to maybe smoke, thinks about smoking, and he reads her MIND, even if she doesn't smoke. This has been observed in experiments (MD Frederick Wirth, Clinical Professor of Ped at Tufts University School of Medicine, explains some of these experiments in his book "Prenatal parenting". The baby gets oxygen from the umbilical cord and when the mom smokes, his oxygen supply becomes smaller, so he experiences

"suffocation", if that were to be a good word. Similarly, even before smoking, he can experience symptoms of "suffocation", even if babies don't breathe in the womb.☺☺☺

21. page 210 of "Parenting Begins Before Conception" by Carista Luminare-Rosen presents an encounter of a pregnant lady and her husband with an angelic white being who embraced them, cushioned them as the car hit and miraculously, neither of them were hurt at all to the shock of the police officer. They named their daughter Angelica in honor of the angel. On page 211, another lady, a midwife, reports perceiving the room filling itself with astral light each time a child is born, as if the soul brings more of itself into the body then and other spirits assist this more complete incarnation (while in the womb, the spirit is often seemingly more free to come and go and leave the body building to other spirits). This does make sense, since if more spirits come at birth, like at death of people when room fills with light and seems to shift to some clairvoyant people, the birth will be accompanied by more astral effects, just like death, since it's the same travel back and forth between spirit worlds and this physical world. Carista mentions alternative birth methods as being safer and brings into discussion the book "Immaculate Deception II" which presents some of the side effects of ultrasound and overdoing pre-birth medical tests, chemical procedures (often not needed), vaccinations, etc within days of birth (for those not doing water birth in a hospital or some alternative clinic). MD Frederick Wirth, Clinical Professor of Ped from Tufts University School of Medicine, says in his book "Prenatal parenting" that the mortality rate for babies under 1 year of age is higher in America than any other nation in the Western industrialized world.☺☺☺ And that all these premature baby deaths can be prevented. He's against rap and rock music and believes they harm the womb baby. He writes "The quality of your pregnancy outcome also depends on the psychological and spiritual content of your life" (not just medical tests before birth). "A baby's in utero experience builds the brain architecture that will determine behavior throughout life". This brain architecture influences his TELEPATHIC development too later in life. "Your unborn child has more never cells and many more connections among them than an adult" Just like kids have thin skulls and are very easily damaged by cell phone radiation, womb babies are even more susceptible to all kinds of noise-chemical-electromagnetic-disharmonic sound-food vibrations pollution, even from the pain-anger in the meat of tortured animals (most meat and dairy comes from terror factory farms). When animals suffer for seconds/minutes during the sudden slaughter death, they release stress-fear hormones that age and sicken us. Fear hormones as well as astral vibrations that contaminate their flesh also prompt us into human-human conflict more often; we and animals share a lot of hormonal pathways, as neuroscience shows. Vegan moms are 5 times less likely to have twins. Twins are risky, one often dies or has limited development since nutrients were taken by the other. Vegan moms have less risk of ingesting food contaminated with lower negative emotions (pain, fear, terror-filled meat, invisible to our science today) that will block really good telepathy development. Even though America lags behind EU nations with rates 2.5 to 4 deaths per 1,000 births, the rate America got of 6 is way lower than other countries such as Philippines 22, Pakistan 55, Niger 85, Nepal 39, Brazil-Turkey-Venezuela 19, India 42, Russia 7, Mexico and China 12, Mali 102, Iran 38, ► rate.

These prebirth experiences are often times very much like NDEs, just without the accidents. Like with reincarnation and soul travel, it's very hard to prove what elements are real. They're often times real time waking time events like "seeing ghosts or spirits" and talking to them.

Below are a few other cases of alleged☺☺☺ telepathy between parents and small children who were born or unborn fetuses or spirits of babies before conception:

1. In "A Mother's Instincts," an Australian mother recounts her experience: "I was in the kitchen washing dishes and Alex, aged around eleven months, was running around in our lounge room. Our lounge is very much a childproofed room, so I was confident he could come to no harm. But while I was working I kept getting a fidgety odd feeling that wouldn't go away. It was a very strong feeling of 'Do something.' I kept trying to ignore it, but then it was like a light that filled a black room. 'Alex.' I dropped everything and ran into the other room. There he was, about to put a fistful of sewing needles into his mouth. How my sewing box got into the room I'll never know... But it was just lucky I got the message that he was in danger."

2. Another lady shared "I began to notice that whenever I wanted to eat, Dale would wake up demanding a feed (he was breastfed). Even as soon as I thought about food he'd wake up. We went to visit my parents in Queensland when he was six weeks old. I wasn't preparing the food, but as soon as I sat down to eat, he'd wake up. No matter what time of the day I wanted to eat, so did he. Even my Mum commented on it... she said to my husband, "Every time she sits down to eat he wakes up." Ronnie just said, "Yeah, he does that all the time." It got to the point where I couldn't even think about making a cup of coffee or he'd wake. I had to sort of "not think" about it, just do it, and then drink it without focusing on it. It was very difficult, as I like to really enjoy my coffee. It was very frustrating too."☺☺☺

3. light...htm has examples of telepathy, and an interesting example of father waking up at night before the baby starts crying, 1-2 minutes before: "The mother had a rough time at delivery and so, says the father, "since she was too weak to hold our brand-new daughter, the honor fell to me. Jenny spent the first two hours of her life in my arms, and she and I spent much of that time just looking at each other. I had a strong sense that a bond was forming between us, even then. Once home it was my duty to change Jenny's nappies and bring her to our bed for nursing at night. I was immediately struck by a strange phenomenon. Whereas I used to sleep like a log I would now awaken at night and within a minute or so hear Jenny begin to cry. This happened virtually every night for several months. I might add that Jenny slept not in our room but in the room next door. This family's second childbirth was easier, so the next baby did not spend his first hours bonding just with his father. Curiously enough, although the father once again was in charge of bringing the baby in for night nursings, this time he would wake up only after the baby had begun to cry. Maybe we mothers should make sure our babies spend lots of their early bonding time in their father's arms -- for the good of everyone concerned."☺☺☺

4. light-hearts.com/clippings.htm says "In an excerpt from her book Baby Catcher (Simon & Schuster, 2002), nurse-midwife Peggy Vincent tells how her twelve-year-old son Colin comforted her as she mourned a miscarried pregnancy. At 41, the pregnancy was unplanned and fairly unwelcome, but when it ended, Peggy "fell in love with the baby that was not to be." Her son then explained to her about "Spirit Babies" and why the same soul would return to her if she became pregnant again. Colin said that every woman has "a circle of babies that goes around and around above her head, and those are all the possible babies she could have in her whole life." Every month, one baby is first in line to be conceived. If the pregnancy miscarries, that baby goes back into the circle, but "it becomes a Spirit Baby and all the other babies give" in so that it is always first in line. Colin said that he knew about Spirit Babies because he himself was one, and had returned to his mother after a previous miscarriage.

5. light-hearts.com/clippings.htm says "In an article ("Birth Made Easy" by Andrew Weil, M.D. , New Age Journal, June 1995), the well-known natural health advocate Dr. Andrew Weil described how his wife Sabine made telepathic contact with her baby. With the help of guided imagery and hypnotherapy, she apparently won her baby's cooperation for an easy delivery. Sabine, seven months pregnant with her fourth child, was experiencing lower back pain. She sought help from Marilyn Ream, M.D., who led her into a session of interactive guided imagery. As Dr. Weil explains, this therapy "empowers patients by encouraging them to develop their own strategies for managing illness. It assumes that the unconscious mind comprehends the nature of disease processes and how to resolve them." Sabine did indeed heal her back pain during the session -- and she also made contact with her unborn baby. "Marilyn asked her to shift her focus to her uterus and to the baby inside it. Sabine was soon in contact with the baby. Marilyn guided her through a dialogue with the baby, in which Sabine asked her (we knew the sex by this time) to come on time (she agreed to do so) and to help make the labor quick and uneventful. In this dialogue, Sabine would speak the words she "heard" the baby use in reply to her questions." ☺☺☺ "A second, more dramatic experience came 3 weeks before the due date. The baby was in a posterior position, which can cause long and painful labor. Hypnotherapist Steve Gurgevich led a session with Sabine. Dr. Weil recounts: "Steve did an hour-long session with her... encouraging Sabine to talk with the baby, asking her to turn around before the beginning of labor and help make the labor quick. When he brought Sabine out of her reverie, she looked supremely relaxed. After Steve left, Sabine and I went to the kitchen to start dinner. Suddenly, she clutched her belly and bent over." "What is it?" I asked. "I think the baby's turning," she said, amazed. "It happened that our midwife was coming for dinner that night. She examined Sabine and reported that the baby was now in an anterior presentation, having turned within twenty minutes of being asked to do so. The baby came right on her due date. Labor lasted a mere two hours and six minutes, which was, if anything, a little too brief in that we barely had time to prepare." Unborn sister appears years early to her physical sister Sarah (kidnapped at age 4, survived alone 3 days in the desert, she describes this in her book Amazon..590), as a spirit comforting her telepathically while she got lost in the desert ► l...htm.

6. Another application of telepathy is understanding what an unconceived spirit baby wants. Some couples can try to have a kid for years and fail. One hypothesis is that the reason for the failure to conceive is not knowing why he's hesitant to incarnate in the family for now. Once parents change 1-3 things, pregnancy can occur as the spirit baby is more willing to come down. An example of this is at page 81 of "Spirit Babies" book mentioned at experience 16. Medium Walter explains the hypothesis that sometimes spirit babies don't allow conception to take place because it is too noisy where parents live (or maybe one of the parents goes to very loud events that would subject the baby to huge noise while in the womb or afterwards). As a soul wanting to experience more telepathy while physical, the baby is aware of the harmful effect of loud or ungentle music on his DNA in the first 15 years of life, so he won't incarnate until both parents are committed to raising a telepathic kid (or kids if all spirit babies lined up to incarnate in order want that) and having a try at practicing the telepathy habits that enhance ESP. Another "noise blocks conception" example is at page 87 of the book. If we think about the stories of saints who were sober, vegan or vegetarian, souls like that might want vegan parents who will raise them vegan like vegan astral traveler Erin Pavlina decided to raise her kids vegan. In another book on spirit baby communication, "Soul Trek" by Elizabeth Hallett, at page 66-67 there are babies pissed off when mom listens to loud bad music, even if it's on headphones. Mom turned the volume up a lot and started acting "wild" (the so called "normal" behavior in our "modern" age sometimes, headbanging and all), so the child moved and made himself known, gave her a vision of himself, etc. She then stopped the loud music and the baby stopped moving, etc.☺☺☺

15.3. Studies & hypotheses about Pregnancy, Birth & 1st Year of Life

Dr. Greger compiled some studies on the beneficial effects of dates in the last weeks of pregnancy ► youtu.be/2ZOeT4uraeQ and youtu.be/uFXvnFsCV_4.

ASTRAL-ETHERIC TONES☺☺☺, HARMONICS and Telepathy:

The 12-week womb baby has formed all the neurons and a newborn baby brain is the most flexible and fastest learning brain. The womb time and first 2 years of life are the most critical period of the new telepathic brain formation. Everything that the mother speaks, thinks and feels is telepathically transmitted to the womb baby, having a huge effect on the psyche and emotional makeup of the baby, his brain architecture, future telepathy potential, as well as his desire to explore, learn with wonder and confidence. If a baby is bathed in safe loving tender gentle music, emotions, words, thoughts from parents (especially mom, whose thoughts and feelings interact far stronger than dad's), during womb time, he feels safe and becomes a lover of exploration, learning and adventure, his IQ becomes higher, etc. If he's abused by negative emotions, music, thoughts of the parents and neglected, his brain is not wired to learn and explore, but is wired to be leery of pain and neglect, to be paranoid, and these things over time become impulsiveness and violence once an adult or even a kid. ☺☺☺We're often highly unconscious of the negativity, hidden violence, subtle undetectable meanness, low quality vibration of our thoughts and feelings, which create disharmonic highly entropic tones that can be heard by clairaudient people (every soul has a music, even human being has a music too, just like every planet has a music detectable by science, youtube...J0). What this means is that the dad's thoughts-feelings which influence mom's thoughts feelings have a direct impact on the womb baby too, not just the mom whose every thought and feeling creates a strong influence on the baby's developing telepathic brain architecture. Another thing that soothes some babies is the mom massaging and radiating chi energy (love, peace, etc) the stomach where the baby is. The tones that radiate from the mother's soul, have a cymatics effect on the etheric-physical matrix upon which astral-physical telepathy structures are formed. Hear NASA Jupiter sound. Harmonic astral and physical sound creates nice symmetrical geometrical astral and physical shapes and can apparently trigger the proper formation of the soul intended telepathy, bilocation, teleportation structures in the fetus, via an easier quantum entanglement between dimensions by virtue of similar geometry of "wormholes" and "dimensional gates" that allow certain energies to influence the matter matrix, etc☺☺☺

SOUND and Vocal & Telepathy Templates of Material and Astral Matrix

You might have noticed that pregnant and new moms talk to their baby in a higher pitch voice than usual, this is happening unconsciously (often without effort at all) because nature designed this communication relay perhaps on a certain bandwidth. A lot of behaviors of women change once pregnant, without them even noticing sometimes, only outsiders notice it. Perhaps we could come up with the hypothesis that it might be helpful if parents try to practice or even record during practice so that the best gentle tone speaking or semi-singing piece is replayed for easier replay later on once the right frequency (how high the pitch is individual choice) is reached. The human voice and soul and body are not always in a perfect harmonic alignment and it can take 3,000 attempts at saying the same thing or singing same song until the right

TELEPATHY Unlocking Frequency is achieved so to speak thru Holographic Sound, which then has to be repeated more often in a similar pattern. HOLOGRAPHIC FREQUENCY UNLOCKING THRU ASTRAL Pineal Sync is the hypothesis that parents hold the greatest ability to trigger the right formation of ESP brain centers in the child (due to DNA quantum entanglement), if they use the gentlest softest kindest astral and physical tones, during speaking, daily chores, etc, job, activities, and singing. The use of such tones is dependent also upon the habits of doing so, and the truth is only few couples make a real effort to change the patterns and habits of their sound expression and use daily, so as to make the shift towards angelic tones when talking to the womb baby easier. Parents sometimes fail to realize they don't talk to a helpless baby, but to a soul whose potential can be immense if the right vibes create the right environment. The most fragile and expensive "computer that holds the galactic records" could be a funny metaphor for how gentle the care (of every New Child born on Earth, who comes from Heaven with super-knowledge we forgot due to brainwashing), could or would be, as if, if a mistake is done in handling the Akashic Computer that the Body of the Soul is, the computer stops working and then the galaxy will blow up. ☺☺☺ The baby hears everything in the womb, everything mom and dad speak he hears, all the music or things they listen to, etc, all the angelic or opposite type of harmonics we emanate and listen to (even if joking that we like a music clip to make a friend think we're cool or whatever), and the incoming telepathy ESP ability and even general academic (not psychic) IQ and health are consequently harmed or helped by such sounds. The parent-child relationship starts to take shape well before conception, thru the habits of the parents, and takes obviously strong shape in the womb and first year of life affecting this relationship more than any other following year of course. MDs have noticed that the 9 months in the womb has such a strong effect on future IQ and everything, that it's often impossible to undo damage done while in the womb in any future year if too big, since the essential brain architecture and stress response and happiness, positive feelings, etc have already been skewed highly towards a given direction. What is easy to achieve in the womb in 1 month of loving kindness and affection, takes 5 years of daily such effort once an older child, if rectification is needed for example in a certain direction. The womb baby is not sensitive, but SUPER-SENSITIVE, sometimes 20 times more than adults, to any sound, song, discordant vibration, discordant ungentle tone of voice of anyone around mom (and mom herself obviously) having twice as many neurons as an adult and being far more connected with the spirit world where he came from, that's why babies under 5 are when humans are most psychic and etc. The womb has become his temporary new home, so obviously he wants the happiest, most loved mom around, so that her happy hormones will flood his brain, etc, so that's why the 9 womb months are when the husbands have to try to make mom the happiest she can possibly be, ever, the happiest she has ever been even if possible. ☺☺☺ This can include even the frequency of kissing increasing during pregnancy (the more love womb baby gets, the higher the IQ, health, etc of the baby since her hormones go thru baby's brain too, the more love mom gets or happiness, the easier for her to love the baby) as both people's brains are flooded with happy hormones during kissing as explained in "The Science of Kissing" book. But not just husbands, any stranger on the street around pregnant women are obligated to be nicer than usual, etc. ☺

The hypothesis we can formulate is that it's possible Any Incoming Soul ready to incarnate in the future in any family wants his parents to practice high pitch tones of gentle tender soft quality, that stimulate the formation of "pineal telepathy structures" in the womb, while "his" garment is forming in the womb, thru the daily practice of gentle tender soft songs of universal loving kindness towards all and gratitude to the Avatar of Immortality or Divine Spark in every human being. ☺☺☺ And yes just saying gently simple things like "i love you" or "i love you baby" or "i love you X" if parents decided on a name already, etc... or whatever parents say as per those 4 trillion parenting books where parents talk or read stories to their kids daily, and as a result the kids know those things well, such as astral travel, telepathy, teleportation, telekinesis, multilocation, etc. ☺ Anyway, the expression of gentle tender soft affection towards the baby in the womb is written about in many pregnancy books, etc... see more below.

Due to the fact that both parents are unconscious and don't manage to witness and monitor the birthing of their every verbal and emotional thought stream and associated harmonic and subtle sound, it's very helpful to neutralize such moments of "absent-mindedness" or "unawareness" (that we may not even be aware of, since they play sometimes from the subconscious as a background energetic loop even during sleep). And one way to neutralize such "negative effects" and "disharmonious tones" that lead to improper geometry and lack of strong telepathy "etheric-astral-physical brain structures" (remember how sound or electrogmagnetics cause the organ differentiation in stem cell studies, in the same way, the etheric-astral sound/tones of parents (mom especially) causes the formation of the astral organs for subtler telepathy, or doesn't cause their formation if the tones don't reach the proper loving kindness symmetry) is to consciously make an effort daily (just like 1 hour daily of physical exercise or meditation to refresh our minds, this is 1 hour or 10 hours daily of spiritual communion and cleaning of the baby's developing and forming brain and mind which we contaminated previously by "improper thoughts-feelings-astral tones-sounds", just like we change diapers, or take showers to clean our body) to consciously and intentionally surround the baby with gentle tender, positive loving affectionate energies, sounds, emotions, thoughts via telepathy, astral exercises, etc, and even verbal communication in the sweetest kindest softest gentlest tone possible. A good habit to create even before conception is to engage sometimes or even daily in conscious energy radiation exercises while doing movements of a physical nature (movements can be done as per telepathic guidance, and this way telepathy develops and the movements achieve the correct or most needed biocircuits of astral and electromagnetic energy unblocking and releasing of the body energy lines... at that time for that person, and this physical telepathy exercise then creates a better serene control of astral energy, enabling easier astral lift off and also enabling the super-aware and harmonic selfless universal loving kindness filled radiation to occur in any physical activity or chore, more often, especially the monthly time of ovulation for example for people who try to conceive and create the best energy ball for the formation of embryo. The first 9 months of life are critical, the most important, and naturally, the habit to radiate to a given organ energy is helpful in radiating this to the fetus. ☺☺☺

The first few days since conception are also hypothesized to be very important (with the first hours after sperm fertilizes the egg being the most important in the entire life of that human being, it's probably when the transfer of the soul patterns into physicality can be aided the most by parents's physical energy and holy radiations of elevated vibes, that's why conception could be thought of as the most important period of a person's contribution to their child), so the parents with more developed habit to radiate gentle tender universal seflless loving kindness at will, and to move in a slower tai chi fashion in general, and even during conception, will be having a much easier time to create an energy ball that epigenetically turns on certain astral potentials and even brain potentials of telepathy in the forming embryo. Gentle as Doves means that the gentle as doves get ESP and bring World Peace easier. And even how one walks, and behaves during kissing or conception has an effect on the future child's health, IQ, etc. Almost nobody talks about this, in books about conception, perhaps because it is thought as if a rather strange idea. ☺☺☺ But if the conscious energy ball is created, it helps the perfect harmony between parents and children to exist, and if this practice is continued, with parents enveloping the child in a golden light ball before birth and after, it will help create perfect harmony, as the habit of blessing-praying-radiating-visualizing is there, and the ESP link parent-child is stronger, leading to perfect understanding. In the book Spirit Babies mentioned above, the medium goes in detail about what a difference energy, intent and this type of "energy visualization" made. In studies, the bonding between mom and child in the first 48 hours of life (whether mom hugs child and he starts sucking the nipple right away for example, etc or at least hugs the baby right after birth and bonds with him for hours, skin to skin) has LIFELONG permanent consequences on the health and IQ of babies when all other factors are constant. It's the first "date" between baby and mom, and first impression changes everything. If baby feels unloved, he distrusts the mother, but the hospital prevents her hug. If the emotional bond is not set right from the start, it leads to more animosity, distrust between mom and child, less breastfeeding, less attention to the baby and then lower IQ and health, since the baby cries more and feels more misunderstood by mom and mom gets irritated by the cries that occur due to not bonding strongly first 48 hours due to hospital policies that often prevent that. Hence many moms choose a hospital that has policies allowing intense bonding and even doing water birth to diminish pain of mother and baby, which, if too much has lifelong psychological impact on both, but on baby many times more as he got his 200 billion neurons and is ultra ultra sensitive to anything.

Water birth is often times totally pain free according to many mothers, which is in sharp contrast with medicated air births; see youtube for "water births" there are thousands of videos. It goes without saying that anything mom feels affects the baby during birth time, so it's often said that it's best to do the birth in a midwife nurse water setup within a hospital that uses a doctor hospital only as backup in case there is any issue, this is explained in another paragraph of this post). Using a similar mechanics or logic if you wish to call it that way, it's possible that what happens in the first 48 hours after the birth into our world of the soul part that incarnates at conception into the physical embryo world of the womb, are equally influential (and not easy to fix afterwards) on the spiritual (or etheric at least) bond setting between parents and child, not necessarily emotional only, since this is the moment when the spirit is forced to at least partially incarnate even if he astral travels to Heaven all day and often hears what parents talk, etc. "The first few hours after conception being ultra important" is an unproven hypothesis of course, but it might be true and at least, if not true, the thought of it might bring more mindfulness to what people think, feel, speak around that time or even any time the pregnancy exists, since the baby can hear it all and any emotions from parents (mother far more) have an outsized effect on the fetus, whatever mom feels the baby will and this will define his hypothalamus axis response to life and stress, etc. The closer the conception time gets, the more the baby spirit visits parents, so then it makes sense to ☺☺lovingly gently☺☺ filter words, thoughts more. ☺☺☺ Since the baby hears everything parents talk and think, naturally, she or he may be happier if parents say "i love you" every 2 minutes to the baby, or as often as possible, (even before conception as a way to deepen telepathy) and surround him in the most awesome altruism-kindness-love-peace-joy-light, etc. His astral energetic IQ, will be higher, probably, just as the physical IQ than it would have been in the absence of that ultra-caring ☺☺☺ infinite compassion vibe, pretty logical hypothesis. The triangle of energy, mom-dad-kid, is probably also important not just during fetus stage, but the 1st year of life especially when the brain doubles its volume, 2nd year when it gets another 15% increase. By year 2, brain reaches 85% or so of the adult size.

The safer and more relaxed the baby feels (depending on how mom feels of course, and dad too to a lesser extent) in the soothing embrace of the womb and nearby sounds and vibrations from parents, the better his ability to perceive the subtler and deeper aspects of physical sciences, astral travel, teleportation, telepathy and spiritual reality, regardless whether he becomes a superluminal craft scientist, healer, astral traveler, ESP researcher, diplomat or whatever. An infant's brain metabolic rate in the first 2 years of life is 3 times that of an adult, and between ages 2-10 it is twice that of an adult, and at puberty it reaches the rate of an adult, as the brain maturation is complete. 75% of the human brain growth occurs after birth. Even so, the womb time is very important. Fathers and mothers who sing and talk and read to their womb babies will relate much better to the newborn child, helping him to calm down, understand, feel loved and safe. ☺ Fathers who talk more with the baby are instantly recognized by babies by the sound of their voice. To better stimulate brain development using a higher pitch voice is helpful. The voice has to be ultra loving, ☺☺☺gentle, tender, otherwise, the baby will dread it and not be interested after birth in listening to his parents as much. At week 8, womb babies have developed to the max almost their taste and smell senses for example and they move inside a little, even if moms don't detect it due to uterus being insensitive to touch, unless babies stretch it. At week 14, facial expressions emerge. Some babies are very responsive and can do certain womb movements in response to telepathic showers of positive emotions from mom, dad.

The 1981 Nobel Prize for Medicine was given to Torsten Wiesel and David Hubel for their work in proving the existence of a critical period in the development of the brain (this most likely applies to telepathy in the womb between mom and infant, father and infant too, as well as joint astral travel attempts guided by voice and reading from astral travel books, just like today many parents read or sing poems or spiritual quotes to their womb babies). In their experiments, a newborn kitten had his eye shut and when the shut eye was opened a few weeks later, the cat was permanently blinded. Human babies with cataracts who don't remove them in the first months of life will become permanently blind, since there is no brain stimulation of the visual cortex in the critical first 2 years of life, when the brain metabolic rate is 3 times that of an adult. No stimulation after the cataract removal done late will restore vision. This applies not just to sight, but also to all other senses, including Astral and Telepathic senses (the telepathy and astral travel cortex) to the extent that they have a physical component (not always the case). Use it or lose it. Use it early on or lose it or spend 100-1,000 times longer time to gain it, if ever. ☺ In the womb, babies got 200 billion neurons, adults got 100 billion. At birth a baby has 1,000 trillion synapses and by age 10 he has 500 trillion only, since the brain prunes inactive connections. Two useful charts on early brain development are at pic..pdf. The stimulation of astral etheric senses that are more physical incarnation custom and specific and not present in a disincarnate evolved soul (with a subtler body than some others) seems to be also depending on nearby spirits and parental stimulation of said senses. That's why in some of the books, there is a spirit or two seen by babies or parents who guard the fetus development. Some babies apparently are not in the womb 100% all the time and astral travel non-stop while in the womb, if we're to believe any of the 'made up' stories in books of astral travel. Some kids do have joint 'astral travels' with one or both parents or even dead relatives or other spirits while in the womb or aged 1-2, and sometimes they recall them per some real or fake books written to get rich quick or provide cover. The issue covered by this Nobel has been touched upon by many astral books dealing with spiritual abilities and how important is to try astral travel and reach divine ecstasy at age 1-2 like Terence Tao, (born 7-17-1975, 7-17 like Angela Merkel) with IQ 225 was doing his math at age 2 and then became world's foremost math genius almost.☺☺☺

The baby needs to receive minimum stress and maximum love, nurturing, real human milk, praise, smiles, affection (kisses, songs, hugs, chi transmissions, prayers, etc), joy, positive emotional feedback from parents (mostly mom of course usually, but dad too) in the first 2 years of life. This will prevent a very high gear stress response from developing, besides impulsive, ultra-fearful, paranoid and aggressive tendencies that can't be changed later in life, except with superhuman efforts that take 100 times longer, superhuman efforts from parents as the paranoid fearful aggressive kid can't change himself. They noticed animals who received the most affection early on, got the lowest blood pressure later in life, lowest stress hormone secretions which lead to longest healthiest life for the baby. Monkeys whose mothers were the most stressed during pregnancy became the most violent and anti-social, and most stressed by things other monkeys were not as stressed about. This highlights just how critical the role of family is in making sure a pregnant mom is super happy and unstressed, if we want to end the cycle of war and violence on this planet. Human babies who were most loved early on, became the smartest, most socially comfortable (can trust others and have a lot of empathy being the least aggressive of all), calmest, most emotionally and psychologically stable adults with the best motor skills even. When a baby cries, parents need to nurture the baby and figure out how to stop it ASAP. Babies need love, not reprimands or angry responses or bad words. ☺ Hence dads need to make sure moms are flooded with praise, love,☺☺☺ gentleness, kindness, tenderness, nurturing, gratitude, because if she has no love from husband overflowing she can't flood the baby with that either during her breastfeeding or handling of the baby, if she does handle it more, not always so. Some dads do the baby stuff more and moms just breastfeed.

Within 3 minutes of birth, babies can recognize their mothers' picture by looking at several big photos of women. How is this possible? A famous musician remembered exactly from memory some cello musical passages, to his shocking surprise, even if he never played them before. Upon sharing this with his mother, he found out his mother played those exact pieces as a cello player during pregnancy. Other parents had kids repeat phrases parents used a lot during pregnancy in some classes. Basically, if we teach the child in sweet soft tones "I can astral travel and reach divine ecstasy every hour, I'm telepathic", and teach him real methods of OBE and Telepathy Habits, it may be that he will do it much faster once born, versus others. ☺☺☺

University studies showed that kids (whose mothers had similar IQ) who were abundantly stimulated by toys and peers since the age of 4 months, got an IQ 20 points higher at age 3, compared to the kids with less stimulation. The same way, the telepathy and astral travel IQ (not measured by current tests) will be 20 points higher if the parents stimulate Telepathy

Exercise/ESP practice in the womb and first 3 years of life. The higher IQ maintained itself at age 12; no data showed the difference can be reversed. A study found higher IQ brains (even if not larger) have the cortex mature earlier, could this be due partially to more stimulation and affection? Why is affection and bonding with babies so important? Premature "infants receiving mechanosensory stimulation averaged 47% greater weight gain per day than the unstimulated controls and were discharged an average of six days earlier. The stimulated infants also spent more time awake and active, and exhibited more mature habituation, orientation, motor and range-of-state behaviors on the... Neonatal Behavioral Assessment Scale. The positive effects appear to be persistent; when retested eight and 12 months after treatment, the stimulated infants were in a higher weight percentile group, scored better on the Bayley mental and motor assessment tests, and had a reduced incidence of neurological soft signs (minor neurological abnormalities indicating nonspecific cerebral dysfunction)" ► PCH 2010;15(3):153-6; the paper explains that rats who were loved more, became more intelligent and less fearful as adults, since maternal affection makes them feel secure, less paranoid, more confident, love cancels out the fear of the unknown that is natural in a baby born in a new environment. This was observed in humans too, and it would definitely lead to more World Peace if we had less fear in the world. This is why immersion infant baptism, which increases fear, paranoia, distrust in parents, as well as circumcision, are lowering IQ and are acts of genocide against the human species. The humans who didn't receive much affection became much more physically aggressive or withdrawn and low IQ as adults too as other studies showed. It all starts with the womb and first year of life when brain volume doubles. What is learned then takes decades to unlearn. What parents teach by their emotions, thoughts, tone of speech, affects baby for his whole life. Babies drowned (40 sec video) by genocidal Christianity, circumcised by genocidal Islam/Judaism withdraws, doesn't trust mom, makes physical bond between the two weaker, causing low IQ. So, please stop supporting such criminal terrorist religions, and their demonic scriptures. ☺☺☺

JEP 2013;27(2):109-32 has more on these ideas of early education impact on IQ score. Rats raised with wheels to spin, ladders to climb, and more playmates had thicker brains, more synapses and were smarter than rats raised without toys and peers. That's why brothers and sisters playing with each other (or other kids their age from friends, etc) helps raise their IQ, if the kids are not clairvoyant and able to play with invisible friends or spirits. This IQ and ESP-IQ score effect applies to stimulating the baby while he's in the womb also, not just when he's 1 week old, 1 month old. Kids recall astral travel techniques or texts read to them while in the womb, and prefer those to new texts read after birth. They did studies showing this preference for the womb time text once born, even if they didn't know how to speak. That's why it's to the advantage of parents to start educating their kid early on and get their astral telepathic selves moving towards the telepathic future; minute 35:16 of plastic brain video starts explaining that imagining we do something changes the brain as if we're doing it, so parents don't need to attain full astral projection, perfect relaxation or reach real 100% (not just 5 or 20%) divine ecstasy to induce that super fast growing (increasing 800 times in size every so often) brain area developing in their kid by resonance (dad to womb fetus or mom to womb fetus). Kids who're talked to often verbally in the womb have better verbal skills than those of silent parents. Kids who're talked to often TELEPATHICALLY in the womb by parents have better TELEPATHY skills than those of silent (telepathically) parents. Same thing for astral travel. Listening to nice peaceful music also improves the math and spatial reasoning of the kids, not just telepathy. Basically, infants are the fastest learners, they learn any skill far faster than a 10 year old even. Learning a language at 3 is way easier than at 10 or 25. Learning telepathy and astral travel at age 2 is also 50-1,000 times easier than doing so at age 30 or 40. Newborns have more neurons and more synapses than adults, can recognize the gender of other babies (even when cross-dressed), something that adults can't do. The first 10 years of life are the most important, and obviously of the 10, the first year is THE most important. However, the first 9 months of life dwarf the first year, as then 4000 year life becomes easy. Infants of depressed mothers had high salivary cortisol levels, so dad needs love mom & baby (fetus), make them happy, since stress hormone cortisol early on destroys the health long-term and shapes the brain response for decades. Parents need be positive during pregnancy since the emotional (less the cognitive) self is vastly influenced by the womb time. One can have high IQ, but be an emotional disaster due to mother's pregnancy emotions. Another thing that seems to be true is that before conception, parents need to minimize stress since it affects offspring in potentially unhealthy ways.☺☺☺

In experiments it has been observed that praying for a person, animals, plant, insect, situation in a non-specific way, i.e the Divine Grace to manifest, Cosmic Energy to descend etc... for the best outcome for all beings is 2-4 times more healing and powerful in effects than praying for a specific outcome born of human wisdom about which is the best outcome. In other experiments done at some orphanage in 1940s, kids who were loved more via more interaction, given more attention, nurturing, grew faster, had fewer infections and much better health and one half the death rate of orphans who were not nurtured (even if both groups of kids had the same chemical nutrition and custodial care). Without kindness-compassion-nurturing-gentleness-love infant orphans die. Normal kids with parents who don't get enough Kindness-Compassion-Nurturing-Gentleness-Love develop weaker health, lower IQ, etc. Health is more than "vitamins, food and exercise". In another study published in the famous science Journal, rabbits that were played with by a human technician to see the effect on cholesterol came to lower their cholesterol each time. Apparently, a little loving attention and petting of rabbits and playing had a huge impact on their health. Loving tender gentle kindness healed their cholesterol level.☺☺

Note on conception☺☺☺ and avoiding miscarriage, preterm babies

Finding ways to multiply the most positive and happiest states of consciousness in both parents before conception, during conception, during pregnancy and especially the first 2 years of the life of the baby is important. Many doctors highlight the importance of skin contact with the baby by the mom, how this soothes the babies, etc after birth and how lovingly massaging the tummy while pregnant helps the baby brain secret happiness hormones and maintain positive emotions. Same thing with mom's emotions, for some women emotions become much happier if they're hugged, kissed and loved physically more (doesn't necessarily mean having sex, but there are many acupuncture points and methods to trigger ecstatic states in the mom by dad's physical affection, which is important, since mom's resources are taken by the baby growing, so affection and affectionate energies-thoughts-words-smiles, with happy emotions generation will help the baby and mom to stay in that super-happy state which is essential to the healthiest brain formation during pregnancy and even after birth, as mom's affective life strongly influences the born baby, the nature of her milk even, the chemicals in her milk, etc, the strength of her immune factors in the milk, etc. However, as I explained in the meditative ecstasy section, there are ways to meditate and do astral exercises that achieve states of cosmic consciousness far beyond orgasm (100 to 1 million more ecstatic); this helps the baby to develop a cosmic consciousness brain, which is far more ready to experience happiness, telepathy and joy without outer conditions and to be a real World Peace bringer and healer. This doesn't mean one has to have sex during pregnancy at all: many MDs are against any sex in some or all pregnancies, since potential complications of sex in pregnancy include preterm labor, pelvic inflammatory disease, antepartum hemorrhage in placenta previa and venous air embolism as explained at CMAJ 2011;183(7):815-8, but there are 100 ways to trigger the happiest astral altered states by meditation. Sex during pregnancy early on could cause miscarriage. A Thailand study found that sex in the first trimester of pregnancy led to a 36% higher preterm baby rate (28% preterm for no sex, 38% preterm for sex), which would be a big NO NO for sex during pregnancy. ► Obs Gyn 2006;107(4):793-7. This and other studies found that that the more sexual partners a lady has in her lifetime, the more damage her baby can experience (not just low IQ, telepathy and poor health) due to preterm birth being far more common. It seems as if nature doesn't think being having many sexual partners is a good idea. This may also be related to the fetal DNA in the female brain that stays there for decades sometimes from every embryo ever created (due to sex) ► PO 7(9):e45592 as explained also in the New Scientist.

Conceiving at ovulation, not before or after, reduces risk of miscarriage 3 times ► AJOG 1995;172(5):1567-72 and probably reduces the risk of poor health and short lifespan offspring too, by similar mechanisms, as the egg weakens and rots after it came out waiting for sperm too long or the sperm weakens after it waits for the egg too long, leading to the poorer version of the embryo that lives a shorter sicker life.☺☺☺ Most MDs recommend that women with bleeding in pregnancy refrain from sexual activity. Sperm count, quality, ability to conceive may be lower in caffeine (coffee, Coca Cola, etc) addicts ► AJE 2010;171(8):883-91. Presumably, this hypothesis may be true: sex during pregnancy may limit the consciousness filtering mechanisms of the brain of the baby to some extent and its translinguistic telepathy ability, as it trains, brainwashes the baby brain to seek happiness in orgasm, and miss cosmic consciousness due to untrained parents unable to reach happiness higher than orgasm without sex. CMAJ 2011;183(7):815-8 provides some "current science-based" general guidelines on sex during pregnancy. Nipple and genital stimulation may induce oxytocin release from the posterior pituitary, causing uterine contractions and preterm labor which would be devastating for the health of the baby, so parents could place the infant health above the selfish animalistic desire for sex or "nipple stimulation", etc. Prostaglandins released from mechanical stimulation of the cervix may cause cervical ripening. Prostaglandins in semen may cause cervical ripening. Sex after birth of baby is painful anyway, first 2 months, and for some women first 4-5 months even with lubrication due to the skin still healing after delivery, so it's very helpful to evolve spiritually and to know how to attain via meditation or astral travel or telepathy the happiest states without sex (or at least attain positive emotions by sex-free erotica that doesn't induce labor (nipple stimulation can) if the couple is inexperienced in meditation, etc). One common cause of painful intercourse postpartum is vaginal dryness due to the hypoestrogenic state induced by breastfeeding and dehydration if not enough smoothies, liquids eaten, since to produce 1 liter of milk requires 1 liter of water extra at least. 3 other great papers about this sex during pregnancy topic are JPE 2000;9(4):15-27, JPE 2006;15(2):29-35. and IJFS 2012;6(2):107-10.

15.4. The Very Deep Feelings & Thoughts in Unborn & Newborn Babies

Having seen above how babies can recall things adults can't (they got twice as many neurons and synapses) and learn way faster than adults, how they can recognize baby genders when adults can't, and other things like that, it's evident babies can do a lot more than what people thought for centuries. In "The Mind of Your Newborn Baby" by David Chamberlain, he explains that babies who have been circumcised without anesthesia (it was common practice) suffered the whole torture and felt it a lot, having a deeply traumatic scar in their psyche. He says infants may be the last category of people to be fundamentally misunderstood and abused because of that. For over 100 years medicine thought babies have no capacity for learning, memory, etc and, as a result, parenting was delayed. Babies prefer texts read before birth, once born. They stop listening if parent reads backward (nonsense), indicating that their brain is thinking even without language. Babies recall what parents said before and after birth, their memories are intact, they feel at least as much as an adult feels, imagine being circumcised without anesthesia. There are a lot of misinformed doctors and nurses who mishandle babies in very rough ways since they imagine the baby doesn't feel or think or understand much, but babies

do. Some babies even complain to their parents about how doctors roughed them up while being born, when they can speak, years later. Birth trauma can have bad consequences on a person's entire life. As birth shifted in the 20th century from home to the hospital, the gentleness and psychological quality of the birth has suffered, as nurses and doctors don't always treat babies as parents would, with the same tender care, loving kindness, etc. Language is not necessary for thinking. Babies dream more than adults. They feel more than adults too, are far more sensitive to anything. Babies are meant to be near their mom, breastfeeding after delivery speeds up the expulsion of the placenta and protects the mother from hemorrhaging. Many newborns start suckling right away, within seconds. Doctors (including David Chamberlain) used hypnosis and found how accurate people's birth memory can be and how birth trauma can damage people for their whole life. The way people treat babies in the womb, at birth and first months of life has a defining role in shaping their personality and even telepathic ability (distorted or not by trauma or negative experiences). On page 93-94 of the book mentioned in this paragraph, it talks about studies showing that even the use of too much anesthesia at birth or lack of breastfeeding after birth is associated (correlation may not be causation though) with a lot of health problems later in life (no breastfeeding was associated with gastrointestinal problems, since human milk has those key protective antibodies, prebiotic oligosaccharides, bacteria that live in the gut, 70% of human immune system is hypothesized to be in the gut). Pages 100-200 have cases of kids who believe they recall exactly their birth. False memories can be implanted or emerge via hypnosis, kids can be taught to lie by parents, so it may be all fake.☺

Pleasurable β-endorphins, made by the pituitary gland are found in the 7th week of pregnancy. Squinting and sneering of babies' faces has been filmed at 14 weeks with special cameras. The tiny sacs that store air in the lungs keep growing until the age of 8, so babies and kids need a lot of clean, fresh air. Open windows and ventilate air, since indoor air pollution is usually 5 times that of outside (except for ultra smoggy places in Asia). Moms who drink caffeine, alcohol, smoke or do drugs are damaging the lungs, bodies and brains of their kid who struggles for oxygen. (see page 7 of "The mind of your newborn baby" David Chamberlain book; on page 20 it explains how babies get about 40 calories a day by drinking amniotic fluid at a rate of 15-40 mL per hour in the third semester, and how mom drinking or smoking makes amniotic taste unpleasant for babies (who feel, and taste since 8 weeks) and they stop eating and are born small, underweight, brain damaged for life and unlikely to survive past 5 years old sometimes). Studies also showed that alcohol at the time of conception can have DEVASTATING consequences with serious birth defects. Moms need to eat more while pregnant and get all nutrients needed, to ensure a healthy baby, especially ω3 DHA. Page 23 explains that in studies it was shown the restless music (not just rock, rap, but even classical music pieces that are very upbeat such as some from Beethoven, Brahms) makes babies restless and upset; the book presents the case of a woman who went to a rock music concert and had her rib broken by her baby kicking her rib, who was enraged at the music. Others had to leave violent movies as baby went on a rage of kicking, reacting to the sadistic torture of their psyche thru violent sounds. Babies are FAR more sensitive than adults, have more neurons and synapses, they recall heaven and the harmony there and detest earthly disharmonious and hate-chaos-violence filled "music", just like clairvoyant people and sensitives do, the clairvoyant clairsentient retained the abilities of babies of being connected to Heaven's harmony, they're still more linked to Heaven and less brainwashed by the lower violent vibrations of the physical Earth. At 20 weeks, when baby is 1 pound, the father can hear the baby heartbeat by placing ear on the womb. Rhythmic jolts may be hiccups of the baby. 8 weeks after conception babies start to form the vestibular system related to gravity and balance, they will imitate the movements of mom and weeks 10-12 they start to gyrate, kick and do their own movements, as they figure out how to balance themselves. Babies are even hypothesized to learn to speak in the womb and acquire some of the mother speech accents and sounds (can be father too, but usually fathers speak less around the baby than mom), as page 24 explains, which would explain why those who're read more have better verbal skills upon birth. Parents have to use the sweetest softest kindest highest pitch voice ideally while pregnant, so the baby loves to communicate with parents once born. Baby hears thru bone conduction, so fathers are heard clearly (enough to influence babies) only if they speak louder, or very close to mom and clearly. The sweeter, more relaxed and angelic the voice of the mom (sweeter than she has ever talked to anyone), the better for the future mom-baby relationship and also other humans-baby relationships. Mom's tone of voice (happy ☺☺☺, relaxed, sweet, gentle) is far more critical than dad's, since it is heard much more and much better due to the physics of the womb hearing and also the simple fact dad is not near the baby 24-7 like mom is and if he would be, he would be farther away anyway.

Traumatic births lead to brain damage that then makes a child super-reactive to any stimulus, preventing a slower heart rate, which is essential to longevity. Doctors noticed those who become very physically aggressive in life had very difficult births with serious complications. Sometimes just the mere umbilical cord being wrapped around someone's neck tightly is associated with lifelong stuttering that only disappeared when hypnosis allowed this memory of birth to be brought to the conscious mind (much like in past life recalls). In one case of traumatic birth, the doctors were cursing a lot and the priest came to do the last rites in Latin. Then for years as a kid, mom had no clue why the kid would have these outbursts of cursing and speaking in a strange language during nightmares. Only after doing more research, she recalled the doctor cursing and the Latin language of the priest matching the nightmare of the kid (in loops of traumatic memories during dream time, nightmares that are vocal or not, people are seeing the same trauma again and again, just like in past life related nightmares related to a killing or something). For more details see pages 102-104 of the book amaz..23. You can read pages 60-63 in scribd format at Child if you type 60 in search bar if you don't want to buy the book yet. The use of forceps to pull babies out in air births, due to lack of proper emotional preparation for birth of the mother by the doctors also leads to lifelong problems as explained later in the chapter. One baby refused to breastfeed from her mom, but was OK with nursing from other women. The reason was that the baby knew, from womb time, that the mom did not want her and avoided the mom. One guy became a chronic depressive and it was all related to his father coming home drunk one day and doing something inappropriate that induced labor and his birth. (page 125) Cesarean birth babies are hypothesized to be more likely to be spaced out, clumsy with walking and not know where their body starts and ends. Page 128 describes a horrific hospital birth (all was going well, labor was almost done naturally, until 2 arrogant people came and started their routine), where insensitive doctors are chatting about vacations, weather, etc all while having done some atrocious things that have probably harmed the baby quite a bit, for a few years at least. What people don't realize is that a third of deaths are due to medical mistakes and many people become doctors to make money or because dad said so. Of those who don't become doctors for money, a lot don't even read books like presented in this post and view birth as an engineering machine thing, treating moms and their babies like objects, and failing therefore to do an appropriate birth, to evaluate thru empathy what is the right thing to do, as the example shows. That's why today a lot of people opt for the more holistic doctors (The book author, MD Thomas Verny, suggests a nurse-midwife who goes thru special training and attended often times more births than an obstetrician, since there is less chemical overload and more gentle tender soft care) who also do hospital water births and are more informed about the psychology of birth and its consequences. Anyone who talks to a doctor well before birth or to a nurse-midwife (hospital as back up if issues come about) can get an idea and know if that's the right person. Verny recommends independent maternity centers as the most ideal place of birth (for low risk pregnancies), followed by special dim birthing rooms inside hospitals that allow for extensive contact right after birth between mom and baby and father, less "chemicals, bright lights", leading to better birth outcomes.☺☺☺ Mothers who were overdosed with anesthetic (home water births don't use it at all due to negative side effects on immune system of baby, water births are far less painful anyway, incomparable to air births) gave birth to infants 4 times less capable to habituate to a stimulus (they are ultra-reactive). The autism epidemic may have something to do with the overload of toxic (foreign is viewed as toxic by the immune system who developed over millions of years) chemicals poured into babies at birth and by the ultra vaccination programs, that pump so many chemicals nobody used in millions of years. The autistic restless behavior may not be entirely due to high sugar, high ω6:3 ratio (sugars and too much ω6 were shown to make peaceful adults aggressive and restless too ► see chapter 16) of the diet of the youth today. See more on page 44 of the book mentioned in the previous paragraph. Frederick Leboyer observed that babies born naturally (water birth) smiled more at birth (some smiled for several minutes indicating the birth was pleasant, as opposed to hospital air births where the pain is so deep they cry a lot) and that babies given warm baths by the father smiled a lot too. Babies also smile quite often while dreaming (babies dream half the time they sleep, they sleep 16 hours daily in the first 2 weeks of life). If babies are picked up and smiled back a lot when they smile, they get the cue and smile more and more. This actually is very helpful for them. Doctors noticed babies get very upset when parents don't smile back repeatedly, indicating babies view smiles as a very important communication mechanism, maybe a way to say "i love you, love me back, do you love me?". Doctor Leboyer says that the umbilical cord cutting doesn't have to be done instantly and that babies who have theirs cut later cry a lot less. Most babies who recall their birth complain about being away from mother (99.9% are pissed off, angry, abandoned, lonely, even fearful-depressed when placed in the nursery away from mom), being placed in cold (hard scales) crowded noisy environments or exposed to bright lights, needles, eyedrops, being handled by strangers, tough handling, etc, all things that never happen in a home water birth or a water birth in a hospital doing water births and trying to be extra careful and gentle, dim lights, etc. Babies can understand and even recall years later things parents or friends say (or think if telepathic) while baby is non-verbal or in the womb, so people need to avoid saying/thinking anything inappropriate they would not say/think around a telepathic adult. ☺☺☺ Each time a baby cries he does because of some discomfort and parents need to use telepathy, brainstorming, body language reading, trying different things and try figure out what he's upset about (there are cry pitches for hunger, cold, heat, etc, it's a real language) until the cry stops. Happiest babies cry the least (they noticed in nurseries for premature babies, those exposed to soothing sound of a 60-70 beats per minute heartbeat as heard in the womb of a relaxed normal mom gained more weight, cried less, got sick less, etc, indicating the womb made them feel safe, tranquil, secure and feeling safe is helpful, playing 128 beats per minute got them enraged).

Parents can lovingly telepathically or verbally tell the baby "sweet angel, can you stop crying, or let me know why you're upset?" then listen in their mind, it may be clear and just because someone talked to him he may stop crying, some babies understand parental telepathy, but are frustrated that they can't be understood by parents since they can't talk. Sometimes babies cry due to wanting more love, attention, affection, hugs, etc. When hands are in fist form, they're uncomfortable. Babies stop listening when things are read backwards, so they know language a little, as they heard it a lot in the womb (some were even taught English by grandpa spirit who brought them from Heaven, as explained above, so a few babies can even understand English 100%, but can't verbalize it). Scottish babies were able to know when the lips of Japanese faces are in sync with what sounds they hear. Babies also prefer faces who speak the native language of their mom (spoken while pregnant), indicating that they understand a lot about sound. In experiments where moms looked "depressed" on purpose, to gauge reaction, babies cried in protest, looked away and took several days to regain trust in their moms. Perhaps we can say that smiling☺☺☺ and being in body language, eye look, smiling communication with the baby is the best. Babies always try to communicate and perceive a lot more than many adults assume. They just can't verbalize it and use strange sounds, movements, eye looks, telepathy to communicate. Pregnant moms are advised to avoid ingesting cold water or liquids, as the babies don't like it and start kicking. Hot baths are a big no-no, as they can not only supremely annoy babies, but can kill them too. One guy did a hypnosis for his severe anxiety accompanied by hot flashes, and found from the doctor doing the hypnosis that on the 7th month in the womb he felt afraid and hot (hypnosis up to 7th month went smoothly with nice memories). The doctor found out that the mother kept a dark secret: in her 7th month she tried to kill him by doing hot baths, harming the child for life with supreme anxiety and hot flashes and only divulged this when her son repeatedly asked her what happened in the 7th month that made him feel hot. I guess, warm showers or baths are fine.☺☺

28 mothers were split into 2 groups: 14 were with their baby 1 hour after birth and 5 hours a day next 3 days, 14 had a brief glance at the baby and brief contact first 12 hours, and half hour at feeding times. At 1 month, 2 years, 5 years it was apparent that babies who had more initial maternal contact developed higher IQ and language skills. (see page 49). The more contact with babies early on (even just holding the baby, talking to him, etc), the taller they seem to get years later, the faster they grow, the faster they walk, the higher the IQ (15 points higher difference) and EQ (and thus telepathy precision), the happier they become once grown up. What they noticed in animals is that bonding in the first hours after birth has a lifelong impact on the mother-child relationship, due to hormones that are secreted which trigger special behaviors that are not observed in animals and mothers who don't bond right after birth. Moms who hug, kiss, love their baby right after birth for hours also breastfeed their babies much longer on average (non-bonding moms give up way before WHO recommended time), giving them better health, more ω3 DHA, better brain, higher IQ that way, not just via the benefits of years long deeper interaction stemming from the initial amazing attraction that nature designed to emerge between mom and baby if they make contact a lot. Babies that get less affection behave like puppies who're store bred, more fear/aggression towards strangers and sometimes even more health problems. It's just like adults, first meetings have an impact way stronger than meeting number 100. Drugging women during delivery, as done sometimes in hospitals, prevents them from properly bonding with the child after birth, taking away the baby right after birth prevents the crucial 12-24 hour bonding the mother needs to have with the child, which gives her and the baby huge advantages in telepathic and other forms of communication. What is the most mind-blowing in this is how those 12 hours of bonding after birth, totally change the behavior of mothers towards kids and vice versa for years, leading to IQ 15 points higher as the hormones released reduce post-birth bleeding and enable her to relate and teach the child instinctively in much gentler and more loving ways (may be related to oxytocin and other hormones, as baby usually breastfeeds after birth naturally, "first impression matters"). See Ch 8 of "The Secret Life of the Unborn Child". Years after birth, bonding moms were always far more empathetic, loving, gentler, telepathic with their kids, just like better relationships display those qualities. If we want World Peace, higher IQ, we need educate MDs and mandate bonding, forbidding MDs taking away the baby from mom 1st hours after birth (unless there is an emergency).

It's unbelievable to some that just a little extra contact makes such a huge difference. In another mind-blowing experiment, they took premature babies who were just 4 pounds and had their moms caress, stroke, moving up, massage their babies for 15 minutes a day, 3 times daily. Other babies were left in the nursery as usual. The babies who had mom contact, gained 47% more weight than the others, even though both groups ate the same exact number of daily feedings and daily calories, which shows the power of touch and affection to totally change metabolism, no drugs, no medicines, giving further validation to all the chi and EFT (emotional freedom technique) amazing healing testimonials on youtube and throughout history (healing miracles, hands on healing). These more loved babies were more alert, more peaceful, and got out of the hospital almost a week earlier. After 8 months, graduate babies of the touching by mom program of 45 minutes daily got taller, heavier, had larger heads, prompting doctors to always recommend playing, picking them up and putting them down, wheeling in strolls, rocking them, moving gently (no jolting or shaking, since it damages the brain, just like rock music headbanging damages the brain in adults), massage with hands or soft fluffy things (while explaining this is a soft material, etc), affection for babies. A Discovery Channel theory said that because moving takes such enormous computational resources, the brain is forced to grow bigger in many animals that move a lot, not just human babies.☺☺☺

In Bogota, they had some very premature babies, 4 pounds each, who had a 50% chance of survival, and the doctors told moms to use the "kangaroo method" and keep the babies with them all the time (head between breasts), love and stimulate them. This is unconventional since the incubator method only leads to 50% survival rate. 90% of the babies survived due to very strong mother contact, being able to deflect infections, etc. The importance of loving touch in brain development is also explored in this Psychology Today article. Ped 2002;110(1 Pt 1):16-26 presents a study on the importance of touch in brain development. The kids receiving kangaroo care KC scored higher on the Bayley Mental Developmental Index (KC: 96; controls: 92) and the Psychomotor Developmental Index (KC: 85; controls: 80). PCH 2010;15(3):153-6 says "Research on the benefits of touch for premature infants has already led to procedural changes at many hospitals, with the implementation of 'kangaroo care' as a standard care option for both premature and full-term infants. In kangaroo care, the infant only wears a diaper and is held upright against the bare chest of the carrier. Feldman et al studied the long-term effects of this technique and found that premature infants who had received at least 1 h of kangaroo care daily for at least two weeks, beginning between 31 and 34 weeks postconception, scored higher on both the mental and motor domains of the Bayley assessment tests at six months." Each body extremity has nerves that connect with the developing brain, so stimulation via touch probably has the same effect as any stimulation, be it auditory, etc, it impacts the infant brain. There is another study on how simply touching preterm infants a few times a day (all received same nutrition), in their incubators or plastic boxes, led to smarter, taller, healthier children. Robots can't walk well, we figured out a lot of things robots can do well before we figured out how to walk like a human. Moving requires a lot of brain processing and patting leads to infant processing, etc... Animals moving a lot developed bigger brains according to one theory.

Obstetrician Renee Van Dr Carr created The Prenatal University (described in his book), a program of stimulating 5 month olds while they're in the womb, leading to babies who're smarter, healthier, born with fewer complications (or C-sections), talk earlier, concentrate for longer periods of time. A post birth program is Shichida method, see equations solved by 32 months old at the bottom of this shichidamethod.com page (kids with IQ 186-200). A thing that speeds up baby learning is looking in his/her eyes ► "Speaker gaze increases information coupling between infant and adult brains" ► PNAS 2017;114(50):13290-95. It helps synchronize the heart beats even between mother and father when they stare at each other. ☺☺☺

For an interesting chemistry discussion on the effect of mother catecholamines (adrenaline, noradrenaline) on the fetus and the unhelpful effect of eating meat on the fetus's telepathic ability, see Ch 16. However, if the mom had a very strong love for her unborn child, even during stressful moments or pregnancies (due to maybe her husband leaving her after he learned she got pregnant or something really ultra stressful), studies showed that the child was OK (even if not the super-genius at telepathy type). The Love of the mother for the unborn child has a shielding effect on the child, via neurochemistry, protects both mom and child, just like the love between husband and wife has a neurochemical effect that shields both parents from "outside stress factors". The child is super-smart in the womb and if the mother is ambivalent about wanting the child, he picks it up and is born with problems (see page 47-50 of the Secret Life of the Unborn Child by Thomas Verny). The most wanted and loved kids, often come out fine, even during stressful pregnancies. However, in general, a stormy marriage leads to a 237% greater risk of psychologically or physically damaged child compared to a happy nurturing relationship.

A bad relationship damages the unborn more than smoking, mom illness or backbreaking physical effort during pregnancy, since pregnancy neurochemicals shape brain architecture for life. Unhappy marriages led to kids who're 5 times more fearful, shorter (not enough nutrients to grow as explained above due to screwed up brain architecture that releases stress hormones all the time in abundance and over-reacts to anything), etc. Thus, many say, the role of the father is far more important than some think. From all these books it's self-evident a father (or partner) has to love, praise, make her laugh and thank his pregnant wife every hour, say "how amazing and beautiful and loved she is, the most amazing woman he ever met☺☺☺" every 2 minutes, same to the baby, in order to generate the neurochemicals of happiness crossing over thru placenta into the baby's brain for highest IQ once born. Fathers who smoke are far more likely to have children who die in the womb per several studies. Moms who drink caffeine birth kids with disorders, so it's best to stay away from tea, coffee, soda, energy drinks.

Birth control pills can lower the IQ, ESP-IQ of a future baby via several mechanisms. The pill makes some women fat and alters their voice (PO 12(8):e0183462) to an unattractive low pitch masculine one (this is affecting her ability to communicate with the baby who prefers high pitch, leading to IQ consequences for the baby who learns less). The pill, when used often, can wreck the gut flora and 70% of the immune system lives in the gut. A lot of chemicals in food today and water wreck the gut flora, like chlorine, fluoride, pesticides. Pills add another layer to it, Vioxx is a pill that killed 38,000 Americans before being banned. This FDA pdf explains side effects. If people time sex properly, away from ovulation time, there is no need of pills, plus they got condoms for people without that much self-discipline. Abortions also wear down the body a lot; many abortions lead to cancer and other health issues. Oral contraceptive pill use is associated with localized decreases in brain cortical thickness ► HBM 2015;36(7):2644-54. Huffington Post explains "neuroscientists at UCLA found that two key brain regions, the lateral orbitofrontal cortex and the posterior cigulate cortex, were thinner in women who used oral contraception than in women who did not. Changes in the lateral orbitofrontal cortex (involved in emotional regulation and responding to rewards) could be responsible for the increased anxiety and depressive symptoms that some women experience when they start taking the Pill."

There is another form of touch that is important, or perhaps, very important, later on, to be taught to the baby, when the baby is older and can understand, the touch of the Infinite Spirit of God thru the oxygen molecules that light up the body and brain and allow the baby to experience true happiness, independent of toys, hugs, kisses, tasty foods and circumstances: the bliss of universal loving kindness breathing, gentle music (well, massage therapy music is always this type of brain massage music) and universally kind eterni tone speech that massages one's brain, healing it deeply, raising the IQ of the brain too, not just making the brain and kid happier, more stable emotionally, independent of the mood shifts of anyone around, or passing world events. Until baby is that old, parents can practice this, during pregnancy, so the baby has an easier time to learn it once born without even being taught. In the prematter state, the baby can learn well before conception, if parents give up being silly, and learn to breathe and smile like the happiest being in town. Say something mentally if it helps first "Breathing is ecstatic", or "Bliss of All that Is Is" or "Bliss is"☺☺☺ or "God is Bliss". You're creating new neurons and neocortex like structures that our species lacks. Babies learn way easier, they got twice the neurons of adults, including the language of bliss breathing. Adults have to go against inertia and rewire their brains, while babies can create the core brain architecture that favors telepathy, which adults can't do anymore, as core brain architecture is done.

15.6 The Dangers of Hot tub, Sun Heat, ULTRASOUND Scans, Baby Movies

Ultrasound heats tissues, causes cavitation, DNA damage and most likely prevents the best brain development conducive to TELEPATHY. Hot baths, saunas, showers longer than 15 minutes (see papers below) can cause brain defects*, abortion,* miscarriage due to heat.. Just sit in a hot car in the summer 5 minutes to get some detox, no need to waste $ on saunas. Some of the papers below explain the association (and presumed causation) between PREGNANCY ULTRASOUND and delayed speech, autism, left-handedness, mental retardation, dyslexia, urinary tract problems (peeing perhaps a lot too, during ULTRASOUND of the genitals for sex determination), schizophrenia, epilepsy, preterm delivery, cesarean delivery, miscarriage, low birth weight. Ultrasound machines vary in output, some were found years ago to be exposing infants to 5,000 times higher signal intensity than others. In 1993 their output was 10-15 times weaker in the US than in 2018. Not all countries have strong regulations about output. Recall that even young people can develop strokes after a hot shower done right after a big meal. Taking a long hot shower before bed is suicidal, since strokes during sleep are more likely, silent undetectable strokes if aged 20-50 and an obvious one (speech lost, memory lost, paralysis) after 60. Keep baths ventilated and the showers short, avoid cold or hot showers to prevent silent strokes. It's not about babies only, but about your health: drink water before and after any shower, take showers in the morning after you drank 1-2 glasses of water and never hot or cold showers, as these make your blood pressure go low or high in 1 minute, causing strokes. Don't try to play the superman on Epiphany in Russia, cold jump during Easter, that causes strokes. Putin is low IQ & the guys who invented Epiphany are typical Christian low IQ folks who destroy the IQ of billions.

The FDA says to NOT do an ULTRASOUND or use heartbeat monitors unless the baby is known to have an issue ► fda..8.htm. The WHO is against its use also, especially for low-risk pregnancies.

Reading the papers below may convince some to never use ULTRASOUND for such irrelevant reasons as "baby videos" and "determining sex" or "it's free with my health plan, everyone does it, let me do it too". If everyone is making a mistake, like when they did x-rays on babies in 1930s (read story at midwiferytoday), causing cancer, you don't have to do it too. ULTRASOUND is used to sterilize men for 6 months in a new contraceptive method that Bill Gates donated money for ► gizmodo.com, so it has biological effects. What sex a baby has doesn't matter, why expose a baby fetus to extra risks? Just have 2 names ready (if girl or boy).☺☺☺ 150 years ago they used to put lead in people's mouths for dental fillings and gave people quinone, a poison. Science changes every 10 years as new data comes in. Regulations take 5 decades to catch up.

"ULTRASOUND examinations during pregnancy expose the fetus to a sound as loud as that made by a subway train coming into a station" New Scientist Magazine. ☺☺☺ ULTRASOUND causes miscarriage ► JECH 1991;44:196-201.

ULTRASOUND CREATES HEAT and we know from other studies that heat during pregnancy causes birth defects as embryo gets damaged. It's possible that extreme heat exposure (going outside in 120 degree weather, taking hot baths, etc) months or even years before conception, could partially damage all existing eggs of a female most of which were created while the female was a fetus. Doctors tell women to avoid heat during pregnancy, but perhaps it needs to be avoided even before. It would be great to do studies to compare birth defects in women who exposed themselves to a lot of heat and hot water 5-30 years before conception. Many pregnant women live in areas without air conditioning even in the US and when a heat wave hits, the embryos are damaged. As people build stadiums, hockey rings, sports facilities, as they smoke, drink alcohol, buy fancier cars, they got no money for air conditioning. Some people will spend $9,000 dollars to buy a fancier car, but $0 for central air conditioning. If we do a graph between temperature during pregnancy (or even before conception) for a woman and the IQ and birth defects of her child, we would probably see a relationship, because high heat totally changes chemical reactions and increases biochemical entropy. After having kids, one can do whatever they want. All people have heating in cold climates (even a power failure is not as bad, because 4 blankets can create heat) which prevents very cold temperatures (which could also damage embryo/fetus if one almost “freezes”), but much fewer have central or room air conditioning (AC) or a way to cool during power outage to prevent heat damage in semi-warm or hot climates (unless using car AC to cool until power comes back on, which is a 10$ way to avoid a $0.3 million costs birth defect). Not all people even have a car or good car AC and window IR block to avoid heating if outside (not garage), or libraries/shops to go to if closed and remote area to avoid fetus damage. Scientists discovered females can create new eggs each year, but it is rare probably. This embryo damaging heat is why some don't have sex or even sexless erotica during pregnancy too, as erotica raises the body temperature ► BL 5-30-2012; before conception males are also supposed to avoid hot showers (heat lowers sperm count/health), tubs, saunas, sunbathing, extremely hot weather, tight underwear/pants that increase heat by friction (avoid over biking too) to minimize birth defects; sperm is created fresh every day unlike eggs and remains in scrotum a few months before being absorbed back by the body if unused):☺☺☺

Heat 6 ► JAMA 1992;268(7):882-5 ► Women who're exposed to either of 3 combos: sauna and hot tub, sauna and fever, or hot tub and fever, are 6.2 times more likely to birth kids with spina bifida birth defects (2.8 times if hot tub only, 1.8 times if fever or sauna only).

Just as embryos are destroyed by heat, and killed in miscarriage, so can eggs and sperm producing cells (sperm can be made fresh, eggs can't) in testicles be damaged by extremely hot baths, tight jeans/underwear that squeeze/press testicles, even 20 years or 10 years before conception. Females get all their eggs at birth, but only about 400 eggs mature and come out during menstruation, one a month, from age 16 to 50: these eggs can become babies if fertilized by sperm. These eggs can be damaged by RF (phones, car radar, etc), EF, MF, so women soldiers create DNA damaged babies if exposed to high artillery or navy/airplane RF radar, high heat during strenuous combat exercises that press hard on genitals, other RF. Men soldiers, gym and sports fanatics also create mutants if RF exposure or macho physical exercise that 'crushes testicles' happened that destroyed the sperm producing cells, besides the sperm that fertilized the egg. You see ultra selfish running fanatics, wearing tight shorts, to show off their penis to 'hot girls around', these 0 IQ guys ruin their kids and testicles (women running fanatics may also damage their uterus, ovulation organs, in their quest for 'being sexy' and ☺abysmal IQ☺ with "sexy tight jeans") instead of building lifespan years for others as with eterni sports. There is nothing sexy about it (even if some ladies get aroused from seeing the penis better with tight shorts), it will only attract ☺☺☺of the opposite sex, who don't know tight pants around genitals shorten the lifespan of the human species. The truth is that even excessive running with a skirt and the most relaxed fit underwear and pants may damage genitals of both genders, so moderation may help. It may explain many birth defects in families that have a fanatical love of horse riding and why soldiers suffer from high levels of psychopathy, they come as descendants of horse riders, like the ultra cruel Mongols, most famous for being passionate about horse riding daily, but who coincidentally, also killed 5-10% of humanity… and 1.7 million people killed in one day (army of 100,000, typical of Mongols (they even invaded with 200000 rarely), with each killing 17 civilians within a few hours, ultra easy, as civilians don't fight back, can't do so against swords). The selfish sports damaging sperm may be the species' self-correcting mechanism of weeding out violent people who drag down the entire species. Kind armies use immortalist methods and don't need physical fitness, only brains. After all, what do martial arts mean, if enemy can turn your entire city or army into neutrinos or some molecule without damaging anything except people? The daily punches the testicle sperm miniature baby gets, as a quantum Archetype, during running (in wars), wrestling or martial arts (in 'modern selfish sports' or soldier training, crawling in mud, crushing the testicles again), or horse riding (in wars), create a more violent baby, who will seek out vengeance on those who punched him while he was in a sperm cell form: we see kids who suffer from violence in early childhood (like in prebirth as sperm generating cell that holds the Archetype form, carrying the memory of the punching of cells and spermatozoids it produces that entangle with the cells) become violent criminals much more often or genocidal generals/leaders. When sitting, sit with legs in a V shape, especially if male, don't crush your testicles and buy two 2$ pillows if chair is hard to provide softness, even pillows for arms of chair if hard, to keep hands healthy via proper circulation. If you live in cold climates, clothes need to be tight, to prevent cold air from cooling you too much, but the genitals area can still be more relaxed, but not too loose, since that would freeze the testicles which is as bad as heating them. Just buy Relaxed Jeans, not Tight Fit Jeans.

Avoid bicycles, they're deadly, even if popular on our planet of ants. Use scooters for easy car-free transport and eterni sports instead. RF may explain why the War Dept needs to be dissolved into Eternium, their IQ is lowering daily, like bees who become insane due to phones. The Pentagon (hence the name Pant Gone, pants off and 'thinking' starts) seems to think with their penis, designating groups evil and good based on what can be stolen (well, everyone does that, all empires and big nations, the more to be stolen, the greater the "humanitarian crisis they need to save humans from". Other crises, where nothing can be stolen, get no intervention, evne if the same damage to quantum field from torture and atrocities. Al Qaeda, ISIS, etc are CIA created groups, watch more evidence here. Civilians using self-driving cars (endless sensors, always connected to lethal WiFi via satellite, GPS killers) and endless phones all day may become infertile, besides developing atherosclerosis, Alzheimer. Thus, immortalists restrict phone use for all under 18, ban WiFi in all schools, grant wired Internet to all families with kids or who plan to have kids, max 2 hours a day with phone on to prevent infertile generations, brain damaged kids. It may be a good idea to teach people to avoid excessive hot baths, as this may shrink lifespan of offspring, being an unadjusted for confounding factor in studies on cardiac, or total mortality, health, cognition, birth defects, etc. Likewise, small studies with half women or men having parents exposed routinely to high electric, magnetic or RF fields close to genitals, may reach false conclusions, since the poor outcome was due to the EMF pollution or hot baths 10 years prior to conception, that damaged the egg and sperm producing cells. We see how false small studies can be, so we definitely need 1 million people studies to reach stronger conclusions about an issue, since there are 100 confounding factors people routinely ignore. Always wear underwear of bigger size, since washing shrinks cotton a lot and becomes much tighter. Avoid bicycles, tricycles and motorcycles all life until done having kids, as they damage the egg maturing organs (dormant egg becomes mature one via female genitals), the sperm producing cells via oxidative stress, the brain/eyes via excessive shaking similar to concussion caused traumatic brain injury. Popular is not ideal, a lot of things are popular: abortion (gives cancer, fast aging), smoking, alcohol, war. So are bikes. At least, governments need to create a new seat tech that is 10 times softer, much bigger, safer, with a special valley for testicles to avoid crushing them so badly. Also, given we got 1 bike per 8 people on Earth, they need to be made 20 times safer, meaning 99% of bikes need to be recycled & replaced with much safer seats and way better suspension, 3 times wider tires for optimal ocular, brain health, offspring birth defect minimization. For poor areas where all bike to work, electric bikes without pedaling much can save the testicles, etc. Biking in quiet areas is fine, but not in this kind of noisy place, like in Amsterdam (Netherlands 1.3 bikes/capita, # 1). Exposure to high levels of noise can damage our brains, ears, body, make us shout and become insensitive. Always wear earphones to listen to some peaceful music to avoid damaging the emotional brain. Cities in Netherlands need to ban brothels and focus on peaceful city music as explained here.

SUN EXPOSURE can Heat the Womb and Scrotum in same way as Hot Tubs can, offering possibly 6 times more birth defects, plus UV damage not present in ULTRASOUND or hot showers.

Sperm exposed to UV is damaged ► IJRB 2010;86(3):187-93. It's possible birth defects, sicker and shorter lifespan babies are born if people wear clothes that don't block UV, see why here. See how ladies not wearing sunscreen or shirts to protect neck have very damaged skin. Most jeans block 90-99.8% UV, more if darker color (blue better), twill weave, heavier weight denim. "twill weave fabric with a weight of 235 g (8 oz)/m^2 and a thickness of 0.069 cm has the highest UPF value... The plain weave fabric with a weight of 120 g/m^2 and a thickness of 0.035 cm offers no protection against... UV. Heavier fabric minimizes UV transmission by virtue of having smaller spaces between yarns thus blocking more radiation. The plain weave fabric (thread count 205) had a UPF (Ultraviolet Protection Factor) of 3.2 while The twill weave fabric (thread count 81) had a UPF of 19.2. UPF values are analogous to SPF values the only distinction being that SPF values for sunscreens are determined through human testing whereas UPF values are based on instrumental measurements." Sateen weave UPF=13.3. Dyeing plain wave fabrics with indigo natural color 6% raised UPF to 50+, while orange pigment 2% raised UPF to 11. Dyeing twill weave fabrics with any color made UPF 50+ ► BMCD 2004;4:15. If you wear a polyester long sleeve t-shirt of UPF 50-100 under a UPF 20 purple shirt, you get UPF 1000-2000 combined. When buying jeans, buy indigo heavyweight twill weave, as they block more UV, or buy white and dye them purple, blue, red, as these block more UV than yellow, green, orange, light blue. During pregnancy or attempting to get pregnant (because sometimes you only find out 1-3 weeks later) women would need to avoid any source of heat and never go to the beach to sunbathe, as that would heat the womb like a hot shower, it's the same IR (infrared radiation) from the sun or hot tub water). The beaches of LA for example are full of feces and junk. The womb needs be protected with high UPF shirt, like jeans (denim shirt). Before conceiving men need to avoid sunbathing too. Heat brings entropy in physics, chaos, disorder. That's why "hell is hot", it's chaos, death. UPF 50 means a 50th (2%) of UV passes thru the fabric or blocks 98%, 500 means it blocks 99.8% UV. UPF = 100/ transmittance %, so UPF 2000 is 100/0.05% = 2000. JDEAV 2012;26(8):1026-30 abstract says UPF is 10 for a cotton T-shirt and 500 for a pair of jeans (the ones they measured, not all). IJD 1997;36(5):374-9 indicates heavy cotton twill weave, similar to 8 oz. denim: SPF (Sun Protection Factor) 12 (white) / 166 (dyed blue). 12 obviously is much lower than 500 the other paper found, they may have used blue 12-15 oz twill weave denim. Many denims are 15 oz, so those may have SPF 40 even for white. "Dyeing the fabrics dark blue increased the SPF by more than a factor of three for all cotton fabrics." So, always go for twill weave denim. This means higher quality thicker Wrangler type of jeans and jean shirts, not the cheapest elastic type of jeans that lose a lot of UPF. To get real protection buy the thickest jeans or shirt there is, and test them in front of a light bulb to see how much light passes thru vs a normal t-shirt. Stare at the store light and do the same test for all jeans there and choose the most opaque shirts. If you get the cheapest thin jeans or denim shirts, they may only block 10 times less UV than something thicker and 50% more expensive. Dark purple or dark indigo block the most UV. That's why the Eternal Clothing Inc (maker of all clothing) will write UPF rating on all US clothing, or immortalist countries adopting the 11 companies model, so that customers know what UPF it is to prevent cancer. For those living in high UV areas, all clothes will meet a min UPF if a summer cloth worn alone, to prevent 900,000 skin cancer cases.

In a Civilization of Immortals,☺☺☺ Eternal Clothing Inc will prioritize UPF being high, list UPF value on all clothing, over other trivial style related matters, as this reduces skin cancer mortality and life shortening undetectable birth defects coming from sperm damage that cause diabetes, plaque, cancer risk to triple. Here is the dilemma, solar UV causes oxidative stress on the skin of legs and testicles (which stresses body resources) of jeans that are thinner, white and underwear white too, but if jeans are thick they block UV, yet heat the testicle more. Which one is more damaging, the heat from thicker jeans or the UV from thinner jeans? If one gets thin jeans dyeing them and the underwear is essential, so one gets UV protection, but not so much heat. If you don't go out much during 8 am to 6 pm (and have UV tint on side windows and back of your car), then the UV is not really a big factor, so thinner dark blue-purple jeans in warm climates (California) make sense to avoid overheating the sperm, as UV intensity is 10 times lower before 8 am and after 6 pm compared to 1 pm. Just like we plant purple cabbage with 2,830 times more anthocyanins to extend lifespan, as a farmer or policy maker, out of desire to do good. 9,300 people die of skin cancer yearly in the US. Likewise, heat from scrotum friction with tight jeans or underwear, can raise sperm temperature and increase birth defects, so wear loose relaxed fit versions of your pant size, not the tight, so when you sit, there is no tightness that stresses the testicle and increases oxidative stress and plaque emerges (see pic) in oxidative stress, so a little extra stress can lead to a clot and death. Many used to wear small size underwear for decades, then they tried medium, then large and noticed large offers a tightness free experience, less friction, less heat, since underwear do shrink to medium after many wash cycles (you can even try XL, and see if it stays on). They got lifespan increasing very elastic belts (many colors,☺☺☺, like neon yellow to be seen at night by cars etc, for higher safety, longevity) to reduce oxidative stress that happens when we sit down and the belt becomes very tight, damaging internal organs. They got elastic jeans too (Goodthreads 98% cotton, 2% elastane (also called spandex, a polyurethane polymer fabric, sort of like polyester), many colors, can buy white and paint it purple if you love purple, purple blocks UV) to increase lifespan and sperm, and even egg quality too: tight pants or underwear create oxidative stress, increase risk of vagina infections due to oxidative stress overload depleting immune resources to control bacteria growth, and also crush the testicles, leading to depletion of sperm producing cells renewal and function. We pay half a trillion in health care costs globally each decade probably from diseases coming from bad sperm, eggs (uterus pressure due to tight pants creates high oxidative stress that damages path of egg release and embryo formation) from fashion of 'tight pants models'. We need longevity focus in fashion too. Always wear relaxed fit jeans even if female, never tight, prioritize longevity of offspring not looking 'sexy'. Thus, we add 3 years to offspring lifespan or 30 years of healthy lifespan if a serious defect leads to more disease, since some defects are not obvious at all, science doesn't even know they're defects... since it's not visible or detectable.

That is why in a Civilization of Immortals the national Immortality Building Inc could install mini-split air conditioner (no vents, no mold and bacetria film causing reinfection with flu and spreading of germs as with central AC) or create really good insulation, so inside it doesn't get too hot. When we spend so much money on stadiums, there are no materials and manpower left to expand residential AC market to where prices of AC come down. Do we prioritize muscles or brains? Muscles don't give us 800 year lifespans; brains can. IQ of fetus can decrease due to heat waves, meanwhile pregnant women can place cooled water (cooled with ice from fridge) over womb (or take a "cold" bath so to speak, cold water would be very warm 77, but better than 85-90 air temperature) if a heat wave hits and no AC exists in the car. If we had more science, we could have a device in every room that once pressed cools the air via a jet of undiscovered particles or a new field in physics to desired temperature in 1 minute, no vents, etc. Later, the molecular assembler can purify air and turn CO_2 into O_2. Why are our TV programs not talking about the science and possible ways to do this, so we can extinguish fires too with an airplane fast, etc? Why can't we have a song about a gadget that ends all fires and gives all a force field that regulates the temperature in their ovoid around their body, how much UV, heat the force field shield lets through? City wide force field can keep temp at 74 with 99% UV blocked, if individual ovoids are too hard to implement first. Not all people have a car with good AC to use until power comes back on and stores with AC open in a given remote area with few stores (remote desert, 1 store in town, open 9-5 only, with poor AC or no AC sometimes, store can hold only 100 people max). That's why in a Civilization of Immortals every house would have a Tesla backup battery or every car registered in warm-hot climate would have a good AC as backup, that would provide cooling in case of power failure, especially in remote areas of hot climates with no stores, libraries open 24-7 for pregnant women to go to. Some would not spend $300 to fix car AC, but spend later $0.3 million in costs due to known/unknown (to 2026 science, that might triple the risk of heart disease or diabetes or dying early) birth defect in kid. ☺☺☺

Increase in AUTISM rates, DNA Damage linked to Increase in ULTRASOUND intensity limits:

1. In the USA, 1985 the limit was 46 mW/cm^2 spatial peak temporal average (SPTA) intensity for ULTRASOUND machines. In 1992 it became 720 mW/cm^2 SPTA intensity (peak exposure was also increased). Since this increase, autism rates rose 60+ times ► SUCTMR 2008;29(2):156-164: "Ultrasonic cavitation can cause mechanical damage... generate free radicals and sonochemicals capable of DNA damage...single strand breaks from H_2O_2 production and genetic mutation have been demonstrated in in vitro studies of cultured cells subjected to ultrasonic cavitation."

2. DNA strand breaks induced by ultrasonic cavitation in vitro.☺☺☺ ► UMB 1995;21(6):841-8.

3. Enhancement of ultrasound-induced mutations in V79 cells in vitro. ► UMB 1992;18(5):465-9.

4. MH 2010;75(1):53-8): "The rising rates of autism coincident with the increased use of ULTRASOUND in obstetrics and its teratogenic/toxic effects on the CNS demand further research regarding a putative correlation."

5. ULTRASOUND exposure leads to brain changes similar to those in autism cases ► PNAS 2006; 103(34):12903-10 and PNAS 2006;103(34):12661-2.

ULTRASOUND BENEFITS OVERSTATED?:

1. NZMJ 1981;93(675):3-5 is a very quoted paper that explains that ULTRASOUND measurement of the fetus was less precise than the measurement done by a midwife (they go thru training like nurses). This is important since as the above studies show, ULTRASOUND use causes the fetus to get smaller. A reason people use ULTRASOUND is to see fetus size.

2. Fetal heart monitors that are used prior to delivery have all the issues of ULTRASOUND routine scans mentioned above. In countries with more ULTRASOUND use in pregnancy, the autism rates are even higher than in the US.☺☺☺

3. The world's most prestigious medical Journal, published a randomized controlled study on ultrasound imaging: Lancet 1993;342(8876):887-91 which found "From 2834 women with single pregnancies at 16-20 weeks gestation, 1415 were selected at random to receive ULTRASOUND imaging and continuous-wave Doppler flow studies at 18, 24, 28, 34, and 38 weeks gestation (the intensive group) and 1,419 to receive single ultrasound imaging at 18 weeks (the regular group). The only difference between the two groups was significantly higher intrauterine growth restriction in the intensive group" which means sometimes SMALLER SHORTER BABIES WITH SMALLER BRAINS, lower IQ, as a result of ULTRASOUND. ☺☺☺

4. CDSR 2000;(2):CD001450 ► "routine Doppler ULTRASOUND in low risk or unselected populations doesn't confer benefit on mother or baby"

5. AOGS 1998;77(6):643-8 ► "Screening routines for intrauterine growth retardation currently used in Germany miss the majority of cases and don't contribute towards improved pregnancy outcome in detected cases". AOGS 1998;77(6):635-42 ► using ULTRASOUND before birth led to 5.75 times more deaths (23% instead of 4%) than not using it ► "The neonatal survival rate was 77% in the prenatally diagnosed group and 96% in the postnatally diagnosed group"

6. BMJ 1993;307(6897):159-64 ► "Our data suggest a possible association between routine ultrasonography in utero and subsequent non-right handedness". CMAJ 1993;149(10):1435-40 ► "an association between ULTRASOUND scans and DELAYED SPEECH was found."☺☺☺

Since little is known about the effects of cosmic radiation on the fetus, it may be better to fly at hours other than between say 9 am and 3 pm, because in this 6-hour window the radiation is maximum (ideally away from 7 am to 5 pm). If your flight is flexible, you can also avoid solar storms, since radiation can be 100 times stronger then. The effect is minimal though in general unless one flies every other day. One study concluded no effects for pregnant pilots ► SJWEH 2003;29(2):94-9. "Specific birth outcomes (low birth weight, perinatal death, preterm birth, neural tube defects, total cleft, cleft palate) were fewer for the pilots/cabin attendants' offspring than for non-pilots, except for Down syndrome and hypospadias, leading the researchers to conclude in general there is no risk in flying while pregnant. Epid 2015;26(2):192-203 noticed flight attendants didn't get more miscarriage than teachers. Other studies are more cautious. OG 2004;103(6):1326-30 says caution is good, since there are sudden bursts of cosmic radiation sometimes. ASEM 1998;69(11):1061-4 states “pregnant aviators may inadvertently subject their fetuses to a risk of decreased cognitive capacity or frank mental retardation, as well as childhood leukemia”. However, most passengers flying 1-15 times a year get far less than a flight attendant (they are part-timers oftentimes), and way less than a pilot. "the dose to the fetus can exceed a recommended fetal dose limit of 1 mSv after 10 round trips on commercial flights between Toronto and Frankfurt" ► HP 2008;95(4):407-12. Women, stop traveling if pregnant, or you’ll damage your babies permanently. NYC to LA is 0.04 mSv.

ULTRASOUND screening is big business, like breast cancer screening, which leads to more money being made, while increasing cancer rates ► EJCP 2005;14(2):117-28. (cancer rates doubled due to frequent over diagnosis (reminds me of the guy who gave chemotherapy to people who didn't need it) and also irradiation to check for tumors, and possibly due to negative suggestions from doctors once something that may be or may not be a problem was seen, leading to ultra powerful psychosomatic effect that becomes diagnosis on future visits, the mind kills or heals the body, depending on what thoughts one has). Blind faith in doctors can contribute to the 3rd leading cause of death, medical errors ► BMJ 2016;353:i2139. Doctors are humans and we all make mistakes. Some people simply never do any serious research online, it's all there. CT scans offer 50,000 times more radiation than the old x-ray scanners at airports (replaced with radiowaves in most airports now). All these highlight how important is to think, say positive things to the pregnant moms and the baby, for best telepathy, health, brain development. ☺☺

15.7. MEDICAL INTERVENTION vs MORE MIDWIFE Involvement in birth

Epidurals early in labor increased cesarean rate 12 times in this study (25% versus 2.2%) ► AJOG 1993;169(4):851-8, which explains that the risk of cesarean was 50% if epidural done at 2 cm, 33% at 3 cm, 26% at 4 cm. Epidurals led to maternal fever, babies being taken away from mom after birth and placed in intensive care units and overdosed with antibiotics (IQ can drop 15 points when the bonding between mom and child doesn't occur first 3 days of life, bonding which can't happen when a drugged mom is not conscious and baby is placed in a box hooked up to tubes). OG 1995;86(5):783-9 found a 2-4 fold increase in cesareans, as well as longer labor, higher infection, as a result of epidurals. OG 1996;88(6):993-1000 found "the cesarean rate among women receiving epidural analgesia was 17% (168 of 991), compared with 4% (30 of 742) among those who did not receive epidural analgesia"; that's a 4 times increase in cesarean rate due to epidurals. If it would be one study showing this, it would be hard to believe. But there are many. The industry that is involved in cesareans and epidurals is so entrenched that now (when cesarean rate is 33% today instead of 5.5% in 1970 in the USA), we have a lot of newer studies whose conflict of interest may affect the outcome (Big Oil making studies showing electric cars are bad or pollution is negligible type of thing, Big Tobacco making studies showing that smoking is good). Pay someone enough and a study is made showing any chemical is harmless. Give them enough consulting fees, and they'll advocate for what Pharma sells, publish those studies. ☺☺☺ The Cesarean rate increased 60% since 1996 when the "epidurals cause cesarean" studies came out, nobody paid attention, since now about 60% of women receive epidurals during labor, sometimes without any real need, it's part of the "Standard (Satan) Operating Procedure".

As a result of the 1996 studies, in 2000 the ACOG Task Force on Cesarean Delivery recommended that "when feasible, obstetric practitioners should delay the administration of epidural anesthesia in nulliparous women until the cervical dilatation reaches at least 4-5 cm". If we read the history of the birth procedures in Immaculate-Deception-II-Magic-Birth pages 77-80, we see MDs always change the medical intervention methods, as more data shows how each previous method had unforeseen side effects; this amazing book explains that water birth reduces the catastrophic effects these epidural drugs have on the tiny baby, for whom those doses crossing the placenta are very bad. Even for women, these doses are bad. For decades they used to give drugs that were so bad, women had to be physically tied down. Even so, many women woke up with hoarse voices, bruises, self-inflicted, due to the madman screaming and behavior during labor that the drugs facilitated. Some drugs remain the babies for months and only 50 mg of Demerol (also known as pithidine) were found to cause neurological damage in babies for several years. Study claims birth injuries present in 80% of autism cases. Harvard researchers concluded a bad birth increases the risk of autism ► Ped 2011;128(2):344-55. Fillings had lead in 1800s for teeth. Medicine is always changing.☺☺☺For references regarding epidural drugs concentrations in the baby versus mother (no significant differences between maternal and umbilical venous plasma total or free concentrations of fentanyl ► Anaest 1997;52(6):517-24), difficulty of breathing leading to blue babies who need resuscitation, are brain damaged due to low oxygen, low blood glucose leading to low IQ, liver toxicity of epidural drugs in babies, etc, see birthsource.com. "The Thinking Woman's Guide to a Better Birth" author H. Goer states "researchers compared newborn behavioral abilities at 12 hours and 3 days of age in women receiving Demerol and women having no drugs in labor. Demerol clearly adversely affected newborn behavioral competency. A study comparing fentanyl to Demerol found they had similar neurobehavioral effects on the newborn. Don't you love those MDs making 25x min wage? Got to love our pay system, it encourages the greediest to become MDs. In another study, researchers observed 72 newborns left on their mothers' abdomen at birth. Of the newborns whose mothers had no narcotic (pethidine), 72% spontaneously crawled up on their mother's trunk, latched on, and suckled correctly versus 20% of the newborns whose mothers had had pethidine during labor." More drugs = LOWER IQ BABIES? The purpose of MDs is to lower IQ? Suzanne Arms: "an astounding 96% of all women who get a fever in labor have had an epidural. A tragic 86% of newborns who're put on full-spectrum antibiotics, and have full septic workups while in the ICU have been born to mothers who had epidurals in labor. Nurses and breastfeeding consultants have observed that babies born following epidurals often seem to be numb around the mouth. This may be the reason why so many babies have difficulty getting breastfeeding started. The domino effect of this one intervention is broad, yet the full information about its adverse effects is seldom given to parents." ☺☺☺ Cesarean rate going up 4-12 times as a result of epidurals may be why, per NVSR 2013;62(3):1-20, "The cesarean delivery rate for the United States was unchanged in 2012 at 32.8%. The preterm birth rate... 11.54%. The low birthweight rate... 7.99%." Compare this 33% US Cesarean rate with a 3% Cesarean rate in the Netherlands in the 1970s (5.5% in the US in 1970 too) where 70% of births were done by nurse-midwives at home. The Netherlands birth system is described in detail:

15.8. Warm 97°F Water birth, OK for 70% of pregnancies (low risk ones):

Birth International has an amazing article about the history of home births in the Netherlands (17 million inhabitants), where 70% of births were done at home assisted by midwives in the 1970s (30% today), 9 times fewer episiotomies per birth than in the USA, far fewer cesareans, almost all babies are kept with the mom and breastfed after birth (unlike most countries). Since 2011, nations have decided to give the cesarean mom antibiotics before the surgery begins (not after delivery as it was for decades), effectively severely damaging the good bacteria in the gut of the baby, leading to low production of vitamins by the gut, like B_6, essential for Mg uptake by cells, for ATP production, which will cause hyperexcitability of the nervous system, meaning bed wetting and other related events, misdiagnosis with autism or ADHD, etc. Cesarean babies have same IQ and lifespan, but are more prone to allergies, asthma, eczema due to less microbiome diversity, as they get only breastfeeding bacteria, not vagina ones. 25% of vaginal babies born by long painful chemical air births (what "cabbage IQ MDs" call "normal delivery today") have rings of blood around the white sclera and retina (that resolve within a month), due to the sheer force of partially unconscious sedated mother squeezing the baby's eyes right when eyes pass, and stopping there, and experiencing the highest pain as a kick from baby as his eyes are squeezed cause her to contract even more, due to the kick pain, and raise his glaucoma and eye disease risk 5 fold. Parents freak out, rightly so, wondering why these MDs get paid 20-80 times the min fed wage to damage the eyes of babies. That's why immortalists will require new training of MDs and moms, so they're awake and water birthing is standard to reduce pain and contractions that stress the baby brain, destroy neurons, create oxidative stress, and especially training to avoid contraction when eyes and the head pass, as IQ is the most important thing. When the head comes, a female midwife massages the lady (let all MDs use female midwife to massage to increase oxytocin and diminish pain and tension) and the MD or midwife says "Please don't contract as the baby's skull is coming now… and especially when eyes come, I will let you know when eyes come", while her favorite calming immortalist instrumental music that replaced lethal anesthetics in many surgeries plays to relax the mom some extra, besides her favorite scent in the room and the massage (head, tummy, breast) by the female midwife with soothing voice to calm her and guide her into a meditative state of inducing the happiest meditative experience as taught 4 hrs a day on all radio-TV to deaddict all from smoking, etc.

The Netherlands has the lowest rate of medical intervention during childbirth, the highest use of midwives as primary attendants at birth, the lowest % of babies or mothers who die or get injured during birth ► "Immaculate Deception II"☺☺☺, p 49-50. Expatica.com says "Some 30% of Dutch women deliver at home while around 60% do so in the hospital, mostly for medical reasons, and another 10% deliver in special out-patient birthing clinics. The figure has been stable since 1990, according to the National Institute for Public Health and the Environment." Complications in home births are 2.3 times less frequent compared to hospital births ► BMJ 2013;346:f3263. There are many advantages for TELEPATHY development in using a midwife and water birth system, within a hospital that allows water births or using hospital as a backup.☺☺ A 4 min video explains the benefits of water birth: a healthier gentler (more telepathic) baby (all those anesthetics in huge quantities zap the baby too, and the mother extra stress hormones), dramatically reduces mother pain, blood pressure, stress hormones, anesthesia, C-sections (by 10 times in one study), episiotomies (by 33 times in one study) and time of labor. Some moms reported no pain during water births. You might like this 2 min water birth talk. A happier mom is able to nurture her baby more, aid the baby's higher IQ, telepathic, cognitive development. Many hospitals do water births, even if many people do it at home or some alternative clinic with a hospital as back up in case there is a need. For more info, check google or waterbirth.org. In some hospitals 10% of births are water-based.☺☺ At page 198-199 of the "Soul Trek" book a mother experiences some brutal handling of her and her new born girl by the nurses at the hospital. Because of this brutality at birth, her baby cried frequently for months, did not sleep. Driven insane by this, the mother allegedly resorted to the strangest method, TELEPATHY: she told the baby that she will always be with her, she will never let any nurse or anyone do anything hurtful to her and what happened at the hospital will never happen to her again. Then, the baby became quiet and slept for the first time thru the night and ever since. This shows that babies can hear adult thoughts, being more telepathic? Maybe, who knows? After this experience, the mother vowed to never birth at the hospital and do it at home. When people do it at home in water, etc, they only use the hospital as a backup if there is complication, or go to a hospital doing water births (there is one usually in any big metropolitan area).☺☺☺

Water birth decreases Cesarean sections rate (sometimes by 10 times), tearing and episiotomy (sometimes by 33 times per Wikipedia). Many psychologists believe that babies born gently grow up to become more gentle adults, and have a greater ability to deal with problems nonviolently. n...html page by mom giving water birth to all 5 kids says "All 5 of my children were born in water. Every one of them was an experience I now look back on with fondness and great pride. How wonderful it has been to be able to bring my babies into the world in a way that was kind and gentle. How wonderful for me not to have to suffer unbearably to do it. I first heard about water birth one week before my first baby was due. 19 years old and convinced I wanted to go natural, water birth offered me something I had given up as only available through drugs: the promise of less pain. The women who had tried it had consistently and unanimously reported that their contractions were far less painful while laboring in the water. And they all said that having had a water birth once, they could not see giving birth in any other way."☺☺☺ AIM 2009;12(5):468-71 shows the benefits of water birth: higher rates of spontaneous vaginal births (no vacuum or forceps) 100% versus 79.2% for air birth. In an Italian study, the Cesarean rate for water birth was 4.4%, versus 38% for air birth ► BMCPC 2014;14:17. For over 100 studies showing overall benefits of water birth as well as risks, see waterbirth. Water births reduce pain by about 90-97%, so in many cases, midwives never give any medication to the mother. Standing, getting on the knees and hands, squatting (see youtube videos of water births, just type "water birth youtube" on google, squatting is the best position, since the opening becomes the largest and makes birth easiest) or sitting with spine straight (even if in a water birth pool), being active, eating well, etc have been used for millennia to aid birth. It's critical parents and MDs understand why opening has to be largest*, why water birth is ideal by water to reduce pain* (air birth has 10-30 times more pain, and pain can easily force a woman to contract to ease pain at the wrong moment when eyes pass thru and cause a hemorrhage, which, when undetected, leads to permanent lifelong ocular damage), otherwise, we get 23% of infants (mostly vagina air delivery ones, since 0.8% do water births) suffer ocular damage, retinal hemorrhages (which damaged the optic nerve, macula in some babies), as the vagina squashes the eyes. The typical horizontal birth position is the WORST (according to many midwives), because it can make labor last 10 times longer (for millions of years people have never done that, only now they do it horizontally, which leads to far more medical interventions and destroyed eyes, as eyes got 10 times the time to be squashed, 10 times the pain to contract randomly, at the wrong time, to damage eyes, brain (baby skull is very soft and easy to deform during painful contraction, causing brain hemorrhage, lifelong permanent lower IQ, autism), as gravity doesn't help while being horizontal*, but* gravity helps when being vertical in a water birth pool or at 45 degrees as in some hospitals*, etc.* Baby heads are so SOFT when being born, that, heavy contraction of a big muscular mom, due to pain, at the wrong time, could damage the brain too, but the eyes are obviously the most sensitive of any organ, as they got no protection, so it's important for ejection to go ultra fast like in the best water videos. Air births are ultra medicated, so women under anesthesia are also far more likely to contract at the wrong time, since there is less pain, due to the MD saying "a little more", etc and not realizing he said that when eyes pass thru since he didn't get proper education on the issue.☺☺☺ MDs get paid more for a cesarean. Babies breathe harder after a cesarean (they have asthma more as adults too) and are more likely to be placed in intensive care, where they get blood samples taken out every few hours (very stressful for someone who just went thru the stress of birth) and drugs pumped into them, wrecking their brain and leading to lots of health problems, not just IQ lower by 15 points as shown by many studies. Epidural drugs raise mom's temperature and this often confuses doctors who think the baby has an infection due to the higher temperature the doctor sees on the baby. Wrongly diagnosing the temperature rise, the doctors sometimes put the babies under the terror intensive care regime, away from maternal bonding, leading to less breastfeeding later too, and a cascading series of events that damage IQ, health and many brain functions for many years to come, in fact often times, permanently. Because of these issues, parents have the right to bring a BIRTH PLAN to the hospital, and specify no Intravenous, no Electronic Monitor of Heartbeat (even FDA is against it, but doctors push it), no ULTRASOUND, no episiotomy, no drugs at all unless absolutely needed (many women have labor and feel 0 PAIN AS IT LASTS 3 HRS MAX, this the Big Pharma (75% of Pharma world profits, 4% of population to finance PALACES in Mexican Cartel Style Trillion $ Thefts) doesn't publicize as it cuts into sales of poisons, all anesthetics are poisons used in small doses, but they're used since it's worse usually to do surgery without anesthetic as people can die from pain shock when they're cut), no being separated from baby at birth (let him breastfeed right away), no epidural, squat (special beds allow this sitting or squatting to have gravity help shorten labor by 2-5 times sometimes) bed, no giving baby sugar water or eyedrops, just milk and bonding with mom first 3 days, no "checking baby and taking blood out of him after the stress of birth" in those intensive "care" units. Some doctors and nurses get pissed when someone is informed and comes with a BIRTH PLAN. But the best thing, according to many midwives, is to do a water birth in the most alternative hospitals there are, 1 in 100 usually do water births. Those MDs are 3 centuries ahead in some areas, like Tesla was ahead of his peers. NEJM 1989;321:1804-11, shows that Cesarean rate was 4.4% at birth centers, in 1989, compared to 23% at hospitals in America back then (33% today). Birth centers are geared towards a natural birth, with minimal intervention and more freedom to squat (one can squat on any bed or sit kind of, allowing gravity to aid birth, shorten labor by 5 times, pain by 10 times).

Below are studies on the importance of human contact, as in home or water births when everything is different from normal assembly line mechanized births, superior to machines☺☺:

1). The presence of doulas at Mexico hospitals decreased cesarean rate by 12 times. Doulas are female assistants during birth (they are used when there is no midwife, in some hospitals or settings). Women were split into 2 groups: doula and standard. 42% of doula group and 96% from standard group needed pitocin (a name for oxytocin), 8% of doula group and 16% of the standard group got epidurals, 2% of doula group and 24% of the standard group got cesareans, labor time was 14.5 for doula and 19.4 for standard. The presence of a human being, not just machines made by men, is more effective. After all, people created all machines, not the other way around ► JPE 2000;9(2):8-13. Go to the noisy machine room in emergency only, don't let that horrible noise create biological entropy and stress in the mother as with deer. The only sound needs to be soft background instrumental ultra relaxing music that the mom loves.

2). Doulas led to 2.4x fewer cesareans, 6.5x less oxytocin augmentation, 2x shorter labor fewer complications, ICU treatments (that lead to 15 point IQ fall) ► BMJCRE 1986;293(6547):585-7.

3). About 600 women were split into 3 groups of about 200 each, one group supported by doulas, another observed group by someone doing nothing, a third control group going thru typical medical birth. Cesarean rates were: supported group, 8%; observed group, 13%; and control group, 18%. Epidural anesthesia results: supported group, 7.8%; observed group, 22.6%; and control group, 55.3%. Oxytocin use duration of labor prolonged infant hospitalization and maternal fever followed a similar pattern ► JAMA 1991;265(17):2197-201

4). The presence of doula cut labor time by 54% (8.8 hours with doulas, 19.3 without), complications by a factor of 3 times, increased smiling-stroking of babies after birth and the degree of wakefulness ► NEJM 1980;303(11):597-600.☺☺☺

Professor Cornelius Naaktgeboren from Netherland's largest and most famous medical school did some ANIMAL & HUMAN STUDIES that, in his opinion, showed the critical IMPORTANCE OF PRIVACY AND NO DISTRACTIONS during labor for a smooth painless short labor. Modern births in most hospitals with 15 nurses and technicians coming and going, interruptions and machinery run against the reflexes of millions of years that make focusing on labor only undistracted impossible and lead to so much longer, more painful labors with a lot more intervention, EPIDURALS, CESAREANS, ICU over drugging of newly born, all things that lead to IQ drops of 15+ points and autism, brain damage, poor health, destroyed immune system, autoimmune diseases, etc. It's no wonder that the outcomes and statistics of birth are far superior for small settings found in water birth rooms that make it secluded with the midwife and husband only:

1). He noticed, filmed how a deer interrupts the labor, runs away to a safer spot if it hears the slightest noise,perceives the slightest distraction, a reflex related to the fight/flight response.

2). Elephants create a ring of protection around a female in labor, turning their back towards the female in labor, for similar reasons of feeling safe and private.

3). rabbits stopped their labor once a human came into the room to watch for 2 hours and as soon as the human left, the rabbit expelled a litter of rabbits in 10 minnutes (rabbit babies are tiny compared to the pelvic outlet, when compared to mammals, so their labor is very short).

Many other similar studies led Professor Naaktgeboren to come up with the hypothesis that a doula or midwife whom a person interacts all the time (besides the husband for emotional support) during the labor is much better than 10-15 technicians in the assembly line births (geared towards fast medication and intervention so that doctors work only minimal hours and spend minutes sometimes per birth (many births at once) or whatever) due to this million year built in reflex which stresses people in unfamiliar surroundings with new people coming and going, etc. Being in a place where people feel safer and more loved (instead of a mechanized heartless environment) decreases stress hormones and allows the birth to proceed easily. Birth centers near hospitals (hospital as backup) are also cheaper, besides having WAY better statistics (as seen in the studies above) on birth outcomes than most hospitals that over drug, over monitor with ULTRASOUND, over cut (episiotomy, cesarean, etc) pregnant women. There are nice hospitals that have a very welcoming and natural approach and do water birth, just google it for your area "water birth in my area" etc. Not all hospitals have the same statistics, some are 5 times worse. Home water births (can rent an inflatable tub) with certified nurse-midwives can be 5 times cheaper, if there is no need to use the hospital backup (usually there is no such use). A mother's milk contents change with each time of the day, and with each month, as the baby grows and with each individual mom for her child, with exact antibodies the kid needs, at the right time, etc. No formula made in 5 years can replicate a food built by nature over 4 billion years. Hence long breastfed babies are smarter, healthier, taller☺☺☺. My mom said I was the longest breastfed baby, due to being the most peaceful, and I became the tallest. Babies who hear the human heartbeat sound (recorded) are calmer and feel better, same for babies who hear it by being near their mom a lot. Babies whose immune system is in touch with the bacteria from mom's skin have better health. The so-called "advanced" mainstream hospitalized birth system today that removes contact between mom and baby has IQ, ESP, immune function, health parameters lowering effects. The baby's biological functions learn a lot by being near mom. Studies show that giving babies vaccines after 6 months, spread out over time, decrease potential paralysis, lifelong brain damage, all negative reactions by 10-50 times. Once again, overloading a tiny baby with foreign chemicals when its immune system is not fully developed is not the best idea. At 6-12 months the immune system is much stronger. The US Government has given billions to kids permanently damaged by vaccines as explained in Ch 12.3.

As Suzanne Arms wrote in her 20 suggestions at the end of her book Immaculate Deception II on pages 218-219, a good idea would be to follow the methods of Netherlands, which has the best statistics for birth outcomes and make midwives a separate profession that is not on leash of Big Pharma Industrial Complex, Medical Education/Brainwashing by Pharma of Doctors Complex, to prevent Cesarean rates going up 6 times as from 1970 to today, due to MONEY. And also to prevent bad outcomes that cost America trillions of dollars long-term as a result of bad birth practices which result in poor health, low IQ, autoimmune diseases, autism, etc all from overwhelming use of force, as in the overwhelming use of stone age present science "drugs", which if you look at history, are always changed as side effects are found. Looking at these birth center statistics as in the studies above and their cesarean rates of 10 times lower, etc, makes you realize something is fundamentally wrong with healthcare in America and most of the world. We're focusing on interventionist ultra-medication ultra-surgery methods ☺☺☺ that are often not needed at all and do far more damage, since there is little regulation to prove safety of these drugs during birth and whether they maim babies or damage them and cancel out all the progress we achieved in medicine. A third of deaths in many countries are due to medical mistakes. Prevention is absent or minimal, disease prevention thru education could be 70% of healthcare, 25% biomarkers monitoring, etc; when if you look at some of the centenarians who lived to 112, etc they never went to a doctor, got trained by parents in prevention and proper eating from early on. The privatization of healthcare means essentially that dichloroacetic acid for example, which was shown to be an effective cancer tumor killer in mice, is not taken by any Pharma company seriously for human clinical trials, since it can't be patented, money can't be made. The whole Pharma is often about making $$ by managing disease not about curing cancer, as a cancer cure runs them out of business. That's why it's much more ethical to have the government sponsor research into cures for diseases and not become a puppet of Big Pharma giving them tax breaks and all kinds of whatever. That's why also the birth outcomes are totally superior when there is the least medical involvement or when done in very holistic alternative hospitals who focus on water birth, etc (very very few). The whole system doesn't see how conflict of interest, corruption and lies have pervaded all branches and objective studies are hard to come by due to pressure from Big Pharma Educators who control what "education" doctors get in medical school, minimal about nutrition and prevention of course. ☺☺☺

It's going to take time to change the system, but at least these studies make people question their assumptions once a year if they read this post. Not to mention the thousands of people who have cured with raw foods and herbs incurable diseases that according to "all knowing" doctors would have killed them in days, weeks or months. Search on google and youtube for "natural cure for disease x" and you will find a lot of stuff that most doctors have no clue about. In her book's Appendix, Suzanne Arms presents the case of a doctor who noticed that the more people saw physicians, the sicker they got. This may be due the negative thinking coming each time something minor can be interpreted in a paranoid way, extreme need/habit to prescribe pills or to diagnose (one doctor made a list of many diseases a women could have after a simple test and chose the worst possibility and then did more tests, etc, years of 'overwhelming force, minimal grace and IQ' medical intervention ended in failure, so he learned to be more feminine and wait and not jump to conclusions from limited science data, especially as science changes by the day with thousands of articles published daily) and the super-power of negative doctor words and thus placebo in destroying people's health. This doesn't mean that all doctors are bad or all tests are useless, but it's a lot of hear say, methods, fake studies, conflict of interest, Pharma and other medical devices companies sponsoring conferences and recommending machines, tests, drugs for anything, skewing medical education towards medical device sales, etc that come into play here, commissions, paying off machines bought by doing tests, etc. One has to be objective, do one's own research, look at anything from all angles, not believe all the sweet talk and stories from doctors and sales reps from Pharma, since some become doctors to make money only.☺☺☺ In her book, Suzanne Arms presents some 2-3 hour labors (this is what someone can expect, manifest by positive thoughts and expectations and preparation a wonderful fun painless birth, as it was for many women, to the shock of doctors who thought as per brainwashing that "birth has to be painful and last up to 24 hours, 20 hours average in some hospitals") without drugs and medical interventions and sometimes outside of a hospital altogether (at home with certified midwife). You might like a free interview with Suzanne at JPE 2002;11(4):11-24. To better understand how horrific hospital air births can be, you can read a very long excerpt from the Immaculate Deception book by Suzanne Arms at a..on.html. Right now, America spends 4 times per birth Netherlands/UK spend. The US has far worse outcomes than the Netherlands where they got more home births, midwives, human contact, fewer machines, tests, pills, injections, etc. A former Pharma sales rep explains it all ► youtube...AM. MD Peter Breggin of breggin.com who helped in 150 lawsuits against Big Pharma explains how many medicines cause shorter lifespan by 20 years, suicide, violence, frequent incarceration, diabetes, blood pressure and internal organ issues, smaller brain, lower height and weight ► youtube..zs. The less known thing behind Big Pharma and Big Medical Device "evidence-based medicine" is clearer when they choose what gets published and never mention alternative cures that heal diseases at 1/10,000th the cost and in 2 weeks not 2 years, as explained in the vaccine section that deals with anti-depressants too, publish only what makes a pill/device look good, while ignoring the studies showing bad effects or no effects and ignore natural far cheaper things such as ω3 rich foods, DHA from algae that were shown to make people calm and happier in many studies). Youtube..3k explains why antidepressants often times don't work. Vioxx pill killed 38,000 Americans. Gullibility is high among some who think science remains the same, all MDs, Pharma sales are saints, all medical research is done by ethical people, sometimes it is, but the guys in charge of what gets published censor stuff to make pills or devices look good.☺☺☺

Abnormal womb behavior, nightmares and cries of babies are sometimes hypothesized to be caused by the baby's traumatic "past life" or "womb" or "random quantum transfer acquired memories that someone falsely perceives as self-memory" (mother or nearby folks memories, stress, negative experiences). Nightmares and incessant crying are hypothesized to often be caused by the inability of babies to realize that the terrifying memories and things they perceive relate to a their past life in the womb, birth trauma or, in theory, a "past life" if their soul was human before and such memory can transfer (no evidence exists outside of made up books by attention seeking con artists). Thru telepathy and whispering to babies who're unable to talk or consciously understand what is being said, mothers can tune into the "past traumatic event" the child is terrified about and then guide the child towards the awareness that this is a new life and he's safe and there is no need of fear. This often works, even if the kid doesn't understand language yet, perhaps because the mother's healing soft tone soothes the baby. The Hindus claim that the new brain recalls the traumatic last death in the womb and starts acting strangely even in the womb, rotating himself from head first to feet first position or similar phenomena related to preventing the death head first in another life, supposedly due to the past life memory of dying by falling head first, but they provide zero evidence for reincarnation besides hear say and cases that can be easily staged by paying people to claim a memory. Sometimes people have same recurring nightmare dream for decades, and it's only at 40 they choose to believe it was past life related and then it stops, though a nightmare has 4000 other explanations: a dream one time just repeated due to a series of biochemical events and they're that 1 in many guys who stopped it. For many such made up reincarnation cases (cover stories for spies to justify travel to other nations or people), you can read Carol Bowman's book "Children's past lives" or the references listed in her book, all fictional stuff presented as factual. The avatar of World Peace, gentleness tender soft sweetness IN EVERY future child born on Earth manifests more when parents tune into the Immortals by thinking about them. Relax, not every nightmare of a kid is a past life, if any, take it easy, the brain is so complex. ☺☺☺

Good sleep is key for proper infant brain development, telepathy skills, and even preventing suffocation. Since any birth trauma or early life traumatic experience (near suffocation) has a strong impact on brain development, it makes sense to do anything possible to prevent that. In 1994, 4,073 American babies died from SIDS and only 27% of babies slept on their backs. In 2009, 2,226 babies died from SIDS and 74% of babies slept on their backs due to the NIH campaign for back sleeping☺☺☺ ► NIH pdf. In Finland infant mortality is 1.3, in Alabama, USA, 8.6, while average for USA is 5.5. The NIH pdf says: that "Babies sleep safest on their backs. Babies who sleep on their backs are much less likely to die of SIDS than are babies who sleep on their stomachs or sides. Every sleep time counts. Babies should sleep on their backs for all sleep times—for naps and at night. Babies who're used to sleeping on their backs but who're then placed on their stomachs to sleep, like for a nap, are at very high risk of SIDS. Babies who sleep on a soft surface, such as an adult bed, or under a soft covering, such as a soft blanket or quilt, are more likely to die of SIDS or suffocation ► the crib mattress must be very firm. Use a firm sleep surface, such as a mattress in a safety-approved crib, covered by a fitted sheet, to reduce the risk of SIDS and other sleep-related causes of infant death. Firm sleep surfaces can include safety-approved cribs, bassinets, and portable play areas. Never place baby to sleep on soft surfaces, such as on a couch or sofa, pillows, quilts, sheepskins, or blankets. Room sharing—keeping baby's sleep area in the same room where you sleep—reduces the risk of SIDS and other sleep-related causes of infant death. Your baby shouldn't sleep in an adult bed, on a couch, or on a chair alone, with you, or with anyone else. If you bring baby into your bed to feed, make sure to put him or her back in a separate sleep area, such as a safety-approved crib, bassinet, or portable play area, in your room next to where you sleep when you're finished. Keep soft objects, toys, crib bumpers, and loose bedding out of your baby's sleep area to reduce the risk of SIDS and other sleep-related causes of infant death. Don't use pillows, blankets, quilts, sheepskins, or crib bumpers anywhere in your baby's sleep area. Evidence doesn't support using crib bumpers to prevent injury. In fact, crib bumpers can cause serious injuries and even death. Keeping them out of baby's sleep area is the best way to avoid these dangers. To reduce the risk of SIDS, women should: Get regular health care during pregnancy, and Not smoke, drink alcohol, or use illegal drugs during pregnancy or after the baby is born."☺☺☺

NIH: "To reduce the risk of SIDS, don't smoke during pregnancy, don't smoke or allow smoking around your baby. Breastfeed your baby to reduce the risk of SIDS. Breastfeeding has many health benefits for mother and baby. Give your baby a dry pacifier that is not attached to a string for naps and at night to reduce the risk of SIDS. But don't force the baby to use it. If the pacifier falls out of baby's mouth during sleep, there is no need to put the pacifier back in. Wait until baby is used to breastfeeding before trying a pacifier. don't let your baby get too hot during sleep. Dress your baby in no more than one layer more of clothing than an adult would wear to be comfortable (heavy clothing makes breathing harder via weight). Keep the room at a temperature that is comfortable for an adult. don't use home heart or breathing monitors to reduce the risk of SIDS. If you have questions about using these monitors for other health conditions, talk with your baby's health care provider. Give your baby plenty of Tummy Time when he or she's awake and when someone is watching. Supervised Tummy Time helps your baby's neck, shoulder, and arm muscles get stronger. It also helps to prevent flat spots on the back of your baby's head. Holding baby upright and limiting time in carriers and bouncers can also help prevent flat spots on the back of baby's head. Rolling over is an important and natural part of your baby's growth. Most babies start rolling over on their own around 4-6 months... If your baby rolls over on his or her own during sleep, you don't need to turn the baby over onto his or her back. The important thing is that the baby start off every sleep time on his or her back to reduce the risk of SIDS, and that there is no soft, loose bedding in the baby's sleep area."

7 STUDIES ON THE EFFECT OF MEAT INTAKE BY PREGNANT MOMS ON CORTISOL, TELEPATHIC DISTORTION, STRESS RESPONSE AND HEART HEALTH OF FUTURE KIDS. The idea of these 7 studies upon which the video youtube..M was made, is that a proper vegan diet (B_{12}, D_3, iron, calcium, iodine, ω3, etc) is healthier than a meat diet for a pregnant mom:☺☺☺

1). Diet-hormone interactions: protein/carb ratio alters reciprocally the plasma levels of cortisol and testosterone and their respective binding globulins in man ► LS 1987;40(18):1761-8.

2). Maternal diet of a high-meat, low-carb in late pregnancy RAISES adult cortisol in kids ► JCEM 2003;88(8):3554-60 ► "Recent studies have linked maternal consumption of an unbalanced high-protein, low-carbohydrate diet in late pregnancy with raised adult blood pressure in the offspring. Because high-protein diets stimulate the hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenal axis, we hypothesized that an unbalanced maternal diet might increase maternal cortisol levels..."

3). Stress responsiveness in adult life: influence of mother's diet in late pregnancy ► JCEM 2007;92(6):2208-10. ► "an unbalanced high protein maternal diet during late pregnancy leads to increased cortisol secretion in response to psychological stress in the offspring."

4). An anthroposophic (alt medicine) lifestyle is associated with low cortisol levels in the evening at age 12 and 24 months, at age 24 months also in the afternoon ► AP 2012;101(9):979-84.

5). Our observations suggest that a fat-containing meal reduces testosterone concentrations without affecting luteinizing hormone. ► Metab 1990;39(9):943-6.☺☺☺

6). High cortisol levels strongly predict cardiovascular death among persons both with and without preexisting cardiovascular disease ► JCEM 2010;95(11):4959-64.

7). Preeclampsia 39 times lower for vegans, 1 in 775 cases ► SMJ 1987;80(6):692-7. Nonvegans preeclampsia rate is 5% average (5% of 775 is 39) ► F1000PR 2015;7:24

Rat moms pass their fears (of peppermint odor in this case) to offspring in the first days of life via the odor they emit during distress ► PNAS 2014;111(33):12222-7. A much shorter paper summary is at Science Daily ► "During the early days of an infant rat's life, they're immune to learning information about environmental dangers. But if their mother is the source of threat information, we have shown they can learn from her and produce lasting memories". So, as more meat means higher STRESS-FEAR due to way high cortisol, that PARANOIA is passed to OFFSPRING, ensuring a set of new wars. Female mice exposed to stress during pregnancy gave birth to sons that were more sensitive to stress, had smaller testes and passed on these "dysmasculinization" features to the grandson ► JNS 2011;31(33):11748-55. A much shorter summary of the study is at Science Daily. Perhaps, human parents could also be vegan at least months before conception, as that lowers CORTISOL a lot. Mice dads exposed to stress pass a changed stress response to offspring too, like moms do ► JNS 2013;33(21):9003-12. A much shorter paper summary is at Science Daily ► "stress on preadolescent and adult male mice induced an epigenetic mark in their sperm... offspring had abnormally low reactivity to stress... Whether such diminished stress reactivity would be detrimental or beneficial to offspring likely depends on the environment into which they were born, as well as genetic background factors". This is known to be true in many species and a 10 year old found it to be true in butterflies too.

Conclusion: ☺☺☺How to Stop Jews from Castrating and Mutilating Humanity☺☺☺

The US Jewish run Beating slaves until death, genocide, Rape Bible ethics medical system today emphasizes brutal cutting of penises (800 times more than in Finland, Poland, etc for example) and vagina (9 times more than in Netherlands), in line with the blood obsession in Jewish Talmud and sex with 3 year old Talmud quotes. Oddly, the Netherlands, which cuts vaginas 9 times less than the Jew run US system, gets the lowest birth related infant and mother mortality worldwide, while US is at number 40 or less. Perhaps, we need to take all pastors, rabbis, imams to court for promoting genocide, rape and slavery and ☺☺☺Castrate them all☺☺☺, with ?? blood sucked by Qualified rabbis as in Baby Jewish Circumcision??, as some countries castrate all rapists. Inciting billions to rape is far more serious than 1 rape, as it leads to millions of rapes, take those Hollywood Jewish or gentile actors, directors, singers to castration too for promoting rape via sex outside procreation and sex without consent in movies? Killing babies needlessly via episiotomy, over medicated births, shorter life via circumcision is like forced castration. ☺☺☺

15.9. Increasing IQ/lifespan of offspring via nutrition & stimulation

15.9.1. Nutrition 15.9.2. Stimulation and play

15.9.1. NUTRITION:

As explained in 15.1, nutritional interventions and changes during preconception, pregnancy and infancy alone have the power to extend human lifespan 10-40 times easily, at our present level of technological development. ☺ Like with bees, if we change nutrition early on, we can add 7-40 centuries to human lifespan, but changes in nutrition after age 5 would add 35 years maximum (present tech, but in 400 years we may be able to add centuries even at age 30). Currently, for every $, resources or hour spent in improving nutrition, one gets 100-300 times more lifespan years if this spending happens before 2 (during preconception, pregnancy and until age 2), than if done after 18, when all genes are pretty much set. Unaware of this, humans forget just how much more we would benefit if we kept better preconception, pregnancy, infancy nutrition records and did far larger studies on longevity versus early diet of mom, dad and kid. Below are the 8 periods of a human's life:☺☺☺

15.9.1.1. Preconception 15.9.1.2. Pregnancy 15.9.1.3. Months 0-6 (lactation only)

15.9.1.4. Months 7-18 (lactation and first foods) 15.9.1.5. Age 1.5-5

15.9.1.6. Age 5-18 15.9.1.7. Age 18-50 15.9.1.8. Age 50-4,000,000

15.9.1.1. Preconception nutrition

Junk food makes parents infertile. Paternal diet has a strong influence on baby health and lifespan. Before the 4 pages on nutrition before conception, it would help to explain in 5 pages some ultra basic information that billions of people are ignoring, leading to bad outcomes for the human quantum field: nutrition (see video of fertilization) of the sperm and egg while they're in the mother prior to the sperm (1 out of 300 million trying*)* entering the egg: free radicals, tough unfriendly environment is what the sperm meets in a vagina and female tract, so the longer sperm waits to reach the egg, the more birth defects. Online articles claim the "fertile window is wide and included 5 days before ovulation (the 12-48 hour process for egg to come out from ovary into the fallopian tube where the sperm will find the egg, fertilize it and then fall into uterus to grow) and one day after, so 6 days a month", but this would be catastrophic for the offspring as sperm oxidized so much waiting 5 days. Telling people 6 days is the window is anti- immortality and anti-science. The optimal period is literally 5-10 hours a month, in science it's not like guessing, there is an optimal time and that varies from month to month, for each person, depending on how fast egg travels, since each DNA has a different speed for that, etc, we have no way to know exact minute and location of egg in 2020s era. The sperm gets nutrients from dad, but also a lot of free radicals and poisons from the female tract, and that is "unwanted nutrition". The sperm leaves the comfy testicle to go into a very unfriendly place to reach the egg. For more info, you would need to read 100s of papers and books and decide for yourself what is your best bet at the current level of tech. Tao Te Ching explains some of the paradoxes of life well, i.e. less is more, slower (eterni tone) *is faster (communicates faster more of what will benefit humanity long-term; content irrelevant millenia from now, but tone effects are still there), the more laws, the more chaos, the more weapons, the weaker national defense, the more sex the fewer babies, less* happiness. Frequent sex is not always leading to the best reproductive outcomes, a lower IQ sicker child prevents couples from having a 2nd kid, not knowing their sex addiction was the cause of it. Why would having more sex decrease lifespan of offspring or even make having a baby take extra 9 months? The reason is simple: the sperm quality is affected by how long it has been stuck in the cervical mucus, acidic medium, immune cell attacks of the female: say 3-5 days before ovulation sperm gets trapped and waits there 5 days as DNA degrades, then fertilizes the egg and offspring is less healthy, shorter lived, 10 years shorter than if the couple had less sex and did it right 1 hour after ovulation. Less can be more.

The ideal sex (for maximum health and lifespan of kids) is when, based on DNA and data from a female/male pair, the egg arrival to the ampullary-isthmic junction of the fallopian tube is 1 minute before the sperm reaches the junction area, where life is born, and this time to reach junction for both the egg and sperm can vary wildly, from 45 minutes to 12 hours for sperm and 12 hours to 30 hours for egg. Once eggs reach the middle of the fallopian tube connecting the ovary and uterus (the junction), fertilization can only occur within 12-24 hours. Eggs wait in this junction 20-30 hours for a sperm to penetrate them, and if nothing happens they fall into the uterus (like any fertilized egg would) and disintegrate. For slow sperm (12 hours), fast egg (12 hours), the ideal time for sex is the moment the egg leaves the ovary or the ovulation start. For fast sperm (1 hour) and slow egg (30 hours), the ideal sex time is 29 hours after ovulation start, so by the time sperm arrives, egg will have arrived 1 minute early. The longer sperms get to wait for the egg to arrive at the junction, the more the less healthy sperms have time to arrive in the junction area and compete with the healhtiest to enter the egg, increasing the chance for the less perfect embryo to form using a sperm that is 30 days old (made in testicle 30 days ago, not 1 day ago). This way, the timing of that one SUPERSPERM, healthiest of all sperms, arrival being 1 minute after egg arrival minimizes sperm and egg oxidation, where neither waits for the other, they have a perfect DATE, each arriving on time, to produce mitosis with the least errors in the

Only 1 sperm out of 300 million can fertilize the egg, once one does it, the egg blocks the rest of sperms from getting inside. Sperms that have fewest genetic errors, least oxidation, etc, that are the healthiest among 300 million will get to the fertilization junction first ONLY IF the female rests in bed (after eating maybe a nourishing liquid with vitamins and smoothie), because if the female is moving a lot, her reproductive tunnels (vagina, uterus, isthmus that lead to the fertilization area) will move and this will cause the luckier sperms among the top 9000 strongest, not the strongest and healthiest to get to the destination: for example, the isthmus is lined with little hairs that catch silly sperms and if the female moves, the healthiest best sperm could be trapped in there, even though that sperm was swimming in the most perfect way in the center, unlike other less smart sperms. Thus, females need to rest after sex, to achieve the best embryo, being very relaxed, since it can take only 40 minutes for the very best sperm to reach the egg and start the baby: imagine 45 minutes after sex, your baby is born. It's a special moment, in which no stress is healthy. That ought to be a special day. You want the very first cellular divisions to proceed nicely, since errors then will lead to many more errors later, so the first 24 hours after sex for baby making, rest for 1-5 days or more, you don't want any mitosis error to propagate and carry to 1 billion divisions: the most important moment in life are the first days after fertilization. Turn off WiFi 24-7 for months before and after conception until baby is 10 years old, use wired. A big mistake men make, due to reading odd books, is continue sex after the first ejaculations and keep on doing the "tantra" or sex: this is not ideal, if female already reaches orgasm seconds before intercourse (see below), because the extreme movements of the female prevent the very healthiest sperm from reaching the egg fastest. You want a merit based egg formation, not one based on who gets hit by the tunnels loaded with acid, hairs, immune cells that swallow sperm alive and kill them. Tantra is not ideal, the sperm is not meant to be retained, since it oxidizes, making kids less healthy. Tantra sex is due to not knowing meditation.

The many barriers for sperm and different times for egg and sperm to reach the conception junction explains why sometimes, weaker eggs and sperm fail to fertilize, after parents trying to have a baby for 3 years. Weak sperm for example will reach the junction after the egg is no longer capable of being fertilized. Likewise, slow eggs can take very long to reach the junction, and the sperm gets weaker with each day of waiting. Hence, MDs created ovulation kits to help predict ovulation time. Ladies having sex when they had slippery, egg-white-like cervical mucus (happens at ovulation) were two to three times more likely to conceive ► BMJ GH 2019;e: 0014003. This mucus is caused by high estrogen (FSH (ovary folicle stimulating hormone), estrogen and LH, luteinizing hormone reach the maximum 10-17 days after the first day of mentrual cycle (normal cycle is 21 to 35 days, 29 on average), and they cause the folicle to release the egg) and is designed by nature to enable to sperm to swim towards the egg and not die in the acidic vagina medium or due to immune cell attacks. The time for intercourse has to be calculated so well, for the most perfect possible baby to come out. These sperm/egg travel times vary depending on how healthy and optimal the diet, sleep and mood of the male and female was that week, month or year. Sperms don't always reach junction in 1 or 7 hours, it varies wildly for the same guy fro week to week, month to month, depending also on the barriers the female immunity, acidity of vagina, etc put in front of the sperm, which depends on diet, sleep, activities, RF exposure, endless factors. Due to these 0.7-12 hour sperm to junction and ovary egg to junction 12-30 hour, there is a big debate among MDs on how many hours after ovulation start (egg (or 3 eggs when you get triplets) leaves ovary 12-30 hrs before reaching junction) is ideal to have sex, but without any real 10 million couples studies and data showing they knew when ovulation really happened or when fertilization did etc, it's a more speculative field of science), so sperm arrived 1 minute before fertilization, to create the least damaged DNA for the offspring. If average sperm over a year reaches junction in 3 hours for younger people, and egg reaches it in 15 hours, then sex 12 hours after ovulation start means no sperm/egg oxidation: neither waits. However, it's impossible to predict the minute of ovulation start without seeing the egg coming out with a machine that only sees without damaging the mom.

In the future, tech will tell us exactly when ovulation happens, when the egg is 2 hours from reaching the junction (the middle between uterus and the female 'testicle', called ovary). It's difficult given the current knowledge and technology, so we rely on intuition too, since our brains and bodies may have hidden mechanisms to detect when the egg reaches the fertilization area, so if the body knows its sperm takes 2 hours to get there (not 8 like another guy), they may get a 'gut instinct' to do it then, so that by the time first sperm reaches, the egg just arrived 1 minute earlier. This perfect knowing can't occur when men or women are tired, both have to be so well rested and in tune with their bodies, thus we need 2 days off: let the workers product smart babies to create immortality capitalism. It's not ideal to try to have a baby the first time one has sex (real sex, not masturbating with your own hand) ever in their life, because one is too anxious and this signals the lady to also be and she does the same (if first time too) and it creates highly toxic chemicals in the blood and uterus, vagina, etc that will damage the embryo. If you never had sex, learn to do it (to be able to be ultra calm and serene, using peaceful music when trying to have a baby) first (to remove anxiety) in the least fertile period of the month, so no baby comes out and use a condom lubricated well, to painlessly (without condom, penis and vagina may hurt) break the hymen, since that pain can't happen during procreative sex, that blood and cytokine storm is too much to interfere with fertilization 45 minutes later.

People with heart issues or who don't want actual contact (due to the hassle or due to an infertile couple trying to have babies much healthier than frozen sperm babies and to avoid sexually transmitted herpes and other viruses that are problematic, did you know herpes can cause blindness for example and yet 70% of people carry it?) could use a penis like device (very soft, much more comfortable than nature's penis because it adjusts its shape, shrinks right where female tightens, far more than a human penis does in response to female contractions to avoid oxidative stress, pain and damage to the female cells on the contact line) to load their sperm and then the lady uses the fake penis to release sperm within 1 minute in a way that is 100 times better, because the female can insert it at a perfect speed and method, with best lubricant from her orgasm attained seconds prior, to minimize any inflammatory cytokines coming due to pain. This ensures the core of immortality capitalism and infinite lifespan: maximum efficiency, without causing too much oxidative stress to the female system from so much "intercourse". Contrary to popular belief, intercourse (same bliss as masturbation for men, since men achieve orgasm instantly) or masturbating for 30 minutes is not as efficient (calories spent, nutrients lost) as meditative bliss for 30 minutes in achieving the same neural effects, for someone who has become good at the bliss technique. However, due to our culture of terror, and "Bible at gunpoint", few know this bliss. Sleep well for 2 months before any conception, 8-11 hours daily, more if you're recovering from some years of bad sleep or etc, otherwise, the sperm will be sick, the child too. If you have some gas due to digestive issues, try to do an enema, since during sex, you move a little and this may cause gas which can interfere with cytokines (bad smell causes innate stress response). Use soft music, take a good shower, smell nice, and do it when most rested, within 3 hours of waking up.

Thus, for immortalists, sex is simply for pro-creation only, a simple tool to create offspring, just like a car is used to transport your body from A to B. Rockets travel 1000 times faster than our human nature given running speed, 20000 mph, and tech will enable us to achieve far superior embryos to natural random intercourse, by using various tech ways to monitor the egg, to bypass events in "nature's stone age methods" that shorten lifespan due to sperm and egg oxidation. Thus, using his hand or his wife's help, a guy would be able to masturbate, produce some sperm going into the fake penis and let the device deliver the sperm in the best way, without any effort from the male, since female already got into orgasm by clitoris stimulation. Knowing well when ovulation may occur, couples can schedule Friday or Monday off for having 3 day weekends around conception. They will also be able to schedule 2 days off around it: instead of taking a weekend off, they opt for Wednesday and Thursday if Wednesday evening is the expected ovulation time. People don't need tell boss the reason, just take 2-3 days off around ovulation to "go see some friends" ('in another dimension', not added verbally) or call in "sick" until the conception day becomes the law of every nation. Thus, the day of conception is always a day off from work each month by federal law, with anyone being allowed to take 2 days off any week once a month, and make up for it on saturdays in the next 3 weeks, to minimize birth defects, maximize lifespan: everyone who is childless (wants to have kids) would get a max 12-24 conception days a year (if under age 44 if female and 55 if male), since some ovulation days fall on weekends: unlike a day off, that requires boss permission due to projects needing to be done, conception days are taken without any asking of any supervisor, like "call in sick", to keep their conception a secret, to prevent sabotage by foreign spies. Inflammatory cytokines due to stress, poor sleep can damage the sperm and egg maturation processes and this will lead to 10 years shorter lifespan for kid and huge national expenses on healthcare for that new citizen: so taking 2 days off to have 20 hours of rest before and after baby making is being a responsible parent, altruistic citizen: a tiny headache versus the benefits. In our anti-immortality capitalism societies, most don't ever think about cytokines during sex.

The queen bee, before being born, gets different nutrition and starting from same DNA lives 40 times longer. Similarly, if we don't pay any attention to the science of procreation nutrition, stress and pregnancy nutrition, stress we end up with people who live 40 times shorter than they otherwise would. In our "0 IQ" society, where we maximize paperclip production, instead of human longevity, nobody thinks much about how careful we ought to be during conception and pregnancy to at least give the kid a chance to 120 year lifespan, not the "impossible" 4000 years which implies high tech nutrition to mom during pregnancy and baby after birth. Even 4000 years is possible, if we knew what type of nutrition would be needed to add to the breastmilk, lifelong kid-adult diet and mother during pregnancy. Using the same logic of maximum freshness of sperm before egg fertilization, some MDs suggest foreplay is 10 times more important for females. Similarly, guys don't need to be touched if they're aroused, as it risks creating strong urge to ejaculate prematurely and losing the huge sperm volume needed for procreation from first try, not to mention cytokine storm (inflammatory cascade due to pain or stress) coming from the stress of holding the sperm and not releasing it when the penis is so hard). Every minute and step has to be well planned and thought out, we're not animals, we can live to 900000. Because the human sperm is limited and we can only produce a limited amount monthly of the highest quality (due to 100s of unknown nutrients we need to make the best sperm, which are available in small quantities monthly), couples are hypothesized (by MDs, etc) to need to only release sperm once inside the vagina. Thus, to achieve this easily and prevent heart attack from sex causing rapid heart beat, foreplay (guy washes hand and then gently massages her clitoris for maximum efficiency of calories and effort spent in causing her orgasm) can achieve female orgasm that ensures wetness, then penis can slide easily and discharge semen once or twice, the highest quality, then stop after 2-3 min perhaps, since most men orgasm within 1 minute, while women need clitoris stimulation before procreative sex, so that the pressure of "making it wet" is eliminated as a task and everything is released after full insertion with 0 pain/stress (least bad cytokines) for both sides, 0 stress to "hold it because wife got it too hard and ready to ejaculate by touching it etc". Staying inside too long has the risk of

depleting too much sperm and if ovulation didn't happen yet, then the embryo will form with older sperm if in 24 hours at sex time little comes out. This way, by making it short, huge volume of fresh sperm can travel to the egg again, in 30 hours and have a chance to be the one fertilizing the egg, not the one from the day before. The sperm is used to the testicles, etc, not to the vagina, so the longer sperm waits, the worse the baby being born. If we have in the future the "perfect instrument to detect the minute when eggs comes out next 2 hours", then obviously one could stay longer, but in 2023, they don't really have that capability. If too frequent, sex depletes male nutrients to make the strongest most concentrated sperm, so that by the time ovulation time comes, body is so depleted, sperm will be weak and baby too, if the few healthy sperms manage to travel far to meet the egg. Nature favors efficiency and conservation, so the higher cortex can develop, so use some gentle tender soft plans to do it. Likewise, female liquids and tissues require nutrients, which when depleted, make these liquids deficient around ovulation time, leading to 3 years shorter offspring lifespan, lower IQ, lower health, 20 times more healthcare expenses. As these things compound, they can lead to 10 years shorter life just from frequency and timing of sex for procreation (rare sex, only 1-2 times at ovulation time a month could lead to far healthier baby and faster procreation than 20 times a month sex in the 10 days around ovulation), hence it would be nice to keep records, like the food table, with ovulation and orgasm times or night emissions, so you can see from millions of people if these hypotheses are true. Ovulation kits to see exact time were not around 100 years ago so we can't determine the effect of sex timing, frequency on lifespan, nor do we have millions of records needed to eliminate confounding factors.

What about mom and dad's diet before conception? The EU banned amalgams for pregnant women and kids under 15 (plans to ban for all ages soon), Norway and Sweden for all ages; to ensure higher IQ/health, replacing amalgam fillings with white ceramic is better. Men need to wear relaxed underwear and jeans and avoid hot baths and heat, as this can cause birth defects and lower conception. Men (and women) need to eat the healthiest (no fluoridated water, especially during pregnancy, or restaurant, store beverages that use tap water or non-fluoride filter 99% of the time, high pesticide intake halves sperm count and health, avoid the dirty dozen (or 15 ideally) if not organic and peel high pesticide stuff when possible, since peel contains 90% of pesticides usually; PCBs and pesticides cause low IQ in baby and miscarriage if eaten during pregnancy at high level; because baby is 1000 to 1 million times smaller than adults and it takes far less of ANY TOXIN to cause death, low IQ or birth defect, the body is new and not capable to eliminate things well, just as caffeine hangs around 130 hours in infants, longer in fetuses, but 4 hours in adults, ruining baby brain neuron migration, brain/heart development or causing miscarriage via heart adenosine receptor binding) ever before conception, as well as avoiding topical use of creams, body wash, shampoo, etc that have aluminum or terratogenic chemicals which get into the brain (retrograde axonal transport) or blood via the skin, bypassing digestion. Sucralose is sucrose with 3 Cl atoms, and could cause unwanted effects, like other artificial sweeteners (we are not as invincible as we think we are, it can take millennia to adapt to new chemicals). The bees living 50 times longer section explains the importance of eating enough nutrients to become the 50 times longer lived phenotype, meaning both dad before conception and mom during pregnancy need to eat the most nutrient dense foods ever, to prevent any deficiency of the yet to be 200 year living human, which may need more of some things than 8 year lived human. Several studies have indicated that maternal and paternal diet prior to conception influences birth and health outcomes of offspring, which is logical, since sperm, egg transport and uterus health depend on diet after birth. Hence, everyone is probably familiar these days that healthy brands of vitamins are recommended by most doctors, as they bring healthier babies. Some are familiar with the 70+ studies, described in the caffeine section, showing high caffeine intake during pregnancy (and preconception for both parents) is linked to increases in the risk of premature birth, low conception rate, birth defects, low IQ, stillbirth and miscarriage by 2-4 times. The same section explains some chocolates, cacao, teas are high in theobromine, the metabolite of caffeine (caffeine without a methyl group); many effects of caffeine are seen in other methylxanthines (theobromine, etc) in cacao, teas, etc, so it may be best for "want to be parents" to avoid eating high cacao chocolate, teas, and eat other high antioxidant foods instead. Decaffeinated coffee is not usually 100% free from caffeine, but much better than real coffee, or high caffeine tea/sodas.

Far more destructive than a little (not a lot) caffeine or theobromine is the invisible RF coming from a cell phone, WiFi router that is close by, shown to increase stork infertility 12 times, queen bee 4 times after 10 min of cell phone/DAY for 10 days ONLY, human 2-3 times, damage human sperm (birth defects), etc. ☺☺☺ The RF section explains the catastrophic effects on fertility and embryo survival (5 times lower) rates RF can have. When coal fired plants and gasoline cars came along, all were happy, no more wood stove smog or initially slow electric cars (1905), now we know how bad they were, putting millions of tons of heavy metals on all land and water, killing billions early thru smog full of chemicals, helping increase human bone lead level 300 times. Today, people say "WiFi and cell phones are harmless", but nothing is further from the truth, they're more like weapons of mass destruction and EMF smog (deadly as gasoline one) versus LiFi, future techs. The battle against WiFi may be a battle for the survival of the human species, since many animals become infertile within 3-5 generations at very low exposures and immediately (0 generations) at high exposures. That's why conceiving parents can turn off WiFi (go to settings and turn it off and disconnect it from service too – save $5 to buy dirty electricity meter and filters, EMF meter (tests RF, EMF without plugging) like the one I used for lightbulbs, test hotel rooms (all walls in all directions, bed especially, all plugs) when showering to ensure no electric tankless water heaters (which use 2,000+ times more power than lightbulbs) generate catastrophic levels of it that negatively alter eggs, sperm and germline for generations) and just use wired internet only. Obviously, if we understood how sperm and egg fertilize well, etc and how this leads to whatever genes, we would be able to adjust parental diet (acoustic, electromagnetic, chemical), especially male, to change sperm in the way that makes the best lifespan extension and you would have people with that diet preconception, due to better uterus, egg if new egg, egg matrix if old (influenced by recent diet) and sperm, to give offspring with much longer lifespan. This is not easy to see at our tech level, but basic studies on diet before conception could be used to discover some things, as long as you can control for the other confounding factors and change only the preconception diet a lot. But if hundreds of millions of dads and moms record their diet preconception, pregnancy and infancy, one can see cases where preconception was different, and pregnancy infancy about same, and see what effect it has. What is often ignored here are the nonnutrition aspects of preconception lifestyle which also have effects, RF pollution, visualizations, communication, etc. ☺☺☺

In the Lepton-Quark-Boson chart reactivation section, we have seen how outside tears can help an eye to extend its healthy lifespan by 10 times and inside tears, generated by tricking the brain, can do even better, as they're healthier (thousands of compounds, not just 5 or 10). Likewise, when we use the analogy of the embryo as the eye, there are two methods to make the embryo and its final product, the baby, live 10 times longer: feed the pregnant mom with "royal jelly" like substances that enable the baby fetus (sort of like bee larvae) to change its DNA to live 10-50 times longer as we feed eyes with artificial outside tears, OR change the SPERM DNA so much via preconception brain trigger exercises that change the SPERM, that even if mom doesn't eat "royal jelly like substances, human equivalent that work in humans not bees", the offspring can live at least 2-3 times longer by generating its own "tears" or nutrients, given raw materials from mom, for example specific RNAs that do what microRNAs do in bees, extend lifespan 40 times.☺☺☺ Of course, it is hard to believe that such a "miracle" can occur in one generation, but our brains are quite automatic and can be tricked into informing the sperm that the parent sleeps a lot for example (even though the dad may not need to sleep more than usual, although that may help, who knows?), by simulated yawns that generate (for better eye health) or don't generate tears, and while in one generation offspring may not live 20 times longer, it may live 40% longer, and add more with each generation that practiced intensive yawns years before conception. Dad sleeps/yawns a lot 9 months before pregnancy, mom sleeps a lot during pregnancy, since dad affects the most prior to conception, mom during pregnancy. What this may do is reprogram the sperm genes to make the sleep much more restorative and the body repair during sleep much better, thereby slowing aging by 2-3 times, since sleep repair is 2-3 times more effective at repairing daytime damage. Moms need to sleep more during pregnancy anyway, to keep cortisol levels low, because body is very stressed last 4 months of the pregnancy, by the now huge baby inside and babies sleep all day anyway, they don't need agitation that distracts and takes their tiny body resources away from building the ideal body for living to 900 as sperm programmed it preconception. Daddy needs to change his tone of speech, to an eterni one, to help the baby brain architecture to be closer to that of 900 year old anxiety free Immortals. We have seen from many studies that deep changes often take 2-4 generations of a specific behavior to heal a condition or double cat lifespan, in this case, human short lives of 80 years. Cats fed low AGE food lived much longer and healthier, and it took 3 generations of good food to fix the damage of 3 generations of bad food. We talk about lifelong diet, not 70 days before conception, so preparing for having a baby starts 30 years before the baby is born. How will the next generation of girls have better eggs at birth? By parents having the best diet 25 years before conception, not just 7 months prior. Reproductive system health doesn't change in 9 months of eating healthy that much, it takes 20 years. However, even 1 year is better than 3 months, since high cholesterol can mean 12x the plaque in fetal aorta. People think plaque, arthritis, diabetes, etc start when you're 45, no, 100s of studies show they start in fetus stage, lactation, infant stage: bad diet in fetus stage can be the onset of arterial issues or even arthritis, since dairy doesn't just have bad fat, but also inflammatory peptides, etc that turn on the genes that predispose us to arthritis (24% of people have it), an inflammatory disease.

Likewise, millions of years ago, when the bees were around, they may all have lived a little bit more similar lifespans, and then with each generation, royal jelly differentiated the queen more. Things may take time. In the human species, the eggs come mostly from the set of eggs the girl gets at birth, while the sperm is generated daily, informing the species about the latest environmental changes since birth, decades ago, and introducing the greatest change in the species DNA and its conscious evolution towards 900 year lifespans. Everyone focuses so much on pregnancy diet, but totally ignores preconception diet of parents and activities of dad, the main driver of DNA change within the species. Now think about it, the preconception diet and activities of dad are probably way more important than most people think today, when 99.9% of the focus is on taking vitamins for dad and the mom diet in pregnancy/lactation. We saw in mice, eating fewer calories or less cysteine-methionine, less TOR activating amino acids (present in animal foods especially) led to a longer lifespan by 30%. Overeating vegan protein is not wise either, since it can activate TOR too, especially in flavonoid deficient diets. Dads need to eat polyphenol rich produce to inhibit TOR. If dad does that for many years, his sperm may carry this longevity effect to offspring way stronger than just 3 months before conception, i.e. longer lifespan easier if offspring goes vegan too some day that leads to even longer lifespan than 30% extra; that's why dads need not overload with calories prior to conception and try to be lean, because high fat diets lower sperm count and change the longevity protential of offspring, since obese parents are more likely to birth short lived obese kids. Look at the Japan's centenarians, most are underweight. Habits are ways to rewrite the software of life, so offspring lives 50 times longer.☺☺☺ The body is a computer running on old software. What could dad eat/do all decades before conception to cause offspring lifespan to triple in 1-3 generations (provided that his son does the same, to change sperm even more)? What could mom eat all decades before conception to speed this, since her diet affects her offspring egg quality? Ch 12 shows how critical many nutrients are for preventing infertility/birth defects, for avoiding the catastrophic IVF, which is not the same as real procreation, since freezing embryos is damaging them.

Scientists created female mice clones using male sperm, so one day, couples may be able to have sons and daughters when mom is sterile, if it works in humans too. I love blue eyes blonde hair (see the 1 central government, instead of 20000 governments section for more on this topic) or any high health or high IQ guys who do IVF sperm donation and other IUI with clinics etc, if the sperm if inseminated by a doctor with a probe minutes after release to prevent freezing (since freezing creates errors and shortens the lifespan of offspring), see them on youtube saying they have many kids via IVF, they offer this diversity to all races (one guy says to dozens of black infertile couples), so all groups can have blonde hair and blue eyes if they wish, blacks already have that with albinos but that's rare due to a genetic melanin deficiency called albinism. By analyzing 2.5 million babies, JAMA 2013;310(1):75-84 found that IVF have higher risk of mental retardation and autism when twins or triplets are born (common with IVF), due to the low IQ doctors not telling mother to eat double the nutrients, minerals, vitamins that would be taken extra if she had one baby only for twins and triple that for triplets, and due to the freezing destroying protein conformations and other chemicals. ICSI (intracytoplasmic sperm injection) IVF with surgically extracted sperm led to 4.6 higher chance of autism and 2.3 times higher risk of mental retardation vs normal IVF. For singletons (excluding twins and triplets), ICSI using frozen embryos had 2.4 times higher risk of mental retardation vs normal IVF, while ICSI using fresh embryos were only 1.6 times higher, proving freezing is bad. Anyone with any chemistry knowledge, 8th grade, would know that the egg and embryo need chemical reactions and having them happen at low temp during the cooling and warming, is a sure way to not happen correctly: just sitting there at -196°C (-320°F) is no protection. The temperature changes have a high chance to cause bad chemical reactions, to change yield of reactions, that cause a cascade of bad events leading to low IQ, low health status. ICSI uses a sterile glass needle (5-7 µm diameter micropipette) to inject a sperm into the cytoplasm inside the 110 µm egg, while traditional IVF places 1000s of sperm around an egg in a culture medium in a lab dish to fertilize the egg: the natural or traditional IVF method selects the strongest sperm that can penetrate the membrane of an egg on its own, while the forced way selects a random weaker sperm and damages the egg components with the needle. In 2013, 50% of IVF were done by this destructive ICSI egg puncture method, which obviously is going to destroy DNA of the egg and lead to low IQ. A 5 min video shows ICSI in more detail. Our society could not be lower in IQ: we're birthing retarded kids, simply because they have this IVF freezing industry which should be banned. Anyone who can't conceive should be able in a Family of Immortals that USA is to find someone of highest IQ possible or available to ejaculate, so the MD can insert it into her uterus at ovulation. They detect with hormone kits when it's ovulating and go to clinic instantly, then the donor and recipient of sperm or egg don't see each other. The MD inserts it to prevent sexual disease and that way good sperm and good eggs can be involved in more pregnancies instead of retarded, frozen, needle damaged, etc eggs, embryos, etc. This way even fertile couples can go and see if anyone wants to donate sperm or egg if it didn't work right away and we get higher IQ healthier babies, with the custody being the couple, not biological donor. It doesn't matter because everyone gets the best education, the centralized videos. A country that wants smarter people needs to ban IVF with needles, freezing and anything not instantly fresh. IVF kids have about 1.1 times higher rate of atopic diseases (asthma, eczema, hay fever).

Today, out of a 100 cells of a 5 day embryo, they take out 5 cells, permanently harming the baby, causing lifelong damage, in order to see if baby has high or low IQ, etc. This is silly, IVF is not ideal, just use fresh sperm an MD collects, then inserts into vagina using a device that simulates a penis and even creates orgasm in the lady to release all chemicals during orgasm that help embryos to succeed. IVF freezing lowers health span, lifespan, IQ and IQ testing of embryos further lowers IQ, and inventions are created by 300 IQ people, not by having a bunch of cow IQ folks with 100-140 IQ. The companies offering embryo testing deceive customers and would need be fined for FRAUD, because the embryo has that IQ based on genes if YOU DID NOT REMOVE 10% OF 5 day old STAGE EMBRYO CELLS. So, IQ could drop 30 points due to pricking the embryo. Once you remove the cells, you can create health issues or even lower IQ. They need to treat infertility by proper healthy nutrition, instead of scam AGE and feces-bacteria eating daily with 0.4% meat being pure blood full of viruses, prions, etc. Parents extract eggs and sperm from parents, make embryos and then via procedures get a kid of lower IQ, only 122 to 100 range, due to their abysmal IQ. Why can't they look for a partner with IQ 190 to get eggs from and stop testing? If you lower max IQ, you end up a society of low IQ bipedal dogs, like today. At least if you do IVF, create IQ 200 and up only. Infertility is a sign from God that you need to try the reproductive material from a genius, not spouse. Find a genius, let them ejaculate or get an egg, pay them money and then have that genetic be the basis, we're one Family of Immortals.☺☺☺ That way we have more smart people instead of the fruit fly IQ. Infertility is a sign of poor nutrition and potential health issues for any embryo by IVF anyway, so changing eggs or sperm is a smart move. There are ways people of similar hair, eye, skin color, if color matters to infertile couples, who have an IQ higher by 20-90 points than infertile parents can be found, paid to donate, to have the equivalent of a 300 IQ adopted baby but wanted and loved from day one. A "4 parent baby". Frozen IVF should be banned, because it's not creating the smartest healthiest people, only use fresh sperm while simulating with amazing machines the orgasm, even if donors and recipients don't interact at all, with MD inserting it. Some think that selecting embryos by damaging the max IQ will raise US average IQ, but intelligence is more than IQ (eterni tone, etc) and centralized education can raise everyone IQ by 100 points in 2-3 generations via the 11 companies, whereas the aristocratic gnat IQ companies raise US IQ average by 0.0001 points at best, if not negative due to damage. If you want smarter IQ for all, just be real, your embryos will have IQ 100, 105, 110, but using a smart sperm or egg will boost it to 150. So, what should society focus on? 100 or 0.0001? One would think the 1 million times higher. The sperm travels thru uterus, undergoes transformations, that are key to the health of the embryo, because its journey thru the orgasm, real intercourse simulation is informing the sperm on what genes to turn off, based on mother uterus condition and same for egg. Test tube embryo isn't the same health, lifespan, real species survival intelligence. It has less info about biological or surrogate mom, so it doesn't know what to do that well, etc.

We see a Jewish guy with blue eyes for example claiming (not sure if fake to role play or what) he has almost 100 kids now from sperm donations to infertile couples, another guy claims 150 kids (youtube has endless fake stories like that), maybe a lot more than 5 (some youtubes say 20 plus, artist has 20 kids via sperm IVF donation, though that may be fake youtube has tons of such stories, I presume some of them are spies using that as their cover to interact with whoever "adult" that is now their fake kid), to have kids, since it's his sperm they wanted. Real sperm is better than frozen one, freezing can impact quality, the first IVF birth was in 1978 in England. Wait 100 years and see if any IVF offspring can live healthy and long lives as expected (it seems so in 2023), apparently almost 9 million were born globally by IVF by 2023, CDC says US has about 80K in 2019. China gets 300K IVF babies a year. The science of longevity? Some IVF clinics have fresh sperm services IUI, where someone donates and MD inserts it (anonymous, like sperm donation, just no freezing). These fresh sperm/egg (after guy rested 7 days and ate the best diet of his life in a vacation home to produce the healthiest sperm of any ejaculation in his life) clinics ought to replace IVF entirely, to protect public health, fresh embryo, not frozen. Husbands need to get over it and even allow a willing donor to have sex with his wife if his sperm is not able to do it, since after all, we're all one family and it may build better immunity for the offspring if sex happens or if the probe is inserted with a fake penis that perfectly simulates intercourse, so as to release those chemicals that happen during female orgasm. Insertion without female orgasm is not always ideal, since certain chemical transformations happen to the embryo in a different chemical environment of sperm-egg interaction. This real sex or simulated via a fake penis (used by MD who gently moves it while releasing the sperm) is much better than freezing sperm (which shortens lifespan and sperm quality). For better effects, a virtual reality can simulate she has sex with her husband. Infertile couples can use sperm from 3 fresh donors (NOT sperm banks) and have 3 kids that way, one with blonde hair blue eyes, one with red hair green eyes, one with brown hair brown eyes if they wish so, or any combo. ☺☺☺

Some pregnant moms are not advised by MDs to run, jump or do high intensity exercise. Oxygen deprivation damages the fetus brain, so please ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ do more research before wild exercising that causes fetal brain to hit the skull and damages brain. 1000s of papers talk about it: "high level of exercise may reduce oxygen and nutrient delivery to the placenta and this may impact fetal growth and specifically fetal size... (low birth weight = short lifespan, sick the entire life)... birth weight seems to be reduced with higher levels of exercise in elite and recreational pregnant athletes". Just be gentle for 9 months of life... recalling that one can use an exercise machine that enables the mom to sit, while pedaling, without the need to run, which may cause brain damage in the fetus due to the shock of being up and down, when tissue is so soft. MDs don't know everything, as the eye chapter explains. Pregnant ladies who take paracetamol (acetaminophen) may be at higher risk of birthing babies with asthma or behavior and cognitive preschool issues. It's common in space, due to no gravity, for brain to push against skull and people to develop vision, immune system, memory issues. Likewise, the optic nerve damage can occur, during pregnancy, due to unwarranted glaucoma inducing ocular pressure from gravitational changes during running and jumping. Adults can jump and run wildly, that's fine, since their body stopped growing, and brain stopped growing wildly by age 3. Fetuses however, are growing ultra fast, increasing size a billion fold, and if this process is messed with, it will lead to lifelong irreversible damage. Avoid loud music, mowing sounds, concerts, as sound can destroy many healthy organs slightly. Mom carries the Avatar of World Peace in 3 months and Eternal Universal Immortality, it's rude to shake a baby like that, it's almost like boxing a baby to shake it wildly, and wildly vary oxygen thru the umbilical cord connected to the placenta. To better understand what I mean, kindly revisit the traumatic brain injury section of the 0 IQ sports chapter. Always drive in a good suspension car while pregnant and don't dance or try to impress anyone with fitness skills. Gently minimize airplane travel, altitude changes at amusement parks roller coasters and similar 0 IQ devices (mom tries to go with older kids and damages brain of fetus, due to 0 IQ) since it may shorten lifespan, via similar gravitational effects on the brain, and even thru the migraine that mothers often experience at take off and landing that sends inflammatory cytokines into the fetus brain and causes brain formation damages. If adults get headaches, so can fetuses get 100 times worse and more damaging headaches or even ocular damage. Our ultra macho cultures have turned women into the most macho men of yore, totally insensitive. Avoid walking in nature without spraying peppermint oil or other mint oil on your feet and shoes, since ticks may be attracted to your feet, bite you and give Lyme disease to the baby, causing brain damage, fatal heart inflammation in both mother and baby. The pants used to do gardening or going outside need to be washed/bagged right away, as ticks can cling to them and then bite you. Wear white coverall, sprayed with DEET on the legs, to protect your pants from ticks and make it easy to spot the dark ticks on the white coverall when done. In 1982, they discovered that cases of arthritis were actually Lyme disease from a deer tick, so today 100s of different diseases from nutrient deficiency or insect bites are thought of as "heart disease" or some other general category. Don't assume insect bites are harmless just because in 2020s we don't know about the diseases they carry. Don't go too quickly to the dog parks or areas with tall grass, as they may have many ticks of birds, cats, deer or etc are around. Ticks can cause encephalitis etc, avoid petting dirty animals. Inspect your legs carefully and take a shower right after going outside, to prevent tick bites. Ticks look like tiny 1 mm diameter bugs that travel on your leg very slowly, 3x slower than ants if they're baby ticks (as fast as ants if adults who're 3-4 mm long, 2-2 mm wide, and when feeding the baby ticks can become 5 to 50 times bigger, depending on how long they suck the blood. A magnifying glass confirms it's a tick, it has its protruding 'mouth claws' to cut skin.

During pregnancy, mom needs to be the happiest ever, so everyone around needs to behave. Dad needs to kiss mom often, ultra gently lovingly massage and or kiss the baby often (mom's belly to develop a good habit to love the baby, at least each night when sleeping with mom for 1-2 minutes to bond with the baby and maybe during the day a few times too, plus massage mom often beyond the belly☺☺☺, more so in the first 6 months, when risk of premature labor is 0) to connect with his soft loving gentle self and the baby, to help mom feel loved, happy☺☺☺; don't get too erotic months 7-9, since it can induce early labor, just be nice, 0 sex month 0-9 is safest, due to the oxygen/nutrient gradient that can damage the fetus, orgasm fluids diminish placenta nutrient uptake for rare nutrients. Babies don't need just nutrients, but also the hormones of feeling good that mom produces when she feels happy☺☺☺ and loved. The fetus needs happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene universal loving kindness. Mom can connect better with her kindest version by simply breathing gently, tenderly surrounding her beloved precious fetus baby in love and bliss. Babies are very anxious when they get outside of the womb and enter the air world, instead of the comfy water world, so one way to reduce inflammatory cytokines coming out of the stress is to have mommy listen with eyes closed while sleeping or almost sleeping to ultra peaceful music that the baby associates with an extremely calming blissful mood mommy is in, and the baby too, as her mood causes baby enter a similar mood. Then, play that same melody (e.g. this), with or without softest parent voices, to the baby, upon birth, to calm him down, 24-7, as a background music. He might become world's quietest happiest baby, no cries. We want ecstatic babies who hear all day from mom and dad "You bring World Peace and Immortality for All." Infants sleep 22 hours daily, as the focus of the body is growth. Likewise, moms need to sleep or rest more, to allow undisturbed sleep for the baby, so that he grows well fast and mom's body can recover from the daily shock of being pregnant (especially last 5 months when baby is big). Relax, and take 9 months off, if possible, in countries that offer huge time off. Go away from big city, noise. Avoid any stressful situation. Daddy better vacuum the floor and avoid carpets, as those can't be washed well. Dust mite poop contains a papain bromelain like protease that breaks down proteins of tight junctions, so 20% of North Americans got allergy to dust mite poop. It's thus ideal to remove dust often or get an air filter (for dusty desert areas), to prevent allergies that irritate the fetus via the mom.

Please go to each nutrient of Chapter 12 and read the first lines with the RDA for pregnant and lactating (it's same as 14+ or 19+ years if no "pregnant" or "lactating" word included). Very few nutrients have pregnancy or lactation RDAs 5-10% higher/lower if age is 14-18, but most moms are 18+; I didn't include those 14-18 pregnancy/lactation #s, just read it via NIH link provided; the reason is explained in this ultra important to read paragraph. Search the book using Ctrl-F for 5 terms: "pregnan", "offspring", "infants", "miscarriage", "IQ" to read all 100s of pregnancy, lactation studies' summaries on what affects child IQ, health, since this section can't repeat them all. Please read the first paragraph of preconception section, if you did not yet and are not familiar with the potentially catastrophic effects of high caffeine (sodas, coffee, exotic drinks) and theobromine (in cacao, teas) intake during pregnancy. Please avoid heat, hot baths or showers, and ultrasound as they can cause birth defects and miscarriage. The fetus skull is so soft and easy to penetrate by microwaves, it's super easy to damage it with cell phone calls; use texting instead and desktop wired phone calls when pregnant or around infants, as radiation is far lower and this WiFi, phone radiation is extremely destructive for fetuses, infants. Miscarriage rates soar 5 times, birth defects 8 times in chicken embryos. Thus, conceiving pregnant women and kids under 15 are safest when they turn off WiFi routers at home (France forbids WiFi in daycares, Israel for ages < 6), use WiFi very little or, ideally, use RF paints or blockers to shut off RF 100%, all cell towers or neighbor WiFi. ☺☺☺Kids under 5 have 4 times thinner skulls (0.5 mm vs 2 mm for adults), so the RF penetrates about 4 times deeper into the brain, reaching almost the other ear opposite to the cell phone, so it's better to limit WiFi for kids. WiFi is not needed, it's a convenience, that only brings problems sometimes, like many fancy devices emitting tons of toxic dirty electricity. Why does PREGNANCY NUTRITION affect lifespan the most when compared to nutrition in other periods of life? When we're 18, our weight will remain pretty much the same our entire life. We don't grow much. In pregnancy, our weight increases billions of times, so all changes that occur are deeply structural and often times irreversible. It's like what we do after age 18 is like preventive maintenance of a computer, but nutrition during pregnancy is like building the most important structures and everything that can't be rebuilt later on, defining what computer you have: version 1.0 (living to 120 max) or 2.0 (living to 900); the fetus weight grows from 1 to 300 g in the first months, then 10 times by the birth date. This is a 3000 times increase in weight. Even to reach 1 g the fertilized egg grows many times in weight, so we're talking about 4-8 billion (if egg radius is 0.05 mm, or weight ($4\pi r^3/3$*density) of egg= 0.5-0.9 µg) fold increase in weight from egg to birth, versus constant weight after 18.

Birth to 18 we only grow 20 times in weight, versus 5 billion of times from egg to birth. Isn't it logical that what mom does during pregnancy affects or could affect your lifespan length far more than what you can do after birth or after 18, at least in our technological era? ☺☺☺ We just lack the knowledge of what to eat during pregnancy/first year after birth to increase lifespan 3-30 times; with the aid of atomic and molecular simulations we will be able to figure out what ratio of the 50,000 chemicals, atom traced and in attogram amounts, moms normally eat will lead to such a lifespan increase; so instead of eating as we do today, we would eat an eterni diet for pregnant moms where ratios of factors, RNA, vitamins, polyphenols, fats, proteins, carbs, fibers, etc change with each pregnancy day and week (just as milk changes with each lactation week, e.g. Amazon ships the preweighed foods, with known nano nanograms of each chemical) and optimize the end outcome so we live to 20,000. It's only a matter of when, not if we will do it. Right now, no mom would object to eating stuff she eats anyway, just in different ratios and a few extra other chemicals (maybe that we eat less often, just as most bees eat royal jelly less often), if her baby would live to 4,000 and be healthy all the way. Parents would love if their baby lives 5 times longer because it means when parents are old, they will have kids who're more energetic and younger looking, with the energy of a young adult at the age of "old people of mom generation", more able to help parents live longer too and perhaps, make it to 1 trillion years old if lucky. It's in parents' interest to take notes of their diets and develop better science. We're freedom seeking beings, we want freedom from such short lives. Before those atomic simulations, we can achieve 200 year lifespans with classical nutrition studies, but certainly people need good dietary records (will every mom/dad record what she eats with meticulous precision?) to build such studies; people also need some newer labels on food that indicate, via a barcode we phone scan or enter on a website, the level of top 500-8,000 chemicals, vitamins, etc we eat, so people can multiply by the g they ate and calculate exactly, in mg level, not attogram yet, what they ate daily. This requires a dramatic change of the food industry. Until then, people can still make every effort to record best estimations using a kitchen scale and food labels available, databases, etc. for the sake of their grandkids.☺☺☺

If you build a computer with an old processor, and other vital components using old outdated things, it will only perform limited computations (lifespan years). But if you build it, structurally, with better components, etc it will perform 40 times better. Our bodies are like computers that perform computations (lifespan years). Queen bees eat royal jelly and live 50 times longer, even if starting from the same larvae. Likewise, if we have 2 identical fertilized eggs, and place them in 2 mothers, one with a future diet and another with present diet, the future diet mom could birth a kid who lives to 4 millennia old. We can't take a mature bee not fed royal jelly (past day 3) and revert it to queen stage, so the change has to occur early on. A nutritional deficiency early on is far more impactful than at age 20☺☺☺, as our body increases in weight millions, billions of times and all structures are being built. This is why some don't easily see how just a different diet can lead to such a dramatically different outcome in offspring lifespan. A bee larvae is sort of like a fetus or embryo, fed the right diet, it lives 50 times longer. To discover which compounds (perhaps slightly adapted for the human genome, take bee microRNAs and change them to serve similar functions) in royal jelly may do the same in humans, we would need a lot of research, maybe in mice and later rabbits, to see if over 3-4 generations, a diet rich in fresh royal jelly or various compounds in royal jelly can extend lifespan even just 2 times, not 40 times. We don't know yet how vital nutrition is in the first year after birth vs pregnancy, for living to 4000, but obviously, any change during pregnancy is or at least seems to be far deeper for lifespan length than the year after birth; it could be that one can live 50 times longer by dietary changes in the first 2 years of life only, without much pregnancy intervention, but we don't know how easy that is, as we're not bees. Even if we don't aim to live to 500, but just have a healthy 100 year old baby, we need to know basic things about pregnancy requirements.

During pregnancy, vitamin needs are higher, as listed in the vitamin and nutrient section (if you're above RDA, it doesn't matter much for most nutrients). From the vitamin section we see these 7-90% increases during pregnancy vs normal, but these RDAs are the minimal adequate intakes. High gluten intake during pregnancy may increase the risk of diabetes in offspring. Choline intake may be optimal at 900 mg/day too (double the AI (adequate intake of NIH), but well below maximum 3500 UL, upper limit), based on higher IQ and 17 times fewer birth defects described in the choline section. Food intake of B_2 <1.20 mg/d or B_3 <13.5 mg/d increased heart birth defect risk 2-2.4 times vs slightly higher intakes (11-15%) in mothers taking no vitamins during periconception (+/- 3 month from conception); multivitamins decreased cleft palate and limb shortening birth defects 7 times and half of the pregnant women were low in B_7. Data in mice and humans shows low chromium may induce type 1 diabetes in offspring, so pregnant moms need make sure they get enough if family history of diabetes exists. All 8 B vitamins are water soluble, so the excess from vitamins is eliminated via urine; that's why many brand vitamins have B vitamins at levels higher or much higher than RDA and it's often safer to take vitamins than to calculate food intake (bioavailability varies a lot by genome, diet, etc).☺☺☺

Processed food intake would need be minimized or eliminated (all foods raw smoothies or cooked in water for lowest AGEs in a pressure cooker for minimal AGE, not normal boiling that brings too much oxygen), since AGEs are very toxic and very high in many processed foods, IQ lowering; baked goods, as well as cheese containing products, contain aluminum which will destroy baby's brain and could lower IQ by 10-40 points; the fish high in mercury would be forbidden (since it can be 200 times higher than scallops); it would perhaps be better to avoid fish or consume only sushi (no lethal oxidized cholesterol in baby's brain), take algal DHA-EPA oil free of mercury, PCBs, impurities, plaque causing compounds, higher oxidation (possibly no DHA-EPA). Better would be to avoid beans and use lentils, since lentils are easier to digest and have fewest lectins and trypsin inhibitors (of all legumes) that can irritate the immune system of the baby and cause amino acid issues last sementer, 95-99% of lectins disappear during (ideally soaked first to reduce lectins and inhibitors) cooking, but you would want to avoid stress on baby. In the 3rd semester of pregnancy, it's not good to eat too many antioxidants, as it can cause fetus issues and preterm labor ► BDRCET 2013;99(4):256-74. Many studies and doctors recommend a few vitamins in higher amounts than the RDA, so it's sort of unknown if at that higher level 200% higher for some, one needs to further increase slightly during pregnancy to get the same longevity effect in offspring. I and some vegans for example eat so many veggies and fruits, we eat 10 times more vitamin C than most; same is true for many women, they each eat certain vitamins, polyphenols, etc in much higher amounts than RDA, yet have healthy babies. What we don't know is what happens when you get many water soluble (C, all eight B vitamins) vitamins (that can't accumulate like fat soluble ones, A, D, E, K can) much higher, will that always lead to the best outcome? We need studies of vegan women who take DHA-EPA supplements, as they often get far more vitamins than omnivores and phytonutrients, since this will enable us to determine which phytochemicals extend lifespan the most. In bees, bee RNAs seemed (may not be so though, longevity could be due to eating more nutrients) to extend lifespan more than pollen RNAs and certain phenolic acids more than others. Likewise, with large studies of vegans or omnivores who eat more or less of certain phenolic acids, animal foods compounds (subject to controversy as being good, neutral or bad), polyphenols, etc we see what happens. If we examine 4 million women and noticed regardless of anything else, all who ate quercetin at 40 times the average, had babies who were much smarter, healthier and lived 30 years longer, then we know that compound could be in every multivitamin, even if polyphenol flavonoid, not vitamin. Many women eat 20-90 times more of certain nutrients, yet when you don't have real nutritional records, these gems of 400 year lifespans remain unknown and we live in ignorance, all due to our disinterest as a society in the chemical content of daily meals. ☺☺☺

We saw people who have ultra low zinc live 3 times shorter, now imagine if we discover 3 compounds that each, unknown to us, have similar 3 fold increased lifespan effects independent of the other, when eaten during pregnancy and/or as a kid/adult, we increase lifespan 3*3*3=27 times. It's not that hard, all it takes is some dedication to science. Skeptics will say, "hey there are 8,000 polyphenols, how do you want us to record the level of each eaten daily"? Well, it's doable with new laws of food labeling as explained above, you enter the g of foods eaten and a software calculates total intake over each week of pregnancy for 800 million moms and then real data is obtained and all can live to 900. Data scientists will analyze relationships of hundreds of biomarkers, cognitive ability, lifespan length versus all 9,000 compounds or millions of possible combinations of them and draw conclusions. We measure the 500 biomarkers of longevity and aging speed in all kids as they grow into adults and we know what works best and what doesn't regardless of diet as a kid or adult. It's not hard to analyze data, hard is to build it. Have you made an empty file on your desktop called food.xls with one worksheet for you and one for your wife before conception, to see how that affects offspring lifespan? If you use Excel or some similar software, you can create 20 columns for the most frequently eaten foods and enter at each of the 3 meals, meal time, and grams of each food in the column (see a pic, or use free version of Microsoft Excel, free Google Sheets or the much better (than Google) free LibreOffice to view my food table; 50$ for 2021 Office; you can save as Excel, .ods, Google Sheets, create yours from mine, after changing food columns, formulas). Then use the Excel formulas to calculate automatically the daily intake of main vitamins, minerals, protein, carbs, fats, ω3, etc. If you're like me, with same raw foods and cooked lentils eaten daily, it's far easier to keep records in present stone age than people who go to supermarket and buy 50 types of packaged foods, different each week, where you have no idea what's in there, as USDA has no record of that brand (label lists only 10 chemicals), but USDA does list 60-120 chemicals for veggies, fruits. With a table, you know how many calories and grams of proteins you ate each day, each meal, automatic calculation, and it's really useful for optimal protein intake (not too much or little, espcially when eating less, so you reduce carbs and fats, not the proteins), weight loss (shift calorie load to first meal and second). USDA lists 120 chemicals for "canned veggies or beans", many packaged foods, so one can still find a lot of data. These tables are not exact, since some cooked legumes, absorb more water, so they show a lower content of every nutrient/ 100 g than the USDA cultivars used in the database average. Produce (also used to make junk foods), vary by 2-10 times in some micronutrient content, depending on soil, sound, species.

Longevity scientists are surprised that centenarians don't seem to have any specific macronutrient diet (they can be skinny, vegan, omnivore, overweight, etc), but they don't know if all their moms ate certain essential things in pregnancy that the average person is deficient in by the present "standards of nutrition". Nobody who is 100 now has a memory reliable enough to recall what mom said "she poorly recalls eating while pregnant on day 1 thru 280 of her pregnancy". Most moms don't even tell that to their kids, "on day 157 of pregnancy I ate this and that". ☺☺☺ Some centenarians may have had moms who, when pregnant, took part in a nutrition study that recorded some vague estimated macronutrient and vitamin intake, but very few of those studies exist, so the data points are too few. This could tell us some stuff, but not much, as data is not very reliable, besides the sample population size being so small. What if each pregnancy week has different levels of optimal nutrient intake by mom and we don't know them, so most live to 80 not 140, with only 1 in 200 million reaching 120? What if the first 3 months of pregnancy is when the biggest difference can occur (since this is when our weight increases about a million fold) and we don't know that? Could we call our moms, older siblings, dads, kindergartens, nurseries, to see what they gave us to eat during our first 2-5 years of life when our memory is vague? We need tables, huge data to discover stuff. We have thousands of genome types, each with a different level of optimal max lifespan level of every micro and macronutrient (carb, fat, protein), each with an optimal type of protein (among 100s), carb (among 100s), fats etc... to live to 200. Mice without a gene get 114 times more plaque after eating the same amount of fat, think about that, what if some humans get arterial plaque at 10 times less fat than others? They need a low fat diet and no oxidized cholesterol. Thus, the lifespan optimization is different for everyone and one has to calculate which SNP (gene) micro or macronutrient optimization combo (out of millions) leads to the longest lifespan. This requires huge data. We spend 2-5 hours to file taxes, 10-50+ if self-employed, yet 0 minutes for a nutrition table. We worship money far more than the health of our offspring. This is our culture and government system. Taxes are required, nutritional intake via apps, food labels, barcodes by food companies before a product, produce is released to list every new compound formed due to their processing, agriculture method, etc not. Money, not life? We repeat mechanically prayers in worship places for hours monthly, yet 0 min for offspring lifespan optimization tables, via parent food tables in preconception, pregnancy, infancy. Fetal aortas have 12x more plaque if mom got high cholesterol; will she eat more eggs or make a file to see how much cholesterol, and the far more deadly oxidized cholesterol she eats, Excel or free office (used to write this book) spreadsheet formula calculating automatically the daily intake? Vegan intake = 0. ☺☺☺

NIH could have a central website where people enter grams of each food eaten, or scan a package if entire contents eaten, and then NIH calculates everything they ate so they can do their research on odd less known compounds easier against hypotheses in thousands of papers, enabling citizen science to emerge to test trillions of new unpublished diet hypotheses; NIH would have 20,000 compounds (not 60-130 like USDA) in each of the 9 million food products approved for sale after listing the compounds, toxins via testing. Then we get way better data and nutrition studies. Making an excel file with 20,000 compounds is not something everyone likes doing. Only eterni foods, that undergo no cooking or storage by individuals, allow the best nutrition science. Cooking changes the chemical content way more than 0.5-2 minutes of making a smoothie, depending on temperature, heat type, etc. Meal time (make entry for each meal, not for the whole day) is important, for it tells us if the food had enough time to digest (fat takes way longer), before next meal, and when vitamin A, D, E, K, carotenoids, fat, etc were eaten, since fat increases bioavailability of fat soluble nutrients 4-15 times. Likewise, smoothies can cause reactions (even if less than cooking) and increase, decrease bioavailability of less known micronutrients we have yet to discover in 50 years as essential to living to 200. Some key "live to 120" nutrient (for an unknown type of regenerative stem cell or other type) only survives the stomach if we co-eat it with something else, or is absorbed in some optimal level; so if that something else is also rare (only some cultivars of a veggie have it), the chance of finding why those 120 year olds made it to that age is MINIMAL with poor nutrition tables and studies, you need a level of detail that we don't have and a population size for the study that is 700 times bigger than currently. You're searching for that real cause, not confounding factors, for a needle in the haystack, for that unknown microRNA, phenolic acid, co-factor of stem cells, etc that is formed inside us only after eating two rare compounds, that are hard to absorb (only in the presence of other three rare compounds) and only 120 year olds were lucky to get it... This is really hard detective work, it's what science is all about. With poor vague records, nothing can be correctly concluded; with good records, you can see only those making it past 118 (1 in 160 million) got those five compounds, so BOOM, a new "previtamin or nutrient" is discovered: it's five ultra rare compounds that help form something new inside. It's not only about what we eat, but also about when and how we eat it, how we combined food groups (even if eaten raw as smoothies) and macro and micronutrients for absorption optimization. Add sleep times too, as this is another confounding factor for longevity research. ☺☺☺ Smoothies that are very pureed can have bioavailability 50 times higher than the raw fruit for many nutrients bound to cellular walls, and flaxseeds ground first raise ω3, while whole seeds don't. So, just eating stuff doesn't matter much sometimes, but HOW it is eaten matters. Were chia seeds or flaxseeds ground first before addition to a smoothie or cake? If so, name your column "ground chia" not "chia", or make a "chia is gr" note. For smoothies, make a table note: all smoothies are puree, meaning bioavailability is much higher, as is the glucose spike. However, fat dampens the serum glucose spike, so do some phytonutrients. Additionally, we have synergistic toxicity, where lead becomes as toxic at 10 lower levels when mercury is around, so if moms got low iron, zinc, iodine, DHA, they can create a toxic synergy for the developing brain of fetuses or even adult brains where the IQ doesn't drop by 2 points from each nutrient that is 25% lower, but by 30 points due to synergy. So, nutrition has a deeper effect on health, longevity and IQ of babies (lower by 50 points than it could have been) and adults than usually thought in certain cases, even when you have just 10 essential vitamins, nutrients 25% lower than ideal. Our science is not capable to monitor real nutrient intake precisely with scanners (put food on a scanner, before eating it, data goes to machine learning artificial intelligence, the toilets have scanners, etc...) to see how many µg of everything went in and out, so it can't provide personalized nutrition based on 10,000 markers, inhibitors for absorption (polyphenols, zinc diminish iron uptake) what people got used to, their genes. ☺☺☺

BPA and BPA alternatives found in "BPA free" plastic food containers (or water bottles).

Nat Comm 2017;8:14585 found in mice BHPF "induces low uterine weight, atrophic endometria and causes adverse pregnancy outcomes, even at doses lower than those of BPA for which no observed adverse effect have been reported". Hence MDs suggest using glass or stainless steel alternatives, when possible, but even those can have lead if low quality.

15.9.1.3. Months 0-6 (lactation only) nutrition (why dad/spouse need be ready to suckle empty breast if needed, VERY IMPORTANT WHEN MILK OUTPUT/DAY NEEDS 50-200% BOOST)

The semi (no silicone, just foam kit) or fully sealed anti-UV anti-wind anti-dryness anti-cold temp safety glasses in the eye section explains what a catastrophic effect extreme temperatures have on the unborn fetus and under 6 months old babies whose immune systems are barely functional and unable to cope with the extreme stress of the 75°F indoor to -20°F outdoors temperature variations, when parents take kids for a walk, in freezing weather, and kid, unable to speak, is cold, yet doesn't voice it and suffers shorter lifespan as a result, and later MGD (42% of kids got it) and dry eyes 2-4 decades earlier. One of the ignored things by parents is the temperature of the eyes and face (and even body), trigeminal nerve of the face, for small kids, the effect of windy, dry or super cold weather on the MGs of the eyelids. Always keep eyes and face warm (the little face scarfs kids wear in cold climates, those not wearing them may ruin the trigeminal nerve), when possible, before 8 months, avoid extreme cold/hot. Stay indoors until baby is 1 as much as possible if outside is very cold or very hot. Never allow kids 1 to 18 to play in extreme cold or hot weather for more than 5 minutes, without proper eye, face protection, otherwise, their eyes will become dry due to MGD in the 20s, 30s or 40s; I was playing in January for 1-3 hours in -15 to -20°F weather as a kid 2+ days/week between 6 and 11. Discourage kids of any age from playing in areas with ice, as during the 'fun' sliding on ice, they can fall due to slips and damage other areas like legs, hands, etc. or even the eye/brain if they fall weirdly. Skiing is a deadly sport and no sane person would risk the life or brain of their kid for that.

Ped 2012;129(3):e827-41 explains why moms need breastfeed: "risk of hospitalization for lower respiratory tract infections in the first year is reduced 72% if infants breastfed exclusively for more than 4 months... reduction of 20% in the risk of acute lymphocytic leukemia and 15% in the risk of acute myeloid leukemia in infants breastfed for 6 months or longer.. 15% to 30% reduction in adolescent and adult obesity rates if any breastfeeding occurred in infancy… breastfeeding is associated with a 31% reduction in the risk of childhood inflammatory bowel disease… reduction of 52% in the risk of developing celiac disease in infants who were breastfed at the time of gluten exposure… protective effect of exclusive breastfeeding for 3 to 4 months in reducing the incidence of clinical asthma, atopic dermatitis, and eczema by 27% in a low-risk population and up to 42% in infants with positive family history… 30% reduction in the incidence of type 1 diabetes mellitus is reported for infants who exclusively breastfed for at least 3 months, thus avoiding exposure to cow milk protein"… preterm infants fed an exclusive human milk diet compared with those fed human milk supplemented with cow-milk-based infant formula products noted a 77% reduction in NEC (necrotizing enterocolitis)...Any breastfeeding is associated with a 64% reduction in the incidence of nonspecific gastrointestinal tract infections, and this effect lasts for 2 months after cessation of breastfeeding... Serious colds and ear and throat infections were reduced by 63% in infants who exclusively breastfed for 6 months… exclusive breastfeeding for 6 months and weaning after 1 year …(has) the potential of preventing more than 1 million infant deaths per year". Infants who got iron pills behaved much better at age 3, due to a healthier brain ► SR 2026;16:18664 ☺☺☺

As 3rd semester of pregnancy begins, parents can read information like this section (which includes free books from NIH, etc) on the expected healthy milk output in each day of the first 10 weeks. The PubMed ranges are wide, with some papers reporting 80 ml for day 2, others reporting 500 ml. NIH says "Kaucher ...measured maximum milk output with... tedious mechanical methods to extract ... milk and reported that production averaged almost 1,200 g/day at 6 to 10 days postpartum (huge since most papers report 700). This level is much higher than the 500 to 700 g/day consumed by breastfed infants at the same age.. (shows how useful a breast pump is when baby doesn't have strong suction power). In two separate studies, milk production increased by 15 to 40% when a breast pump was used to remove additional milk after feedings. Mothers who exclusively breastfeed twins or triplets can produce 2,000 to 3,000 g/day … (they breastfeed) 15 or more times per day. Women who express surplus milk for a milk bank have been shown to produce as much as 3,000 g/day... energy requirements of lactation in humans can be met by increasing energy intake by approximately 25%". Other papers say 30 ml of ultra thick yellow milk (colostrum) with antibodies, vitamins day one, 70 ml day 2, 120 ml day 3, 300-600 ml day 4-7 white milk, 700-900 ml day 6-12 etc) and up to 12 months (1350 ml for 9 kg baby). "mothers who were exclusively expressing breastmilk ... 973 ± 176 g per day on day 5… (versus breastfeeding studies with) daily milk transfer of 653 ± 154 g... 58% of term mothers experience problems with breastfeeding, including a perception of insufficient milk supply, in the first 2 weeks and this is associated with a lack of confidence in breastfeeding" ► Ntr 2016;8(12):756. Moms who express milk and then feed it by bottle only (no breast) can produce more, but this is a bad idea, since it destroys vitamins etc by siting in fridge (see below); it is thought a good idea to pump out more milk to stimulate milk production and feed it within minute of pumping, if milk supply is low: "milk volume and pumping frequency on Day 4 after birth are significant predictors of milk supply at 6 weeks.☺☺☺

See how an MD quiets babies 0-3 months old, 50+ million views, showing how one can quiet them if they cry after any parental mistake or vaccine. See how an MD distracts babies so they don't cry while being vaccinated, the first time. They need create 20 different MDs and distraction techniques, so baby doesn't cry at any vaccination, never do 2 injections in the same 2 week period as he learned the trick method, see the 2nd injection 2 minutes after 1st one caused pain, MD made a mistake instead of waiting 2 days for another MD with new trick. Parents need to be careful, since baby will hate them if they feel parents allowed an MD to give them pain, they will feel unloved and abandoned, so be kind. Babies don't understand what goes on and have impulsive simplistic emotional reactions that define their relating to you later. Instead, be smart and love the baby if you want less autism and a better relationship with the baby. A baby can learn to mistrust parents if they don't care and leave them to suffer at the mercy of ☺☺ abysmal IQ☺ MDs. You need to stimulate feeling, touch sensation in different areas, to tickle him and be 100 times better than most MDs out there who treat babies like livestock. Talking about World Peace is not enough, we need to walk it, to learn to inflict pain on nobody, at all times, especially on our own babies. Love and bliss, not rough handling and pain, for all beings, not just family or friends. THINK, ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ SHOW COMPASSION AND EMPATHY FOR THE BABY. War comes from fear and pain. So, let all shun pain, it's the culture of Jesus torture sometimes that makes people so callous with baby handling as some videos show, that fake miracles religion made to conquer continents. Change MD and distraction method, so 0 cries become the standard of care globally. The MD, mom, dad need to touch, tickle, make him laugh so neuron sensation of needle is discarded, by stimulating other areas, so injection site sensation doesn't take precedence in the brain, so endorphin release from laughter or bliss of lullaby song cancels any pain. Parents you can, until all vaccines are oral due to high tech, prevent pain from causing autism and damage to human quantum field: more on autism via pain is in the circumcision section about useless ritual pain that does 50000 more damage than a good distraction based vaccine. Brain doubles in size, so it is abysmal in IQ to over vaccinate in the first 12 months of life, you lower the baby's IQ. Every vaccine is a wound that causes immune system at injection site and sabotages the ideal brain development.

Let us deify Love, not pain, let's deify ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ preventing pain, not resilience to psychotic torture, deify peace via painless methods, not bombs & pain, deify God, not demons. We got enough brainwashing daily in the news that we need "war, pain, bombing, or sacrifice" to achieve peace, when there are trillions of Godly ways without pain, threats and war. Low IQ primates or "parasitic satanists"☺☺, disguise themselves as smooth talkers brainwashing people (see silly ritual or simulation) to war or useless or cruel medical procedures and methods. "We need pain" is the lie from the fake religions. The misinformed and the 'callous low IQ ones' (what some may call 'evil' vampires, predators) tell us "we need war, pain, homeless, etc", hiding the truth. Silly people don't understand the pain they inflict on people or 'enemies' damages the entire quantum field, so they perpetuate the same old myths, religions and even military training. Stuck in the 1st century, no evolution. All parents need to read the chapter on love not pain, healing education not punishment, as it's helping to prevent wars, violent crime and bad relationships between parents and kids. Kindly read it before the baby grows and the impulse of ancestor DNA raises its ugly head. Parents, in their "cruel" imitation of Bible etc 3000+ cruelty quotes, often retort to yelling, slapping (in worship of Hitler the alleged slapper) or spanking, which are obviously heinous acts that lead to wars, since violence and mean vibes accumulate, contaminate all. Thus, while on savage planets a slap or spank is thought of as nothing, on others, like us in the Era of Peace, it is viewed as we view "genocide", since they have 1 billion times less violent crimes/year on the planet and 0 killings. Even a circumcision would be like a Holocaust of millions of people today, that Jews call for in the Bible. Yes, they brainwashed billions of people that it's the 'Holy Word of God'. Spanking reflects the savage culture that dominates our planet and its savage genocidal brutal scriptures. 90% of people reported in 2013 having been spanked at least once in their life (so that was in 1960s-1990s), with only 70% reporting they spanked their kids (meaning we're evolving, as % of spanking is decreasing). Spanking reflects the violent 'demonic' culture of USA and the whole world, the trash music globally (0.1% eterni in tone at best usually) and its violent depraved vibe. In 2017, only 35% of US parents spanked their 2 to 10 year old kids, vs 50% in 1993, we're slowly breaking free from the chains of the Bible, Quran, Mahabharata. India also spanks, 77% of parents did in 2018. In China 70% of parents reported spanking in 2014. Old habits die hard, Mao's father beat Mao and this made him more violent, killing millions later, less able (due to anger) to be influenced by the benevolent energy of his Buddhist mother. The Bible word of non-God condones beatings: Proverbs 13:24; 22:15; 23:13-14; 29:15. Gently recall Hitler was beaten by his dad too and preached about Jesus and Bible a lot, and so was Stalin beaten as a kid (he went to a Christian seminary, proof of the Bible powers to create unholy men), and we know what happened: all who killed millions were beaten as kids. It was alleged that Vienna Café Central was attended in 1913 by Tito, Stalin, Lenin, Ferdinand, Trotsky and Hitler. Were they all part of the same club then? Vienna has always been a huge spy hub, due to its neutrality, not a member of NATO. Spanking is teaching kids violence is the way, spanking is GENOCIDE waiting to become manifest later, how can anyone spank a child under 5? Such callous loveless low IQ parents who damage the kids and undermine the parents' own future, as kids won't take care of parents well when parents are old, due to the huge distance beatings create. Let us end this depraved soulless violent culture and learn to sleep well, so we can regulate emotions and not radiate even negative emotions towards kids, which are evident from speech and body language, since that's a form of spanking of a much subtler nature. Kindly listen to peaceful mp3s, spend 22$ on a portable mp3 player preloaded with some very eterni tone songs and instrumental meditative tracks to create the DNA of a new speech when brain is plastic, for your kid to use when playing outside (or bring a portable mp3 player so he hears it and becomes the angel of tranquility) and inside use a mp3 player (SD card) and play one peaceful song at home 24-7, living room, kid bedroom to prevent anger before it ever arises, in your, spouse or any kid, adult, visitor. This also increases the ability to breastfeed, lowers baby anxiety, increases IQ as he gets more milk instead of deadly formula. Older kids, 3-14 also benefit. Never resort to violence, shouting, psychological terrorism as it leads to genocide when it builds up in the psychic field of humanity; use love, practice spirituality and ethics, don't just preach it in a yelling tone to kids. Protect your kid, since a lot of parents and kids out there you may allow kids to hang out with are "violent". It trickles down from the unHoly Men of Clergy, whose loveless 'almost diabolical' shouting, (he is role playing, no miracles there, he gets info via earpiece) is disintegrating the planet's subatomic structure. We the People need to ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ replace this Stone Age backward ("infernal" in Christian terms) gov that promotes violence (slapping contest, see bloody ultra swollen face, savage sports), charlatanism, in all ways via radio-TV, instead of the universal gentle tender soft nurturing loving kindness compassionate grace for All, like in the serene music here.

Spanking makes kids paranoid, psychotic, war supporting, just like circumcision does, as Harvard University explains in CD 2021;92(3):821-32: "Adults who were exposed to harsh corporal punishment (e.g., hit with objects) during childhood exhibited structural brain differences, including less gray matter volume in the prefrontal cortex (PFC)". It makes kids more anxious and far easier to mind control (as adults) by the hyenas. The Zion Elders and all spies using hybrid warfare know this, so the music, religion is as violent as possible, to destroy gentiles: disguised as Nazi, Communist, Muslim/Christian clergy, they shout, promote violent punishing (death for a simple tweet) to create a feeling of fear and chaos, to focus on torture, fear of God/Boss, not Love of God. Watch the tone of loveless "clergy". This spanking creates more violence, for easier foreign control and looting. USA is a barbaric nation, like many others, that legalizes corporal punishment at home, daycare, in prison, in private schools, unlike 65 nations that ban (scroll to see map and date of the total ban, what they allow) it at home, prison, day care and in school. 33 states and DC ban it in public schools, so it's a sign of slow progress. "rates of fighting among adolescents were substantially lower than in the 20 countries with no (spanking) bans in place: by 69% for adolescent males and 42% less for females." ► BMJO 2018 ;8:e021616. Spanking teaches kids to be violent, kids imitate those around, so it's unethical; it ought to be illegal globally. Hitler was beaten often by his father, so how did that go? Spanking, yelling (Hitler tone) lead to genocide, what other proof do we need? 80 million dead in WW2?

In the future, everyone will be 10 billion times gentler, kinder, like now we send letters 10 billion times faster than 200 years ago over large distances via email, so we can easily see how a tiny cruelty, is like genocide in 2025, as everyone is eons ahead of the savage 2025 vibe. It would be impossible for someone in 1800 to imagine what we can do today, everyone having a library of 2 trillion books on a tiny device and talking with anyone via video on Earth, seeing Earth from space, etc. Likewise, humans can only barely imagine the level of angelic kindness, gentleness and love of future humans when World Peace reigns and violence is unheard of. So, to connect with the Immortals of the far future, we can do our best to create a peaceful vibe (use serene music, etc). Violence needs to be stopped when it has a chance to manifest in its smallest tiniest form, via happy gentle tender soft nurturing graceful serene universal loving kindness, education and a culture of peace. World Peace starts from the "least consequential things", such as baby handling to minimize pain and crying, as all things start infinitely small and become huge later, due to billions of parents being callous and leading to a huge pain and cruelty vibe accumulation.

Back to the baby handling to maximize 4 times/day breastfeeding, similar MD techniques can be used to distract or soothe babies and stop them crying for whatever may ache them: sometimes babies cry if an itch or uncomfortable pain occurs somewhere, but they can't verbalize it, so parents need to massage the baby to deflect neuron activation in one spot, maybe figure out which area is itching by noticing that massage there stops the cries, as with the vaccine, and to distract from the spot, to tickle, make him laugh, smile (they imitate us naturally, so it will release endorphins to cancel pain), etc, so they can breastfeed instead and enjoy being hugged and massaged by mommy or tickled by daddy while mommy holds him. Perhaps, another simple technique is to prerecord before conception (or at least before birth) the most calming gentlest beautiful tone of you (way nicer than this tone, this was me just giving an example of a gentler tone) saying baby's name or 'Immortality' (so when he grows up and understands the word Immortality, he will love to quadruple human lifespan, etc) etc and then play that while pregnant in mother's and dad's (mom feels like dad does quite often, baby feels like mom does, so for example both parents meditated and try to communicate how they feel to the baby surrounding him in infinite love, etc) happiest moments to associate that sound and calming peaceful background music with the calmest happiest mood when there is no need to be anxious, cry etc. Then when he's born and upset, play that and thus remind him how he felt so good and he will slowly learn from your exteriorization how to enter cosmic bliss states to deflect pain, since he feels like mommy does usually – he may thus become world's quietest wisest happiest baby (do babies who enter nirvana state of meditation due to alleged past life meditation become quieter and speak less, being speechless during bliss overflow?).

Mothers who produce less than 500 ml/day by the end of Week 2 will have less than adequate milk production long term.. To improve expression of colostrum and facilitate mothers' coming to full milk volume, a new pumping pattern, Medela's Symphony Preemie+, has been examined with positive results" ► JPE 2015;24(3):160-70. Plus there is no bonding if all is pumped, which is bad for IQ and the future of his relationship with the world and all people; these studies hint to the fact many women may malnourish baby by not bringing him to the breast 15 times a day, since often times, baby may not know how to vocalize that he's hungry and may starve his brain and body, making only 5 obvious calls and we see some moms breastfeed 12 times, others 5 times; but once mom reminds him of her breast smell and milk smell, he will begin to suckle, no longer being distracted by whatever goes on. Part of the problem is inhibition, not wanting to make the breast bare and place the baby nearby to see if he wants milk. Once milk flows more, say baby does 10 feedings, one can measure a typical breastmilk production in between feedings and later feed that milk by bottle to the baby. This enables parents to know the approx amount of milk baby drinks. Parents can estimate how much milk is left after each feeding, using the pump right after a feeding and right before a typical feeding (from another day, estimate milk average by time spent suckling, etc), and subtract that from total full to empty volume. Spouse can try suckle to verify all milk is out if pump is not perfect. The DHA RDA paragraph, ultra important to read for pregnant and lactating moms, explains why American Academy of Ped says infants under 1 year old can't drink cow milk; cow milk is different than formula or human milk. Baby IQ and immunity are higher with natural milk. The vegan section has many other (diabetes, low chromium) reasons for cow milk avoiding past 1 year old, as long as bioavailable calcium intake is matching missing milk (vegan milk has 250-300 mg added Ca like cow milk has 200 added, above its natural level of 100, so they got same 300 level). During lactation, RDAs are higher than pregnancy for some vitamins. SMJ 2005;26(8): 1231-4 found that breastmilk (from pump, soak cotton in it, apply for hours) could heal sore nipples faster than lanolin (wool fat), a popular ointment some moms use. It may work for all.☺☺☺

Breastfeeding for 2 years reduces the risk of heart attack/stroke by about 20%; each additional 6 months cuts the risk by 4% ► neurosciencenews...6957. Why give babies cow milk when you can breastfeed? When breastfeeding, the mom experiences a release of oxytocin and prolactin and a lowering of the stress hormones and all fight and flight catecholamines. Prolactin also stimulates the generation of new neurons in the baby and mom. Stress creates atherosclerosis and then later heart attack and stroke ► NM 2014;20(7):754-8 or the Science Magazine. Breastfeeding is a very destressing activity, it is erotic stimulation of the nipples as a trigger for oxytocin release that happens during orgasm too (breastfeeding can be thought of as a mild form of pleasant semi-sexual arousal in fact, probably by natural design to encourage moms to do it).☺☺☺ The American Psychological Association explains "release of three stress-related hormones (adrenocorticotropin hormone, cortisol and vasopressin) in lactating women was cut in half compared with women who bottle-feed their infants." No wonder, other studies found that women who have last baby later in life live longer and Marie, possibly world's longest living vegetarian in the West, lived to 118 almost (if the story is real, not fake) after having 12 babies:

the brain is protected and the brain regulates a lot of the aging of the body; plus women tend to eat way healthier in the months before pregnancy, during pregnancy and 2 years after, to have higher quality milk; this extra attention to milk quality makes a healthier baby, and gives mom a longer life too as long as she eats DHA and nutrients lost in the milk, the baby being designed by nature to cause maximum brain regeneration by nipple stimulation via endorphin release etc, because the baby needs a long lived mom to take care of him, so he better makes her orgasmically happy. ☺☺☺ Breastfed babies are also healthier and smarter, since the antibodies from mom and milk composition changes with each week (nature knows what baby needs in month 2 more), while the infant formula can have 73 times more toxic AGEs (Enfamil.com 487 vs 6.7) and is constant in its content from birth to 2 years, besides lacking biophotons, certain prebiotic oligosaccharides to build immunity, "custom to genome" antibodies. Babies smile up to 400 times a day, while adults smile 20 times a day. Studies show that when lovers touch, they sync their brains and hearts. This touch can help cut the pain dramatically during labor or any period of discomfort (like getting a headache). So, since babies are much happier, smiling even in the womb, when they touch mommy, they make her smile more and happier ► neurosci...1.

Breastfeeding syncs the mom-baby brains/hearts, allows for more mutual telepathic empathic understanding of needs, desires, enhancing harmony and neurogenesis in both mom and baby (prolactin induced neuron birth). Neu 2017;89(6):563-9 found moms who breastfed more than 15 months got 53% lower risk of multiple sclerosis than moms who breastfed 0-4 months, possibly due to the less inflammation via the happy hormones and neurotransmitters that dampen the release of cortisol, catecholamines, noradrenaline and adrenaline (all these stress-induced chemicals promote brain inflammation). They don't know why there is this association and still research to find if there is causation, how it occurs.☺ Abcnews says 17% of moms nurse kids to 1 year old. Some foreign moms nurse until the age of 5. While that's long, these days many don't breastfeed even 2-6 months sometimes, leading to child health issues. Some MDs recommend nursing up to the age of 2, even if the kid starts eating other things after 6 months. For most of history, mothers breastfed their baby 1.5-4 years as shown in five studies: 3-4 years ► AJPA, 129 (1), 2006, 45-54, 2-4 years ► AJPA, 129 (2), 2006, 311-7, 3-3.5 years ► AJPA, 152 (4), 2013, 471-83, 3-4 years ► AJPA, 128 (4), 2005, 781-90, 1.5-3 years ► JN 131 (10), 2001, 2707-15. The American Ped Association says breastfeeding longer than 1 year is perfectly fine. ☺☺☺

The WHO and UNICEF recommend mothers breastfeed infants within the first hour of birth, exclusively for 6 months and continue breastfeeding, while adding complementary foods, until the child is at least 2-years-old. Breastfeeding has a host of health benefits, most notably improving a baby's immunity. Fewer than 44% report moms breastfeed infants within the first hour of birth, which is super important. ☺☺☺ Only 23 countries report exclusive breastfeeding rates at 6-months above 60%. L. Grummer-Strawn, WHO technical officer, said the U.S. received

"several red lights" or "failing grades" in the report. Rates in the US were way lower than the average. Fewer than 25% of American moms report exclusively breastfeeding for the first 6 months. Only 12% of countries meet the International Labor Organization's recommendations on paid maternity leave of 18 weeks paid 100% by public funds. Some view breastfeeding as a chore partially, giving up after 4 weeks or months. Others forget eye tears have up to 2100 chemicals, versus 5 in artificial tears. Likewise, formula is much simpler and very different from human milk from your mom, which is better than a milk from a breastmilk bank. Since we're centuries away from producing 900 ml of milk using chemical copy of 1 ml of freshly produced milk by mother, like we're centuries from producing instantly eyedrops matching our natural tears exactly, we still need to rely on breastfeeding. Add to that the reality that some women genetically have smaller breasts or milk output proportional to baby weight at birth, and we got a recipe for shrinking lifespan of baby and mom by 5 years. One way to overcome 1. this hesitancy (also due to a cultural taboo against breastfeeding in public) to breastfeed and 2. the low milk output in some moms that leads to using bottle milk exclusively very fast, could be to remap the brain to overcome the genetic mind inhibition that introduces via genetics and the eons of 'civilizational learning' a hesitancy to breastfeed a lot, or, if mother is producing little milk, for dad/spouse to suckle 10x daily the empty breasts (after baby emptied them) to double milk production. How can we remap the brain to associate breastfeeding with the 2nd (after meditation, which is higher) happiest most orgasmic activity any mom could be engaged in, or dad/spouse if needed in low milk output moms to suckle on empty breasts 3 minutes after baby emptied it? One way to remap the brain (breastfeeding behavior reflexes are built in via ancestors and are not instantly rewritten) is to role play she's lactating and her partner sucks on her nipples, in a way that leads to orgasm or deep happiness of universal loving kindness in meditation or an orgasm like happiness for those who didn't yet meditate to reach bliss 1,000s of times higher than orgasm, even if obviously, there won't be milk coming out. ☺☺☺

The $3 "The Art of Lactation" got a lot of free preview pages on Amazon with scientific facts about lactation, can read free pages in 10 minutes; it explains how adoptive or biological mothers can induce lactation using their spouse before 1st pregnancy or 1st adoption (or delivery from surrogate mom) to help milk flow reach higher level (helpful to prevent issues not present at 2nd pregnancy, since breasts are bigger and used to produce full milk flow). Moms love when husbands very gently suckle their breasts (as a baby would, not as an adult would), since it arouses them and sends pleasure hormones to their brains that destress them and keep the aging cortisol hormone lower. Both genders get aroused, penis/vagina get hard when they self-massage their nipples. Suckling is similar and it can cause orgasm in ladies easily on its own. It's more efficient than other forms of affection, since no milk usually comes out anyway and it wastes no reproductive liquids if she doesn't orgasm (he can try to be less arousing to prevent orgasm and associated nutrient loss a 2nd time, if it ever happens from suckling alone), so it destresses the brain more efficiently per nutrient spent. The lady relaxes on the bed, wasting no calories, he suckles. Moms often love suckling as it sends endorphins to their brains, relaxes them. Moms can avoid nipple tenderness common during late pregnancy or etc via creams.

In life we get what we put into it, if we want to have a healthy baby, we prepare more. ☺☺☺ Why fully lactate before 1st child for a few weeks to prime or develop mammary glands to the level of a woman having 2nd pregnancy, to ensure 1st baby gets enough milk from week 1, not the deadly cow formula? See below: breastmilk has stuff no food has, for the immune system and baby needs that a lot first 50 days when first time mothers can struggle to make milk. Since pregnant moms often breastfeed a 1-2 year old baby a little still, doing some suckling even during pregnancy is fine and part of nature, since then the body is getting ready to produce more milk, in anticipation of lactation after birth. Suckle it baby, suckle it ☺☺☺ very very gently like a tiny baby mouth.☺☺☺ Couples who kiss often have a much happier marriage, as studies show: the reason is truly very chemical: oxytocin hormone builds trust, which prevents negativity if it ever tries to emerge. Nipples are even more arousing than kissing, suckling and a little body massage creates a much deeper bond, so those couples will be even happier than frequent kissers. Thus, 5 minutes of suckling, 4 times daily per breast, for 3 months is not much, if it can add 10 years to first baby's lifespan. So, keep on suckling, to prevent endless doctor visits later to take care of issues some breastmilk prevents. Couples don't even kiss or cuddle 40 minutes, imagine suckling/massaging that long daily: true love builds. ☺☺☺ The unborn unconceived quantum state baby (spirit?) knows he's loved and parents take 40 min out of each day to add to his lifespan, so he's gonna be happier, benefiting from parental love. 90% of first pregnancy moms struggle to produce milk the first and most critical week. 20% struggle the first 3 months, so the first baby's immune system weakens. 30% produce less than the ideal amount of milk, due to little support from dad and the society, no preparation. Forbes says 10-32% US-Canada mothers don't breastfeed at all, 4% give up in 1st week of life, and 14% give up after 2 months. This is catastrophic for public health and expenses, few prepare well. The advantage of immortality capitalism is the Eternia Volunteer Network to help moms breastfeed: ladies (who have never been moms) can practice lactation also by volunteering to help moms who struggle to breastfeed, in addition to doing it with their husband; the milk donor mom (or both mom & dad) can select a family they feel like and meet the mother (with her kid) at the City Immortality Park, in the breastfeeding center which certifies the baby and mom are free from diseases, etc that may affect the other. Even once a week from 7 donor ladies, so 7 human milk sessions, is better than 100% cow milk. Few ladies who never got pregnant can produce milk, and only if they practiced induced lactation (search youtube to see 1000s of videos on suckling, breastfeeding (for husband to learn from to help induce it), inducing lactation and even pumping milk using 100s of pumping devices – don't freeze milk, some chemicals are damaged, use it within hours ideally if you ever produce some extra with a pump) with husband for months so that milk flow is at least 50 ml per session. People can also do it for close friends. As chemical physics advances, we will take 1 mL of mom milk and produce 2000 mL within seconds using world's most advanced molecular assembler at the Immortality center so mom has more for next 2 days, doesn't need to use cow milk poison. Some moms are lazy or produce little. Same tech can help moms who get dry eyes due to dehydration during lactation, to produce eyedrops.

The author suggests getting breasts empty by husband suckle, then he suckles on empty 5 minutes (see preview). Initially, he may need suckle 20 min daily per breast, but only for a few weeks until full lactation and mammary gland development is reached. She suggests using the same suckling time daily, to make it easier for the body to make milk; suckling is the oral massage of the areola, not the nipple. Just recall to do it within 3 hours of waking up, after fully waking up, since then you're the most rested and aware, both; doing it at night would be a very bad idea, since more mistakes can be made and you want to suckle properly (same for sex, etc), to avoid wasting time or damaging the fine areola tissue. Only the last stages of lactation (when producing 400 ml, not 4-40 ml) have a real effect on menstruation frequency and conception rate, that's why doing this for a few weeks (and days only once reaching high milk level, 200-500 ml) won't really affect conception. The point of the book is that it's always better to suckle than use chemicals, breast pumps, breast massage to achieve full lactation, and that without suckling it's impossible at many stages since pumps and massage aren't enough; so if a couple wants to do this, it's way easier to do it in a 10 week period when both are at home more able to suckle often, especially the last stages, when milk builds up and release via suckling alone is working well; the author got the aid of certified lactation consultants and nurses in writing the book, but I doubt she's 100% honest, since 11 pm for suckling sounds nuts. Some people may role play they adult nurse, like spies for honey trapping, some spies show breasts online a lot. ☺☺☺

NIH has a free WHO book on breastfeeding. The 2nd chapter explains the correct (most areola inside mouth) way breastfeeding occurs, and why moms need study the pictures (section 2.8), or dads/spouses suckling before 1st pregnancy for x weeks (until milk output is high, 300 ml, not 5 ml, for 5 days or even 5 weeks if one really wants to simulate a real lactation before when it goes to 800 ml not 300 ml, if that increases milk output each week and thus develops more mammary tissue) to help 1st kid milk flow (2nd kid starts with way bigger mammary glands from 1st kid 6-24 month lactation), because low milk output and sore nipple is the result of a bad latch that has only the nipple inside the baby's mouth and prevents pressing on the ducts with his tongue to release milk: "more of the areola is visible above the baby's top lip than below the lower lip; the baby's mouth is wide open; the baby's lower lip is curled outwards; the baby's chin is touching or almost touching the breast... the baby is taking the breast and nipple from below, enabling the nipple to touch the baby's palate, and his or her tongue to reach well underneath the breast tissue, and to press on the ducts" (base of nipple, areola). National Academies Press also has a free book on breastfeeding here. Induced lactation and using wet nurses for infants (3 kg 1st month) have happened for millennia as IJBS 2007;3(4):251-7 explains; wet nursing refers to using other healthy women (who lactated before, or just finished breastfeeding their kid (who weighs 9 kg at 1 year) thus having higher milk output via minimal induction via suckling, but still young, under 35) to breastfeed a child (not fully, only to supplement mother) when biological mother is low on milk. ☺☺☺Induced lactation☺☺☺ is used by adoptive moms to feed adopted babies: "case of premature twins whose adoptive mother induced lactation" ► JHL 2010;26(3):309-13, even a guy was able to induce lactation, with hormones, etc – but again, guys were not optimized by nature and their milk thus may be far less, insufficient and of vastly different properties, wholly inadequate for infant exclusive feeding ► TH 2018;3(1):24-26). AMA Journal of Ethics explains suckling to induce lactation carries no risks and American Academy of Family Physicians and the American Academy of Ped recommends this to those adopting babies. MJMS 2017;24(4):5-17 explains foreign policies on induced lactation. MFP 2021;16(1):18-30 free paper has many cases of induced lactation, and how they do it. Lesbian women were reported to induce lactation to feed the child of their partner too ► Birth 2020;47(1):21-8. "adopting mother with a history of breast radiation was able to breastfeed." ► JHL 2021;37(1):194-9. It's also used to breastfeed a woman's own baby born to a surrogate mother that went thru IVF using real mother own eggs and her husband's sperm, if she can't grow baby inside ► JHL 2020;36(4): 791-4 is a "case of a mother through surrogacy with XY karyotype and complete androgen insensitivity syndrome who wished to breastfeed her child (and managed to)." BM 2017;12(6):373-6 has another case of induced lactation of surrogate mother born twins. JHL 2015;31(1):166-71 "suggests that nonpuerperal (milk from induced lactation by a nonpregnant woman) milk has similar or higher levels of total protein, sIgA, lactoferrin, and lysozyme compared to puerperal, mature milk at 11 months" postpartum (postpartum means after birth). JHL 2020;36(3):528-36 is a free paper explaining induced lactation for up to 4 years in nonpregnant women, often done longer to create a deeper bond due to not being biological mom; JHL 2020; 36(4):739-49 explains induced lactation methods. "inducing nonpregnant cows into lactation could be used by dairy producers to increase profitability." JDS 2004;87(10):3290-7.

Females who induce mini lactation can produce even 10 mL of milk, by role play, way less than 450-1350 ml (850 average) she would when feeding a baby she gave birth to. NIH hosted "Nutrition during Lactation" book explains milk output during lactation: they say moms need about 8-10 sessions of breastfeeding to produce enough milk, since it depends on breasts being emptied so they signal the body to produce more milk and it needs oxytocin via nipple stimulation too; a less known fact is husband/partner can role play he/she is feeding for 1-3 minutes, when breast is empty, without pulling milk, to cause an increase in milk production; milk production in the first 6 weeks after birth is VERY DEPENDENT on nipple restimulation once the fast emptying happens. Not knowing this and switching to formula is often times very sad, since it produces permanent organ damage to the child, who needs real milk not cow milk powders with 73 times more toxic AGEs (Enfamil.com 487 vs 6.7), no custom antibodies, no immunity building oligosaccharides. 25-50% of US moms allegedly give up breasfeeding after 2 months to poison babies with cow milk: 10-30% are estimated to never breastfeed due to laziness, etc: they will spend more time with a sick child later, having to work a lot harder than 20 minutes of breastfeeding. Parents with "lower IQ" (not as low as cow IQ though☺☺☺) are happy to do that, instead of finding a human donor of fresh milk. We got endless strip clubs, beauty salons, stadiums, but no place that is truly heavenly, relaxing music, clean, beautiful, etc to breastfeed using a donor, when moms fail to produce. Sports can add 5 years, good breastmilk can add 10 in some cases. What are our priorities? Bees who feed on bee milk live 40 times longer. ☺☺☺ We're not cows, we need better nutrition until age 1 when immunity just got built, especially with these lethal vaccines they poison all babies with these days. For those with the head in the clouds, a good wake up call is the 355 page eye chapter that shows natural tears have 2000 nutrients, versus 5 in most artificial tears full of irritants and allergens. Now, think about the "FDA approved formula" vs natural milk. Babies need to be kissed by moms each day of breastfeeding, since moms' lips get the bacteria on the baby face (massaged, held, played with) or lips and mothers' immune system produces antibodies in breastmilk. Another thing moms need, like dads, is to keep a clean mouth so babies are not annoyed by her stinky mouth. Most people's mouths stink bad since most don't floss daily, nor use the mouthwash or brushing after each of the 3-4 meals, they just wash cars instead. S. Mutans bacteria from the parent lips can go into the baby mouth and cause cavities later as they colonize, so it's key for parents to protect kid's teeth by keeping mouths clean. The kids are kissed often and parents don't realize how cavities are a contagious disease too. Some people carry mouthwash or toothbrushes at work, they at least swirl with water after lunch, to clear mouth from debris and acidic pH. This will make people love to talk to you... instead of avoiding you. NIH papers show milk output can often double within 4 weeks with a series of measures, such as increased stimulation via more sessions, etc. In many cases milk output doubling is needed. It's not ideal to wake baby up from his brain building sleep when you feel like 'he should stimulate your breast because genetically it produces less milk per minute of baby suckling", so stimulating when baby sleeps is key when milk output is low. Baby mouths are far less powerful than adults, especially in the first 2 months of life, and produce less oxytocin since babies don't know how to stimulate erotically the mom, which produces more milk; dad/partner suckling on empty breast can stimulate more milk production than baby doing so on empty breast. So, when babies are weaker, they don't stimulate as much milk production, it's a lot harder for moms who don't use

dad or partner to generate enough milk for a very healthy baby. Lactating moms could use in the future an advanced device (not the pump) that mimics baby or dad (or partner) suckling or improves on it, to maximize oxytocin and milk production, when dad/suckling partner or companion (can be any adult close to mom, her 'sister, mom, friend, spouse ideally, co-worker (go to bath or car (use sunshade or privacy blocker) to be discreet, if baby allowed at work)' – anyone who realizes empty breast suckling can add 10 years to offspring lifespan, since it prevents formula or donor milk use (not ideal), and does it gently, correctly, lovingly as if $50 billion is at stake; romantic partner is best, since it produces most milk due to higher oxytocin and higher tender gentle love, dedication to 100% correct suckling (that doesn't damage breast) due to more love for mom) is not near mom 10 times a day, if the breasts both become empty 10 times daily after the baby feeds (the device would detect emptiness if present after each baby feeding to alert mom that milk output needs increasing). This is extremely critical for LOW BIRTH WEIGHT babies or twins, who need a higher than normal milk output/intake to regain lost growth due to often being smaller than a single baby, and due to having 2 to feed, so there you go, dad busy suckling (dad can simulate a stronger suction than a "weak premature or low birth weight baby or a normal weight baby with poor mouth muscle reflex of suckling for the first year of life due to genetics (see, low milk can be 100% due to genetics of the baby's weak suckling reflex, not low weight)", simulating a 12 month old baby who was born with ideal weight, who, due to having stronger mouth control, can generate more milk, 3 times more milk sometimes than in week 3, 1350 vs 450) empty breast 10x daily at least for twins perhaps to triple milk output, and mom needs to eat more bee pollen, nutritious smoothies to produce 3x more milk than a normal mom if she has triplets. ☺☺☺

MDs prescribe also milk production boosting chemicals, "Health providers face the challenge of prescribing or recommending (herbal or drug) galactagogues (lactose is made of *gal*actose and glucose; lactation is a gal act, not a guy act; gal acts and milk comes; Milky Way Galacsy; PubMed has 100s of articles on them*, read the most recent ones with latest findings, usually free PMC articles have huge data sets, if your wife can't produce enough milk after you suckling on empty breast 10 times daily*) without the benefit of robust evidence... mothers who consumed the fenugreek (which prevents diabetes) tea produced significantly more milk... (Amazon sells a lactation supplement, with 7 herbs), Mothers taking silymarin (milk thistle polyphenol extract) produced 86%" more milk after 2 months, vs 32% more (milk production increases with each week as baby grows and its suction and stimulation power increase) in placebo. Malungay (moringa tree) capsules produced 162% more milk than controls the 10th day after birth, though the study is by the company selling capsules, so they need a lot more studies (only 1 study showed positive results for each of these folk remedies) ► OJ 2016; 16(4):511-24. 2016 is old, but still useful, though there have been reports of abortion and even death following moringa ingestion.☺☺☺ J Hum Lactation 2020 Oct 14 explains prescribing domperidone (medicines also have unwanted side effects) for low milk supply, when in many societies women never use these to induce lactation if non-pregnant: "Milk production consists of 3 phases... Lactogenesis I,... glandular breast tissue proliferates and lactocytes are activated, occurs from the second half of pregnancy to the first 2 days postpartum... Lactogenesis II, the onset of copious milk production, ... occurs between Day 3 and Day 8 postpartum... is under endocrinal control, requiring high levels of serum prolactin and low levels of progesterone for milk production, and oxytocin for milk release... Next, the production of milk comes under autocrine control, Lactogenesis III. When breasts are not drained sufficiently,... due to insufficient frequency of sucking stimulation, feedback inhibitor of lactation (FIL) builds up and blocks protein synthesis and eventually reduces the number of secretory cell surface receptors for prolactin, leading to" low milk. Aauthors say low output in one of 3 phases affects 15% for primiparous (1st kid) mothers of term infants, so 1 in 6.7. Moms need to prevvent this. Imagine what a training regime with twins or triplets, dad (or partner) needs to suckle on empty daily 25-50 minutes, since 3 babies at once is huge and milk banks are not ideal anyway due to destruction of nutrients in the storage process (freezing, heating, etc), but better than cow formula. ☺☺☺

With triplets or twins the milk needed is huge, so then, if twins feed every 2 hours usually, after the first empty breast suckling by dad to boost milk production, after 30-80 minutes passed and some milk exists, dad can simulate suckling but not suckle*, only gently rub his lips on the nipple area 1 minute, to further increase milk production since twins require a LOT more milk* when they will wake up in 20 minutes or 50, each emptying one breast fast; a friend is an alternative to human milk banks, if she's willing to pump some of her milk and already has lactated before, since nobody would try to lactate fully probably for your triplets, if they never lactated before, due to the extra work and nutrient intake it involves (would have to breastfeed your baby 10 times daily or 5 times daily or pump 5 times daily, not easy). Moms need not worry, because triplets or twins can be a joy, since they will bring longer orgasmic bliss *of nipple stimulation too (*50x daily, need maybe some breast ointment to avoid sore nipples, not 10x with a single baby, since dad does it too while never drawing any milk) and you no longer have to go twice thru individual births, so it's not a big deal after all, bodies adapt to producing more milk as needed. Plus you get dad/partner suckling more on empty, arousing you more often. ☺☺☺ Moms could also use their hands to mimic erotic stimulation after breast is emptied, but another person doing it is better, since it generates more oxytocin and let's be real, women are often tired*, after 10 breastfeedings daily, to do proper stimulation when milk is drying up each time baby suckles and* there goes dad/partner suckling the empty breast to boost milk production 50-200%, partner is less stressed and can arouse the woman (oxytocin). This increases the brain regeneration of lactating mom, reduces her cortisol and stress levels, as she can relax on the bed

after a hectic day and allow dad to suckle and love her breasts, and bond better with her leading to happier longer lived mom, dad and baby. This may only be needed for the first 8 weeks of the 1st child (single usually, twins are rare) when many women are incapable to produce a lot of milk due to having never lactated before and tissues developing their maximum output then, so it's not like dad will have to do this 12 months of breastfeeding, usually output increases dramatically by week 9, from a few ml in first days to 800 ml. At least keep this idea in mind, as a backup production plan, if herbs, lower stress, doctor pills, more liquids, smoothies don't work as they often fail in many NIH papers. Many moms don't get much time off and are so stressed with their job and other stuff, the LAST THING on the lactating mom's mind (if she even has the will power and energy to do it, not just mental desire) is massaging their breast to mimic baby suckling...on an empty breast, which increases oxytocin and thus milk release. Not only that, but CE 1986;25(2):97-106 found only suckling increases both prolactin (essential for milk production) and oxytocin (essential for milk release) in many cases, not breast massage. Since a woman can't suckle herself easily, her partner is the only choice to achieve higher milk. That's why in an advanced country, instead of sex shops, we can have milk producing suckling simulators (improving on milk output by 5x versus baby suckling simulation) sold at pharmacies, that allow us to avoid 5 trillion years in lost human lifespan years and $30 quadrillion in useless preventable health care interventions: so simple, just a few extra minutes of suckling by dad or the device if dad not near mom then, and voila, the whole human healthy lifespan increases by 10 years, or even 25 in some cases. Imagine how many couples are completely unaware their baby is malnourished, even if breastfed for 9 months, due to dynamics explained below.☺☺☺

Thus, for seriously often dry moms, dads can suckle the affected breast (well, if a breast is empty, immediately switch to the other, if both are empty then definitely use dad to suckle on empty both breasts, alternate breasts during breastfeeding to avoid a malnourished baby) an extra 1-5 minutes on empty once baby is done, and that multiple times a day if it happens multiple times a day. So, if the dad doesn't step in to simulate baby suckling (never to drink milk, since it's low already) on empty, the baby's health and life will be seriously affected, if milk supply is low, since formula is no substitute, contains macronutrients and micronutrients in different ratios and formula lacks key nutrients (human specific T cells, macrophages (80% of milk cells are macrophages in early weeks to build baby immune system), stem cells, immunoglobulins, gangliosides *for brain and some peripheral neurons (*optic nerve), cytokines, chemokines, growth factors, antimicrobial proteins, oligosugars, glycans, mucins – helps with eyes too) for ideal immune system etc.. "Pasteurized donor milk is now commonly provided to high risk infants and most mothers in the U.S. express and freeze their milk at some point in lactation for future infant feedings. Many milk proteins are degraded by heat treatment and freeze-thaw cycles may not have the same bioactivity after undergoing these treatments... For vitamin C (that helps babies see), loss occurs rapidly, even during the process of feeding freshly expressed human milk by bottle" ► PCNA 2013;60(1):49-74; we know with polyphenols reduced 50% in blueberries after freezing, etc; heating is a bad idea, as it creates AGEs that damage the kid and lower his IQ. Going dry is common first 7 weeks (some women doubled thier milk putput by week 5), so many, due to lack of biochemistry knowledge, give up breastfeeding after 4 weeks. "50% of (US) women stopped breastfeeding earlier than they had intended due to (real or imagined) insufficient breastmilk supply... superiority of mothers' own milk to donor human milk and infant formula" ► Ntr 2019;11(5):974, "Maternal perception of an insufficient milk supply is the commonest reason for ceasing breastfeeding.. (by 12 months only 30% were exclusively breastfeeding)... to feed a 9 kg (older) versus 3 kg (just born) baby daily (1350 mL vs 450 mL) can be a physiological challenge for some women." ► AP 2018;41(1):7-9. "factors other than pasteurization (and freeze-thaw cycles if using milk bank, not wet nurse) impact DHM (donor human milk) in clinically significant ways including maturity of the mammary gland (preterm MOM (mothers' own milk) versus term DHM), stage of lactation for which DHM replaces MOM (e.g., mature DHM replacing MOM colostrum and transitional milk)" ► JP 2017; 180:15-21. The paper explains many health issues arise with donor milk, so we have now a scientific proof that the millennia old practices of wet nursing were not always such a good idea at all, since they were often done even when mom could lactate and her milk has specific things, informed from DNA of kid, that donors don't have and the lactation stage changes micro and macronutrient composition dramatically (2 g/L lactoferrin at 2 months, vs 9 g/L early days; if fresh donor milk; freezing reduces lactoferrin 50%, to 1 g/L pasteurization by milk bank by 88%, so almost 0.1 g/L is left or 90 times less than what the baby needs if using donor milk early on), i.e after birth milk is very thick, transitional milk is medium, and 'mature milk' is thin, but donor milk would be always thin and very late stage, leading to undesirable outcomes. Induced lactation for 1 week (years or months before conception) at full level of 300 ml doesn't change the way milk comes when a child is naturally born, with colostrum, transitional milk, mature milk, just as previous birth lactation doesn't change next birth lactation. The thickness is regulated by hormonal changes related to discarding placenta and the labor process itself. ☺☺☺

Some don't know milk supply often increases a lot after 7 weeks with persistence (optimizing diet, reducing stress (stress shrinks milk production by preventing oxytocin release and the baby lifespan via that) by meditation, peaceful music, and by dad/partner loving mom's nipples when breast is empty, breastfeeding 12 times not 5, dad empty suckling); lactation is extremely challenging at times, since it's also a little painful at times, and stressing for the body after pregnancy to produce 1 liter a day within 3 weeks... so many give up and end up ruining their baby's chance for ideal lifespan and health; usually, dad suckling after birth is only done extra 1-5 minutes after breast is empty to increase signaling to produce more and for maximum erotic arousal that produces the hormone to signal more milk is needed. The artificial tears and natural tears are very different and there are ways to produce natural tears by yawns, etc: this is the exact same thing, we're trying to make up for nature's imperfect milk supply, using science, to avoid 1 million dollars and extra time in later health care costs because we were against spending 10 minutes a day sucking the empty breast (unfortunately, for some women, according to researchers on induced lactation, this may mean 20-30 minutes a day), since it's too 'demeaning for such a big ego to do that' and 'unscientific'. How is cow milk 'is a perfect substitute' scientific? ☺☺☺ More erotic guys will be happy to do that, especially if they remap their brain too before birth to love to suckle on empty or role play they suckle, to be ultra prepared for any eventual need of doing that (easy to know if needed, just try suckle after baby is done and 'satiated', if mom doesn't notice if milk still flows due to being ultra tired); but some males may have some ego issues and anger due to being interrupted 8 times daily when breast becomes empty ultra fast, since this has to be done at irregular times when her breast becomes empty, not to drink milk and NOT when husband is in the mood for that.

Remember, guys, a healthy baby will take better care of you when older, make a more intelligent companion in science projects if you're a geek who can help you since he has higher IQ now due to your suckling empty breasts of mom, make you spend 100 times less trying to cure baby health issues later, than the 5-30 minutes a day of suckling in the first 7 weeks especially, when milk supply is lower, since her body can't instantly in one day go from 1 ml to 1000 ml. Perhaps, it's smart to study this a little, read a few papers, at least, since women are too tired at times to realize when the baby wants more milk yet breast is empty. So then, how will they decide if suckling of empty breast is ideal or not? You don't know, but better to feed baby extra milk and have milk left after each suckling than to have breast empty after each suckling indicating there is need of more volume, so husband has to suck with passion 20-30 minutes daily to stimulate production. There is the mini lactation (1-10 ml) and the full lactation (300+ ml) that increases breast weight by 2 pounds total quite often, and can involve changes in breast appearance; sometimes veins become visible around areolae due to blood supply for new milk producing ducts, etc and can be painful for some women when the big breast is full of milk, since tissues are not used to that size and stretch, so it helps to know mom can use her partner or pump to relieve milk build up pressure if baby is sleeping and not suckling (and not rely on a pump to collect milk, when milk output is optimal, for later use in 2 hours when baby wakes up, because the milk that sits even hours is inferior and if there is enough milk it's best to use fresh milk not one from 5 hours ago; babies often do wake up every 2-3 hours to drink for a few minutes, ideally 10 times daily for bigger brain and etc. It's a huge change to achieve true full lactation for 30 days (all we need to give that higher output when 1st baby comes later) prior to first pregnancy or birth (500 ml or more daily for many weeks in a row, not 1 ml every other day). After the 1st full lactation (300, not 1 ml), induced or after birth, the areolae enlarge and darken, increasing their radius, so spies who claim to be single and hide their breast details may do so because it shows if they're already moms who had gone thru lactation (hence picture editing and avoiding showing the areolae) – big breast doesn't mean women ever got pregnant and lactated though; spies know how to tell probably if a woman ever lactated, probably even the voice pattern changes slightly and AI picks that up; plus the breasts are sagging more. Babies feed on colostrum right after birth, so preconception lactation may release more normal milk in the first hours after birth and less colostrum than usual, though that is not the case usually since women giving birth to 2nd child have already lactated and the labor induces hormonal changes that produce colostrum. ☺☺☺ Perhaps we can argue that full induced lactation can mimic 'having had a baby before' and produce more colostrum, milk when baby is 1-10 week old than first time mothers (unfamiliar with the milk boosting ideas in this section), sometimes giving baby higher health and 20 year longer lifespan (100 not 80 years old), since malnutrition due to low milk output (unknown to parents) first 10 weeks will often have devastating consequences for fans of 120 year lifespans. However, that is something that needs to be researched more.

Colostrum is rich in antibodies, etc so how does induced lactation affect colostrum quality after labor? Also the hormonal changes, etc need to be studied in detail to see how they affect conception and pregnancy, if one produces more than 1 ml a day (since full lactation of 900 ml would diminish fertility or eliminate it completely), and how mature milk instead of the colostrum and transitional milk affect lactation. An extra benefit of full breastfeeding after birth and not using formula at all is that the woman can't conceive for 6-12 months even if she ever has any sex, since it would not be a good idea to malnourish baby with cow milk and then get pregnant again. It's a very complex issue, since in life, in certain cases, going against nature provides more benefits: for example, many kids die if they're not supplemented with some vitamins at birth, so we go against nature to increase human lifespan; we went against nature and managed to move objects via rocket space probes at 8,000 times higher speed than natural given running speed, using tech. Likewise, many routine procedures now would be thought of as insane 150 years ago and nobody would dare do it, yet we know they extend lifespan and prevent kid issues; well, if you have 5 months to read 5,000 papers on milk and hormones and effects and talk to doctors, you may discover something (not related to inducing early lactation necessarily) that in 300 years will be routine, but this does require more research and luck. You can google "boost milk production in humans NIH" or other combos to get NIH papers on milk output optimization; read them before birth, before third semester, to have a better idea and not find the mom short on milk for the infant with no backup production plan; good milk supply can add 15 years to baby lifespan, a lot of health and IQ too. As explained earlier, what happens in the first 6-12 months of life nutritionally, affects genes and longevity, health and IQ far more than what happens at age 15 or 20, just like bees fed better during early life end up living 40 times longer. Some parents focus on nutrition after lactation, forgetting breastfeeding.

Since pregnant women often breastfeed another baby, born earlier, it's OK to breastfeed 5 ml while pregnant to partner for 3 weeks to reprime the mammary gland prior to last 15 weeks of pregnancy (avoiding it close to term, since it may induce preterm labor; since it was maybe 1 year since the full lactation was induced for 50 days to develop big breasts), but it only makes sense to research full lactation induction more seriously for people with a known history of low milk output in the family or to develop a stronger backup production plan in women with anxiety or some other issue that undermines or adds risks to milk outputs in the absence of genetic factors*:* ask grandmas, mom, etc and see how long they exclusively breastfed, how fast the breast was empty after suckling, etc; moms can lie and grandmas too, if they think it may make them look bad, so it's best to have a backup plan and be realistic, humans are humans and their stories often change 'I breastfed you x weeks, then she says 2x weeks, then 3x weeks as she hears that's better' to console the naive daughter. In the old times, no Internet meant ignorance was huge, so women didn't research signaling of breast emptying, baby satiation, all needed to do to induce lactation output increase of 90% when desperately needed – many not having the slightest clue this can be done by eating more bee pollen, milk nutrient rich foods, drinking more water or smoothies and above all, have dad suckle empty breast. Many will be surprised to find out the amount of exclusive breastfeeding by their mom or grandma, if they're even recalling exactly and not fake doubling or tripling the week/month number to look better, is not the ideal WHO duration for exclusive or partial lactation, leading to poor health and lower longevity: a little extra time, from dad and mom, before birth, researching and preparing can save 5,000 times more time wasted later to fix issues some extra milk could have prevented. Dad suckling 1 min empty breast a few times daily for 2 weeks could convince many women to not use formula or give up breastfeeding (happens often first 5 weeks) and see a sudden rise in output that then prevents 3 million in health care expenses and tons of time wasted. People forget sometimes a power plant disaster could have prevented by a 5 minute routine check or something, and then they had to spend 5 years to rebuild. How is 1 minute vs 1 year? A big difference. ☺☺☺ Prevention is often times 100s or millions of times cheaper and faster.

We better breastfeed 10 times daily smaller batches than 5 times bigger batches, since milk production DOES INCREASE when you breastfeed 10 times in many studies. Likewise, parents are under the illusion that if she breastfed her baby 6 months or longer, it's all good, but her baby may have been quite starving for many nutrients – with her not realizing that her breast was empty and baby wanted more actually, leading to impaired vision, IQ, organ development. So it helps to research a little and prevent issues before they arise, by being fully prepared to suckle and extra stimulate if breast is ever empty after baby is done suckling (husband can check that when woman is too tired to be sure, by trying to suckle after baby went back to sleep, as they sleep 22 hours usually). This priming of the mammary glands and association of suckling with intense happiness (probably needs be done when both are very rested and able to focus on happiness) can probably actually remap the brain and make mom look forward to real breastfeeding as the 2nd high of the day after meditation, boost milk output dramatically (that 20% that makes often the difference between a mom switching off breast to the bottle) because the mammary glands got a head start and the brain-breast connection is stronger. The 1st child and first lactation are a huge change for the body, the breasts often become twice as big, and the stress on the body to produce 1000 ml of milk from 0 ml is huge, so that's why prepregnancy even induced tiny or semi full lactation (full lactation eliminates periods and makes conception very difficult in many cases, but nobody almost who ever suckles nipples to produce milk reaches high volumes, above 200ml, that can eliminate periods and ovulation at whatever unknown level of 300-800 ml?) can present benefits to first born child that are available to 2nd born, since for later born kids the breasts don't have to go thru the ultra fast enlargement and production boost that happens first 5 weeks post 1st birth, it's a huge proliferation of milk producing tissue; inducing lactation makes the stress of 'producing enough milk' far lower.

Stress diminishes milk supply, so have your comedy videos ready and relaxation plans too; lack of self-confidence means stress, anxiety and it increases pregnancy risks, damages fetus and lactation output, so even just going thru a little fake nipple suckling to boost self confidence and believing this helps will induce powerful autosuggestion, placebo like effect that this will make pregnancy and delivery and lactation so much easier, better, etc and help – effect that needs to be controlled for in clinical studies, by women believing they lactated fully, but not really, with husband telling them they produce milk but they don't produce much, etc... to account for the mind effect vs real 500 ml not 5 ml pre conception (no sex prior to full lactation to ensure bigger breast) lactation effect on post birth lactation output, fetus birth weight, child health, delivery ease, etc). Dads need recall to say only positive things about milk output, since moms are suggestible during stressful lactation times and also, to ensure they never say or do anything that they know might make mom unhappy; instead, dad/partner needs make her the happiest ever, during lactation too, not just pregnancy, since any negative emotion or diminishes milk output.☺☺☺ Preconception lactation for 1 month (no sex while trying to reach full lactation for 4 weeks, to avoid going into 1st pregnancy without mammary tissue), 3-50 months before pregnancy, is thus something that many may argue that it prevents, in many cases, the malnourishing of babies due to low milk for religiously devoted to human milk moms who don't realize 5 feedings is often insufficient and 12 may be ideal for their baby, given the low milk flow and extra stimulation needed for that genome to produce 800-1200 ml lower weight babies need to catch up and grow. Obviously, one needs to eat DHA and all nutrients one would when lactating for real, to avoid any deficiency from producing 1-10 ml of milk, if any comes out. ☺☺☺ Though 10 ml is not 1000. Some claim that they were able to produce 300 even without ever being pregnant, being more of a stimulation dependent process that stops once suckling stops. However, since real breastfeeding (950 ml, not 1) can induce hypoestrogenic state and vaginal dryness due to dehydration, this needs to be done after more research, in order to determine nutrient intake, fluid intake (that can cause dryness), etc so that it's done only for a few weeks (when conception may not work if high flow); role play and orgasm like bliss via erotic nipple stimulation without milk production won't dry the vagina though. During pregnancy, since nutrients go to the baby, this can stop 100% (even 5 ml), especially as the baby grows, since orgasmic states close to labor can induce preterm labor which shortens offspring lifespan.

One could do 50 million mom study to see if this 'role play simulation of lactation prior to conception, birth' has, outside confounding factors, a huge effect on baby IQ, growth, health, height, weight, due to more milk produced via the increase of mammary gland size due to training, just like our muscles can double in size via training; this can easily be done after 1st child, too, if the milk output was low, doesn't have to happen before, though the whole point is to do it before the 1st child for 30-90 days or so (then resume normal life so full fertility is restored), because 1st kid is the one that suffers the most from low milk flow, since 2nd child has bigger breasts with tons of mammary gland tissue already. Milk production begins in the week 10-22 of pregnancy (this is not expressed or consumed by anyone normally, so tissue development is slower), but still, for the 1st baby, there is less output as it takes a 3-12 months of breastfeeding 1 liter daily to develop really big ducts, etc. Obviously, body resources go into milk production and milk ducts and etc development in 1st pregnancy, and in the first 8 weeks of lactation, so this shrinks mother nutrients going to placenta and actual milk production during lactation☺☺☺, since tissues are not there preexisting as with 2nd child, thus shortening lifespan of 1st baby or twins, due to higher chance of low output and lower quality milk and lower nutrient transfer to placenta. If a couple spent 4 years trying to conceive, they might as well try lactation induction for 50 days and then stop to be more prepared? ☺☺☺ What are the cons and pros? Future studies can determine the methods, ideal # of ml of milk produced, time periods (how many months prior to birth, or conception, if any during pregnancy helps, etc), etc that are optimal to grant maximum offspring health and lifespan, 1st child especially we're talking here, since 2nd (and each later child) is already at a huge advantage, since mom has more experience in being mom, etc, far higher milk output sometimes first 3 weeks of life than moms who never lactated, last child having the most mother experience in bonding (which raises IQ, etc) and being a good breastfeeder. The malnourishing in the first 4 weeks of life (when mom's breasts adjust to eventually produce 1000 ml 1st time ever, first few days milk coming out is minimal) of the 1st kid due to low milk may shrink healthy and even total lifespan by 15 years and few know about it, why not give your baby a 120 year lifespan instead of 100? So, since these mega studies may take 200 years to complete, at least have an idea and some backup plan? Role play breastfeeding may make the couple more tender kinder softer gentler, since role playing being mommy and baby will evoke a gentler emotional center network in our brains and magnify that; plus the bonding prevents conflict which will make the baby live longer, since harmony brings healthier kid brain hormones due to them copying emotions of happy parents.

In our world we have 3 million gyms that build strong muscles for women, but not many places to breastfeed and learn about the importance of diet in the first year of life when brain doubles its size: are we prioritizing muscles or brains? Milk banks with 50 types of milks for 50 types of genomes and 52 weeks of the 1st year of human lactation, some of which have vastly different contents, so 2600 types of milk? Milk banks today pasteurize and freeze dry milk often, to remove pathogens, so in that process they diminish milk quality dramatically, so relying on milk banks as backup is better than cow powder formula, but far less ideal than a strong production plan. Why is anyone against breastfeeding for 30 days or 70 before even conceiving, to bring breasts to bigger size is unclear, if it helps 1st kid to live 10-20 years extra (it's not about erotica or bonding between parents, or bliss even (since divine ecstasy thru meditation is far higher) but about lifespan of 1st kid or twins mostly, and less about his healthy lifespan which also shrinks with donor stored milk, even your own milk loses vitamin C in a bottle fast). Anyone heard of 2600 types of milk, like 4 types of donor blood? Instead 'not so gentle' (sometimes like boxing match) emotions, tones, fake silicone breasts we could have natural 10% bigger breasts (doubling milk output volume and duration when first lactating may only need to increase breast size by 10% via simulation; two women can have different size breasts and the smaller breast can produce double the milk and for 3 times lo*nger after birth easily, just as some people have eye tears deficiency and can produce only 20% of what others produce)* from a tender loving simulation that ennobles the human genetic mind with gentle tender Immortal sweet healing nurturing shimmering universal loving kindness that brings a gentler higher IQ world with gentler tone like in the 1 min immortality blessing & 1 min soft tone. It's against taboo to lactate, to produce milk in tiny quantities, for a milk bank, or 1st child lactation efficiency, etc.☺☺

The milk section explains D-galactose in cow and human milk (from lactose) may destroy some neurons in a brain region, leading to Parkinson; thus, if the guy is afraid of bad effects, milk being for babies only, he can just discard it in a bottle after suckling it for a few weeks before the first conception only (after that, the breasts are well developed, so no nursing). Babies are different than adults and for them neurons being pruned is fine (200 to 100 billion in 4 years). Imagine making a social media post like that 'looking for suckling babies' who need extra milk to practice a little lactation before conception for maximizing 1st child healthy and total lifespan', or 'looking for similar genome & blood type lady to breastfeed my infant since I run out of milk

once a day or to donate freshly squeezed (pump) milk', etc... some may think she's a 'bitch' looking for erotic 'adult nursing relationships', or some other stuff, or not believing in the present science that can't replicate even natural tears well, let alone fresh milk from a person, etc, when actually she's just an honest person looking for the best longevity of her kid, which affects the average lifespan of all humanity by 0.00..01% too. The odd thing is that there is a strong cultural taboo against even mentioning in an online romantic match website profile that she's interested in 'adult nursing', i.e. in people who live closer, since living far away would make it a theory, since to even practice and produce 5 ml of milk would require meeting a few minutes daily at the very minimum (once or twice a day minimum), though manual self-expression with a milk pump is also possible when meeting is not possible. But really, if you honestly look at how many daters spend their time together, they could often do that or role play they do it, while using sweet tones, and yield a gentler version of themselves and also a healthier offspring even if this doesn't imply getting any more intimate than breastfeeding; in a world of casual sex and etc, a move to only meditation first and, if can't do that, at least, only breastfeeding first after getting engaged or something (bare breast, nothing else; for a few weeks only anyway, if the female never lactated only, anyway, if the female wants to lactate for a few weeks only for the sake of 1st kid, years before eventual conception maybe; see explanation above about 1st born vs the rest; if woman lactated before, there is no point in breastfeeding) to develop the motherly and gentler emotions of baby feeding or suckling, the more tender aspect of that, may be beneficial, as people focus on offspring health and less on 'sex', more on humanity's health and emotional evolution and less on self-gratification.☺☺☺

A woman can tell 100 times better sometimes from the tone of speech of a suckling boyfriend and his behavior (as can tell the guy too from her tone and behavior) if they will be a good match for more 'intimate' processes and if the partner is tender gentle soft enough to raise the most loving baby the town or neighborhood has ever known. Without an eterni like tone becoming more common, there is little hope for fast science progress, and the truly universally loving babies only emerge where eterni tones exist. When gentleness is absent, people will prioritize weapon making and self-gratification at the expense of humanity's wellbeing; longevity progress, concern for kids' health (they are the future humanity, more important than self-gratification) will be slow or minimal. With higher IQ, kids will teach parents who're not into meditation to attain bliss by meditation, without the need for so much erotica, as tech advances to allow our brains to move into more positive states every 5 minutes, thereby delaying aging caused by the release of fight-flight hormones, etc. So, while not seeking self-gratification, they got higher happiness, in a paradox similar to 'by not bragging, not seeking praise, one gains recognition and is praised' (Tao Te Ching), or simply mathematics: if one's intent is of the wellbeing of 8 billion people, the collective genetic mind of those 8 billion senses that and helps that individual to reach much higher happiness than when his intent was only self-gratification. We could argue that breastfeeding helps women and men to nurture their more tender gentle self that deals with being a good parent, able to bond and gently caress the baby, who enjoys breastfeeding and creates a happy healthy baby. Imagine for 1 minute if a man and woman role play they're mom and baby, this will create a very different energy – because the baby has a gentle tender tone of speech "mommy, may I get some milk?' and her tone, by virtue of role playing would be more eterni too, more tender, gentler, softer, ☺☺☺ as the gentle tender Immortal sweet healing nurturing shimmering universal loving kindness vibe replaces or dominates the lust energy present due to biological arousal; then a healthier relationship develops, where universal loving kindness rules, instead of merely sexual attraction.

The 'not knowing' chapter explains well that we, adults, are like 2 minute old babies compared to Immortals, so there is nothing unrealistic about role playing being a baby, after all, we're all babies and it helps diminish our egos too, egos being a hindrance to harmony at home and at large; plus it helps us laugh and realize we would be living to 1 million years old if we discovered artificial eterni milk of 'infinitely slower aging' the faster science progress healthier babies bring. Eventually, we won't need breastmilk or breasts. Humans may evolve to no longer have breasts over eons, since we may be 'energy' beings materializing normal matter and offspring via energy beams from our beings, when we become teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals who live billions or millions of years or much longer: mind or heart ray precipitation of offspring by 2 or 2 billion parents co-creating it. We won't need breastmilk possibly even when we live to 50,000 years, since eterni food tech will enable milk that is way more Immortality giving than present human milk and we're not dependent on breasts to love offspring, bond or show compassion. So, it helps to keep things in perspective and not become overly romantic about breasts, to transcend the genetic mind programming of 'breast arousal' so that one is less manipulated by spy agencies using female spies or images they beam into people's brains via tech. It helps to focus on what is really more beautiful in women, their tone of intent, emotion, speech, not breast shape, size or etc. Yet, the reality is our tech is not advanced enough to mimic individual milk (composition changes daily, weekly, etc) when mom can't produce enough. We got the prematter baby (unconceived one we talked about above) seeing the compassionate energy ruling and it makes him more willing to materialize and help that woman have a baby some day, even if it may not be with the first guy she breastfeeds or role plays she breastfeeds; as she role plays breastfeeding, the universe brings by law of resonance that experience closer to her reality; she's acting as if she has a baby and that brings that future faster, she creates that future, ☺☺☺she reprograms reality by changing her brain; the collective genetic mind interacting with prematter babies will lead to babies or conception happening sooner for the 'would be moms' who're best prepared for the most loving gentle breastfeeding, a key to humanity's health and survival at our current primitive tech level. Gentler fathers with smaller egos will also be favored by the superorganism of 'all humanity born and prematter into one' because this role playing helps with ego management, after all, we're all babies. It's the natural selection for a healthier kinder humanity, less prone to disappearing. Human milk is very different than cow milk or soy milk based formula. We got blood type A, B, etc so there must be milk types that are optimal too, since milk and tears often closely emulate blood chemical concentrations. Women get sometimes overwhelmed by the extra effort needed to be a good milk producer, eating an extra liter of 'milk nutrient' rich smoothies or healthy shake is requiring will power and realization that 1. kid-mom relationship quality is proportional to breastfeeding duration, quality (no bonding, more superficial bond, plus milk creates a higher quantum entanglement between mom and baby, instead of between cows and baby, and likewise, between mom and her partner) 2. kid health benefits mom, since kid will take care of her better, having higher IQ and vitality. Entangling with cows may lower IQ independently of the vast differences in nutrient composition between human and cow, sheep or goat milk that people used over eons. Likewise, you don't want to entangle just with any woman who wants to breastfeed someone, since you will create a sort of quantum entanglement too. ☺

Full (400 ml, not < 50) induced lactation will make conception almost* impossible (better than birth control pills some claim, maybe true for some at least), so it can be used to achieve 2 ends: 1. better outcomes for 1st pregnancy in x years when the couple tries to conceive, 2. natural birth control for the few months it is done, that prevents toxic birth control pills some women take. Plus, women get to no longer use condom, if they ever have sex, which will result in benefits, since sperm is loaded with nutrients and chemicals that improve women's mood, whereas birth control pills damage brains and bodies. Why do we study breastmilk?☺☺☺ To help kids live to 4000. A side effect is that even if a woman would do it for better bonding with her husband (they can bond via joint meditation too), at 4 ml a day even after 1st pregnancy for 2 months or years, not real 400-900 ml lactation, it may, in some or most cases, extend female lifespan, since in general breastfeeding prevents certain mother diseases via preventing stress, flooding the brain with feel good hormones, as long as it doesn't lead to nutrient depletion via too much reproductive liquid loss (if nipple stimulation leads to too frequent sex). However, to fully know if that's true, we would need read 1000s of papers and maybe do bigger studies. Normally, blood chemicals going to breast tissue to make milk induce system wide changes, via hormones, etc that could enhance female lifespan and slow aging, at certain levels of milk production only; however, since relationships being better enhance lifespan of both dad and mom, even role playing suckling may extend couple lifespan if they don't meditate together. It's also true that the genetic mind superorganism has automatic reflexes of rushing unknown particle mechanism help to moms who breastfeed, since they're perpetuating the species, so it's possible there is 2-

30 month extra lifespan for women who breastfeed 1 ml daily their husband for many years, due to this feedback effect, since the genetic mind doesn't always distinguish between baby or husband feeding and even if it does, it may send help if it perceives the species needs more love to avoid its end. But, there is another side effect too: the entire family could benefit: imagine a future when every woman has 1 g of her important breastmilk and colostrum antibodies, stem cells, specific things stored, for on demand cell or protein multiplication, to create 1 trillion such cells, if her kid gets sick and future tech enables taking those stem cells, chemicals to create pluripotent stem cells that become any needed cells and other chemical cocktails that achieve same effects as stem cells, or antibodies to prevent issues, regenerate organs, etc – granting every human an extra 50 years of life. Same for sperm. Already we turn all kinds of cells, into stem cells, use chemical mixes to achieve same effects as stem cells.

First 6 months is the most challenging period for nutrient intake, ☺☺☺ since milk doesn't provide all nutrients (donor milk, formula or cow milk even less) for optimal development per many papers (especially in some moms who don't take 200 IU vitamin D for example, but the 600 IU RDA, etc) and there is huge debate about how much of the vitamins need be added in the 4-10 ml breast extracted milk or infant formula used to supplement the breastmilk (ideally 99% of milk provided via the breast, not formula). First 6 months RDA for most stuff is met by breastfeeding a minimal volume of milk (only if that volume is given is RDA met), with the exception of some controversial (due to many papers arguing) nutrients. Add to that that they don't have guidelines for people who breastfeed only 30 or 50%, not entirely, just for those who breastfeed exclusively or who take infant formula (minimal breastfeeding). Worth doing more research, instead of talking to one doctor who may not know all the latest discoveries, since 100s of new lactation papers come out monthly and not all doctors know the latest thing. For example, NIH website quotes the CDC: "12% of infants aged 6 to 11 months in the US have inadequate iron intakes (hence even $ stores got brands of iron, vitamin D, A drops for babies under the new Baby Care section), and 8% of toddlers have iron deficiency... Breastfed infants who receive insufficient iron (less than 1 mg/kg/day) from supplementary foods by age 6 months should receive 1 mg/kg/day of iron drops.. The American Academy of Ped recommends 1 mg/kg/day iron supplementation for exclusively or primarily breastfed full-term infants from age 4 months until the infants begin eating iron-containing complementary foods... like iron fortified cereals. The WHO recommends universal supplementation with 2 mg/kg/day of iron in children aged 6 to 23 months whose diet doesn't include foods fortified with iron. Standard infant formulas containing 10 to 12 mg/L iron can meet the iron needs of infants for the first year of life. The Academy recommends 2 mg/kg/day iron supplementation for preterm infants aged 1 to 12 months who're fed breastmilk." ☺☺☺ The RDA for iron is shifty. Propolis increased milk production in sheep, does that hold true for humans? NIH recommends "breastfed (and formula fed) infants receive supplements of 400 IU (10 µg)/day of vitamin D beginning in the first few days after birth and continued until the infant is weaned and (or, if never breastfed) drinks at least 1 liter of vitamin D-fortified formula or whole milk daily." ☺☺☺

15.9.1.4. Months 7-18 (lactation + food) nutrition

First 7-18 months RDA meeting is tricky, since everyone lactates differently, so one has to calculate properly to make sure no deficiency exists, if breastfeeding☺☺☺ occurs and is used to calculate intake. Check all nutrients in Chapter 12, to see if RDA met. 30% of Aussies exclusively breastfeed at 12 months, so it's not that uncommon to breastfeed a lot for a year. The best thing is to breastfeed a lot in the first year, since the brain doubles in size and you don't want to eat foods that overwhelm the immune system. For example, a lot of baby foods or at home mom made foods can have allergens from egg, fish, peanut proteins, equipment used to process peanuts, etc "50 µg (0.05 mg) of peanuts can initiate an allergic (can be fatal) reaction which can occur either immediately after the ingestion", so with a lot of 'chocolate, candy, protein bars" etc moms give to kids, they could destroy the kid brain, even if she makes a smoothie out of something. Not to mention, the walnut section explains how deadly peanuts are. Some kids die from eating eggs, fish, algae, peanuts, etc, so avoid these foods until age 2. If you have small kids, under age 1, when brain doubles in size, avoid the top foods that are known to have killed kids due to anaphylactic shock, since these foods may damage the brain, lower IQ by 20 points, even if the kid doesn't die: you won't know it, as infant or toddler may not know how to communicate discomfort or pain well. Keep mom ultra happy (kiss and pamper her all day, make her laugh etc) during pregnancy and first 1.5 year of life, because anger then will make the kid an angry person for the rest of his life, the BRAIN FORMS… and its basic response reflexes to life. So, dads, to avoid issues with kids, learn to be an angel during pregnancy and first 2 years of life… A 1-3 year old can't explain well in language his sensations, if anything is odd, etc to signal he should avoid a given food and in our savage era, we don't monitor 100 biomarkers daily by taking a pic of wrist blood vessel. New tech, similar to continuous glucose monitoring, may help monitor other parameters and one day, monitor 20000 biomarkers to sense issues 40 years before disease emerges. The algal oil section has some papers on parvalbumin and other allergens in fish, fish oil, algal oil. ω3 is critical during brain development and size doubling before age 1, so getting enough of it is important, so is mixing it properly to avoid lung damage by the kid ingestion of pure oil. Avoid giving peanuts to any kid under 3, since they can be fatal in kids and they contain a very inflammatory 5200:1 ω3:6 ratio that destroys the brain during development. Avoid nut mixes, as those are oxidized usually and deadly with the hyper allergen sunflower seeds and peanuts. Peanuts are very unhealthy, try avoid them for life, stick to walnuts. Also strong allergens can be soy, milk, shellfish and wheat (gluten, see the scary brain data). In Iran, WAOJ 2010;3(1):9-13 found "the most current cause of anaphylaxis (can be fatal) in children was food (89.7%). Milk (49.3%) and wheat (26.1%) were the most common. Other foods were egg (8.7%), nuts (2.8%), and spices (2.8%).” In UK ADC 2002;86(4):236-9 found “past 10 years, eight children died... Milk caused four of the deaths.” Iran said 49% milk, UK says 50% deaths, etc. See 20 reasons why cow milk is deadly. Mommy, keep breastfeeding, avoid the poison cow milk please. Bond with your baby please.☺☺☺

15.9.1.5. Age 1.5-5 (some lactate a little until 2 years old) nutrition

Most stop lactating much after 18 months, but some lactate until 24 or longer, but in those “post month 18 lactation” cases milk nutrients can be thought of as extra supplement drink, for a better immune system. We know first year of life the brain doubles in size, so the nutrition requirements will be different in the second year of life, when only a 15% INCREASE IN BRAIN SIZE OCCURS. The 2nd year is the most important year, after the pregnancy, and 1st year. The brain is most plastic, so any amazing super hard to master when old skill is best taught here.

15.9.1.6. Age 5-18 nutrition

This is the completion of the human adult, so nutrition is far more important than in adult stage, for adding extra years to lifespan and perfect health. The vitamin section also lists required intakes for all age groups past infancy, whenever you want to create your Excel table.

15.9.1.7. Age 18-50 nutrition

This is the simplest, because all the RDA tables in the nutrient and vitamin sections and online sources, cover these values and the body is young and able to deal with temporary shortages of certain nutrients. Nutrition in this stage maintains optimal health and aims to extend lifespan by maybe 20 years maximum, unlike previous stages when one could add 4 millennia.☺☺☺

We all know as people age, their ability to synthesize many nutrients decreases. In the CoQ10 section we saw the chart showing how the body produces 42% CoQ10 at age 80 versus age 20. The same, or far more dramatic decreases, is true for many other chemicals that our body needs. Because of this, when people are older, they need to be more careful about nutritional intake than they were in their 20s, 30s, 40s, and they need to take more than the RDA for many vitamins for maximum longevity, as absorption is poorer. As technology advances and we discover new things, we will worry about the science fiction technologies of the future, enabling us to live to 50, 000 or a million years old, by various interventions, but at this stage, it’s not practical to talk about it too much, when we can't even make it to 150. People might try to eat less and provide nutrients to cells directly in alternate ways, to produce nutrients from air to prevent cellular degradation of specific types when they live 90,000+ years. Nobody knows exactly because the language to describe these techs doesn't exist, just like people from centuries ago didn't have the science vocabulary to even define/understand present techs. ☺☺

The first section, 15.1, dealt with stimulation and play of prematter baby prior to conception. The other sections dealt a little with stimulation during pregnancy and infancy. The paragraphs below add more ideas to play and stimulation during pregnancy and infancy, while chapter 4 has a few pages on more constructive stimulation during ages 4 to 18. Check a simple article on phrases or ideas to use to turn any child negative emotion into happiness. ☺☺☺

Summary of some ideas from the book "How to have a smarter baby" by Susan Golant & some Alex Tanous books too

Both mom and dad are encouraged to hold the naked baby daily at least 5 minutes on their bare skin because skin to skin contact is very beneficial to the baby. They noticed in many studies the babies who get more skin to skin grow smarter and healthier, this is explained more in the massage therapy section. Babies can be stroked daily gently to aid motor development. Use toys, dolls, fabrics, clothes of different textures too to stimulate touch neurons. This may also be due to neuron stimulation or antibodies learning or smell stimulation or comfort from smell or a combo of all these. The baby needs to sleep almost all day in the first few weeks or even months, so don't harass him with visitors or games, etc. His brain grows so fast, he needs the sleep. The other suggestion of the authors is to create a routine, so he knows that crying will grant him milk diaper change, etc. It helps baby feel better if he can affect his environment with predictability. Use the same lullaby as before birth, the same words to put him to bed, like "sweet dreams" or "sweet night" etc, so he knows those words mean sleep. Massage the baby often from the front of head to the back of the neck to help relieve tension (head massage may increase IQ as explained before), from head to toes, to also relax him especially between 4 pm and 6 pm when babies are hypothesized to be more stressed. Allow baby to play 5 min daily naked on the bed. You can move the position of his crib to help him develop spatial skills in theory, they say, but this won't necessarily make him feel secure and may increase anxiety. Just see what you're guided. Depends on the baby perhaps. Babies have a natural reflex for "swimming" and it's lost by 2 months. So, you can help him to "swim" a little sort of in the bathtub, while he's held of course to prevent him from inhaling any water, or going to a special baby swimming class. Babies who swim early at 2 months also walk sooner. "Swimming" allows better motor development even if he's held and not really swimming. When labor starts, press the breast tissue between fingers to get the milky colostrum collected in a cup (placed in freezer). In the last month of pregnancy, the breast produces this liquid. This is then fed to the baby once born. Collect about one fourth of a cup. You can bring the checkerboard type printouts etc at labor site, if not home in an inflated pool (midwife water birth). The mother abdomen can enjoy the gentle tender soft audio file recorded on the phone before, that the baby listened to in the womb for a few weeks before, to calm the baby as he's undergoing the shift from womb to our world. This calms the baby and mom too. Dad can place these headphones on mom abdomen and calm the mom. Fathers are encouraged take their shirt off and be ready to hug the baby after the first hug with mom, once delivered. Moms are advised to listen to calming relaxing music to help the labor go effortlessly; this calms the baby and he will kick less and come out easier. Pain will be less requiring less medication, some doctors use really soothing music instead of anesthesia for low pain stuff. Dim lights are proven to make the labor better. Never lie down on back as this restricts blood flow to uterus. Instead stay on the side or in any of the positions explained in the water birth books, etc. These things will be explained though by the nurse who assists the water birth. ☺☺☺

Mom can hug the baby before his umbilical cord is even cut, if the cord is long enough. The doctor or nurse or midwife are advised to place baby on the chest of mom, so he can hear her heartbeat that he was familiar with. Parents can repeat the prenatal phrase on that audio file or said every day like "i love you, I'm mommy or first name," or "i love you, I'm daddy or first name". The baby will recognize the phrase and tone of voice. After mommy hugs him a few minutes, dad does too. While baby weight and vitals are taken, daddy can caress the baby and play with him verbally, singing him the same lullaby as on the tape or the phrase, "I love you, this is daddy". This calms the baby as he goes thru medical tests of birth. Enjoy the first 2 hrs of life by hugging the baby. Stroke the baby 14 times a minute or so, the rate of the placenta waves due to mom breathing, as this calms the newborn. He may urinate or have a dark stool, which is normal. Feed the baby the colostrum from the breasts right after birth, in that first 2 hrs, since nature made this one special for the just born baby. This is not the colostrum saved above. Use around baby a piece of scarf or cloth mom wore for days so he's more relaxed, being in a familiar smell, instead of the smell of antiseptic, when doctor cuts his cord. Take the colostrum from fridge and put it near baby nose, so he gets familiar with it and more ready to breastfeed on milk soon. Snug nest raised mimics the uterine environment and helps the baby sleep well.☺

In the worst case scenario, of cesarean, the father is advised to immediately hug and caress the baby upon birth and sing him the same sweet song sung during delivery and pregnancy for happy amazing bliss state creation. Maybe kiss the tummy with the same ha ha or gentle or one word that the baby may say on day 4 like that ha ha baby. Relaxing music in the headphones or background (headphones when hospital forbids the music) is used to induce relaxation response so the placenta blood vessels are relaxed and not constricted. After labor, and hugging and kissing and breastfeeding the baby first 2 hours, etc mom sleeping 8 hours is a good idea. While mom sleeps, the daddy loves the baby, sings the lullaby if needed. Enticing the baby to breastfeed is simple, just get some milk out with your fingers and let him smell it, placing it under his nose; don't speak while breastfeeding because the baby can get distracted and watch mom's mouth (where the sound comes from) instead of drinking milk. ☺☺☺

Babies younger than 3 months shut down in the presence of bright light or outdoors light. Their alertness is maximum when the light is soft, low lumen light, because their eyes are not fully developed. So babies under 3 months need low light to stay alert and learn the most in those early days of "sleeping all day" almost when the brain is growing at the fastest rate EVER. The authors suggest to give him 20 min of tummy time to nap or rest on the tummy for motor development, even if he sleeps on the back in the crib. Stimulating both brain hemispheres at the same time can be done with music with lyrics, for example, gentle tender soft music and mommy and daddy or someone singing something very nice in an angelic voice, like Enya or someone with an angelic voice. Music stimulates the right brain, lyrics stimulate the left brain. Seeing a toy stimulates the right, touching it the left maybe. Leg touching one half, naming while touching it, audio the other half. So goes the hypothesis: colorful art images from iasos.com or other artists, fractals, etc on a big monitor might promote a nice understanding of colors. The letters of the alphabet with different colors on different backgrounds can make learning the alphabet more fun. Same for chemical molecules, atoms, electrons, neutrons, protons, etc. Visual brain center stimulation for that visual synesthesia. ☺☺☺

Research seems to indicate that the period between 8 pm and midnight is one in which babies are slightly easier to talk to while in the womb, so since many parents often play with the womb baby by reading something or singing something, this is a better time to do it, as the baby is more likely to listen and be awake. This is usually done last 2-3 months when the baby is really more grown up, but some do it earlier. The interesting thing is this book, like other books, stresses the vital importance of hugging and breastfeeding the baby in the first 2 hours after birth, for that special sense of being safe and loved in this new world of air (instead of the watery world of the womb) by bonding with mom and dad. Many uninformed doctors take the baby away, instead of allowing moms to bond to it, and this has very bad consequences on the baby health, IQ, emotional behavior thru life, etc. That's why many choose water birth where this bonding is allowed or they choose a midwife nurse where this is allowed, water birth actually makes is far less painful for mom and baby, the less pain the better. ☺☺☺ The baby needs all the love he can get, so what happens, the book says, the baby can even recognize the voice of dad (easier than mom) in the first 2 hours of life, when babies are more alert and awake than ever in the first 2 months of life. So, these 2 hours are a great chance to play with mom and dad and get some breastfeeding. Another suggestion of the authors is to make an audio tape with mom and dad each saying "I love you, this is mom, etc" in their most angelic soft tender sweet voice or something like that "can't wait to see you, you will bring Immortality or 4000 year lifespans to all". The mp3 created in the most rested state with highest voice quality replayed via stereo headphones on the tummy can help the baby to recognize mom and dad voice in the first 2 minutes of birth easier and to connect and love mom and dad more. Having a little head start so to speak in understanding their voice and tone, while parents evolve to use a gentle angelic tone of speech all the time, with the baby who brings the Civilization of Immortals ☺☺☺. Can we expect babies to bring a better world? Why not? They're angels who can help us become angelic. The audio file can say the baby name or not, doesn't matter much; can use initials like Ascending Immortal, AI, or Gentle Tenderness, GT. Divine Grace, Smart Bliss, SB. Besides mp3s, parents can just let the 'spirit' guide them to use tones, words each day, "I love you baby, you're gentle tender wise soft smart and happy, the cutest baby", "You are a funny happy smart baby" Daddy can come close to the womb and tell the baby he's loved, safe and everyone awaits his arrival in the world of air. From water world into Air world. ☺☺☺

Babies are capable of learning simple things in the womb. For example, if parents use the words "stroke" "rub" "pat" "squeeze" while they gently do these actions on the womb skin, later on, the baby learns to associate the two. So, if the word is used, he has the same reaction as when the action of the word happened, say patting the womb, such as relaxing (good during labor). Of course, this is not really needed, it's just something to show that they do learn basic things even while in the womb. In many books, it's described how in many experiments babies are even capable of learning one or two words: for example if parents use the word Immortality or longevity or gentle or tender or happy or HA PPY HA PPY a lot, the baby might say it in the third day of life. One baby said HA HA on day 4 because parents did repeat ha ha a lot for fun. In the first 3 months of life, babies are more sensitive to the right side, so any play with the baby is reportedly better from the right side at this age first, and then do it on left side (a minute play with a toy from right side, then next minute on left side). Or touch him on right first, then on left. Smile at the baby as much as possible to create positive emotions in him. ☺☺☺ He smiles back. Babies see clearly objects placed 10-13" from their face early on, at 2 months can see at 20" and at 3 months can see at 10 ft. Some parents reported that some babies have increased their attention span from 10 seconds to 90 seconds by looking at unique striking colorful pictures or checkerboards or designs, so try different things and see which one causes the most interest from the baby. A nurse found these black white checkerboards increased the time of looking at things from 5 to 50 minutes after breastfeeding for small infants without much color vision. Color preferences change with each month later on, after 9 months especially. 2-month-old babies like 3d objects cylinders, pyramids, and circles for 2d. (eyes and nipples have circles and contrast hence baby makes eye contact etc). Babies like the faces of mom and dad, so one can make a printout in black and white of each face and place in the crib in the first 5 months of life, then move to color as babies start to love color at 6-9 months. Babies prefer happy faces, and stare longer at them. Choose happy pictures and facial expressions when talking to the baby. Babies like stripes, so show him fractals with lines, colorful stuff to see how he reacts. ☺☺☺

Babies who're not yet 9 months old don't have the color vision cells very developed, and as such, until that age, they often find black and white contrast shapes like checkerboards more interesting. Small babies under 9 months like contrasts so if you have stripes, they look at the border between the colors. For example, a yellow circle in a purple rectangle will cause the baby to look mostly at the border of the circle where yellow meets purple or other high contrast colors, such as a bright color, say turquoise and dark purple or black and white, etc. One can try different colors on a tablet or computer and see what he likes, even a nice chemical formula with benzene rings can provide nice color contrast if written nicely. Eye tracking showed babies like contrasts and look at the border between 2 colors to enjoy the contrast, not at the color of one type as much. Checkerboards are described on page 78, different designs for different babies, see what works best. For tiny babies (under 9 months) black and white seem most interesting in checkerboards, and this may help them to get some interest in seeing a chemical formula or alphabet letter on a white background, as it's the contrast, and this can speed the rate of alphabet learning by providing thick letters on a white or black background with the font being white or black, but other colors can be tried, and measure which one causes the longest attention span and use that to teach alphabet or other things. Colors have a huge impact due to the way the visual system develops. Baby color preferences for designs and toys change after color vision develops more in months 6-9, so adjust toys and background on PC, printouts.☺☺☺

Little babies (and fetuses) love high pitch voices. Dad and mom can play with different soft tender high pitch voice to get the baby to speak. The more the parents engage the baby with high pitch soft tender harmonious songs and questions, the more the baby will start talking. One study found that the more parents talk to their baby, the smarter the baby becomes. Even if the baby has no apparent understanding of what parents say, just talking to the baby, asking questions, helps him to verbalize and start talking sooner and develop the brain faster in the critical 1 year of life when the brain doubles in size. First 3 months of life, start whispering in his right ear, since first 3 months he pays attention to right ear much more. One can also use a high pitch loving gentle tender tone, etc. In the first few weeks of life, the authors suggest using the same words when you begin talking to the baby, to create a sense of predictability, security, and trust in his world, anticipating your talk to him. Answer any vocalizations of the baby so he speaks more, no matter how simple the sounds. They noticed reading anything or saying anything to the baby will promote more vocalizations, especially if read or said in funny ways that might relate to the baby's emotional makeup. After teaching him how to speak by talking to him a lot, you can also play some gentle soothing music for a while to train his audio cortex.

Babies have the most positive response to gentle tender soft classical or new age music. Rock and most junk upbeat music make babies upset and they start crying. Brahms' Lullaby and Bach's Prelude are even used to regularize the heartbeats of babies in hospitals. The heartbeat of mom sound is very familiar to babies, so when babies are held by moms, they're often held instinctively on the left side so baby is soothed by the heartbeat sound. ☺☺☺

To stimulate motor neurons you need to hold the baby, allow his free arms to grab a toy that is 10 -13 inches from his eyes (best vision before 3 months). 10 day old babies can do this. Pregnant moms can rock very slowly 20 times a minute in a rocking chair to help the baby, after 5 months of pregnancy. It's relaxing for both and helps the baby. Always avoid shaking the baby by accident in any form. Babies can sleep 20 to 22 hours a day in the first month of life, but only 16 hours by month 6. The infant stimulation and playing happen only when the baby has awoken naturally and stops immediately if the baby is sleepy and falls asleep, indicating his need to sleep and build his brain. You can record the mother heartbeat and play it to the baby to help him fall asleep easily since in the womb it was noisier than in a quiet dark room. Or a lullaby tape, etc. After 6 months babies tend to like a quiet sleeping environment. When a baby cries, immediately place your face within his 10-13 inches that he can see at younger ages well and find ways to console and love and calm him. Babies like the smell of bananas, even when they're 12 hours old. It makes them smile and it might be used to calm them if they ever cry. Babies have a super advanced brain with 200 billion neurons and their sense of smell is so perfect, they can sense when mom and dad have sex and this causes a tiny invisible drop of milk to come out of the breast due to the hormones. From a room away, the baby can start crying that he wants milk at the peak of sex and the parents have to stop it and breastfeed the baby. Theoretically, it might be a form of electromagnetic remote sensing, if there is a wall between parents and baby and no air can circulate between the parents room and the baby. True telepathy of milk or entrainment with the mother's brain state which when moving in a milk emitting state full of oxytocin and prolactin, sends the baby the cue that hey, there is milk like in Pavlov conditioning. It could be more than the molecular smell. Who knows? Stimulate the baby with beautiful smells: vanilla, etc perfume, roses, flowers, etc ☺☺☺

Alcohol is poison during pregnancy, women who drank even 28 g or 1 ounce of alcohol a WEEK, so virtually NOTHING, got the smallest birth weight babies, in the lowest 6% of all babies. The least healthy babies are born early or low weight. This just shows how important is proper nutrition. Lack of DHA was noticed to have catastrophic consequences at times, on the eye and brain development. So moms without awareness, may eat fish, and cooked fish has a lot of mercury and sometimes no DHA, so the babies instead of becoming smarter become less smart as mercury in mom's blood is lowering IQ of babies a LOT. That's why using vegan DHA EPA is much smarter, since fish can have tons of mercury and also no DHA, due to cooking destroying

DHA-EPA. This is one example, there are many other essential nutrients for preventing birth defects, such as iron, folic acid or vitamin B_9 and other vitamins and nutrients. It's thus no surprise how you can have 2 smart parents and a low IQ kid is born, because if there is no nutrition during pregnancy and even 3-6 months before conception, and the first 2 years of breastfeeding, there is less chance to copy the genes correctly and to create the correct brain architecture, etc. So being smart at some discipline, but not nutrition in the 3 years of preconception, womb and 2 years after birth is counterproductive since nutrition has a huge impact on IQ. While being pregnant, women don't need to eat more than 300 calories a day extra. But naturally, it's a good idea to get enough ω3, more ω3 than 6 and that they don't ingest heavy metals and get good protein. ☺☺☺ When parents are playing with their womb baby, they're stimulating his brain, etc, and around 5 months the baby reaches 200 billion neurons, the maximum it will ever have. Over time, by age 10, this drops to 100 billion and synapses from 1,000 to 500 trillion. The brain doubles in volume first year of life due to myelination and neuron growth, even if neuron number is the same. These neurons can be stimulated so as to retain more useful synapses and neurons, perhaps if some get more stimulation, they retain more neurons? No clue. But last 2 months of womb time are the most effective at inducing an effect if stimulated a few minutes daily, as the brain is quite mature.

The book with telepathy and ESP exercises "Is your child psychic?" for raising a more psychic child was co-authored by psychic Alex Tanous whose OBEs are described in this 3 min clip. The book telepathy exercises, some of them, are similar to the ones in Chapter 16.2. At page 76 the authors explain how the parents' thoughts might influence the success of the child in developing a good telepathic ability, empathic ability to turn enemy into friend and bring World Peace, clairvoyance, remote viewing, astral travel, etc. They give the example of writing poems while pregnant and then wishing the baby would write well, and this coming true. Perhaps, if parents practice telepathy exercises a lot while the kid is small or in the womb even and tell the child telepathically he will be really good at this, etc, it will boost his ESP. It's hard to prove of course, if the writing talent of the baby came from activities after birth entirely and how much the parents' thoughts influence the future while in the womb. But some of the above books have stories about parents believing their baby understands their telepathy sometimes, even if it's rare of course in most cases, as few people try it. The baby may understand "i love you, I'm here for you" even without knowing language. ☺☺☺

The amazing effect of colors and wavelengths on human behavior, productivity, longevity

Plants for example grow healthier and longer lived, faster in certain wavelengths of light or sound frequencies, and many human chemical reactions are influenced by light to some extent, so it's possible in 500 years we will discover the precise ideal combo of lightbulb wavelength and interior colors that bring longest lifespan (combo may be genome specific for maximum results, but a universal general truth may hold for all humans). Sunlight leads to CoQ10 synthesis for example, so we see, even if we're not plants, we're influenced by light, like with seasonal affective disorder, etc, vitamin D status, etc. Tanous explains in chapter 2 of his book the hypothesis that kids also improve their wellbeing, academic performance, and ESP if they wear the colors they like. He says purple enhances healing and wellbeing and that "If his least favorite colors are forced on a child*, they can upset his* balance and harm his ability to achieve". It's possible that eons ago one ancestor was in a difficult moment or period of his life and found a flower of a certain color (purple, yellow, etc) that had such a calming euphoria inducing smell, that he came back to smell it to become happy and calm over and over, cultivated it and then became a fan of that color, so much so a genetic mutation happened to help him find that flower from a distance, so a genetic preference for the color emerged;☺☺☺ in ancient times, it was impossible to create a cheap blue or purple, magenta, etc color – so the rarity of some of the most amazing smelling flowers and their colors made the genetic selection even easier, due to the stark contrast to any other color around (all being green or red-brown construction materials or grey stone). When calamities happened, the sky turned grey, as tornadoes wiped out entire towns, so people may have favored purple, yellow (bright sun, no disaster) or magenta over grey or sky blue over grey, etc subconsciously, without even realizing that the biology of our species and color of atmosphere sky blue gave blue a link to peace in our genetic collective mind; since our faces get red when we're mad, eyes red when we're mad or sick, blood spills red when war, violence and calamities occur, it's natural that blue was seen as more peaceful than the anger-death associated red, so you can see how color preferences emerge due to specifics of biology (aliens may have blue or lavender or yellow 'blood', if they even have such a thing) and our planet. It's a very simple explanation why some may like a certain color, some definitive moment had such an impact, on one person, that may have caused a genetic preference for that color, since the flower of that color had healing properties or a nutrient everyone in that region was deficient in, or induces a brain state everyone was deficient in that was essential to survival and brain healing, and enabled survival of the human finding it faster, by seeing it better, as we see 550 nm fluorescent yellow from 3 times the distance we see red, probably because seeing the sun, light, is key to survival sometimes, sun is yellow, since we need vitamin D to survive. Or someone picked a fruit or crop and the fruit was purple or red or orange or gold and it was advantageous to distinguish that color from the background green color of leaves to pick that fruit, cereal, corn, berry, spot it from a distance, etc.

The link between IQ and colors, longevity and clothing designs is detailed in 12 pages here. Some of my top 50 favorite colors all have RGB (red, green, blue): (160-255,0,255), being magenta-purples. They all have blue 255 for sure, since a little green makes some amazing lilacs and lavenders. I like yellow, 100% blue (0,0,255), very bluish purple (128,0,255), gold, cyan turquoise, and above all, really purple shades like 100% magenta (255,0, 255), mauve, mauve (224, 176, 255), heliotrope, heliotrope (223, 115, 255), blue heliotrope (170,70,255), electric purple, electric purple (191,0,255), magentish (200,0,255) & bluish purples (160,0,255) and those in between (180,0,255), light purple (220,50,255), light lilac (220,170,255), bright lilac (216, 145, 255), psychedelic purple, psychedelic purple or phlox (223, 0, 255). I also like to a lesser degree redder purples orchid lavender (218, 100, 255), pink-lavender (255, 78, 255), and least, the very red purple Munsell, Munsell (159,0,197) or other redder purples. Since most flowers are yellow, white and lavender, light purple, blue shades, these colors are attracting the bees because bees look for contrast from green, the color of leaves, tanks, weapons, wars and signs of human species extinction, bee extinction too. Due to the quantum entanglement of unknown particles ("associative memory of unknown matter light particles, bosons, leptons, etc") that transfer information via photon interaction between species, and the fact fertility of plants (which feed animals and humans) is linked by quanta to those colors, that those that kill are dressed in green often, that death energy is linked to green, it's possible that animal and even human experiments of surrounding oneself with those colors (mice raised on green rooms or grey ones may be less fertile than those raised in those with lavender, white, yellow, blue mixtures of colors) will show an increase in fertility, as opposed to greens or grays that are not present much at all in flower colors. Bees look for the reproductive material of plants, life for the human biological entity is linked to this rich contrast of yellow-purple, white-purple, green-white, etc.☺☺☺ So when we decorate our house, we influence the longevity and fertility of self and future generations; just as some wavelengths and colors may improve longevity and wellbeing, for best healing effects and highest societal harmony, until the age of holographic shapeshifting clothing, cops and many people that wear uniforms that are now monochromatic, may choose a combo of 2-3 colors; say instead of indigo, wear indigo pants and light blue shirt, like many cops already do, or magenta pants and yellow shirt, or yellow shirt with blue sleeves and turquoise collar; soldiers, wearing orange (UK) almost always and a lot of gold near the Queen, could wear extra colors, some orange, some lavender, some various magenta purples, mixed with other nice colors, even though lavender may be the main color. This allows us to move from historical inertia of red-orange, grey, white, indigo, black, green uniforms towards the expanded array that includes yellows, sky blue, lavender, magenta, purple, turquoise, healing colors and also combos of 2-3 colors besides the gold trims some uniforms have. All Internet and books fonts, suits, etc are usually one color, black, so when we have different colors it helps us to move away from historical inertia, to be more fluid; if we read a book in the typical font, nobody would associate it in their brain with something different, but if it's so colorful, it signals the brain that this is something different, that indeed, a new world of peace within 3 months is possible, etc; we hear all day talk of diversity, how we need to be inclusive, yet every book font is black; is that fair? we got about 1000 dark colors that could be used as font, yet everything is black. ☺☺

Far more important than 'fair treatment for colors' is this: the ocular health of offspring depends on parental stimulation of the color perception eye cells and with black we stimulate nothing, with tons of colors we give our offspring a better sight; not only that, since purple and magenta, etc don't create super high contrast like black does, it develops a better ability of offspring to distinguish fonts when contrast or lightning is not good, to discern of patterns from a distance in day or night; whatever parents go thru, the offspring will be informed epigenetically. We have already seen many nurses wear light magenta or magenta lavender, etc – imagine even more amazing futures where these colors are moving in the other jobs; we're missing out on discoveries of science, when we exclude certain colors from our interior design, clothing, etc all the time, or most colors: say for example, most suits today are indigo, grey or black, imagine being all colors above and combos. So, to choose a color, you can go to the Windows settings, personalization, colors, choose custom color, find the shade of your favorite color, and apply color to taskbars, windows titles, bars, start menu, etc (check both options, found by scrolling down), turn on high contrast and then use purple and gold or whatever you like, to get rid of all grey and make it all lavender or the color that makes you happiest, and you will get to love working at the PC more, feel better for free. In Google Chrome or your browser, go to settings, then Themes, find Vivacious Purple or your favorite color theme, apply it and enjoy tabs of your soothing color, same for Word processing apps, they got options to change some grey areas into lavender or your favorite color. One advantage of purple vs light grey standard color is that you see the mail notification on yahoo and other icons easier due to high contrast; they even got high contrast options for Google Voice to make your eyes less tired, etc. Even tab groups in Chrome can be set to pink, yellow, purple, so you can open 80 tabs at once, when researching. The same is true for music. Play soothing soft music on your phone or PC, make yourself happy. "The Paranormal Perception of Colors" by Y. Duplessis has more info. Google "effect of color on human cognition nih" and you will see many free papers about effect of colors on cognition, IQ test, task performance, mood, memory. FP 2016;7:784 says "red enhanced the performance on a simple detail-oriented task... blue improved the performance on a difficult detail-oriented task as well as on both simple and difficult creative tasks." and that Walters hypothesized the most relaxed color is purple (shortest wavelength, highest energy), followed by indigo and blue, while the most arousing (excitement inducing) one is red (longer wavelength). Could this be why purple is hypothesized to enhance ESP & healing (healing requires relaxation, ESP requires tranquility), since it diminishes arousal, excitability, aggression, enhances neocortex thinking, seen for example in auction bidding higher in red background vs blue? ☺☺☺

IJP 2015; 50(1):81-4 is one of several papers finding viewing red before a cognitive or intellectual task lowers performance. Kids 8-9 seem to have lower cognitive performance after exposure to red ► BJEP 2016;86(2):241-55. ☺ Studies have found some scientific basis for why we find the green color relaxing. Brain 2016;139(7):1971-86 abstract states "green light exacerbates migraine headache significantly less than white, blue, amber or red lights… we used electroretinography and visual evoked potential recording in patients, and multi-unit recording of dura- and light-sensitive thalamic neurons in rats to show that green activates cone-driven retinal pathways to a lesser extent than white, blue and red; that thalamic neurons are most responsive to blue and least responsive to green; and that cortical responses to green are significantly smaller than those generated by blue, amber and red lights... patients' experience with color and migraine photophobia could originate in cone-driven retinal pathways, fine-tuned in relay thalamic neurons ☺☺ outside the main visual pathway, and preserved by the cortex. Additionally, the findings provide substrate for the soothing effects of green light." It's well known we become more relaxed when we go walk in a green area, some say it may be the sounds of nature that soothe the brain, or the tree bioenergies, tree electromagnetic fields, or the color green. Either way, our subconscious minds may associate yellow-green and purple-pink (auric pairs☺☺) with relaxation and healing. Red gives turquoise aura and vice versa, blue gives orange aura and vice versa, violet gives yellow (gold) aura and vice versa, pink gives green aura, yellow-green color gives a pink-violet aura and vice versa. We like colors and their auric pair: shining glittery purple and gold for example. Birds often have the auric pairs combos, we notice it. "violet light (VL, 360–400 nm wavelength) suppresses myopia (failure to see well from distance, an ever more common condition as we stare at screens all day) progression" ► EBM 2017;15:210-19. Authors propose LEDs, screens emitting violet light. No LEDs/tech gadgets today emit violet light, just the retina, sleep destroying blue light. Purple light damages retina, skin.

Additionally, if we're part of an organized cult, we're always exposed to the same ideas, maybe even the same colors. In our world, it seems as if people have an odd idea that male suits have to be indigo, black or gray, but never green, lavender, purple, yellow; just as it happens with women who always wear very similar grey, white, black colors. This makes our perception more narrow minded. Jeans are usually indigo or gray, black, blue, never almost a real blue or nice yellow, green, purple, lavender. To think differently, to create new neural connections, inventions, perceptions, we would have to be more fluid, to see more colors, just like in scientific discovery we explore many papers and theories about something, just as with clothes that change colors and designs 500 times a day. Our brains think visually a lot and color is very intertwined to perception and cognition. Since every male wears blue jeans and a white shirt usually (the brain has a typical image of a man who wears those colors, but seeing a combo first time ever creates a different brain perception), when we wear bright yellow or yellow green jeans and fuchsia shirt or vice versa, we evoke a different response in others and even self, especially since our brains associate green with the healing presence of nature, and its complimentary color purple. If we smile people will recall our smile more, we practice Smiling Telepathy habit more, and spirit guides can use our image to heal other people when they're down. It increases the fluid intelligence of people when their brain sees someone with a different unexpected color, like white, fuchsia, yellow, aquamarine jeans on a man or women, especially if shirt is also an atypical color we don't see, like orange, fuchsia, yellow-green. Different colors mean a different electronic photonic processes signature that others feel subconsciously (all chemical reactions are electronic and photonic events sort of). It makes it easier to see how a world of 900 year Immortals is possible, how we can achieve World Peace and 900 year lifespans without any war, violence, threats, intimidation, lies, etc. It speeds up scientific innovation too, because the brain will fire differently. Other exercises in the book are for astral travel and will help kids to easier develop remote viewing telepathy or full-blown OBE. Learning something at 4 is 100 times easier than at 50. The brain is much more plastic and rich in neurons and synapses. The book suggests playing telepathy games since age 2, until 18, for best child ESP development (doing telepathy exercises daily until age 150 will hone ESP more). The book also mentions the 1930 "Mental Radio" book by Upton Sinclair about telepathy experiments he did with his wife (he chose a picture and his wife had to draw what it was by visual telepathy). Wikipedia explains that "The German edition included a preface written by Albert Einstein who admired the book and praised Sinclair's writing abilities". ☺☺☺

Kids have weak immune systems and carpets are the most concentrated sources of truly deadly collections of microbes from the air coming via the window and dirt from our socks, feet, etc. Amazon has 3x5, 5x8, 6x9, 4x5.3, 4x5.9 (search "purple soft (or fluffy) rugs" in Amazon to get 100 companies selling them) lavender (world's least used color?) rugs that are absent in most physical stores, they can help develop fluid intelligence since we never seen lavender almost anywhere. You can also buy white, as they get dirty in 2 months and reminds you to wash often, instead of yearly. They're all made by Luchas, sold under dozens of names; can be used on floor or even carpet. Oxiclean, 7 lb powder/12$, one of the cleanest safest carpet cleaners with mostly sodium percarbonate, carbonate, NaCl, C12-15 ethoxylated alcohols, cleans regular carpet and this rug well. Oxiclean.com can clean regular carpet way better with a Walmart $300 Hoover MaxExtract 77 steam carpet cleaner for regular carpet than 'professional' companies that charge $150 one visit and do a room in 10 minutes. Hoover is better than their machine (that doesn't scrub and spin at all, not getting detergent deep into carpet and takes water out right away with detergent, having contact time 10-40 times smaller) and cleaning detergent for spots they fail to remove even when you pretreat it yourself with oxiclean solution, no need to pretreat, dissolve in water and load under water container, go slow on spots while pressing on water release, then go again same direction ultra slow to suck all water, then rinse/wash with clean water in the water container instead of oxiclean solution) to make older rough carpet feel 3x softer like 5 star hotel. These lavender (whatever color that is different than common carpet colors to enhance fluid intelligence) soft rugs leave no white plastic dust residue as most from home depot same price, prevent dust. Since they trap dirt well, they need to be washed in the regular cycle. You can place detergent on the food spots and they disappear. We'll create the "carpet like" sound insulation and foot comfort with washable rugs we place on quality wood flooring (that use safe chemical coatings) or safe 0 VOC Greenguard Gold by UL certified LVP luxury vinyl plank floors that emit far fewer volatiles than wood. Rugs can be washed every 2 months, while carpets and foam under can't be washed fully ever. Carpets are more like 1840s cholera spreading defecation pits that caused endless infectious disease outbreaks. Always replace carpet with LVP or wood for these reasons,d, using the tips in the migrant carpet replacing section. We need the Immortality Building Inc company to create the most high tech rug that is easy to wash 50 times, that lasts 10 years, and allows everyone to achieve the same comfort as carpet, but enables perfect washing, or we need super soft slippers if using LVP, wood. This is essential to prevent the reinfection of residents with dormant cold, flu, CovID19, etc viruses, toenail fungus or eye staph bacteria causing pink eye that go wild in cold weather. These lavender rugs have foam as a shock absorber; they're so soft, reminding us to breathe softly, to never rush (rugs rush), to filter our walking tone, thought+emotion+vocal tone. You can trim the hairs to make them far easier to wash in the delicate cycle, so they don't trap crap. See ideas in Immortality Building Inc for the future rugs and mats.

15.10. FREE Astral Travel Books for World Peace & Immortality for All

Eternia is Astralia, the Land of Astral Travel, of Eternal Travel Inc. Fake astral travel, ESP, psychic, spiritual experiences (mostly made up) books, or ESP ones serve the same purpose as the carrot myth in WW2 (Brits shot German planes using night vision due to "eating many carrots that help you see at night", not due to a new radar), to deceive that the way they get info is thru bilocation or ESP. Thus, it helps to realize that all in this chapter is more about science fiction future tech, centuries in the future. ESP, bilocation claims were also used by churches to get very rich and claim infinite powers, so all give their wealth to them to earn ESP or nice afterlife realm near the made up throne of God. When theists/atheists believe in "soul travel", they may believe in the classical meaning and/or the fact that human Immortals of the future, who live to 500+, can, definitely one day discover a way to telepathically guide an artificial or natural spiritual body to visit other galaxies or planets, or technological astral travel using superluminal particle bodies that travel 900 or 10^{70} times faster than physical light, or they create an AI soul living trillions, even if soul carrier may live only 1 million or much less (like Kurzweil idea of uploading your mind or soul to a new carrier). They also may believe in the other soul concept explained in the 1st paragraph of the afterlife section. Regardless, astral travel helps us achieve World Peace in a few months (war must end for all to live to 500+) as we can prevent tension building years ahead by perceiving threats to peace. Soul travel helps us attain real 1 million year lifespan immortality, rescue trapped people, find where the living people are 500 times faster, find new inhabitable planets, discover new laws of physics and energy sources (way safer than fusion or fission) to be able to make all objects we need in our living room molecular builder, such as eterni foods. The web has many astral travel books, courses that explain how to relax and soul travel, though it's all role playing, lies, as are all soul travel 'institutes', just a way for founders to get rich, or nourish their spy network using a 'spiritual event cover' (like 100s of denominations, 'alien contactees' asking 3000$/trip, new age groups do too), by teaching basic energy exteriorization, relaxation or test brain writing gadgets under the guide of telepathy exercises. However, there is an infinitely small chance that the particles that spread from Big Bang and became our bodies are in quantum entanglement with the entire universe and there could be a mechanism to use information transfer to gather data from galaxies away. However, the chance that a guy will discover this alone, without tech and physics seems infinitely small or perhaps, 0 as it were, unless aided by an alien, 'God' or interdimensional intelligence. Such a human would keep it secret, knowing earthlings ethics. Regardless, the astral exercises stimulate various brain areas related to space perception, relaxation, intent, bliss, leading to a happier world (no longer identified with the body, but with the infinite field of universal loving kindness, so our physical 'imperfections' matter less), new inventions thru imagination, knowing that we're all able to enter into resonance with the 10^{90} year old humans of the future (or aliens/humans of the present who made us evolve from primates into their own past image, though they're more likely to be now levitating telepathic teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting immortals ☺☺☺ beings without form, able to materialize a body where needed), via small unknown particles that exchange info 800^{900} times faster than light photons do.

Some people think that the soul is made of an astral body, mental body or whatever they see. But the soul, if existing, its travels to different worlds can be "infinitely" more complex than any soul travel book describes, if the soul has octillions 10^{27} astral bodies. Due to infinite complexity, when one travels "out of body" as they can believe they do, it may be a travel to a virtual world or only some virtual worlds, not necessarily all of the kindest worlds of God's infinite loving kind forgiving compassionate peaceful universes of the heavens. And since deception can happen in this physical plane, so can deception happen in virtual worlds create by advanced military tech. Because of this, we could argue that the most important thing in life or spirituality is not astral travel, telepathy coincidences or paranormal coincidences or fake miracles, which all kinds of spirits, militaries can fake and stage, but the energy of loving kindness, compassion, forgiveness, understanding, peace, gentleness, tenderness, softness, altruism☺☺☺, love for all beings that comes from spirits, astral events. Perhaps sometimes God helps us to soul travel spontaneously, or some less aware spirits do that, but it seems a mistake to prioritize soul travel or spiritual powers at the expense of universal loving kindness, ☺☺☺ compassion for all people, etc. One can easily get lost in number coincidences, miracles or even astral travels and forget the most important thing there is: universal loving kindness for all. This doesn't mean astral travels, when or if they happen are all fake or that everything that's odd is all fake and from some bad source. Thus it would be possible, if God really wanted, that parents have astral telepathy with kids in their astral travels and encounters with their future kids. A lot of people write books by getting experiences from others, or make stuff up to write a book and get rich, so one may be reading a lot of made up stuff that is truly not what happened. And even when it's real, it's clear that there are trillions of interpretations to any experience and things are always infinitely more complex than they seem, especially if the soul is made of a trillion octillion astral bodies, as the body as trillions of cells, not just one astral body, each visiting worlds of a certain vibration.

Since our world lacks universal loving kindness, peace, tranquility,☺☺ it seems more important to focus on developing these, as in the lives of saints, who experienced divine ecstasy states, etc. However, some of the astral projection methods, which involve relaxation, etc, can be useful in becoming peaceful, etc and kinder. But there also exists the risk of becoming over focused on it and then to be manipulated by spirits who like entertainment or something and who may move us away from universal loving kindness, compassion, tranquility. This doesn't mean that relaxing is bad or anything like that, we all need to become more tranquil for World Peace to happen. It's just that if some people do certain astral exercises or relaxations, or have divine ecstasy states like some saints during prayer or contemplation, it doesn't seem smart at all to ever assume that whatever transpires (or appears to transpire to limited human brain) is the ultimate truth or is true (since what we believe transpired is only 1 out of a trillion possible interpretations), or that they visited the most important virtual universes, subuniverses or hyper-universe, etc… Because one can even see real life 3d location and confirm it later, but it's not really a sign it was done by the best spirits/aliens, because anyone can create a holographic copy of reality or of another world and remove from it some important elements (mix truth with lies), such as the actual energy quality, the loving kindness, the sweet precious loving compassion of God for the purposes of manipulating living people into doing bad things. Some free astral travel disinfo books (google title if outdated link, there is always a site having it) are below, but read this 1st:

1. "Astral Dynamics" by *Ro*bert Bruce, 778 pages (2007), 2. "Astral Projection Guidebook" by Erin Pavlina, 1st chapter pdf on her website. 3. "Astral Projection Notes" Donald DeGracia (1994) intro says this 277 page pdf can be shared with all. 4. "Out of Body Experiences" by R. Peterson on his website. You may like astralinfo.org/techniques OBE methods. The next 12 books (not sure if any publisher decided to share it) may be found by googling "book title, author, pdf". I found one time the whole version of every book on issuu.com: 5. "Adventures beyond the body" William Buhlman 6. "The secret of the soul" William Buhlman 7. "Journeys out of Body" (1971)

Robert Monroe. 8. "Far Journeys" (1985) Robert Monroe☺☺☺ 9. "Ultimate Journey" (1994) Robert Monroe [p51-53 mentions encounter with 1800-year-old] 10. "Mastering Astral Projection. 90 Day Guide to the OBE" Robert Bruce (2005) 11. "Astral Projection Guidebook" by Erin P. (2013, her experiences, etc, 115 page). 12. "Astral travel for beginners" by Richard Webster (226 pages, 2001) A great book with a lot of information and verified cases of astral travel, with a lot of information about other books and experiments done last 140 years, excellent as a reference for giving to skeptics. 13. "The Projection of the Astral Body" by Sylvan Muldoon (1929, 248 pages). Sylvan died in 1971, at 68. The book was co-written by psychic researcher Carrington, but it was Muldoon who had the astral travels. It's an earlier classic starting the astral research in the West. 14. "Astral Projection: A record of out of body experiences (OBEs)" Oliver Fox, who died in 1949 at the age of 64. This was published in 1962 and it has some of his experiences. 160 pages. 15. "Practice of Astral Projection" & many others by Robert Crookall 1960. Has 160 experiences from many people. He died in 1981 at 91. 16. "Astral Projection" by Yram (1967, 253 pages) with his experiences. Yram's real name was Dr. Marcel Louis Forhan, born in 1884 in France, died in 1917 in China.☺☺☺ More on obe is at obe..pdf. A collection of 1000+ obes, 7000+ ndes are at oberf.org & nderf.org. A free anthology on OBE by many authors (edited by one) with different (some I don't agree with) views on OBE is here. A short text (mostly pics) free booklet about astral projection by iacworld.org is here.

A text about being in 2 places at once, sort of astral travel, is the Yoga Sutras of Patanjali. The 8 components of this Yoga or "union" with the infinite unknown or "divine", the first of which contains 5 basic guidelines, including chastity. As explained in the meditation is a million times more ecstatic than orgasm section, during copulation, men/women deplete body/organs of nutrients, so overdoing it leads to diminishing the brain's capacity to create new neurons, to repair the brain and body, to perceive the octillion (10^{27}) lightbodies of the soul. We have 10 trillion cells and in each cell a billion things take place each second we don't know about. Likewise, if souls exists, we have 10^{27} lightbodies in each of whom a billion things happen each second, without our brains having a clue, unless, like with a cell, we look at it with a microscope or maybe the soul shows the brain. But if our brain is starved of nutrients due to too much sex draining it, then it's less able to achieve deeper states of meditation, ecstatic bliss or awareness the "unknowns" of the soul, which is unaffected by what happens to the body. ☺☺☺ A hypothesis is "when we emphasize sex (not kindness), or use bad tone, play bad (depends how bad they're too, even watching out of free will, not being forced to, can have effects) sports, are mean, etc we lower our astral vibe, increase astral body weight and/or diminish astral transport speed by 2 to 4 trillion times"; this doesn't mean vibe is lower if FBI 'terrorists' cause emission of semen during the night (against our will of course, using their remote gadgets), as they often do when they try to harass those who want World Peace in 3 months that FBI, military forbid (that is the so called "FREEDOM OF SPEECH") any church, singer, politician, Nobelist or group to talk about, following the "holy" example of the other major powers that create the eternal war status quo. This hypothesis is perceived by many as folklore superstition. However, if you think deeply about the sentences here, it may not be all folklore; many things in folklore, using herb to cure things were proven by science to be due to some chemical in there 2000 years after first observation; we may need millennia for some hypotheses to be verified. Of course, since God knows the infinitely low IQ of militaries/spy agencies worldwide, God devises infinite ways to couteract any effect (on any real or hypothetical astral travel speed) of torture by "hyenas". The government of USA, established by freemason general George Washington and other freemasons, has technologies way more advanced than what they tell the public, to fake endless miracles, brainwash people, control their every decision, emotion without them knowing, etc, they can cause unlimited sensations, changes, physiological, etc, diseases, remotely; the government is decades ahead of what the news talks about, beware of alpha theta delta CDs. It's kindest to self and all, to not empower the 'monsters' ruling the Earth:

Since the planet's military dictators (800+ generals) torture all, infringe on the rights of all, brainwash all with violent music, entertainment, do human sacrifice (watch Republicans) via war, it is bad to share anything about ESP/soul, if you ever experienced it, with any living human, as they spy on all. Any online search, etc alerts them you're strongly believing in astral stuff, God, so keep your beliefs, meditations 100% secret, as they only use info to wage war. God is super intelligent, God can reveal 1 trillion times more than the garbage humans wrote so far. Play being low in IQ to avoid harassment and 24-7 decade long torture. However, even a simple thought "all become like a shimmering shapeshifting Immortal living to a trillion" and visualizing that shifts the planet towards that; plus, any kind ecstatic happy states can lift the global vibe and prevent war; an intelligent astral android you ask God to co-create, can ☺☺lovingly tenderly gently kindly☺☺ 'patrol' the planet (or a sphere of light, 300 miles thick around the earth*, 150 below ground, 150 above can work too, it envelops all into the field that blocks any* intent that in 5 years may lead to nuclear war to protect humanity; what seems impossible to you, is possible to God) as a shimmering non-physical light that prevents nuclear war or any war eventually.

You are an Earth citizen with the God given right to a peaceful planet and thugs can't force war on everyone, terrorizing the news watchers with war images daily. These thugs have no right to pollute the planet with quantum vibes of war or violence (fake or real violence, to terrorize all, take all freedom away, create max fear, for max looting, enslavement and vampirism). The planet belongs to all. All, with any brains left, know that one can live to a trillion whether one has as much land per capita as Singapore or as much as Canada. We as bipedal monkeys have no such knowledge yet, all we do all day is mainly fight and kill as the news indicate. There is no logic in wars, it is a concept of the savage ages of the past. Wars got to end or we may disappear as a species. We can't let a few generals to wipe our species out. All Immortalists, Eternalists, Longevists can unite. ☺☺☺ If they attack every human's living space with quantum vibes of war, then all 7 billion peace lovers need to unite against the 800+ (could be way more) bad generals of the planet who're threatening every human alive, as we have the right to self-defense, to radiate the most peaceful vibes of healing of restless souls, to rid the planet of such vibes, to liberate humanity, our living space, by listening to peaceful songs; you got the quantum proof of quanta strings, subatomic particles destroying the planet's integrity. A focused thought dematerializes all nukes, as it becomes reality in the planetary quantum field, so then people use safer tech anti asteroid. The superorganism of all humans combined is infinitely more powerful than 800 crazy generals, so why aren't people awakening to their ability to bring instant World Peace? Replace the conmen and take charge of our destiny? The kind Immortalist Anthem vibes can prevail, over the war vibes in 8+ scriptures, anthems, music. Wars can be fake, ways to test anti-asteroid/alien weapons. So then, relax, rejoice in the eternal magnificent happiness of OBE to help bring peace. Your soul is more powerful than all weapons humans created so far. Unlike objects, you have direct access to the human quantum field. Your kind tone of thinking, emoting, speaking if you choose to speak sometimes, can bring peace instantly, if it reaches the right frequency, 1 person can transform the entire human quantum field silently, even by his thoughts alone. Each human resonates like a tuning fork and if one becomes ultra peaceful, the rest of humanity will too. All humans unite for peace now, to free the world from the military-industrial complex conmen. Eisenhower warned in 1961 that the 4 million folks military industrial complex can turn the USA into a concentration camp, the world into a desert. He explained that an informed citizen, who knows the faking of miracles, the 1000s of fake things in our society today, what the militaries do to millions worldwide, can prevent the rise of new Hitlers, Stalins, etc who're hidden in nuclear bunkers and control the public officials remotely without most having a clue what goes on and who that 'Hitler' is, since they hide, even today, thru many layers and nobody knows who really controls the USA and other nations, it's not the public officials. The mere fact that they have brainwashed billions that these quotes are the Word of God and that even in this high tech age so many can be duped, is a sign of their power to deceive. For thousands of years, they created religions to enslave the poor, and in the religious services, they have never talked of World Peace in 3 months, 0 torture and 0 violence in 15 years, only of fraudulent miracles and various generalities to keep people in line, ignorant and obedient to them in a life of slavery; war has been an expression of their greed for wealth and land, and the poor the mere cannon fodder to accomplish their greedy goals. They have even used the sword to kill anyone who dared to question the dictatorship of these folks, endless torture too, as we know about the Inquisition and other similar things. So, even as things are, we always have hope that we can bring that world of peace, with 0 torture, 0 violence, 0 jails, this century, if people truly care about their fellow human being bombed into the stone age forever. ☺☺☺

CHAPTER 16 - Immortality & TELEPATHY

16.1. Introduction, Telepathy Examples, 20 Telepathy Habits 16.2. Daily telepathy exercises
16.3. Influence of 'blood eating' (0.2-0.9% of meat is blood) on health, behavior (36 pages)

16.1 Introduction, Telepathy Examples and 20 Telepathy Habits

It is natural that as a civilization becomes more advanced it gets more telepathic and empathic, as loving kindness prevails and gentle tender softness imbues everything. Telepathy is an ESP ability which can be said to include all the others ultimately as applied subcategories, because with telepathy we learn eternally and we discover everything about teleportation, astral travel, living without eating, de/materializing objects/force fields, translating into other dimensions, passing thru walls physically, stopping aging, building a Civilization of Empathic☺☺☺ Telepathic Immortals, where nurturing Soothing Grace reigns. We can say that telepathy includes astral travel, since the astral body is a consciousness construct with which the causal body explores astral dimensions or physical universes, which are themselves 'models of reality' or consciousness constructs, they appear 'how we see them' only to us, not others. Our science is a construct that perceives the universe in a human way, so all we see is subjective, biased, relative to human science, to this model that we change each millennium. Telepathy includes all forms of clairvoyance, clairsentience, clairaudience, transferring information from one consciousness to another. It's something present to some degree in all people and animals, even some dogs know when owner starts driving home. This is a list telepathy types:

1). among us and people 1 meter, 700 miles or 1 octillion light years away in some universe.
2). among 'spirits' in form based (or formless) spirit worlds or between humans and 'spirits'.
3). from 1st physical location subatomic coordinates to 2nd physical location subatomic coordinates, for teleportation of matter or soul, the de/materialization of matter and force fields, passing thru walls (anyone who has this mastered can escape from a location). The body is a hologram, an information pattern telepathized away during teleportation perhaps.
4). from 1st physical location subatomic coordinates to 2nd other dimensional location subatomic subatomic coordinates, for living without eating or the dimensional translation of matter-energy without re-appearing at another location for a long time or never, dissolving matter irreversibly into energy, just like the fabricated stories of Jesus, Elijah, Vallalar, Tibet.

There are 100s of habits that improve telepathy with kind spirits, our peacefulness and kindness, but 20 of them are listed below, with the parenthesis indicating which chapter explains it:

☺☺20+ HABITS hypothesized to boost good TELEPATHY☺☺

14.7 shows how satellites can listen to humans in all Earth locations: silence = longevity, #10.

1. gentle peaceful music and promoting World Peace (Chapter 7) 2. gentle tender soft tone of speech, emotion, intent, energy (Ch 8.1) 3. whispering 4. tranquility and conscious breathing (Ch 10.1) 5. lowering noise levels 6. no headbanging in music or head damaging sports 7. proper regular sleep daily (see the sleep section): sleep is of utmost importance to long-term health, probably the most important after proper nutrition, since body/brain repair is done during sleep mainly; take a quick shower, breathe ecstatically and meditate 3 minutes, walk in nature/touch a tree for 2 minutes, and/or wear earplugs for more sound sleep and avoid heavy meals 3-4 hours before bed 8. good vegan nutrition (Ch 11) 9. energy radiation, meditation (Ch 10.2), hand-on healing, massage, prayer (Ch 12.1) 10. being a perfect listener, speaking when asked only 11. not knowing (Ch 2) and thus speaking less, especially since human speech is IQ 100-300 vs 300 trillion for old Immortals who view human speech as we view "ant squeals". You will appear a genius if you speak less and get less in trouble when tension exists as speaking can make you a target by criminals or powerful people with short temper. Even humans of the future living much longer, but not Immortals yet, meaning not trillions of years, would view our speech as we view dog barking: low IQ, unrefined, full of negative emotions, fight and flight, silly. To empathize with Immortals is to view humans from their perspective, this is how we evolve, by focusing History Classes on Quantum Entanglement with the future, the Immortals, to become different than the chimps we are. 12. gentle tender gazing at things/people (Ch 9) 13. gentle telepathy walking & exercising (Ch 10.3) 14. smiling (Ch 9) 15. honesty 16. self-control attained thru ecstatic meditation experiences, where the energy shifts upwards into the crown chakra and one attains a happiness a million times greater than any activity people engage in their normal life. See the meditation way beyond orgasm section. 17. proving telepathy to oneself (this chapter) 18. reading about telepathy (this chapter) 19. seeing the good qualities in others too, not just the bad (faults) (effort praise section) 20. evolutive listening, watching, thinking, writing, speaking (Ch 8.2) ☺ 21-100 many others we have yet to discover. These telepathy habits could be used to create better relationships between people at home and at work, and/or to develop inner peace and more positive emotions and responses to life.☺☺☺

Examples of fake telepathy (mostly unverified claims, made to make $)

Chapter 14 has some examples. Youtube has 800+ fake videos about interspecies telepathy: human-leopard, 10 more examples are in the fake miracles section. Bird flocks flying in formation may be some form of telepathy or verbal communication (silent sound). 99.99% of telepathy miracles in religions were faked, made up stories to have more people pay their religious fees to be saved from "having any original thought, experience and independent thought process". We're not talking of "garbage telepathy", i.e. the priest knows everything about someone, since he's a spy, and tells the guy stuff he heard from informants about his decision. Nor do we talk about everyday "telepathy" that happens in every family: kids comes home and talked for 4 weeks with mom about a big decision: to take algebra course next or not. Then Mom says "you enrolled in algebra", wow, telepathy. She just had a guess with 50% chance of a hit (not even something with one out of 10 choices) and this becomes the news of the town, his mom is psychic, the soon to be canonized saint of "0 IQ folks" church of statistics ignorance. Real telepathy only happens via gadgets today, computer to brain, where you speak 100% of what they type, word by word. Robot is sort of reading a person's "mind" (an image is 0.01% of one's mind at an instance, but still something that was not possible 100 years ago): a huge and expensive machine (or small these days, reconstruct videos mice see) can detect, after proper training, based on brainwaves/MRI, what kind of object the person is looking at, what digit, so it can write the mind, dreams a person has, control every emotion, thought, movement.

TELEPORTATION Made Up Stories EXAMPLES:

An energy a 800^{800} smaller can cause a big shift via the domino effect, when the right knowledge exists, like seen in nukes or thermonukes or in the future, in odd teleportation or telekinesis. Internet searches give us made up stories of teleportation of objects thru sealed containers in China, etc and also the cases of Pansini Boys, Joseph Cupertino levitation, flying to gather more cash for Catholics (richest landowner in Europe), Jacob Mutton. Teleportation is a form of telepathy, perhaps. In its movement around Milky Way that takes a galactic year, the solar system has a speed of 483,000 mph (number varies slightly depending on who you ask), so at any given moment we sit or walk, we're moving fast; what if we could discover moving at 483000 mph versus the Earth while not experiencing any damage, as we suffer no damage when moving around the galactic core? "Teleportation!: A Practical Guide for the Metaphysical Traveler" is a fake book, but worth reading the description of on Amazon. The shifting into another dimension can also be quick; one can leave a copy of yourself at original point, at least in spirit form, and nobody knows one teleported, but it might be possible to make physical copies of oneself too, if energy exists. In its movement around some bigger universal structure, our local area of the universe is moving at a much greater speed than 483,000 mph, in a cycle that takes billions of years. So, we're always moving at an unbelievable speed. The galactic year is 0.25 billion terrestrial years (circle around the Milky Way center); this influences everything.

PRECOGNITIVE TELEPATHY EXAMPLES & Fake SCIENCE PAPERS

Below is false precognitive telepathy (i.e. it was done with gadgets by some agency most likely, due to very unlikely coincidences not even mentioned, when things are too precise and odd, you can guess it was them using dream creation gadgets to mess with you) dream and waking precognitive telepathy case. Precognitive telepathy or premonition events may happen in the lives of most people at least a few times. We normally don't pay attention. Below are some recent and older examples, besides 7 scientific papers trying to offer proof of precognition. Skeptics will say it's just a coincidence and it wasn't any telepathy from spirits to show that future is "predictable a few days or months ahead". After all, there is no way to prove either hypothesis. Perhaps spirits want to be anonymous (a quadrillion year old spirit is way smarter at being invisible than a human) and do their work without us even being aware of it at times, as they care about results not about getting credit. So for them proof is less important.☺☺☺

On December 29 2017, I had a funny dream CIA beamed into my mind: I was some place and I asked where is the airport, and then someone said it's right over there, and I looked over in the direction they said where "Salt Lake City" was, and there was an etheric shimmering temple, as tall as Burj Khalifa in Dubai, looking somewhat similar (since Mormons had 2+ wives like Muslims did?), except at the bottom there were 2 other structures, tiny towers at the base, that made it look different than Burj Khalifa, but shape was different, very Gothic and similar to the left tower of this cathedral, like a very tall and amazing structure at the entrance of the city to catch the eyes of visitors maybe. The temple/church was made of silver, white and blue light, and a little indigo and purple too from a distance, so tall, unlike anything any town has and as I looked at it, it drew me to it, I flew to it and I was there. It shocked me how easy it was to get to the airport by teleportation (all my life, like 10% of kids, I had flying dreams, especially when younger). It made little sense to get to an airport if I could fly, but this was only realized as it was happening. Then, moments later, I had a rocket dream, showing that North Korea is all about enjoying making grandiose threats, they won't attack as some thought in 2017, they love jokes.

TRILLIONS OF POSSIBLE DREAM INTERPRETATIONS:☺☺☺

What I recall the most is the colorful beauty of the tall Temple in the Sky, that touched the clouds, and how I teleported. This dream may be brain saying that physical "Immortality" is possible (since Utah tree colony root is 80,000+ years old). When I woke up, I googled the mormon temple in that town Salt Lake City and it's very similar to this dream temple in the Gothic structure of towers, but the astral temple had much slimmer and taller towers (more like that Cathedral linked above), but not similar in shape and height, the central tower is maybe 10 times taller compared to the lower ones, the 2 main much lower ones and 2 others even smaller (less than half the height of the smaller ones). 5 days later, North called South Korea and agreed to Jan 9 talks for the 1st time in 2 years, as the dream conveyed that there is less to worry about Korea, which is now perhaps true as talks started. All North Korea anxiety (which some had in 2017) vanished after this dream. On June 11th 2018 N. Korea & US Presidents met in Singapore to talk denuclearizationand: Kim flew in an airplane to Singapore (1st time a North Korean President flew, reminding me of the dream with North Korea President flying, smiling in a rocket).

16.2. DAILY TELEPATHY EXERCISES & More Examples of Telepathy

Below are simple exercises (height, digits, colors, etc) anyone can try at home to develop telepathy. It's good to be aware of discerning telepathy sources, as explained in the telepathy coincidences section first paragraph. These exercises are like proving telepathy to yourself on a daily basis. One can even think of this as tips for making telepathy/ESP a daily Individual or family mental exercise habit. Generally, when trying to get ESP impressions it's better to close eyes (it shifts brain into an α brainwave, more relaxed state) and remove all noise disturbances (wear earplugs and eye mask if needed or if you're used to it already for meditation), to free brain resources used in processing physical senses visual audio data and allow the brain to move to inner visual, audio, sentient, conceptual data. While some may be skeptical that these have any practical use, sometimes you can save years of research by not investigating certain possibilities and bypassing them. If out of 10 answers only one is true, obviously if it takes a year to research each, if you can figure out which one it is, you save 9 years of research by starting with the right chemical compound that helps us to live to 400. This is explained also in the sleep paragraph that highlights how critical proper deep sleep is for ESP precision. ☺☺

One topic of news articles is how families or groups eat, pray, bless the food, meditate or exercise together. What if a new trend is the ESP-Telepathy-OBE practice, just like meditation practice? Wouldn't telepathy be really useful in discovering new things, scientific truths and finding evidence of afterlife every single day? Here is a very basic exercise, which you can do alone or with friends (take at least 10-50 minutes to do it, to be ultra clear and meditative, rushing never works well with things like this for newbies). The correct digit can be one that you pre-select without seeing among 10 pieces of paper at home and place in a location. If you're a newbie who never tried telepathy, this exercise may need more than 40-90 minutes to be successful. Best answers come in trance states when the "left brain is calmed down and the right brain is more active". This is where over analyzing is not good, since we're trying to not THINK too much ourselves, but to LISTEN to the thoughts of spirits too, besides remote astral perception. We can't hear spirits if we think verbally nonstop, creating brain noise.☺☺☺

To exercise our telepathy-obe muscles, we can radiate energies of compassion-peace globally as mini-suns illuminating every human soul and then try guess a digit you/a friend secretly selected (placed in a location to be checked later) between 0 and 9. You can do this in many ways, using ESP, Telepathy (this is ideal, since communication with noble spirits is very handy when you don't know where to astral travel), pre-cognition (time travel to the future when you open the paper and remote view the number) or astral travel (go inside, shrink astrally and read the number). To practice more beforehand you can simply write 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 on 10 pieces of paper (same size, tiny) and then with eyes closed pick a piece of paper and place it somewhere (in a way no low level spirit can see it) and then use telepathy or astral sight, hearing, feeling to perceive the digit. Your spirit helper will tell you and you will be able to hear/see/feel it if you're in a relaxed peaceful state. After you gained some confidence, you can just do it without the paper selection and focus on the digit someone selected, by perhaps radiating some peaceful energy towards all human beings first, to help aid the World Peace goal in exchange for help from spirits aiding you to develop awareness. If you feel confident, you can repeat the exercise to guess a digit, a second number and the two digits will make a number xx. First I would try to do a digit at a time, understand how noble spirits communicate with me, and then repeat it before I jump to big numbers made of 2-9 digits. ☺☺☺

Note: the exercises below are designed to develop telepathy between self and noble spirits, but they can be used to develop telepathy between 2 physical people also, i.e. a person thinks (and writes on a paper after thinking) for a few seconds (or 1-2 minutes if one wants to confirm it more for newbies who focus with eyes closed in a relaxed environment) of a digit (the number of digits, colors, etc can be decided in each exercise, the more, the harder the telepathy, best is to start with 2 digits like 0 and 1), color (start with 2, then do more), object (among several), direction (east, west, left, right), temperature (cold, warm), etc and the other has to write down what he thought he received via telepathy. Then the 2 sheets or computer files are compared, after doing 20-100 such small tests. Since we don't always have a physical person in the mood for such telepathy exercises or games and human-human telepathy has limited applications, below are telepathy with spirits guides that anyone can practice any time alone and that develop our clairvoyance and remote sensing ability too, since human-human telepathy is less useful than spirit-human telepathy in scientific discovery and expanding human knowledge. The spirit-human telepathy or remote viewing telepathy is also different than human-human telepathy and one can take much longer (than a few seconds or minutes) to confirm it via many ways, to make it practical and really accurate. Since a standard 52 card set has As and 2s thru 10s, As being easy to assign to 1, one can use those to select a number at random 40 times in a row, checking results only after writing the 40 guesses (eliminate the cards with pictures, the Jacks, Queens, Kings, so only 40 are left). You can use cards to select via telepathy if it's hearts, spades, clubs or diamonds. When doing tests, calculate the random chance which can be 10%, 50%, 25%, depending on what kind of exercise is done, to determine how far above chance you is. The cards are only 1 of 100s of telepathy exercises; it's better to have variety.

SOME EXAMPLES OF MY EXERCISES:

NOVEMBER 4 2016 Exercise

On November 4, 2016, I cut a piece of white paper in 10 pieces and wrote with a very light pink 0,1,2,3,4,5,6,7,8,9 on the 10 pieces of paper. Folded each twice and placed them in a sock to prevent looking at them. Then picked one out of the sock and placed it in another sock, so I can't see and focus astrally better on the sock. Then I used many methods described in detail below to confirm initial telepathy from spirits about the 0 digit, to gain more confidence in noble spirit telepathy. We each have certain neural pathways and telepathy pathways in the astral and physical brain that are more EXERCISED or developed depending on our total soul history, so by engaging the dormant less used pathways we slowly move towards a more synesthesic and full trans-linguistic highly rich telepathy. Within seconds of placing the paper in the sock, I heard a "spirit or wireless to brain voice or subconcious mind, etc" (synthetic telepathy) loud saying 0, then repeating it over and over. At first, I thought it's a joke or something from a joker spirit or something else, as I didn't even fully get in the bed to start my telepathy. But over the next few hours, I tried to use many methods to confirm this initial information.☺☺☺

1. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via YES-NO

I went thru each of the 10 digits, said them mentally, waited for spirits to say yes or no. They only said YES to 0. I repeated this many times; most times it was 0 THAT GOT YES.☺

2. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via IMAGES

I imagined a very pleasant heavenly astral world with a pleasant room with a table on it. The point was to see on this table as many oranges (or cactus pears or whatever your favorite fruit is for this exercise) as the digit signifies. This activates the visual cortex link to the telepathy centers in the astral body. So, if the digit would be 5, I would see 5 oranges in this remote viewing inducing astral room in my mind. If it would be 0, I would see no oranges. I did this with many fruits, even chairs instead of fruits and got an empty table, no chairs, meaning 0.

3. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via TOUCH/PSYCHOMETRY

I took the sock at one moment, touched it to feel maybe any impression, tried to get an impression of what it might be, but initially, psychometry gave me conflicting information, it seemed as if a 4 would be there. It was not 0, so this caused me to try to confirm the 0 in all the other ways. But 0 came again thru astral psychometry stronger after many attempts, so I ignored the non-0 impressions. Psychometry comes from psychic metering, psychic measuring of data about an object by holding the object in your hand.

4. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via Astral Time Travel

I was trying to remote view the future of me opening the sock and seeing the number, but this one was a lot harder than I thought since I didn't get a clear 0 all the time, possibly due to lack of experience with time travel. I got 0 more times than non-0, but the fuzzy nature of it made me discard this confirmation method.☺☺☺

5. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via TACTILE SENSATIONS FROM SPIRITS IN MY FINGERS

I have asked the spirits to touch each finger with loving kindness feelings, assigning each finger to one of the 10 digits. The finger that led to the strongest universal loving kindness (the Unconditional Love of God) was meant to be the correct digit. 0 came the strongest.

6. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via World Peace Radiation of Energies thru the 10 fingers

This is like above, except instead of "spirits" infusing my fingers, I radiated Peace to all planet thru each finger and the 0 finger came strongest again.

7. Confirmation of Initial First Clairaudient Impression/Telepathy via ASTRAL colors

I assigned 0-6 to the 7 colors of the rainbow (0=red, 1=orange, 2=yellow, 3=green, 4=blue, 5=indigo, 6=purple) and 7 to white, 8 to gold, 9 to silver. RED came strongest. You can also split the 10 into 2 major camps, like first five is yellow and next 5 is blue, do "yellow, blue" choice and then the remaining 5 you apply the first 5 of the rainbow or whatever works for your brain, depending on how your astral and/or physical brain sensitivity to colors is.☺☺☺ Initially, when I did it, I assigned gold to first 7 (was going to do rainbow with those, as I'm used to the rainbow set of colors for telepathy confirmations) and silver to the second 3 digits, gold came strong. Then I did rainbow on the first 7 and got REEEEEEEEEEED.

Whenever I tried things of this sort, we need to confirm things many times to be 100% sure as shown above. If we rush, we're far more likely to get it wrong. The brain is extremely complex and there are many ways to confuse noise with signal. Each person is best at one: clairsentience, clairtasting, clairaudience, clairvoyance, etc, so for some people the first and/or clearest and strongest impressions always come as visual, smell, feeling, texture, or symbol not as sound as it did for me and as it does for me many times. For example, if you're very good with taste, you can assign 0 to bitter, 1 to cilantro taste, 2 to orange taste, 3 to your banana strawberry favorite smoothie and use that. Use whatever senses are strongest for you, everyone is different. If you're very touchy-feely, you may assign 0-9 to different touching sensations. If you're super sensitive with your toes (I am not), you can assign 0-9 to each of the 10 toes. Most people feel their hands much more, so it's easier with the fingers. But there are always exceptions. ☺☺☺

People who hear or are very sensitive to sound are better at clairaudience. Perhaps the astral multi-life multi-dimensional developing of the astral brain regions determines which areas of the embryo genes get turned on more, i.e. the astral brain influences the DNA in the womb and at conception even. This would also explain why some people know so much MATH at age 4, way more than some people will know their whole life. What we learn in former lives is somewhere stored deep inside our souls? This is a hypothesis though, not anything I can say "I know for sure". I did this 0-9 digit exercise first time on 10-30-2015 and I correctly identified a 7 and the color purple when I did the 7 rainbow color on paper selection. It was a very interesting thing that the color selected was the 7th of the rainbow, as the number first done in this first exercise. There are infinite ways to encode the answer as being Yes or No, with colors, numbers, etc or a combo of these. For example, you can choose to perceive one of 10 colors and have 10 papers (with the colors written on them and folded so you don't see what they're as in the experiments above) with eyes closed before experiment starts aligned in order in a line behind a box or something where you don't see them, so you don't try to subconsciously learn which shape is which color. Assign YES to positions 1,3,5,7,9 and NO to positions 2,4,6,8,10. If the color you get is in the yes position, it's yes. Change the encoding, try something like yes is 1-5 and no is position 6-10 or yes position 1,2,4,7,8 and no is the others, so if the color keeps always showing up in YES, the answer is YES. Try to do YES and NO this way with time events too as explained below, and so on. On Nov 26, 2016 I did this and I learned a lot about how spirits communicate, I got the same answer, after decoding, 9 times. Only one time it was yes, 9 times it was no. If it were random chance, it would have happened more even, 50-50, not 90 to 10. Don't do this for too long as you may get tired and then the accuracy will take a hit. Just like when you workout pushups, you need to take a break, telepathy uses certain neural circuits that get tired after a while, especially if not used to it, just like undeveloped muscles can do 10 pushups, but developed ones can do 100. It's better to do 10 hours spread over 7 days instead of 1, by far, you get way better results, also doing it when rested, like before noon.☺☺☺

FUTURE TIMELINE PROBABILITY ASSESSMENT VIA TELEPATHY

Future is not set, but the closer one gets to the future date (days or weeks, instead of decades), the more likely it is that the probability of one timeline to happen is so big, that it can be correctly identified via astral travel or telepathy in most cases depending on several factors. As such, a simple version of this experiment is to choose any random future event, very simple things (which house down the road a person will park his car, or what will be the price of tomatoes at a grocery store next day, etc), that will occur within 24-48 hours nearby or in a public place you can verify astrally or in person and make 3-10 choices for what can occur and then use telepathy with spirits to identify which one will occur. Then verify it and compare the notes, learn from mistakes, understand why the mistake or if there was a real shift in the timeline (very rare though, since the advanced spirits can see exactly all possible futures when it gets close to a date). You can choose several events a day and guess more than once daily and see how future precognitive telepathy develops over time. This can be fine-tuned to events 1 week or 1 month away or even 10 years away, to gauge the highest probability now, given current trends, etc. One can make a journal entry and then verify events predicted 3 months ago and see how time travel telepathy accuracy works 3 months ahead of an event, or 3 years ahead of an event, or longer. One can make a file or some kind of journal dedicated to only these types of events, with future dates marked in a calendar to check how the event actually turned out (or make a calendar task on a phone or desktop calendar software or something). It's best to never tell anyone what the encoded notes in your journal mean about your time travel telepathy or your calendar computer or tablet or phone task, since hackers (or a playful sibling, etc) can try to guess what you guessed about the future and make it come true to create a certain illusion. For example, you can try to predict when something will happen, the exact time, by dividing the average time of happening for that event into 10 and then assigning 0-9 digits or 10 colors to the 10 time periods. However, since you know what each number or color corresponds to time-wise, it's best to do double encoding as I did for the election Nov 5 telepathy (see below) on who wins US election by how many votes. This way, there is no interference from the left analytical brain.

Note: if you do a question that has a Yes or No answer, it's ultra highly recommended to always encode the choice, i.e. take 2 pieces of paper and write on them two colors, fold them twice. Then with eyes closed or anyway, not trying to see anything, place a folded tiny paper as above in a given location x. Then do telepathy, confirm it in many ways, and see what color came. If the color that comes matches the color written on paper in location X, it means YES to the question. Otherwise, it's NO. This can be done the other way too. It seems far safer and ☺☺lovingly gently kinder☺☺ to never ask for telepathy YES or NO directly, since the brain is very powerful at overriding subtle spirit telepathy when it wants the answer to be YES or NO. This way, you bypass the left brain. For YES and NO questions or dual choice (one out of 2, not one out of 10), it seems far better to repeat it many times and take it seriously only after you got always the same answer in a row, to confirm it if you're not sure. The same idea for questions where you care about the answer, assign the numbers to colors for example and then arrange randomly the 10 color folded papers in order from left to right to match 0-9. Then you select a color via telepathy and that's the number. Sometimes, a question about a number is charged. ☺☺ Lovingly gently discern what other images spirits communicate, this is training the brain to be objective and not PROJECT one's beliefs, or desires and wishes onto spirit telepathy. Eventually, after a long practice, one becomes an expert at it, etc... Like with any skill, be it chess or whatever. The hardest thing in telepathy is learning to be objective and not project your thoughts on spirit's messages, which many people always do even while astral projected. This is very well exemplified by the telepathy on November 5 from spirits, which contradicted my conscious (left brain) mind thoughts about the US election as explained below: ☺☺☺

NOVEMBER 5 2016 AMERICAN ELECTION TELEPATHY

On November 5, I did a 10 minute experiment where I assigned the color in a given location being the same as telepathy received color as meaning Clinton wins, and if a different color than telepathy color shows in a location where I placed a paper with one of two colors without seeing it to bypass conscious mind, Trump wins. I got that Trump wins. I arranged the 7 colors of rainbow and white, silver, gold in random order in a given location in line, and the first color from left means 0, the last one means 9. 9 had to be repeated, means winning the election by more than 9 million votes or 9 million. I got via telepathy the color RED and red was in position 2, so 2 million, so Trump theoretically, would win by 2 million votes. Noteworthy is that the color RED was on the 3rd folded paper, and corresponded to number 2, since left most is 0, right most is 9. 3-2 again as between 2 and 3 am EST when Clinton conceded and Trump gave his victory speech, very funny coincidence. My conscious mind thought Clinton would win by 5 or 6 million votes, but the only spirit telepathy experiment on the election that I ever did said Trump wins by 2 million votes. This shows that the conscious mind can be off wildly, since the brain is more limited than the spirit, and it projects its own beliefs or desires. Trump won, at about 2:30 am EST after the election day, Clinton called him to congratulate him on winning, per CNN.☺☺☺

Note: you can also assign answers to questions you have to numbers on the 10 pieces of paper and then after special prayers, meditation, World Peace visualization as explained above, pick the number and there you will often find the answer, since God, your guardian angel or evolved spirits have the power to guide your hand to give you answers, if you don't feel like astral traveling that morning or you're not into bilocation. These telepathy exercises (especially those seeking answers or confirmations to certain hypotheses) are to be done ideally in the morning or early afternoon, or right after we wake up and are in the ethereal zone, the state of maximum awareness of the day, when we're more likely to have obes and be ultra clear. You will realize, if you ask the same question 10 times (with 10 possible answers) and get the same answer 10 times in a row (say over many days), that it can't be by chance, but it is something with a probability of 1 in 10 billion, which is very hard to fake or achieve, it requires a very evolved spirit (attracted by your prayers, World Peace meditations, etc) to replicate this kind of stuff 10 times thru your hand, especially if you do it in a way no low vibe spirit can see it if they would be astral projected in your room, etc. This is stronger than a random telepathic voice saying something, since random voices can be of even humans who try to interfere. This exercise is done under protection, after proper shield creation, and as such, it's different than random thoughts we hear from the universe. The ideal is to evolve our telepathy where we're no longer being influenced by random spirits (or humans trying to project words, images, as 1st paragraph of 14.6 talks about, etc) and are in a state of communion with evolved non-verbal spirits all the time (not easy, may take a while), and remain serene when silly or bad stuff (that may induce fear if one believes it's spirits, not humans) is said. This stuff can be extended to assign digits, colors, images to letters too, so as to get precise information about anything, "What name a baby or baby spirit wants, what chemical element or substance is the key to discovering anti-gravity, or how to bring World Peace in a few years or living to 4000".

DECEMBER 4 2016 AUSTRIA ELECTION TELEPATHY

Around 5 AM, I went to the bath and decided to do a 10 min telepathy exercise before I go to bed again. I got that Alex, the Green party candidate would win in Austria election. The encoding was thru colors and numbers to bypass the conscious mind. 3 times I did the choosing of a color matching a position, Alex came winner 3 times in a row, and then again. Alex won more times than the other guy, so I wrote on my paper "experiment #1, Alex" won. Alex indeed won.☺☺☺

APRIL 24 2017 FRENCH ELECTION TELEPATHY

Who wins the French elections, Le Pen or Macron? I did a simple exercise using colors and I got purple for the first set of 10 pieces of paper and white for the second. The double encoding was that if I select o (not i) for the first set of 10 pieces (for 10 colors), it's meaning the color in first 5 positions would mean Le Pen wins. If I select E for the second set, it means the color in the first 5 positions would mean Le Pen wins. The first set of 10 pieces had purple in position 3 and the selection was i, so Macron wins. The second set of 10 pieces had white in position 7 and the selection was y (not e), so since it's in the second set of 5, it means Le Pen wins. Interpretation is the spirits didn't want to tell me who wins, or my ESP was bad or I rushed it (I kind of did, 10 minutes or so). The interesting thing is that 3 and 7 make up 37, see the 37 coincidences. The funniest thing of all is that the random selection of the 2 encoders were I and Y, not O and E. I and Y and 37 together, make up for a really unique meaning from spirits for me. While this may seem like a failed exercise, I think it was interesting because there are 400 possibilities for the positions and the selections of I and y and what the number made from the digits indicating the positions of the papers are. Plus there is also another factor of 50, in choosing purple and white (or white and purple, doesn't matter) as the colors that give the end result y, I and 37, so we have a 1 in 20,000 chance to select this randomly, but this was the spirit telepathy. If you say purple first and white second, then the chance is 1 in 40,000. The probability of position 3 being purple is 1 in 10 as a result of spirit motor telepathy or telekinesis, the probability of telepathy (of spirits) choosing the same purple among 10 colors is another 1 in 10. So choosing purple in position 3 is 1 in 100 chance. Same for choosing white (or any color) in position 7 (or any position for the second set), you get a 1 in 100 chance for it to occur since one event is eyes closed arranging the colors and the other event is telepathy. Then Y and O introduce a factor of 4 due to 2 times 2. So 1 in 40,000 chance for color x and color y to appear in an exact order via telepathy corresponding to a number between 00, 01, 02 and 99 (a total of 100). I was wearing purple and white when doing the exercise, so that's even weirder, since earlier in the day I went to buy produce at $ store and total was 17. (The Y and I and O were from an old set of initials for the ten colors (yellow, indigo, orange) and E was a new letter I chose many months ago too when I was setting up double encoding. Weird how it came to be I and y among those, when I could have chosen new papers and wrote new letters that were different from the 10 letters for the 10 colors, this makes the probability of choosing I (ai) and y (uai phonetic in Latin) even lower than 1 in 40,000 sort of). The telepathy for purple was very strong and clear, but for the white less strong, I mean one had to be weaker than the other. But I distinctly recall, asking one more time for confirmation of white (after I turned the light on) before looking the results and I got white again, yet I was my typical skeptical "give me the proof" self, so I was still not sure, even if the clairaudience was clear in the final confirmation.☺☺☺

This 10 min telepathy exercise may have been used by spirits or brain to show that telepathy can be 100% correct even when we're totally skeptical. Anyone would immediately be skeptical when hearing white for the second color (especially after the first color was one I was wearing and one that I like, and after being 10% skeptical even of purple due to the fact I like it a lot), given that that day I was wearing purple and white. I did confirm that the second color was white also by assigning one of the 10 colors to my 10 fingers and asking spirits to give me kinesthetic information in the finger. It was evident it was one of the later colors in the normal order of colors I was thinking of (the 7 of the rainbow first and then 3 other colors, which I realized on April 26 2017, has been the system for over a year, this is another 3 and 7, 37). If you recall first exercise mentioned above, done October 30 2015 I was listening to a special song (which made me go to a temple next day, and the 37 telepathy happened coincidentally, in the 3rd question asked), when I selected with closed eyes a number and a color, it was purple and 7, identified both correctly via telepathy. Back then too, I was so skeptical of purple, and of 7, but it was the right answer. Did spirits guide my hands to make it purple and 7 then? If so, the probability of correct guiding and correct telepathy was 7 times 7 (colors, since I did only rainbow ones first time), times 10 times 10, so 1 in 4,900. On April 16 2017 on Easter, I went to buy stuff, total was $3.71. On April 20, I went to buy some stuff, and bought some unexpected things due to a sale and total was $37.20. On April 21, 5 days from Easter, went to buy watermelon and I got some zucchini and bananas too, so total was $16.73. I got curious, due to 73 cents after 16 and checked the total amount of bananas and it was 13.73 lb; 73 is 37 inverted; 13.73 has 37 and 73; was thinking of 37 and decided to weigh to biggest watermelon out of curiosity and it was 7312 g and took a picture of it, or 7.3 kg. ☺☺☺

NOVEMBER 8 2017 HEIGHT TELEPATHY

First exercise: focusing on the image of a person 10 min. On 6 pieces of paper I wrote 6 heights, 5'2", 5'5", 5'8", 5'11", 6'2", 6'5" and I picked one without seeing moving it under a shirt (so I don't see, the other 5 were under a shirt too, just away from the selected one) and then I tried to guess which one it is by having spirits beam into my mind the image of someone like that, and I saw a very muscular, heavy built tall guy around 6'2" or anyway, 6'2" being closest of the 6 to his real height. And I was correct, it was 6'2". The probability of guessing is 1 in 6. The second exercise was a little less successful: I chose 5 colored markers (the ones that kids use, 25 colors for a dollar at the dollar store) yellow, pink (more like pink-purple), blue, green, orange and shuffled them under a cloth in a random order. Then I tried to determine which one is the first color nearest the computer. When facing the colors, this would be to my left, but when doing exercise facing away from colors, this would be to my right. When facing away I got yellow mostly while when facing colors I got pink more. When all was done, as I faced away mostly, I got yellow for the first choice (I thought most likely to be the right answer) and pink second choice (if yellow wrong). Initially, I thought it was yellow, then I even wrote it on my phone pink, and then later thought pink would be the second choice. It shows how I was unsure which one it was. The correct result was pink, but yellow was at the other end (last color, first when looking the other way), so my brain (of some people) probably saw it in the place of pink when you switch position around (left becomes right). This exercise is probably best done in the same position always, to avoid spatial confusion or separate the pen and move it 10" from the other ones to avoid any kind of mirroring confusion by the brain when looking at objects astrally thru the material object while facing objects or facing away from objects. Daily practice of telepathy forces you to be more centered, tranquil, which prevents negative emotions or thoughts. ☺☺☺

NOVEMBER 11th 2017 ► 11-11-2017 ► PHONE BOOK TELEPATHY

Finding the correct digit among 10, with each digit meaning a cause in science or something we need to find in engineering can save 9 years of research time. In engineering or science, we have to solve a problem that can be caused by 10 things, but to check if each thing is the cause takes 1 year. This method can also be used to find information about your life path and pre-birth agreements, maybe like last 2 digits of their birth year, or last 3 of their phone or address. I put a ruler inside a yellow pages phone book and tried to read the last digit of the first phone number on the top line (not the yellow pages contact number at the top of every page) from the left on the left page. I assigned 0 to red, 1 to orange, 2 to yellow, 3 to green, 4 to blue, 5 to indigo, 6 to purple, 7 to white, 8 to silver, 9 to gold. I got blue (I also went thru each color, saw it, felt it and got a sense of Not this color or This is the color, or YES, etc), but I was not sure if it is blue or indigo so I said it is 4 or 5. I asked spirits to show me the digit as a vertical line compared to the 9 vertical line of 9 feet and I saw something about 5 feet, so I assumed the number is 5. A third confirmation was that I used the VERTICAL-HORIZONTAL line method:

VERTICAL-HORIZONTAL LINE METHOD for Yes and No

Question: Is the digit 4?☺☺☺ Answer: spirits flash in our mind a vertical line and we agree that if among 2 pens in a box, after random shaking, the pen or colored marker on the right (yellow, blue for example) is yellow, vertical means YES. If it's blue, vertical means NO. I got No for 5, Yes for 5 and No for 6 and then I stopped this method. Later on, it turned out that it was indeed 5. Instead of vertical-horizontal, one can also use short person image and tall person image, warm feeling and cold feeling, sweet taste and non-sweet taste, shrinking and expanding feeling in terms of size, feeling small and big, feeling rising out of body upwards or going downwards, deer and bear, cat and dog, girl and boy, black and white, left ear and right ear for sound imagined coming after a thought repeated in mind, fat and thin with the degree of thinness or fatness indicating how strong the yes or no is, overweight and underweight, night and day, brightly lit street and dark street, liquid and solid, metallic and earthy texture, smooth and rough surface, etc. These methods of confirmation using an encoding to prevent confirmation bias can be done all at once or separately. In general, neurons used for some methods are different and overusing those neurons and methods is not a good idea as precision drops after 5 uses or so, so it's best to use many varied methods that access different parts of the brain and neuron sets, because when you exercise, if you exercise one muscle only, you get really tired and can't do anything. Therefore, precision is higher if one uses different assessment methods that use different neurons to assign value.

USING HEIGHT TO ASSESS DIGIT

The height of vertical lines is much easier than the height of people sometimes when you do these numbers, you see for phone, 10 vertical lines of 1 ft for 0, 5 ft for 4, 10 ft for 9. One can switch from people images to line length images for height, when tired of people images (more complex, more tiring than simple lines that have no feelings, personality or many features).

CONFIRMATION OF SPIRIT TELEPATHY PRECISION

Ask spirits to show you signals when you ask a simple question like Is Earth Flat? We already know the answer, it is NO. One can do this a few times for calibration purposes. You kind of verify your perception freshness. I did this a few times and was shocked to get NO, the correct answer. Questions with known answers can be used to detect telepathy precision in interpreting spirit signals. Horizontal-vertical lines exercise may be ideally done while standing or sitting on a chair, not being horizontal to avoid mirroring and flipping effects due to spatial calculations of the brain. ☺☺☺ This "precision verification" is good to do often, maybe each day 3-5 times, in order to calibrate perception. In using instruments to detect different parameters, chemists, engineers, physicists etc calibrate their instruments often and the more often you calibrate them the more precise the result. The same idea applies here, you want to calibrate yourself sometimes, to know your precision is good by getting YES or NO 3-5 times in a row to a question. This way you know if you're in a precise state that day or not.

PRECOGNITIVE PHONE BOOK numbers reading

I asked the question and tried to see if the last digit of a number in phone book, which will be seen in the next few minutes, is below 5 or 5 or above. youtu.be/0ca4miMMaCE is a clip about higher dimensions and time travel. I opened the book 5 times in a row after I used the Yes No exercise above to find out if the last digit of the first number from top left of the left page is 0-4 or 5-9. Amazingly, I got it right 5 times in a row. For those curious, first time it opened on page 68 at some phone number ending in 200-0107, where the businesses starting with I begin, the second time it opened at page 50 some Warehouse business at some 3020 Walnut Avenue address, the 5th one was some number 329-7222. The 3rd and 4th time it opened at some ads and the number was the yellow page number (ending in 7325) because I didn't realize then it was that number on every page with an ad. Some of the business names, addresses, numbers were related to a question I had before doing the exercise. Coincidentally, this same day I also asked which dentist to go to, and 6 times in a row I got one office. However, later I went to another office and the dentist made some mistakes, so he had to redo something at my request and then another dentist from the office 2 days later. Did spirits know this would occur and use this as a reminder tool or that the dentist might have a bad sleep the night before and make mistakes? Stuff like this could aid in precognitive decision making, by estimating future events. In a set of 5 quadrillion events, 5 of them can be predicted even 5 years head, while billions can't. ☺☺☺ On December 5, 2017, I did 3 of these exercises in a row but spending just 1 minute or so. All 3 times I predicted correctly if it was going to be below 5 or not. The first one was off by 1 (1 instead of 2) and the third one was exactly 6. The initial impression was that it's above 5 or 5 itself and this 5 was strong, but at the last second as I was saying it's 5 or 6, a very low subtle voice (inside the brain, hard to know if it's brain itself or a spirit, or prove it) said "no it's 6" as I was thinking it is 5 itself (kind of answering to my wondering if it is really 5). And then it was 6. So at times, the louder voice is not the correct one. This is worth thinking about many times since the loudness of an impression is not reflecting its accuracy, just some brain mechanism. On Dec 8, 2017, I tried for the first time to guess the last 3 digits of a phone I will open yellow pages to in the future. They were 021. I did it fast, kind of a warm-up and I got 1 or 2 (leaning towards 2) for the 3rd one, which is quite close to 0. One time I thought it might be 0. I got 5 or 6 (leaning on 5 more) for the 2nd, while the correct answer was 2, so that one was off. The 1st one from the phone end was 1 and I got 0 (leaning towards 0) or 1. So I thought possible combos are 150, 250, 261, 251, 151, 050, 051 (this one was the closest to 021) etc. I got a lot of 0 in telepathy, the 3 numbers on that line had a lot of 0s, but this one was the most to the left, so the deal was the left one would be the one. I was thinking a lot of 2 and 0 and 1: indeed they were numbers. This is good for just 7 minutes of thinking, higher than chance, since the digits are quite close to actual ones, even if off by 1 or 3. If they were off by 5-8 it would have been bad. Naturally, to guess exactly, one needs to spend 7 hrs over 2 days probably ultra rested to figure out the slow way as shown above, in examples where perfect match existed with multiple confirmations.

NOVEMBER 24 2017 ► SHAPE & SCENERY TELEPATHY

SHAPE ► Drew a triangle, square (more like a rectangle), circle and cylinder on 4 pieces of paper and then selected one with eyes closed and tried to read what it is in 2 minutes and got the right answer, square. This came as square first time and then I did a yes no confirmation for each shape and another confirmation. This was the first time I tried this shape exercise.

SCENERY ► Selected 24 pieces of paper and drew/wrote on them 24 sceneries (house, a house shaped convenience store, mountains, etc) and then selected one. The very first impression within seconds was the picture of a one level house, which is contained on 2 cards, the house and house shaped convenience store. This was indeed accurate as the picture was the convenience store. Since this was the first time I did this ever, I was very excited, even if initially I thought it was just a house as I did this fast, still 1 in 12 chance. ☺☺☺

LAST DIGIT OF A PHONE NUMBER OF A RANDOM STORE TELEPATHY

I googled cities with fewer than 10,000 residents, then saw some town name listed in the summary of the first google article, selected it and googled it in another window, then mentally intended to add "sears" to the city search, and before pressing enter, I tried to see in 30 seconds or so if I can read from spirits via telepathy if the last digit of the phone number (for the one Sears in that small town that google will show up on the right with the phone) is lower than 5 or 5-9. The first impression was 0-4 and what struck me as rather odd was something related to 3, almost like it might be 3. I looked it up and the last digit was indeed below 5, it was 0, it was 231-933-5000 a number with 3 threes in it. Perhaps, that's why the 3 came strong, because the number had 3 0s and 3 3s in it, the last digit being repeated 3 times. Good guess for 30 sec. You can also google list of counties in a state or country, then list of towns in a county and then pick a small town after Wikipedia shows it's a small town under 20,000 people and try to guess the last digit of the phone of some common store: at least guess in 1 min if above or below 5. Guessing the digit exact value fast without confirmations (confirmations require a lot more time) is not a good idea unless you test high-speed skills, not precision skills. This stuff is quite common when you focus on a phone number, you might get during the longer (not just 20 seconds) analysis of the last digit, some extra impressions about the other digits, since you're connecting with the number. As you go 0-9 and checking if a strong or weak yes, you might sense a weak "yes" in digits that are different than the last digit, but very present in the number (this is common as the brain can perceive the whole number from the guides or location). This is a common thing in remote viewing telepathy, you may see things nearby.

NOVEMBER 28 2017 ► SHAPE TELEPATHY

Used the 4 papers with a triangle, rectangle (almost square), circle and cylinder drawn and then selected one with eyes closed and tried to read what it is. This is a truly amazing thing, because this was the 2nd time I did this exercise and I got it right. However, this time it was harder, the first clairaudient impression and visual was that of a circle. Then I wasn't sure, and wanted to do it seriously with confirmation, and I decided to seek confirmation, and as I spent more time on it, I saw the circle moving, and a moving circle leads to a cylinder (a cylinder is drawn as 2 circles joined by 2 lines, so the circle first impression within seconds was partially correct), so I began to think it might be a cylinder. Then I went to the bathroom, and when I came back into the room, a clear image of a cylinder came into my mind with such power, such luminous cylinder that I was struck by the telepathic clarity of it. Then I put earplugs and sit in total darkness trying to minimize brain noise, outer noise and to see whether it is circle or cylinder one more time. As I did it, it became more and more clear that the image of the cylinder was much stronger and I set myself to the cylinder. When I uncovered it, I was super-ecstatic, since it was a cylinder and I never did identify out of 4 choices, 2 times in a row correctly, as I never did this type of 4 choice exercise, and never so fast, first time it took 3 minutes to get the right answer, this time only 10-15 minutes. Perhaps, one has to develop a keen understanding of brain noise (which first impressions are noisy and which are not), minimize noises and go within, without light and sound and see the inner light and sound more to more correctly assess impression. Understanding which first impressions are correct is so important, on November 27 I chose one out of 9 fruits and veggies I drew (first time I ever did this exercise) and first impression was kale, the correct answer, very clairaudient. However, I didn't do anything serious with that exercise, like confirmation, etc and was tired and in a few minutes I became very unsure what it was, so imagine my sheer surprise when it was kale, even if by that time I was no longer thinking it's kale. ESP is real, because performance depends on how perfectly tranquil and rested the brain is, just like doing any math or science test. Each person has different forms of brain noise and one has to understand how one's brain works to decode telepathy from spirits, the subtleties being unable to be really described in words☺☺☺, as we're dealing with the most complicated machine in existence, the human brain. This is very practical, since if you have 4 choices (or 9 choices) and not much time to check each, a little ESP could cut the research time in 4. You assign a shape or whatever you're best at telepathy to each choice, without seeing it and then listen to spirits for the answer and then you see if it is true later on. If a person is skeptical about spirits, they can conceptualize as accessing infinite knowledge about the universe. After all, it's hard to know when spirits help us and when we simply access information that is out there. Since there are hundreds of methods to assign an image, sensation, etc to a given choice, it's best to keep these private (except a few examples for the sake of making a point of how spirits might convey info), to avoid someone who had read your telepathy methods from trying to interfere with the telepathy by sending certain pictures, etc that simulate the way spirits communicate. That's why when doing telepathy we're advised to be quiet and not reveal what we're assigning or doing, to prevent immature spirits from trying to interfere with nobler spirits.

NOVEMBER 29 2017 ► QUESTION FOR SPIRITS, WHICH DIET IS BETTER FOR TELEPATHY?

I used 6 shapes (square, circle, sphere, triangle, cylinder, cube) and 6 diets (omnivore, fish-eating "vegetarian", omnivore that eats only lovingly treated animals that had a natural death, vegetarian, vegan, etc) and shuffled the 2 decks and placed them without seeing under an object. Then I asked spirits to tell me which shape is the diet, with the order of the diets being the order of the shapes, so if triangle was the 1st thing from one end, from the same end (up or down) the 1st diet is the answer. We can use any pictures, not just shapes. What was peculiar was the super-strength with which the telepathy came as a triangle, which meant vegan. It blew me away and it's so hard to describe in words how you can assess when something is clear and something is not, but this one was a very clear telepathy that resolved itself in record 2-4 minutes. When an exercise doesn't yield a strong clear telepathy, I tend to discard it. This one was one of the clearest ever. On Nov 30 I tried a confirmation as I was wondering about the marginal effect a tiny bit of vegan food has, if any, on telepathy precision, so this time I selected only 4 and the question was among raw vegan, raw vegan with a bit of vegan now and then, vegan or other. I got a clear image of yellow and banana, which corresponded in my assignment system to "raw vegan with a bit of vegan", which stated the obvious "a little healthy cooked food won't diminish telepathy" and answered my question. The banana one was one of the clearest ones, so strong. I did a mini question for 3 diets, and got vegan, not vegetarian. Of course, one needs to ask the same question many times to eliminate chance. ☺☺☺

2nd QUESTION FOR "SPIRITS" (the human quantum field or God if you will), if on a global scale thru a global agreement (like those banning toxic chemicals) movies, music, literature, news, educational materials would be free of violence and people would be more honest (honesty being essential for such a deep implementation globally), can that alone bring World Peace and World Non-violence, since all action comes from thought and things we see, read, hear? I had 3 fruit images printed and I assigned YES, yes and No, NO to different things, like if I saw broccoli and broccoli was the one on top after shuffling in darkness, it might mean YES, but if broccoli was last one it might mean NO, etc. There are many ways to do this, millions. I did ask this and got YES 3 times in a row. I asked if other methods would do it and got no, indicating maybe that World Peace is only possible thru being honest with ourselves and everyone about everything and especially honest about the fact that what we see, read, hear programs our subconscious minds and actions for peace or violence, in virtue of telepathy diffusion. I only did this one day. To be 100% sure one would perhaps need to ask the same question 50 times and have more choices than 3: Yes, No or 50-50. Because the reality of life is more complex and there can be at least 10 degrees of yes and no to every question. I only included this for a general idea to give an example, not to say this is the truth or anything, everyone is free to believe whatever they want.

On Dec 2 2017, I did a similar exercise to ask the spirits how will World Peace come about? 1. by removing all violence (includes unkind tone of speech lacking gentle tender softness, sweet loving kindness, scary faces, threats, intimidation) from media, songs, movies, literature, school books, etc to free the human mind from the aggressive thought that leads to aggressive action? or 2. by dematerialization tech of a super-peaceful evolved country dissolving all weapons of the rest? 3. by less fancy tech enabling one country to dominate militarily the rest? I wrote these on 3 pieces of paper and on 3 other pieces of paper I had coconuts, bananas and broccoli printed. I shuffled them without seeing and placed them under a book and let spirits tell me which fruit is most, middle and least likely to be the way World Peace happens when it does and the order of the fruits would be the order of the 3 choices, like if coconut is the first choice, and it's on top, the top one from the other group of 3 papers is the World Peace #1 most likely way it happens. I got that World Peace will most likely occur thru removing violence from media etc, less likely thru dematerialization and least likely, far far less likely, by the 3rd option, almost never. Spirits were saying "not via broccoli" for sure. Not via 3. What is most striking here is that not only were the 3 fruits coconut, banana and broccoli in this order for World Peace, but this is how the fruits were from top to bottom when uncovered. Probability of that happening is not very low, but still, interesting. What's interesting about these types of exercises is that one can have 3-10 fruits, digits, colors, etc and do two forms of telepathy: one to get an answer to a question, as in this case and another to see how good your ESP was in that state by asking if the answer to the question (one of the fruits, digits, colors, etc) is the 1st, 2nd, or 7th one from the top in the stack of papers or what fruit or picture is on the top of the papers or bottom, etc. Normally these 2 tests were done separately before, like we tried to guess the fruit on top and answer a question separately, but merging these two can provide a sort of calibration of ESP precision, to introduce a confidence factor in calculating the probability that an answer to a question is correct, in case the type of fruit, color etc in a position (1st from top, etc) was correctly sensed. ☺☺☺

Another way to calibrate, which might be even better, is to use the exact same pictures in a third stack or the stack used in the exercise and to pick which fruit is the top one. This would be more similar to guessing which fruit is the answer, using the same neurons. Guessing the order of the "answer" is more like thinking of 1,2,3,4 which is more abstract and uses different neurons than the color of fruit or image of fruit. However, this calibration uses a lot of brain resources, similar to the exercise itself, and it doesn't guarantee the question was answered correctly. In that sense, the calibration, in this case, is less valuable than in other cases, if the same answer came from 5 repetitions of the question. Telepathy precision depends wildly on interest, so the precision will always be higher for the answer than for the calibration, as interest in calibration is not as high. ESP precision, telepathy precision depends also on the atmosphere, believers or skeptics, and many other things, like if the subject likes the nearby people who witness the tests if any, if he believes in telepathy being possible, if he's rested. Wasting so much energy on calibration means one can only do half the confirmations for any question for the answer. The brain is not like an analytical instrument that once calibrated will behave the same for hours or weeks, it's far more fluid from minute to minute, so the calibration idea is not very feasible, the real calibration is the sense of CLARITY in an ESP exercise and its confirmations WITHIN THE EXERCISE and when repeated, which is more like an inner very complex sense. ☺☺☺

PRECISION IN TELEPATHY INCREASES WITH THE NUMBER OF CONFIRMATION METHODS

In telepathy exercises of guessing a digit or color, etc it is very useful to BELIEVE NOTHING about what the answer is, until one has used many ESP methods to find out which of the digits it is, so as to have more confirmations of the first impressions (which often are false). It's a very natural thing for anyone who has a scientific or more rational mindset, to be skeptical about every hypothesis "the digit is 4" or whatever until one is absolutely certain by using totally cognitively independent ESP methods of assessing the final result, unfiltered by the conscious mind. Sometimes, the greatest inventions in science occurred because rebel scientists so to speak dared to question prevailing dogmas. Sometimes even "rumors, false scientific hypotheses☺☺☺, random things people might say, jokes" we hear can be inaccurate and we BELIEVE them as 100% correct, becoming anxious, which is bad for telepathy precision as explained in Chapter 2.

Other exercises (I have not practiced 99% of these) one can try include taking a magazine or book with pictures, opening without looking and then trying to detect via telepathy the picture. Or drawing on 50 pieces of paper different objects and shapes (house, grocery store with food aisles, apples, juice bottle, foods of all types, university, school, condo complex, skyscraper, beach, mountains, hills, plains, airplane, tree, street light, vertical line, triangle, etc) and then selecting one at random and seeing via clairvoyant telepathy which one it is. This develops better remote viewing skills as it's not always focused on digits, colors, height, temperature. Another variation would be placing a paper in a yellow pages book, and then guessing what the first phone number business (say on the left page) might be about by drawing a picture of what is seen or the word related to street name or the street number or last 4 digits of the phone or a combo. All of these would develop clairvoyant telepathy better. Other examples can be choosing a chemical element at random from the periodic table online and seeing what the color is for its most common oxide, chloride, bromide (assuming you know no chemistry), or choosing a Walmart, Sears, Macy, etc in a small town that has only 1 such store (away from where you live, where you have never visited) randomly or another store and then guessing the street number (or guess street number first, precognitive), name or picture related to the street name, or last 4 digits of the phone or describe the nearby houses (color, tree type, etc) or condos or buildings by drawing them on a tablet or paper or describing via text what is seen if drawing is hard and then using google street view to assess your remote telepathy perception. Then go online and see if you got close to the value. Today, unlike decades before, doing these tests is a lot easier due to the Internet allowing instant verification of spirit telepathy. Another example would be precognitive reading of the license plate of the car (color of the car too, given that 25% are white, 19% silver, 19% black, 12% grey, 10% red, 10% blue, 4% brown, 1% green) at a given dealer, EV charging spot, parking lot or nearby street parked near a given location (5th house from one end of the street, on one side, etc), which you verify by walking or driving there. Or simply playing with friends to see if you can guess day of the month they or their parents were born, last 2 or 3 or 4 of their drivers license if they drive, what color shirt or pants teachers or friends will wear today or tomorrow at school or work, car model year or car color for the math teacher or parent of a friend, eye color, age and height of the grandmother of a friend, etc. Or once this is developed very well, one could try to see if one can predict years ahead which one of his classmates will be best at math, physics, English, diplomacy, World Peace manifestation, chemistry, biology, extending human lifespan, etc and see if correct by checking prediction 1-10 years later. There are 100s of possibilities for the present time and future time (or past time, like what shirt his mom was wearing at his graduation or special event) clairvoyant telepathy.☺☺☺

16.3. Influence of DIET/Air/Floor on Telepathy, Psyche, Behavior (38 pages)

16.3.1. Intro: .5% of meat is blood, carpets are lethal

16.3.2. Space Colonization is far easier

16.3.3. Violence from low ω3, junk food, low lithium (omnivores eat 10 times less lithium) 16.3.4. Nobel Prize for Catecholamines in Meat making omnivores violent, paranoid, war prone 16.3.5. Trans fats in meat/dairy raise the risk of diabetes, dementia infarct, stroke, violence
16.3.6. Studies showing those eating more fruits and veggies are happier

16.3.1. Introduction: THOU SHALL NOT EAT BLOOD, nor cause pain (Kosher/Halal slaughter is 100 times more pain than modern tech, the 2 labels need be illegal) in sentient beings, nor inhale mold feces (carpet microbes/mycotoxins damage blood, brain via lungs, olfactory nerve)

.5% of meat is blood and many of the air particles sticking to our lungs are feces of carpet or rug microbes that cause dementia, stroke and low IQ, higher violent crime rate, besides lung cancer and shorter life as if you're a smoker. Some carpets are so bad, they're worse than smoking. The next 4 pages talk about common ways nutrition (oral or air) causes brain inflammation and violent crime, especially the lesser known CARPET microplastic fibers, dust mites/microbe feces, allergens, fungi, molds, etc that poison our blood and make brains angry and inflamed, prone to outbursts, or, in a few people, to violent crimes. Blood eating is very much like cannibalism, but not the same. The Bible lovers can recall Isai 66:3: "He who kills an ox is as if he kills a man". The Workers of the World Unite, against the aristocrat parasite, but what about the worker parasite, vampire and leech who sucks animal blood daily via meat? To be honest, integral, and consistent, we need develop supplements to compliment a vegan diet and stop all bloodshed on Earth by people using slaughterhouses or by carnivore animals, we need wipe out all carnivores. A world of kindness means no pain or suffering inflicted on anyone. Meat contains the nitrites added to preserve it and they react with glycine in meat to form deadly levels of cyanide "cyanide formed reaches a dangerous level...causes some people to get headaches". Meat kills mitochondria ► CRT 2020;33(7):1809-14, just as 'God' intended as in "'God' kills blood drinkers", indeed God does, covertly, for only the eterni foods people of the Immortalist Anthem values will live to 4000, the cannibal blood drinking chimps won't, they'll die at 100 as today.☺☺☺

After we saw in the 73 reasons for veganism section, the next 32 pages (last of the book) explain the downsides of meat, of the destruction of the human quantum field by bloodshed (and eating of feces in meat, every hamburger has feces) in all its forms (each pet causes 1000-7000 horrible bloodshed slaughters of animals) via the quantum entanglement with the ultra similar human species, and why we need eterni food, born out of efficient immortality capitalism: meat eaters are blood drinkers: "2-9 mL blood/kg meat remains following slaughter (roughly 0.2-0.9% of meat is blood, since blood and meat average density is 1 g/mL)" ► NPJPD 2017;3:33, so oxidized animal (1 amino acid difference) α-synuclein in meat can lead to higher chance of Parkinson. Autoimmune diseases can happen easily due to leaky gut that allows animal proteins (that are almost identical to human equivalent proteins) to go between tight junctions and then immune cells develop antibodies for these proteins (20-100 amino acids; healthy gut only allows single amino acids or 3 unit peptides), that are also present in our own organs. These antibodies then attack our body organs that contain similar proteins, so organ meats can lead to the attack of those organs eaten: you get thyroid, nerves in all meat (multiple sclerosis), eye, heart, etc autoimmune attacks, the body attacks its own endothelium (arterial wall found in all meat) and you die due to plaque. That's why so many cured autoimmune diseases by going vegan. The sad video of wild dogs eating herbivores alive without first killing them, shows the immense suffering of eating meat, and how meat/dairy eaters support animal suffering, delay kind☺☺☺ compassion needed for ending all violent crime and wars. Imitating subtly wild dogs by daily blood eating lowers our IQ/nonviolence, makes us lazy, unwilling to evolve past agriculture, make us crueler animals entangled with blood eating animals. Other chemicals could also cause other neurological, viral diseases, like mad cow disease from beef. Stressed animals (99% of meat) undergo biochemical changes due to well documented (in 100s of papers) atherosclerosis on the walls of their vessels, and when humans eat that, they get the building blocks for creating certain things with little changes here and there (like synuclein amino acid position 53) that then induce atherosclerosis in humans. Likewise, the animal liver and blood has Alzheimer causing β amyloid plaque (travels from animal liver to the brain via the animal blood) and all kinds of neurotoxins that lead to human brain changes that will produce more of the emotions, senility that the animal had at slaughter and during factory farming life that led to those biochemical compounds, making humans behave more like terrorized animals, i.e. fearful paranoid, violent, less peaceful. Even leanest organic meat raises inflammation which damages brains. The microbiome of animals is also created by their emotions which are recreated in those who have similar microbiome via ingesting these animals (like fecal transplant studies), microbiome signature of animals is all over the organs, blood. So avoid prebiotic pills from animal sources, stick to the most vegan, not vegetarian vitamin brands. Vegans don't eat as many premade building blocks, so they get the amino acids in the correct sequence*, but eating premade wrong stuff associated with a given emotion or brain disease is bad.* This is why all prefer eterni food.

The caffeine section covers the link between caffeine (sodas, etc) and aggression. Chapter 12.6 explains that NT 2002;24(6):711-7 found that teens found guilty of crimes had 7.3 times more lead in their bones. 15% of childhood lead poisoning cases in California were from candy, 15% from paint. Pottery, cookware with lead can also poison people. High iodine intake causes hyperthyroidism, which is linked to psychopathy, sadism and violent crime. Higher B-complex, D3, Mg, theanine intake, good (not low) lithium, high PQQ make people less violent. Low boron causes violent behavior via poor executive function, via raising brain inflammation. Low ω3, D3, Mg, Zn cause violent behavior ► FP 2023;14:1176061. High UVB (which changes the serum level for testosterone and other chemicals) makes males more aggressive ► CR 2021;36(8):109579, so a planetary shield that gives all 77°F weather 24-7 needs reduce UVB. Low $B_{1,2,3,5,6,7,9,12}$ raises brain inflammation, causing violence ► CNR 2025;14(1):76.☺☺ Caffeine makes US more aggressive. We also "eat" the chemical pollutants we breathe in, as via lungs these get into the blood and attack the brain, causing inflammation that leads to violence. For example, unused gas stoves, water heaters, gas dryers leak toxic gases and gas furnaces and stoves produce lethal NO_2, CO that damage the brain while being on: "the highest levels of CO, NO_2 and fine particulate matter concentrations were associated with increased violent disciplinary incidents." ► IE 2024;11:24. Carpets in houses/businesses raise the indoor levels of certain mycotoxins and allergens, bacteria, fungi and molds a million fold. The immigration section has 4 pages on step by step guide (for 1st graders) how to save 10K given to Mexican cartels for carpet replacement with 2$/sq ft 6.5 mm 22 mil Greenguard Gold LVP, the best air quality worldwide for the price. Knowledge saves 20K for a big house. Cleaning wood, LVP, laminate, linoleum, tile, etc is free, takes 1 minute (you can wear soft slippers and have no rugs at all) and removes everything well and a rug can be washed in the dryer every 2-3 weeks, but carpets remain there with underlay for 5-25 years, cleaned yearly in a superficial way by the 5% cleanest homeowners who call in a carpet cleaning company doing a poor job in 5 minutes per room. Carpets can trap 1 million times more biofilm and organic matter, dirt, microbes. ☺☺☺

House mice feces are rice grain size and brown (medium or dark brown), so feces sink in the CARPET and you cannot see them so mice can infect house for years, and you would not know it, giving meningitis, etc diseases to all family members, making everyone insane. That's why you want a bright color LVP (which the gov needs to mandate since all insect rodent infestations that spread disease are medium brown-black, invisible on dark floors/carpet), to see mice FECES months before they infect your family with deadly diseases. "Mosquito IQ" folks today dye their wood red or dark brown and then meningitis happens and they live last 50 years with mental fog and IQ 50 points lower, thanks to a "rat IQ" gov. Bright floors ensure you see any food that drops etc, so no mice are attracted. Keep all foods in boxes and fridge, as any open container attracts mice, ants, etc, so you don't need electronic Owltra 18$ traps with 24000 reviews, 8K bought monthly (see 20 videos, 7 have mice) (use fresh alkaline batteries 1.5V, buy 6000-9000V Owltra 4.0 stars not 6000V Victor 3.7 stars with only 1700 reviews, don't use rechargeable batteries, since lower 1.2 V voltage won't trigger the plate, mice escape. For rats, best is to use AC traps, 7000 V minimum, with AC cord out of the way of trap entrance (avoid USB cord with built in rechargeable batteries). AC adapter will deliver lethality for years; lithium battery weakens during storage; if you buy a cheaper 1800-3000V a strong rat can escape instantly and strong mice escape after eating bait, while weak house mice suffer/squeal 5 minutes until they die, instead of dead in 2 seconds on 6-7000V, see 1 second electrocution 2nd video). The others are less humane (not instant kill) mice traps, and the most humane is one you make yourself, a 5 gallon bucket, catch him alive and release him, or using a 1 gallon jug, or a simpler bucket, a 3rd bucket and a 4th one & 5th one (easiest to setup). Roll log caught 26 mice in one night, the best of 700 traps this guy tried, he feeds dead mice to wild animals, as many eat it, so disposing of dead mice in the woods is the greenest way. The bottle-ball-funnel method may be easier for some, though bottle only method is far simpler. The classic traps (12/12$) are cruel since death lasts up to 200 seconds by suffocation (head trapped) vs 2-3 seconds for electric 7000V and some mice can escape (see the escape), but 20K sell monthly, having the highest rating for 1$ traps, 4.2, for any 1500+ reviews trap (those with 5-90 reviews are fake, seller created accounts to give 5 stars), see them in action, this same trap is 4.3 stars for the set of 20/19$. Kill rate rises when using a box to enclose traps, see mice. A raisin in a hole is pulled and this triggers the trap. For 3$, you get 8/24$, 4.4 star rating for the sharp teeth ones that often need to be tapped so they more sensitive. Glue traps are worthless, see video. ☺☺☺

When the country is run by pig IQ frauds that fake elections to put morons in power, you get 20000 mouse traps that don't work well, waste weeks for people who could be studying longevity and implementing steps to help all live to 900 and instead try use terrible quality products the gov allows to be sold, and cause endless waste of plastic metal as people trash the glue, the snap and other traps causing enormous waste of materials and air smog from burning these landfills. The aristocrat is a voracious bloodsucker whose aim is increasing his paper money holdings, at the cost of killing millions who work themselves to death to produce 1.4 trillion $ of useless trash a year, endless cotton for clothing that is trashed and never recycled, child labor for cocoa, etc, endless plastic, metal that is part of products breaking ultra fast due to "every retard wants to be a billionaire" mentality. You get the ultimate planetary trashing, while in public they put on a show of "green". The rich setup their heirs to create foundations, LLCs to control the "charity" that gets all their wealth they "donate to charity", and in public they claim they "will give it all to the poor". Claim to be green and then amazon uses aluminized paper bags for grocery delivery that can't be recycled or 747 for a trip. He doesn't care people waste 50 times more time to catch a mouse, and 300 times the materials of a really good product designed by the National Mouse Trap Uni not a company of frauds. The houses are built like trash, so all mice can enter, due to lack of the centralist Immortality Building Inc to produce 100x better homes. The rich don't care, slaves come and do pest control or their house is so well done, it lacks mice. The poor have to waste 90x the time to do 500 basic things with the shitty products the rich produce to amass millions and billions. It's nothing short of genocide. No wonder none has time for living to 4000 research, as they keep using bad products that take 90x longer to work. You set 1000 trap designs in a lab, same lab and test 50,000 mice and see which trap works the best, i.e. catches mice 100.0% of time within 24 hours, not 5 months as on amazon. That's quality, not the crap of these garage companies of morons. Look at the videos above, most traps sold don't catch mice all the time, they escape, eat bait without triggering, due to poor design. You got a mouse, you call Immortality Building Inc that maintains all homes and they send you a trap within hours that catches any mouse within 24 hours of arrival in 1 million out of 1 million cases, not these retard made 20% catch rate within 1-10 weeks products from the Bible Land of Genocide, Mass Rape, Imbecility. That's why healthcare progress is so slow, most products are designed by "kids in adult bodies". How can you have 30 million work on living to 4000 if USA can't even make a quality safe mouse trap that catches mouse 100.0% of the time in 24 h, quality safe humidifier, heater, pressure cooker (24 L for big weekly batch), (infra/ultra)sound of appliances & transport, dental filling, food/vitamin colors, food processor (quieter), vitamin transport temp, vitamin & food packing, clean electricity, AGE low food. Idiots proudly say on a site "family owned business", which usually means "lowest quality product", because a family cannot create what a family of 5 million PhDs can create. A family of 5 people even has an IQ of say 600 total, but a family of 5 million an IQ, or total knowledge of 1 billion. These cretins cannot realize that if we had 33 million Windows operating systems, the code and features would be like in the 1950☺☺☺, and every PC as slow as 1955. Only thru centralization, the creation of a mega national family of One OS for the whole World did they achieve amazing feats, as you get 2 million not 2 programmers work on something and make it a million times better.☺☺☺ Today, all we do is translate and duplicate. If everyone wanted to be a "CEO, linguist, and language creator", all humans would be speaking a new language, talking to their mirror image and to be important, waste all day translating instead of doing science. Sort of like we do today, we translate, we duplicate, we create same 20,000 variants of a shitty product via 20,000 companies, instead of 5 quality products by one company. Does everyone need to have his own OS, how can computers communicate? Why should every moron have his company? To defraud others by selling junk? All the free market economy is a scam, the rich & military control the market in each nation.

The rich hunt for money, they didn't design a trap that is covered in a film that peels off so cleaning is easy, so nothing is trashed, everything reused: dispose of a biodegradable plastic film we peel off after electrocution, wipe plates with alcohol pads, press UV button inside to sanitize it after alcohol and film removed. 99.9% of traps sold are disposable, people trash the metal, plastic, wood and never take the time to recycle anything. It's in the product instructions to trash the whole thing. Let's be real, most people prefer to live to 4000 and have only 4 mouse trap products (that work 100x better than the stuff today) instead of living to 80 and have 20,000 mouse traps for sale in USA. Capitalism is a race to the botom, everyone almost tries to become billionaire, so everyone is doing mouse traps or etc, with no centralized unified university to make 1 product 100x better than the 900 products sold now. Kids waste lives studying x, y, z and then design products for something else. With centralized education, your speciality is mouse traps since age 15 and at 30 you make products that are 100x better, instead of doing car design after particle physics PhD, newspaper website design after biochemistry PhD, you work in what you study by total unity between education research in high school and the 11 companies needs to create products increasing lifespan 100 fold, by 100 fold more research and 100 fold higher quality. Instead of one central gov replacing 20000 gov and 11 companies replacing 33 million, we have endless regulations, products, contractors, builders traps, products all crappy, instead of only a few in each product category that work 200 times better. You take the trap to the National Rodent Trap Uni and test which one catches the most per day in the same lab conditions and that's the only one sold. No waste, reuse 2000 times and disinfect easily with ozone, wiping with gloves on, and etc. Don't use big rat traps for tiny mice that weigh 20 times more, because mice are comfy only to enter small traps where their fur touches and feels it. Big traps allow mice to escape as the two plates don't form a circuit, with plate gap being too big. Bait needs be furthest away from entrance at the other end. ☺☺☺

The ►►► migrant section has details on how to replace carpet with LVP. ◄◄◄ Microbes sinks into the pad under the carpet, grow, reinfect carpet days after carpet cleaning. "Chinese city traffic police have an average life expectancy of just 43 years (vs 85 for the elite parasite 0.01% of China owning 58% of wealth in their fake "communism") because of the dire working conditions and pollution" ► Reuters 2007. Carpets kill 5 million people every 5 decades thru the lethal lung poisons they release into the blood, brain (odors access the brain via olfactory nerve, see PubMed papers on how smog causes dementia, strokes, infarcts if avg life of 43 years is not "proof" for the lethality of carpets), yet nobody talks about a genocide perpetrated by ther ich against the workers with the tacit approval of a clueless gov that makes it legal to install carpets. How can carpets (often installed using slave Mexican labor by Jewish profiteers) kill as many as the Jewish Holocaust? 200 million lifespan years lost if 100 million Americans die 2 years earlier due to indoor air quality, means 5 million 40 year olds die 40 years early (5×40=200), as if the small business and big business aristocrats killed 5 million 40 year olds for profit. ☺☺☺

►►► Why do they keep pushing carpets? GREED ◄◄◄ Contractors make a higher profit margin installing carpets during a remodel. The Jewish flipper owning 30 properties in horrible condition will replace carpets once in a blue moon, so he commits the equivalent of 5 murders every decade, then the ADL (Anti Defamation League) protests if we create ANGEL (Anti Gentile Extermination League). This is why Capitalism is a Fraud and Living to 4000 is rather difficult in a society where everyone tries to con everyone else via the 33 million small businesses that kill millions with lethal products, carpets being just one of 900 top covert genocide sellers. We immortalists propose the end of Jewish (+ other aristocrat) extermination of gentiles in USA by ending his ownership of millions of gentile dilapidated housing units that enable his palaces to stand while others live sick, demented and die fast, without money to check teeth once a decade even. Bad air makes dental issues worse too. How can we end bad indoor air? Merge all these fraudster companies into the Immortality Building Inc☺☺☺ to give all people the "decent air intake" needed for zero violent crime,☺☺ this company has 15 million employees at least, maintains (twice/yr preventive maintenance) and repairs every house and business. We eliminate the quintessential "Jewish" merchant, the one who buys something (from Home Depot, Lowes, carpet stores etc) to sell it at a huge markup to gentile suckers he finds in the host nation, who don't realize how simple is to buy 3$/ft^2 engineered wood or 1$ laminate and remove the carpet (see video), then install (see videos) wood, LVP or tile, wear big foam wrap around safety glasses (carpet dust is dirty, open windows, ventilate well, tack pieces, tiny nails, staples can fly with nails hitting the eye when removing them with tools other than pliers) and hooded (or shower cap to protect hair, shower once done) coverall, knee protectors, gloves, to protect body and clothes from hard floor, deadly pathogens. Laminate = bad because one the printed image of the top layer on fiberboard vanishes, you need replace the floor after 10-30 years, but wood allow you to sand it and get 70 extra years or even 140 for real hardwood: laminate is far less recyclable than wood, so it's less eco friendly; laminate is 200$/200 ft^2 room if you do it yourself. Thus, real hardwood is replaced 14 times less often than carpet (140 vs 10 years), engineered wood 7x less, laminate 3x less. Wood is recyclable, traps CO_2, carpet is plastic, causing disease via microplastics and is not recyclable, causing CO_2 emissions to make from oil, to burn in landfills, leading to an ecological catastrophe. But the aristocrat is usually a soulless beast unaware of his demonic nature (as Jesus said, all aristocrats go to hell Mk 10:25, they only perform charity or a semblance of it (often times harm even), without delivering charity) (only 0-1 aristocrat (out of 100 million on Earth) chooses to live frugally on a minimum federal wage income (15K/yr in US) and donate the billions or millions in profits to good causes for the poor to help them live longer (4000 years not 75 instead of 74), healthier lives, the poor the governments screw and subjugate by their infernal laws). The rich is a demon created by infernal capitalism, who wants money only, so he'll choose carpet to sicken with microbes, to produce 200 times more emissions and work for landfill slaves than wood. The "small business blood suckers" charge us 2-3$/carpet (1$/underlay, plus 2$/labor) they get at 1$ via wholesale, when you can buy laminate for 0.7$ and live 10 years longer via no carpet, use money to eat better and live 20 years extra total by saying No to Jewish and other frauds, they take a 1.2$ product, sell it at 6$ for a little 7 hours of work done by illegal slaves, he's the Parasitic Demon who signs the deal of maximum Destruction of the host Nation he Comes to Devour and suck into a black hole, no science, only fraud and resell, no labor, no new products, material science, flooring to triple lifespan, only enslaving locals with his 7th century BC religion of rape, genocide, theft and slavery. ☺☺☺

garments, can add 50 to 50 million years to lifespan: there are 5 trillion ways biophysics can do that via interaction with feet soles, see the acoustics nutrition section, how ultrasound cures decades of Parkinson, imagine the rugs emit something that prevent leg aging. Today IR measures glucose by taking pic of blood passing thru wrist, imagine a plugin rug that has a washable cover (thin clear material), washed every week or two, that measures 1 million biomarkers in your blood by taking pic of feet as they rub on it, telling Eterni Food Inc how to adjust the powder next week for a better 4000 year lifespan approach. The small (not just the big one) aristocrat is a fiendish conman, who could care less about Qualities and Immortality for All. He's too deceptive, dishonest to realize his retarded company can never create what 5 million PhDs in a company 1 million times bigger can. He lives by genocide, his 'contribution' to USA is theft and murder. Youtube has 9000 clips on how to install each floor type (or even flatten uneven subfloor), so no more palaces to preach Hate, Slavery of Gentiles, Genocide, Rape. Wait, the Jews pretended to be gentiles, took over CDC and universities, and imposed Jewish Sharia Law and Circumcision because "It's more Hygiene" for Penises and "reduces infections", but the same Jews poison millions of gentiles with carpets, cause 9000 times more infections, yet it's legal, many microbes, molds reduce vit D receptor expression 50 fold ("reduce VDR expression by 50 times"), meaning blood vit D level is useless even if high and you get sick from flu, cold, infections, pimples, styes. No big law against Carpet in Judaistan, only Penis Trim per Torah-istan. Hypocrisy? Why not use harmful circumcision money to give wood floors to the gentile 'rats'? Too kind? Besides banning carpets, we can require split AC, no more central for houses, as mold, microbes grow fast and nobody cleans ducts monthly as required, meaning all US houses with central air are LETHAL by the standards of 4000 year old humans. Mandatory silent electric heaters can improve air quality too. The Building Inc☺☺☺ will make easy to wash plastic free (most are plastic today) rugs that absorb sound better, because right now we don't have good options. We can't replace all thin walls (if people hear neighbors, roommates in row houses, condos), insulate them overnight against sound amplification coming from carpet removal, so we replace carpet sound absorbers with rugs etc that can be machine washed and never stepped on, such as a lavender comforter to act as a "decorative color addition" to the house in a corner that's a sound absorber, yet can be washed monthly. All hotels in USA with carpets smell horrible, even the 4-5 stars. It's time for a real change. Merge all hotels into One.

Diet (food/air) influence behavior, thoughts, 'telepathy' interpretation, ☺☺☺. Did you know lab grown meat today uses blood drawn by placing needle into the heart of fetus calves over 5 minutes? We need an industrial process that uses no animal blood. Lab meat is NOT vegan, even if unethical Singapore companies sell it as 'vegan'. They slaughter dairy cows and 20% of them are pregnant, with fetuses killed by draining their blood in painful ways. Thus, mad cow disease, other diseases can be passed onto humans by lab meat. ☺☺☺ If an eterni diet human from the future looks at humans, they will think meat eaters are almost like cannibals or blood sucking vampires, who cheerfully promote their "religion of animal blood drinking and infant animal (male chicks, male cows, etc) killing by the billions" via "amazing TV cooking shows and barbecue events". Would you love an alien who lives a little longer than you to appear on TV and say he shredded and killed infants or kids of your relatives and enjoyed a tasty human meal from that and show a video of kids crying during slaughter? No, it would be deemed as pure satanism or evil. Yet, in the typical ruthlessness of our grotesque 'demonic' "cultures" (a pure representation of mythical 'Satan himself') no effort is made to centralize, so we get 10 times more chemists, engineers, biochemists, and physicists to design eterni foods. Many animals are very young, so from an alien point of view it's the same as some aliens eating human infants. And yet people are happy, with no second thought of their hypocrisy, wanting God to have mercy on them, but them shredding alive billions of 1 day old male infant chicks and other things like that. Be kind, don't just claim to believe in God? If you love God or animals, you love immortality capitalism more than any other system. In our "cultures" we hear rabbi shouts and pastor faking miracles yells, Hindu animal sacrifice, street cow blood letting during Eid festival (it is the most offensive act, that insults God far more than a drawing of Mohamed, since God doesn't want violence and any blood spilling, God guides us to science to discover the 'high tech molecular food' or, the 'Eternal Life' Food and stop being 'demon like vampires' or selfish people (too lazy to be vegan and make more nutrition innovation) who drink blood by meat ingestion), Kapparot killing birds (kid is scared by the cruelty) to save sins (no sin is saved, more sins are created by torturing chicken who resonate with humans and increase human suffering and wars, by polluting humans who watch the bird beheading), chimp violent music, but no gentle tone calls to end suffering of livestock via the total centralization of education, food industry, so we get 90 times more high tech jobs via scientific honesty, not faked miracles brainwashing. All some care about is sports. Soldiers learn to drink animal blood, to violently kill animals, simulating demons, this is a priority of the US army instead of Chapter 5, the peaceful methods of ethical militaries. Check out human sacrifice simulating ritual too, "Cremation of Care".

Why fight wars when you can prevent them? ☺☺☺The jungle has many leaves, and things one can eat, do they really need cobra blood? Most venom (and snake meat) is poisonous only if you get bitten, not if you swallow it when eating a snake, so they teach jungle survival if soldiers run out of food: eat the snakes, though they may die from a disease, virus, parasite they carry, better cook it well. It's so dangerous to handle them, that this seems more of an initiation into satanism, than an army. Once they do this from animals, they will drink human blood too, prisoners, etc… watch the evil. You only need to watch the youtube videos on the "training" military folks get to realize it's nothing but pure disguised infernal violence having nothing to do with an army of God. Becoming a soldier today is becoming a satanist, due to the prevailing military and civilian culture. A pentagon is like pentagram used by satanists: are those guys satanists who drink human blood? Maybe not literally if a science guy, but thru bloodshed in wars, they offer sacrifices to Satan. No surprise here, this is the army that sings the glory of Jesus, the conman (possibly blood drinking foreign spy or Jew) who says to "drink his blood and eat his flesh to recall God and gain eternal life". That's why priests live to 80 or 100 at most if lucky, because that Immortality is never happening (John 5:24 explains the fake eternal life), they were all conned by Jesus the liar: if God exists, for God, giving people the science of living to 9 billion is ultra easy (1 trillion years = a nanosecond for God) and it's a proof that Jesus words may grant spiritual Immortality too, but without any science from God, who is foolish enough to believe Jesus? When average IQ was 75, Jesus words made sense. There are still naive people being conned by clever "clergy". How come Catholics simulate drinking Jesus blood daily? Something is fishy with this church of fake Eucharistic miracles related to blood…

In Thailand, they drink snake blood… after torturing the snakes, polluting the human quantum field due to the 0 IQ unproven belief that "power increases by torture" – power to become pure evil perhaps; snakes can give diseases, parasites, eating them raw or cooked is risky. Torturing snakes releases toxic stress hormones that then shorten the lifespan of the guy eating the meat or blood. It's like the Chinese emperor who ate mercury sulfide thinking he will live long and died 25 years earlier than usual or Indian Ayurveda where they drink stuff with lead, mercury to "cure stuff". Drinking snake blood is highly risky too, could get so many diseases. Given the low IQ of people in ancient times (like a few Thai folks believing in the magic of eating snakes from a Chinese text), it's no surprise that even in Aztec and Hawaii and other cultures, they believed that eating corpses of enemies gives them strength, it only gave them the same 65 year lifespan of the masses. Chemical physics can discover a diet that delays aging and enables billion year lifespan. Meat or blood will never help anyone live even to 150, though it's very tempting for ignorant people to imagine that if they digest stuff in blood they get the "nutrients" the blood needs. Digestion destroys a lot of stuff, each blood has poisons, the regulatory mechanisms of "youthful biomarkers" can't be overridden so easily as people imagine, but there is again, as in ancient times, limitless ☺abysmal IQ☺. Science can make far superior nutrients versus anything in the "best blood" via chemical physics interactions that don't depend on even eating anything, but some don't understand science…teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals able to materialize any lifeform on a planet, of any temperature, pressure, etc ☺☺☺.

Science is more than modern chemistry, physics. This needs to be told to those who believe fake science papers that they took blood from young mice and put it in old mice and this delayed their aging, since rich people could try do the same using young healthy people just to live 10% longer, as the mice "got". Apparently, diluting old blood helped more in a study that was allegedly not faked, it worked better than young blood. The benefits were from diluting toxins, not from the young compounds. Other blood can be easily rejected and cause autoimmune diseases. Now, do you gently understand why we need free education for all? We need to protect workers from blood drinking vampires, who would stop at nothing to do it. Wikipedia and history books are full of stories of people who drank blood, not just ate people. Now, perhaps you also question the need for bloodshed in wars and Red Cross, etc, they need blood to extract perhaps some chemicals they figured helps them to live 10% longer if eaten? Of course, they will tell us they defend "human rights" like cobra snake rights too, when they bomb… They NEED eternal war: see how many movies about vampires, war and blood drinking and none about World Peace in 3 months? Why? Watch Twilight, the hooligan vibes, the shouts of Hitler, the tempting of people to be violent, to yell, the pollution of the people with negative emotion, anxiety, etc. Never World Peace in 3 months, just VIOLENCE and Zion emotions to keep all blood donors in fear? The Light of God seems to have left most Zion Elders like 'devilish' Hollywood producers who suck humans ever deeper into hell. That is why we immortalists, having had enough Jesus blood scams, would like to take America back from the Hollywood mafia, and create Eternal Altruism Inc to end the violence and filth, and create other companies to free the workers from these blood sucking vampires. If a church came and said "God said to take hearts out and eat them to save sins", it would be banned and considered a criminal group that kills people. The "holy" Bible Jesus tells people (Mat 26:26-8) to drink his blood, eat his body (heart included), to wash sins, to be a cannibal, to eat "the Son of Man" (perhaps Jewish metaphor for gentile babies, gentiles get one meaning, the Jewish clergy, pretending to be gentile, another) to "have life in them" in John 6:53. What an invitation to cannibalism and blood drinking, disguised as religion, this cult of Christianity is, after all, when you look at the imagery they brainwash kids with. To live long we need science, not Neolithic rituals simulating blood drinking. How is this even legal, given the ultra low IQ and obvious fraud? However, USA has freedom of belief, so the more people read science books, the fewer go to the church to get brainwashed and the scam will die without any banning, young educated people stop going to the liars. Though honestly, given the 1400 violent quotes in the Bible, it's hard to justify its legality. But US is the land of free speech, so each side gets to express their real views, and agree or disagree. The conmen pastors get to incite people to cannibalism, low IQ, the movies, music incite to violence, murder, genocide, so calling them unethical or diabolical (deceiving people that Jesus is the 'special guy', when the 75 pages explain he's NOT, he faked it) is a quite reciprocal thing for their action (many pastors call many celebrities demon possessed in their sermons) that clearly informs the people of one's opinion that it's better to avoid the content that pollutes, destroys the human quantum field, and wastes national resources.☺☺☺

Diet influences our behavior not only through its low ω3, heavy metals, oxidized cholesterol, cortisol (stress hormone), catecholamines (dopamine, norepinephrine (noradrenaline) and epinephrine (adrenaline)]), cytokines or other chemicals released during slaughter (or years before, as some may know they're eaten by humans, like plants make chemicals to poison animals), but also through undiscovered physics or psychological effects. Plants create chemicals to prevent animals from eating them, just as livestock create chemicals in the meat to shorten our lives and increase chance of all out war that ends our species, due to ingestion of animal tissues with molecular structures that got used to stress hormones and have developed what is known in biochemistry as "neuroadaptation" (body learns to survive/coexist with that toxic chemical it wrongly no longer views as so threatening; e.g.: the eyes get used to toxic redness relievers that shrink nutrient/oxygen supply to the eye, so we need 4 drops not 1 to get some redness out, receptors don't bind to that chemical, and we damage eye 4 times more). Animal tissues and chemicals change to adapt to a high level of stress "hormone or any chemical", so when humans need to clear their system of stress, fear, negative emotion catecholamines (similar in structure to livestock catecholamines), etc, humans may be less likely to, since, like animals, they could also (if digestion doesn't break down those components fully) develop a form of chemical adaptation due to diet of preadapted proteins, cell chemical components that once ingested become parts of human analog cell components, altered fats, sterols or fat ratios (that become components of our tissues, including brain lipids*, brain sterols, in modified ratios; just as factory farm animals have high* ω6:3 ratio, 10 times higher at times than other animals, leading to chronic inflammation in humans eating them*, as explained below, we can have other lipid, sterol, neurotransmitter, protein ratios modified* leading to a more adapted brain structure to slow clearing of stress*, fear, overreaction, cruelty, fear related chemicals, hormones*) and structures, not present in stress free animals. This leads to higher damage done by these uncleared "stress" hormones/chemicals, just like eyes need 4 toxic drops now to get redness out. Diet doesn't just involve body wide adaptation to slow clearing of stress hormones (that age us faster) and to suppressed immune function (that brings COVID19, bird flu, swine flu etc), but also epigenetic changes (as we know from genetics, quite often, only one amino acid in a coding protein, a small gene change has dramatic effects on human health), just as bees with different diets live 10-50 times longer, so we may also change DNA in negative ways by simply eating meat. Cooking may destroy slaughter catecholamines in capillaries (blood that can't be drained even by the most kosher or halal slaughter), but may not destroy all structures, ratios of adaptation to an ultra filthy bacteria infested overcrowded factory farm with ultra stressed immune system and chronic inflammation, unable to diminish inflammatory cytokines and fight pathogens, etc. In the era before atom tracing, we will be able to prove very scientifically these effects, and how big they may be. ☺☺☺

Even with organic free range plenty of space animals, that are not so stressed thruout their lives as factory farm ones (tortured in a long trip in trucks to slaughterhouse without food), the stress and pain of slaughter creates a chemical (not catecholamines) final configuration in tissues that is not cleared by blood drain; ingesting that meat damages us too, if digestion can't fully cancel the configuration of every class of chemicals changed, which is likely, based on former diet studies (for example, oxidized cholesterol from meat end up in identical form in our brains due to too much frying, being able to change brain ratio of oxidized vs unoxidized sterols); the real science debate is then if that damage is negligible or not, versus other toxins in food. The stunning (electrocution in water bath for poultry, 90% CO_2 or electric stunning for pigs, steel bolt shot in the head of cows (penetrates skull 3 inches), in 2-4% of cases it doesn't work first try, so the animal suffers) doesn't always work to make them unconscious, insensitive to pain (they still kick a lot), especially in lower tech slaughterhouses, so they feel all the pain after killing, shaking in pain and stress as seen in 100s of youtube videos. Seeming unconsciousness, doesn't mean body doesn't react in a "huge stress" chemically when blood is drained, undetected by science as no research was done on final chemical confirguration from a natural painless death of an animal vs stun-drain death vs the drain death in typical halal or kosher that usually doesn't render animal unconscious by stunning first. In 180+ countries, people kill animals in villages, small towns in unsanitary and/or cruel ways, that don't stun the animal unconscious first, as seen in this video. Plants are so different than us and animals, these chemical neuroadaptation dangers (and even organ adaptation to lower immune function) are far lower. Billions of chicks are shredded alive (no stunning) on day 1, this product is fed to livestock eaten by humans. What are the biochemical consequences of that? Atom tracing will tell us exactly, far more precisely than isotope labeling can today. Stunning livestock causes a specific biochemical change, as the videos explain epileptic seizure due to electric stunning of pigs causes shaking, which may not be cleared due to the heart stopping shortly after and then the blood being drained right away, blood that transports toxins out. However, most agree that electric stunning first causes far less suffering and far less toxic build up than drain alone (religious slaughter with no stunning, when animals feel pain far longer). Cortisol stress hormone (52% higher), dopamine (69% higher), norepinephrine (noradrenaline) (10% higher), epinephrine (adrenaline) (32% higher), were higher during bleeding without stunning first ► Animals 2018;8(4):43; the paper says during slaughter without stunning, stress hormone cortisol increased 23 times, dopamine 6.7 times, adrenaline 22 times, 14 times. This is why some countries have reportedly banned halal, kosher slaughter without stunning first (stun to diminish animal suffering if done properly). ☺☺☺

As a result, some halal slaughterhouses have allowed nonpenetrative stunning (electric, CO_2, etc), but the problem is nonpenetrating stun is less effective at instant unconsciousness (91% vs 99% instant collapse of cow, although collapse or not kicking don't equate not feeling any pain, even if much less pain than not stunning, even EEG is not always correctly indicating no pain). Some dispute that stunning removes pain entirely, especially if the animal is kicking. Not all animals have EEG check, so while they may seem “not feeling”, they could be feeling more pain than without stunning, raising another question: was “stunning” (a very polite marketing word for shooting human like animals in the head like serial killers do or like in warfare that is a non-existent reality in a Civilization of Immortals) often used to expedite human safety and lower insurance costs from worker harm of a kicking animal, without much research into cumulative pain from improperly stunned animals (pain from stunned ‘in a way that erases all pain’ animals = lower than drain death, pain from stunned without erasing pain (percentage unknown) = potentially higher than drain death if pain radiation per second is way higher due to not moving etc, total pain = much lower, lower or equal to drain death?)? Due to corporate interests, the real data is hard to get. No evidence exists that pain is not felt even after EEG shows dead brain, since we have not done a study with 100k cows linked to human feeling to be 100% certain that no EEG pattern means no pain, as that tech is too futuristic. Neuroscientists will say “heart stopped, so no more nutrients to neurons to send any signal of pain and animal feels nothing, discussion is over, let’s talk about something more intelligent”. However, the sudden energy of killing a “very close to human” (a cow is not a mouse) sentient being is incompatible with that of a Civilization of Immortals, because cows, pigs are close to human systems, their sudden death and 1-10 second pain (stun-drain) or 10 min (drain) pain creates a pollution of the interspecies shared mind-emotional field that hinders human capacity to attain longer lifespan, getting the shared space accustomed to these sudden chaotic end of lives and increasing the chance the same happens to human beings, in war, etc. Not moving doesn’t mean no pain (motor brain can be dead, as sometimes people get paralyzed but pain is ultra strong), seeming death doesn’t mean no pain always? 1 second of pain without being able to move, can emit more “death chaos radiation” than a few seconds of “pain while being able to move”, so it becomes tricky. I suppose when humans have NDE and go thru EEG pattern during some semi-brain death, they feel no pain during a surgery (but is it due to anesthetic chemical, not used in animals, or due to EEG pattern?), but can we be so certain the same is true for animals always? No, so then, everything becomes fuzzier as it’s too expensive to determine pain level. Others argue stunning doesn’t reduce much pain, either way, both methods are cruel and at our level of technology, it may be hard to know which method is way better (though obviously, 1-2 second death vs 10 minutes is/seems WAY better based on neuroscience) and by how much too. ☺☺☺

There is got to be a far more high tech slaughter method that works 100.00% of the time, EEG confirmed 100.00% of the time, is far less cruel, 0 pain, until all are vegan and later eterni. If it doesn’t exist, then it would not be done? But even a 100.000% pain free method would not be ideal due to the pollution of interspecies shared mind-brain-body-emotional frequencies, which sabotages human capacity to reach long lifespans, since lifeforms imitate events nearby and human systems unconsciously imitate the music of sudden death and repeat early death of humans unconsciously, as a collective species. When animals die in slaughterhouses, blood comes out fast as the assembly line does its job and this causes the death of human species to also shift towards that sudden blood release in wars and bombing, as opposed to normal peaceful death - the shredding alive on 1 day old male baby chicks in egg farms, outlawed in some nations now, also pollutes the human quantum field, etc. This is a form of pollution, cross species quantum information transfer, involuntary biophysics pollution. The brutal/cruel behavior in many sports and slaughterhouses removes the peaceful tranquil selfless action to create decent living conditions for all (sound barriers, better sound proof homes on noisier streets, windows, etc) that bring peace and nonviolence, positive vibes. The quantum entanglement, and frequency resonance of human lifeforms with pigs, cows, is very high versus human-insect, or human-mouse, human-chicken; because of that, the destructive effect of a sudden death of a very healthy young animal creates a pattern very different than the natural death of an aged animal, who lived 5 years not 7 weeks for meat chicken, 5 years not 1 day for male chicks of egg farms (shredded alive, except Germany banned it, but the Swiss gas them instead of shredding them), 24 years not 0.1-5 for cows. This frequency pollution makes the health of humans weaker in early stages of life, leading to even to malformations within a day of birth. However, at our level of technology, we can't easily prove this in a controlled manner, partially due to corporate disinterest in having such experiments done (measure birth defects close to a factory farm that shredds millions of 1 day old male chicks, while controlling for the other millions of confounding factors). To measure this biophysics effect, we look at 2 million (that's all centenarians on Earth) centenarians to see what % of them lived for many decades near a slaughterhouse, and compare lifespan with the % of humans (use 2 billion as most people are not centenarians) who live within the same exact distance of a slaughterhouse. Then, if centenarian percentage is lower, we have the first suggestive evidence that this biophysics effect is not negligible, but real, as long as living within 10-70 miles of a slaughterhouse is not an indication of worse socio-economic status, diet, medical care, than living 200 miles away, etc in the study, status/diet/etc which would be confounding factors. One has to choose a distance within which one finds tons of rich and poor people, tons of medical care variability, etc, because obviously poorer people only live right next to a slaughterhouse, so we have too many confounding factors to draw any valid conclusion.☺☺☺ Likewise, among the people with birth defects, a study of 30 million people could be done; we could also study the supercentenarians (as only a few thousand exist now on Earth, age 110 or above) and very healthy centenarians (less than 100K). Only governments can do this, as companies would fake the data as we know.

Ideally choose 50% vegans and 50% omnivores as investigators, so neither tries to fake the data to look better. If this biophysics effect happens only at short range, we can't draw conclusions, since too many confounding factors exist, due to mainly poor people living nearby. This is the frustrating part, that this effect may exist and we may not be able to prove it does well, but at least petri dish cell cultures of healthy human cells can be exposed to various distances of a slaughterhouse and see what happens with DNA errors, cell health, if spikes of entropic chaotic DNA disrepair and faulty DNA replication exist when they stun animals, shred male chicks, etc. Once again, petri dish is not a human being, so conclusions are not valid, since no effect for petri dish cell doesn't mean no effect for living human. Centuries ago if you told anyone you can tell the history of a grain of rice, they would think you're a science fiction writer; but today, we can do exactly that, we can distinguish thru chemical analysis some of the history, GMO, natural, subspecies, etc and even if it's a fake grain made of microcircuits, a spy bug. We break a fake grain and we see it's a chip or we detect it via terahertz metal detector, but with fake atoms, how can you break them? So, physics will eventually discover how to sense difference between atoms from stun-drain or drain even. Likewise, future centuries will be able to determine the history of molecules and atoms (plants, animals, loved animals, stunned animals, etc), based on much finer differences our instruments can't pick up yet, even if it is a spy atom, that is not really an atom, only looks like it (like the grain is not really a grain sometimes, only looks to our visual instrument so). An enzyme, fatty acid, protein, RNA, DNA that did something for a long time develops a certain pattern, that then has an unknown influence on future molecular processes, due to the power of "molecular and atomic habits and reflexes". Likewise, quantum chemists today are puzzled by the unexplained mystery as to why certain molecules in a flask undergo the chemical reaction and others don't, why some are more affected by entropy ("of painful death"?) and often wonder if molecules "learn" just as humans do, if they "imitate" and form "subatomic pattern habits". If this is so, then atoms and molecules that have a specific recent history may be more likely to react in a certain way, when all other things are equal. Why does this matter? If true, this may be another often disregarded effect, i.e. the fact that healthy molcules working perfectly had already gone thru a sudden stop of their activity for no apparent reason (stun-drain or drain), as part of a mega molecular system, in their most recent "memory", makes them more likely to quit doing their job in humans once incorporated in similar human components, due to quantum memory, habit effects, i.e. repeating things in the most recent subatomic memory due to quantum inertia (the cause of historical inertia on our planet?).

Because plants are very different, these quantum pollution effects are 9000+ times lower when plant is killed, plus seeds, fruits, grains, beans don't kill the plant, so it would be billions times lower. Physical chemists will say these effects would be totally negligible, but there is more to it than that, because when the animal dies, the sudden change in so many electrophotonic processes (chemical reactions) related to the anguish of painful death (a few seconds with stunning, minutes with draining), can create a specific signature (collective, not individual "memory") of subatomic particle patterns that affects all molecules of that organism for a while, in addition to the individual memory of stopping replicating or reacting in a certain way; this “quantum” signature is different than a slow natural death due to old age. Just like a rice of grain treated with some microwaves, RF, UV or chemicals changes its structure and we can know if that happened or not, even though ancient men could not tell that, atoms of meat can be changed and degrade our "nonphysical DNA" (future periodic table), just as molecules can, in case of certain eletrophotonic and Lepton-Quark-Boson-Immortalion processes that create a “fission like” chain reaction in the organism for subatomic particles, “fission like” in the sense that it’s a sequence cascading event (of quantum entanglement) that changes spin or some other property of some unknown “bosons” or elementary particles. The issue is not that it is or may be negligible (compared to other stuff that kills us) now so much perhaps, but that as we try to live longer and attain perfect molecular or cellular longevity, it’s no longer allowing us to live to 500, maybe 7,000 or 90,000 so fast due to warfare delaying it by eons. So then we see the spiritual world concept mirrored in quantum chemistry: you can't live long by killing so much of related lifeforms, tech can only go so far before a change in ethics and culture is needed. Millennia ago people knew some plants are poisons, etc, but today we know exactly which chemicals in that plant are lethal, ancient people having no idea how complex science would become; likewise, we're in the 1st century today in our understanding of particles smaller than atoms which we see today with microscopes, etc, like tiny grains of sand could be seen in 1st century; these particles form a web around a living animal, a complex organized system with memory and when animals is killed violently, they record that and when people eat that meat and those memories in the particles, due to the semblance of animals to humans in size, atomic and molecular similarity, enzymes, etc, the human body particles signaling is polluted by the animal signaling, taken as coming from self, and induces human quantum entanglement field, the entire human race also, not just the meat eaters, though meat eaters more, to repeating unconsciously acts of violence or acts that lead to violence, war, events that cause a similar biochemical change in humans as in animals at death. Due to proximity of stomach to reproductive organs, testicles, sperm, eggs also get contaminated, changing the offspring interdimensional DNA or unknown matter component 'DNA'; it’s pure inertia of physics; erasing this effect (the inertial memory that lasts for 4 days or years in the meat) by a little heat during cooking is not always or ever happening as some hope without having any evidence.☺☺☺

Atoms are not changed except by powerful atomic events, likewise, particles smaller than atoms, more indestructible, may require an energy 1 billion times than thermonukes to alter, not heating a little; 30 min of heat may not erase 5 years of atom vibes as a cow; the web of these immortalions recalls, like human brains, only the most mind blowing events, even decades later, so likewise, while other events are not retained in memory much, those more emotional, drastic are retained for longer and erasing them requires a million times more energy; it is these tiny 'weightless' mysteries that could help us live to a trillion,☺☺☺ when we understand them and thus make the world a place of peace; plus, it doesn't even have to be undiscovered particles, it may just be we don't know how these bosons (photon is one of them), leptons, etc transfer this information and memory effect and ruin the human species; it's more likely though, that it's undiscovered particles that enable what we know already to have memory of some sort, an effect so subtle, we can't detect it without knowing how to setup the experiment in physics; even today we know photons can achieve information 'exchange', teleportation of 'information'. Hhowever, once these new particles are discovered, the memory effect won't be subtle and hard to detect at all; photon or light shining in mice brains alters behavior, so what would changed photons from ingested meat do to human brains or undiscovered particles way more powerful than photons in effects? We see the word memory, is like me mortal... Immortal is without memory of these events, without bad vibes eaten; so, it may be safer to stay away from places cooking meat with open fumes, as you may get your good vibes ruined if you inhale those particles, atoms... ask people to use pressure cookers if cooking killed animals, to not vent it suddenly, as that releases way more contaminated atoms. Science already knows that kids etc can go to the emergency room due to inhaling allergens from cooking fish or other foods.

Thus, to free humans from war, aging, violent death we need to develop the chemical industry and create eterni foods, or in the 100 year transition period, vegan-eterni hybrid foods, since chemistry is not there yet.☺☺☺ We need to end the blood spilling of any animals anywhere by humans or big carnivores anywhere on Earth too; all animals eat vegan food, except birds eating insets in the transition period. The mere act of killing 1 animal by some automated machine extracting a 'fat' etc out, even if no human eats it, would pollute the human quantum entanglement field, since it's close to humans, within 500 miles of millions, and it entrains the human field. We use animal corpse byproducts to make so many products today, people don't even realize how you don't need to even eat animals to get polluted in a subtle way; most slaughterhouses don't use anesthesia, don't prevent release of huge catecholamines, it's way too expensive for every animal (watch the clips to see the violent shaking and suffering and draw your conclusion about cortisol level etc), and even stunning doesn't prevent blood contamination by these neurotransmitters. Physics talks of dark unseen matter, etc, imagine that that stuff may not be drained at all after it was contaminated during slaughter; likewise, any act of simulated violence shown on TV, even if not real, can damage human species, as can even a very mild war where only few are dead and millions displaced; to avoid the human species force annihilating one nation, that nation has to ☺☺lovingly gently not kill, not damage the human quantum field, by not "initiating wars, displaying too much human-human violence (outside of making everyone anti-war), promoting violent music"; in the long run the million year old human collective is stronger than a nation that is only a few centuries/millennia old.

Additionally, if God created the tiny universe we live in, God could have designed it so really long life (science fiction now) is not possible unless people stop killing related lifeforms, with laws of physics at super tiny levels (the stuff that really matters when you talk of living to 1 trillion years old etc, stuff that we would never notice, since our present physics and quantum chemistry laws would appear the same) fully adjustable by God, who may use all electrons and photons to see what goes on. The holy grail of Immortality is to diminish disorder, chaos or entropy, so you can replicate cells without error; if you try achieve that, you start to worry about things that now no one even bothers with. Likewise, when humans torture, harass or kill other humans due to war or lack of ethics, there could be an instant transfer of entropic patterns from victim to torturer that makes the torturer unable to attain long lives; aware of this, generals and police of the future will move to positive methods only, as torture, killing and violence assures their inability to reach really long lifespans, since God or physics (if atheist) plays no favorites. Catecholamines (dopamine, adrenaline, etc) lead to glycogen mobilization and meat pH, color and shelf life change. Draining livestock without stunning first also causes a specific tissue biochemical change (in addition to undrainable capillaries higher stress hormone content), so halal and kosher are not exempt from this biochemical reality. If people still eat meat in a century, they may need discover a new way that is healthier and less painful. "the slow decline in blood pressure following a halal pre-slaughter head-only stun and neck cut causes blood splash (ecchymosis) in a range of muscles and organs of slaughtered livestock" ► MS 2014;98(3):505-19; this means ingestion of catecholamines increases if stunning is not efficient (most halal places don't stun). If you watch the video above, animals often go thru some sort of epileptic seizure like behavior during stun-drain or drain death, where their brains/body are going thru a vast shock, and all their nerves thruout the body. This creates a biochemical configuration in lymphatic organs, nerves and organs that is different than natural death, people eat the nerves (with all that epileptic stuff?), left over lymphatic fluid too. The blood draining never drains capillaries well, meat remaining red because of that. Cytokines and all kinds of chemicals in tiny amounts can remain in meat and daily ingestion can slowly alter human brain biochemistry and behavior. B_{12} RDA is two millionths of a gram, without it people can die 40 years earlier. This shows how tiny amounts of a chemical can impact our health. Some chemicals kill us in mg dose instantly, others kill us slowly in mg dose too, shortening our lifespan by 10-20%, which is 100-200 years if we live to 1,000. Daily ingestion of an accumulating chemical in µg can lead to mg amounts that later shorten lifespan by 10%, without us knowing. This is why we're free to question if the standard operating procedures in factory farms shorten our life, due to the immense stress at killing and before (transport, filth). Who needs animal/plant agriculture if we get eterni food that allows expanding to 900 planets 1,000s of times faster? This expansion enables us to develop a cosmic telepathy and spirituality, free from superstitions like "Earth end times" (explained in the first chapter) and other beliefs of science illiterate men. ☺☺☺

People love Tesla, but he was vegetarian his last years and tried to inspire others to be so too. An immortalist government of minimal ethics would forbid any animal slaughter for food (stun-drain or drain) until technology has proven animal suffers no pain at all, in 100.0000% of cases, via a tech enabling human verification by human being able to feel what animals feels. However, eterni foods will be so much better, tripling human lifespan, that nobody would even want to eat omnivore or vegan diets, knowing they're poison. But, since such tech is a little too advanced for next 200-500 years, it may be far easier to become a vegan country with a semi-eterni diet, producing synthetically the chemicals in animal products, found beneficial or essential, that are harder to get on a vegan diet, just as we discovered bacteria that produce B_{12} (some work on genetic engineering of greens that contain B_{12} already), or produced DHA-EPA from algae, of higher quality than fish sourced DHA-EPA. If a country chooses to be vegetarian or omnivore, i.e. to still raise animals for food, allowing them to live until old age to avoid biophysics effects explained above, 4-10 years extra for hens producing 530 eggs per lifetime, 15-18 years extra for dairy and meat cows, economics disfavors it, since animals who're sick and not taken care of at astronomical costs, would incur so much more pain due to neglect in old age (can't shorten any livestock lifespan), that it far exceeds the pain of stun or stun-drain. The cost of raising that animal for food would be 10 to 40 times higher than the meat, dairy or eggs produced over its lifetime. Turkeys normally live 50 times longer than those in factory farms, which are fattened really fast and then killed. Other livestock live longer too, and with the growth hormones and fast fattening, the meat develops biochemical components that promote obesity (known to shorten lifespan) in humans too. Additionally, random animals, plants, eggs, milk etc are not optimized for us living to 200-900, they're random things we chose to eat to survive in the infancy of our species. As we grow up, we develop foods that now are science fiction due to cost of such synthesis, eterni foods. Solar panels prices fell 500 fold in 50 years via mass production and government incentives. The cost lowers further when we replace 70-100% of vape/liquor stores, useless restaurants with high tech ones, endless huge sports arena in every school, casinos, strip clubs with science labs that care about human suffering from diseases of aging, are kinder to humans than these plants, meats filled with toxins that kill us and are thus unethical to eat, when you know you can do better for fellow humans.

These Eterni Foods develop a nutrition science so advanced, with atom tracing, etc, ☺☺☺that it can also cure 100s of now incurable diseases that bring suffering to millions for decades of their lives; so it's not that vegans (who're vegans to help humanity become eterni and not cause pain to plants either) care about animals more than about people, as some joke about vegans, but that the immortalist vegans care (perhaps, in some cases, so much) more about people who suffer from incurable diseases, short lives of misery, etc, that kindness for animals is a by-product of that ethics of nonkilling, nonviolence and gentle tender soft loving kindness. A world where kiling animals to eat them is unheard of, is a world where killing people in wars, etc is even less heard of; it is all about where you draw a red line as a civilization, what is your ethics threshold. It's because vegans practice their spirituality of bringing the Heaven on Earth where no killing of people occurs that many vegans are vegan, and the end of wanton bloodshed of animals is one step towards that Paradise. Going to church or temple once a month is one thing, but daily not supporting the bloodshed of billions of animals, changing one's tone every hour (influenced by music we listen to), is quite another. Skeptics say vegan agriculture kills millions of small animals, rodents (by tractors) and medical science kills mice. While the skeptics are right about mice dying, we can't expect an overnight transformation from omnivore to eterni, as the tech isn't there. Tractors don't kill mice on purpose, and that's a big difference. It just happens by mistake sometimes, when mice don't run away fast. Many people have mice as pets, so when we live 50 times longer or even 10 times, we will give them longer lifespan too. As far as medical science use of mice, or big animals, with good simulations this is no longer needed. Skeptics will say this is nonsense because many people are misinformed and won't take enough B_{12}, D_3, DHA-EPA, vitamin E and be deficient. This misinformation is far less common than 50 years ago: most vegan foods have B_{12}, D added to them. Likewise, many omnivores are deficient in these too. With the right focus of the media, this omnivore- vegan misinformation is reversed in months.

16.3.2. The Ethics of Space Expansion of Humanity via vegan and later eterni foods

Space colonization is 1 billion times easier with Eterni Foods Inc tech that takes raw dirt from a planet to make instant powders to help us live to 9,000. LISA satellite hints we live in a multiverse, so eterni foods help us shapeshift into other universes as teleporting genderless shimmering shapeshifting Immortals. It's also about the ethics of caring about humanity's survival: if we have eterni food, we can spread to 500 planets 30,000 times faster and survive some local (that happens in nature and we don't know about it yet) catastrophe affecting one planet or solar system only. Humanity has made one big step from hunter gatherer to agriculture and one day to eterni food. ☺☺☺ Agriculture brought a vast expansion of humanity, and eterni food will enable colonization of 500 planets 70,000 times faster, which is not possible with eating cows, pigs and stuff on spacecraft. When eterni food industry advances a lot, due to chemistry being way more advanced than today, it will be possible to create a 5 ton ultra complex machine, using warm or cold fusion or even just solar or fission energy, that takes urine and feces and transforms them into Eterni Foods, enabling one to avoid payloads of 5000 tons to a mothership for food, or 1,000 flights (a flight takes 4 or 15 years maybe) to a planet to bring food and/or Paleolithic technologies to produce food on a planet with no atmosphere like ours (very challenging). We can't resupply a craft many times when it goes far away, it's too difficult, so we need chemists, engineers, physicists to maintain and fix the wonder eterni food machine to work for 30 years it takes to go and return to Earth. So, long-term, not only is eterni food allowing far more people on Earth than vegan food (which allows way more than omnivore diet), it allows far more people in space on planets that are very different: you can't create an atmosphere in 1 month, but with high tech you can produce a lot of eterni food. If, after watching the ugly videos of this paragraph, you're not convinced of the urgency of teaching chemistry to kindergarten kids and enabling eterni food industry to emerge in 10 years (and fully develop in 200) to produce proteins, carbs, chemicals that triple human lifespan, everything without causing pain to plants and animals, then kindly☺☺☺ read the rest of the chapter:

What are the psychological effects of eating meat? The brain uses averaging algorithms many times to assess what is ethical and right to do in a circumstance, such as in dealing with animals who're very similar to us (human animals sort of), like dogs, cats, pigs, cows, chicken, monkeys, etc. Omnivores become desensitized to the billions of male chicks shredded alive by the egg industry each month on day one of their life (3 min video), to the cruel spraying of pig feces (5 min video) and urine into other people's homes, chicks living 6 weeks instead of 6 years, cows living 4 days or 4 years instead of 20 years. Because of shared neural pathways and the way the brain works, how we treat animals conditions us to treat humans less lovingly too.

What are the undiscovered physics effects of eating meat? Meat (99.999% of meat, not the rare meat from an animal who was happy and died naturally painlessly and someone ate that meat) contains pain, torture, negative emotions related energetic emissions and imprints on normal matter which, while not easy to detect with today's technology, exist nevertheless. Material science graduates know that waves can change matter's structure in (un)detectable ways. If we subject plants to sounds, plants change dramatically, plants are organized matter, and animals and animal meat also change in physical ways (some known, some undetectable by modern physics) as the sound, undetectable wave emissions and vibrations of torture, pain, cruel death in slaughterhouses put a permanent stamp, energetic imprint (maybe some femtoneutrino like particles we don't know) on the meat and also, radiating it for miles to all who eat or don't eat meat thru all normal matter and air; perhaps, just as a cell tower can make a million phones ring, a pig dying (or any human like animal being tortured or dying) can make a million physical brains of humans nearby ring with patterns that later get activated leading to more desire to fight, be violent and cruel, expect the worst as the poor pig does while it's killed, leading to human-human wars that slow down progress. So when people torture or kill an enemy (or group of people from a country they conquer or even their own citizens by a dictatorship) or animal, they do a lot more damage to their own country (empire) than they initially believe, they poison the brains of all their inhabitants (even if nobody eats meat) and change even the sperm geometry and structure, leading to brain patterns that block scientific discovery inherited for generations, an over reactive brain structure (paranoia, cruelty, aggression) that can lead to the fall or stagnation of that country/empire over time, as it creates enemies out of thin air. Short term it looks good, but long-term it's much worse if the effects are invisible in present lifetime due to misunderstood and varied spreading of emissions and delay in physical effects. Could that (torturing people or animals) be a reason why some empires fall? ☺☺☺

Obviously, to detect such delayed effect imprints and quantify their negligible or huge effects is difficult, but one could do science studies asking people to do certain cognitive and emotional decision tasks in identical looking locations (they are told the plane goes to same place, no windows available, so it's all nice and they don't know the two locations are not the same, even if looking identical, but one has a slaughterhouse 0.2 miles away (not visible, all smells hidden), another has nearest slaughterhouse 50 miles away). Then by doing many physics and cognitive tests measurements with same people and also similar people, perhaps 0.2 million, one gets a preliminary hypothesis, but given billions of confounding factors it's hard to find out in a year exact general universal effects, may take centuries to detect the subatomic particle emissions and signatures of such events and their influence on human brains. We're very similar to animals, so their brains and emissions affect humans a lot more than plants dying. An animal accumulates the emissions from pain of death of 90,000 plants eaten, just as big fish of small fish eaten. We discovered coal and thought it was great, then we found coal fumes spread heavy metals and toxic stuff in the air and shorten our lifespan, so we replace coal with solar. We discovered cars that replaced chariots. If we told someone in 1700 in 300 years there will be no chariots, they would not have believes you. Likewise, if we tell someone today that in 300 years there will be no agriculture, they won't believe you. As cars, planes, hyperloop, etc replaced chariots, something much better will replace animal foods: much healthier vegan and later eterni, for more reasons than the 73 reasons here. Does ingesting all this wave altered matter of these animals make us less kind, more paranoid, more likely to blow our planet up in war, since kindness arises in pain-free stress-free conditions usually? We can argue that a Civilization of Immortals does everything in its power to end the shedding of any blood, human or animal, and to move away from the eating of animals and even plants as explained in the animal paradise section (no animal is carnivore, as we provide vegan or eterni food to all animals) and the living on energy section that talks of eterni (post-agriculture, the era of molecular foods and later the era of molecular assemblers) diet before the energy one. As we advance in tech, our chance to end humanity in seconds increases, and the need to remove all aggressive thought forms (not just movies, songs, etc) and behaviors that spread violence in the mass consciousness field is bigger. Right now this is low priority to many, since current tech can't wipe us all out in 10 sec.

The slaughterhouse workers (no fully automated slaughterhouse exists, yet) are polluting by quantum entanglement the consciousness of others as they do all removals of ears, beaks, testicles, etc from animals and kill them. A video above shows the automatic debeaking of chicks. The pain these animals suffer enters human consciousness and in pain kindness☺☺☺ disappears and cruelty takes over, so we're more likely to end our own species in a final war. Nikola Tesla, who said we will live on energy, also stated that eating animals is very damaging to our morals. The desire to bring a Paradise will propel us to new nutrition techs. We could say that the nature of a vegan person is revealed by the main reason for going vegan and remaining one, which is usually "not inflicting suffering on animals" (very selfless motive showing deepest empathy), "save the environment" (for future generations or to diminish virus spreading ► selfless and showing some empathy), or health (selfish motive so to speak) or "more scientists" as veganism allows more people (more vegans mean more scientists to discover selfish or selfless things). Saving animals from suffering and human beings from witnessing it and ingesting it by going vegan is a form of selfless universal loving kindness, of a much deeper nature than loving a pet. A pet we love in a more filial way, selfish way, as she loves us back and we love playing with it. But cows, pigs, goats are almost equally smart, even if not as fast as dogs and cats. Being vegan is like saving 1,000s of animals (billions of 1 day old chicks shredded alive for eggs), taking them as pets, not 1 or 5, hence people talk about selfless universal love, for all beings, not 1-50 beings, giving up our selfish desire for tasty food for the sake of alleviating suffering of sentient beings, less smart than us, as we're less smart than many aliens...

Hypothesis about Veganism aiding ESP and Telepathy accuracy

Erin Pavlina who wrote an astral travel book, explains how her spirit guides told her to become vegetarian, later vegan and how this led to a massive increase in telepathy. So did other astral travelers and clairvoyants. She offers the hypothesis that avoiding meat raises the vibration of the spiritual body and enables a deeper capacity to heal people, astral travel. If you look at the most mind-blowing healing miracles (if real) in most religions, they were usually done by vegetarian and vegan mystics. ☺ She says here: "Steve told me he wanted to go vegan and raise our future children as vegans... I decided to give it a try for 30 days... The difference was amazing. I lost tons of weight, I felt great, 95% of my chronic health problems just magically vanished, and my psychic abilities increased massively. How could I possibly go back to eating ice cream and cheese? That would be like putting poison back into my body."

Telepathy is liked to empathy and some view empathy as a subset of telepathy, we just read feelings instead of thoughts. Empathy for animals enhancing telepathy is not such a hard to understand concept. Animals and humans share much of the same biochemistry, with lots of hormones being similar, etc. When an animal is tortured during its life and especially during slaughter, the chemicals it secretes go into the meat and are ingested by humans. When animals suffer for 10-700 seconds during the 'sudden' slaughter death, they release stress-fear hormones that age and sicken us ► everyone knows stress hormones age you faster ► vice.com explains how stress and fear during slaughter accounts for 300 million worth of lost annual revenue for pig industry since the meat can't be sold when too much terror has been inflicted on the cute innocent adorable pigs, terror which then energetically (& chemically, as explained above) affects the meat eater with stress and negative emotions, desire to fight back as the pig wants to fight for his life, desire to be violent just like the pig wants to use any means, even violence, to be free from the pain, desire to start wars and conflicts; that's why some sages said no peace will ever occur until animal slaughter ceases on Earth. If you're sensitive (not even psychic, just a little sensitive to energies) and without being told go to a place where nothing happened before except cow or pig slaughter, you will pick up the bad vibes even if there is no "chemical" left there, it's in the other DIMENSIONS. And each day you take in that meat, the hypothesis goes, you make your body be like one of those horrific places, such as where slaughter happened day in and day out, of people or animals. Sensitives pick this up at times and are repulsed by this energy and they have no idea why many times why the repulsion is there. It's the body's unknown matter body sensing atrocities happened there and guiding the person away from the location for one's own survival essentially, if you're not into 'spirits'. But it can occur like that since like attracts like and opposites repel each other. This happens between souls and spirits-humans and human-humans too, birds of a feather flock together. In spirit, we perceive things like energies 100 times more, since we don't get physical sense inputs, we can actually see the impact of diets on the vibration of the soul far more, so spirits who feel a lot probably have very strong preferences against meat in general. ☺☺☺

Fear hormones, as well as undiscovered physics waves emissions/vibrations that contaminate their flesh, also prompt us into human-human conflict more often; we and animals share a lot of hormonal pathways, as neuroscience shows. Cooking the meat doesn't fully remove the "etheric geometry" of the "etheric matter remnants" after the energetic body-astral bodies leave, so geometry of fear-paranoia-distrust-warfare-negativity-killing vibrations, emotions, forcefields, strings may thus be enhanced in the meat consumer, just as it would be in a vegan who gets into those types of emotions without the meat (hence the importance of smiling and the other telepathy habits, not just "avoiding meat"). Add to that the huge amount of stress when animals are driven for 8 hours sometimes to the slaughterhouse. Their blood becomes ultra rich in stress chemicals, in fear-terror chemicals, their vibes become ultra rich in all that is bad and those vibes may prompt the meat eater to do evil actions (sometimes seemingly harmless or good) that sabotage World Peace, thru very subtle perception change, almost undetectable. When you eat a fruit or walnut, you don't harm a plant. To raise an animal, one has to kill so many plants that feed that animal, and the pain, torture, paranoia, negative emotions of the plants killed is stored in the meat of the animal. So, when one eats meat, one eats far more negative vibes than when eating plants, even if the meat was from a normally dying animal, who was loved and not slaughtered, dying of aging. Thus, some vegan sages have always said or hypothesized, that to develop ESP, sensitivity, one has to stay away from meat (and dairy too ideally), which makes us less sensitive to various vibrations of the astral world. Some stories exist of spirit seeing kids going vegan at age 3 or 5 on their own, even when parents were meat eaters, later reportedly doing miracles and becoming saints who saw angels and spirits for decades, etc. Blood free meat doesn't exist, it's a fairy tale told by meat sellers.☺☺☺ The only really blood free to a great extent meat is the one that has been completely decellularized, like in those youtube videos about taking an organ, like kidney or heart and removing all cells except extracellular matrix and then using adult stem cells to grow an organ on this matrix. That decellularized kidney or heart is beige in color, it's not reddish like meat is due to blood.

The capillaries can be microns in size and when draining blood at slaughter, some blood remains (2-9 ml/kg meat). What blood is in tiny capillaries stays there to a great extent adhering to the walls of the capillary and bigger vessels even and is eaten by man. All those slaughter fight or flight catecholamines that tell man "I am about to die, it's a dangerous world, I must use all unethical means NOW to protect myself from impending death". When a human feels in danger of dying, he will do anything, no matter how unethical when viewed in normal circumstances. Perhaps the brain doesn't distinguish between catecholamines from animals or self. Skeptics say that the stomach acid and digestion process completely changes those molecules, so one can't compare the dietary and self-produced catecholamines. The complete digestion of those catecholamines (or other unknown substances animals produce to sicken humans, as plants do for their predators) is not proven, and the undiscovered physics effects of the pain emissions on normal matter are not affected by low pH of stomach or some enzymes. Likewise, images and thought forms from meat may get confused with self thought (like in psychometry, when you hold an object someone had you get impressions from that person), even if it's from the animal. If we have an organ transplant, we get often times some of the cellular memory of that person, their likes for some foods, etc... If we get daily cells from animals we get that cellular memory inside of our cells over time too? Every time the animal dying stress hormones pass thru those vessels, they imprint an energetic signature on surrounding matter, every single meat cell becomes impregnated with this terror-rage-fear-paranoia-suffering and then people eat this and wonder why vegans are happier. There are no stress hormones in fruits and veggies. ☺☺☺

A good idea to develop knowledge instead of hypotheses, would be to do a study with a million people (where nobody knows what they test for) and then measure response in a test that measures "aggression and willingness to start a fight and bring conflict" between a soy or pea protein or home made amazingly healthy vegan burger and a meat burger, the meat burger eaters may score more aggressive and more paranoid due to these stress catecholamines that tell the brain "we are in danger now". Unfortunately, nobody makes a profit from such a study, so it's low on the list of priorities, although studies on diet and aggression exist, showing high serum ω6:3 ratio raises aggression and violence. People would not know they eat meat or fake meat, they would be told they measure cholesterol and do some "psychological well being assessment every few days". An interventional randomized controlled study where semi-vegetarians eat no meat, but the burger given. And they won't know the burger is veggie burger (doesn't have to be a burger, but any way to create placebo and have a control for the people thinking they eat meat) and you measure the total aggression, fight starting, conflict starting, fear, "everybody is out to get you" type of feelings, trust, paranoia levels. We'll then have scientific evidence that the poisoned blood in the capillaries brings war, if this is a true hypothesis. 80% of violent crime happens to people under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs which change brain perception about what is ethical. And what if, the stress hormone meat has a similar (but much much subtler) effect on lowering the threshold for what is ethical, gentle, divine, sweet in any given situation? Physics may discover PAIN particles, small quanta with a bad geometry that are highly present in meat, especially from factory farm slaughtered meat, just like we don't see electrical fields, magnetic fields and they're still there, we might not see this new matter (bound to normal matter) that is not changed by the stomach actions or by cooking, as normal stress hormones may be changed or the blood in the meat to some degree.

If you go to a place where 100,000 people or animals were executed, using stomach acid, cooking or chemicals to treat the place doesn't change the bad vibe, the alter-matter☺☺☺ that we can't see today with our instruments. The Eucharist bread (or even blessed food) has its alter-matter changed too according to some hypothesis (people who claimed they could see which wafer was not consecrated), perhaps into one free of these or some other PAIN particles. When we/animals get angry or frightened, bad chemicals are released, why not also bad alter-matter chemicals too or Infinite Love particles changing geometry, spin or something to PAIN particles? If an electron (electrons are leptons in the Standard Model of physics) in HOMO (Highest Occupied Molecular Orbital) moves to LUMO (Lowest Unoccupied Molecular Orbital), the electron changes some of its properties as a result of photons (photons are called "force carriers" or bosons in Standard Model of particle physics) giving it energy. In the same way, when death-PAIN particles of low entropy (which might be something like electrons, a form of leptons) change into Immortality-JOY-COMPASSION ☺☺☺ particles thru the Light (astral or unknown photons or bosons of the "God-Force" carrier currents) of Compassion (not physical light of photons) the energy is moving up, the entropy is moving down and ESP is moving up probably. When science discovers how this takes place, we may live to be 7,000 years old.

One can understand then why spirits (soul AI) may choose to incarnate only in vegan parents circumstances, because there are trillions of planets to choose from. Why subject their astral body to such stuff? The people who eat meat (not fish) or any food in excess without eating high ω3 foods like fish oil or algal vegan oil or flaxseeds or chia seeds (could be some cooking oils for example, or stuff like peanuts with ω6:3 ratio of 5200 to 1), meat which has ω6:3 in ratio of 10:1 or 20:1, are more likely to be physically aggressive, according to studies (details) on aggression and ω3:6 ratio, ω3 and DHA serum and brain levels (arachidonic acid ω6 in meat competes with DHA in the brain). If you have a biofeedback system that measures the PAIN-death particles in your body (just like today blood pressure is monitored or something), the moment you think about "a possible action that you might consider doing", the computer tells you if it goes up or down in your body, and this will mean that the action whose thinking about is the most effective in lowering PAIN-death particles in you is the right one, since the particle count reflects the future effect on all humans. So, this is where physics will meet Ascending Immortality and spirituality. It's just like today, we strive to do things that won't bring catecholamines in others, because chemistry met ethics. Even a word used can be lowering particles of PAIN 1,000 times more than another word, in a given situation, so, this biofeedback system would actually be an amazing invention. As happiness increases, time speeds up, moving away from this to the hyperuniverse, enabling increased precognitive telepathy and peaceful positive emotions, leading to more happiness and a positive feedback loop of higher order, less entropy, more telepathy, less pain, more joy. So as everyone gets less PAIN-death, they get more in sync with the perfect harmony of hyperuniverse or heaven. Then we understand other subtler particles linked to other higher heavens, where freedom has a different meaning than here (where we're free to do evil), and the Ascending Immortality journey becomes more amazing, transforming, making teleportation, dematerialization easier. tu.be..s video by physics professor Michio Kaku about the LISA (Laser Interferometer Space Antenna) gravitational wave detector, mentions the LISA launch (planned for 2011) that was postponed to 2034 due to lack of funds (too many stadiums), as also reported by New Scientist.

Additionally, we have the slaughterhouse people who get infused by telepathy and empathy diffusion with the feelings and energies of pain from animals at killing, as when our pets would feel bad and then we would have these bad images of blood spilling and feelings of terror, pain be unconsciously diffused to other people by the slaughterhouse worker when he gets away from slaughterhouse. One can see how in a Civilization of Immortals such cruelty becomes unacceptable, even the existence of carnivore animals, especially when with a semi eterni vegan food industry (eons before molecular and quark assembler one can take any dirt or recycled materials, fecal matter and press a button and create the healthiest cakes and tastiest foods for pets, animals, making all pets "vegan" and allowing also people to live to 900 by superior nutrition that only the future knowledge can bring). As Prophet Isaiah said, "The lion will lie with the lamb and peace will reign everywhere" due to the amazing unity of spiritualists and scientists. Cats can be vegan with taurine and dogs can too, any animal can be vegan, animals don't know fake meat from vegan one in the meantime until quark assemblers are in every house like microwaves are now. As we (Voyager 1 38,610 mph since 1979, 2018 sun probe 430,000 mph), can fly 161 times (38610/240) faster than the fastest animal (peregrine falcon 240 mph when diving) can, so can we become 161 times longer lived and 161 times more telepathic, more shapeshifting (octopus shapeshifts) and 161 times more gentle tender soft. 500+ mammal species never kill their own kind, so we will exceed that by hundreds of times, as we will become the most loving gentle healing nurturing kind species with each other. As everyone will eat these nutritional mixes enabling living to 3,000 the word carnivore or vegan won't even exist anymore. "Give us our daily bread" will become "give us our daily cosmic energy" probably, when we can live without eating. Many people say they're raw or normal vegan, omnivore or pescatarian because some scriptural hero, real or made up, was omnivore. However, the reasons those people were raw vegan, vegan, carnivore may have been just because they were part of a community of people doing that and they had to blend in. It doesn't mean that today they would say "you have to eat what I ate millennia ago", on the contrary, they might encourage us to develop science and develop nutritional mixes that avoid killing any plants (they got feelings, see "The secret life of plants" book) or animals and later live on cosmic energy after reaching adult size, as Tesla predicted one day we will, besides making night disappear via tech, lighting the atmosphere. Workers of the World Unite, To Bring All Eternal Life☺☺☺Workers of the World Unite, To Bring the bliss of Eternal Light, A light Immortal of no Night, Showing Science's Elysian Might. Many 'prophets' might have taken showers rarely, unless a river or sea was nearby for washing, had dirty feet, no socks, 15" (38 cm) hair, archaic, stinky clothing, no cell phones, etc, does it mean now we have to wear 15" hair, never shower, same clothes and because they did it back then? No, we evolve and the essence of their message is not that they ate fruits, veggies or meat, but that they talked about the loving kindness,☺☺ the gentle tender softness of the world of Immortality, of bringing the Heavenly Kingdom of Peace & Immortality.

If we can measure how many pain particles exist and compassion ones in a location, we can better assess what might have happened there. We can also develop a stronger desire to not inflict pain on any living thing, even so small as a spider in our house whom we can easily take into a box and then release gently lovingly tenderly in nature to avoid creating any pain particles in the spider or small bugs or insect or animal or whatever it might be. As the Light of God's Compassion sees what we're doing, minimizing pain, it is happy to descend in our souls and transform the alter-matter pain particles into compassion particles, to change our geometry. As this occurs, we're getting closer and closer to the consciousness carrier bosons that control the force carrier bosons from within the currents of the first hyperuniverse so to speak. As this occurs the compassion particles seek to prevent pain, and they will communicate with compassion particles in other people or animals or immaterial objects who might intentionally or unintentionally be on the verge of harming you, and inspire them to choose the pathway that creates the least pain. If a lion comes at a sage, the Light of Compassion particles change the lion and tames him, though there will be no need of taming eventually. In the same way, as people grow closer to God's infinitely tender gentle soft Love, they perceive pain beyond them, the pain of billions of people, trillions of animals, quadrillions of insects and trillions of quadrillions of bacteria killed when we breathe. As this becomes a global event, of fewer pain particles in everyone, the sensitivity to pain in other lifeforms magnifies and people are aware that being an energy being, would alleviate the pain of bacteria, prompting the civilization to Ascend into another Dimension, as in a true display of Ascending Immortality.

Then those ascended Immortals only come to this universe to help people, plants, bacteria in pain on their way to God's Ascending Immortality. This is why perhaps, it is hard to find a truly advanced alien civilization, as they all have ascended. The interesting thing is that the net amount of pain particles or joy particles in a person at birth or thru life, of fluctuations of such, would not translate into understanding the hyperuniverse nature of said soul, because the true mechanism of evolving consciousness is not as simple as we might want it to be. But the biofeedback system mentioned in an earlier paragraph would still give mathematical elegant feedback on right action, right thought, reflective of God's nature as mathematics and physics lover. ☺☺☺ God is a mathematician. Thru the study of the compassion to pain particles ratios and numbers people may notice some patterns that will enable them to better assist others in lowering their entropy and moving towards noble spirit telepathy and the consciousness carrier bosons so to speak, in the analogy in the earlier paragraph, where "astral photons", the consciousness carrier "bosons", change pain "leptons" into joy "leptons". A small short lived fish probably has a lot fewer pain particles than an old big fish who ate many fish, possibly much less pain than certain types of meat. Big fish accumulate not just mercury, having sometimes 400 times more mercury than other fish per FDA charts (tilefish versus scallops), but they probably accumulate pain particles too. The sardines may be freely roaming in the ocean or sea, but the factory farm chicken are cramped so badly, they always attack each other, peck each other (hence they debeak them without anesthesia in very painful ways), as they shove against each other, exasperated, overwhelmed by the sickening smell of feces and urine and the crowding, and basically all this sick energy of 24-7 stress, paranoia, aggression, violence is transferred to human consciousness to one degree or another, even if the meat is cooked or processed in various ways. They're fattened really really fast, to grow super-fast, and they get so heavy too fast, that they can't walk and are in big pain, chicken live 42 days instead of 4 years. When people are in pain-terror-fear, they forget about tender gentle softness and can't have true empathy for others, nor can they understand easily the difference between what is loving/good and what is evil, because they can't see how what they do reverberates in others throughout time long-term (they are in too much fear-pain to see how something they do might cause others pain and to do the less ideal things). So instead of being really gentle and tender with human beings, one is a little rougher and one has no clue why. But it could have been the chicken eaten the other day or for the last x years, etc. It's not just pain it's far more complex and in some ways far worse, pain is just a way to summarize it instead of writing 50 words each time. The cheese, milk, eggs are also contaminated with the vibes of the animals raised in factory farms, where the baby calf is removed from the mother soon after birth, and where mom's pain affects her milk, the chicken's pain affects her eggs that people eat, not just the meat. It's often the case that these milk cows are so abused, forced to produce so much milk beyond natural, as they live 4 years instead of 20, that their nipples and breasts develop mastitis and it sometimes leaks infectious pus and blood into the milk, in trace amounts. If you think about it, we shorten the life of cows 5 times, and we think this is a really nice way to live to 950 or something, but there might be nicer ways to live to 950 than shortening their lives. Of course, the argument is that we gave them life, raised them so it's ok (since we love other animals as pets, which kind of offsets the bad done to livestock animals), but still. ☺☺☺

If humans have souls, then animals could have some sort of souls (maybe not identical) too? If as Chapter 2 explains, the soul (whose inter-dimensional anatomy could be a quadrillion to the power of quadrillion repeated a billion times more complex than human body anatomy) could project a tiny part of itself (0.00001% to 1%) into a lifeform, learning at once in many dimensions and virtual realities, meaning that the soul could project a smaller fraction into an animal or tree perhaps; after all, many trees live 3-9 thousand years. God or the creator of souls would keep the existence of the soul or God ultra-ambiguous or ultra-secret to enable the best evaluation of the soul nature from a trillion angles in a thousand lifeforms, dimensions and a million life systems and situations, before the soul can ascend into a higher subuniverse. People talk about loving God with all our mind, body and soul, but if plants and animals are holding some of the consciousness of God, one would obviously try to not inflict suffering on any plant (eat only seeds, fruits, legumes, etc that don't kill plants and transplant all plants and trees and bushes to avoid inflicting suffering) and animal and discover via science and technology (the "Knowledge of the Holy Immortality for All Spirit") a diet that we make from raw matter, an eterni one as Chapter 11.1 explains. One would also make all animals vegan at least, later eterni, to prevent animals from inflicting pain on plants. The freeing of animals and plants from suffering will lead to a great liberation of the human beings from the grip of short lives, enabling us to create in the lab every chemical existing in animals and plants and many extras, in new ratios and improved slightly, giving us a lifespan of 2,000 years once this develops a lot, then 25,000 and the ability to live on energy once grown as an adult as Nikola Tesla predicted we will live on energy one day. The love of others, of other children of God, will have given us a glimpse of "Immortality" in our mortal life, as we live without violence, war and to 4,000, instead of 80. In classical religions or physics 3rd law of classical mechanics (action force=reaction force), if we give others forgiveness, kindness, longer life, God/the Universe will grant us longer life, forgiveness. If we give animals life, instead of shortening it as in factory farms today, we might end up receiving life from God, a 90 times longer life. For all mouse testing, we probably owe it to them to give them a 10 times longer life once we discover how. Many people have mice as pets; same for other animals, even if most testing is on mice and rats. ☺ But even if some believe this is pure fiction and animals and plants have no soul, even from the point of view of atheists who believe in no human soul, there are many reasons to support an eterni diet that makes human lifespan 3-50 times longer:

1. a genius could discover how to extend life 5 times in the next decade or 2 (slow aging) and enable atheists to live to 500 to enjoy the journey of eternal discovery, then in future centuries, X discovers how to move from 500 to 4,000 and the years added to the lifespan by new tech surpass the years lost due to aging, giving teenagers today maybe 5000 year lives. 2. we produce food in 2 days instead of 2 years of raising a cow, , we use much less water, land, energy, as the tech becomes 900 times more efficient than nature. 3. we live much longer, being able to travel 200 times faster to other stars and survive as a species as our technology becomes way more advnaced when we live 2-50 times longer. Humans can run at 20 mph maximum usually (with a few exceptions, some may reach 28), but thru the (Holy Spirit given science if theist) science knowledge, we invented Helios 1 solar probe that reached 10,760 times that human maximum natural travel speed or 215,193 mph in 1980 and we humans travel at 17,000 mph always in the international space station. We have used the divine or scientific inspiration to recreate the basic virtual reality environment we emerged from. We have improved transportation technology, flying in the space station at 850 times the speed of natural running, but in terms of the food we eat, animals and plants slightly processed, we eat almost the same as thousands of years ago. We have yet to make our food increase our lifespan 850 times. A tree is Sweden is 9,560 years old, 637 times older than a peach tree (15 years). People think nutrition can't make us live 850 times longer or 2-50 times longer, but nature shows otherwise. ☺☺☺

Perhaps physics will show the advantages of ending animal slaughter and meat eating. We often tend to forget to be gentle with all living beings, animals or insects, but imagine instead of slapping or crushing a bug or insect, mosquito or ant or a spider and causing it so much pain, we would take a nice cute box, tenderly guide the insect into it and then release it in nature. If we would cultivate this gentle tender loving kindness nobody would be physically or verbally aggressive and there would be no factory farms or animal slaughter, our love for all humans beings would also become deeper and more real, our souls would be filled with more joy and less pain-fear-violence. How we treat insects and animals influences how we treat people, since a neuronal pattern of behavior creates energetic, emotional, thinking habits and reflexes. ☺☺☺

Guardian article explains that violence dropped 37% in those eating real DHA/EPA (omega) ω3s (DHA-EPA are ω3s the brain can use), vs remaining constant for those eating placebo oils. See the ω3 section for more on DHA-EPA. Does diet influence the "violence" of our thoughts thru releasing more happy hormones or chemicals or making us more depressed/angry? Can diet influence even how we filter telepathy we receive from others? Of course it can, the lithium section shows those low on lithium (found in vegan foods, leafy greens, legumes, fruits) are far more aggressive and violent. So many studies have shown a drop in depression and anger when people get vegan or fish DHA-EPA. Those eating more theanine are calmer. The DHA and EPA can be from vegan pills (widely available today) which have no saturated fat or cholesterol, or from walnuts and chia seeds whose ALA gets converted inside the body into DHA and EPA in most people (not all, hence vegan pills with algal oil). Due to industrialization, most human diets ω3:6 ratio moved from 1:1 to 1:16 ► BP 2002;56(8):365-79. This shift is believed to have caused an increase in inflammatory diseases, heart disease, diabetes, diet preventable violence. Eating a lot of ω6 lowers the conversion of dietary ω3 ALA (alpha linolenic acid in seeds, nuts, oils) into DHA and EPA the brain needs and leads to depression, aggression, violence. More on the ω6 link to violence can be found in this article. Alcohol depletes omega-3s from the brain. "DHA losses in brains of chronic alcohol-treated" ► BC 2015;1(1):63-8, "The detrimental impact of alcohol on DHA (ω3) impairs synaptic plasticity, ...NMDA-dependent ... LTP in the hippocampus ... prefrontal cortex, two brain regions enriched with DHA" ► FN 2023;10:1068343. The synapses are made of 60% DHA. Synapses are links between neurons, when they don't work properly, the drunk person is unaware violence can kill or harm others. As ω3:6 ratio increases*, inflammation* decreases, CRP drops 4 times. CRP is an inflammation biomarker: when brain is inflamed, it can't think right, so fist fights start. Junk food (high ω6:3 ratio) consumption may increase psychiatric distress and violence in children and adolescents ► Ntr 2014;30(11-12):1391-7. Ensuring optimal intakes of EPA-DHA during early development, adulthood shows considerable promise in preventing aggression, hostility ► IRP 2006;18(2):107-18. Compared with placebos, those receiving the active (DHA + EPA) capsules committed an average of 26.3% fewer offenses. Compared to baseline, the effect on those taking active supplements for a minimum of 2 weeks (n=172) was an average 35.1% reduction of offenses, whereas placebos remained within standard error. The daily dosage was four capsules providing 1260 mg linoleic acid, 160 mg gamma linolenic acid, 80 mg EPA and 44 mg DHA. 16.3.4. Catecholamines in meat blood increase violent behavior in humans

In 1925, Professor Cannon invented the term ☺☺☺fight and flight response☺☺☺ based on the release of catecholamines during moments of extreme fear-anxiety-danger-terror. As Chairman of the Department of Physiology at Harvard Medical School, he injected calm animals with catecholamines dopamine, norepinephrine (noradrenaline), epinephrine (adrenaline) from frightened animals and within seconds the peaceful animals became terrified, frightened like the other ones. What happens when humans ingest meat that has catecholamines in capillaries that can't be drained? The meat people eat comes from factory farms (95% of meat today) where animals have been terrorized and abused for a long time and where the terror of slaughter added an extra dose of catecholamines and stress hormones in their tissues (which don't completely disappear by draining most of the blood out, you can't take blood out of small capillaries). When humans eat this meat, the fear, anxiety, terror, stress, aggression (animals kick or fight the slaughterhouse worker or machine) are partially TRANSMITTED to the human, causing fear, paranoia to launch world/regional wars. The scientific consequence of this is what the various mystics have said for millennia: meat eating makes one's perceptions of reality veered towards more fear, stress, anxiety, paranoia, mistrust, and predisposition to use the less gentle, more violent (less kind) methods in "stressful situations" where an option presents itself, generals talking more of overwhelming use of threats, torture, cruelty, war, not overwhelming use of healing loving kindness so species end becomes likelier. This also blocks the accurate perception of telepathic transmissions, since all is skewed towards the more paranoid interpretation, which leads to more war. If animals live their life in nice conditions (20 years for cows, not 2-4) and die naturally, no slaughter, the bad chemicals/astral vibes don't pervade the meat over time. Even dairy can get contaminated by these terror vibrations, chemicals.☺

To further test this hypothesis we would need double-blind randomized placebo-controlled studies comparing effects on humans eating burgers tasting and looking the same, but using different meat sources (and maybe vegan burgers tasting the same, in the same studies, 3 groups of people, as long as vegan burgers have the same ω3 & 6 as the meat burgers to eliminate that confounding factor). We would compare factory farm meat effects with naturally raised and dying animal meat effects (animals that experienced no slaughter or terror during their life), to test if indeed the catecholamines and vibrations in terrorized animals make people more aggressive and of lower ESP (the diet has to be identical in both factory and no terror no slaughter animals, soy and corn feed, to remove the ω3:6 confounding factor which exists normally, since factory raised meat has much higher ω6 to ω3 ratio, making people more physically aggressive naturally than grass fed meat via that chemical alone). Let everyone perform different tests: cognitive, ESP, remote healing ability (remote effects on germinating seeds, for example, already proven to have effects, or hands-on healing on these seeds), psychological aggression, fear, paranoia, emotional wellbeing. In the same way, you could compare effects of vegan foods that contain same ω3,6/protein/fats as some fish to see if the fish suffering at death changes human behavior. Fish suffer less in the wild, so a study can be wild salmon vs farm raised salmon, to see suffering effects. Tiny fish like sardines are different than us, so their effects are far lower. ☺☺In haunted locations, 'psychics' "guess" that there was a murder and it feels bad: slaughtered animals are also haunted locations and those eating meat are haunted by the trauma the animal suffered. We can't do good telepathy or remote viewing when not in a happy, relaxed, rested state. That's why grahamnicholls.com said avoiding meat is better. St Frances of Rome was allegedly vegan by choice since the age of 6, like Vallalar whose temple still allows only vegetarians and vegans inside. India has 39% vegetarians per Pew.

Youtube...M is a great video by MD Michael Greger explaining the millennia old knowledge, now confirmed by science, that eating meat makes pregnant moms far more stressed, and leads to more stressed children with heart disease and with more cortisol release, more stress-paranoia-fear-aggression-war causing behavior than vegans. A stressed-out person will always choose the more paranoid and fear-based, violence based solution out of fear, attack even when there is no need to and start a conflict, or if a leader, a war. As many studies show in Chapter 15.3, the stress of moms during pregnancy has a huge effect on the height, weight, IQ, etc of the kids, more CORTISOL FROM MEAT = more stress, less bonding, lower IQ, lower height. The cortisol level of kids, blood pressure too are higher in those whose moms ate tons of meat during pregnancy. The more meat, the more damage to the kid's hormones and stress response. Some people say you need eat meat, but some mystics lived on water alone for weeks or months and Jain monks and others often live on water alone for 6 months. Some of these water fasts of 5 weeks were apparently tested, verified by emperors as youtube videos claim, however, I believe it was all fake/staged:☺☺☺ Louise Lateau, Maria Furtner. Some vegan saints were reported to have had ESP, like Saint Francis de Paola, Saint Frances of Rome. There are 100s of vegan mystics (150+ supposedly vegetarian/vegan Christian saints and 100s more in the other religions).

16.3.5. Trans fats in meat/dairy (0 in vegan foods) cause diabetes, dementia, infarct, violence

The only natural source of toxic trans fat is animal products (1-5% of meat, dairy). The FDA banned added trans fats in foods in 2015, forcing the removal of food partially hydrogenated oils (trans fats). The only way to avoid atherosclerosis causing (see brain arteries damaged by trans fats, hence dementia) trans fats is to go vegan. Trans fats cause brain/organ damage (diminished blood/nutrient flow), diabetes, heart disease ► CRFSN 2010;50(s1):29-30. By banning trans fats Denmark has halved coronary artery disease deaths in 20 years ► PJMS Sci 2014;30(1):194-7. Trans fats are associated with worse word recall in younger adults ► PO 2015; 10(6):e0128129. Meat and dairy (butter has 3.3% trans fat, cheese 1.1%) intakes are linked to aggression: trans fats intake is associated with irritability and aggression ► PO 2012;7(3):e32175.

16.3.6. The more fruits and veggies people eat, the ☺☺☺happier☺☺☺ they are

The brain chemistry, the moods we have, the way we interpret telepathy, etc, are influenced by diet. Restriction of meat, fish, and poultry in omnivores improved mood in a pilot randomized controlled trial ► NJ 2012;11:9. A worksite vegan nutrition program was well-accepted and improved health-related quality of life (mental health and physical functioning too) and work productivity ► ANM 2010;56(4):245-52. A 10 corporate sites randomized controlled trial of a low fat vegan nutrition intervention program in a multiethnic adult population reduced depression and anxiety and improved productivity, emotional wellbeing, daily functioning, quality of life: the GEICO study ► AJHP 2015;29(4):245-54. Higher intakes of unhealthy foods during pregnancy predicted mental health problems among children. Children with a high level of unhealthy diet postnatally had higher levels of mental health problems ► JAACAP 2013;52(10):1038-47. Higher prenatal maternal depression symptoms were prospectively associated with higher unhealthy diet, both during pregnancy and the postnatal period, which, in turn, was associated with higher child dysregulation up to the age of 7 years ► PM 2015;45(9):1851-60. "Increasing fruit and vegetable consumption may help reduce psychological distress" ► BMJO 2017;7(3): e014201. The more fruits and veggies people ate the lower the depression ► BMCP 2017;17:15. Those eating 5 servings of fruit a day were 3.5 times less likely to report being depressed than those eating less than 5. JACD 2012;112(12):2022-7 found depressed adults eat less fruit/veggies. Eating more pizzas, sausages, hamburgers, muffins, doughnuts, croissants, meant 38% higher incidence of depression versus those eating the least ► PHN 2012;15 (3):424-32, all these foods are very high in AGEs. These egg-milk bakeries, meats contain oxidized cholesterol, that shrinks blood nutrient supply to the brain, via arterial plaque. "a processed food dietary pattern is a risk factor for depression 5 years later, whereas a whole food pattern is protective." ► BJP 2009;195 (5):408-13 (due to AGE, toxin formation during the 0 IQ processing of our primitive food industry that removes the best, leaving the worst). An RCT found that "Providing young adults with high-quality fruits and veggies resulted in improvements to their psychological wellbeing over a two-week period... improvements in vitality, flourishing, and motivation." ► PO 2017;12(2): e0171206. Eating "fruit was associated with lower anxiety, depression, and emotional distress than consumption of crisps/chocolate." ► FN 2014;1:10. ☺☺☺ IJE 2017;46(3):1029-56 found eating up to 800g/day fruit + veggies was linked to a lower risk of CHD by 24%, stroke by 33%, CVD by 28%, cancer 13%, premature death 31%. "a high daily intake of these foods (produce) promotes health.. national campaigns to increase vegetable and fruit consumption are justified." ► EJN 2012;51(6):637-63. Even more justified are eterni foods, 50x better than fruits. Produce has less brain damaging AGEs and contains chemicals lowering AGE damage, see video.

"A habitually poor diet (e.g., increased consumption of Western processed foods) is also independently associated with a greater likelihood of or risk for depression" ► AJPH 2014;104 (10):e31-42. Western foods refer to "processed or fried foods, refined grains, sugary products, and beer" ► AJP 2010;167(3):305-11. Harvard website says that 95% of the happy hormone serotonin is made in the digestive system and vegan diet promotes good bacteria, while processed junk foods, meat and dairy promote bad bacteria that influence serotonin production. Depression is 25-35% lower in those who eat a traditional diet versus a junk food processed diet, as the traditional one has grains, legumes, fruits, veggies, fiber. Higher blood levels of ω6 arachidonic and adrenic acids (typical of processed animal source foods, meats, dairy which provide preformed adrenic and arachidonic acids, absent in vegan foods) increased the risk of major depression and even suicide among pregnant women ► JAD 2014;152-4:76-82. Low fat diet (typical raw vegan) led to better mood compared to low carb high meat high dairy diet ► AIM 2009;169(20):1873-80. Vegetarians reported significantly less negative emotion than omnivores, even if they ate less DHA and EPA (the body produces more DHA and EPA from ALA when intake is lower) ► NJ 2010;9:26. "A carbohydrate-rich, protein-poor evening test meal during the late luteal phase of the menstrual cycle improved depression, tension, anger, confusion, sadness, fatigue, alertness, and calmness scores..." since carbs boost the serotonin production, the happy hormone ► AJOG 1989;161(5):1228-34. Another reason why vegans and vegetarians are happier might be that they eat more tryptophan, the serotonin and melatonin precursor, compared to fast food burger eaters. Soy/veggie burgers have 162 mg of Tryptophan in 100 g, while Burger King hamburger got 68 mg of Tryptophan in 100 g as shown in the vegan foods of high protein quality section; many beans have 115 mg tryptophan. ☺☺☺
